City and state officials honored Linden police officer Gary Conklin Monday evening at the Linden City Council meeting. State Sen. John Gleason (D-Flushing), State Representative Paul Scott (R-Grand Blanc) and Congressman Dale Kildee (D) presented awards to Conklin for his rescue efforts last month.

At approximately 4:20 p.m. on Aug. 3, Conklin received a call that two male workers had fallen into a 20-foot sewer hole just outside the city of Linden. Once he arrived to the scene, Conklin saw the two men face down floating in sewage.

After a rope was secured to his waist, he donned an emergency mask and was able to prop one of the men against the wall and to turn over the other. His efforts saved a life that day.

Conklin was awarded a meritorious citation and is part of the congressional record.

But owners must comply with strict regulations

Businesses seeking to sell adult novelty items can do so in Fenton, however, storeowners should be aware that the city has approved restrictions that they must follow.

On Monday, Fenton City Council approved an amendment to the city’s existing special land use ordinance to include a section on regulated use, “retail businesses with adult novelities,” acknowledging that some retail business owners might want to sell items.

84 year old struck and killed by car

The Argentine Township Police Department is investigating an automobile crash that resulted in the death of an 84-year-old Argentine Township resident.

On Sunday, Sept. 11, at 8:09 p.m. police were dispatched to the 8500 block of Silver Lake Road, near Sunset Way in response to a pedestrian injury crash.

According to Police Chief Daniel Allen, Claude Jay Carr crossed Silver Lake Road on foot to check his mailbox.

After doing so, he turned back into the westbound lane to cross the street. As he entered the roadway, he was struck by a westbound 1993 Buick Roadmaster, driven by a 34-year-old Fenton man.

Carr was transported to Genesys Health Park in Grand Blanc Township where he later pronounced deceased.

A crash reconstruction team with the Michigan State Police responded to the site to investigate. Argentine Township Fire Department also responded.

The case remains under investigation; however, the driver’s account of what happened was consistent with findings of the preliminary investigation. The police chief said neither alcohol, nor speed, appear to be a factor at this time.

Argentine Township Supervisor Robert Cole was saddened to hear the news Sunday night about Carr. He said Carr was a “good ole’ guy,” and one of the original Argentine Township firefighters dating back to the mid-’70s. Carr was still with the fire department when Cole was elected to the board in the ’80s.

The supervisor said Carr hung around the fire hall since he lived so close and often spent the time just next to the town hall just to chat with the locals. Carr lived at the big old blue house on Silver Lake Road and raised his family there.
School rivalries — all in good fun

By William Axford

It’s back to the books for students as another academic year begins. Along with the pencils and endless math equations comes intense rivalries, bringing out school spirit and colors in every student. Fenton football coach Jeff Setzke said that it did not take him long to understand that Fenton has two huge rivalries. “Anytime we play Linden or Holly the kids circle it on their calendar. Those are the games they want to win,” Setzke said.

If you’ve ever polished off a pan of brownies “when no one was looking” or eaten a half-gallon of ice cream in one sitting, you may be interested to know that it may not simply be because you lack self-control. Food addictions are just as real as addictions to drugs or alcohol, only they’re more socially acceptable because everyone has to eat. Most people who are overweight don’t experience actual hunger more than anyone else, according to many health experts. They eat too much as a form of self-medication, unconsciously trying to balance levels of two brain chemicals that are disrupted by unhealthy foods.

Good medicine

This will be a stretch for some, but stay with me. Suppose someone presented a plan that is guaranteed to achieve the objectives everyone (or almost everyone serious about such matters) agrees are necessary to create jobs, end our financial dependence on China, reform the tax code and repair Social Security, Medicare and Medicaid so they not only continue to support people now, but ensure the health and welfare of future generations.

Would the politicians accept this gift from the political gods? Or would they prefer the dysfunction that characterizes virtually everything they do and prevents solutions, opting instead for partisan political gain?

The problem with so much of Washington today is that no Democrat will accept a good idea if it comes from a Republican and, conversely, Republicans will reject any good idea that comes from Democrats. So here’s a plan whose author shall remain anonymous.

Social Security, Medicare and Medicaid; this author contends, ‘consumes 43 percent of today’s federal spending.’ Most people might agree there is ample evidence the federal government is bloated, overextended and not living within its constitutional bounds, which has caused its dysfunction.

How about a plan that truly reforms these massive social programs, protecting those now on them, but focusing in the future on the truly needy? How many would endorse a plan that ‘encourages Americans to become more fiscally responsible’ and eliminates the incoherent tax code in favor of an ‘expander tax’ with a single flat rate?

