Angry mom chases ‘Peeping Tom’

► Police urge citizens to report any suspicious behavior

By Sharon Stone
sstone@tctimes.com; 810-433-6786
Fenton Twp. — Without any hesitation, the mother of an 11-year-old boy chased a suspicious man who she saw peering through the window of the home of her neighbor’s school age daughter.

The mother, who asked not to be identified, said she and her son were walking from their home to the bus stop, at 6:45 a.m. Monday morning. They live in the Audubon Meadows subdivision, off Wiggins Road in Fenton Township.

As they walked in the darkness, her son told her quietly that he saw a man near a house. At first, she assumed it was just the homeowner, however, her son urged her to look where he was pointing. The woman looked and saw a man peering into a bedroom window, with his hands cupped around his eyes.

Summary
► A “Peeping Tom” was spotted by a Fenton Township woman Monday morning as she walked her son to the school bus stop. The Genesee County Sheriff’s Department is investigating.

Shotgun spray pelts Tupper Lake residents

Fenton Twp. — Residents of Tupper Lake may get some refuge from shotgun spray this hunting season. The Fenton Township board unanimously voted to have a DNR hearing soon about hunting near Tupper Lake due to a resident-driven complaint. Tupper Lake resident Jack Willing said that due to the close proximity of hunters during duck season, many homes and residents are pelted by shotgun spray every fall.

A voice for the bullied

►Gabrielle Ford receives
Peacemaker of the Year Award

By Sharon Stone

sstone@tctimes.com; 810-433-6786

Gabrielle Ford has added another award to her long list of achievements — all focused on eliminating bullying from schools.

Ford, known as Gabe of the dynamic duo, Gabe & Izzy, attended the annual Peace Day Celebration at the University of Michigan-Flint earlier this month and was the recipient of the Peacemaker of the Year Award.

The engraved plaque, presented by the Genesee County Committee for Community Peace, was in recognition of her relentless advocacy to increase awareness against bullying in schools.

Ford has been speaking out against bullying since she was in middle school. As a child, she loved to dance and dreamed of becoming a ballerina. At 12, she was diagnosed with a rare genetic neuromuscular disease, Friedreich's Ataxia, which eventually made her wheelchair bound.

She not only struggled with her disease, she struggled daily with cruel bullying from classmates. Izzy, a loveable long-eared coonhound puppy, entered her life and became her best friend. When Izzy mysteriously developed a condition that mirrored Ford, she emerged to find the best treatment for her companion. Izzy has since passed away.

Ford found that by speaking for Izzy, it gave her the courage to speak for another voiceless group — the thousands of children bullied in American schools everyday.

Her courage and determination have taken her across the country as an inspirational speaker advocating against bullying. In addition to reaching thousands of students in schools across the country, she was also a keynote speaker at various conferences and conventions.

For additional information or to leave Gabrielle Ford a message, go to www.Gabeandizzy.com.

SMART SOLUTIONS

1 Remove scratches on wood tabletops

If you notice a scratch on your wooden tabletop, don't despair! Just break a walnut, pecan, or Brazil nut in half and wipe the mark with the nut's flesh in the direction of the nick. Next, rub your finger back and forth over the area until it's warm. The body heat makes the wood expand slightly to absorb the nut's oil, which fills in the scratch and restores the table's sheen.

2 Paint fumes

Before applying latex paint to walls, add 1 tablespoon vanilla extract per pint and stir thoroughly. The vanilla reacts with chemicals in the paint to curb the odor, without affecting the pigment.

Costume Rentals by Judy stocks accessories to match her 2,500 costumes.

Need a costume for Halloween?

You wouldn't know by looking at the outside of Judy Denker's home in Fenton, that on many racks and shelves inside, there are more than 2,500 costumes in almost every room — with only bare wood floors showing. Not a single wall is free from a Star Wars costume, pirate or even Big Bird.

At the center of this universe of fun is Denker, who is the owner of Costume Rentals by Judy. Popular costumes for Halloween this year are gambling men and saloon girls. Halloween is the busiest time of the year, followed by Christmas, for Santa Claus and elf costumes. Schools often rent historical costumes. Tea parties at the Holly Hotel draw customers looking for Victorian-era costumes.

"I'll always keep coming back," said Suzie Delecki of Clio. She was trying on a couple different costumes that she will wear while doing her job as a bus driver on Halloween. She picked out a matching western "Indian" costume for her husband. This is Delecki's third time as a customer. Included with the Indian costume was a head dress with feathers, brown suede boot covers and beaded jewelry.

"If I was going to have a job, it was going to be something fun."

Stressed out about being stressed?

How to tell the difference between good stress and bad stress

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Is your daily calendar filled so full that you're beginning to feel overwhelmed with life? Oftentimes, people say they feel stressed by too many commitments, but stress can actually help you enjoy life and thrive — even with a hectic lifestyle.

The secret is being able to distinguish good stress from bad stress, and working toward bringing more of the positive into your life than the negative.

What's beneficial about stress?

Short-term stress triggers the production of protective chemicals and increases activity in immune cells that boost the body's defenses. As a result, your brain and body get a boost.

While too much negative stress can cause disease, a quick surge of stress can actually help keep a person healthy. Studies suggest

Regrets, they've had a few

It's Supreme's week in Washington and I don't mean the Motown group once led by Diana Ross. The Supreme Court is back in session and the nine justices will consider a number of controversial issues, not the least of which will likely be the constitutionality of 'Obamacare' and its mandate that every citizen purchase health insurance.

