Connor Sweeney, 18, of Fenton browses the fireworks stand near the Chase Bank parking lot on Silver Parkway in Fenton Thursday afternoon. He's excited about being able to buy actual fireworks this year because of a new Michigan law. Some of the revenue is supposed to go toward training firefighters, as well as an inspection fee for local municipalities. Fire chief Bob Cairnduff said he hasn't seen funds yet.

SMART SOLUTIONS

1 Laundering bold colored clothing

When laundering bold colored clothing for the first time, toss one tablespoon of salt in to the washing machine. The chloride in salt seals the pigment into fibers so colors won't run or bleed.

2 Transporting knives

Toss a few old wine corks into your picnic basket, where they will come in handy when you need to transport paring knives. Simply make a vertical slit down the length of two corks and slide the blade into the openings. The makeshift sheath will prevent the sharp knife from poking into anything and keeps fingers safe.

► Community action agency works to give a boost to those in need

By Tim Jagielo

For Holly residents struggling in a variety of ways, Oakland Livingston Human Services Agency (OLHSA) is there. "Our mission at OLHSA is that we help senior, disabled and low income residents so they can become more self sufficient," said director of energy services Joan Leshley.

At its core, OLHSA is a community action agency. "We help be the voice for social change that diminishes the causes and effects of poverty," she said. The idea is to help families become self sufficient. In essence, OLHSA picks up where struggling residents leave off — they get a hand up, not a hand out.

OLHSA is funded through state and federal dollars, and donors. "We're always seeking and searching for additional grant money," said Leshley.

The organization is a type of services clearing house for residents in need. "I don't think there's anyone else out there

Random life observations

The Food Stamp Program administered by the Federal Government proudly boasts that it is distributing the greatest amount of free meals and food stamps in history. Meanwhile, I just spent a week at Custer National Park in South Dakota where there are hundreds of signs that say in large print: "PLEASE DO NOT FEED THE ANIMALS." Underneath that, in smaller print, it says "They will grow dependent on handouts and will not learn to take care of themselves." Maybe it's just me, but...?

Why do toasters even have that setting that burns everything to a crisp?

Why do we spend billions of dollars on a

"Don't Drink and Drive" campaign while allowing drive-through liquor stores?

Why do we say "bye bye" but not "hi hi"?

Don't we all keep some numbers in our cell phones just so we know not to answer when certain people call?

My number one rule for all guys: Never eat a banana in public.

Why is it that most men focus so much on their handshake that they forget the person's name they are meeting. From now on I'm stating my name, then getting the other person's name, then shaking hands. "Hi, I'm Foster? You are Sheldon? Got it. Now, let's shake."

Village 2011-12 budget $48,000 short

►Healthcare costs $100,000 more than expected

By Tim Jagielo

tjagiello@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

Holly — Village Clerk Cathrene Behrens and Manager Jerry Walker asked the village council for $48,000 at the regular council meeting on Tuesday, to make up fiscal year-end short falls in the current village budget. The village needs the funds to close-out the 2011-12 budget, just as the 2012-13 budget was passed.

"Healthcare costs really hit us hard this year," said Behrens, with the cost running $100,000 higher than expected. Behrens said an increase in permits helped to dull the unexpected cost — but was not nearly enough to close the gap. The village projected $2,966,000 in expenses, but requires $2,929,000.

The council agreed unanimously to amend the budget to provide the funds. "We have to do what we have to do," said President Jeff Miller. The vote passed 7-0, with some members, such as Jackie Campbell casting their vote grudgingly.

Manager Jerry Walker and Behrens asked for $48,445 out of the capital improvement fund to balance the budget as required by law. The Village of Holly's capital improvement fund has taken a beating, with the 2012-13 budget pulling $13,176 to pass a balanced budget. After the $48,445 is taken out, there will be about $12,000 left, said Behrens.

The discussion caused hand-wringing on the council and murmurs to ripple through the audience at the idea of more funds being taken out of capital improvement funds.

Behrens assured the council that they would continue to look for ways to make the money back. They've been on a spending freeze since January.

Summary

►Village administration has asked for $48,445 to close up a budget gap for the 2011-12 budget year, before it ends soon. It will be taken out of capital improvement funds.

Fourth of July: deadliest day for driving

►Parents should be good role models, obey laws too

Summer is supposed to be a time of celebration for teens and their families with prom, graduation and college on the horizon. Unfortunately, new analysis of crash data from the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety (IIHS) shows that July Fourth is the deadliest day for teens on the road, and is just as deadly for the motorists that will be driving alongside them.

Based on the latest available data, IIHS reports that more than 800 people were killed on July 4 from 2006-2010. And if the projections remain true this year, an average of 140 people will lose their lives on the Fourth of July due to car crashes. Holiday traffic-related deaths claimed 101 lives in Michigan in July 2010 alone.

July trends as one of deadliest months on the road for all drivers.

Teens accounted for nearly 10 percent of the fatalities that occur on July 4 and are particularly susceptible to fatal distracted driving incidents. Research from The Allstate Foundation found that 49 percent report that texting is their biggest distraction behind the wheel. In the U.S., car crashes are the number one cause of death for ages 1-34, with teens crashing four times more often than any other age group.

"These tragedies are compounded by the fact that many crashes are preventable," stated Gary Heslinga, Michigan state leader for Allstate. "Driver error, speeding and distractions are the main causes of crashes, and seemingly simple activities such as switching radio stations or interacting with friends can significantly impair a teen's or adult's ability to react quickly to changing traffic conditions."

