The major provision of this Act is that employees would be required to contribute 20 percent of their health care premiums, while the city would contribute 80 percent.

City Manager Lynn Markland recommended that City Council exercise its right and exempt itself on principle, since the city's employees were already contributing this amount. "Everyone is paying. We're complying with the law," he said.

Councilwoman Cheryl King asked if the city would have the option to opt out every year and Markland told her it would.

Councilwoman Patricia Lockwood said by the city exercising its right to opt out, it allows the city to determine the benefits for its employees and what is best for the city.

China's JFK Moment

President Obama's decision in 2010 to cut NASA's budget and abandon the Constellation program, which was charged with returning Americans to the moon by 2020 and creating an "extended human presence on the moon," has created a vacuum, which China will attempt to fill.

China has announced an ambitious five-year plan that includes the launch of space laboratories, a manned spaceship to the moon and the creation of its own global satellite navigation system that will almost certainly be used for military purposes.

The announcement comes six months after the United States ended the Space Shuttle program, leaving Russia and China as the only countries now capable of sending humans into space. The U.S. must now use Russian rocketry for visits to the International Space Station. Having "beaten" the Russians to the moon, we must now ask for permission to go where we once boldly went in American-made rockets.

Just as a nation cannot rebuild a gutted military overnight, neither can America reconstitute a space program that has seen many of its scientists and technicians retire or find jobs in other industries.

Who doubts that China will use trips to the moon to build a permanent colony and will operate that colony, at least in part, to further its military goals? China certainly will have the capability through its own GPS system to jam or make mischief with America's global positioning system network. Does anyone think a nation that hacks into U.S. government computers, stealing secrets, would not use a moon base to advance its interests?

Who thinks China lacks the financial resources to fulfill its five-year plan? The Chinese are flush with money we pay them for goods made there and sold here.

The next president should declare a rebirth of the U.S. space program with clear goals, such as a U.S. moon colony and a trip to Mars. A reduction in unnecessary government spending will help pay for it. Other democratic nations might share the financial burden and receive some benefits. We cannot afford to allow China to become the new leader in space exploration.

There will be a space leader in the 21st century. If that leader is China and not the U.S., we will pay a heavy price that will cost us far more than money.

Another legacy for President Obama.

Vic Canever Chevrolet is hosting free American Sign Language Classes, taught by on-site sales associate, Albert Smolinski, who is half-deaf.

Classes are held on the first Saturday of every month, beginning this month. Two classes are being offered, the first at 1 p.m. for children ages 5 to 8, and the second at 2 p.m. for children ages 9 to 13. Each class will be 30 minutes long and will teach the children basic sign language. Children are welcome to drop in to any class, and may come as often as they would like.

Parents can browse the Vic Canever Chevrolet showroom or have automotive service done on their vehicles. Parents are also welcome to sit in on the classes, and will receive a free car wash each time they bring a child to the class.

American Sign Language (ASL) is a language that accredited schools have begun accepting, to meet foreign language requirements. ASL also helps children develop their motor skills at an early age.

Smolinski was born half-deaf, to deaf parents. Sign language was the first language he learned, but English followed soon after, and he has continued to communicate using both languages. Smolinski understands the importance of being able to communicate not only to his parents, but also to others in the deaf community.

Entering Canada after an OWI or other criminal conviction (part one)

Miguel Cabrera is a professional baseball player with the Detroit Tigers. Last season he had both positive and negative accomplishments. On the positive side he was the American League Batting Champion, hit 30 home runs and had 105 runs batted in. He was also named to the all-star team for the sixth time. He is considered one of the best baseball players of the present era.

On the negative side, he was arrested for drunk driving and resisting arrest in Florida on Feb. 16, 2011 and on Jan. 5, 2012, he pleaded no contest to drunk driving. He received one year of probation, a $1,400 fine and a six-month driver's license suspension. He also must attend a DUI school and go to a victim impact panel.

In Mr. Cabrera's case, there was an additional issue, which involves his future ability to enter Canada. This came up because one of the teams the Detroit Tigers play is the Toronto Blue Jays. Mr. Cabrera's lawyer reportedly indicated that his client would still have to deal with this issue.

