Judge stops Scott recall

Summary

► A circuit court judge in Ingham County granted Rep. Paul Scott an injunction against his recall. The recall is not likely to be on the November ballot.

► MEA continues campaign against targeted lawmakers

By William Axford

axford@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

The recall effort against State Rep. Paul Scott, 51st District (R-Grand Blanc) is not likely to appear on the Nov. 8 ballot. Ingham County Circuit Court Judge Clinton Canady granted Scott an injunction Thursday, after Scott’s claim that state election workers accepted signatures for the recall prematurely. The hearing is a response to a ruling made by the court of appeals on Oct. 6, which sent the case back to the lower courts.

New bank fees source of confusion for public

► Bank of America to charge $5 monthly debit fee

By Tim Jagielo

tjagielo@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

Patrons of Bank of America have turned a wary eye to media reports of exploding debit card fees, leading to perceived exodus from big banks back to smaller institutions.

Summary

► Large corporate banks are considering charging a monthly fee to use a debit card, a practice that has received scathing remarks from the public.

The fears may be overstated, and haven’t even been implemented, yet. “Overall, we are committed to being clear and transparent about fees and offering customers choices,” said Betty Reiss, spokesperson for Bank of America.

SMART SOLUTIONS

1 Channel your thoughts

When nagging concerns are keeping you from focusing, try standing on one leg for one minute. Since the brain must process a large amount of sensory input to maintain balance, doing this instantly blocks out other distractions, allowing you to channel your thoughts.

2 Iron-free ironing

No time to iron but your clothes are wrinkled? Set your dryer to the air cycle and pop in the wrinkled article and a damp towel for 20 minutes. The towel's moisture relaxes wrinkles while you finish getting ready.

Defibrillators save lives

Foundation aims to have device in every Michigan high school

By Sharon Stone

sstone@tctimes.com; 810-433-6786

Kylee Shea and her family are grateful that the middle school she attends in Texas was equipped with automated external defibrillator (AED). The 12-year-old girl recently collapsed on her way to class from sudden cardiac arrest, due to an undetected health condition. Classmates alerted teachers right away and two teachers rushed to her side, along with the school's AED.

Within minutes, the teachers began cardio pulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and let the AED diagnose her condition. The device diagnosed a shockable condition and administered a shock. By the time paramedics arrived, the girl was alert and talking. Doctors treating her later reportedly indicated that the AED saved her life.

KIMBERLY ANNE GILLARY FOUNDATION

is a 501(c)(3) charitable foundation that was established in memory of Kimberly, who passed away on April 3, 2000 at the age of 15.

Their mission is to ensure that every Michigan high school has at least one AED and staff members who are certified in CPR and the use of an AED. The foundation also advocates cardiac screening and testing of all high school student athletes.

KIMBERLY'S STORY — Kimberly suffered a cardiac arrest while playing in a water polo game for the Troy Athens High School team. This was the first year that Athens had water polo as a school sponsored sport and she was really excited about playing. Kim had an undetected heart condition known as hypertrophic cardiomyopathy (HCM).

First socialist generation has arrived

If you follow the news, or at least the liberal interpretation of it, you have likely seen some footage of the so-called Wall Street protestors.

Unlike our forefathers, these protestors aren't demonstrating to gain life, liberty, or the pursuit of happiness. No, oddly, they are demanding just the opposite. They are demonstrating for mass equality of life regardless of the effort an individual puts into it. They want a bigger, more nanny-like government that will provide them with the basics of life from the cradle to the grave.

How could that be? This is America, land of the free — yet these fools are demonstrating (demanding, if you will) to be enslaved. That is the exact opposite of the fundamental concepts of freedom that made our country great.

The answer is easy. The left has so successfully infiltrated our education system that what we are seeing is the first generation of our children that has been brainwashed into being American socialists — those that childishly subscribe to the failed mantra of Karl Marx: 'From each according to his ability, to each according to his need.' And, as parents (including me), we actually financed this transformation of an entire generation of our youth. In fact, we paid ridiculous amounts of money to ensure that our kids got the best 'indoctrination' that money could buy.

We sent them to college.

We sent our kids to colleges and universities where 90 percent of the 'professors' are flaming liberals with little or no real-life business experience — but a vast amount of ideological propaganda that has little or no value when it comes to business — or life. These frustrated wannabes get a hold of our kids in their most formative years and for four years vomit out a steady stream of the fundamentals of leftist liberalism that centers around the evils of capitalism and success. Instead of a proud presentation of American ingenuity, success and generosity that should be treasured, America is painted as a war-mongering, bullying, empirical entity that is evil.

These force-fed, illogical ideologies are the exact opposite of the character and virtues exhibited by our founding fathers.

As my dad used to say often, 'If you don't stand for something, you'll fall for anything.' That's why we, as parents, must be proactive in instilling an understanding of our great country into our children, while also warning them of the dangers that lurk in the classrooms of our universities in the form of sneering, cynical has-beens (actually never-beens) disguised as professors.

Never has there been greater evidence of this than the leaderless, confused, inarticulate mob of would-be revolutionaries crying out to give up the only thing they possess of any real value: their fought-and-died-for legacy of freedom.

The surest road to ruin is a citizenry that doesn't understand, nor appreciate, the value system — both moral and economic — that is at the core of its greatness.

The first socialist generation of Americans is now officially traveling down that road.

THE NEW BEAUTY shop in downtown Fenton sure looks nice. I really like how they have selected warm colors for the exterior.

STATE ROAD THINKS it is OK to have strangers on school property as long as the kids are not outside? Are you kidding me? That is just asking for trouble and, there were kids outside. Wake up and keep our kids safe and strangers off the school property.

ARE YOU KIDDING me? Byron schools want a millage of $14 million? People are losing their houses and starving. How in the world could they expect that we could afford that over 30 years? If you own a house worth $100,000, that would be $300 more a year for 30 years. Vote no on the Byron Schools millage.

YOUR NEIGHBORS ARE burning wood so they can feed their family, you whiner. Do you whine about cars and the exhaust fumes, DOW chemical, people grilling out? And, to the person regarding the Holly bar

WHY IS IT that some of us in Holly Shores have to follow the rule of no homes brought in older than five years, when others are bringing ones in that were built in the early '80s? Why is it OK for some and not for all?

I HAVE ALREADY cast my absentee ballot for the upcoming Nov. 8 election. Paul Scott is doing everything he can to try to keep our votes from being counted. If Scott were truly a representative of the people, he would not be trying so hard to manipulate the election process.

I AM DISAPPOINTED but not surprised that the media is reporting that the Republicans in the Senate are blocking the president's jobs bill. First of all, raising taxes on individuals does not create jobs. Secondly, the Senate is led by Democrats who do not support raising taxes in an election year.

AT LEAST TWICE a week, I see people running the red light when turning left onto Adelaide from westbound North Road. When people get the green light to go straight, it does not turn into a blinking red. It's solid red. Stop running the light and wait for the arrow.

I WAS IN New York. The alleged protestors on Wall Street were almost entirely made up of young kids drinking, partying and having sex. What a joke for the media to label them as radicals or protestors. Don't believe everything you see and hear on TV. I was there.

Former Fenton mayor passes away

►Bottecelli dedicated life to family and community

By Sharon Stone

sstone@tctimes.com; 810-433-6786

Fenton — Former Fenton mayor Paul Bottecelli passed away Sunday, Oct. 9. He was 90 years old.

Bottecelli was a lifelong resident of Fenton and a 1939 graduate of Fenton High School. He was inducted into the Fenton Alumni Hall of Fame. He received his degree in pharmacy from Ferris State College and was a veteran of World War II serving in the U.S. Army.

He will be remembered for the time he served on Fenton City Council, as well as being mayor. In addition to serving the city, he served as chair of the board of directors at The State Bank and was a member of St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church, Fenton VFW, American Legion and Fenton Rotary.

Fenton Mayor Sue Osborn said Bottecelli was a wonderful man. "He was totally dedicated to the community and his family," she said. "He really did a lot for this community."

Osborn added that Bottecelli never wanted recognition for what he did. "Very rarely do you find people like that."

Bottecelli leaves behind a long list of family members and friends.

Funeral Mass will be celebrated at 11 a.m. on Monday, Oct. 17 at St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church in Fenton. Burial will take place in St. John Catholic Cemetery. Visitation will be held at Sharp Funeral Homes in Fenton Saturday and Sunday from 1-4 p.m. and 6-9 p.m. and at the church Monday from 10 a.m. until the time of Mass.

Paul Bottecelli

Letters to the Bottecelli family on Sharp Funeral Homes' website:

I remember so well going in to the Fenton Drug to have a chocolate or cherry Coke. Your Dad was such a quiet man and so very nice. I know many, many people remember your Dad and that must make you feel so proud. So very sorry for your loss.

— Karen and Bruce Walker

A memory I will never forget: Paul, Pat, Tracy and I were in a pizza parlor when someone started screaming that a young woman was choking. Paul got up, walked over and gave the woman the Heimlich maneuver, saving her life. Then he just as calmly walked back to the table and took a bite of his pizza. Uncle Paul always knew the right thing to do, always did it, and never sought adoration. He was adored, though, by everyone. I love you Paul.

Board eliminates code enforcer, building inspector positions

By Tim Jagielo

tjagiolo@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

Rose Twp. — Change is coming as to how building inspection and code enforcement will be handled in Rose Township. On Wednesday, the board of trustees voted to eliminate the position of code enforcer and building inspector. The board also adopted an official code for civil infractions.

It was a unanimous vote by the board to eliminate the positions, effectively laying off long-time employee David Schang, who held both roles and worked full time.

Supervisor Alison Kalcec said Shang's position was eliminated due to budget reasons. The board had been considering eliminating the position for a year, and it was the right time, she said.

The cost of employing Schang was around $68,000 according to Kalcec, which includes his $38,820 salary, retirement contributions and health insurance.

Schang has recently been the subject of controversy. Residents he ticketed for violations have gone to court, criticized his methods and questioned the legality of the tickets he had issued during public comment at board meetings. "He's not going to win any popularity contests," said Kalcec.

Schang said that most of the people he worked with appreciated his efforts. But he has had a strained and problematic relationship with some residents who he has cited. "I have to enforce the rules," he said. "If they don't like me, I don't care."

"We had practices that had been in place for more than 27 years that hadn't been questioned."

Alison Kalcec
Rose Township supervisor

Residents Tim and Terry Claus have been battling against violations on their property and believed they were unfairly ticketed by Schang.

Schang has been code enforcer and building inspector for around 30 years, and will remain in the position until Dec. 15. Afterward, he plans to eventually retire.

The board will meet in a work session before the next regular board meeting to discuss how to most efficiently fulfill the Schang's responsibilities to ensure a smooth transition.