Just in time for their reconvening is a fascinating new book by Texas writer William T. Harper. It's called 'Second Thoughts: Presidential Regrets with their Supreme Court Nominations.'

We tend to think of the justices as members of an elite club, smarter than any other legal mind and gifted with insight beyond the rest of us mere mortals. But as Harper writes, that has often not been the opinion of the presidents who nominated them, or the opinion of some of the justices toward the presidents who placed them on the bench.

Harper reveals that there is more going on under those long black robes than meets the eye. Such as: a justice who was having illicit sex in his judicial chambers; another was thrown twice into debtors prison; one received a lifetime membership in the Ku Klux Klan; and another who said the president who nominated him 'should die.'

It gets worse. Among presidents who regretted their choices: One referred to his choice as a 'dumb son-of-a-b---h;' another called the justice he nominated 'the biggest damn fool thing I ever did;' still another said his nominee had 'less backbone than a banana;' and one referred to his four court nominees, along with the other five members of the Court as 'b-----ds.'

Most of those criticized by the presidents who nominated them incurred their wrath by voting differently from what had been expected. Nixon suffered the double indignity of seeing all three of his nominees vote against him in the Watergate tapes affair, which led to his resignation.

Scoundrels and schemers populate the history of the Supreme Court, along with intrigue, backstabbing and political 'one-upsmanship.' It reads like a political novel, but it is fact.

Read it. You won't be disappointed.

MY NEIGHBOR WAS charged by the city of Fenton for littering because of fallen pinecones in his yard, and was offered an option of paying a $250 fine on a lesser charge. He refused, thankfully. Littering pine cones? Give me a break. This is harassment, pure and simple.

SUPPORT BOND FOR BYRON SCHOOLS

Dear editor,

Four generations of my family have attended Byron schools. Our schools no longer meet the needs of our students. Our technology is out of date. This is who we are

I'd like to tell you a little bit about my staff here at the Times. The editorial department consists of Assistant Editor Sharon Stone, Sports Editor Dave Troppens, Staff Reporter Will Axford, and Staff Reporter and photographer Tim Jagielo. Our features and business writer is Sally Rummel.

This is the staff that pounds the keyboard every day, attends municipal and school board meetings in the evenings, covers sporting events and activities at the schools, tragic accidents, fires and court proceedings, to keep you, our readers, informed.

Sharon is one busy lady, working fulltime here, and co-owner of three Sears stores with her husband, Jeff. She is also the police reporter, sometimes covering fires or accidents in the middle of the night. Despite her busy life she finds time to do fundraising in the form of a yearly golf outing and a hockey tournament in memory of their son, Brad, who passed away after an asthma attack when he was 12 years old.

Tim has brought his talented skills in photography to the Times. While we keep him busy, he still finds time to play guitar and drums in two different bands and freelance photography at weddings, etc. He will be going to Libya to put his photo journalistic skills to test in November. (See his story in Sunday's edition of the Times.)

Sally can be found, after spending her days writing creative and interesting features, at Mancino's, of which she and her husband, Mark, co-own. She also enjoys spending time with her 4-month old granddaughter, Ava.

Dave is one competitive guy. His skilled sports writing recently brought him five Michigan Press Association awards. An avid Detroit Lions fan, this year the team is making him proud.

Will is the new kid on the block. A recent graduate of Central Michigan University, he brings youth and exuberance to the editorial team.

While very different, what they all have in common is a desire to tell the story and to inform, educate and entertain the tri-county area residents.

I am very lucky to have such a dedicated and talented staff.

to merchants free of charge and are traceable by law enforcement.

More information is now required from customers purchasing kegs. A keg registration/receipt filled out from a vendor must include the customer's type of identification, identification number and date of birth. The keg registration card must be signed by the customer before the keg is sold.

Beer keg merchants view the new sticker law as a weak effort to combat underage drinking. Many predict that keg sales will slip and that the new law will only create more paperwork, not stop underage drinkers.

"We now have to collect addresses, phone numbers, ID numbers," said Katy Pawlowski, manager of Merchants Gourmet party store. "I think it's going to be a nuisance." Who ever purchases the keg should be responsible for stopping underage drinkers, not the vendors, she added.

Under the new law, beer keg vendors will now have to maintain a complete record of keg sales for a period of one month. The keg records are open to inspection during reasonable hours by the Department of Licensing and Regulatory affairs and law enforcement.

Removing the keg tag will result in a loss of the keg deposit, with a possible misdemeanor charge of 93 days in jail and/or $500 in fines. Kegs should be returned before Nov. 1 in order to avoid forfeiture of the deposit.

Some keg providers were not aware of the new law and found out about the Nov. 1 deadline through customers and other sources. Runyun Lake Party Store owner Joseph Trollman said that he has not received a notification from the state about the new law. "I can't believe the state didn't send me anything directly," Trollman said.

He does not believe the new sticker law will have much of an effect other than creating more work. The party store owner has never encountered teenagers who have tried to purchase a keg. Typically, underage drinkers target bottles and cans for purchases, which Trollman has dealt with before.

"It's just going to be a bit of a hassle for us," Trollman said. "Now I'm going to have pull an employee away from what they were doing and have them take down all this information. I think the government could do a much better job stopping underage drinkers."

New rules for buying kegs

- Customer identification must include a photograph and signature of the subject's date of birth. College IDs are not acceptable.

- A keg registration card including the type of ID, ID number and date of birth must be filled out by the vendor, and then signed by the customer.