A couple years ago, I wrote a column about the new requirements for Michigan residents entering Canada, which became effective June 1, 2009. These include having a passport or an enhanced Michigan driver's license.

With this criminal conviction Mr. Cabrera and all others who have OWI or other criminal convictions, may be stopped at the Canadian border and refused entry irrespective of having proper documentation under a Canadian law, which has been in effect since 2001. The required documents now make it easier for authorities to prevent entry to those who are deemed 'inadmissible.'

There are legal procedures in place that still allow those affected the possibility of entering into Canada but there are no guarantees. In next week's column, I will explain the Canadian law and the procedures required for those with criminal convictions to be considered for entry.

FRAUD SCHEME

At 2:30 p.m. on Jan. 6, Fenton police were sent to a department store in the 3700 block of Owen Road to investigate a fraud complaint. Police learned that an 18-year-old male from Flint had attempted to confuse the cashier to have her load $500 onto a green dot cash card, however, the money used to cover the $500 was from another fraudulent cash card. The cashier called the store manager to the register and the manager realized the fraud. The manager escorted the man to customer service, however, he exited the store and fled. Fenton police issued a be-on-the-lookout for the man and his vehicle, which was located on eastbound I-69 by the Genesee County Sheriff's Department. Fenton police took the man into custody and lodged him at the police station pending his arraignment. Lt. Jason Slater said police believe this man, as well as others related to him, might be responsible for other similar incidents.

WE DIDN'T MOVE to the township to get stuck with sidewalks and bike paths. They take your property for them, we're forced to pay for them and maintain them, and then we get sued if someone trips on them. This is country living. If we wanted sidewalks, we'd live in the city. Maybe the township wouldn't need to over-value our property for more tax money if they would just stop with the ignorant ideas.

THIS IS A note to the young person who is not religious but is doing everything they can to be a good person. Congratulations, the world needs more positive young people. And, to all the people condemning that person, how is condemning a young person who is being good, going to show them that Christianity is good? Be nice people.

ALL THIS TALK about God is OK, but I remember what my mother said. She said God helps those who help themselves. She also said to grab the problem you're praying for and shake it until the real problem falls out. God bless everyone.

REGARDING THE POSSIBILITY of 'art' being rented, I would have no objections to that if the streets in Fenton weren't the best friends of the auto repair shops. Statues are a luxury, not a necessity. You can't eat them and you can't even burn them to heat your home. Tell the DDA to check back in a few years.

IF MOST PEOPLE had their way, Brandon Hayes would be swinging from a tree branch and we wouldn't have to read about all the money wasted on a trial.

TO THE PERSON reminding us that the DDA is made up of volunteers: that does not change the fact that cavalierly spending millions of dollars with zero input from the taxpayers who provided the money is ridiculous. Because they place no value on the money, it is spent foolishly on whimsical nonsense like 'Be Closer' and $100,000 signs.

On Monday, six groups of three or four students left the classroom to shoot their first full-length project: a three to four minute video that will include all the different shots they've learned. They use different techniques like 'reverse angle,' by sticking the camera in a closed locker and using a tripod.

Most of the students probably won't make videos for a living after high school, but teacher Nicole Chapman said what they learn can be used elsewhere in life. "This is hands on, and this is active," said Chapman. Students learn leadership and team skills while using technology like a digital video camera, Mac computers and professional video editing software. "They're excited about class," she said.

Before going out and shooting, the groups chose a concept for the video, and made storyboards to illustrate the different shots they would use.

The groups then fanned out across the campus, setting up their cameras and getting their shots, a far cry from taking notes during a lecture.

One group decided to shoot a video based on a funny Christmas commercial. "I love it, I think it's awesome," said Chelsee Allen, 17.

Some students may join digital recording to avoid choir or phys-ed, but not Zach Finkbeiner. "I take it seriously. I focus on it because I feel like I'm going to use it later in life," he said. He was surprised by the technical things he had to learn quickly, like matching exposures and ambient light color between scenes. The class has given him a new appreciation for Hollywood movies.

"You watch a movie and say, 'I know how they did that," said Stryker DeGayner, a member of his group. "It actually makes you do something you're going to use in life."

