SMART SOLUTIONS

1 Think before speaking

At your next office brainstorming session, instead of blurting out the first thing you think of, wait for someone to offer an idea, then pause for three seconds before responding. The break lets the cerebral cortex fully process the information so you can come at the suggestion from a different angle.

2 Relieve back pain-pronto!

To keep an aching back from slowing you down, try this move when pain strikes. Stand three feet from the wall, bend forward and place your hands against the wall at waist level. This stretches the spine and the trapezius muscle that runs from the neck to the shoulders.

Security breaches on the rise

By William Axford

Axford@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

For many, the Internet has done more than revolutionize communication — it has given people new friends and opportunities for social interaction. But, it is advised to use caution while online, to protect yourself from identity theft. Between April 15 and 17, unknown hackers breached the Sony Playstation Network (PSN), potentially gaining access to millions of online players' information. According to the Playstation website, Sony believes "that an unauthorized person has obtained the follow-

Protecting yourself

The Internet may never be 100-percent safe, but there are preventative measures you can take to keep your identity safe.

- Use prepaid debit cards for purchases. A fixed amount of money is much easier to recover from than the endless access of a credit card.
- Never give out passwords or pin numbers. A bank or credit card company will never say that need your old password in order to exchange it for a new, safer password.
- Limit what you put on public accounts. The more information you have about yourself on your Facebook page, the easier it is for people to steal your identity.
- If you ever have suspicions that your account is being compromised, cancel them immediately and notify your credit card company or bank.

Ding dong the witch is dead!

As crowds gathered outside the White House, at the site of Ground Zero, and in other public places to cheer news of the death of Osama bin Laden, President Obama said in a late Sunday night address from the White House, 'Justice has been done.' To one man justice has been done, but not to the terrorist movement itself, which is bigger than any one man.

At the end, bin Laden died a coward, hiding in a fortified mansion in Pakistan. This was no Hitler-in-his-bunker moment in which the Nazi dictator expired by his own hand. Adolf Hitler's death came as Allied troops swept into Berlin and by then the German war machine had been crushed.

While Nazism was based on the flawed premise of racial superiority, al-Qaidaism is based on the equally flawed notion of the superiority of a particularly radical form of Islam and the innate inferiority of all other religious beliefs.

Media reports in the aftermath of the president's announcement said the key for the American forces hunting bin Laden was one of his most trusted couriers, identified by men captured shortly after the Sept. 11 attacks. If this is true, and if those captured were taken to Guantanamo and gave up information after 'enhanced' interrogation techniques, denounced by then-Senator Obama and his Democratic colleagues, this would be a vindication for the policies of Vice President Dick Cheney and President George W. Bush.

The political implications of this successful operation are already being debated. President Obama will probably get a bump in his sagging poll numbers, which is fine, after all bin Laden was killed on his watch. But this operation was a team effort fanned out over three administrations. The war isn't over, though, as President Obama said.

It was also good that bin Laden was killed in Pakistan and not captured and brought to America to stand trial, where Attorney General Eric Holder has suggested he would receive full constitutional rights. Likely it would have been easy to find lawyers more than willing to use the American system of justice to try to free him, citing supposed violations of his constitutional 'rights.'

I JUST SAW in the paper Fenton is spending $100,000-plus for welcome signs. They spent $50,000-plus on a welcome campaign that talks about the lakes in Fenton. I hate to tell them there are no lakes in the city of Fenton. Looks like a waste.

BEFORE ALL THE geese and ducks come back to the millpond for the summer, would you please consider this? If they eat what comes off the land or water they do not pollute. Put up 'Do not feed' signs, and fine people who feed them bread, etc. Use the money to clean the millpond instead of tax money.

TO THE COUPLE at Bob Evans last Wednesday night who paid for my husband and my dinner, that was so very kind of you. Thank you very much. I whispered a prayer for God to give you a special blessing.

SO, THERE I was, driving up the road the other day, and all of a sudden, there in front of me was a mother duck followed by five of her little babies. I slowed down to take a long look. Made me smile and feel how lucky I was for such a welcome interruption from my busy, everyday life.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED in this country to people's attitudes? Why, instead of trying to better ourselves and the way we live, are we so intent on tearing down others? Same goes for the auto-workers' union and non-unions.

My meter wasn't readable because of a broken wire at the meter to the outside sensor that they read the meter from. Actual reading I was told, impossible.

A COMMENT IN the paper said more people are driving on an empty gas tank looking for the lowest gasoline price. Cars have an electric fuel pump submerged in the gas tank. The gas in the tank cools the small electric motor. In summer, driving on empty will cause the electric fuel pump to overheat and burn out. They're expensive to fix. Keep the tank one quarter full.

Pets are like 'family.' This is particularly true for my son, Jeff, who has a dog, a yorkie, named Jack.

A few years back, Jeff was hurt in a fall from a roof while working as a carpenter. When he fell, he crushed the bones in the heels of both of his feet. Thirteen surgeries later, he began to heal. It was a rough time for Jeff, but there was one companion who stood by his side throughout the ordeal, Jack.

Jack was just a puppy back then. But a special bond formed and Jack is always by Jeff's side.

A few of our readers pointed out the wrong date in my column last week, 'Tornadoes, Osama bin Laden and the Royal Wedding.' I referred to the date of the terrorists attack as Sept. 11, 2002. The correct date is Sept. 11, 2001. (It was a typing error.)

A taste of summer

What a treat. Wasn't the weather this past weekend wonderful? Mother Nature hasn't been very good to us this spring, but the sunshine and the warm temperatures this Mother's Day made up for it.