- The registration tag (yellow tag sticker) must be on the keg when returned in order to receive the deposit.

- The removal of the tag can lead to misdemeanor charges including up to $93 days in jail and/or up to $500 in fines.

- Keg retailers must maintain a complete record of keg sales in one-month increments.

CRIME STATS

Fenton crime stats

According to statistics provided by the Fenton Police Department, the department investigated 354 larceny complaints in 2010 and 255 so far this year. That worked out to an average of 29 per month in 2010 and 25 per month this year. Of the 255 complaints this year, Fenton police arrested 68 adults and 11 juveniles.

Rick Aro
FENTON
POLICE CHIEF

Comparing Jan. 1 to Oct. 11 for both years, larcenies were down by 15.8 percent in Fenton this year. Larcenies include thefts from automobiles, shoplifting, etc. Fenton Police Chief Rick Aro said he expects larceny numbers to increase as the Christmas and end of the year holidays approach.

The time investigators spend on a case varies. Aro said his staff prioritizes cases to manage the workload. Some times cases work out quickly, a suspect is identified right away, and a subsequent arrest follows. In other cases, such as debit or credit card fraud, officers might have to travel to various locations to follow up on where the cards were used.

"Although I am pleased with the overall 20 percent reduction in crime this year, I know that our department can still do a better job," said Aro. Arrest statistics are computer generated. Each report police complete captures arrest and other statistical information that is reported to the State Police and FBI. An arrest is only counted if an arrest warrant is issued by the prosecutor.

Aro said many times warrants are not issued for reasons beyond the police department's control (victim decides not to prosecute, burden of proof problem, etc.) and these arrests are not counted. "However, we can still do a better job of investigating, reporting and solving these cases," said Aro.

Fenton police have solved some significant crimes this year, such as the armed robbery of the B&C Pharmacy in February and commercial break-ins of some of the businesses in Fenton. They have also used their lock-up and detention policy to reduce its retail fraud complaints at the major retail stores.

"The reduction in some of our patrol generated cases is due to a reduction in patrols because of the budgetary constraints we have experienced again this year," said Aro.

Linden crime stats

Two miles down the road, Linden reports that it had 43 larceny complaints in 2010 and 26 so far this year.

One crime statistic that stands out is the increase in number of assaults in Linden. In 2010, the police department investigated 13 assault complaints and made three arrests. So far, for 2011, they have already accumulated 15 assault complaints and made 14 arrests.

Assaults include domestic, non-aggravated (no weapon) and felonious aggravated assaults (with weapon). Linden Police Chief Scott Sutter said oftentimes, assaults are alcohol related.

Sutter said he was surprised to see that larcenies were down. "You expect these to be up because of the economy," he said. The chief stresses that larceny numbers could decrease even more if residents would remove any valuables from their vehicles and lock the doors of their vehicles, as well as their homes.

Scams, including Internet fraud and those targeting the elderly, continue to be a trend, not just in Linden, but across the country, said Sutter.

A noticeable increase can be seen in arrests associated with malicious destruction of property (MDOP) complaints for this year, said Sutter. "A lot of those crimes involve juveniles," he said. "I have zero tolerance for those types of crimes and my officers are holding the juveniles accountable too. That could be a reason for the increase."

Holly crime stats

According to Holly police records, the number of assaults has increased in the village from 75 in all of 2010 to 93 already this year. While assaults are up, drunk driving and property damage complaints are down slightly.

Chief Elena Danishevskaya said she believes Holly's numbers were in line with other departments. "Nothing jumps out," she said. The chief did acknowledge that Holly experienced a high number of larcenies from automobiles. She added that more aggressive police patrols have likely had an impact since they have had none in nearly a month.

Danishevskaya said juveniles and young people responsible for property damage complaints last year were responsible for many larcenies from autos this year. She said these trends occur from time to time.

She, too, has a zero tolerance for offenses committed by juveniles. Her officers will stop and talk with young people who are out after curfew. If they are in violation, their parents will be called. This process discourages young people from becoming involved with illegal activity, she said.

Scams targeting the elderly cause concern for Danishevskaya. She said some of the scams, via phone, mail, or Internet are pretty elaborate and unsuspecting senior citizens oftentimes believe what they hear or read.

DRIVER ADMITS TO SMOKING POT

A 26-year-old Royal Oak woman was issued a court appearance ticket for possession of marijuana after she stopped by the Argentine Township police station on Oct. 14. Chief Daniel Allen said the woman stopped by the station requesting information about a recently impounded vehicle. As an officer spoke with her, it was apparent that she was under the influence of some form of drug. The officer asked if she was alright and she replied that she had just smoked some marijuana while driving to the police station. She told the officer she had marijuana in her vehicle. She did not have a medical marijuana card. The marijuana was confiscated and she was ticketed.

TOO DRUNK TO DRIVE

At 4:10 a.m. on Oct. 12, an Argentine Township police officer was sent to the area of Seymour and Lovejoy roads to investigate a report of a possible drunk driver sitting in his vehicle, which was stopped in the road. The responding police officer spotted the suspect vehicle and initiated a traffic stop. The driver, identified as a 20-year-old Webberville man, had a strong odor of intoxicants on his breath. He admitted that he felt too drunk to drive so he pulled off the road for a minute. The driver was arrested for OWI and lodged at the Genesee County Jail.

GPS tracking and the Fourth Amendment

In 1957, the Soviet Union launched the first space satellite into earth's orbit. It was called Sputnik. This started the so-called space race between the Soviet Union and the United States and the rest as they say is history.