"Staying focused on the road, wearing seat belts and following the speed limit and other road rules are simple steps we can all take this July Fourth to make sure that we return home safely."

Fenton Police Chief Rick Aro said he believes July can be a bad month, although Fenton City's numbers do not necessarily correspond with the national numbers. He said this is most likely because the city has such a low number of fatal and serious injury accidents.

Increased traffic and the recent change in the motorcycle helmet law could increase the number of crashes during the summer travel months.

Aro believes that an increased number of drivers on the road for holiday and vacation travel factor into the numbers. "I think the recent change in our motorcycle helmet law will also add to the totals," he said.

Although Aro does not plan to have additional patrols on duty during the holiday, the officers will be assigned to patrol and not performing other non-essential duties that take them off the road.

Currently, Congress as a part of the Highway Transportation Bill's reauthorization is considering stronger teen driving laws, referred to as Graduated Driver Licensing (GDL). GDL policies have been shown to reduce traffic fatalities by as much as 40 percent in the states where they have been adopted. Additionally, recent research from The Allstate Foundation's License to Save report found that comprehensive GDL laws could save an estimated 2,000 lives and $13.6 billion annually.

Parents in particular can take simple steps to help their teens be safer on the road:

FOR PARENTS:

- Talk to your teen early and often. Discuss the risks and responsibilities of driving with your child at a young age and keep talking to your teen before, during and after the licensing process.
- Don't rush the training process. Just because teens have a permit or license doesn't mean they are ready for every driving condition. By easing into the training process, you'll help ensure you and your teen will be ready for any situation.
- Understand your state's laws. GDL laws are minimum standards that can help keep teens safer on the road; however, the more that parents are involved in their teen's driving experience, the more likely they will be a safer driver and passenger.
- To help educate parents and teens about the safety measures that keep drivers protected, The Allstate Foundation created a new free Parent-Teen Driving Agreement. The agreement can help parents and their teens make safer decisions when they get behind the wheel and when they ride as passengers with their friends.
- Practice what you preach. Be a positive role model when you're behind the wheel. Your teen is more likely to be a calm and courteous driver, wear a seat belt and follow the rules of the road if they see you do the same.

Handler recovering after shooting K-9 partner that bit him

►Oakland County Sheriff said incident is both sad and uncommon

By Ryan Tackabury
news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department lost a four-legged member of the department last month in an unfortunate set of circumstances that required the dog to be put down by his handler.

The K-9 dog, named Gunner, was a 5-year-old purebred German Shepherd. After showing signs of serious aggression, Gunner was taken to the veterinarian to determine the source of the aggression and a way to treat it.

It was at the veterinarian's office when Gunner lunged at his handler's face. The handler was able to block the attack with his forearm, but was forced to use his firearm to protect himself after the dog refused any commands to stop attacking. The dog was hospitalized, but later died.

K-9 dogs are able to assist the sheriff's department in many ways. "We use them for a number of things. We have different K-9s with different specialties," said Oakland County Sheriff Michael Bouchard said. The dogs can be trained to smell explosives, narcotics, and to pick up the smells of people, even in incredibly difficult circumstances.

"They have capabilities far beyond what we could do without them," Bouchard said.

The handler is doing well now, though he was hospitalized for two days, having suffered puncture wounds and had received several stitches.

This type of incident is not common. "It is very, very unusual. In all of my police work I have never heard of such a thing," Bouchard said.

The department typically purchases the dogs when they are 2-years old, and they undergo training with their handler. The handlers and their dogs are not only partners in work, but they go home to live together as part of a family. Bouchard said that a handler and their dog become very close.

"It was very upsetting to lose his partner," said Bouchard of the handler.

"It is very, very unusual. In all of my police work, I have never heard of such a thing."

Police&Fire report

LOOSE DOG ATTACKS DOG ON LEASH

The owner of a pit bull dog was cited for allowing his dog to run at large, after it attacked a smaller dog, being walked on a leash in the village of Holly. Police were dispatched to the area of North Saginaw and Hubble streets on a report of a dog attacking another dog on June 26. Apparently, a business owner's two dogs ran out when he opened up a large overhead door. The 35-year-old man from Holly admitted to police that his dog was the aggressor. The dog that was attacked was treated at a nearby veterinary clinic. The owner of the pit bull said he would pay for any vet bills for the other dog. Police learned that neither of the man's two dogs were registered with the state. Police contacted Oakland County Animal Control to advise them of the attack.

Council approves two union contracts

►City council reaches agreement with patrol officers and deputy administrators

By Ryan Tackabury

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Fenton — On Monday the Fenton City Council approved two union contracts, one for patrol officers and another for the city's deputy administrators.

The new contract for the deputy administrators contract retroactively applies pay freezes for the years 2010 and 2011, while seeing a 2 percent pay raise starting in July, and an additional 1.5 percent in 2013. Wage negotiations will re-open afterwards for 2014. Holiday pay time will decrease from double-time to time-and-a-half.

The contract also places a cap on sick days of 65 which had not been in place before. The agreement also provides four personal days, one per pay period that can be taken after providing sufficient notice ahead of time.

The retirement plans will remain the same for current employees, though there will be changes in place for new employees hired after July.