I traveled to Traverse City to celebrate Mother's Day with my grandsons and my daughter. And, we took advantage of the gorgeous weather, spending every moment outside, walking, biking and just basking in the sun.

I watched as my three grandsons donned their helmets for a bike ride. Each of them had a nameplate on the back of their bike. My oldest grandson, Brennan's nameplate, said 'BITAP.' I said, 'Brennan, that's not how you spell your name, what is BITAP?'

'Oh, it means 'Brennan is the awesomeness person,' he said. Of course, as an editor, I had to point out to him that 'awesomeness' isn't really a word. 'But, that's what I am,' he said.

May you all have an 'awesomeness' week!

years. He is scheduled to leave in June and will be living just south of Frankfurt.

The council unanimously voted to accept his resignation, though some members were bittersweet about the decision.

"I wish Matt and his family the best of luck," said Councilor Ed Ciesielski.

"He did an outstanding job."

Chapman has served on the council for the past four years and has served on various boards, such as the planning commission and the financial review committee. Linden Mayor David Lossing credits Chapman as being an integral part of the city's cost-saving measures, which have included a 10-percent pay cut for all council members.

"The financial review committee tweaked operation costs," said Lossing. "We didn't want to do the easy thing and just raise taxes. Instead, we did the hard thing and cut from the budget."

Amanda Adams will fulfill the remainder of Chapman's term until the next election on Nov. 12. Adams was present at the meeting and has previously served on the Parks and Recreation Committee.

"I'm really looking forward to this opportunity and any challenges the council may have to face," she said. Adams recently graduated from Baker College and works as a nurse at McLaren hospital. She has lived in Linden for the past five years.

In other business:

The council also voted that there would no longer be a left turn lane on Stan Eaton Drive. The council met in closed session, to discuss a pending litigation.

I GET A big kick out of these bars that say they are losing business because of the no-smoking law. Every bar I've been in since it's gone into effect usually has a lot more people than they used to. And, it's so nice going in the bar and not coming out like a smoke factory.

IT IS SO nice to see the Democrats are for raising taxes as long as it is not their taxes. Tax the rich, the corporations, and the Republicans, but not us.

MANY THANKS GOES out to Jeff, from the Fenton Jet's Pizza, for donating and delivering lunch to the Christmas in Action volunteers, on their April 30 workday at various houses in the community. The food was delicious and you and the 'high fivers' group really made our day. We appreciated your generosity and high energy. It was very motivating.

Police & Fire report

BURNING FURNITURE

On Thursday, May 5, a Fenton police officer was sent to the 100 block of Trealout Drive to check out an illegal burning complaint. Upon arrival, police met with the fire department, which had just extinguished the fire, about 100 feet from the apartment. Apparently, the on-site manager was responsible for burning furniture pieces. The man was issued a court appearance ticket for the burning of waste materials.

USED CAR STOLEN FROM LOT

On Thursday, May 5, Fenton police were sent to an auto business in the 2500 block of Owen Road to investigate a stolen vehicle complaint. Employees reported that a black 2008 Pontiac Grand Prix was missing from the used-car lot. Employees recalled two people who showed interest in that car and provided their names to police. The vehicle was entered into Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) as stolen. Detectives will follow-up on leads.

THIEVES TRIED TO STEAL RADIO

On Saturday, May 7, Fenton police received a larceny from auto complaint from a 41-year-old resident who lives on Second Street. The resident said someone entered their unlocked Dodge Intrepid the previous night and attempted to remove the radio. Nothing appeared missing.

WOMAN'S IPOD STOLEN

On Monday, May 9, Fenton police were sent to an apartment off Torrey Road to investigate a larceny from auto complaint. A 25-year-old woman said someone entered her unlocked Chevy Cruze and stole her iPod nano. The serial number of the iPod was entered into LEIN as stolen.

SHOPLIFTER

The store's loss-prevention officer told police that the man had concealed a modem in his pants after removing the security device, as well as a computer cable. The suspect exited the store without paying for the items. When confronted outside by the employee, the suspect pushed the security officer and fled on foot toward the highway.

The employee chased the suspect. Witnesses assisted police in locating the suspect by pointing in the direction he was seen running.

Slater said he observed the suspect run across the highway, jump the fence and continue running behind the restaurant and gas station on the west side of U.S. 23. There, the man was taken into custody by police.

The man discarded the items he was accused of stealing behind a dumpster. The items were recovered. The man was found to be in possession of a razor blade, most likely used to cut the security device from the modem.

When questioned at the police station, the man said it was a stupid thing to do. He has a June 6 court date in Fenton court.

Summary

Setting aside a conviction

Defendants who are convicted of criminal offenses must face many consequences. The most immediate and obvious of these include the possibility of jail or prison, fines and costs, restitution, probation fees and other restraints on one's liberty.

When the penalty phase of a criminal conviction has concluded, there are other consequences, which include the fact that the criminal conviction is on a person's criminal history record and can be a factor that is considered by prospective employers and others in making decisions on employment and other matters.

The Michigan Legislature has recognized the effects of a conviction, and has provided, by statute, a mechanism whereby a person who has been convicted of a crime and in certain limited circumstances, may make application seeking to have the conviction set aside and not be part of the public records.

This statute provides that a person who has been convicted of not more than one offense may file an application with the convicting court for the entry of an order setting aside the conviction.

Only certain convictions are eligible and a person may not apply to have set aside a felony conviction for which the maximum punishment is life imprisonment or an attempt of such offense, certain sex offenses or any traffic offense.

An application cannot be filed until at least five years following imposition of the sentence for the conviction that is being requested to be set aside, or five years following completion of any term of imprisonment, whichever occurs later.