TRI-COUNTY TIMES I TIM JAGIELO Shelby Bader goes over the story boards for her group video project with Kristen Cody Monday morning at Lake Fenton High School.

sional Kyle Long paused from fiddling with the acited group's camera to comment. "It's my favorite class, all day," he said. "It's work "I think it's but it's still fun."

The footage is due in class on Wednesday. The final deadline will depend on learning the software, Final Cut Pro, so they can edit their shots together.

"I think it's important to keep these elective classes going because it helps us find what we want to do later in life," said Finkbeiner.

Chapman said her students' last assignment will be a compilation of their best individual work. It will show what the students learned from the class, and also showcase the class to prospective students.

The most difficult assignment they'll have is covering a sporting event in March, such as soccer or softball. "That's > very difficult because you really only get one shot at that," Chapman said.

The project will be featured on Channel 99, the local access channel. Chapman said the advanced students shoot these events regularly after school, and upload footage during school hours.

Fenton and Linden high schools also have video production classes.

So far this season, there have been 26 ski days, compared to 43 days last season by this date. "Last year was an exceptional year," admitted Tibbitts. But he's still optimistic about this ski season, noting that it's not so much the lack of snow that's slowing down business, it's the lack of "mood snow" that keeps people away from the ski slopes and other winter pursuits.

"When people don't see snow in their backyard, they tend to forget about skiing," said Tibbitts. "Even with this warm spell and lack of snow, all of our 19 trails are open, groomed and ready for skiers. The 56-degree temperatures last Friday actually made for ideal skiing conditions, especially for beginners. People pay big money to go out to Colorado to ski in the spring with the kind of conditions we had right here over the weekend."

What makes all the difference is Mt. Holly's ability to make its own snow, when temperatures lower to 28 degrees or less. "There's never enough natural snow in southeast Michigan for skiing," said Tibbits. "Most people don't realize that 99 percent of the skiing they do in Michigan, even up north, is on manmade snow. Natural snow in Michigan is too high in humidity to be a fluffy, powdery snow that's ideal for skiing.'

Tibbitts oversees four-man crews who work in 12-hour shifts to build up enough snow for a 3 to 4-foot base, or a maximum of 5-feet. "Even now with all the warm weather we've had, we've got a 3-foot base built up, and we groom it every day during the week and twice a day on Tibbitts has been doing this work now for 34 years and while he'd like to see colder weather in the forecast, he admits it's not the worst it has ever been. "We're doing OK and are still optimistic that winter's going to come," he said. "The businesses I feel sorry for are the ones who depend on the snow and cold, but can't make their own snow."

"It's really affecting us," said Dan Shannon of Shannon Auto Collision in Fenton. "It's not cold enough for mechanical issues with auto batteries or radiators, and there's not much collision work when the weather is this mild." Shannon credits > his longevity in Fenton and his own experience for enabling his business to weather this "non-stormy" season. "We're still keeping busy with our other work, and I haven't had to lay anyone off. Our deer season was very strong even into December, which really helped.

> 'We've had seasons like this before in the 1980s and early 90s, but this one is pretty extreme," added Shannon. "We're going to get our rears kicked pretty soon if the weather doesn't change."

Dale Taylor, at Taylor Hardware in Fenton is sitting on a lot of ice melting products and TORO snow blowers he hasn't sold yet this winter. "We had respectable sales before Christmas to homeowners who were planning ahead for winter," said Taylor. "But there haven't been many weather-related 'reactive' sales this season."

"Sales of snow blowers have been abysmal because of the lack of snow," said Jeff Stone of Sears Hometown Store. "Last year at this time, you couldn't even find a snow blower in stock, it was so busy. At least we've been selling exercise equipment this season.'

Kan Rock Tires in Fenton have sold about half the number of snow tires they usually sell by now. "It's getting serious," said Store Manager Stan Lamroux. "The winter season is our bread and butter. It's what we wait for all year long."