Do I have your attention now? Humans have a tendency to live in the moment, thinking little about what those who have gone before have bequeathed to us and what we are passing on to those who follow. If we don’t fix what ails us, including these soon-to-be bankrupt social programs (without reform, entitlement spending will consume all tax revenue in about 40 years), future generations will rightly condemn us.

Medicine can’t work if it remains on the shelf. This plan is the cure for our ‘disease.’

Garage sale benefits 300 families from Appalachian Mountains

50,000 items for sale

By Tim Jagielo

Holly — Everyone loves garage sales. They are great for making extra cash while getting rid of clutter, or finding oddball things you need. But what about using a garage sale to raise money for families in need? This is what Carl and Shirley Roos, of Holly, have been doing for nine years.

Every September, the couple holds an unusual garage sale at their home, which benefits around 300 families in the Appalachian Mountains of Virginia. They don’t provide financial assistance. They take several trips per year to the area to give things that are needed, including food, clothing and medical supplies.

The garage sale begins Thursday and runs through Sunday. The sale also benefits anyone who stops by to purchase items for sale. None of the 50,000 items are marked with a price. The couple just asks that patrons make a fair donation to their tax-exempt, 501c3, Angel Haven Foundation.

The sale is so large it takes a week to set up. “It’s a very big deal, you should come see,” said Shirley Roos, who also heads the Holly Township Library.

The sale itself takes up an entire barn, and around seven tents full of items including clothing, glassware, toys and small appliances. “We’re really proud of the furniture we have. Some of it is really beautiful,” she said. And, they do have oddball items, such as an antique juicer.

Roos hopes to raise around $5,000, which will be used to buy items to be stored in a warehouse, and is then distributed to families in Virginia. They also use their foundation to help local people whenever they can.

Roos and her husband became aware of the plight of the people living in former mining towns 12 years ago. Cancer, polluted water, unemployment and poverty were rampant after most of the jobs left the secluded mining towns. “It’s really sad, and it’s our country,” she said. “We’re having garage sales to feed people. Very disturbing.”

Roos was shocked people lived that way. One man they helped literally lived in a cave. “There’s absolutely nothing,” she said. “They’re just forgotten people. They don’t have the money to go out to the big city and get a job.”

The couple will take one of their trips in the middle of November with around 15,000 pounds of goods, which includes items donated from other area churches.

At 75 and 80, the work is hard on Roos and her husband. “We’re going to do this as long as we can,” she said.

The sale officially opens on Thursday, but the couple welcomes any help from the community.

“They’re just forgotten people. They don’t have the money to go out to the big city and get a job.”

Holly trustee pleads not guilty to OWI

Leslie heads back to court on Oct. 5 for pretrial

By Sharon Stone

A Holly Township trustee for operating a vehicle while intoxicated on Aug. 27 was arraigned on the misdemeanor count on Sept. 8. During her arraignment by Judge Joseph Fabrizio in Oakland County’s 52nd District Court – 2nd division, Janet Leslie pleaded not guilty to the charge. Her next court date is Oct. 5, for a pretrial hearing.

According to the Holly Village police, an employee at Red Devil Pizza, taking a break outside the restaurant, saw Leslie strike her parked car with her Honda CRV. Leslie stayed at the scene and the employee called police to report the collision just after 9 p.m.

The responding police officer detected a strong odor of intoxicants coming from Leslie as she spoke. Her eyes were also bloodshot and glassy and her speech was slightly slurred. Leslie told the officer that she accidentally struck the parked vehicle.

According to the police report, Leslie told the officer that she had been drinking assorted vodka drinks at a charity golf outing that day, but was unsure as to how many she had consumed.

Field sobriety tests were administered and a preliminary breath test, at the scene, revealed a blood alcohol content (BAC) of .201 on Leslie. She was arrested for OWI and transported to the police station, where a chemical test revealed a BAC of .15. She was released at 4 a.m. the next morning with a court appearance ticket.

Following her arrest, Leslie said her actions were regrettable and unacceptable to her and her community. She said she was taking positive steps to ensure that this type of incident never happens again.

Legal words and phrases

In the law, one doesn’t have to go far to run into what can seem like a veritable maze of legal words and phrases and their unique meanings. Many of these come to us from Latin, which is not a modern language, but is still used because of its historical use in the legal terminology.

When I was in high school, I took Latin and when I got to law school, it turned out I have been a very valuable class. I thought for this week’s column that I would list a few of the law’s most commonly used Latin words and phrases with their translations.