The patrol officers and dispatchers will see a wage increase of 2 percent starting this July. A further increase of 1.5 percent will take place in 2013, and another pay increase of one percent will occur in 2014.

"Both contracts have been ratified by the unions and have been approved by the city council," said city manager Lynn Markland.

Current employees have a rider on their retirement plan that provides a 2.5 percent increase each year in their retirement. New employees hired after July 1 will no longer have this rider, though current employees will see no change.

"Both contracts have been ratified by the unions and have been approved by the city council."

Governor signs 'Dominick's Law'

►Penalties for child abuse strengthened

By Sharon Stone

sstone@tctimes.com; 810-433-6786

Gov. Rick Snyder today signed legislation known as "Dominick's Law" which strengthens penalties for child abuse in Michigan and adds penalties for when abuse is committed in front of another individual.

The bills, sponsored by state Reps. Joseph Graves and Matt Lori, are in memory of Dominick Calhoun, a 4-year old from Argentine Township who was beaten to death in 2010, in the presence of his older brother.

"Today we strengthen child abuse penalties in Michigan and honor Dominick Calhoun's memory while making

"We are always going to be healing and still I cry every day but I do know we are going to make a difference with this law."

Rick Calhoun
Dominick Calhoun's grandfather

Michigan a safer place for children to grow up," said Graves (R-Argentine Township). "While nothing will bring Dominick back, he will forever be remembered for helping protect all Michigan children from child abuse and that will not be forgotten."

Nearly a dozen family and friends of Dominick Calhoun were in attendance Tuesday at the bill signing in Lansing.

House Bills 5562 and 5563, now Public Acts 194 and 195 of 2012, establish penalties for committing child abuse in the presence of another child, which was not previously considered a component of the crime.

"Child abuse will not be tolerated in Michigan and that became official today with the signing of Dominick's Law," said Lori (R-Constantine). "Giving law enforcement the tools to properly punish child abuse is the best way we can honor Dominick's memory, and hopefully bring closure to the Calhoun family."

Rick Calhoun, Dominick's grandfather from Linden and one of the first people to arrive at the apartment where Dominick was living in Argentine Township, said the day the governor signed the bill was a joyous day for the family.

"We've seen the biggest heart break you can imagine, turn into something so big," Calhoun said. "We had a huge amount of support to get this done and I think Dominick would be proud of us all."

"We are always going to be healing and still I cry every day but I do know we are going to make a difference with this law."

"My grandson's name will live forever in our hearts and in the laws of Michigan."

Under the new laws, penalties for first- and second-degree child abuse also are strengthened, creating additional penalties for additional offenses of child abuse.

MAKING SENSE OF INVESTING

Should You Take A Pension Buyout?

Have you recently received a pension buyout offer? If so, you need to decide if you should take the buyout, which could provide you with a potentially large lump sum, or continue accepting your regular pension payments for the rest of your life. It's a big decision.

Clearly, there's no "one size fits all" answer — your choice needs to be based on your individual circumstances. So, as you weigh your options, you'll need to consider a variety of key issues, including the following:

- Estate considerations — Your pension payments generally end when you and/or your spouse dies, which means your children will get none of the money. But if you were to roll the lump sum into an Individual Retirement Account (IRA), and you don't exhaust it in your lifetime, you could still have something to leave to your family members.

- Taxes — If you take the lump sum and roll the funds into your IRA, you control how much you'll be taxed and when, based on the amounts you choose to withdraw and the date you begin taking withdrawals. (Keep in mind, though, that you must start taking a designated minimum amount of withdrawals from a traditional IRA when you reach age 70½. Withdrawals taken before age 59½ are subject to taxes and penalties.) But if you take a pension, you may have less control over your income taxes, which will be based on your monthly payments.

- Inflation — You could easily spend two or three decades in retirement — and during that time, inflation can really add up. To cite just one example, the average cost of a new car was $7,983 in 1982; 30 years later, that figure is $30,748, according to TrueCar.com. If your pension checks aren't indexed for inflation, they will lose purchasing power over time. If you rolled over your lump sum into an IRA, however, you could put the money into investments offering growth potential, keeping in mind, of course, that there are no guarantees.

- Cash flow — If you're already receiving a monthly pension, and you're spending every dollar you receive just to meet your living expenses, you may be better off by keeping your pension payments intact. If you took the lump sum and converted it into an IRA, you can withdraw whatever amount you want (as long as you meet the required minimum distributions), but you'll have to avoid withdrawing so much that you'll eventually run out of money.

- Confidence in future pension payments — From time to time, companies are forced to reduce their pension obligations due to unforeseen circumstances. You may want to take this into account as you decide whether to continue taking your monthly pension payments, but it's an issue over which you have no control. On the other hand, once your lump sum is in an IRA, you have control over both the quality and diversification of your investment dollars. However, the trade-off is that investing is subject to various risks, including loss of principal. Before selecting either the lump sum or the monthly pension payments, weigh all the factors carefully to make sure your decision fits into your overall financial strategy. With a choice of this importance, you will probably want to consult with your financial and tax advisors. Ultimately, you may find that this type of offer presents you with a great opportunity — so take the time to consider your options.

Practicing patriotism

King Solomon's call for moral and spiritual integrity by citizens for the benefit of their nation may seem out of date, but his principle of practicing patriotism by doing right needs to be stressed and heeded: "Righteousness exalts a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people" (Proverbs 14:34).