"If you're not snowmobiling by mid-December, you start to lose momentum for the season, especially when dealers start talking about boats in January and February," said Craig Willour, owner of Marine Specialists in Fenton. Willour is spending his time working on boats that he usually doesn't get to until March. Maintaining the fleet of snowmobiles for Mt. Holly Ski Area keeps him busy, too. "I do have some work, just not a lot," he added.

Snowplow professionals like Kyle Hopkins of K & K Lawncare in Linden have only plowed once so far this winter. "This has only happened one other time," said Hopkins. "The good part is that it has given us more time to complete our fall projects and repair lawn equipment for the upcoming season. If it continues this way the whole winter, it will definitely hurt our bottom line, but one bad winter won't put us out of business."

Some residents are wishing the weather would turn around, too, so they could enjoy their recreational winter activities. John Giroux, who lives on Sullivan Lake, just began his ice-fishing hobby four years ago, when he moved on the lake. "Every time there's a thin layer of ice on the lake, it melts right away," said Giroux. A tool and die maker by trade, Giroux says he'd rather spend more of his time fishing than working, and lately, he's been doing much more of the latter.

"I'm waiting, waiting, waiting," he said.

over the long haul, not as a quick fix. As long as your diet reduces your daily caloric intake and is healthy for your heart, you can choose whatever diet plan works for you. Put a stop to emotional eating.

Learn to recognize the emotional triggers that lead you to overeat and respond with healthier choices. Find new ways to de-stress, jumpstart your energy, and reach out to others when you're lonely or bored. Advice: Remember that food is fuel for your body. It isn't a replacement for fun or friendship.

Begin to pay attention to what you eat, savor each bite and choose foods that are nourishing and enjoyable. Stop eating in front of the TV, at your computer or in your car. Advice: Eat slowly, savoring the smells and textures of your food. If your mind wanders, gently return your attention to your food, how it tastes and feels in your mouth.

Advice: Pour a little less cereal into your morning bowl to make room for more blueberries, strawberries, or sliced bananas. You'll still enjoy a full bowl, but

Don't think of any foods as "off limits," but learn to indulge in your favorites by using portion control, combining your treat with a healthy food (think hummus and carrot sticks, with just a few tortilla chips on the side, or a little ice cream with lots of strawberries).

Advice: Remember the difference between snacks and treats. Snacks are healthy food choices enjoyed in-between meals to keep hunger at bay. Treats are occasional, not daily, indulgences.

Take charge of your food environment by setting yourself up for success. Remember that you are in charge of when you eat, how much you eat and what foods are available in your home. Advice: Serve yourself smaller portions.

One easy way to control portion size is by using small plates, bowls, and cups. This will make your portions appear larger. Don't eat out of large bowls or directly from the food container or package, which makes it difficult to assess how much you've eaten.

Drink more water, while eliminating or limiting soft drinks, diet soda, too much coffee or sugary fruit juices.

Advice: Switch to water with lemon, unsweetened iced tea, or carbonated water with a splash of juice.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES I SUBMITTED PHOTO Taking a brisk walk burns calories and improves resting metabolism.

Get plenty of sleep. Lack of sleep has been shown to have a direct link to hunger, overeating, and weight gain. Exhaustion also impairs your judgment, which can lead to poor food choices.

Advice: Aim for about eight hours of quality sleep per night.

Get plenty of exercise by choosing to be active during your day. In addition to finding an activity you enjoy, find other ways to add movement into your daily schedule. Exercise not only burns calories, but can actually improve your resting metabolism.

Advice: Even three 10-minute sessions of exercise every day can improve your physical and mental health. Reduce your levels of stress. Managing stress is all about taking charge — taking charge of your thoughts, your emotions, your schedule, your environment, and the way you deal with problems.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES I SUBMITTED PHOTO Eight hours of quality sleep could help someone create better food decisions.

Advice: The ultimate goal is a balanced life, with time for work, relationships, relaxation, and fun - plus the resilience to hold up under pressure and meet challenges head on.

LF girls cruise past GAC foe Mt. Morris, 69-36

By David Troppens dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789 Apparently the Lake Fenton varsity girls basketball team was in an offensive mindset on Monday night.

The Blue Devils exploded for their biggest offensive performance of the season, defeating Mt. Morris 69-36 during their road Genesee Area Conference Red Division battle Monday.