In other business, the board of trustees adopted a revised Municipal Civil Infraction Policies and Procedures code, which will give code enforcers a specific set of rules to follow when working with residents. "We never had a policy," said Kalcec. "We had practices that had been in place for more than 27 years that hadn't been questioned."

The goal with the new code is to "pursue compliance rather than prosecution." It allows residents to have any issues placed on the township board agenda if they are given a warning notice of an infraction. They also have 30 days to take corrective action before being ticketed. "I think the policy is a good tool," said Kalcec. "The employee should always know what the expectation is, not a guess."

The board also decided that airplane flyovers to check out a residents property needs to be approved by the board. The building inspector will no longer have the power to issue citations.

RECALL

The recall against Scott will now go to the appellate court. It is unlikely that the appellate courts will make a ruling before the Nov. 8 election.

"Judge Canady's feeling is that the appellate court hearing will be after November," said legislative aid Nathalie Iden. "If Scott loses the appellate hearing, the recall will probably show up on a February ballot."

Genesee County has already spent $30,000 to $40,000 on ballots for the Nov. 8 election. Ballots were delivered to municipal clerks on Sept. 3, which, as of Thursday, included the Scott recall. Absentee Ballots have already been mailed and included the recall question.

For ballots of the voters in the 51st District, election workers will fill in both the "yes" and "no" on the Scott recall portion of the ballot. Precincts that had no other issues on the Nov. 8 ballot will not have to vote and the county will not print new ballots. Voters state rep.

"I'm looking to get back to work and move our state forward. I'm focused on doing the job I was elected to do."

Paul Scott

will be notified at the polls that Scott's recall will not be a part of the ballot.

The Michigan Education Association (MEA) is a driving force behind Scott's recall, citing changes in tenure, school funding and teachers' collective bargaining rights as influences for the recall effort. As chairperson of the House Education Committee, Scott has been a major influence in education reform in Michigan.

Despite the injunction, the MEA is still campaigning against lawmakers. According to reports, the MEA has spent $500,000 on statewide ads targeting Republicans. The MEA spent $25,000 in the 51st District on recall efforts against Scott.

"I'm happy that the democratic process fought for the will of the voters in my district, who voted overwhelmingly for me in the last election," Scott said. "The voter's voice was upheld in the courts Thursday."

Scott said that he isn't sure how much further the recall will go beyond the Nov. 8 election. For now, he is focusing on his job and not the recall.

"I'm looking to get back to work and move our state forward. I'm focused on doing the job I was elected to do."

The MEA did not return calls for comment prior to press time.

COUNCIL APPROVES SPECIAL ASSESSMENT DISTRICT FOR LINDEN MILLPOND WEED TREATMENT

Residents who live along the Linden Millpond are a step closer to having the pond treated for weeds. The Linden City Council approved a resolution on Monday to proceed with a special assessment for the purposes of weed control of the millpond. The resolution however does not ensure the millpond will be treated nor does it provide any financial determination. The resolution is an administrative start to access weed treatment. "This does not set anything up. No one is bound to anything," said City Manager Chris Wren. Wren said that he will compile a report that includes the proposed cost of the treatment and an assessment on all of the parcels. A map or drawing of the treatment route will also be included in the report. After the report, a meeting with millpond residents will be the next step in weed treatment. Further plans for the weed treatment will be announced at a future council meeting.

HOLLY DPW SUPERVISOR GETS A RAISE

Following a positive performance review, the Holly Village Council voted unanimously on Tuesday to give Holly Department of Public Works supervisor Brian Klaasen a 2-percent raise. His current salary is $63,483. The raise is effective retroactively, to Sept. 27. Village president Jeff Miller said Klaasen is worth more than the standard employee raise he was given, but a raise still isn't guaranteed annually because of a tight village budget.

SPEED LIMIT TO INCREASE ON SAGINAW STREET

The Holly Village Council has approved raising the speed limit on Saginaw Street, between Grange Hall and Airport roads, from 30 to 35 mph, pursuant to a Traffic Improvement Association recommendation. The change will be implemented soon, but there is no deadline for the change.

HALLOWEEN TRICK-OR-TREATING HOURS SET

Fenton City Council set trick-or-treating hours from 6 to 8 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 31 for little ones going out on Halloween.

CITY AWARDS BID TO M33 ACCESS

The Fenton City Council approved a request for a surge protection upgrade, made by Fenton Police Chief Rick Aro on Wednesday. The chief requested authorization to award the bid to M33 Access, based in Rose City, at a cost not to exceed $7,294.95. In conjunction with the 911 Dispatch system's upgrade, it was determined that it was necessary to upgrade tower grounding and surge suppression. The upgrade will provide the city's equipment with the protection necessary to prevent damage from lightning strikes and voltage surges. Aro said the consultant he recently hired, with city council's approval, has worked with M33 Access in the past and believed it was reputable and qualified to complete the project. M33 Access' bid was the lowest of four submitted.

Focus on Vision

By: Dr. Juan Alvarado

Eyes on Learning

Going back to school ramps up the visual demands on your child drastically. There are many visual tools kids need in order to learn effectively.

Multiple visual systems/tools are used in school that can break down and many are not obvious to the parent or teachers. The easy one to spot is poor visual acuity (if the kid can't see the chalk board, ding-ding-ding...there's a problem).

Other equally or more devastating visual problems that decrease a child's learning potential are visual fatigue and poor eye teaming/visual coordination to name a couple. Both drastically decrease reading (books, computer, chalkboard) and comprehension at all ages.

Insidious medical problems often are present as well that are hard to detect such as mild lazy eye or a small eye turn that only occurs during reading. The latter by the way is extremely hard to detect without an eye doctor specifically looking for it.

With most of these conditions the child is 100% unaware these problems are occurring.

Often I have seen kids that appear to have ADD or Dyslexia who simply need eye exercises or therapeutic lenses which improve concentration and visual organization.

Standard eye exams and screenings are not enough to effectively isolate vision learning problems and that's why we always perform many extra tests and employ very high tech equipment with each and every eye exam we perform.

1 Year Anniversary Celebration!

Goin' Postal is happy to announce their one year anniversary!

No way - you say. Has it been a year already? Yes, and what a year it has been! This past year they have added many services for their customers. On the shipping side, they added DHL for international needs and became an "approved shipper" for the post office.

As for their website, they have added a full line of office supplies. You can now order over 40,000 different items right from your home or business.

Do you need printing? Goin' Postal can print anything you need from business cards, fliers and banners to vehicle clings and trade show graphics.

Check out the printing website and ask

Owners Mike Clabuesch and Lucia Valeriano stand in front of their store located at 1421 N. Leroy St, Fenton.

DEFIBRILLATORS

AEDs do save lives and a charitable foundation, the Kimberly Anne Gillary Foundation (see sidebar), is doing everything it can to ensure that every high school in Michigan is equipped with an AED. The foundation has donated AEDs to high schools across the state and has several more donations pending.

According to their website, kimberlysgift.org, Linden and Lake Fenton high schools were recipients of the foundation's AED.

Davison High School also received one of Kimberly's donated AEDs. In 2007, a 17-year-old student collapsed outside of the school. Teachers quickly began CPR and used the donated AED, which saved the student's life.

Lake Fenton Superintendent Wayne Wright said three out of the four school buildings are equipped with an AED. The fourth building, West Shore Elementary School, is expected to have one soon. The district also has a portable AED that is used mostly by the athletic department.

In 2002, the Parent-Teacher-Student Association (PTSA) at Lake Fenton raised funds to purchase two AEDs and the district received one from Kimberly's foundation.

Wright said fortunately, they have not had to use any of the AEDs. Training has been provided and he believes the devices are pretty easy to run.

Dr. Timothy Jalkanen, superintendent of Fenton Area Public Schools, said all of Fenton's schools are equipped with an AED.

Fenton High School Principal Mark Suchowski said the high school has had AEDs for the past 11 years, thanks to the efforts of a couple of students who spearheaded a fundraising campaign to purchase the life-saving devices. One is located near the athletics wing and the other is located near the academics wing. Since the district already had the devices, they did not receive a donation from Kimberly's foundation.

Mitch Smelis, the athletic trainer at Fenton High School, said the AEDs have not been used. A total of 11 AEDs are available throughout the district's buildings.

Smelis and Mike Bakker, the athletic director, make sure that staff members are trained for such emergencies. "They (AED) won't work for every case, but they are an extra tool," he said. "They're user friendly."

Ed Koledo, superintendent of Linden Community Schools, said the middle and high schools are equipped with AEDs. Staff members, especially those involved with athletics have been trained to use them. The devices have not been used.

Steve Muenzer, a teacher at Lake Fenton Middle School, used to teach and coach at Fennville High School, the school where star high school basketball

The Center for Disease Control estimates 3,000 people between the age of 15-34 die of sudden cardiac arrest (SCA) each year.

AED
Automated External Defibrillator

School buildings and businesses that have an on-site automatic external defibrillator (AED) typically display this sticker, or one similar, on a prominent door or window so that people will know there is one available in the event of a medical emergency.

Stats

• Sudden cardiac arrest (SCA) occurs more than 700 times daily in the United States, resulting in approximately 250,000 deaths per year.

• The current survival rate for cardiac arrest is less than 5 percent.

• The cause of most cardiac arrests is an irregular heart rhythm (arrhythmia) called ventricular fibrillation.

• The normal pumping of blood no longer occurs once ventricular fibrillation begins.

• Death usually follows unless responders restore a normal heart rhythm by shocking the heart within 5-7 minutes.

• Sudden cardiac arrest can occur at any age.

• Recent statistics show an alarming number of sudden cardiac deaths among school aged children and young adults.

player Wes Leonard attended before he collapsed of cardiac arrest in March. Hearing of Leonard's death brought back memories of that close-knit community, which is much like the Lake Fenton community. Although an AED was used on Leonard while still in the gym, attempts to resuscitate him were unsuccessful.

AED packages, complete with defibrillator, carrying case, wall cabinet, wall sign, training manual, and battery packs range in price from $1,200 to $1,750 each.

What is an AED?

An AED is a device used to administer an electric shock through the chest wall to the heart. Built-in computers assess the patient's heart rhythm, judge whether defibrillation is needed and then administer the shock. Audible and/or visual prompts guide the user through the process.

WELL, NOW THERE someone who doesn't like wood smoke. Why don't you people mind your own business? I love the smell of burning wood and it makes a very cozy fire. Get off your high horse, and quit complaining. I can't believe the nosey people in Fenton.

IN REGARDS TO 'Sister Wives,' it just means that one guy has four times the trouble, and three bachelors get to live happily ever after.

HEY BONNIE, WHY don't you come over here to Torrey Beach Drive and see if you can manage to miss the mail boxes and all the potholes if there is another vehicle driving east-bound. Come on, why don't you call your buddies at the Genesee County Road Commission?