The history of both the United States and Canada prove the importance of spiritual awakenings to turn the tide of moral and spiritual decay and usher in good times.

In 1727, 24-year-old Jonathan Edwards, a recent graduate of Yale was called to assist his grandfather, the pastor of the Congregational Church of Northampton, Mass. Two years after his move to Northampton, his grandfather died and young Edwards became the pastor of one of the largest, wealthiest, and most cultured churches in New England.

It isn't likely this congregation expected their young pastor to be the key personality in what historians call America's first great awakening, but that is exactly what happened. Jonathan Edwards and others prayed earnestly for a great moral and spiritual change in their community and in 1735, their prayers were answered.

Edwards wrote that scarcely a person in the town, old or young, was left unchanged. This awakening spread from town to town and from county to county. By 1740, the moral tone of New England was lifted and an estimated 50,000 people had been added to the churches.

In his book, "The Narrative," James A. Stewart made a significant observation about this great spiritual awakening, writing that it was not the outcome of a highly organized effort, but the answer to the prayers of a faithful pastor and his church.

The next and perhaps the greatest spiritual awakening affecting the United States and Canada took place in 1858. There were three important ingredients in its development: The Dutch Reformed Church appointed Jeremiah Lanphier, a businessman, to do missionary work in Lower Manhattan; a physician, Dr. Walter Palmer and his wife, Phoebe, began holding evangelistic meetings in Hamilton, Ontario, and a ship loaded with gold being brought to New York from California went down in a storm, causing the closing of many banks and a financial panic.

Jeremiah Lanphier often became weary in his work among discouraged people, but found he could draw strength to go on through prayer. Thinking others might be helped through prayer during those difficult times, he invited others to join him and soon thousands were meeting to pray.

In his book, "The Fervent Prayer," J. Edwin Orr wrote, "It is impossible not to connect the three events. From tiny springs of prayer in New York and preaching in Hamilton came a flood soon to envelop the world."

During these tough times, Solomon's call should apply to us all.

The way we live affects our country so why not choose right and reject wrong?

It's another way to practice patriotism.

More importantly, it's the right thing to do!

Speadi is 'newest and coolest' way to save money

► New app allows business owners to create coupons and deals on the fly

By William Axford

news@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

Speadi, a new phone app created by entrepreneurs in Fenton, attracted more than 1,000 users at last weekend's launch at VG's. Co-owner Bo Shumaker describes Speadi as the next evolution to other coupon companies like Groupon.

"The deals we provide are in real time and we can shape demand as far as product and time," Shumaker said. "It's instantaneous, it's live and it's right now."

The free app allows vendors to create deals whenever they want for a set time. In turn, customers who have the app are alerted about deals specific to their interests. There's no paper or printouts as everything is done via smartphone. Fenton Winery and Brewery, Powerhouse Gym, VG's, Mancino's Pizza and Grinders, and Uncle Ray's Dairyland are a few of the dozens of local businesses offering deals through Speadi.

On the business end of the app, running a promotion costs $9.99. Businesses can choose how many people can redeem the coupon and how long the deal will run, with a three hour maximum time limit. Coupons can even be specific to different types of customers by offering deals like "10 percent off to customers wearing Fenton Tigers apparel" or "free coffee for senior citizens." The app lets businesses attract customers during slow hours or clear excess inventory when needed.

"The app is spreading pretty quickly. We're excited what it could do for Fenton," Shumaker said.

Shumaker is hoping the business will eventually become international. The company headquarters will remain in Fenton and expects to create local jobs as the business grows.

To get the app, visit Speadi.com and swipe the QR code for either the iPhone or Android phone. For businesses looking to create deals, download the app and sign up. After Speadi calls and verifies, the business can start creating deals whenever they want to.

Students' artwork to be displayed

By Sharon Stone

Artwork created by Amelia Farley, a soon-to-be second grader at Linden Elementary School, has been selected to be on display for a year at the Michigan Department of Education Student Art Exhibit.

This recognition comes after her art teacher Carmyn Sprague submitted the piece into the regional art show for the Michigan Art Education Association. Amelia's artwork made it through the regional and state level, where the top 100 art pieces from elementary, middle and high school students were chosen.

Sprague said the artwork was then selected for State Exhibitions, including the Michigan Department of Education Student Art Exhibition. This exhibit features 15 pieces from kindergarten to 12th grade from around the state. The exhibit runs through April 2013.

"Amelia is a student that I have had since young-fives who shows a unique understanding of art concepts and an advanced ability for her age," said Sprague.

Amelia Farley, a second-grade student at Linden Elementary School, holds her artwork that will be on display at the Michigan Department of Education Student Art Exhibit.

"I always look forward to see what she will come up with next. I feel really lucky to work with all the students I have. I believe that Linden schools has a strong K-12 fine arts program and we have some very talented kids."

Danielle Emerson, a junior at Linden High School, also had artwork that made it to the top exhibit. Her art teacher, Gemma Keech, submitted the piece.

prompting the judge to bind the cases over to circuit court.

Williamson remains lodged at the Genesee County Jail, however, Lloyd posted bond and was released. They are both scheduled to be back in court on July 16 for their circuit court arraignments.

The teens were each arraigned on one count of breaking and entering with intent to commit a larceny, a 10-year felony.

