Celebrate summer with a ‘boom’!

Summer fireworks displays light up skies with excitement

By Sally Rummel
news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Some of the most exciting events of summer are fireworks displays, which create a spectacular finale for many local festivals or “stand on their own” to celebrate the Fourth of July holiday.

Fenton’s Freedom Festival will conclude at dusk on Friday, July 4 with fireworks set to patriotic music for the first time, according to Festival Chairperson Pat Lockwood. The fireworks will be set off at Silver Lake Park, with viewing available in all the surrounding areas.

Other Independence Day fireworks displays may not actually occur on July 4, but will celebrate the holiday with a ‘boom.’ New fireworks legislation passed in Michigan in 2012 and the city of Fenton passed an ordinance to restrict fireworks use to the day before, the day of and the day after most major holidays, including the Fourth of July. Also, many area lake festivals will include fireworks in their celebrations.

In addition to Fenton’s July 4 fireworks show, there are also fireworks in Flint on Thursday, July 3 at 9:30 p.m. with the best viewing at Atwood Stadium at 701 University Ave. in Flint.

If you’re a true fireworks fan and want to visit some top-rated Michigan fireworks shows, check out:

Detroit Fireworks, sponsored by Target, on Monday, June 23 at the Hart Plaza along the Detroit River. Expect a huge crowd and free admission, organizers say.

Bay City Fireworks Festival on July 3, 4 and 5 at 10:05 p.m. at Wavenoh Park, 810 North Water St. Admission: $1 for Veteran’s Park and $5 for Wavenah Park.

Rochester Festival of the Hills, Wednesday, June 25 at 10:06 p.m. at Borden Park, 1400 East Hamlin Rd., free admission.

More fireworks = more complaints

With the passage of the Michigan Fireworks Safety Act in 2012, fireworks that are more plentiful result in more opportunities for abuse of Michigan’s recent law.

“We’ve had more instances of problems and complaints since fireworks have been made less restrictive,” said Fenton Fire Chief Robert Caimnduff. “It’s one thing to have the city ordinance in place and another to be able to enforce it. People have to also abide by the noise ordinance, which includes fireworks restrictions during the middle of the night.”

The best advice? Leave fireworks up to the professionals at public displays. But those who do decide to light off their own should heed these guidelines:

• Stand far away and back off after lighting.
• Only buy fireworks from authorized retailers.
• Keep a bucket of water or hose on hand in case of fire. Then, when the fireworks stop burning, dunk them in the water bucket or spray with a hose.
• Never try to re-light a firework that didn’t ignite the first time, or reuse duds. Wait 15 to 20 minutes and then put them in the water bucket or spray with the hose.
• Stand several feet away from lit fireworks.
• Use extra caution around children.
• Be extra careful with sparklers. Little arms are too short to hold sparklers, which can heat up to 1200 degrees. Let your young children use glow sticks instead.

Fireworks and your pet

This time of year can be especially stressful for dogs and cats, with fireworks and the loud noises of thunderstorms.

• Try to block the noise with background music or TV.
• Keep the pet inside when there are loud noises outside.
• Provide a safe “escape,” with a small crate or bed and familiar blanket.
• Keep pets away from hot embers, lighters, lighter fluid, fireworks, sparklers, etc.
• Don’t scold. Be patient. Dogs cannot control their reaction to loud noise.

Try close-to-home camping

Local campgrounds provide convenient amenities

By Sally Rummel
news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

These warm months of summer are the times that Michigan residents flock to local parks and campgrounds to enjoy water sports, fishing and relaxing on one of the more than 3,000 lakes in the state.

While there certainly is an appeal to “getting away from it all” in a faraway destination, there are also many reasons why camping close to home might be a fun strategy to try.

Here’s why:

• Friends can visit your local camping spot. You can invite friends over for an over-the-campfire dinner and catch up on friendships that often get lost in the business of everyday life.

• You can take laundry home or grab other necessities as needed.

• Kids can still be involved with their activities, allowing other family members to still enjoy a vacation. Otherwise, their sports schedules tend to make it difficult to plan a vacation.

• If one of you has to work occasionally, there’s still a chance to unwind in the evening over a campfire.

• There’s no “commute” to the campground, so more of your time is actually spent on vacation.

If camping close to home helps you to squeeze a little more time out of your vacations, here are a few places locally for you to try:

Seven Lakes State Park in Holly

With 70 modern campsites on the edge of Sand Lake, this is a popular destination, so you may have to make early reservations or settle for a cancellation. Your family will enjoy a swimming beach, toilet facilities with showers, a picnic area, playground, swimming, fishing, hiking and biking.