There are a number of other requirements for the application including specified information on the applicant and the submission of fingerprints.

The Michigan State Police will submit a report to the court and a hearing held with an opportunity for the attorney general and the prosecuting attorney to contest the application. If the conviction was for an assaultive crime or serious misdemeanor, the victim is to be notified and has a right to appear at any hearing and make a written statement or oral statement.

After the hearing and upon the conclusion of proofs, the court, in its discretion, may grant the application based upon the circumstances and behavior of the applicant, from the date of the conviction to the filing of the application and if it is consistent with the public welfare.

If the application is granted, the applicant is considered to not have previously been convicted except as provided in the statute.

The state police retain a nonpublic record, which is available only to certain governmental officials and entities and for limited purposes.

There are a number of other provisions contained in the statute and the state of Michigan courts' website has much more detailed information.

IDENTITY

their system. The breach has sparked debate about online safety and how people can protect their identity.

Steven Shelton, a Fenton attorney who specializes in identity theft cases, said that it is often difficult to pinpoint hackers, given the globalized world that we live in.

"It could have happened from anywhere — Russia or the Philippines," said Shelton. "It's difficult to stop people from hacking."

Shelton likens the Internet to 'a dark alley, where you don't know who exactly is on the other end.' He recommends using prepaid debit cards for online purchases. That way, in the case of a breach, a hacker or thief can only use the amount of money available on a card, as opposed to having endless access with a credit card.

Shelton also said to stay away from strangers online, and limit what personal information you use on social media sites like Facebook. The more information you provide he said, the easier it is for someone to steal your identity.

"Limiting your exposure is the safest thing that you can do to protect yourself. But there are some things that are beyond your control, and you just have to accept that."

Fenton Wal-Mart associate Benjamin Brown isn't too surprised by the breach.

"It was bound to happen no matter what," he said. "And, it could have happened to Microsoft or Nintendo, too." Brown does not expect the sales of PS3s to be drop anytime soon or for people to stop playing them. The big problem he foresees deals with the video game developers who license their games to a system like Sony. The license agreement holds that software will not be pirated or infringed upon.

For the most part, Brown has not heard of any stories involving the loss of substantial funds from the breach. "Most of the time, everything is good," he said. "Just be cautious, though. Nothing is 100-percent safe. It can be just as much as the company's fault as it is your fault."

Sony has yet to announce when the PSN will be back online. Sony encourages users to "...be especially aware of email, telephone, and postal mail scams that ask for personal or sensitive information."

"Limiting your exposure is the safest thing that you can do."

WEAPONS

When the 25-year-old passenger stepped out, the officer spotted a holstered Smith and Wesson semi-automatic handgun on the man's hip. Both men were ordered to their knees, while the officer waited for police backup from Linden to arrive.

Summary

► Two men were arrested in Argentine Township after someone called police reporting that they heard gunshots fired from a vehicle on Bird Road. Loaded weapons were confiscated.

Both men were handcuffed. When the officer secured the gun, he saw that it had four live rounds in the magazine and one live round in the chamber.

The officers detected the odor of intoxicants on the 30-year-old driver's breath and a preliminary breath test revealed a .157 percent blood alcohol content. The passenger told the officers that he had been trying to shoot at coyotes near his home.

The officer learned that the driver had a concealed pistol license. The driver told the officer that his guns were in the vehicle. The officer recovered a loaded Colt semi-automatic handgun and a loaded semi-automatic rifle, additional ammunition and earplugs. The Colt was registered to the driver and the Smith and Wesson was registered to the passenger. The rifle was not registered but the passenger claimed he was the owner.

The driver was arrested for operating a vehicle while intoxicated and a concealed weapon violation. The passenger was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon and reckless discharge of a firearm.

The cases are pending.

MY THOUGHTS AS I scanned the crowd at my daughter's minor softball game, 'look at these people.' There must have been four sets of grandparents from our team alone, and then parents and siblings. Awesome. That's what I love about Fenton. They are so supportive in school and in sports. Keep it up. The kids love it.

REALLY, GAS WAS $1.87 in 2008 when President Obama was elected? I don't know where you have been for the last four years or what you have been smoking, but gas was averaging $3 per gallon then. Check your facts, people.

TO THE PERSON wondering why, with all the oil in North Dakota and Montana they are not drilling for it, there is a boom going on in North Dakota. I personally know people living in Eastern Montana who work in North Dakota because the environmentalists have the drilling at a standstill in Montana. A court, friendly to the environment, has jurisdiction over Montana and west. A different court handles North Dakota and east. This is fact.

I LOVE TRUMP. Keep it coming, Donald.

CONGRATULATIONS, MR. LOSEY, on being elected to the Linden Board of Education. Many Linden residents are breathing a big sigh of relief.

IT APPEARS MOST people have stopped hitting the snooze bar and have woken up. A recent poll showed 75 percent of Michiganders support recalling Snyder. The majority of Republicans are trying their best to hand this country over wholesale to big business. Giving corporations tax breaks for the last 10 years has gotten us nowhere, what will more breaks do for us now?

THE 911 COUNTYWIDE system is an excellent system and can find your kids in Fenton. It is plain foolishness to run your own system when the county can serve you and save dollars. Your system is no faster than the county's. It is like having three school systems in the Fenton area, a waste of taxpayers' money. These local systems are there because of the 'We can do better, mentality,' and politicians.

RIGHT TO WORK does not prevent you from suing. It does put more of a burden on you, which is where it should be anyway. If they can hire, then they should also have the right to fire. Just because a company hires you does not mean that you gain control over their business or that they have to fire a better employee because you have been hanging around longer.