The Blue Devils were most potent in the second quarter, scoring 25 points. That period made what was a 14-4 first-quarter lead into a 39-15 halftime lead.

But the onslaught didn't stop there. The Blue Devils chipped in another 21 points in the third quarter, taking a 60-25 lead into the final period.

The most points the Blue Devils (3-1, 4-4) scored in a game this season before Monday night's contest was 56 points in a victory against Bridgeport on Nov. 29.

Sidney Scott led the charge. She had a game-high 21 points. She also had a team-best 13 rebounds. But she was just one of three Blue Devils that scored in double-digits. Mackenzie Gottron had 14 points, while Jordan Newman had 12 points. Karlie Dieck chipped in seven points. Debbie Katerberg helped the rebounding cause with 11 boards.

Lake Fenton took advantage of its free throws, making 22-of-31 shots (71 percent) from the charity stripe. Scott made 7-of-8 free throws, while Gottron hit 6-of-8 free throws.

The only Mt. Morris player to score double-digits was Margo Jourbran with 10 points.

Lake Fenton remains one game behind Goodrich in the GAC Red standings.

The Blue Devils return to action at home on Thursday with a home game against the Durand Railroaders.

Fenton back tied with Holly in Metro

► Hickoffs combine for 43 points in Tigers' 68-50 win vs. Bronchos

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789 Fenton — Ever since Dylan and Ryan Hickoff have been on the Fenton varsity boys basketball team, the Tigers have won or shared three straight Flint Metro League titles.

Based on their play Monday night, it's apparent the senior twins want to finish their careers with a fourth.

Dylan Hickoff scored a gamehigh 24 points, while Ryan Hickoff netted 19 points leading the Fenton Tigers to a pretty convincing 68-50 Metro League victory over previously undefeated Holly at Fenton High School on Monday. The Hickoffs did more than score. Ryan Hickoff had five rebounds, five assists and four steals. Meanwhile, Dylan Hickoff had nine rebounds and four assists.

The Tigers spent a good chunk of the first quarter attacking the hoop, getting buckets and getting some of Holly's key players in foul trouble. And after awhile, they shifted their offense to some nice perimeter shooting. The Tigers made six three-pointers, with Dylan Hickoff hitting four of them.

"They played a lot of zone so our coaches stressed attacking and finding the open seams," Dylan Hickoff said. "We knew we would have some open players. (The threes), that's what will come with the ball movement."

The victory puts Fenton (6-1, 7-1) in a tie with Holly (5-1, 5-1) in terms of the loss column in the Metro League race.

"Ryan and Dylan are already signed (for college)," Fenton coach Tim Olszewski said. "Sometime I think people think they are going to coast now. But I think they came out tonight and let people realize they are not done. They are enjoying playing basketball in the high school setting and they want to play well. They both wanted to have good games tonight, which they did."

In a game that fouls were a key part of the story, the Hickoffs were the only true constant on either side. One other constant was the lead. While it bounced around from single-digits and double-digits all night long, it was always Fenton that led.

The only tie came at 2-all on a putback hoop by Holly's Donovan Williams. But then Dylan Hickoff hit a three-pointer off a nice feed from Cory Cox, and Holly never Holly — Holly's and Fenton's girls basketball teams struggled with halves where they both only scored just five points.

But it was the Holly Bronchos that finished on top, remaining within striking distance of the top of the Metro League.

The Lady Bronchos outscored the Tigers 10-2 in the final quarter and 16-5 in the second half to rally for a 21-17 Metro win Monday at Holly High School.

Fenton's last points came with 6:03 left in the final quarter, leading at the time 17-13. Holly scored the last eight points of the game. Holly's Allyssa Copley came up big at crunch time, scoring in the lane and cutting the lead to a basket. Delaney Serra then hit a pair of free throws to tie the game at 17-all with 4:26 left.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES I SCOTT SCHUPBACH

On Saturday, Hipple, a tri-county resident himself, spent a little over an hour at the business establishment, talking with young and old about his career, about the current Detroit Lions and about his book called "Real Men Do Cry," a book about depression and how to beat it.

During that hour, he allowed some Lions fans to have the time of their life.