Fast forward to 2011, and since Sputnik, there have been thousands of satellite launches by a number of countries for various purposes.

One of the satellite systems that was conceived and ultimately launched is for what is commonly referred to as the Global Positioning System or GPS. Put simply, GPS technology allows for objects to be tracked on earth using space satellites.

This system has both military and civilian applications with perhaps the most well-known civilian application being the GPS units that give on-board directions from one place to another for automobile travelers. Another application is in law enforcement in tracking individuals who are suspected of criminal behavior by attaching a GPS unit to their vehicle.

This particular practice has been the subject of court challenges over the past few years because the GPS unit is attached to the subject's vehicle without a search warrant. Whether this is a violation of the Fourth Amendment's prohibition against unreasonable searches and seizures and the right to privacy is open to debate.

There is now pending before the U.S. Supreme Court a case called United States v. Jones, which involves the warrantless use of a GPS tracking device by the police in Washington D.C. The tracking of the defendant allowed the authorities to gather evidence to convict him on a drug trafficking charge in 2005.

There is a split of authority on this issue, and the Supreme Court's decision could have far-reaching implications for both law enforcement and criminal defendants and will be closely watched by the legal community.

PEEPING TOM

"I started to walk toward him like an idiot," she said. She instructed her son to walk back to their home.

The unknown man walked between the homes and a backyard, confirming the woman's instincts that this was not the homeowner. "I started to chase him," she said.

The woman saw the man get into a red or burgundy car that was parked on Waterside Drive, which is also the entrance to the Audubon Meadows subdivision. As the woman, dressed in pajamas, chased him, he got into his car, turned off the headlights and sped away. She tried to get a good look at the man and the license plate. However; because of the darkness, details are sketchy.

The suspicious man's car was possibly a Dodge Intrepid or Chrysler Sebring. It was not new, but not too old, either, she said. Because of the darkness, the woman could not tell if the man was black or white, but she was able to see that he was of average build.

The woman quickly ran to the neighbor's house where she saw the man at and pounded on their front door. When they opened the door, she told them what happened and told them to call 911 right away.

"This is sickening. He knew to turn his lights off," said the woman. "Who knows how long this has been going on."

The woman reported her experience to the Lake Fenton schools as well as the Genesee County Sheriff's Department.

Under Sheriff Chris Swanson confirmed the woman's account of what happened and said the incident is under investigation. He said it's important that everyone continue to be watchful of their surroundings. "People are on the lookout," said Swanson.

"The people in the township do a great job of calling 911 when they see something suspicious."

Swanson said they do not know why the man was peeking through the bedroom window. He could have been a stalker or considering whether he wanted to break into the home.

Parents and community members are being asked to remain vigilant in keeping an eye out for suspicious behavior. Unusual sightings should be reported to police by calling 911 immediately.

Chronic negative stress puts a person's body into sympathetic nervous system response, known as "fight or flight mode."

that it strengthens the immune system, makes vaccinations more effective, and may even protect against certain types of cancer.

Stress in small doses is actually good for you, agrees Michelle Engelhart, certified massage therapist/owner of Creative Healing, who also offers massage services at The Retreat Salon & Skin Spa in Fenton. Positive stress provides individuals with enough adrenaline to fulfill their goals. Known as "eustress," positive stress results from events that have a positive purpose even if they are stressful, such as the birth of a child or working out.

Having a calendar filled with positive activities can be stressful, but if the activities are perceived as valuable and with purpose, a busy person will be more able to positively cope with their full schedule. What causes stress to be negative is when a situation becomes filled with a mixture of dread, worry and anxiety.

The lesson here is that people need to learn what activities are fulfilling and important to them and fill their calendar with these types of events, and let go of the activities they don't value.

"Working out is an example of a positive stress, because it helps boost the immune system," said Engelhart. "When clients ask if they can do without exercise because of their stress levels, I tell them that's when they need their workout the most."

When is stress bad for you?

Negative stress is known as "distress," and can result in the degeneration and breakdown of cells, providing opportunities for disease and depression.

Chronic negative stress puts a person's body into sympathetic nervous system response, known as "fight or flight mode."

"Our bodies need to come out of this mode in order to repair and recover from bursts of stress," said Engelhart. "Otherwise, every cell is overtaxed, which will eventually lead to degeneration and disease."

Engelhart sees first-hand the effects of negative stress on her clients before they even lie down on the massage table. "I can see it in their posture, their speech and in their muscle tension," she said. She treats someone with negative stress differently during a massage than she does someone who comes to her with a sports injury.

"It actually feels like working on concrete," said Engelhart, when massaging stress-tensed muscles. "We have to work through the mental/emotional aspects of the negative stress first, before the body is able to release the physical tension."

The key, according to experts, is balance. Too little stress and a person is bored and unmotivated. Too much and a person becomes overwhelmed, tense and sick.

SHOTGUN

"I think people need to be respected as hunters are respected," Willing said. "All I know is that (the hunters) are hitting me and my house."

Willing said the shotgun spray is so bad that he does not let his grandchildren play outside during hunting season. Willing said that at 30 acres, Tupper Lake is much too small to hunt on without affecting the one dozen residents that live on the lake.

After an investigation of Tupper Lake, the DNR will hold a public hearing at the Fenton Township hall. A hearing from the DNR will give the board and residents clarity to hunting laws and what type of ordinances can be created. Currently, ordinances on hunting in Fenton Township are lake specific, with some lakes banning hunting outright. Tupper Lake does not have an ordinance against hunting.