AS LONG AS the state gives you your pension, it has met its obligation. As far as taxing, the Constitution does not prohibit the state from taxing anything, including your pension. They have just chosen not to do so, to this point. I am against taxing pensions, but they will do it anyway.

I'D LIKE TO thank the person who found my credit card in Citizens Bank in Holly and turned it into the police department for me.

I TOTALLY AGREE with the writer in Wednesday's Times, move the fireworks back to the Fenton High School. Really, we all think that would be the better move for the city of Fenton.

I'M CALLING ABOUT the community garden on Grange Hall Road that's such an eyesore. I think that they should have put it further back on the property, because now it is expanding in to the road and it just looks awful.

IN LIGHT OF all the layoffs and cutbacks in services the city is proposing, I feel that council members and the city managers should not spend a dime on dinners, conferences, or traveling. Enough information is available online. There is no need to travel to get it.

DIBBLEVILLE IS NOT a racetrack. No-body stops at the three-way stop in front of Vek's. Some people don't even slow down. I was nearly hit by two cars while trying to cross the street. I used the crosswalk and had the right of way. Sorry to see a person's life is not as important as getting to your destination five seconds late.

PAUL G. DONOHUE, M.D.

To your good health

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I will turn 65 shortly. My health is just fine. I am out and active. I do odd jobs like construction and hauling. Some friends want me to see a doctor just for a physical because I haven't been to one in 35 years. Why should I? All is OK with me. Is it true that 80 percent of men don't go to doctors? -- C.F.

ANSWER: You're getting on in years. Bad things happen with aging. You don't want to be surprised by a heart attack, a stroke or a cancer that has grown so big that it can't be treated, do you? Those are some of the reasons you should see a doctor. I like your fighting spirit. I don't believe that 80 percent of men never see a doctor.

Once upon a time, Justin Bieber had dreams of pop stardom. His odds were a million to one — until millions of fans found his videos online, propelling him from Internet obscurity to international phenomenon. Mixing intimate interviews, archival home movies and behind-the-scenes backstage video with exciting concert footage —with special guest appearances from Usher, Jaden Smith, Ludacris and more — director Jon M. Chu has crafted the story of Bieber's incredible journey, from average small-town teen to the youngest performer to sell out the most famous stage in New York City.

In order to protect their friendship, they make a pact to keep their relationship strictly "no strings attached" — no jealousy, no expectations, no fighting, no flowers, no baby voices. It means they can do whatever they want, whenever they want, in whatever public place they want, as long as they don't fall in love. The question becomes — who's going to fall first? And can their friendship survive?

CARPOOL

The Statewide Carpool Parking Lot Program of the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT) runs 239 carpool lots in Michigan. There are 9,816 parking spaces are available and approximately 4,000 vehicles are parked on an average weekday.

There is no cost to motorists to use these lots. MDOT warns drivers to be cautious if someone trying to charge them a fee approaches them.

MDOT continues to improve the existing lots and additional lots are in the works. Reduced transportation costs for motorists and conservation of limited energy sources are maintaining the lots' popularity.

To meet the needs of the citizens, MDOT divided the state into seven regions. The lot in Fenton, with a capacity of 68 vehicles, is part of the program's Bay Region. Two nearby lots, also very busy, are on Grange Hall Road on either side of Interstate-75.

Elaine Luo, Statewide Rideshare Coordinator at MDOT, said the ride-sharing program is based on destination. All of the car pool lots have seen some kind of increase, some more so than others. The lot in Ann Arbor, as well Grand Rapids, has seen significant increases in usage.

Luo said the MichiVan program has 366 vans and 2,700 riders. The program expects to start new services as funding becomes available.

Niles Annelin, a transportation planner at MDOT, said those interested in carpooling should check with co-workers who might be traveling in the same direction each day. Those who have carpooled suggest that ground rules be reviewed and agreed to in advance, since many have different driving habits and needs. There is a list of helpful tips on MDOT's website.

Like Luo, Annelin said some lots have seen increased interest and some, like the lot in Fenton, is consistently busy.

Jodi Pampreen, 40, of Fenton has been carpooling since May 2008, when gas prices spiked. She and her three co-workers drive the 90-mile round trip to Plymouth. They rotate drivers each day and sometimes, one might have to drive twice in one week since there are just four drivers.

Pampreen said she got involved with carpooling because there was a carpool binder at work that employees could enter their driving information. A match was made and her group has gone from barely knowing each other to being very good friends, which includes socializing outside of work.

They had no written ground rules and appreciated the fact that none of them smoked. As a consideration, they just hoped everyone was on time. They have not encountered any negatives.

DID YOU KNOW

- The average U.S. consumer spends nearly 18 percent of his/her income on transportation. By contrast, only 13 percent of an average consumer's income is spent on food.
- It costs approximately $16.97 per day to drive an SUV. This total includes fuel, maintenance, insurance, depreciation, and finance charges.
- In Michigan, the average commuter van transports 15 commuters. The passengers riding on the van account for the removal of 14 cars from Michigan roadways.
- The average car produces a pound of pollution every 25 miles.
- Bicycle transportation saves an estimated 700 million gallons of fuel annually.
- Typical Americans spend more than five times more time in their cars than they do on vacation.
- More than 200 million passenger cars and light trucks are used on American roads, driving almost 2 trillion miles every year.
- The American Automobile Association (Your Cost of Driving 2000) estimates commuting costs on average as $0.50 per mile to operate your vehicle. Parking should be added on top of this calculation.