So here it goes — a mini-Latin legalese lesson with the Latin phrase followed by the English meaning:

- Ab Initio — from the beginning
- Actus Reus — a guilty deed or act
- Alioth — at another place, elsewhere
- Amicus Curiae — a friend of the court
- Bona Fide — sincere, in good faith
- Caveat Emptor — let the buyer beware
- Corpus Delicti — the body of the crime
- De Facto — in fact
- Ex Post Facto — by reason of a subsequent act
- Habeas Corpus — that you have the body
- Id Est — that is
- Nolo Contendere — I will not contest it
- Mens Rea — a guilty mind
- Prima Facie — at first face
- Res Ipsa Loquitur — the thing speaks for itself
- Scienter — knowingly
- Subpoena — under penalty

These are but a few examples from a very long list. There can be great beauty in the written or spoken word especially when it conveys with precision the author’s or speaker’s thoughts and meanings. In the law, it is very important to be as precise as possible. Historically, the Latin language has helped the law immeasurably to reach this ideal.

geared only for adults to generate a bit more revenue.

Carmine Avantini, a planning consultant for the city, told council members at their work session in August that the city was not covered by an ordinance if a store wanted to sell items that fall under the city’s definition of adult materials. He recommended that council members approve the amendment for businesses having adult novelties that take up less than 10 percent of their space.

Businesses that have more than 10 percent of their space dedicated to adult novelty items are also regulated by the city.

Unless a customer is carrying an item deemed to be of the adult nature to the cash register, these items cannot be visible to the public except for when they are located within an adult material room, specifically for such items.

These adult material rooms must have walls at least six-feet high that screen, or limit the view by customers in the other areas of the store. Individuals under the age of 18 are not permitted in.

Businesses cannot display adult novelty items in areas of the store that could be seen through exterior windows by residents walking by. Live modeling or similar activities are also prohibited.

Retail businesses with adult novelty items must be located at least 500 feet from churches, schools, day care centers, hospitals and parks.

which will exist for as long as America does.”

“I would like to thank him for his brazen service,” said Andrew Leavitt, a representative for Kidlee. “He embodies everything a public servant should have.”

Gleason evoked the memories of Sept. 11, citing police and firefighters who risked their lives to save people from burning buildings. Gleason said that public servants are often taken for granted and are not given the recognition that they deserve. “I think it’s important that I recognize him. His own life was in the balance.”

Conklin and Linden Police Chief Scott Sutter went to Lansing on Sept. 8 for a 9/11 remembrance ceremony with Scott, who said it was an honor to host them both. Scott relayed stories of how Conklin advocated for more local and police funding from state legislators. He was impressed that Conklin was willing to save lives outside of his jurisdiction.

“Conklin told me, ‘It’s all these politicians that created lines. I signed up to save lives,’” Scott said. “For all the men and women who protect, I’m honored. We need more like you.”

Sutter and state officials often quoted Conklin’s response when he asked why he risked his life on that day, “When we sign up and take that oath, this is what we do. This is what I signed up to do.”

Police Chief Scott Sutter said Tuesday the actions that Conklin took the day of the sewer accident went “above and beyond” the call of duty. “He deserved to be honored in the way that he was last night.”

I AM SO tired of reading about politics in your Hot Lines. Why don’t you just make a page of nothing but Hot lines about your wonderful council and let people like me just skip over that page, and those who are interested can read it.

WILL YOU PLEASE define ‘jaywalking’? Isn’t jaywalking crossing the road without using the crosswalk or is it when you cross a red light? Please define that. I hope the police do, I’d like to hear from them.

TO THE PERSON wondering why Linden teachers haven’t given any concessions. The union agrees that concessions need to be made and they have tried. However, the Linden school board has been completely unwilling to negotiate and will not budge. This has to go on for several months. Everyone is frustrated.

I REALLY HOPE the wonderful council members in Fenton enact a jaywalking ordinance since it appears to me that everybody likes to jaywalk anywhere they want. They need to fine the walkers. It’s only fair. You might as well fine the bikers, too, for going the wrong way on the road. That’s my opinion.

I’LL BE SURE to vote Republican in 2012 because their agenda is so promising — bust the unions, pay 1940’s wages, give the rest of our jobs to illegal aliens and take our guns away so we can’t defend ourselves.

THE ECONOMY was bottomed out when Obama took office? The first 10 months we lost 600,000 jobs per year, and half that for another six months. That’s ‘bottomed out’? You’re a fruitcake.

Rivalries

According to Setzke, some kids living in Holly attend Fenton schools while some Linden kids attend Fenton schools, making the rivalries even more heated. “It makes for an interesting dynamic. The rivalry precedes every school and is passed from class to class. You want the bragging rights.”

Steck’s most memorable games have been against the Linden football team, who had beaten Fenton for the past 10 years. Fenton broke its losing streak on Sept. 1, when they defeated Linden 17-14.

“The past few years against Linden have always been a very close battle,” Steck said. “We’ve played some pretty epic battles. Every game with Linden sticks out in my mind.”