"It feels like a tailgate," Hipple said while throwing the football during the unseasonably sunny weather around noon on Saturday.

Hipple showed his age. At 54, it took him a few throws to start hitting his tiny-tot targets. But once he was warmed up, one with imagination could envision the 1980s with Hipple as the starting quarterback for the Lions during a key NFC Central game at the Silverdome.

"Good catch," he said to one of the first kids to make a completion in the parking lot. "And you throw the ball well."

But before finishing, the career-long Detroit Lion made sure to mention something about the jersey the child was wearing as well — a Green Bay Packers jersey.

Just over 100 people showed up, talked and took photos with Hipple, many probably shocked by their luck that an ex-Detroit Lions quarterback was there to sign his book and his football cards.

Of course, Hipple's NFL career had a little luck dashed in there as well. First off, it almost didn't get off the ground after high school. Utah State was the only school to offer him a scholarship after his prep career in California.

While there, he rewrote the Aggie record books, finishing his career with over 6,000 passing yards and 34 TD passes. He was named to the Utah State All-Century team as well. Yet, Hipple received little talk when he was selected in the fourth round by the Detroit Lions in 1980.

When I came here, they drafted Billy Sims with the first pick," Hipple said. "I didn't get looked at too much. When I did get my chance to start, it was kind of like a surprise.'

That surprise came during his second year in the NFL, in 1981. He finally got a chance to start a game, against the Chicago Bears during Monday Night Football, no less. And all Hipple put together was one of the greatest performances on MNF history. He led the Lions to a 48-17 victory, completing 14-of-25 passes for 336 yards and four TDs. He also ran for two scores. He remained the starter the rest of the season, posting a 6-4 record in those starts.

'It's hard for me to go back and remember the play-by-play because even then it was such high intensity, my first game and stuff," Hipple said. "The focus was there. But everything seemed to happen so fast. It was like we were in the middle of the third quarter and I thought, 'How did this happen?' Emotionally, it was probably the biggest game indelibly etched into my mind."

Cody Sanders (140) led Lake Fenton, winning all five of his matches by pinfall. Meanwhile, Todd Melick (119) was a perfect 4-0 with four pinfall victories. Jared Corcoran (112), John Barry (130) and Tyler Sanders (152) were all 4-1 on the day.

Melick is on a varsity wrestling team for the first time in his high school career without his older brother Justin. Todd won all four of his matches to improve to 16-3. Two losses came after an injury default at the Genesse County Meet. The only loss on the mat came in the season opening Hartland Tournament. Justin Melick was a state champion last season, and is now a redshirt freshman at Eastern Michigan.

"It is a little different not having (Justin) on the same team," said Todd Melick. "He helps me with some moves when he has the chance to be back from See LF on 16

Fenton 2, KBH United 1: The Tigers got their only goal from Tyler DeLong on a breakaway pass from Hugh Comden.

The Tigers pulled their goalie down the stretch, but couldn't get the gametying goal against the co-op squad from Kearsley, Holly and Brandon.

"We pulled our goalie for the fifth time this season," Fenton coach Jeff Mynatt said. "We had a couple of really good chances to tie it up, but we couldn't make it happen."

Fenton travels to the Polar Palace for a game against the Lapeer co-op program at 5 p.m.

LakeVille 5, Tri-City 2: The Tri-City Chiefs, a co-op hockey squad involving players from Lake Fenton, Linden and Durand, had its most productive offensive game of the season in the loss to LakeVille on Sunday. Tyler Benedict and Jared Peterson scored goals for Tri-City. In net, Thomas Messenger made 17 saves Tri-City lost its first game at Great Lakes Sports City on Saturday, dropping a 13-0 verdict. Messenger made 10 saves, while Kyle Long made six.

inden posts 2-3 record at Adrian Duals

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789 The Linden wrestling program was busy this weekend, having two varsity squads compete in two different events.

The Linden 'A' team traveled to the Adrian Duals, going 2-3. The Linden 'B' team went 1-4 at Burton Bendle.

The 'A' squad defeated Adrian 40-39 on a fifth-criteria tiebreaker, and beat Hudson's 'B' team 39-32.