McGinnis Lake Campground at Holly Recreation Area

You might think you’re at an up north campground at this beautiful recreation sight. A total of 158 large, premium camp sites, including 144 with electrical hookup, dominate this unique area. The Elm and Cedar cabins are available for rent, sleeping four adults and offering electricity, picnic table, fire ring and grill. Both cabins are near the East Campground shower building, basketball court, playgrounds and activity area.

Groveland Oaks Campground in Holly

This camping resort offers countryside settings, with all the fun of organized recreational programs and on-site fun. A giant waterslide, playscape, 18-hole mini-golf, fishing, boating and pedal boating make this a family recreation destination.

A total of 269 modern sites with cement pads, water and electricity, shower

Everyone loves a parade

Town pride, nostalgia and entertainment are why Americans love parades

By Sally Rummel
news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Tracy Boettcher, 50, estimates that she actually cycles about 15 miles during the parade route of the Fenton Freedom Festival Parade, circling around on her unicycle to keep her balance.

She’s a favorite in the parade every year, enjoying all the “hoots and hollers” as she cycles by, using every muscle in her legs to keep upright.

“It’s great exercise,” she said, but that’s not the only reason she likes to cycle in the parade. “I love seeing all the local people gathered in one spot. I know just about everybody.”

Seeing all your neighbors and friends gather together on (hopefully) a beautiful summer day is one of the main reasons people love a good ol’ fashioned parade. Parades can be very nostalgic, especially when they’re “parading by” in your own hometown.

The popularity of parades has roots in the military and politics. They became associated with fairs and festivals in medieval times, when people

Flag etiquette DON’Ts:
• Don’t let the flag upside down unless there is an emergency.
• Don’t carry the flag flat, or carry things in it.
• Don’t use the flag as clothing.
• Don’t store the flag where it can get dirty.
• Don’t use it as a cover.
• Don’t fasten it or tie it back — always allow it to fall free.
• Don’t draw on or mark the flag.
• Don’t use the flag for decoration — use bunting with the blue on top, then white, then red.

When displayed in a window, do:
• Display it with the blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

Here’s a list of do’s and don’ts for proper flag etiquette

By Sally Rummel
news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

The U.S. Flag Code provides a unified format in which to give our flag the respect it deserves. Here is a list of do’s and don’ts associated with Old Glory, the U.S. Flag.

When displaying the flag, do:
• Display it from sunrise to sunset on buildings and stationary flagstaffs in the open.
• Illuminate it properly if displayed 24 hours a day for a patriotic effect.
• Place the U.S. flag above all other flags on a single staff or lanyard.
• Place the U.S. flag to the observer’s left, when flags are placed in a row, or when used during a marching ceremony or parade. State and local flags are traditionally flown lower.
• Make sure it is clean and well mended.

When displayed in a window, do:
• Display it with the blue field to the left of the observer in the street.

• Protect & Serve Day on Saturday, Aug. 9 from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Holly Police Department parking lot. Meet your local police and fire departments, as well as EMTs.

FLAG

When raising or lowering the flag, do:

• Raise it briskly and lower it slowly and ceremoniously.

• Salute the flag as it is being hoisted and lowered.

• Hold the salute until the flag is unsnapped from the halyard or through the last note of music, whichever is the longest.

When saluting the flag, do the following:

• All persons present in uniform (military, police, fire, etc.) should render the military salute. Members of the armed forces and veterans who are present but not in uniform may render the military salute.

• All others should face the flag and stand at attention with their right hand over their heart, or if applicable, remove their headaddress with their right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart.

• When the anthem is played or sung, citizens should stand at attention and salute at the first note and hold the salute through the last note. The salute is directed to the flag, if displayed, otherwise to the music.

Get wet this summer

Local parks offer sandy beaches for summertime swimming and picnics

By Sally Rummel
news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

There’s nothing like sand and sea to create a natural summer playground for all ages.

The tri-county area’s small public beaches may not rival the pristine white sandy beaches of Florida or California, but they offer the same spirit of fun much closer to home.

No matter where you live in the tri-county area, you’re not more than a few miles away from a sandy shore. Boating more than 50 lakes, Fenton, Linden and Holly have an abundance of beaches where you and friends, and family can hang out for the day.

Here’s where you can go to “get wet” this summer.

FENTON Silver Lake Park

The public beach at Silver Lake Park is bustling with activity on warm, sunny days in the summer. Boasting a 300-foot beach and the safety of lifeguards, Silver Lake is a summertime destination for a swim or a picnic.