Holly tennis coach Will Sophia said rivalries play a huge part in school sports. Given the small-town atmosphere of the tri-county schools, neighboring high schools are usually rivals by default. For Holly tennis, Fenton and Brandon are huge rivals that players are excited to compete against.

“It’s always been a big rivalry with Fenton in every sport. Brandon has recently improved a lot too,” Sophia said. Recently, Holly had met with both Fenton and Brandon, winning 5-3 and tying 4-4, respectively. His players become more excited when playing their rivals, even if he tries to treat the games as typical regular season match.

Holly varsity boys tennis has won the Metro League title 18 years in a row and the girls have won it 29 years in a row. As the team to beat for a couple of decades, rival teams cheer for anyone other than Holly to win the league title.

“Just last fall at the final match against Brandon, Holly kids and parents were cheering from one bleacher. At the other bleacher, you had not only Brandon fans but also Fenton and Lapeer fans. You definitely get a kind of anti-Holly grouping.”

Still, Sophia knows that the rivalries are all in good fun. “You get those really high-energy and important matches. It’s so exciting to see the kids get into it.”

For students and others unaware of how intense the local rivalries are, the next big game’s on Friday, when the Fenton varsity football team plays Holly at Holly High School. Fans are encouraged to wear orange or red as the two teams duke it out. As the Beach Boys once sang, “Be true to your school, and let your colors fly.”

If you think the local high schools have some tough rivalries, check out these competitive teams that love to own the bragging rights over one another.

Red Sox vs. Yankees — The rivalry stems from “The Curse of the Great Bambino,” when the Red Sox traded Babe Ruth to the Yankees in 1919. Before the trade, the Red Sox were the top team while the Yankees were lackluster. After the trade, the Red Sox would not win the World Series until 86 years later, starting what many believe to be the most bitter rivalry in sports today.

Muhammad Ali vs. Joe Frazier — The boxers fought three times, including the famous “Thrilla in Manila.” Many consider their first match up at Madison Square Gardens in 1971, one of the greatest boxing matches ever.

Michigan vs. Minnesota — Ohio State and Michigan State may be the University of Michigan’s most well-known rivals, but University of Minnesota can claim the oldest rivalry with the maize and blue. The Little Brown Jug serves as the trophy for the winner and has been exchanged between the two teams since 1903.

Dopamine is the neuron chemical that produces excitement and other high-energy feelings. Eating high-fat foods provides a surge of dopamine and requires the continual eating of these foods to keep the “high.”
Serotonin is a calming neuron chemical that promotes the feeling of well-being and optimism. People who consume a lot of sugar or refined carbohydrates or a combination of both note increases in their serotonin levels that make them feel good — although these effects are also temporary unless a person keeps eating these foods.
Breaking the cycle of food addiction and being overweight requires some lifestyle strategies that are different from the traditional restrictiveness of a diet. “Balance, moderation and variety are the key,” said Lida Athearns, executive director of EDEN (Eating Disorders Education Network), with programs available in Fenton. “There are no ‘bad’ foods,” she said. “When you want a brownie, have a brownie, but don’t eat any more than just the one to satisfy your craving for that particular food.”

SEPT. 11
Beth Snow, of Holly, found herself taken with emotion, considering the rescue personnel who had been lost as she looked upon the firefighter’s display, including a piece of steel from the World Trade Center and other items. “I’m so sorry for your loss,” she said to Fenton Fire Department Chief Bob Cairnduff. “The whole nation lost,” he replied.
Cairnduff wanted to keep the no-frills ceremony simple and to the point, and keep the memory of Sept. 11 alive.
The event strikes a special chord for deputy chief Ed Hadfield, who lost a cousin, who was on the 102nd floor of the south tower. “The whole thing was devastating,” he said. “It’s pretty important to me.” Hadfield has never missed a tribute ceremony.
At around 9:30 a.m., more attendees filtered in on foot. Some were walking dogs, and many stopped to take a picture of a memorial wreath.
The entire congregation from FUMC arrived in a procession lead by Donahue. At 9:58 a.m., a siren sounded, commemorating the moment the first tower collapsed. The audience was completely silent.
Melissa Adams, of Fenton, believed the ceremony met its aim to properly remember the event of Sept. 11, 2001. “People came to remember what happened to individuals and to our nation,” she said. “It’s something we can never forget.”

BULLYING
Bullycide Project will be a part of the CBS news program 48 Hours, which airs at 8 p.m. this Friday, Sept. 16. Bullycide is a collection of stories about kids who have committed suicide due to bullying.

“There’s been a lot of awareness made because of the Bullycide Project,” Thompson said, who has been producing the play for nearly a year with her Trust Theater Ensemble. “It would be incredible if we played any kind of hand in helping to create an anti-bullying law.”