I WISH TO thank the thoughtful person who returned my cane that I inadvertently left in my shopping cart. They returned it to the store so that when I called, I could retrieve it. I just wanted to let everyone know that there are some kind and thoughtful people in this world. Thank you very much.

REALLY, YOU ARE running your AC and your neighbor is heating their house with a wood burning stove. Somehow, that just doesn't compute. Most people wouldn't be running their stove if it was warm enough to have the air conditioner on. It sounds to me like you are one of those people who are always looking for something to complain about.

I WAS JUST wondering if the Fenton Township board was holding a special meeting at the Moose on Sunday. Seems wrong to me.

TO ALL THE economic geniuses who believe that lower wages for working folks will solve all our current difficulties, lower wages means less spending power, which in turn will slow our consumer-driven economy even more. It also decreases tax revenues. How is that helpful?

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | TIM JAGIELO

The Historic Holly Hotel in Battle Alley is known for its unexplained sounds and visions, and is host to séances during the Halloween season.

HAUNTED

There are tales about Emery, the former hotel bartender, whose favorite drink was Jack Daniels (whiskey). This drink just happens to show up on a certain table in the bar area. But, when it is served, no one at the table has ordered it.

A cleaning woman, early one morning after the hotel had closed, was scared out of her wits when someone (no one was there) tapped her on the shoulder while she was vacuuming. Other staff members have been frightened when entering a storage area.

An artist from Pontiac once came to the hotel, sat in the dining room and sketched the ghosts he believed were trapped in the building.

The Historic Holly Hotel also has strange happenings, including the sound of a child crying, eerie noises and lights going on mysteriously.

The Old Fenton Grain Elevator is another building besieged with eerie occupants. When it was being renovated, doors slammed and strange sounds echoed through the structure.

A family lived in an old 1880s Fenton home on South Holly Road for many years without ghostly occurrences. However, when they moved to Grand Blanc to a home built in the '30s, it was a different story. Pictures on the walls began to tilt and keys disappeared, only to return a day or two later. One time, the missing keys were found outside in the mailbox. The television and stereo would sometimes go on "full blast" at about 3 a.m., awakening the household.

One day, birdseed was found on the floor in a perfect symmetrical cone shape. While the woman of the house was sorting clothing one day, wild birdseed fell from the clean laundry. The family didn't have a bird.

The piano in the music room would occasionally play unrecognizable tunes for about five minutes and stop. One day the china cabinet opened suddenly and a delicate crystal goblet fell to the floor undamaged.

Family members decided to always say "good morning" to the spirit.

"It doesn't hurt to be friendly," they said.

Both apparitions and strange happenings have occurred at another Shiawassee Avenue home. The heavy front door has flown open; things have mysteriously fallen off walls and a rocking chair in a bedroom rocked by itself.

The feeling of force pushing the owner down the staircase was experienced and drapes and sheers in the living room would whip out and strike those walking by, when there was no breeze or no window open.

A Baptist minister who lived there more than a century ago was seen in apparition form on the front steps one evening when a teenage neighbor boy was walking his dog across the street. The dog stopped dead in his tracks until the apparition disappeared.

CHICKEN

The grassroots organizations promote that being closer to fresh chickens results in fewer gallons of gas wasted on trips to the grocery store and buying a few fresh eggs from a neighbor epitomizes the theme of shopping local.

Malissa Bossardet and her daughter Olivia have come under the spotlight for their 10 pet chickens that they keep in a wooden chicken coop in their backyard. After a person walking by their home complained to city hall, the city looked in to the matter of backyard chickens. Though a complaint was lodged, the Bossardets' neighbors have been quiet.

Ruth Schultz, who lives on High Street, just around the corner, said, so far, the chickens being raised in Bossardet's backyard chicken coop have not bothered her.

Schultz and her husband Ray have lived in their home for 64 years. She said she heard that the chickens were against the city rules, but despite having a back bedroom near the chicken coop, she has not been bothered and she has not heard the rooster crow.

Bossardet was told that an existing city zoning ordinance says that the keeping of animals, not normally domesticated, including poultry, is prohibited.

City Manager Lynn Markland said the zoning ordinance prohibiting the Bossardets from raising chickens is Sec. 32-2.16 - Keeping of animals.

This ordinance states that the keeping of household pets, including dogs, cats, rabbits, fish, birds, hamsters and other

Summary

► Fenton City is researching whether a resident would be allowed to raise chickens in her home's backyard. The situation came to their attention after a resident, Malissa Bossardet and her daughter Olivia requested to keep their pet chickens that provide them with fresh eggs daily.

animals generally regarded as household pets is permitted as an accessory use in any residential district. However, no more than three dogs or cats, four months of age or older in any combination, nor more than a total of five animals, shall be kept or housed in or at one dwelling unit.

The ordinance also states that animals, not normally considered domesticated, including chickens, is prohibited in all zoning districts.

Although some people, including Bossardet cite the Michigan Right to Farm Act as a way to allow residents to raise chickens, Markland said this act does not apply here.

The MRFA was originally enacted to protect farmers after residential subdivisions were developed near existing farms. The act protected farmers when residents of the new subdivisions complained of noise and smells associated with the farms.

City attorney Steven Schultz said in this particular case, the Bossardets' property was never a farm, nor zoned agricultural. It has always been zoned residential. Because of this zoning, agricultural use in a residential district is not permitted and the MRFA does not apply. Since the MRFA does not apply, usage must comply with local ordinances.

Schultz said the city's existing zoning ordinance could be amended, however, it would have to go through the normal process, including public hearings. In the meantime, the attorney said Bossardet's raising of chickens is not in compliance with city ordinances.

Though her keeping of chickens is not in compliance, Schultz said no citations have been issued. He and city officials wanted to make sure everyone understood the issues before any action were taken.

medical marijuana. He believes the law may soon be overturned by the Michigan Supreme Court. "I recommend that the police continue as they have, arresting anyone possessing or smoking marijuana," he said. The city currently has a moratorium on medical marijuana dispensaries.

Linden police officers currently arrest anyone with the possession of marijuana, regardless if they have a medical marijuana card. McKone said that it is up to a judge to decide if a medical marijuana patient is legally clear to possess marijuana.

The Michigan Medical Marihuana Act was passed by 62 percent of voters in 2008. Since the passing of the law however, state officials and authorities have had difficulty defining and enforcing the law.

Another blow came to medical marijuana patient when the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (ATF) alerted firearm dealers and police that guns and ammunition cannot be sold to registered users of marijuana. Under federal law, guns are illegal to users of "marijuana or any depressant, stimulant, narcotic drug, or any other controlled substance."

The city of Fenton also has a moratorium on medical marijuana dispensaries. Fenton Police Chief Rick Aro said Fenton police do not have a sweeping policy with medical marijuana. Each scenario is taken by a case-to-case basis. "Arrests for marijuana depend upon how much marijuana a person has and if it's in a public setting," he said. "There are a lot of factors involved."

According to Aro, Fenton police have encountered a few residents who have their medical marijuana card but overall, arrests for marijuana have not increased.

Linden City Councilor Danielle Dixon asked about the potential liability to the city of Linden if Linden police arrest a legal medical marijuana user.

McKone said, to date, municipalities have not had to face liability issues for arrests. Those arrested are given a ticket of appearance to court, where counties decide enforcement and not local municipalities.

"If we just believed every card we saw, we wouldn't arrest anyone," McKone said. "Our position is to tell the courts what happened and it's up to the individual to defend themselves."

Phillips Hildner, a local attorney, said Linden's current method of dealing with medical marijuana users could hypothetically cause the city trouble.

"I would be very reluctant if I was a police officer and arrested someone with a medical marijuana card, or at least until the law is settled," Hildner said. "If there was a card presented, there could very well be a lawsuit for an incorrect arrest." Hildner said that an arrest for medical marijuana would probably result in a civil suit, which would end up using taxpayer money.

The council has not voted on whether to adopt a medical marijuana ordinance.

A ruling on the Michigan Medical Marihuana Act by the Michigan Supreme Court is likely in the near future.

"Our position is to tell the courts what happened and it's up to the individual to defend what happened."

DRUG OVERDOSE

While en route, police learned that Switzer was not breathing and showed no signs of life.

When officers arrived, they were met at the home by Switzer's parents.

The preliminary investigation leads investigators to believe that Switzer died as a result of a possible overdose, however, the conclusive cause of death is pending the medical examiner's review and completion of the police investigation.

The case remains open at this time.

Switzer was a student at Linden High School and his mother is an employee of the school district.

In response to the number of drug-related deaths this year, the community formed Community Parent, Inc. (CPI), a growing group of concerned residents, grieving families, elected officials, counselors, drug experts, law enforcement and teens.

CPI has been holding workshops since March to bring the topic to the forefront of everyone's minds and to provide as much education and guidance for families and friends who might have a loved one involved with drugs.

Tony Brown, a Fenton Township trustee

Other drug-related deaths in tri-county area

Pending the conclusion of the investigation, Switzer's death could be the fifth known drug overdose in the tri-county area of young people between the ages of 17 and 22 in 2011.

Briona Jawhari, 17, of Fenton Township died of a heroin overdose on Feb. 14. Briona's friend Erika Schlosser, 19, of Fenton died two days later, on Feb. 16, also from a heroin overdose. On March 5, Adam Harden, 22, of Tyrone Township died from an overdose and on April 3, Curtis Petry, of Grand Blanc died from an overdose.

and parent in the Lake Fenton school district, helped form CPI. He said, "As many drug-related deaths our area has had, just in 2011, speaks volumes about the prevalence of drug addiction in our area. "We cannot bury our heads in the sand and ignore this."

Brian Guyzik, of Linden, attended a CPI meeting held Wednesday. He said he was shocked of Switzer's death. He first heard about it through a text message and then read about it on Facebook. Guyzik said he and Switzer had many of the same classes. "He was one of the first friends that I had when I moved here," he said.

In the past year and a half, Guyzik has known six people who have died from drug overdoses. He described the overdoses as a "skyrocketing" problem that did not exist a couple of years ago. "It's been a hard year and a half for me," Guyzik said. "These deaths have affected everyone."

Brighton Hospital administrator Scott Masi, who also attended the CPI meeting, said that opiate use amongst 18 to 25 year olds is increasing. In the past year alone, he has seen 25 young people die from drug overdoses.

"In the last three months, I've seen a 71 percent increase in 18 to 25 year olds seeking treatment," Masi said. However, a high rate of 18 to 25-year-old patients leave treatment prematurely and are still addicted to opiates. "This is a very disruptive type of population."

CPI has expanded their efforts to Saginaw and Washtenaw County by working with similar anti-drug organizations. Community Parent, Inc. is also assisting with a town hall meeting in Holly about drug use. The meeting is scheduled for Nov. 1.