Benefits of carpooling

- Saves money
- A faster and less stressful journey since some areas have lanes specifically for those carpooling
- Non-drivers can utilize free time for working, socializing, reading or sleeping
- Less wear and tear on your vehicle
- Less time behind the wheel
- Reduced traffic congestion and fuel consumption
- Fewer vehicles equal cleaner air
- Opportunity to make new friends

"If I have to drive, it costs me about $12 a day to go by myself," she said.

The drive to work goes by fast and Pampreen and the others enjoy hearing each other's stories. With the price of gas and getting to know the others, she highly recommends carpooling.

Vanpooling
In areas where there are no existing MDOT carpool lots, groups of five or more might be able to take advantage of the MichiVan program. MichiVan website states that a motorist traveling in a seven-rider group would be charged $92 per month for a one-way trip. For more information, visit www.michivan.com.

Meijer carpool lots

There are six MDOT carpool lots, sponsored by Meijer, across the state, including the Meijer stores in Lowell, Jackson, Grand Rapids, Chesterfield, Brighton and Auburn Hills.

Rideshare

Genesee County Metropolitan Planning Commission administers Rideshare, which is a free, computerized carpool and vanpool matching service that assists individuals and groups with their daily work commute into or within Genesee and Lapeer counties.

There are 13 Local Rideshare Offices (LRO) in Michigan, which provide services for residents commuting into and within their region. To find the nearest LRO go to <http://www.mdot.state.mi.us/rideshare/map.cfm> or call toll free (877) 936-POOL or (810) 233-RIDE.

GRILLING RECIPES

Summer Pork Chops
with Grilled Mango Salsa

INGREDIENTS:

1/3 c. olive oil
2 T. blackened steak seasoning
2 t. garlic powder
1 large onion, thinly sliced
6 boneless pork loin chops, cut 1-inch thick

PREPARATION:

For marinade, in a re-sealable plastic bag, combine oil, steak seasoning, and garlic powder; mix well. Add onion and mix well. Add chops, seal bag and turn to coat chops. Marinate in the refrigerator for 12 hours or overnight. Drain chops; discard marinade. For a charcoal grill, grill chops on the rack of an uncovered grill directly over medium heat for 14 to 18 minutes or until done (160 degrees F), turning once halfway through grilling. (Preheat, if using a gas grill.) Reduce heat to medium. Place chops on grill rack over heat. Cover; grill as above.) Serve chops with Corn-Mango Salsa and, if desired, green and yellow beans. Makes six servings.

Corn-Mango Salsa

Husk two ears fresh sweet corn and brush with olive oil, coating all sides. Grill corn on the rack of an uncovered grill directly over medium heat until kernels are tender and just begin to brown, turning often. Remove from grill; cool. Cut kernels from ears. In a bowl, combine corn kernels, 1 medium mango, seeded, peeled, and finely chopped; 1/2-c. finely chopped red sweet pepper, 1/4 c. chopped sweet onion, 1/4 c. fresh lemon juice, 2 T. cooking oil, 2 T. snipped fresh mint; 1 T. snipped fresh cilantro; and 1/4 t. salt. Toss gently to mix.

Grilled broccoli

Coat grill rack with nonstick cooking spray before starting the grill. Prepare grill for indirect heat. Toss broccoli, then drain marinade. Place Parmesan cheese in a large, re-sealable plastic bag. Add broccoli, a few pieces at a time, shake to coat. Grill broccoli, covered, over indirect medium heat for 8-10 minutes on each side or until crisp-tender.

barbecue entrees are cooked in a smoker, not on a grill, her competitive cooking is done grill-side. "When we're grilling breakfast, we grill all the toast, the omelet vegetables, the bacon, and then cook the eggs in a sauté pan on the grill," she said.

Main dishes

Pizza is one of Hick's favorite foods to cook on the grill, rolling pizza dough very thin, cooking it on one side, and then flipping it over, before adding all the toppings. "It's easy and it's fun, especially for parties," said Hick. "Everyone can fix their own individual pizza."

For Wade Pyles of Fenton, a summer dinner is usually prepared on the grill, with grilled scallops among his favorite entrees. "You put the scallops in a grill basket, season with olive oil and salt and pepper, and then cook it over indirect heat," said Pyles. "I top it with homemade mango salsa."

For adventurous cooks, the grill can provide more than just the entree. Appetizers, side dishes, even desserts, usually taste better when grilled.

Appetizers

Who doesn't love the smell and flavor of crisp, cooked bacon? It's even better on the grill, and can be a great "nibble" before the main course. Lay down some slices, cook them under a grill press or a foil-wrapped brick until crispy and dress with a drizzle of olive oil, ground black pepper, and chopped herbs, suggests Men's Health magazine.

Another popular favorite, shrimp, can either be an appetizer or a main course. Men's Health magazine advises grillers to keep the shell on the shrimp as they cook, splitting the shell down the back. This will toast the shell and deepen the flavor of the shrimp.

Desserts

Pound cake holds up well on the grill.

Pound cake is ideal, because it's dense and moist, and responds well to the heat of the grill. The outside browns while the inside stays soft.

Fruit is perfect for the grill because it is so easy to prepare. Made up primarily of water and sugar, you can concentrate the flavors by reducing the water and caramelizing the natural sugars.

Fruits such as apples, pears and pineapples are easiest to grill because they hold their shape and texture while cooking. Softer fruits, such as peaches, plums and mangoes, need to be watched more carefully to avoid overcooking. Leave the peels on a banana and the skin on most fruits, to hold them together while cooking. You'll need to soak most fruits in enough cold water to completely cover the fruit, add one teaspoon of lemon juice to each cup of water, to preserve the color. Let fruits soak for 20 to 30 minutes before grilling over medium heat on a very clean cooking grate. This is the time to add spices such as cinnamon or nutmeg to add even more flavor to the fruit.

in 30 staff members, closing Sherman Middle School, and drawing $1 million from the HAS fund balance, among others.