An anti-bullying law has been Kevin and Tammy Epling’s goal for nearly a decade, after their son Matt committed suicide in 2002. So far, the Eplings are not very impressed with Michigan legislators and their lack of action.

“Bullying is the number one issue with schools, right below funding,” Kevin Epling, of Lansing, said. “Our legislators have been dropping in and out of this ball on this. They really need to pass something that will be helpful to schools, parents and students.”

The Eplings will be a part of the 48 Hours production. The Eplings met Thompson after watching “Ticking,” a play written and performed by Thompson’s students. The Eplings introduced the Bullycide Project to Thompson, which spurred her to produce a play from it. In the span of one year, Thompson’s Bullycide has been performed in Las Vegas, Toronto and in front of state legislators. The play will be performed Sept. 21 at an anti-bullying summit in Washington D.C., which will be attended by President Barack Obama.

Despite the national attention on bullying, Michigan legislators have taken little action. There are a few bills in the Michigan Senate and the House of Representatives, but nothing comprehensive yet.

State Sen. John Gleason believes Michigan has an anti-bullying law as it creates issues with school attendance and self-esteem. “I think people need to be held accountable. Many of the suicides from young people are from bullying,” Gleason said.

Even if an anti-bullying law never materializes, Thompson hopes the Bullycide Project will motivate viewers to be proactive and stop bullies the next time they are seen. “We need to be more involved and responsible and not be afraid. We need to intervene, speak up and act,” Thompson said.

The next production of the Bullycide Project will be at the Flint Youth Theater on Sept. 24 at 7:30 p.m.

WELFARE WAS NEVER intended to be a lifelong benefit. It was to be a helping hand for people working toward self-sufficiency. The headlines all read ‘thousands of children will be left out in the cold.’ Give me a break. If in four years, you have not found a way to support your own children, then maybe you shouldn’t be having children. Learn to support yourself, work to earn your money and don’t wait for a handout.

TEA PARTY BASHERS really need to get informed. Why all the hate? The TEA Party is not a racist group looking to have the president injured or worse. Those who do get this stuff? The TEA Party was formed by both black and white Americans, who are tired of an out-of-control government. They are simply shining a light on ridiculous spending and massive loss of liberties. Please, people, stop with the nasty lies, it’s not nice.

I COME FROM a GM family. After college, I studied for four months for the skilled trades test. I took it, and after the interview, I was second in line for hire. After two waves of new hires and not being one of them, I was told that I was the wrong color, and the fact that I went to college was a minus. Thanks, Democrats, and the union.

ACTUALLY, I INQUIRED about opening an Olive Garden or Red Lobster in Fenton, but they do not franchise.

TO THE ARMCHAIR economist who thinks more money needs to be printed and we need to subsidize electrical cars, please stick to your day job, and in the evenings, invest in some economics classes at a local community college or university.

I NEVER NOTICED that St. John School disregarded the law when it comes to flying the flag at night. I certainly noticed last night around 10 p.m. What a disgrace. The Hot Line writer is right. This is total and wanton disrespect toward our flag, especially on the 10th anniversary of Sept. 11. What an insult to veterans everywhere.

I HAVE TO agree with the Hot line about the Fenton vs. Linden football game. It’s great that Fenton won after 10 years, but they need to be re-taught good sportsmanship because obviously they have forgotten. In the last 10 times that Linden won, they never left Fenton standing on the 50-yard line waiting for them as they celebrated their win. Maybe the coaches need to teach them good sportsmanship.

When the most dangerous villain of his world sends its darkest forces to invade Earth, Thor learns what it takes to be a true hero.

MEEK'S CUTOFF

The year is 1845, the earliest days of the Oregon Trail, and a wagon train of three families has hired mountain man Stephen Meek to guide them over the Cascade Mountains. Claiming to know a short cut, Meek leads the group on an unmarked path across the high plain desert, only to become lost in the dry rock and sage. Over the coming days, the emigrants face the scourges of hunger, thirst and their own lack of faith in one another's instincts for survival. When a Native American wanderer crosses their path, the emigrants are torn between their trust in a guide who has proven himself unreliable and a man who has always been seen as a natural born enemy. This is a terrible job. I'm here to tell you that's just not so. Rep. Scott needs a lesson in manners and in attitude. Recall him, please.

THOR

I JUST HAD the 60th class reunion of my high school from a high school in the state of New York. We never went back to school until after Labor Day. When I was working, we always used Labor Day as an extra vacation day. All the time my son was in school I hated him going back before Labor Day. The kids never learned anything then.

I AM NOT a teacher, and I am for the recall of Paul Scott. The media is trying to convince the public that those horrible teachers are the only ones who think Paul Scott is doing a terrible job. I'm here to tell you that's just not so. Rep. Scott needs a lesson in manners and in attitude. Recall him, please.