SUMMONS FOR PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF WISCONSIN To: CYNTHIA L. YOUNGQUIST
and THOMAS E. YOUNGQUIST

You are hereby notified that the plaintiff named above has filed a lawsuit or other legal action against you. The complaint, which is also served upon you, states
the nature and basis of the legal action.

Within 40 days after October 9, 2011, you must respond with a written answer, as that term is used in chapter 802 of the Wisconsin Statutes, to the complaint. The court may reject or disregard an answer that does not follow the requirements of the statutes. The answer must be sent or delivered to the court, whose address is Clerk of Circuit Court, Sauk
County Courthouse, 515 Oak Street, Baraboo, Wisconsin 53913-2416, and to
Daniel W. Stolper, Stafford Rosenbaum
LLP, plaintiff's attorney, whose address is 222 West Washington Avenue,
Suite 900, P.O. Box 1784, Madison, Wisconsin 53701 1784. You may have an attorney help or represent you.

If you do not provide a proper answer within 40 days, the court may grant judgment against you for the award of money or other legal action requested in the complaint, and you may lose your right to object to anything that is or may be incorrect in the complaint. A judgment may be enforced as provided by law. A judgment awarding money may become an lien against any real estate you own now or in the future, and may also be enforced by garnishment or seizure of property.

If you require the assistance of auxiliary aids or services because of a disability, call 608.355.3287 and ask for the Court ADA Coordinator.

BANK FEES

Right now, there is no fee for debit card purchases, but a flat $5 monthly fee will be phased in early next year. Reiss said customers will be charged the monthly fee if they use the debit card for in-store purchases. Then, there will be a $5 charge for the month. There will be no charge for customers who use the debit card for a cash withdrawal from a Bank of America ATM machine.

The reason? "The economics of offering a debit card has changed with recent regulations," she said.

The recent regulations stem from the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act. In this new law, larger banks, like Bank of America, will soon be restricted from charging merchants for debit card transactions. The $5 fee is to offset the cost of that transaction.

Chris Douglas, a professor of economics at the University of Michigan-Flint, said that before the new regulations were set in place, all banks and credit unions would charge businesses a small fee, a percentage of the sale price for every debit card transaction. The merchant paid the fee, and in turn, raised prices as needed. Douglas compared the fee to a small tax.

Reiss said people can choose to avoid the fees. They can use the ATM to extract cash at no charge, or use the card for purchases and pay the monthly fee. Certain account owners won't have to pay the fee, if they "bring more balances," more money in their accounts, or if they have mortgages or other accounts with the bank. She said it is too soon to predict what customers will do, but said Bank of America has been fielding questions about the new fees.

Chase Bank, another large national chain, is also affected by the Dodd-Frank Act. They are testing a $3 monthly debit card fee in select markets, not including Michigan. Spokesperson Mary Kay Bean said the monthly charge option is part of an ala carte account, where bank customers pick which products they want. She said the test is ongoing, with no plans to implement nationwide. Chase wants to see how customers react to the fee.

The largest local bank is The State Bank, existing only in Genesee County. The State Bank is small enough to be unaffected by the new banking regulations, so the cost of doing electronic debit is still paid in different ways, said Douglas.

The State Bank retail manager Stacey Webb said the bank has no plans to institute a debit charge fee. "We're a little smaller, than a Bank of America," said

Webb. "We're not considered a giant of the industry."

Any changes to fees or programs are tested for feedback from customers before being implemented. Webb said there are only fees associated with ancillary services, such as overdrafts.

With all the media coverage about the new fees proposed by Bank of America, Webb has received a few inquiries from customers. She said that the new fees may drive business to credit unions, which are believed to have fewer fees. She also said community banks such as The State Bank are in the same arena of customer service as a credit union.

Webb is a little concerned about The State Bank being associated with other banks that charge fees. "I think banks (like The State Bank) need to advertise they aren't implementing fees," she said.

Whether a monthly charge will become standard practice for the industry depends on what Bank of America's competitors do. They will either take a stance against the fees, drawing a line between them and Bank of America, or they will join them and also institute a fee. "It's hard to tell if there will be a backlash," said Douglas. "So the question is how can the competitors respond?"

Douglas compared the new charge to an airline baggage fee. "Either differentiate yourself, or follow suit," he said. The fee is too new to guess how it can affect the business. He said it depends on customer response. Will they accept the fees or punish the bank by taking business elsewhere?

Douglas said large banks, small banks and credit unions all have benefits and drawbacks. A smaller bank or credit union may offer more personalized service and no fees, but won't have ATMs everywhere.

"It's hard to tell if there will be a backlash. So the question is, how can the competitors respond?"

HOT LINE CONTINUED

WELL, OIL IS down $3 or $4 per barrel in the last few days, but good ole Fenton jacked the gas prices up 10 to 12 cents. Sure, I just can't wait to 'be closer.'

THE YOUNG PEOPLE around here are doing a lot more than just smoking cigarettes at the millpond.

I WAS SURPRISED to see all six people on Page 4 agree with dog licensing. Dog licensing is simply socialized pet ownership. We provide the funding that finances the animal control costs for the irresponsible people who don't care for their animals. As always, the government penalizes responsibility and rewards failure.

THE REASON WE have a council is so that they can make exceptions to ordinances that do not always best serve the circumstances. To deny a resident's request simply because 'it's a law' defeats the purpose of a council. Each case should be judged on its own merits. Are you listening, Fenton City Council?

LIKE MOST PEOPLE, the Hot lines are my favorite part of the newspaper. Thank you, Tri-County Times, for the letting the residents have a voice that can be heard.

SO, WE HAVE to have a dog license in order to prove they have had their vaccinations, but we can have children and never have to prove that they have had vaccinations. Typical government logic.

SCOTT JUST SPONSORED a bill to eliminate the outrageous benefits that Michigan legislators enjoy. He's the only one doing anything. And the teachers want to get rid of him? In the next election, I'm going to vote for whomever the MEA doesn't endorse.

Pumpkin carving 101

A few tools and lots of patience will yield best results

Summary

► Carving pumpkins is a fun, seasonal family tradition that families can enjoy before Halloween. Designs can range from simple Jack-o-Lantern faces to more intricate patterns, such as ghoulish or cartoon characters.

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

A carved Jack-o-Lantern is the most recognizable sign of Halloween, and part of the family fun of this spooky holiday is to make a tradition out of carving your own.

Don't be surprised if this year you see lots of Detroit Tiger-themed pumpkins, and maybe the Lions, too. But the most popular designs will still be ghoulish faces or cartoon characters, according to Doug St. Souver, culinary instructor and professional fruit/vegetable carver. He carves about 100 pumpkins each season for clients and corporations — and his own front porch.

The most important aspect of having a well-presented carved pumpkin for Halloween is not to carve it too early. "A carved pumpkin will last for about a

Q. My dishwasher has a foul odor at the end of cycle, any ideas?

A. Newer dishwashers rely on siphon along with the drain pump to drain water from the unit, and most of the drain hose's are hooked to the garbage disposal. Newer units require in the installation instructions that the drain hose be installed with a 21" rise loop, before going back down to the disposal or drain. This creates the siphon to assist the pump. If you left the siphon break in from your old dishwasher the drain water will not completely drain, and gravity will put the drain water back in the bottom causing odor. Also using a dishwasher cleaner once a month will help.

Warm up your home with seasonal decor

Use nature to your advantage

Follow nature's lead to adapt your decor to the changing seasons. Collect some leaves and branches as they begin to fall from the trees. Use these natural materials to create beautiful centerpieces, table settings and even wreaths. Arrange them in vases or glass canisters.

Frame it

Find fall-themed images by browsing the Web, tearing photos from a magazine or snapping shots of common areas in your neighborhood. Create vignettes on bookcases, bedside tables, countertops and desks.

Don't forget the produce aisle

Fall is all about nature, so bring as many natural elements into your home as possible -- and don't forget the groceries. Using produce items such as apples, pears, corn, squash, pumpkins, gourds and acorns is a great way to add some flavor to your space. Arrange these items in baskets, canisters and bowls, along with candles, branches and leaves. If you're going fresh, be sure to keep these items in high-traffic areas so you can monitor them for spoilage.

How to let young children help with chores without going crazy

You know the scene...you're busy cleaning when your young toddler comes over to "help." Perhaps you're sweeping the floor when your child helps by pushing your pile back around the floor. You might be baking cookies when your youngster chooses to help you by adding extra ingredients. When your time is limited, it's difficult to be patient. But stopping your child from helping may discourage future attempts.

Here are some ideas:

Give them their own space - if you're sweeping, give your child a small space they are responsible for. Later, you can go back over that area. If you're cooking, give a few "ingredients" to your youngster and see what they can cook up. By giving your child their own space, they won't get in your way.

Have them complete a different job - rather than hand the vacuum over to your three year (because they think they're old enough to handle it) you could hand them a rag and ask them to dust. Sure, you'll be dusting later, but for now, your child is busy while you focus on getting those carpets clean.

Purchase toy cleaning objects - some toys, like brooms or mops will only create a bigger mess. But if you want your child to find joy in doing "chores," a toy vacuum or lawn mower are great toys that won't create a bigger mess. Forts and tree houses can also be a place for your child to learn responsibility caring for their "homes." Learn to do your own serious cleaning when you're alone - if you don't mind showing your child how to properly do chores then let them take part in what you're doing. It's a good learning experience and really you can do your own cleaning anytime. If it's something that needs your complete attention, then choose a time when your children are occupied or sleeping. Stop what you're doing - in some cases, toddlers are simply interested in what you're doing. If they attempt to help, stop what you're doing, praise them for their work, and then wait until they tire of the chore. If you're no longer doing the chore, your child will soon wander on their way. Then, you can get back to what you were doing. Just be sure you praise your child for a job well done as they are working.

Give them some pointers - Show them the door and have them sweep their piles out of it. They may actually get some dirt outside and it gives them a direction in which to stay focused rather than pushing things everywhere.

Everything you need to know for a great paint job

A room looks wonderful with a fresh coat of paint. But if you have a "Love-Hate" relationship with painting, you'll want to read our tips on getting a great finished product. You might even enjoy the project as much as the finished product!

START OUT RIGHT

• You'll enjoy the job more if you get everything together at the start. Organize a tool station in the middle of the area you'll be working in. Gather together your paint, brushes, rollers, hammers, screwdrivers, plastic bags, plastic wrap, rags, paint can opener, and drop cloths.

PLAN A DAY FOR PREP

• Don't try to get everything done in one day. Use the day before painting day to gather furniture in the center of the room, patch cracks and holes.

CLEAR THE DECKS

• If you can, clear out all the furniture and accessories. Take everything off the walls. If you can't move everything out, place the furniture and lamps in the middle of the room and cover them with a good drop cloth.