Willing said he is confident that a majority of Tupper Lake residents agree that hunting is an issue and would attend the hearing. Since Tupper Lake has public access, hunters and the public will also be able to voice their opinions at the hearing. Trustee Tony Brown questioned the township's ability to limit people from hunting on Tupper Lake due to the public access. Willing pointed to the wetland on Lake Ponemah as a substitute to hunting on Tupper Lake.

Township Treasurer John Tucker, who also lives on Tupper Lake, shared the same views as Willing. Tucker said hunters like to shoot at the mouth of Ponemah Lake, which affects residents of Tupper Lake. "It's like a war zone out there, and it starts in the morning," Tucker said.

Operations Manager Thomas Broecker said the DNR will make recommendations to the board after the hearing but will not play a role in drafting an ordinance.

"We can still do whatever," Broecker said. "It's up to us to make an ordinance."

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | TIM JAGIELO

Suzie Delecki, of Clio, checks out her costume on Monday, as volunteer David Burdic stocks the upper shelves. This costume shop in Denker's home features more than 2,500 costumes, and includes many large mascot pieces.

After helping Delecki choose the costume and accessories, Denker provided the cost, which includes a deposit. A deposit is a separate check to cover the cost of a lost or damaged costume. Denker said she has only had to use the deposit twice. Once, a man with an Elvis costume was at a party and fell down a set of stairs. "There were many gems missing," said Denker. On the plus side, the man got to keep the costume.

The idea to start a costume rental business came from the suggestion of Denker's friends, who would see her sit outside dressed up for Halloween, giving candy to children.

On the top shelves, there were many interesting head pieces, such as Darth Vader or Yogi Bear. Wrapped in plastic near the front of the shop was a red devil head. "He's been to a lot of Bible classes during the summer," Denker said. "Little kids were learning how to chase the devil away."

Denker also rents costumes that are used at parades. The Mr. Baseball head is very top heavy and weighs around 30 pounds.

In the main room of Denker's home, there is a mechanical conveyor system, used to sort approximately 800 costumes into about 40 different categories, including "History," and "Super Hero."

Denker has accumulated the 2,500 costumes over 11 years of business. "If I was going to have a job, it was going to be something fun," she said.

Her favorite part of the business is the customers, when they dress up and have fun. "They start to laugh at themselves," she said. "The business is never the same, day to day."

There are some items Denker doesn't have. She doesn't have a cream-colored tuxedo, or a Beetlejuice costume. She doesn't rent shoes, because shoes take up too much space, she said.

Her schedule is irregular and busy, with customers calling ahead to set up appointments. The last two Saturdays in October, her costume rentals are open to the public.

Costume rentals come in size XS to 3X and range in cost from $20 to $85. Denker does not rent out individual pieces. Call for an appointment at (810) 629-6001 or (810) 629-9347.

Holly High School celebrates homecoming

By Tim Jagielo

tjagielo@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

Holly High School was the last of tri-county area schools to celebrate homecoming, culminating with the football game on Friday against Lansing's Waverly High School. The Bronchos won the game, 37-25.

The homecoming king and queen were announced at half time, with Sam Caldwell and Megan Incammicia being crowned.

The theme for Homecoming 2011 was "Superheroes," which was celebrated on Thursday during Spirit Week, with "Superhero/Villain Day."

Monday was Clash or Mismatch Day, Tuesday, Bow or Tie day, and Wednesday was Pajama Day. Class colors day were worn on Friday for the homecoming game.

Normally, students build themed floats for the homecoming parade. This year, students decorated a truck and donated the funds they would have used to construct the float to local charities, including Holly Area Youth Assistance (HAYA) and Neighbor for Neighbor.

"It's just a great year, lots of exciting things, lots of school spirit," said faculty member and student council adviser Haley Street.

PAUL G. DONOHUE, M.D.

To your good health

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Several bouts of stomach pain brought me to the doctor. The pain is located in my upper right side. The doctor was certain I was having gallbladder attacks due to stones. She sent me for an ultrasound test of my gallbladder.

I don't have stones. I have something called a liver hemangioma. My doctor says I don't need any treatment. I never heard of this and wonder what your thoughts are. -- P.K.

ANSWER: A hemangioma is a small, ball-shaped mass of blood vessels. If 100 people had a liver scan, seven would be found to have a hemangioma. Women develop them more often than men do. They do not become cancers. They're rarely a source of constant pain, unless they grow quite large and press on adjacent tissue. They don't cause attacks of pain. Have you found out what causes your pain?

Dr. Donohue regrets that he is unable to answer individual letters, but he will incorporate them in his column whenever possible. Readers may write him or request an order form of available health newsletters at P.O. Box 536475, Orlando, FL 32853-6475.

I LOVE THE EZ-Read version of the Tri-County Times. In fact, the new website is so much easier to navigate than the older version. I am temporarily living out of state, and read the Tri-County every week to stay up-to-date with my hometown. Thanks so much.

I WONDER HOW much money the MEA will spend trying to do away with judges because they don't agree on stopping Scott's recall?

IT'S UPSETTING TO read the medical marijuana article and find out that the cops are taking a law 'we the people' put into place, ignoring that law and are giving people tickets for it. They are given the job to enforce laws we put into place.