The proposed cuts are in response to the possible $4.6 to $5 million revenue loss from the state of Michigan.

Barnes said the cuts are necessary because of the decrease of $170 per pupil funding 2010-11, and continued into 2011-12. In addition to the $170 decrease is another $300, adding up to a $470 drop in per-pupil funding. "The additional $300 in per-pupil cuts was a shock to say the least," he said. Barnes also said 2011-12 would be the single most challenging year in his 30 years of public education.

years was a lack of an increase in per-pupil funding. "In a bad year you'd have no increase, and in most years you'd have a slight increase," he said.

The proposed budget includes $427,000 in program cuts, and $1.9 million in staff cuts. Diviney said the budget would leave educational programs relatively intact, while mirroring the district-wide loss of the students with a reduction in staff.

"(It) would keep your class sizes roughly the same," he said.

Diviney said many of the staff reductions could not be discussed because it is a personnel issue.

Barnes said discussions with unions would likely begin this week.

The board of education will vote on the proposed budget on Monday May 23 at 7 p.m. at the high school auditorium.

Prior to the vote on Monday, a public hearing was held to hear input from residents; however, no residents addressed the officials.

Councilwoman Cheryl King said, since the budget workshop on Saturday, May 2, she has been reviewing the proposed interim 2010-11 budget.

"We can't take from one pot to another pot."

She said, if the two Department of Public Works (DPW) employees are laid off, the Fenton Police Department should lay off two police officers.

"We just can't keep passing from one thing to another," King said. "We can't take from one pot to another pot."

King did add that she appreciates Fenton Downtown Development Authority (DDA) for its financial support of the 911 dispatch center to keep it open.

"I can't support this budget unless they layoff two police," she said.

The interim 2010-11 budget passed 6-1, with King casting the dissenting vote. The proposed 2011-12 fiscal budget and the 10.6226 millage were unanimously approved.

Holly's strong first half sparks team past Mustangs, 7-0

By Al Zipsie

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Holly — The Holly varsity girls soccer team needed a confidence builder to start a big week which included three Metro League games.

Holly earned a rout in the opening of those three games with a 7-0 win against Clio Monday.

The Bronchos (2-1-1, 4-5-1) got off to a great start building a 7-0 lead by intermission. They now hope to carry the momentum to today's home game against Kearsley. On Friday, the Bronchos play leader Lapeer East.

"Coach (Mike Steibel) said after the Fenton loss we needed to show heart and consistency," Holly's Melissa Smiles said. "We can't just play for ourselves, but need to work as teammates. We had good chemistry, passing the ball well and meshing into one big burst of energy."

The Bronchos came bucking out of the gates. Olivia Smith scored early, setting the tone. A flurry of goals followed. Junior Lindsay Baslock and Smiles scored, making the lead 3-0. The scoring parade continued as Audrey Koons booted a goal for a 4-0 lead. Natalie Cieslak put the Bronchos up 5-0 with 13:37 left in the first half. Nicole Rombach then had a crowd-pleasing goal. Her kick was blocked but she got the ball back and scored off a nice juke move. Holly led 6-0.

The final goal of the opening half came on a Smiles' corner kick that drew the goalie out front. She bobbled the ball, allowing Smith to put the ball in the net.

Holly's freshman goalkeeper Ellie Curtis posted the shutout. Clio did not get off too many shots as the Bronchos dominated field position in the first half.

"I think this is our week to do some great things," Smiles said. "This win helps our confidence, and we were all laughing, smiling and enjoying it."

Fenton softball remains on top of Metro

►Sammi Cowger sparks sweep of Brandon, Holly

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Ortonville — The Fenton varsity softball team is halfway through the Flint Metro League season.

And with eight league games left to go, the Tigers have control of their own destiny to win a Metro League title.

After splitting their opening Metro doubleheader with Lapeer West, the Tigers have won six straight league games, including two against Brandon on Monday. Fenton defeated Brandon 2-1 in the opener and 10-2 in the nightcap. The Tigers also won two games against Holly on Thursday, defeating them 7-3 and 7-0 at home.

One player sparking the Tigers (7-1, 15-7) is Sammi Cowger. In Monday's opener, Cowger tossed a five-hitter and struck out 11, leading Fenton to the tight win.

Fenton trailed 1-0 early, but scored single runs in the fourth and fifth innings, to earn the win. Ellie Cowger had two hits, and scored one of those runs. Meanwhile, Gabi Johnson had an RBI-single. Ashley Kendrick doubled and eventually scored as well. Sarah Halstead had an RBI.

The nightcap wasn't quite as dramatic, as Fenton scored five runs in the second inning and then five more in the third.

Sammi Cowger was the star once again. She tossed a four-hitter, striking out 12. Both runs she allowed in the fifth inning were unearned. Offensively, she went 3-for-5 with two doubles and three RBI.

Other key hitters were Marina

Cleis, who had two doubles and three RBI, and Lauren Reynolds who tripled and singled. She drove in one run and scored two.

"Sammi is a strong contributor both physically and spiritually," Fenton coach Rick Bescoe said.

Herman, Pushman headed into Fenton's HOF

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com

The Fenton Area Public Schools Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame's induction class spans about 65 years this season.