REMOVE ALL HARDWARE

• It may seem easier to paint around door knobs or cabinet hinges, but unless you're a professional, very experienced painter, you're bound to get drips around. Remove all cabinet knobs and hinges, door knobs, light switch plates and outlet covers, and light fixtures. Place the pieces together in separate bags and clearly mark the contents and location (top left cabinet, bathroom door, etc) you took them from.

How to stop hardwood floors from squeaking

1 Moisture absorption causes wood to swell, and moisture loss causes wood to shrink. The noise in wood flooring is caused by two pieces of wood rubbing against one another. Because wood does not shrink or swell equally in all directions, creaking and squeaking noises occur.

2 Baby powder or talcum powder can minimize the squeaks. Sprinkle a generous layer of the talcum powder on the top of the floor, and sweep it with a broom back and forth so it gets into the cracks. When finished, the talcum powder should not be visible. Sweep up any excess talcum powder so the floor isn't slippery.

3 Keeping your home at a constant level of humidity will help minimize gapping. Control humidity levels by using a dehumidifier or humidifier. You may need to add portable units in some rooms. Add moisture to the air during dry periods by opening the dishwasher after a rinse cycle.

Fall's color classic outscored the football game

Duty called me from the couch where I was watching a college football game, one of my favorite pastimes. We were planning to leave on a trip to New York early the next week, so our lawn had to be raked and mowed on Saturday, college football's game day.

One of the teams in the game I had started watching was a top contender for the national championship, increasing the temptation to leave the leaves to themselves. After all, this game might determine which team would ultimately be crowned number one.

There were also a number of other good reasons why the call of the couch contended with the call of duty. This had been an extremely busy week as well as a very taxing day. I had risen at 5 a.m. for an early morning appointment and could make a convincing case for spending the afternoon relaxing. Still, I somehow mustered the ambition and strength to pass up the pleasure of watching the game and headed, rake in hand, for our front lawn.

Once at work, I was surprised at how quickly my attention turned from football to the natural beauty of that sunny October afternoon. Above me was a canopy of green, red, yellow and brown leaves, some appearing as alive as when they had been called from their buds by warm spring breezes, while others were at various stages of ending their cycles of life. A few were floating multicolored and crinkled to the ground. The melancholy, yet exhilarating, feeling of fall was in the air and soon I found myself captured by the autumn glory around me, even feeling grateful to be raking my lawn instead of watching the football game.

What brought about this change of attitude? Involvement. A few moments earlier, I had been a spectator. Now, I was a participant.

My day became more meaningful because I was now profitably engaged in doing something rather than just watching others perform.

Like most couch quarterbacks, I would probably have been able to find some weaknesses in the coaching or execution of the teams, had I watched the game. But working there in the middle of this photographer's dream I could find no fault with how God was developing his annual portrait of splendor. Instead, the wonder of the moment caused me to identify with the Psalmist when he exclaimed, 'The heavens declare the glory of God' (Psalms 19:1)! Fall's colorama was doing the same for me.

Since that Saturday when I decided to leave the football game to work in my yard, I've thought about the importance of involvement in another beautiful part of God's creation — His church.

Many churches are hindered by Sunday afternoon quarterbacks — members who are critics of sermons and songs but who never really get involved in the mission of the church. These gripers gather in little groups to grumble about what's being done but seldom do anything constructive themselves. They're living proof that it's always easier to be part of the faction than to get into the action.

Those who conquer the spectator syndrome by telling others of God's love and sharing what He means to them demonstrates who's number one in their lives. And they'll be crowned winners when they leave.

Chamber seeks nominations for Holly Family of the Year

The Holly Chamber of Commerce is seeking nominations for family, or individual, of the year. This person or family must live within Holly Village or township, and give back to the community through volunteer work, and work to make the community a better place. The award will be presented at the Holly Holiday Extravaganza on Nov. 4. The family or individual of the year will be grand marshal of the Dickens Festival Parade, and preside at the tree-lighting ceremony at the parade. Required for submission are: names of the individual of family being nominated, their address and phone number, and the address and phone number for the person offering the nomination. They must also explain in fewer than 150 words why they deserve to be family of the year. Nominations must be submitted by Friday, Oct. 21 and can be mailed to Holly Family of the Year, P.O. Box 214, Holly MI 48442 or dropped off at Elements Day Spa, Winglemire Furniture, or The State Bank of Holly. The winner will be notified by Friday, Oct. 28.

Caravan's Hallmark celebrates 15 years

"Life is a special occasion," and now it is Caravan's Hallmark Shop's turn to celebrate its own milestone 15th year in business.

Caravan's Hallmark Shop opened its doors on Silver Parkway in September 1996. Owner Judy Achey recalls that "collectibles" were a huge part of their business back then. "Department 56 is still popular, and now we carry the simple, and meaningful Willow Tree sculptured figurines," she said.

Helping her operate the store are store manager Judy Fuller, and Mary Estep, Hallmark manager, and several other employees.

In today's marketplace, thoughtful gifts that are meaningful to both the giver and the recipient are what set Caravan's Hallmark apart from other greeting card stores. "Whatever is important to you, we have a gift that will celebrate it," said Achey.

New this year, are T-shirts, sweat-shirts, picture frames, mugs and coasters that celebrate local lakes. Another popular gift is a Christmas ornament that pictures the Fenton Gazebo.

October is the month that Hallmark debuts another 100 Christmas ornaments, gearing up for the holidays. The store's Christmas Open House will be Nov. 4-6, with lots of Hallmark promotions, including great deals on boxed cards.

Summary

Also popular at Caravan's Hallmark are memorial gifts. Thoughtful gift givers can help families remember a loved one with picture frames, crosses, angels, stepping stones, cards and more.

Greeting cards continue to add new dimensions and convenience — from sound and music to postage paid cards. "Hallmark is the largest greeting card company in the world and always is coming out with something new," said Estep.

Caravan's Hallmark sells a texting dictionary and Passwords Book, both of which are in high demand. "These would make great Christmas gifts," said Achey.

"Our 99-cent cards continue to be popular, and are an excellent value for people who like to send a lot of cards," said Achey.

Caravan's Hallmark Shop is open seven days a week, Monday through Saturday, from 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Sunday, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday hours will be extended to 6 p.m. between Thanksgiving and Christmas. For more information, call the store at (810) 629-4212.

Northern Window strives to market Michigan products, services

No job is too big or small for Northern Window, LLC & Doors Too in Fenton. "We're a family owned and operated Michigan company," said owner Steve Bailey. "When you walk in our door, you're dealing with the owners of the business, including my wife, Beth, who handles all of our administrative work."

Also on staff is Matt Giddings, service manager, and an installation crew of three, which works exclusively for Northern Window.

Bailey's particular niche is historic building renovations, having recently been involved with the downtown Detroit revitalization of the LaVogue Building in historic Palmer Park. "We installed about 1,000 windows in this project," said Bailey. "We are also lead-certified, following the EPA's guidelines on lead testing and disposal."

Whether the job is large or small, Bailey gives his full attention to the needs of each customer. "I'm passionate about what I do," said Bailey. "We won't oversell a customer, or give him something he doesn't need or want. We give each customer the 'nuts and bolts' of pricing and installation in an honest and forthright manner."

Northern Window is pleased to offer many Michigan products in its lines of windows and doors. "We sell Perma-Door, which is made in West Branch, as well as Milgard, also a Michigan company," said Bailey. Supporting our local business community is important to us."

They also carry Jeld-Wyn window products, the largest window company in the world, as well as Therma-Tru products, and handle sets by Schlage and Westlock. "Our commercial windows are by Crystal Systems, LTD," added Bailey.

Northern Window also stands out with its free delivery, pre-drywall inspections and screen install and adjustments after the project is completed, with screens stored off the project site to keep them clean during the window installation process. "In addition, we offer lifetime warranties on most of our products," said Bailey.

Northern Window is part of the Green Building Initiative, caring for the environment by properly recycling and disposing of products.

ASK THE MECHANIC

Chris Wilkinson,
Certified Mechanic

Q: What should I do to make sure my car is ready for winter?

A: This is a very good question this time of year, and the answer is you should first have the strength and condition of your engine coolant checked, the other items are belts, hoses, fuel, air and cabin air filters, tune up components (plugs wires, distributor cap and rotor, pvc valve) also you should have the battery starting and charging system tested as well as all battery connections cleaned, next is check the tire tread and pressures, do not forget to check the air in the spare tire it gets overlooked a lot, check the condition of the wiper blades and the strength of the washer solvent, summer washer solvent is sometimes not sufficient enough for winter driving, one more thing to check is that your heater is giving off good heat now rather than when it is cold enough to need it, also make sure your blower comes out on the defrost mode as some cars tend to stick after not using them all summer, last but not least lube you door locks periodically and carry some lock deicer just in case of freezing rain.

ENGAGEMENTS

IAN AND JEN ARE GETTING MARRIED!

Ian Rosa of Fenton and Jennifer Dupuis of Montreal, Quebec announced their intent to be married. Their wedding will take place on Nov. 12, 2011 at the River Birch Lodge in Hartland, with Reverend Joshua Hoover officiating.

They currently reside in Two Harbors, Minnesota and they both work with Soltreks, a therapeutic wilderness program for teens and young adults.

Jen is a graduate of Dalhousie University in Halifax, Nova Scotia and Ian is a graduate of Central Michigan University.

Jen is the daughter of Maureen Stafford of Rosemère, Quebec, Canada and the sister of Melanie Dupuis of Montreal. Ian is the son of Amy Freeman-Rosa of Fenton and Brian Rosa of North Carolina. He is the brother of Megan Rosa.

We are rejoicing in love and all its possibilities as we celebrate the engagement and upcoming marriage of Jen and Ian.

ADAMS-LANGLEY

The engagement of Elise M. Adams to James D. Langley has been announced by her parents, Jeff and Lorri Adams of Fenton. He is the son of Mark Langley, Sr. of Holly. The bride-elect graduated from Fenton High School in 2002 and earned a nursing degree from University of Michigan-Flint in 2007. She is employed with the University of Michigan Children's Hospital as a pediatric nurse. Her fiancé is a 2002 graduate of Holly High School, and is employed by RAC, Inc. An Oct. 21, 2011 wedding is planned at Cobblestone Farms in Ann Arbor.

ANNIVERSARY

CRONK

Gale and Gayle Cronk celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Sept. 29. They were married at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Flint. Gale retired from Flint Metal Fabrication in 1980 after 32 years of service. He is owner, along with his son Kelly, of the Flint Junior Generals Hockey Club out of the Iceland Arena. The couple has three children, Thomas (Sue), Kelly (Lisa), and Robin (Dan) Jewell. They have seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Catch OF THE WEEK

The Tri-County Times wants to give our readers the chance to show off the trophies they catch this season. If you have a fish worth showing off, snap a photo and bring it in or mail it to the Times office.