OCCUPY WALL STREET is just another feeble attempt for the lazy who want everything free and to dig into the pockets of those who understand what makes this country tick. As a business owner, I have been trying to hire workers at $60,000-plus, per year, and can't get a decent resume.

I'M SEEING RED at Fairview Cemetery. My son's headstone was moved in the fall of 2010 by workers and then never put back. Now, I plant red geraniums for him every spring. After all the frustration of trying to get them to fix it, and given a number to call, it's still not done. Now it's fall of 2011 and I've been unable to plant the red geraniums. I'm just wondering where is the respect for the deceased and for the family.

THE HUNTERS NEED to be more careful. We had a fawn come through our yard the other day, with an arrow stuck in her. She stumbled and then got up and ran into the swamp, apparently to die. We need for you guys to be more careful and know what it is that you are aiming at.

PIRATES OF THE CARIBBEAN: ON STRANGER TIDES

Johnny Depp returns to his iconic role of Captain Jack Sparrow in this action-packed sequel. Sparrow crosses paths with the enigmatic Angelica (Penelope Cruz), a former lover and the daughter of the legendary pirate Blackbeard (Ian McShane), who's using Sparrow's name to mount an expedition to find the fabled Fountain of Youth. She forces him aboard the "Queen Anne's Revenge," Blackbeard's vessel, and they embark on an unexpected adventure in which he doesn't know whom to fear more — Blackbeard or Angelica. Along the way, they encounter Jack's old nemesis, Captain Hector Barbossa (Geoffrey Rush), mermaids, all sorts of treachery, voodoo and magic.

Elizabeth Halsey (Cameron Diaz) is ruthless, wildly inappropriate and says exactly what's on her mind. She may be working as a teacher, but her real occupation is to find a rich man to support her and get her out of the middle school for good. When she's dumped by her fiancé, she sets her plan in motion to win over a rich, handsome substitute (Justin Timberlake) — competing for his affections with an overly energetic colleague, Amy (Lucy Punch), while disregarding the advances of the school's irreverent gym teacher (Jason Segel). The consequences of her wild and outrageous schemes give her students, her co-workers, and even herself an education like no other.

PREP FOOTBALL WEEK #9 QUICK PREVIEWS

Where has the time gone? Ever since the prep football season changed to where teams play two games before Labor Day, it just seems the fall sports season cruises by ridiculously fast.

I think it has to do with two games being played before the kids get in school. What is a nine-week season, starts to feel like a seven-week season because it feels like those first two games happened during summer break. Heck, even this year's Linden-Fenton football matchup happened in August this year.

No matter the reasons though, Week #9 is here. And for every single one of our tri-county football teams, there's a lot on the line this week. For some it's a chance at a co-league title. For others it's a berth into the playoffs with six wins. For a team like Linden, it's both. So without wasting too much more space, here's a quick look at Week #9's games.

Lapeer East (5-2, 6-2) at Linden (5-2, 5-3): For the second straight year, this Week #9 clash will determine at least a share of the Metro League title. The winner earns at least a share. The loser doesn't. For Linden a win or loss could dictate the Eagles' playoff chances as well. Linden's defense has been the team's strength all year long, allowing no more than 17 points against any Metro League foe. Holding East to that type of production would be helpful on Friday as well.

But, chances are, Linden will be as successful as its offense is. If the Eagles score 28 points, there's a good chance they'll leave the game with a co-league title and a playoff spot locked up. That means the passing game will need to click. That means when receivers are open, they've got to be hit. But, just as important, passes that are on target have to be caught. Both have been problems at times this season. Kevin Baker had a huge game on Friday night, catching three passes for three TDs. One was a 98-yard pass from Travis Marsh. It doesn't have to be a 98-yard score, but an explosive play or two like that would help Linden's cause. We like their chances for success on Friday.

Holly (5-2, 6-2) at Brandon (4-3, 5-3): If the Bronchos win, they capture their first ever Metro League championship in football and their first conference championship since 1952. Even the Detroit Lions have won a couple

SPORTS TRIVIA

Q The Holly varsity football team will finish with at least six wins for the second straight season this year. When was the last time they won at least six games in consecutive seasons?

A It has not happened since the 1952 team went 9-0 and the 1953 squad followed that season with a 6-3 mark.

Julie Guckian knew that if things went right, her Linden varsity girls golf team could make some waves at the state meet.

At Forest Akers West Golf Course at Michigan State University, she found out just how correct her statement was last weekend.

The Linden Eagles finished fifth in the state at the Division 3 State Girls Golf Meet, posting a two-day team score of 381-402-783. The Eagles finished just 23 strokes behind the eventual state champions Grosse Ile's 379-381-760. The Eagles were just 13 strokes behind state runner-up Grand Rapids South Christian's 377-393-770.

And in the process, the Eagles were the only team to have two participants medal at the event. Guckian finished sixth overall with a two-day score of 87-92-179. Meanwhile, Miranda Day placed eighth with a 91-91-182.

"We knew we had the potential, but to really have two days that we put it all together was asking a lot," Guckian. "It was interesting to see, and we were kind of surprised."

"Our goal was to get in the top 10," Linden coach Todd Skinner said. "Last time we didn't play really well and we took 13th. This year the girls just really stepped up their game."

The Eagles certainly did that during the first day of the tournament, posting a 381 team score, in third place and just four strokes behind leaders South Christian.

"We were all pretty surprised," Guckian said. "We didn't expect a whole lot. Last time we went to state was the state finals in the fall of 2009, and we didn't place as well as we intended to. We were just four strokes behind the leading team."