Cliff Coleman (215/285) went 5-0 on the day, while Alex Neal (145), Johnnie Bates (112), Tyler Satkowiak (215/285) and Chase Gifford (189) all went 4-1. Austin Golden (135) went 3-2.

"Coleman is having a great year," Linden coach Todd Skinner said. "He's doing very well. Chase Gifford is having a great season and so is Alex Neal. All of my seniors are wrestling really tough right now, along with Jeff Fisher.

"Cliff had a really good weekend. He went 5-0 with five pins, so he had a really good day."

The 'B' squad was led by Jeffrey Fisher going 5-0 on the day. Ruben Bailey, Karrah Varner, Shaun LaPain and Matt Smith all had victories.

The Eagles (8-7) host Lapeer West and Swartz Creek for Metro League matches on Wednesday, starting at 5:30 p.m.

"We are kind of not wrestling to our potential right now," Skinner said. "We came out kind of flat this weekend, but we were off three weeks. When we get everyone to their right weight, we are going to be good, but we are still working on getting them there."

Fenton at Wyandotte Invitational

The Tigers had four wrestlers place at the event.

Preston Wetzel (152) and Jacob Wykes (135) placed second. Chase Roney (130) took home a third, and Scott Becker (215) was fifth.

Holly at Lake Orion Team Tournament

The Bronchos went 4-1 at Lake Orion, defeating Port Huron Northern 54-24, Farmington Hills Harrison 51-24, Lake Orion 39-36 and Midland 57-19. Holly lost to Chippewa Hills 42-28.

"We had three JV kids in the lineup, but we wrestled well," Holly coach Don Pluta said.

Mason Cleaver, Tyler Gibson, Anthony Gonzales, Andrew Scott and Shawn Scott posted perfect 5-0 records. Gonzales had five pinfalls to go with his wins. Kyle Pepper and Joel Scheuermann were 4-1.

"It gave us a big lift and it was a great hustle play from Copley," Holly coach David Hall said about Copley's final hoop. "That is the number one thing you just have to do. You just have to keep working harder.

Fenton's Payton Maxheimer had a steal with 42 seconds left and the Tigers trailing by 4. However, Copley blocked a pair of Fenton shots in the last 21 seconds and the Tigers fired up two more shots that missed at the end.

"I play in the summer with Hannah Evo in AAU and I know she can shoot," Copley said. "I went for the block and got it. We really wanted that win. Our shots were not falling in the first half, but we just kept playing hard."

Of Holly's 21 points, 15 came from attacking the paint. Copley had eight points and seven rebounds. She came off the bench and scored four of Holly's first fve points.

Fenton took its biggest lead of the game at 14-5 to start the second half. However, Holly's Lauren Maher hit a jumper ending the third quarter, cutting the lead to 15-11.

"We didn't panic," Hall said. "We made a couple of steals, had some layups after turnovers, and just had a good team effort. We took 18 shots in the first half. That's pretty normal, the shots just were not falling."

As the game went on, Holly's offense got better. The Bronchos scored just one point in the first quarter, but scored a game-high 10 in the fourth. Meanwhile, in the 200 freestyle (2:01.99) to place second in the 200 freestyle. "The score was not indicative of how close the meet was. The 50 free, 100 free and 400 free relays were decided by less than a second from first to fourth," Fenton coach Brad Jones said. "Unfortunately, we were not at the front

Fenton scored a team-high seven points in the first and then never scored more than five in a period after that. Fenton had no player score more than four points.

The Bronchos trailed just 9-7 after a three-pointer by Isaac Casillas, but it was answered by a Ryan Hickoff assist on a three-pointer by Cox. That trey sparked a 9-2 run, giving the Tigers an 18-9 lead after one quarter. The Tigers spent the rest of the game flirting with a blowout, only to have Holly usually respond with a run that put the game back into range. Fenton led 36-22 after a converted free throw by Andrew Olzewski with 1:53 left in the half, but Holly capped the half with a converted free throw by Blake Ordiway, a driving layup by Jared Plawski and then a Plawski dish to Ordiway for a layup, putting the Bronchos back to within 36-27 at the half.