Genesee County Prosecutor David Leyton, said the teens allegedly broke into Smoker's Hub just before 4 a.m. on Saturday, June 16 to steal K2 Spice, commonly referred to as synthetic marijuana. Fenton police responded to the commercial burglary alarm.

Officer Bill Andringa, who responded to the call, spotted a person in the grassy field behind the business and recognized the teens' bicycles. He intercepted the teens on their way home and took them into custody. A bag containing K2 Spice, cigarettes and a water bong, reportedly stolen from the smoke shop, were seized from the teens.

Andringa knew the teens from when he arrested them for smoking K2 Spice in one of Fenton schools' parking lots earlier in the week. They were issued a court appearance ticket for being on school property without authorization. He had also spoken to them about staying away from K2, just hours before he responded to the burglary alarm.

Leyton has said these dangerous synthetic drugs have become more prevalent locally and across the country and can result in unpredictable, violent behavior.

Gov. Rick Snyder signed a bill on June 19 banning bath salts and synthetic marijuana in Michigan. The two drugs have been classified as dangerous by the Michigan Department of Community Health (MDCH) and have caused deaths amongst users.

the barbeque grill is still permitted, but grillers are urged to use caution.

This area is not the only area experiencing hot and dry conditions. A massive wildfire out west continues to rage. It has forced more than 32,000 residents to be evacuated from their homes in the path of the Waldo Canyon wildfire. The Air Force Academy has also been evacuated.

Cairnduff said his department has already responded to some grass fires and they expect to be alerted to more with little prospect of rain. On Wednesday, around 2:30 the fire department responded to a grass fire on Jennings Road, just north of the Silver Lake Park. Cairnduff said the fire was caused by a spent bottle rocket. The owner of the device could not be located.

OPEN BURNS BANNED IN ROSE AND HOLLY TOWNSHIPS

Effective Thursday, June 28, the North Oakland County Fire Authority (NOCFA) is issuing a moratorium in Rose Township and Holly Township on all open burning. Due to the current drought, high temperatures, low humidity and the extended forecast, which shows little chance of rain, outdoor burning is suspended until further notice. Small campfires will be allowed if they are located in some type of pit. NOCFA Fire Chief Jeremy Lintz is urging all residents to please use good judgment if they choose to have a campfire. "We are also asking that any residents using fireworks to please be aware of the dry conditions and use discretion when lighting them off," said Lintz. "With these types of weather conditions it only takes a small smoldering ember to start a fire."

The buck stops here.

LF's Newman continues to break records

► Blue Devils' super sophomore becomes Tri-County's Female Soccer Player of the Year

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Jordan Newman loves a lot of sports.

She plays on the Lake Fenton basketball team and enjoys playing whatever sport she can at a given time.

But one has her heart a bit more than the others. And that's soccer. And for area foes who face her, that's not a good thing.

Because in just two seasons with the Lake Fenton varsity girls soccer team, she's already collected 96 goals and assisted another 23. So it's pretty obvious why she loves soccer the most.

"I love all sports, but soccer came natural to me," Newman said. "That was my true good sport, I stuck with it and I love it."

"Through the years I've met a lot of people, and I just enjoy the experiences I've gotten from soccer, and being at the highest level you can be."

On the high school stage, the level doesn't come much higher than where Newman plays.

She earned All-Genesee Area Conference honors, First-Team All-State honors and now one more award. She's the Tri-County Times' Female Soccer Player of the Year.

One person who loves seeing Newman on the pitch is her high school coach, Lenny Glasstetter.

"She's an outstanding player," Glasstetter said. "She's a scoring threat every time she touches the ball."

"Most of the time in our league teams double- and triple-team her. They don't want her to score. They want to stop her. But they can't stop her."

That's been the case the last two seasons. Newman opened her prep career a year ago, scoring 40 goals and dishing six assists as a freshman. The goal total was a new school record. Just trying to get back to those numbers would've been impressive in itself during her sophomore year, but Newman did much more than that. She broke her own record, scoring 56 goals and dishing off 17 assists this season. And in the process, she led the Blue Devils to an easy GAC title, with Lake Fenton never really being seriously threatened by any conference team.

Newman, who will be a junior in the fall, has a See NEWMAN on 18A

Fenton's Readman earns full ride to Indiana Wesleyan

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Eric Readman has a lot to be happy for these days.

He's enjoying the summer between his junior and senior prep years at Fenton High School, and yet, he's already gotten his new collegiate basketball home figured out.

Readman recently signed a full-ride basketball scholarship with National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) member Indiana Wesleyan to continue his basketball career. And he's done it two months before starting his senior year.

"It feels good to get it out of the way," Readman said. "It's nice to know where I am going."

Where Readman is going is one of the top NAIA programs in the nation. The program made it to the NAIA Elite Eight three times in the last seven seasons under coach Greg Tonagel, and experienced an interesting up-and-down season last year. The squad won its first nine games, and was ranked No. 1 in the nation at one time. However, the squad finished the year 21-12, and lost in the opening round of the tournament. The team has won four straight Mid-Central Collegiate Conference titles as well.

"The program is a really good program," Readman said. "I'm looking to win a national championship, so I think it's a good place to go."

Fenton coach Tim Olszewski is pleased with Readman's decision.

"I think it's a very good fit. They've been watching him for awhile," Olszewski said. "He loves the school and the coaching staff is top rate. They are class people."