A concession stand, volleyball nets, changing areas and restrooms make it easy to spend an entire day here, just for the small price of park admission ($1 for walk-in, $5 per car). You’ll have to leave your dog at home, though, because it’s a pet-free beach.

You can get to the beach at 16100 Jennings Rd., across from the Silver Parkway Plaza, open Memorial Day through Labor Day.

Fenton Township Public Beach

At the north end of Lake Fenton, this small but well-kept beach is one of the best-kept secrets of the area. Located directly behind the Fenton Township Civic Community Center on Mantawaka Drive, this 25-foot beach boasts picnic tables, benches, a playground and a wind- ing boardwalk with a barrier-free ramp.

HOLLY Seven Lakes State Park

Sun worshippers can flock to Seven Lakes State Park for beachfront fun on Big Seven Lake. An annual Recreational Passport or daily entrance fee will provide entrance into the park, including the beach, where you can enjoy playground equipment, picnic sites and so much more.

GROVELAND OAKS County Park

For thrills and chills, enjoy a 25-foot slide into Stewart Lake. A sandy beach greets swimmers, and a concession area and bathhouse make it an easy place to spend the day. For more family fun, this park also boasts the largest playscape in the Oakland County Parks system. An annual pass or daily entrance fee is required.

Holly Recreation Area

This wilderness wonderland offers swimmers an opportunity to enjoy a pic-nicking and swimming along the shores of Heron Lake. With a sandy beach the size of ½ football fields, it’s a huge draw to summer visitors who can also enjoy picnics, volleyball, cookouts, and a variety of water activities. An annual Recreational Passport is required.

came together to hear about current events, followed by a flash parade to brighten peoples’ lives. Mardi Gras and Carnival parades stem from the religious obligations associated with Lent, and feature a celebratory excess from conventional social norms.

Local parades give people a chance to view all the special things about their town through a long procession — from bands to businesses, plus community leaders, decorated floats, parade queens and more.

The first festival parade of the summer season is this weekend during the Linden Mills Days, when marching bands, floats, cars, trucks and businesses were scheduled to step out in formation on Saturday, June 21 at 10 a.m., marching through downtown Linden.

The next big parade will be on Friday, July 4th during the Fenton Freedom Festival, one of Genesee County’s largest parade events. Bands, floats, queens and politicians will step out on Friday, July 4 at 10 a.m. in downtown Fenton, following their traditional parade route.

Watch for the special Grand Marshal’s vehicle, which will carry this year’s Grand Marshals – Fr. David Harvey, retired senior pastor of St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church in Fenton and the Rev. Dale Swihart, retired pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Fenton.

In charge of this year’s parade is a parade committee headed by longtime organizer Scott Groomsney. It’s a big job to manage a parade, which includes planning, line-up, marshaling, staging and other related activities.

Passport or daily use fee is required for entry.

Holly Township Beach
Located on Holly Bush Drive in Holly Township, summer beach visitors will enjoy a beautiful beach setting with a lifeguard on duty from 12 to 8 p.m. daily. In addition to swimming, visitors can picnic, play volleyball and shuffleboard and take part in swimming lessons in June and July. Fees to the park vary.

Before you ‘beach it’ for the day...
► Pack some necessities, such as towels, blankets or other seating, books to read, food and drinks, toys, sunglasses, paper towels or wipes for a variety of purposes.
► Remember to bring broad spectrum sunscreen and re-apply it every two hours, especially when swimming.
► Bring your camera or smartphone, so you can record what could be a very special memory to be remembered in the middle of a Michigan winter — now less than six months away.

How to make a reservation at a state or national campground:

STEP 1 — Choose a campground
Visit the “Michigan Campgrounds” page of Michigan’s Official Travel & Tourism site. Browse the listings provided at each of the linked sites for information about opening times, prices and amenities.

STEP 2 — Read the online descriptions
Find out whether each campground allows advance reservations. The state and national campgrounds in Michigan are a mix of first-come, first-serve and reservable spaces, so read each description carefully.

STEP 3 — Click “Make a reservation”
Click on this from the web page of any of the state or nationally run campgrounds, and follow the prompts to reserve your space. Use the Department of Natural Resources and Environment reservations page for campgrounds in the state forests and parks, or the national site, Recreation.gov, for reservations in the national parks.

STEP 4 — Purchase a ‘Recreation Passport’
If you’ll be camping in a Michigan state park, you’ll need to purchase a Recreation Passport when you arrive at the park, or when you renew your Michigan vehicle registration at the Department of Motor Vehicles locations around the state.

CAMPING