In the second half, the Tigers usually led by six to 10 points, but there was one exciting juncture. Fenton coach Tim Olszewski was called for a technical, arguing a charge. Holly's Casillas hit a free throw and then Plawski hit a layup, cutting Fenton's lead to just 45-42 with just over one minute left in the third quarter.

But the technical seemed to inspire Fenton. The Tigers roared to a 7-0 run to end the quarter, capped by a Cox threepointer, and took a 52-42 lead into the fourth quarter.

Holly never got any closer than 52-45, that coming after a Casillas three-poiner. However, Ryan Hickoff and Cox responded with back-to-back layups, putting the gap back to double-digits. Holly never threatened again.

The Tigers pressured the Bronchos' interior forcing Holly's Nic Stoll into three quick fouls. He fouled out only playing five minutes. The Bronchos took some charges, but never really could cope with the Tigers when they attacked the bucket, resulting in a 19-for-31 night for Fenton at the charity stripe. Holly mustered just 6-of-11 at the line.

"There are some good things we can take out of this game. Toward the end of the first half, we had three freshmen in there when we cut the lead," Holly coach Lance Baylis said. "Credit to them. ... The Hickoffs played a great game. They had tremendous stamina."

Cox had a big game for Fenton, scoring 16 points, while grabbing nine rebounds and dishing two assists. Austin Hopkin, who fouled out, led Holly with 13 points.

Gold and Silver Coins Selling for Highest Prices in Over 30 Years Due to Weak Economy and It's Happening Right Here in Flint & Fenton!

By KEN MCINTOSH

STAFF WRITER

ICCA will be placing ads in newspapers, radio and running television spots this week asking people to bring in any old silver and gold coins made before 1970. Those that bring in their coins will be able to speak with collectors one on one and have their coins looked at by a specialist. With the help of these ICCA members, offers will be made to those that have coins made before 1970. Offers will be made based on silver or gold content and the rarity of the coins. All coins made before 1970 will be examined and purchased including gold coins, silver coins, silver dollars, all types of nickels and pennies. Those that decide to sell their coins will be paid on the spot.

If you are like a lot of people you might have a few old coins or even a coffee can full lying around. If you have ever wondered what they are worth now might be your chance to find out and even sell them if you choose. They could be worth a lot according to the International Coin Collectors Association also known as ICCA. Collectors will pay a fortune for some coins and currency for their collections. If it is rare enough, one coin could be worth over $100,000 accordina to Eric Helms, coin collector and ICCA member. One ultra rare dime, an 1894S Barber, sold for a record $1.9 million to a collector in July of 2007. While that is an extreme example, many rare and valuable coins are stashed away in dresser drawers or lock boxes around the country. The ICCA and its collector members have organized a traveling event in search of all types of coins and currency. Even common coins can be worth a significant amount due to the high price of silver and gold, says Helms. Washington quarters and Roosevelt dimes can be worth many times their face value. Recent silver markets have driven the price up on common coins made of silver. Helms explains that all half dollars, quarters and dimes made before 1965 contain 90% silver and are sought after any time silver prices rise. Right now it's a sellers market he said.

The rarest coins these collectors are looking for include $20, $10, $5 and $2 1/2 gold coins and any coin made before 1850. These coins always bring big premiums according to the ICCA. Silver dollars are also very sought after nowadays.

> Also Buying Antiques

War Memorabilia Costume Jewelry Guitars Other types of items the ICCA will be purchasing during this event include U.S. currency, gold bullion, investment gold, silver bars, silver rounds, proof sets, etc. Even foreign coins are sought after and will be purchased.

Also at this event anyone can sell their gold jewelry, dental gold or anything made of gold on the spot. Gold is currently trading at Record Highs. Bring anything you think might be gold and the collectors will examine, test and price it for free. If you decide to sell, you will be paid on the spot – it has been an unknown fact that coin dealers have always paid more for jewelry and scrap gold than other jewelers and pawn brokers.

So whether you have one coin you think might be valuable or a large collection you recently inherited, you can talk to these collectors for free. If you're lucky you may have a rarity worth thousands. Either way there is nothing to lose and it sounds like fun!