I CAN only have one sign on my property for my once-a-year yard sale. Why is it that there are Appellest signs everywhere, and some properties have as many as six? Maybe that's why we vote at St. John's?

PLEASE DON'T park your vehicles on your lawn, people. It looks trashy. I'm not talking about those who pull a car or truck up to load or unload something. The vehicles that live on your grass look horrible. Also, isn't there an ordinance or law about trash? I'm not talking about those who leave a mess. I'm talking about those who pull a car or truck up to load or unload something. The vehicles that live on your grass look horrible. Also, isn't there an ordinance or law about trash?

I AM VERY disappointed with Tri-County Times advertising for Jett-O Wrestlle Mania. It is very clear from the ad this is to be bikini-clad girls sliding around in Jett-O. This is what we want our men, old and young alike, being entertained by? This is what we want our drivers applying for? I understand supporting local business and advertising their events but this makes me feel like I am reading a less than desirable publication.

SO, IF THE 'home office' is in this country, then it's an American car! We should send all those executives who still have jobs with the Big 3 all the profits and reward them for closing the plants and moving them to Mexico? Or, should we support working, middle-class Americans who work at the foreign car company plants in America?

Holly draws East in pivotal league opener

Bronchos’ Hooper scores sparking 1-1 Metro deadlock

By David Troppens
droppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Holly — If the Holly varsity boys soccer team wins its second straight Metro League title in October, the Bronchos can credit the scoring combination of Colin Banes and Hunter Hooper for it.

And they may be able to thank an official as well.

Trailing 1-0, the Bronchos had a set play with about 12 minutes remaining. After a long delay, one of the officials rolled the ball onto the field of play for a restart. Striding toward the ball while it was just ending its rotations near the bench sidelines, Holly’s Banes kicked the ball to the sideline post of Lapeer’s net. Hunter Hooper received the pass and put it in the net for a 1-1 tie. The score remained deadlocked, giving both expected Metro League contenders a pivotal point in their first league games of the season.

“I saw their outside mid or their left outside defender. Colin saw me running behind him, he sent it and I touched it,” Hooper said. “We have had shots like that, but not normally on target.”

Holly coach Mike Steibel admitted the goal seemed pretty strange. Both teams scored their goals off of set plays. East scored the game’s first goal with 18:05 remaining in the contest after a corner kick was crossed into the Holly box. The ball eventually got to East’s Troy Willner, who took a shot. It was saved by Holly keeper Ryan St. John, but it snuck through his legs. Bailey Boyler was there to get the rebound, putting East up 1-0, but only for about six minutes.

“I think it was fitting because they played with a lot of hustle, and defensively the teams were equal,” Steibel said. “It was whoever got the lucky goal.”

“The corner was good for them, and that flukey little thing here (Holly’s goal), I’ll take it. I never saw that ever. It was a nice pass from Colin into Hunter, but I thought the restart was a little weird.

“I think this game right here will have something to do with the league title.”

It was a game filled with late-season league title intensity. But quite often it seemed the teams allowed the intensity to replace creativity, creating a choppy, pinball-like game instead of a more fluent possession-type game. Still, both teams had good chances to score other goals, but frequently the two keepers — Holly’s St. John and East’s Colin Owen — made some strong saves. Lapeer East outshot the Bronchos 19-13, and enjoyed a 12-6 on target edge.

“I thought we didn’t play 100 percent,” St. John said. “I think we need to work on possession, stop forcing the ball up the field. It was to much kickball on the field. We didn’t settle it and play the entire field. That’s something we will have to work on.”

Just one game into the Metro season, and two other “convention” games against Metro League teams, the Holly boys are realizing defending a league title may be a bit harder than winning the first one. The Bronchos are now a clearly known quality squad.

“I think it is tougher,” Hooper said. “We lost some pretty good defenders in the back, so we are trying to pick up some of the slack back there. But everyone is coming out a lot harder this year than they were before.”

The Bronchos travel to Swartz Creek today for a 4:30 p.m. Flint Metro League contest.

PREP FOOTBALL WEEK #4 QUICK PREVIEWS

Fenton Tigers (3-0) at Holly Bronchos (1-2): The Tigers seemingly are getting over some of those early-season bumps. The offense had its break-out game of the season against Charlotte, scoring 38 points. A big key to the contest was quarterback Houston Shaw putting together his best performance of the season. He completed 16-of-24 passes for 221 yards and two TDs. The Bronchos are more balanced than in past years, but they still rely heavily on quarterback Johnny Williams’ legs. He ran for 138 yards and two scores against Linden.