Joey Chandler, of Mio, caught this 18½-pound, 33-inch, channel catfish on Sept. 5 at Mio Pond. She caught another one an hour later, just as big.

ROSE TOWNSHIP ORDINANCE NUMBER 162 PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE ROSE TOWNSHIP CODE OF ORDINANCES CHAPTER 2, ADMINISTRATION ARTICLE III, OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

THE TOWNSHIP OF ROSE ORDAINS:

Article III, Chapter 2, Section 2-69 "Other Benefits," Subsections 2-69(c) (d) of the Rose Township Code of Ordinances are hereby amended to read as follows:

(c) Full time employees or elected official assuming office on or before November 19, 2000, who have served the township for a period of 16 years or more, as an elected official, an eligible employee, or both, shall upon retirement from service to the township and having attained the age of 65 years, be entitled to receive, as secondary coverage at township expense, benefits provided under the contract covering health, hospitalization, dental, and/or medical and surgical service insurance arranged by the township, or payment in lieu of benefits effective on the first day of each fiscal year at an amount to be determined by the township board. The township's contribution to health care insurance premium shall be limited to the cost of a single person. Qualified individuals who retire prior to age 65 years may elect to continue insurance coverage under the township plan at their own expense.

(d) A full time employee, or an elected official assuming office on or after November 20, 2000, shall not be, upon retirement, entitled to receive payment in lieu of benefits, health, hospitalization, dental, and/or medical and surgical service insurance arranged by the township.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This ordinance shall become effective immediately upon publication.

ADOPTION

Apple RECIPES

Maple Ginger Sweet Potatoes with Apples

- 1 1/2 lbs. sweet potatoes, peeled & cut into bite-sized pieces (about 5 cups)
- 2 medium tart cooking apples, chopped (2 cups) (Michigan McIntosh, Paula Red or Rome)
- 1/4 c. dried cranberries
- 1 1/2 t. grated fresh ginger
- 1/2 t. salt
- 1/8 t. pepper
- 1/2 t. cinnamon
- 1/4 t. nutmeg
- 1/2 c. water
- 1/4 c. maple syrup or maple-flavor syrup

In a slow cooker, combine all but water and syrup. Mix the syrup with the water and pour over everything in the cooker. Cover and cook on low setting for 3-4 hours or on high for 1 1/2 hours. Conventional oven: Cover and bake at 325 degrees.

Are strays a threat to housecats?

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: We have several apparently stray cats that can be seen wandering the neighborhood in the early morning and at night. I'm not sure where they came from, but there is a large stand of pine trees and scrub behind our subdivision. I'm afraid to let my cats out even during the day, as I worry they could come in contact with or be attacked by one of these strays. What can I do?

-- Gary in Tampa

DEAR GARY: Contact your local animal-control office about the stray cats. They may be a colony of feral cats -- cats that have lived their entire lives apart from humans. If so, they most likely can't be socialized.

This is an ongoing problem in Florida, particularly, as feral cat colonies grow in suburban areas. And yes, it makes going outside somewhat dangerous for your housecats. If possible, keep them indoors at all times. If you have a screened enclosure, they can hang out there, as long as the screen has no holes that would allow them to escape.

Keep your cats' immunizations up to date, as diseases like FIV (feline immunodeficiency virus) and rabies are common among feral cat populations. If one of your cats is attacked or you see it in contact with a feral cat, take your cat straight to the vet.

Now, it is possible that animal control will not trap the cats wandering your neighborhood. Or, they may catch them, yet you'll see more cats turn up. What some animal welfare groups are doing -- since shelters are full already -- is trapping the cats, having them spayed or neutered and given immunizations, and then releasing them back to their colony. The hope is that fewer breeding cats will reduce the feral population.

Mom left holding the bag at the bus stop

DEAR AMY: Every morning I walk my youngest child to the bus stop near our house and wait for five minutes until the bus comes. I have done this with various children for 10 years.

For the last two years I have been the only adult down there with my own child and two neighbor children. These kids do not listen to me when I tell them to do or not do things.

Last winter they threw snowballs at cars and climbed on top of dangerously high snowbanks right at the road's edge.

One child is on his own in the morning as his dad has left for work about 20 minutes before the bus's scheduled arrival. The other child's mother is home but chooses not to accompany her to the stop.

There is a lot of roadwork in the area, and today the foreman spoke to me about keeping the kids off of the equipment. I told him that I have asked these children several times to stay off of the equipment, but they don't listen.

I then pointed the foreman to their homes and told him the parents' names so that he could contact them.

My question to you is, am I responsible for these kids by default because I'm the only adult there? How is it fair that by being a responsible parent I'm the one in the hot seat? I'm thinking of driving my child to school.

— Ignored Mom

DEAR IGNORED: If you are a responsible adult in the company of children who don't have the character or cognitive capacity to make safe choices, then yes -- you should be responsible for trying to keep them safe.

It's not fair, but then, to think of this as an issue of fairness puts you in the league with the children you can't seem to control.

It's not fair. You're the adult. Now act like one. That means that you don't ask these kids to stay off construction equipment -- you tell them (the foreman also could have ended this quickly by barking at the kids).

You don't mention reaching out to their parents to share your alarm at this bus stop behavior.

I agree that it is very dangerous to climb on snowbanks along a busy roadway. All it takes is one slip for a child to wind up in traffic.

You should call both parents, let them know their kids are out of control and that you aren't able to keep them safe because they won't listen to you.

DEAR AMY: My daughter has been dating her college boyfriend, "Brad," for a year. They are fairly serious about each other and are both 21. My wife and I like him. He is quiet, unassuming and devoted to our daughter.

The issue we have is that he never says thank you for anything -- a nice meal my wife fixes, or if we treat them to a restaurant meal. He also never offers to lend a hand with clearing the table, washing the dishes, etc.

I feel I need to say something to him but I don't know how to broach the subject. My wife feels there are more positives than negatives and says I should just let it go.

We have mentioned it subtly to our daughter, but she hasn't said anything to him about it.

— Polite Pop

DEAR POP: You have a great opportunity here to demonstrate pro-social behavior to someone who may be too shy or disadvantaged to step up.

After a home-cooked meal, you can prompt this politeness by saying, "Hey 'Brad,' let's you and I help out by clearing the table and getting the coffee started. And (turning to your wife), honey? That meal was amazing. Thank you."

He'll nod, stammer, and say, "Oh, yeah -- thank you." Consider this a start.

PAUL G. DONOHUE, M.D.

To your good health

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What gives? When I was a kid, I had asthma. Then it went away completely. Now, at age 37, it's come back. As a child, I took only one medicine, and did well. Now I have a number of medicines and inhalers, and I'm confused. Will you simplify asthma for me? It isn't the same as it used to be. Do you think I have developed allergies that brought it back? -- H.F.

ANSWER: In the more developed countries of the world, around 15 percent of children and 12 percent of adults suffer from asthma. Asthma resolves for many children as they reach adolescence, but it can come back. Adults also can develop asthma for the first time. It's not strictly a childhood problem.

Cough, wheezing and shortness of breath are the signs of an asthma attack. Asthma comes in attacks separated by periods when the asthmatic is well. The goal of treatment is to extend the well periods and shorten any attacks, something that wasn't all that possible when you had only one medicine as a child.

The basis of an attack is constriction of the breathing tubes, the airways, the bronchi. Along with narrowed airways, inflammation strikes them, and they fill with thick mucus. The combination makes it difficult to get air into and out of the lungs. Exhaling is particularly difficult.

Triggers for asthma attacks include cold air, exercise, viral infections like the common cold and allergens. If your doctor believes that allergens are leading to your asthma attacks, then testing for them is worthwhile. For many, allergy doesn't lead to bouts of asthma.

Exercise as a trigger needs some clarification. Everyone gets short of breath when exercising, but recovery is quick, within five minutes. Breathlessness brought on by an exercise-induced asthma attack lasts much longer, 30 to 60 minutes.

An attack of asthma often can be stopped in its tracks with an inhaler medicine like albuterol (Ventolin and Proventil). For longer control, cortisone inhalers or inhalers containing cortisone and a long-acting drug that expands airways keeps a person attack-free. Advair is an example.

Dr. Donohue regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but he will incorporate them in his column whenever possible. Readers may write him or request an order form of available health newsletters at P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475.

PUMPKIN CARVING

week to 10 days, depending on the weather,” said St. Souver. “If you use a ‘skin relief and layer’ technique, that only takes the outer skin off, then you can carve it now, but don’t break into the pumpkin until you want it out for display about a week before Halloween. Just carving the outer skin will slow down the bacterial growth, which is what causes the pumpkin to decompose.”

To best preserve a pumpkin that has been carved, St. Souver suggests bringing it in at night and covering it with wet towels, then tying it in a garbage bag and putting it in the refrigerator. “It’s important for pumpkins to keep a consistent temperature,” he said.

Pumpkin-carvers can choose a traditional Jack-o-Lantern design, or opt for more creative, personalized carvings. Before buying your pumpkins, decide what designs you will be carving into them so you’ll at least have a mental idea of the shapes and sizes of pumpkins you’ll need — tall or narrow, or more rounded, depending on your ideas.

Select pumpkins that are uniformly orange and have no bruises, cuts or nicks. If you will be using a stencil to carve your pumpkin, select one that is large enough and as close to the same shape as the pattern you’re going to carve. It should be as smooth as possible, and free of scratches, dents or gouges.

When you select your pumpkin, don’t carry it by its stem because it may break. Once you get it home, gather your supplies.

For a traditional Jack-o-Lantern carving, you’ll need newspapers, a small, sharp knife, and an ice cream scoop with a lever for easy seeds/membrane removal and a large bowl to put them in.

For simple Jack-o-Lantern designs, draw an outline of a face on a plain sheet of white paper, using simple bold features. Tape the paper to the pumpkin where you want the face to be. Score the design onto the pumpkin by punching through the paper into the pumpkin with a large nail or pin. Carefully cut out the design following the holes that were “punched” with your plastic knife. When you are finished cutting, simply push out the pieces to view the results.

Designs that are more complex will require the use of a template from one of the many pumpkin carving websites now

DID YOU KNOW ?

Pumpkins are not a vegetable. It is a fruit. Pumpkins, like gourds, and other varieties of squash are all members of the Cucurbitaceae family, which also includes cucumbers, zucchini, and melons.

available, including www.pumpkin-carving.com, www.pumpkin-carving.com, among many others. St. Souver uses duct tape to hold the square transparency paper onto the round surface of the pumpkin. He does the intricate carving with a very small knife, keeping the knife at an angle to remove the skin, when doing “relief” work on the pumpkin. After finishing the exterior carving of the pumpkin, he cleans the “innards” out, saving the pumpkin seeds for a tasty autumn treat.