For the first time ever, the Hall is inducting a veteran member. With it, Don Herman, who graduated in 1938, will be the first. Meanwhile, within that same class, a relative youngster will be inducted as well. Class of 2000 graduate Scott Pushman is one of four other individuals and one team earning induction this season. Pushman joins Julie Roberts Decker, Bob Bruder, Bill Hajec, Ken Wegener, Sr. and the 1946 varsity boys basketball team.

Herman is excited by being the first veteran inductee.

"It's very humbling and it's quite an honor, knowing, of course, back then it was a Class C school," Herman said.

LF grad Howell posting records at Defiance College

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com

Ashlyn Howell has always wanted to run track.

But at Lake Fenton High School, if she wanted to play soccer, that wasn't going to happen.

But all that changed when she went to Defiance College.

The 2009 Lake Fenton graduate, who went to Defiance College to play volleyball, is now a two-sport athlete for the Yellow Jackets, doing both — volleyball and track.

"I always wanted to run track, but couldn't because I played soccer in high school," Howell said. "I could never do it, but I got a chance to try it here. I loved it and excelled in it."

It was during volleyball season that Howell was spotted.

"The head track coach saw me playing volleyball, saw me jump and recruited me in the high jump."

That didn't end up being Howell's top event, but she did find a few that she can do well. In fact, the Defiance sophomore already ranks high among the best in school history in several events.

She holds the school record in the triple jump indoors with a leap of 34-feet-1 1/2 inches. She is also one of the school record holders for the outdoor 1,600 relay team, posting a time of 4:09.16 with her teammates.

In addition, she's on the top 10 list in 10 other events, including holding the second spot in the 60 indoor dash (8.63) and second in the outdoor triple jump (34-7 3/4).

And now, amazingly, the past star volleyball player at Lake Fenton is now known more for her track performances than volleyball at Defiance College.

In fact, she was named the co-Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference Most Outstanding Freshman last year after the track season.

"I was really surprised that I was immediately breaking school records. I was pretty surprised about that," Howell said. "I'm not surprised that I did well because I was enthusiastic about it. I knew I was fast. I just didn't know how fast."

Other events Howell competes in include the sprint dashes, the 400 run, the sprint relays and the

Mayner remains busy at Saginaw Valley

By Cole Holloway

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Saginaw — Dustin Mayner rarely had a minute of his own time during the month of April.

Who can blame him?

Being a student-athlete would be taxing for anyone, but Mayner, a Linden graduate, found himself pulling double-duty on the athletic side of things. When he wasn't playing third base for the Saginaw Valley baseball team, he could be found on the football field during spring football practice.

"It's a lot more work," Mayner stated when asked about college sports in general. "The teams have so many guys on the roster; you really aren't able to get close with the coaches. It really starts to feel like a job at times rather than playing for fun."

Mayner, now a senior at SVSU, saw significant playing time on the baseball diamond during his college career.

"It was one of my goals to crack the starting lineup and I've been able to do that," Mayner commented.

In Mayner's 2009 baseball season, he appeared in all 42 games. He compiled a .252 batting average, adding 11 doubles. He also had 18 RBI and scored 15 times.

In Mayner's 2010 season, he was able to compile a .991 fielding percentage while holding down the starting position at first base. He also added 17 hits and scored 13 runs during the season.

This season, Mayner batted .203, while playing in 42 games. He had five doubles and seven RBI. The team recently completed its season, posting a 24-22 overall record. They were 18-15 in conference action.

On the football field, Mayner has seen limited action.

"I really haven't been able to gain the needed time with the coaching staff during my career with having to deal with two sports," Mayner commented. "The spring is when most of the spots are won and I'm not able to make most of the practices with baseball going on at the same time."

Mayner has seen limited action at the quarterback position but has seen significant playing time on special teams. He is slated as the number two quarterback entering this fall.

"I'm always ready to step in. I think I can perform just as well as the guys out there," Mayner said. "I just hope to have the opportunity, finally, to show the coaches what I can do."

Mayner is certainly happy with his accomplishments on and off the field.

"I'm proud of what I have been able to do, juggling two sports and school," he said.

While attending Linden High School, Mayner was able to dominate on both the football and baseball field.

On the gridiron, Mayner compiled a 24-4 record as a starter and threw for over 5,000 yards for his career. Mayner also managed to run for over 1,000 yards in his senior year, helping the Eagles to an undefeated regular season. The now well-known Linden spread offense was put in before Mayner's sophomore year in order to take advantage of his rare dual-threat talents. His stellar senior season allowed him to take home the Class B Player of the Year, awarded by the Detroit Free Press.

Mayner was also very productive on the baseball diamond throughout his Linden career. He was named a first team Metro selection both his junior and senior year.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | COLE HOLLOWAY

Linden graduate and Saginaw Valley baseball/football player Dustin Mayner jogs back to the dugout during a game.

During his senior season, Mayner batted .488 and was honored with being the Tri-County Times Player of the Year. During his freshman season, the team advanced to the state title game in 2004, before losing to Dearborn Divine Child.

"High school was awesome," said Mayner. "Playing all the sports was a great time, especially getting to play with all your friends."

Mayner now is set to graduate in the upcoming year from Saginaw Valley State University and is planning on going into education.

"I'm excited for whatever comes next, my experiences here at SVSU have helped me a lot and I'm ready to see what I can do out in the real world."

Holly tennis team does well at its Red & White invitational

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The Holly varsity girls tennis team can't be accused for putting slouches in their own weekend invitational.

In fact, it was quite the opposite. The Bronchos had to face off against four ranked foes out of eight teams at Saturday's Red and White Holly Invitational, but came out of it well, earning a tie for sixth place with seven team points.