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | SCOTT SCHUPBACH

Fenton's Eric Readman (right), who will be a senior next school year, has already signed to play college basketball at Indiana Wesleyan during the 2013-14 school year.

He can study what he wants to study and he'll be able to contribute on the team immediately. It's one of the elite NAIA programs in the nation. It's like one of the Dukes or North Carolinas in the NAIA. They are the best. It's a great opportunity for him to play basketball."

Readman played his first year of varsity ball for Fenton last season, averaging double-digits points. He also made what was probably the biggest bucket for Fenton basketball this century when he hit a jump shot that defeated Clarkston in double-overtime, earning the Tigers a district championship.

"I've known since the eighth grade that I wanted to work hard towards this dream," Readman said. "I'm working all the time."

"Everyone saw the shot, but people don't see the thousands of hours he's put in," Olszewski said. "It doesn't just happen. This is what happens when you commit yourself to hard work and don't make excuses."

Dribble stick aiding Tigers' ball handling, helping them win games

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Fenton — If the Fenton varsity boys basketball team is able to add a fifth straight Metro League title to their mantle, or maybe even a second straight district crown to it, they'll have hard work to credit for it.

But they may also want to put something else on the mantle near that trophy. That other thing could be a piece of equipment called the "Dribble Stick."

In today's competitive prep athletic world, working hard isn't always enough. Teams are always looking to find ways to get better and create more efficient workouts with their time used preparing for the season.

And, for Fenton coach Tim Olszewski, the Dribble Stick, an item designed by former Fenton middle school and varsity assistant coach Luke Lloyd, is one of those necessary pieces of equipment.

The Dribble Stick is engineered to be a fun way to help athletes improve their technique and confidence while dribbling the ball. The stick has a solid rubber base with an aluminum center post connected to it. On it are four fully adjustable arms. Depending on the arms' positioning, a player can use it to simulate a defender extending their arms, use it to dribble a ball below an arm or above one or use the arms near the ground for a variety of footwork skills. During summer training, the Tigers have used it each of the last two years. And, who better to teach them how to use it than its creator, Lloyd. The Fenton program has purchased several to be used within its organization. Lloyd spent some of Monday, as he will other days this summer, running drills with it.

"I needed an easier way to teach kids to dribble without getting down," Lloyd said. "I found myself constantly getting down, trying to show them different things."

"We use it for their agilities and their pretty good shot at making more than school records though. At 96 goals, she's already well ahead of the pace needed to break what was the career goal scoring record in the state of Michigan before the 2011-12 girls soccer season was played. That record is held by Newaygo's Jaleen Dingleline (2004-07), who scored 168 goals in her career. If she stays healthy, Newman is on pace to break that record early in her senior season. But that's not entirely what Newman is worried about.

"It's not all about setting records. It's about playing as a team, and all the records are just a bonus," Newman said. "When I set that record my freshman year, I kind of thought individually let's try to break it every year if I can. It's just a personal boost to keep me going."

Glasstetter said Newman's goal scoring rubs off on the rest of the team as well. And he might be right. While Newman scored 56 goals, more tallies than many high school teams for an entire season, it only represented just over half of the goals the Blue Devils scored last year. Lake Fenton scored exactly 100 goals.

"Mentally, she brings the confidence we are going to score every game, most likely," Glasstetter said. "If we score a couple of goals we know we are going to win because we have a strong defense. And if we trail, they know we are going to come back because we have people who can score goals. It makes them all stay strong."

Newman also is getting more confident with her teammates, as evidenced by her jump from six to 17 assists this year.

"I feel this year's team had more people to work with, so it was easier getting the ball and giving up the ball," Newman said. "I tried not to be selfish, because I didn't feel like I was all by myself. We have a lot of good players."

Newman's ability doesn't come by mistake. While she obviously has talent, she's played a lot of soccer to get to the level she plays. She started playing when she was 4, and eventually made the move to travel teams.

"When I was about 7-years old, my parents and people watching me in AYSO told me I'd go far and that they thought it was best if I go to a higher level."

Newman did just that. She was on the GSSC Stars, eventually winning a national title with that team. Then, when we was about 13, she was on the Michigan Novi Jags. That team also won nationals. In more recent times, she's played with the Michigan Hawks and the Michigan Gators. However, her role with those teams is a bit different than with her prep squad.

"In school I'm more expected to be the top scorer, and in travel ball it's different," Newman said. "I can hold the ball and everyone can score. It's a little different level of play."

Newman isn't the only player that is young with talent on the Blue Devils. Almost the entire team returns next season, which means expectations remain high. The last two seasons, the Blue Devils have won league titles only to run into Flint Powers in the district. Two years ago, Powers won the D3 state title. This year, the Chargers made it to the state title game before losing.

"No one can compete with us in the league," Newman said. "But we get Powers first thing in the districts and they've knocked us off the last two years. But I feel like it will be a better result next year. We have more girls coming up. We'll be so good, it's only going to get better."

"We came so far this year and we'll only be better the next two. We are like a family and we'll keep sticking together."

Glasstetter is excited to have Newman for two more years. Colleges are already starting to contact her.

"I am hoping she's a member of the dream team by her senior year," Glasstetter said. "I think she's capable of that. If she keeps improving, I think she can go (to a Division) 1 (school). She's got all the tools basically. It's just a matter of how bad she wants it. It comes down to the off-season like all other players. How much is she going to work and improve to make her and the team better."

foot speed. If they are too close to a defender, they get immediate feedback from the Dribble Stick. They know."