Defensively, the Bronchos struggled in their first two games, allowing an average of 32 points in those games. Against Linden, they put pressure on the Linen quarterbacks and kept the Eagles’ passing game in check. However, Fenton’s offense isn’t Linden’s right now. If the Bronchos want to make the playoffs, they need to win this game. That will be a tough mission to accomplish.

Lake Fenton Blue Devils (2-1) at Durand Railroaders (0-3): The Blue Devils are back to their identity, after running for 302 yards against Lakeville on Friday. And the defense was overwhelming as well, creating six turnovers. The Blue Devils will have a chance to get 400 yards rushing this week against Durand’s defense. The Blue Devils are heavy favorites, but they better get this win. It won’t be easy during the second half if they want to make the playoffs. Games with Goodrich, Montrose, Beecher and North and Linden’s Kirk Bennett run during a recent meet.

Area teams earn success at Bath invite

The Metro League leaders in both cross country standings competed at the Brett Clements Bath Invitational on Saturday, and each had encouraging signs suggesting they’ll remain the team to beat in league play.

The league leading Holly varsity girls cross country team had some runners who are apparently getting healthier during their performance. The Lady Bronchos were paced by Mariah Ridal’s 29th-place performance in 21:04, while Jennifer Beckner took 33rd in 21:14. The rest of Holly’s scorers were Shannon Westfall in 39th and Mariah Ridal’s 29th-place performance in 21:04, while Jennifer Beckner took 33rd in 21:14. Linden soccer wins Dragon Invitational

Entering the Flint Metro League portion of its season, the Linden varsity boys soccer team didn’t have much of a question mark to ask of a better confidence booster.

The Eagles captured the Swartz Creek Invitational by outscoring their three foes 11-0 over three games this Saturday. In fact, if you include a Thursday 6-0 victory against Durand, the Eagles outscored their foes over a 72-hour period 17-0.

“Thursday’s Durand game was the best game we actually played,” Linden coach Kevin Fieberteniz said. “We were unbelievably good. We played solid for 25-minute halves on Saturday. We were able to score some goals.

The Eagles opened the tourney with a 2-0 victory against Perry, and followed that up with a 4-0 victory against Swartz Creek. The Eagles capped their tournament title by defeating John Glenn 5-0.

“We are definitely an improved team since our first game of the season,” Fiebertenitz said. “We have settled upon a lineup and formation that works best for our team. I like the way we are playing.”

Against Perry, the Eagles got a goal and an assist each from Zach Bakos and Ted Parcher. Meanwhile, Collin Hoeberling got the shutout in net.

In the 4-0 win against Creek, Parcher scored two more goals, while Justin Gauss and Max Belbot had goals. Jaime Elias, Bakos (two assists), and Collin Rhead had assists. Hoeberling made three saves to earn the shutout.

In the 5-0 victory against John Glenn, Gauss, Michael Zaccardi, Belbot, Jaime Yanez II and Kevin Wright had goals. Belbot, Zaccardi, Hoeberling and Birchmeier had assists.

Against Durand, Parcher and Ben Thornton had two goals each, while Bakos and Yanez had a goal each.

As this game was the constant was defense. The Eagles had shutouts in every game.

“Brett Benford was the one piece we needed to go into the back defensively,” Fiebertenitz said. “He’s not the fastest guy, but he’s very vocal. We tried to utilize others in the back, but they were pretty quiet and things got out of shape. We needed someone back there to organize and control things. We’ve surrounded him with some good players back there as well. And Linden’s Kevin Wright kicks a ball during a recent contest. Linden won the Swartz Creek tournament on Saturday.

I like what it’s doing. Hoeberling is facing fewer shots.”

Linden opened Metro play with a home game on Tuesday. The Eagles travel to Fenton for another Metro contest against their league rivals on Thursday.

(21:32), Early Shroeder to 44th (21:57) and Charlotte Ruffini in 46th (22:04). The other two varsity runners were Alex Matvchuk in 47th (22:04) and Katie Grice in 52nd (22:28). Another runner, Abby Brown, would’ve been among Holly’s top seven runners in the varsity race if she was in it.

“We took some steps in the right direction,” Holly coach Matt Weisdorfer said. “Abby Brown returned to the varsity for the Holly Invitational (on Saturday). Matvchuk is getting stronger. We probably see her in the low 21s this weekend.

“The girls wanted to take a lot more time off than they did, and were a little frustrated that they didn’t do. But I was quick to remind them that this is the first time this season where they are coming off a sort of back-to-back meet with two meets in one week, and the fact that they ran eight miles on Thursday.

The Metro-leading Linden boys placed third in the Division 2 race, and had their entire top seven place in the top 50. Roger Phillips took sixth with a time of 16:39.

He was followed by Adrian Taylor in 23rd (17:26), Kirk Bennett in 25th (17:33), Graham Elliott in 26th (17:35), Matt Loosy in 33rd (17:49), Kyle Susulak in 36th (17:54) and Zach LeMieux in 50th (18:17).