"We were fired up," Skinner said. "They were excited. And then they looked at me and asked if we had a shot. I said there's always a shot. As nice as it would be to win a conference title, I've always said I'd much rather to go state because you still have an opportunity to win a state championship. We came out No. 3 out of a tough regional and we finished fifth in had several strong performances.

Sara Wujciak led the Tigers. She medalled and broke a school record in the 200 individual medley, placing fourth overall with a time of 2:10.74, four seconds better than the school record. She also placed 13th in the breaststroke (1:10.56), the third best time among Division 2 competitors.

Haley Shaw also medalled. She took fourth place in the 100 backstroke with a time of 58.99 seconds. Meanwhile, she placed 11th in the 100 butterfly (59.79) with a time that proved to be the second fastest among Division 2 swimmers.

The teammates also helped two relays at the MISCA meet. They teamed with Gabbi Haaraoja and Kesley Kidd to finish ninth in the 200 freestyle relay (1:42.42), and seventh in the 400 freestyle (3:43.62), the fastest D2 time at the event.

Other individuals also competed. Kidd placed 60th in the 200 freestyle (2:04.64) and 74th in the 50 freestyle (26.51), while Kali Finger placed 71st in the 200 freestyle (2:06.27) and 42nd in the 500 freestyle (5:29.72), missing the 500 freestyle state-qualifying time by less than a second.

Finally, the 200 medley relay team of Meagan Cassner, Carli Finger, Lauren Davie and Kali Finger, dropped two seconds off their previous personal best with a time of 2:05.65, placing 61st.

LF soccer advances to district semis

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Lake Fenton — If the Lake Fenton varsity boys soccer team wanted its season to continue beyond Monday, it needed to find a way to play one of its better games of the season against Flint Southwestern Academy Monday.

The Blue Devils did just that. Sparked by some strong keeper play by Jacob Morrison and goals by Chase Hanson and Rance Hennessey, the Blue Devils defeated the Knights 2-1 in overtime during their district opening victory.

With the victory, the Blue Devils get a third chance against the Durand Railroaders today at Durand in the district semifinals. Durand has beaten Lake Fenton in each of the first two confrontations, with the most recent being a 4-0 victory about a week ago.

"This means a lot," said Hennessey, who scored the game-winning goal with three minutes left in the first of two 10-minute overtime sessions. "It was great. We want a third chance against Durand. If we play like we did today, I think we can come out victorious."

"That's the game we've been looking forward to the most," said Morrison, who made 11 saves in net. "We really wanted this win and we are feeling good."

The Blue Devils' defense was pretty solid all night long, with Morrison sparking it. The Knights got off shots, and a few quality shots, but Morrison seemed always up to the task when needed.

"They could've been a lot tougher, but my defense — Sawyer Scott, Wyatt Wilson, Tyler Davidek, Brad Oldenburg and Wayne Simons — did a really good job today. They really helped me out."

The Blue Devils got the game-winning goal when Davidek sent a diagonal thru pass to Hanson in front of the Knights' net about 18 yards out. He tapped it to Hennessey for the game-winning goal.

"It was a beautiful pass from Tyler Da-videk and then Chase could've finished it, but he passed it to me and I put it in."

In regulation, Hanson scored with 29 minutes left on a cross from Hennessey.

"I saw a pass, was in the moment and really wanted (the goal)," Hanson said.

That goal looked like it was going to stand until Flint Southwestern scored with just 4:20 left in regulation on a nice goal by Alberto Sanson.

Lake Fenton had several strong chances to score a second goal in regulation, but were forced to wait until Hennessey's goal to earn the win. After the second goal, the Knights had a few chances to tie, but never got the ball by Morrison again.

Linden girls CC takes first at Goodrich

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The Linden varsity cross country team had a strong showing at the Kayla O'Mara Invitational at Goodrich Middle School on Saturday.

The Linden girls captured first place, while the boys finished in third despite not running most of their top runners.

The Linden girls were paced by Sydney Elmer. She took second with a time of 20:33. She was one of three Eagles to finish in the top 10. The entire top seven finished in the top 29.

The rest of the Linden runners were Kailee Corcoran in sixth (22:04), Aleighsha Engisch in ninth (22:14), Karrah Vanner in 15th (22:34.18), Dominique Scriptor in 16th (22:34.41), Hollie Vermeersch in 19th (22:42) and Mariah Lengyel in 29th (23:41).

"Despite the blustery winds, rain and cold temperatures, the team ran one of their best races," Linden coach Teresa Wright said. "Three girls recorded their fastest times of the year. We have been working hard all season in preparation for the final Metro meet on Wednesday."

The Linden boys had its starting seven all finish in the top 30 as well. Adrian Taylor led the team by taking fifth (17:41). See LINDEN on 15 of NFL Championships since then. Meanwhile, Brandon probably has to win to make the playoffs. The Bronchos have been the Metro's best team since the actual school seasons have started, winning their last seven contests. Their team defense has been their strength, but the offense also has been pretty potent, with running quarterback and Tri-County Football Player of the Year candidate Johnny Williams at the helm. If he consistently becomes a solid thrower, the offense could surpass the defensive output.

The Blackhawks are 3-12 since 2008 in October games. We like the hometown team's chances to win, as well.