Fenton coach Tim Olszewski loves using the item.

"It really simulates having defenders within the construction of a basketball game," Olszewski said. "The boys have to learn how to lead with their shoulder and to take care of the basketball better. Every time they don't do it exactly right, they get a negative reinforcement by hearing a click or by hitting a stick."

"We started using it with Luke last year. The benefits are outstanding. We've already seen the improvement using it. And with all the work over the summer, we'll get better."

The Tigers spent a practice session with Lloyd drilling the players doing a variety of ball skills around the apparatus on Monday. One person that has embraced it a lot is Eric Readman. Readman actually purchased one for home use.

"I've been working on it since I came to Fenton about a year ago," Readman said. "It makes you smoother. It's like a defender with an arm out there. I have a better feel for the ball using it. I love it."

It's not the only tool used. The Tigers go to plenty of weekend tournaments and have enjoyed success in the tournaments. But, it seems sessions with the Dribble Stick are here to stay.

"It's a good workout coming in here a couple of times a week," Fenton player Cory Cox said. "I already notice it making a difference. I feel a lot more comfortable with the ball in my hands, and taking the ball up the court. It's a huge confidence thing. If you know you can dribble, then you know you can make moves toward the basket."

voted in favor of having an $8.4 million bond election on Nov. 6.

Fenton Superintendent Tim Jalkanen said the bond would last either 10 or 11 years, and would place an assessment of either 1 or 0.8 mills on property within the district, depending on the amount of years school officials choose.

Doug Busch, director of personnel and finance for Fenton schools, said the bond is essentially the same as the failed proposal in May. However, the November bond proposal will not include parking lot and infrastructure updates, reducing the new proposal by $1.2 million.

"We know there are needs in the district and we want to be responsive to them," Busch said. "Hopefully we can meet those needs."

The proposed bond would cover technology upgrades in the district, as well as outfitting an entire new fleet of buses. Technology upgrades may include new computers or tablets and wireless Internet in classrooms.

Parking lot updates will be taken out of the proposed sinking fund this time. Busch said technology and buses cannot be purchased from the school's "sinking fund" per state law. A bond is one of the limited ways the district could raise the funds necessary for the updates.

The Fenton school district includes the city of Fenton and portions of the townships of Fenton, Tyrone and Rose.

If the bond is approved by voters in November, school officials could start drawing funds by December and begin updating technology during winter break. Busch said school buses take about six months for delivery and the district could start accumulating new buses by the start of the 2013-2014 school year.

The May election attracted 2,031 voters out of the total 16,175 voters in the district. The bond failed by a margin of 189 votes and cost the Fenton school district $13,466, according to Genesee County Elections Supervisor Doreen Fulcher.

The school district may attract more voters this time however by placing the proposal on the ballot during a presidential election.

Fenton schools will also be holding an election for a 25-year-old millage renewal this August. The .9 mills generate about $690,000 for the district's sinking fund.

According to previous articles in the Times, the school district has two existing bonds, a $41.5 million bond from 1998 and a $24.5 million from 2006. The bonds are expected to be paid off by 2023 and 2025, respectively. In 2005, the district refinanced a bond, saving $900,000.

"We know there are needs in the district and we want to be responsive to them."

Doug Busch*Director of personnel and financeSummary

►The $8.4 million bond proposal for this November is similar to the failed $9.6 million bond proposal, except parking lot updates will be funded by the district's sinking fund.

News briefsHolly Village seeks volunteers for July 4

The village could use a hand at the Fourth of July fireworks celebration. Volunteers would primarily handle parking. Clerk Cathrene Behrens asked that volunteers bring their own flashlights with strong beams. She said that usually volunteers are free to enjoy fireworks by the time the show starts. Anyone interested in helping can contact Behrens or Manager Jerry Walker, at (248) 634-9571. The village is also still in the process of raising the $7,500 needed for the Fourth of July fireworks, and a bucket will be passed around asking for a $5 donation for parking at the event. There will also be a 50/50 raffle.

Byron High School student takes part in American Legion program

Cooper Lawrence, a senior at Byron High School, was a delegate to the 75th session of the American Legion Boys State program, held at Northwood University in Midland from June 17-23. Lawrence was one of 16 young men elected to the office of senator and part of the select group, which participated in a visit to the state capital building in Lansing. Boys State is a national civics leadership program sponsored by the American Legion Departments across the country to help young men learn about government and how it works.

Q: I have a '09 Chevy Silverado 2500 HD and whenever I open the door with the key in, it pings. I took out a speaker on the driver side door and I still hear it. I know it's in a black box, but I can't find the box any suggestions?

- Tyler

A: Tyler, I think what you are asking me is how to disable the chime for when the key is left in the ignition. If this is not it, then please write back and give me a better description of what you need help with. As a professional mechanic, I do not tamper with safety devices such as the chime modules unless they are not functioning properly. Even then it is usually something you need time, wiring diagrams and repair info to diagnose properly. These systems are made up of several components on today's vehicles that need to properly communicate with each other and can be very difficult to diagnose even as simple of a function as they may seem.

We now offer free complimentary towing and roadside assistance package of up to 75.00 for 12 months or 12,000 miles with any repair or service (even oil changes) at Wilkinson Auto Repair, see store for details.