The four-time defending Metro champs had a strong showing.

“It was a good performance from the boys,” Linden coach Clint Lawhorne said. “Our goal was to finish in the top four teams. Last year, we were seventh, so our third-place finish was a definite improvement.

Haslett and Mason are ranked within the top five teams in the state, so there’s no shame finishing behind them. Over half of our team set season personal records today.”

The Holly boys are rebuilding, but also had reason to feel good about their day. Luke Schwierin finished 24th (17:15), and was a medalist. Meanwhile, the rest of their scorers were Nick Myers in 54th (18:34), Steven Domagalski in 61st (19:06), Vincent Cent in 66th (19:33), and Hunter Spurgeon in 72nd (21:17).

“The boys ran all right,” Holly coach Richie Brinker said. “We had one medalist and we had our No. 2 and 3 runners run almost a minute faster than last year on the same course. Our No. 5 runner, Cory Nichols, was out due to sickness. We are still a work in progress, striving for improvement each and every day.”

But in each game, the constant was defense. The Eagles had shutouts in every game.

“We are improving each and every game,” Linden coach Teresa Wright said. “Our freshmen –- Scripter and Corcoran — are starting to look strong and are valuable additions to our team this season.”

SWIMMING

Fenton Tiger Relays: Fenton had two relay teams win events at the Saturday meet, placing fifth overall. Holly also attended and took 11th with 154 points.

The team of Haley Shaw, Sara Wyczak, Gabrielle Haarajoa and Kelsey Kidd won the 400 medley relay (4:16.70), while the team of Zach Marcola, Shane, Kail Finger and Haarajoa won the 400 IM (4:21.40).

The 400 freestyle relay team of Shaw, Wyczak, Marcola and Kidd placed second (3:48.24), while the 800 MEDLEY relay team of Lauren Davis, Megan Castron, Kidd and Finger placed fourth (9:18.62).

SOCCER

Linden 7, Swartz Creek 1: The Eagles scored four first-half goals, dominating the Dragons in their Metro League opener. The Eagles took two goals each, while Jaime Yanez II, Ben Thornton and Zach Bakos scored once each. Kevin Wright had three assists, while Parcher, Bakos and Patrick Luan ban had one each. In net, Collin Hoeberling made five saves, earning the win.

Fenton 4, Lapeer West 0: The Tigers led at one time 4-0, getting two goals each from Chase Marcolda and Jake Davis. Davis had two assists, while Logan Volmar had one assist.

VOLLEYBALL

Fenton at East Kentwood Invitational: The Tigers went 3-3, losing to Forest Hills Central in the silver semifinals. Sarah Collier had 24 kills and five blocks, while Mairee Martin had 10 kills and nine blocks. Ashley Bearden had 20 kills, while Payton Mohrshimer had 42 digs.

Holly at Birch Run Invitational: The Bronchos finished 1-2-1 at the tournament. Ashley Wohlfell had 88 good service reception attempts and 27 digs. Megan Powiwaski had five solo blocks, while Hannah Tirm had 23 kills and seven aces. Adrienne Chad had 21 assists.

TENNIS

Holly-Grand Blanc Invitational: The Bronchos finished sixth with 11 points. The Bronchos were paced by the No. 3 doubles team of Craig Roberts and Parker Rowe, who won the consolation championship. Connor Bilko also won two matches to win the consolation championship match.

GOLF

Fenton 178, Brandon 236: At Trone Hills, Samantha Moss won match medalist honors with a 41. Olivia Fabats had a 44, while Taylor Przybylowski carded a 45. Meghan Berry had a 48.

Fenton 179, Holly 189: Samantha Moss carded a 39 to lead Fenton. Taylor Przybylowski had a 42, while Holly had a 48. Meghan Berry had a 51.

WEEK #4

Branch remain on the schedule. The Blue Devils will need to win one of those games, if they hold serve in their “easier” contests, to qualify for the playoffs.

Clio Mustangs (0-3) at Linden Eagles (1-2): It’s shocking to see Linden’s offense struggle, especially if you look back at the last couple of weeks. The Eagles are unsettled at quarterback and those QBs haven’t gotten much help from the running game, the receivers or the offensive line.

Defensively, the Eagles are pretty solid. They’ll allow yardage upon occasion, but have proven to be very tough to score on.

This is the ideal game to get that offense back on track – if the Eagles can avoid less than 41 points since the Mustangs joined the Metro. It needs to, or else the second half of the season could be a tough one to muster. It’s hard to say this, but this is a victory the Eagles must get in order to enhance their playoff chances. Without it, the Eagles would fall to 1-3 overall.