Included in the field were the top two teams in Division 1 — No. 1 Midland Dow and No. 2 Clarkston. No. 7 Port Huron Northern also competed, as did the fifth-ranked team in Division 2, Farmington Hills Mercy.

The Bronchos' highest placing flight was Bri Rodriguez at No. 2 singles. She defeated Grand Blanc's Ruchi Ahluwalia 2-6, 7-5, 6-4 in a match that took over three hours to play. That win locked her up fourth place in her flight.

In doubles action, the No. 4 team of Jessica Aderholdt and Natalie Clink had the most success. They opened with a tough loss against Clarkston 6-3, 6-4, but bounced back with two wins to earn the consolation championship and fifth place. They then followed that with a 6-3, 7-6(5) victory against Grand Blanc and then a tight 2-6, 6-4, 6-4 victory against Midland Dow for the consolation title.

Also winning matches for Holly were Shannen Renenhan at No. 1 singles, Alex Knight at No. 4 singles and Melanie Hawks and Abby Chatfield at No. 5 doubles.

"It was a very competitive day with multiple three-set matches," Holly coach Will Sophia said.

"After losing to Grand Blanc 7-1 three weeks earlier at the Grand Blanc quad, we took three flights off the Bobcats and then played them very competitively at a few other flights."

Holly competed in the Metro League Meet on Tuesday.

"It's really an honor."

Herman, 92, lettered four years in football, basketball, baseball and track, and was pretty proficient in each sport.

In 1937 he was all-conference in football and basketball, and was a captain for both teams. That same year he set the conference and school record in the pole vault at 10-feet-6. He also was a member of an unscored on football team, going 7-0-1. He played tailback and quarterback on the football team.

"I loved all the sports, but baseball was probably my least favorite," Herman said.

"The field was muddy, and during the half, coach traded shoes with me because he had long spikes," Herman said. "The line opened up a hole for me. I cut back to the left and ran for a touchdown."

Following his high school career, he went to Hillsdale College, earning the Kimble Award for outstanding football play.

If one starts naming the greatest wrestlers in Fenton history, Scott Pushman is one of the candidates that could win that argument. The four-time state tourney performer was a state champion in 1998 and 1999, and capped his career by earning state runner-up honors in 2000. He held nine school records at the time he graduated, including best record for a season (55-0) and career wins (191). He was twice named to Michigan's Dream Team.

He also played wide receiver and defensive back for the football team, earning two varsity letters. He competed in track for four years, earning varsity letters three times.

"I'm honored to say the least," Pushman said. "I think the first or second year, they let me know that I was nominated and that I didn't make it that year. ... To be included with those great athletes is an honor."

Family has always been a big part of Pushman's life, and it was family that got him into wrestling. The Cobra Wrestling program, which was started and run by his family, was the start of Pushman's wrestling career.

"My mom and dad groomed the Cobra Club," Pushman said. "They started the program well before we got into high school. They used to take athletes up North camping and they didn't even have kids yet. And my brothers were pretty important. When we wrestled in the family room, it would get pretty dirty."

He said athletics helped make him the person he is today.

"Just looking back I can see what athletics did for me as a person," Pushman said. "How they built character, work ethic and allowed me the person I want to be. A lot of that is centered in athletics. Everything you do with athletics directly leads you into life."

The Hall of Fame banquet will be held at Andrew G. Schmidt Middle School on June 16. The event begins at 7 p.m.

Because she didn't compete in high school, Howell does admit there was a learning curve for the sport early on.

"My teammates were very supportive of me," Howell said. "I didn't know what I was doing a lot of the time, and they would take extra time to show me what is going on, what happens. They are all supportive and we are close friends on the track team."

Recently, she competed in the AU Pre-

Conference Invitational, and posted her best distances of this season in two events, taking third in the triple jump (32-4 3/4) and fifth in the long jump (15-11 3/4).

Howell has had some success in volleyball as well. During her freshman season, she recorded 138 kills and had 91 digs. Howell didn't see as much playing time during her sophomore season, but still came close to matching the totals she had her freshman season. She had 83 kills and 87 digs. In one match against Manchester College, she had 20 digs, doubling her match best that was set in a match against Oberlin her freshman year.

Right now, she's concentrating on track.

"I really want to break the four-by-four record again and rebreak the triple jump record," Howell said. "I'm hoping to get the school record in the long jump as well."

This will be Howell's last year at Defiance. She's transferring to Grand Valley in the fall. It may mean the end of her athletic career at the collegiate level.

"My priorities are important," Howell said. "I didn't just go to school for sports."

But even if her athletic career is over, she's already a part of the Defiance College record books.

SOFTBALL

"Our team is very capable of playing with anyone in the state. Occasionally, our youth will show up to keep everyone in check. Everyone on our team continues to make contributions with great defensive and offensive plays."

Against Holly on Thursday, Cowger tossed a two-hitter, striking out nine in the 7-0 victory in the second game. However, the score remained only 1-0 until the bottom of the sixth. That's when Fenton scored six runs on eight hits. Cowger and Sarah Collier each had RBI-doubles, while Brooklyn Sondgeroth executed a squeeze play. Regina Siekierski and Ellie Cowger also had run-producing hits.

Fenton's first run was scored in the first. Cowger singled, stole second and eventually scored on a groundout by Sammi Cowger.

In the first game against Holly, the Bronchos scored single runs in each of the first three innings, and led at one time 3-1. However, the Tigers prevailed with two runs in the third, one in the fourth and three in the sixth. Offensively, Lauren Reynolds, Ellie Cowger and Siekierski each had two hits. On the mound, Cowger got the win, allowing six hits and striking out three.