St. Souver uses the light in a pumpkin to add more spookiness or character to the design. His motto is safety first, using lights with the lowest heat, so his choice is usually battery-operated halogen lights, using four or six AA batteries, or LED lighting, if using electricity. He plans to put his carved pumpkins out at home on the Monday before Halloween, exactly a week ahead of the holiday. Because carved pumpkins are so perishable, he’ll be doing most of his pumpkin orders in a short window of time. “I’ll be carving pumpkins into the wee hours of the morning,” he said.

Why is a carved pumpkin called a Jack-o-Lantern?

The British can claim ownership of the original use of the phrase “jack-o’-lantern.” In the 17th century, it referred to a night watchman, a man who literally carried a lantern. But it was also a nickname for strange, flickering lights seen at night over wetlands, or peat bogs, and mistaken to be fairies or ghosts. This natural phenomenon is also called ignis fatuus, which means “fool’s fire,” and will o’ the wisp. Eventually what was called a “turnip lantern” became known as a jack-o’-lantern. Young boys used these hollowed-out and lit-up gourds to spook people. Irish immigrants brought the jack-o’-lantern custom to North America, which is where pumpkins were first used to make the Halloween decorations.

Linden volleyball continues strong Metro League season, beats Brandon

By Al Zipsie

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Ortonville — With one match left in the Metro League season, the Linden volleyball is having one of its best years. The Eagles are 6-1 in the league tied with Lapeer West for second.

The Lady Eagles won in three sets 25-23, 25-6, 25-22 against Brandon, Thursday, putting them in second place.

Linden (20-11-3 overall), have won six straight matches in the league. The Eagles close league play by hosting Lapeer East on Tuesday. If the Eagles win and the Fenton Tigers, who play Swartz Creek at home on Tuesday as well, lose, they will be co-Metro champs. However, Fenton enters that match a heavy favorite.

"We only have the one loss in the first game of the year to Fenton. Since then we have not lost," said Linden coach Cori Mason. "Maybe we can get a favor from Swartz

Creek, and if they knock off Fenton we tie for first. It may seem like a lot to ask, but it can be a weird game sometimes. Anybody can beat anybody on that given night.

"If Fenton wins, we still have a chance for a great second-place finish with a win ourselves. The girls have fought every step of the way the last few years to get to this point. I don't think Linden has ever won a (Metro) championship."

Three seniors led Linden's effort against Brandon. Jordan Sargent led with 33 assists, 11 digs and six kills. Sabrina Kinney had 12 kills, while Mary Starrs had 23 digs.

"Sabrina has started all four years and Jordan Sargent has started for me now for the third year," said Mason. "Their leadership has really helped this team get to this point."

"After all these years to see it come together and be so high up (in the Metro), I am so proud of us," Kinney said. "Last year we started to turn the corner with a lot of players returning. We have blended together strong as a team and a family."

The opening match was deadlocked at See VOLLEYBALL on 15B

SPORTS TRIVIA

Q How many times has the Michigan vs. Michigan State football game ended in a tie?

A It has happened twice. In 1958, the teams battled to a 12-12 tie. In 1963, the squads fought to a 7-7 deadlock.

Rams sneak past Lake Fenton for GAC Red title

By Al Zipsie

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Montrose — The Blue Devils had a chance to be co-champions with Montrose in the Genesee Area Conference Red Division, but, the unbeaten Rams came out of the game with the outright title in a 28-19 victory.

The loss ends the Blue Devils' conference title hopes, but it doesn't diminish their playoff hopes. All Lake Fenton (4-2, 5-3) needs to do to qualify for the state playoffs is beat a winless Bridgeport team on the road on Friday. Six wins automatically clinches teams a playoff bid.

"We have a winnable game (against Bridgeport), but we have got to play well," said Lake Fenton coach Eric Doyle. "We made too many mistakes (tonight), and you can't do that with teams that good."

"I am proud of the kids. We could have rolled over early but didn't. We are smaller and (Montrose) has a heck of a running game with some big guys."

Montrose took the opening kickoff and chewed up over seven minutes with a 65-yard, 16-play drive. Nick Huckaby had a quarterback keeper, hitting paydirt from a yard out for the TD with 5:07 left. The Rams held the Blue Devils' offense and then struck again for a 14-0 lead. Huckaby hooked up with Aaron Adams for a 59-yard touchdown reception and a 14-0 Montrose lead.

Lake Fenton had two big runs from Bryce Frownfelter to set up a 19-yard TD pass. Lance Hasenfratz found Robbie Kesler in the end zone with 36 seconds left in the first quarter.

Montrose responded by marching 80 yards and scoring with seven seconds left before halftime, taking a 21-7 lead. Huckaby capped it off with another one yard run.

But, the Blue Devils didn't fold. Hasenfratz found Zac Zielenski, who took it the rest of the way for a 76-yard score. The PAT kick was blocked and LF trailed 21-13.

After a stop on defense, Hasenfratz broke a 20-yard run, setting up a Kesler 19-yard TD run. A two-point conversion pass failed and Lake Fenton trailed 21-19.

Montrose answered the score. The Rams drove 80 yards, with Huckaby scoring on an 11-yard run with just 2:06 left in the contest.

Fenton, Holly, Linden all earn Friday wins

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Fenton — The Fenton varsity football team proved why the kicking games are called special teams on Friday.

The Tiger special teams were, indeed, special against Kearsley.

The Tigers (5-2, 6-2) had a punt return for a touchdown, a blocked kick for a touchdown had two Kenny Allen punts downed inside the 5 and did a strong job on kickoff coverage, resulting in a 35-6 playoff-clinching victory at home against the Hornets.

"It means a lot," Fenton senior Joe DeLaVergne said about qualifying for the playoffs. "It's what we've been working for this whole year. Four straight years — my freshman year I came up and basically practiced with the team for Davison. There's nothing like that feeling coming out. The regular season is great, but when the playoffs begin, everything changes. It's like the start of a second season."

The Tigers showed how special their kick squads were immediately, when Allen booted the opening kickoff into the endzone for a touchback. Seven plays later, the Tigers blocked a kick and Brennen Clark recovered the ball, scampering about 20 yards for the TD. Allen made the first of his four extra points and the Tigers led 7-0 with 8:11 remaining in the opening quarter. Matt Renahan made Fenton's other PAT kick.

A second score was set up by an Allen punt that was downed at the Kearsley 1. Just three plays later, Fenton's Damon Thomas intercepted a ball, returning it to the Kearsley 10. Three plays later, Trent Grimes scored on an option play seven-yard run. Fenton led 14-0 with 2:26 left in the first quarter.

Later, it was the special teams that pretty much iced the contest with 1:50 left in the opening half. Kearsley punted and Kearsley transfer Mitch Shegos, fumbled the ball, picked it up and returned it 50 yards for a TD. Fenton led 28-0. On the next play from scrimmage, Kearsley fumbled with Clarke recovering that fumble at the Hornets' 28. Just two plays later, Houston Shaw faked a pitch and ran up the middle for a 35-0 lead with 48.2 seconds still remaining in the first half.

Fenton's only long drive TD came in between the second and fourth scores. Shaw used a Connor Davidson block downfield to score a 33-yard TD. The Tigers took just three plays to go 70 yards during that drive.

The win puts the Tigers in the playoffs for the fourth straight season. It also means a win on Friday at Swartz Creek would assure the Tigers at least a share of the Metro League title.

The defense was solid all night long, posting at least nine plays for negative yards, led by DeLaVergne's and Peter Cox's three tackles for loss. Thomas had an interception and broke up two pass plays as well.

The offense didn't get much of a chance to produce a lot of yards, but Shaw still managed two TDs and 96 rushing yards on six carries. Fenton ran the ball for 150 yards. The second string played the second half, a half that was played a good chunk under a continuous clock.

Holly 37, Lansing Waverly 25

The Broncos' Johnny Williams ran for 102 yards and two scores and threw for 101 yards and two scores, leading the Broncos to their sixth win and an automatic bid to the state playoffs for the second straight year.

Patrick O'Connor also had a big game, running for 150 yards, including a 78-yard TD scamper.

Williams had TD runs of 2 and 62 yards. He completed TD passes of 57 yards to Shawn Scott and one of five yards to Lance Hopkin. Blake Oridway made a 32-yard field goal and also converted four extra points.

Defensively, Alan Strode broke the school record for career sacks, collecting two in the contest, earning him 19 for his career. He also had 15 tackles. Scott also chipped in 10 tackles.

Holly (5-2, 6-2) plays at Brandon on Friday, with a victory earning the Broncos at least a co-Metro League championship.

Linden 28, Brandon 6

The Eagles (5-2, 5-3) kept their automatic playoff hopes and their Metro League championship dreams alive by earning the road conference victory against the Blackhawks. Linden must beat Lapeer East at home on Friday to earn a share of both.

The biggest play of the game for Linden was a 98-yard TD pass from Travis Marsh to Kevin Baker.

No other information was available about this contest at press time.

Holly's Nick Stoll (left) has gotten used to battling players like Fenton's Ryan Hickoff over the last few years. Next fall he'll be banging bodies at the Division 2 collegiate level when he plays basketball for Michigan Tech.

Stoll verbally commits to play basketball at Michigan Tech

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Holly — Nick Stoll admits Michigan Tech wasn't the first school he was thinking about when it came to continuing his basketball career.

But that pretty much changed with a visit to Michigan Tech's campus about a week ago. Now, Stoll, a Holly senior on the Bronchos' varsity boys basketball team, is going to join the Huskies.

And in the process, Stoll will become the first Holly basketball player to play at the Division 2 level in recent memory. He verbally committed to Michigan Tech early last week.

"I liked the campus. It is really pretty, and I liked how they are an engineering school," Stoll said. "The offer was too good to pass up. And I saw myself fitting in at Michigan Tech."

Stoll, at about 6-foot-6, has the size to play strong in the paint, but also can stroke shots outside the arc. He's a solid rebounder and broke the school record for most blocks in a season last year.

"It's a great fit for him," Holly coach Lance Baylis said. "It's a high academic school. Nick loves math and science and that's what the school is all about. It's a great engineering school. They really allowed him the opportunity to see what the school is about inside and out. He spent time with the players and coaches, went to a football and a hockey game. He saw their strength and conditioning program. He saw everything top to bottom and came out with a smile on his face. He knew it was the place for him."

Stoll has been thinking about playing at the next level for awhile.

"Ever since I was a varsity athlete and a basketball player at Holly I wanted to," Stoll said. "I saw all the others playing college basketball and wanted to play as well."