Fenton (5-2, 6-2) at Swartz Creek (3-4, 4-4): Of the three tri-county Metro squads with a chance at a league title on Friday, the Tigers are probably the biggest favorites to earn a slice of that championship. The Tigers have won three straight against the Dragons. And it seems the Dragons have issues against the stronger teams on their schedule, with its only quality win coming before school even started on Sept. 2 against Holly. In its last four games, Swartz Creek has scored just 52 points and gone 1-3 in those games. Pretty much any team with a reasonable record has scored at least 27 points against the Dragons. Just as long as the Tigers play a reasonably solid game without turnovers, a share of the league title should be theirs by 10 p.m. on Friday.

Lake Fenton (5-3) at Bridgeport (0-8): The Lake Fenton Blue Devils gave Montrose a good challenge, but fell a little short on Friday. Due to the loss, Lake Fenton remains a game short of an automatic playoff spot. But don't worry, Blue Devil fans. Lake Fenton faces a winless Bridgeport team during Week #9.

Bridgeport has lost 28 straight games, and its closest game this year was a 23-point loss to Essexville Garber. Barring any serious mental slips, the Blue Devils will be in the playoffs.

Linden's Miranda Day placed eighth at the Division 3 state golf meet on Saturday. The Linden Eagles came home in fifth place as a team.

the state."

Winds made scoring conditions horrendous. For example, the best round shot during either day was an 81. However, Guckian was able to manage that wind almost as well as anyone, earning sixth, two strokes behind fifth and two strokes ahead of seventh.

"Everything was a struggle," Guckian said. "For the most part my drives were OK. Every single shot you had to take the wind into consideration. I had a seven-wood that I used for an 185-yard shot, and it went 145 yards, and was 15 yards short of the green. I hit my low irons best. I chipped pretty well the first day."

The Eagles' other golfers at the state meet were Maija Satkowiak with a 101-102-302, McKailey Mitchell with a 102-117-219, and Sierra Juhl with a 111-123-234.

Only Day is a senior. The rest of the starters at the state meet are juniors.

"Now that we have had a taste of it, I have my eyes set on the state title," Skinner said. "They know if they can come in fifth, and saw how many of the other teams were senior-led, we got a shot at it."

"We've got some work to do, go back to the drawing board and get ready for next year. Just like the other program I coach (wrestling), we want to slowly turn golf into a year-round program. That's what I'm trying to do with the girls."

"Our team is pretty humble," Guckian said. "We don't have anyone on the team who thinks they are the shining star or the stud of the team. We all get along great and have fun with each other. We'll have confidence and think we have the capability next year, but we won't be the kind of team that gets overconfident."

Fenton golfers perform well at state

The Fenton varsity golf team wanted to finish in the top 10, but the Tigers aren't upset with 12th place either.

That's where the Tigers finished in the Division 2 state golf meet held at Katke-Cousins Golf Course at Oakland University last weekend.

"I'm happy with 12th place," Fenton coach Kurt Herbstreit said. "Our goal was to be in the top 10, but we are happy with 12th."

The Tigers were tied for ninth after Friday's first day with an 18-hole team score of 376. They followed that performance up with a 397 during some windy conditions on Saturday. The Tigers finished with a two-day 773 team score. Fenton was one of four Flint Metro League teams at the meet, with Swartz Creek placing the best in ninth place (739). Lapeer West edged Fenton for 11th place (766). Flint Kearsley was the final complete Metro League squad at the event, taking 15th place (820).

Holly also had Alexandra Johnson qualify as an individual out of the Metro League.

Muskegon Mona Shores won the state championship with a 328-333-661, while Birmingham Seaholm (688) took home second place.

The Tigers were paced by Samantha Moss' 90-87-177. Meanwhile, Tailer Przybylowicz followed with an 85-100-185. Other Tigers performing both days were Meghan Berry, 101-100-201; Andrea Buterakos, 101-109-210; and Olivia Fabatz, 110-110-220.

"Tailer's first day, she had an 85 and that was a great score," Herbstreit said. "She was in the top 15 after the first day. Sam had a 90 on the first day and was three strokes better the second day. An 87 was a pretty good score on Saturday."

The Tigers found the weather conditions pretty tough during the tourney's second day. Only five of the 15 teams at the event had better second-day scores. The experience could serve the Tigers well, considering a good portion of their top players will return next fall. For example, Fenton's top performers at the state meet, Moss and Przybylowicz are just sophomores.

"You try to tell them that second day is going to be a grind, but as much as you try to prepare them for that, no one had state experience on the team before," Herbstreit said. "And then you find out the weather, and how windy it was. All those things combined to (the second round total)."

Holly's Johnson carded a 96-96-192 during the two-day, 36-hole tourney.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | DAVID TROPPENS

The Division 2 state girls golf meet had a lot of tri-county representation at it. The Fenton girls golf team took 12th place at the event with a 36-hole, two-day score of 773. Samantha Moss (above) led the team with a 36-hole score of 177. Holly's Alexandra Johnson (left) also qualified as an individual, posting a score of 192 at Oakland University's Katke-Cousins Golf Course.

while Sam Moughler was eighth (17:53). The rest of the team included Dave Doyle in 13th (18:07), Scott Schultz in 17th (18:35), Ryan Torok in 20th (18:41.43), Mikey Varacalli in 22nd (18:50) and Austin Golden in 30th (19:07).

"We held five of our varsity group, but the kids that ran for us Saturday were very good," Linden boys cross country coach Clint Lawhorne said. "After running two races within 48 hours, some of the kids needed a break so we could be our best for Wednesday's (Metro League) Championship Meet."

The Metro League's final meet is Wednesday at Vienna Greens Golf Course.