Now he'll get that chance at Michigan Tech. Tech seems to be on the upswing. The Huskies finished last year 17-11 overall and 11-8 in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletics Conference. Stoll isn't entirely sure how he'll fit in just yet.

"I don't know yet. I think I might be redshirted my first year," Stoll said. "I think I can play defense at that level, but I need to get bigger, so I can bang down low with the bigger bodies."

Making the decision now makes life easier for Stoll during the prep season. The Bronchos have been one of the Metro contenders in recent season. While they lose much of their offensive production from a year ago, they'll probably be expected to be among the league contenders again this year.

"It helps definitely," Stoll said about making the decision now. "Now I can concentrate on the season and winning the Metro League."

"It excites me because now I get to play basketball for another four or five years at a higher level of competition."

Lake Fenton soccer falls in semis of GAC tourney to Railroaders, 4-0

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Durand — The Lake Fenton varsity boys soccer team has had troubles scoring goals at times this year.

That was a problem once again in the Genesee Area Conference Tournament on Wednesday.

The Blue Devils were unable to score against the Durand Railroaders, dropping a 4-0 verdict in the semifinal round of the tourney.

Another issue was emotions. The Blue Devils were given four yellow cards during the contest, hampering their progress as well.

"We just can't finish and we can't hold our emotions," Lake Fenton coach Lenny Glasstetter said. "Those have been the problems all year long. We have to be able to score."

There was only one goal in the first half. It came on a corner kick attempt and may have been deflected in by a Lake Fenton defender. Durand's Robert Rix was given credit for the goal, and the Railroaders led 1-0 at the half.

It remained 1-0 until about 10 minutes into the second half. A cross was sent to Jeff Long, who then capitalized for the Railroaders, making it a 2-0 lead.

The game was put out of reach with 10:38 left when Durand's Marvin Drescher scored.

Finally, the Railroaders capped their scoring with a goal by Zakk Graham with just 1:53 left.

Durand had the bulk of the scoring chances, but the Blue Devils did have some chances. With 13:35 left in the first half, Lake Fenton's Chase Hanson took a shot from about 35 yards out, but the ball was saved.

About four minutes into the second half, Brad Oldenburg took a shot from about 30 yards out that sailed just wide. About three minutes later, Ryan Gorelick took a shot off a cross that also sailed wide.

The last shot the Blue Devils had on net was provided by Oldenburg from about 18 yards out with 11 minutes left in the game. The shot was saved. Lake Ex-Fenton varsity softball coach Dave Lazar is being inducted into the Greater Flint Area Athletic Hall of Fame during an induction banquet on Dec. 3.

Fenton legend Lazar headed to Greater Flint Area Hall of Fame

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Back in 2010, legendary Fenton varsity softball coach David Lazar was shocked he was being inducted into the Fenton Athletic Hall of Fame.

Just over a year later, he is shocked again.

Lazar, 72, was recently publicized as one of the members being inducted into the 2011 Greater Flint Area Athletic Hall of Fame. The annual induction banquet is Dec. 3 at the Genesys Banquet Center.

"When it rains it pours," Lazar said. "Like the Fenton one, it's really unbelievable. Both are great honors. I never thought something like this would happen to me. When you coach, these are things you don't even know exist. I really feel honored. They are a couple of the highlights in my life. I wish some of my family and parents were here to see it, but that's just the way it goes."

Lazar probably remains the only person shocked why he is being inducted into so many athletic halls recently. He coached the varsity softball team for 27 years, posting a 682-231 record during that time. He led the Tigers to 16 Metro League titles, 12 district championships, six regional titles and three straight Class B state championships from 1978 through 1980. The team also was the state runner-up in 1993.

Sometimes forgotten is that he worked with the Fenton football program as well. He started coaching football first, coaching the freshman team starting in 1973 for five seasons. He coached at a variety of levels and positions after that, including as the varsity head coach from 1998 to 1999, posting a 12-7 record those two years.

"I think most coaches, if not all of them, try to instill some key things into their athletes," Lazar said. "It's not always about winning, but building a relationship with the coach or other kids on the team. The team is more important than any individual. That's what you have to promote and convince the kids of. You are playing for them and the team. Whatever you get out of it beyond that is a bonus. Being out for a sport takes a lot of discipline and hard work."

Lazar looks at his honors the same way. It was the people that surrounded him that created his success as much as anything he did.

"I had a lot of great talented people around me," Lazar said. "I had the support of the community. The community support and the feeder program through Fenton Little League helped, and I had a lot of people dedicated to pitching. We had a good atmosphere of coaches and colleagues. I also had players that were willing to put in the hard work. It was a good climate, I guess you'd say."

Linden drops 1-0 verdict to East

By Al Zipsie

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Linden — Linden boys varsity soccer coach Kevin Fiebernitz had a huge night recently, hitting the 500-win milestone in a non-league game.

However, he probably wished win number 501 came on Tuesday. The Eagles lost any chance of earning at least a share of the Metro League title by losing a tight 1-0 contest with Lapeer East at Linden High School.

The victory clinched East (6-0-2, 14-0-5) the Metro League title outright. East's keeper Colin Owen recorded his 14th shutout for the season by making seven saves on Tuesday. The game ends what was a crazy Metro race, with six teams finding themselves in the middle of the race at one time or another.

"This has been the best year for parity in the Metro League," said Fiebernitz. "We start only three seniors, and sophomores are the first guys off the bench. We have been thrown in the fire this year. I told the kids we will grow as the years go and our time is coming when we can run the table."

"East has some big boys and are senior dominated. We are just a much smaller team. Everybody is so much more physical."

In what turned out to be the game winner, Lapeer East scored late in the first half as Duncan Rowley had a goal with an assist from Alex Podolski.

"Lapeer East put some nice touches together and they put it in the box on the goal," said Linden sophomore goalkeeper-

Tigers break record, earn share of league title

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Fenton — The Fenton varsity volleyball team had broken a Metro League record.

The Tigers (7-0, 27-16-3) had won their 36th straight league match, extending through the last four seasons.

Yet, for some of the players, it wasn't until after their 25-12, 25-17, 25-21 victory against the Kearsley Hornets that they even knew about the historic win streak. The win also assured the Tigers at least a share of the Metro League title for the fourth straight season.

"This is the first time I've heard about it," Fenton setter Julie Gilbert said. "I think it's a testament to how hard we work, and the time and effort we put into playing all the time."

"I didn't even know about the record," Fenton hitter Sarah Collier said. "(Coach Linda Rusaw) Cheese wants us to play our hardest, so I'm glad I didn't know. I would've started getting nervous."

The Tigers broke their own record of 34 straight Metro League wins. Rusaw thinks this record is a bit more impressive than the one that was completed in 1994, a team she coached.

"Not to take away from those years, but back then we played everyone twice so the streak was roughly over a two-year period," Rusaw said. "But this is a four-year period, so you have four teams that have to share in this period of undefeatedness. So I think it's harder to do it for four years versus two years. You can get hot for a couple of years, but to be hot for four, I'm happy with that."

The Hornets presented very little sting against the Tigers during Parents' Night.

Kearsley had an early 5-2 lead in the first set, but an overpass kill by Maize Martin followed by a Sarah Collier kill gave the Tigers a 6-5 lead, and they never trailed in the set again. The Tigers had 17 kills in the first set (seven by Collier and six by Maxheimer), sparking what was an easy 25-12 win. Maxheimer capped the set by scoring the last two points with kills.

Kearsley led as late as 9-8 in the second set, and remained tied as late as 11-all, but a couple of Kearsley errors gave the Tigers the lead. Then a block kill by Gilbert was followed by a service ace by Ashley Bearden, helping Fenton establish a lead.

Kearsley was as close as 20-16, but back-to-back kills by Maxheimer pretty much iced the second-set victory for Fenton.

In the third set, Fenton led by as many as 19-10 after a block kill by Collier, but Kearsley did put together a semi-run to get back into the game. A Kearsley kill cut the gap to 20-18 late. However, a Kearsley hitting error was followed by a block kill by Martin, helping the Tigers estab-

22-all before Sargent had a kill and her play in the net gave Linden a 24-22 lead. Brandon cut it back to 24-23, but had a returned ball go long on set point.

The Eagles dominated the middle set as several service key runs keyed a 25-6 rout. A Brodie Thomas kill and a Kinney smash triggered Kaitilyn Dunleavy's service run. Linden had run off eight points before Brandon would finally get on the scoreboard. Then another five-point surge by Starrs built a 13-2 lead. Then Callie Murphy had six straight service points, padding the lead to 20-2. Linden cruised from that point.

Brandon was feisty in the third set trailing just 23-20 late. However, Lexi Downes scored a kill followed by Rachel Maxheimer's service winner.

"Being in my last year of four on the varsity it is kind of surreal," Kinney said. "My last year in the Metro and we have come so close. Volleyball is my favorite sport to play, and I would hope others would think it's my best sport. In a game like this, the team comes together to celebrate every point. You have the adrenaline pumping and it's been nice for the team to have a successful season."

er Colin Hoerberling, who played a solid game with eight saves. "It would have been nice to win the Metro championship. We did as good as we can. We just need to come back and play the games we have left."

The Eagles, who also lost a tight 1-0 verdict against Brandon last week, had some chances. Linden had some crisp passing and footwork from Max Belbot and Jaime Yanez, but could not get on the scoreboard against Owen, a four-year varsity starter. East chewed up the clock as much as possible with defensive soccer. Belbot had a chance when he dribbled inside, setting up a corner shot. However, that attempt fell empty. Yanez had a slick move, but was forced to an off-balanced shot, resulting in no goal.

Linden (13-6-1 overall) played Kearsley on Thursday and was at Holly Saturday at 1 p.m.

The Eagles are in a loaded Division 2 Bloomfield Hills Lahser District, opening with Fenton.

"We don't get any breaks with Fenton and being in a district with many good teams," Fiebernitz said. "Holly will be a good game. They have big, strong and aggressive kids. Right now we want to finish in the top three in the Metro."

"We pass the ball and are as skilled as anyone. I like the direction we are going, and I think our time is next year."

Linden will get its chance to avenge an loss from earlier this year when it opens Division 2 district action at home against Fenton on Monday. Fenton defeated the Eagles 1-0 on a last-minute goal earlier this season.

LAKE FENTON

Fenton had seven shots on target, all saved. Durand outshot the Blue Devils by about a 2-to-1 ratio with most of the action taking place in the Lake Fenton defensive zone, particularly in the second half.

The Blue Devils were hurt by injuries as well.

"We lost Sawyer Scott and had a couple of other injuries," Glassetter said. "It's been tough."

"Timmy Hooks was hurt as well. We were moving people around a lot. We can't use it as an excuse, but it has been like that all year long."

Lake Fenton opens Durand Area Division 3 District action Monday at 4 p.m. at home against non-league foe Flint Southwestern.