FOURTH OF JULY

"We probably have over 100 entrants before the parade is held," Lockwood said. "The parade all comes together the night before."

Those interested in marching in the parade must submit an online application to the Fenton Regional Chamber of Commerce. All applications are reviewed by the Freedom Festival Committee.

Though anyone is free to apply for the parade, the committee will reject applicants that plan to use the parade as a form of protest or if floats are in poor taste. Lockwood said committee members are looking for people who celebrate the spirit of Independence Day, not controversy.

"We build the lineup by order of importance, we start with Veterans of Foreign War members first," Lockwood said. "We break up the order so it's not just one float after another. Usually it's a float, then walkers and then a car to make sure the order of the parade is appealing to everyone."

Later in the evening and long after the parade, people will hunt all around the city for the best spot to see the annual fireworks show in Fenton. Councilman Les Bland has been ordering fireworks from Zambelli for the past six years.

Prior to ordering the fireworks, Bland used to conduct the fireworks show himself, lighting the fireworks off at the high school. With Zambelli, Bland simply informs the company of the funds available for the show and they take care of the rest.

Ordering through a third party ensures more safety as the company is self-insured and handles explosives professionally.

"Fireworks are not anything to mess around with. They have black powder," Bland said. "The ones we shoot off are very dangerous, that's why I gave it up."

The fireworks will be shot off from Silver Lake Park at dusk. The park will be closed and enforced by Fenton Police.

Chief Rick Aro acts as a liaison between the police and festival organizers. Officers from other departments help with public safety as police are closing streets for parades, races and other events while patrolling on foot to make sure people within the community remain safe. Police will also be directing traffic after the fireworks show, working to make sure spectators get home as safely as possible.

A concern of Aro's lies with the new fireworks law where bigger, more explosive fireworks are now legal.

While municipalities cannot ban fireworks, private property owners have the authority to prohibit such explosives on their property. Aro would like to remind spectators that the parking lots along Silver Parkway are private property and that businesses are not allowing people to set off fireworks.

"You can't be setting off fireworks in the parking lot," Aro said. "If you purchase fireworks, put them in your trunks and wait until you get home to use them."

Aro said smaller fireworks such as sparklers and snakes are allowed in the parking lot. Anything that leaves the ground or explodes is prohibited.

Despite the possible complications, Lockwood expects the festival to be just as successful as years prior.

"This event is one of the biggest events in Genesee County," Lockwood said. "There's a lot of diversity in the parade."

Jason Bias and Emily Newberry decided that sending photographs to their newborn daughter Vesper's email account, to be seen later, was a good way to preserve memories.

us to talk with her in a familiar and casual way and it's a way to make sure that the memories are accurate; we're sharing things with her as they happen."

Bias and Newberry described the e-mails as being akin to sharing a journal with their daughter. The e-mails they send cover a variety of subjects Bias said, including things like pictures, videos, different thoughts about being a parent, or milestones that Vesper has hit since their last e-mail.

Bias said that they hope that in the future, their daughter will be able to see a different side of her parents than what she is used to.

Summary

► Keeping records of important events can be made easy by using the Internet.

In addition to e-mail, Vesper's parents also use Facebook and Flickr to keep track of photos that they take.

"We also upload lots of pictures to Flickr so we can look at slideshows, order prints of our favorite pictures easily, or just to share the link with friends and relatives who are interested in looking at pictures of her," Bias said.

Chronicling the events of their daughter's life may require some work and be an investment, though it is one that may pay off down the line.

"Hopefully when she checks the e-mails when she's older she'll get a sense of our excitement about her as things were actually happening and she'll get a different perspective on the events of her life," said Bias.

For those who are looking for ways to chronicle their own major events in their life, there are plenty of options available.

Fenton Artwalk set for July 14

► Artists displaying pieces at 29 locations, music, fun activities to attract large audience

Organizers of this year's Fenton Artwalk are reminding everyone to keep Saturday, July 14 open so that they can enjoy the works of several artists.

The Fenton Artwalk takes place from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in downtown Fenton. It will be held immediately following the Bastille Day 5K run, hosted by The French Laundry from 7:45 to 10 a.m.

The Artwalk is a community event celebrating the arts and showcasing local and regional artists. The walk will go along Shiawassee Avenue to Dibleville at LeRoy Street, then north on LeRoy to the Bigby Coffee shop and Kimberly Kay Furniture and west to Pipsqueak Boutique and then Sawyer Jewelers at South Adelaide Street.

Guests will be able to stop by 29 locations that are housing participating artists, entertainment and family fun. Artists will be displaying and selling their art as guests circulate through the storefronts.

The Fenton United Methodist Church, First Presbyterian Church and St. Jude's Episcopal Church are participating with family activities.

First Presbyterian Church will also be hosting three artists.

The Jack R. Winegarden Library will have children's activities and the Fenton Community Orchestra, along with other musical acts, will perform in various locations on LeRoy Street and around the millpond.

Merchants are encouraged to participate in the festivities by decorating their storefront. A team of judges will choose the most creative and appealing storefront and the winner will receive the Fenton Cup, which will be engraved and passed on to next year's winner.

"As Fenton DDA chairman I want to welcome all residents and non-residents alike to partake in a day of fun with the Bastille Day run and Fenton Artwalk in beautiful downtown Fenton," said Craig Schmidt. "I encourage everyone to come and spend an enjoyable day with local merchants and gifted artists in our friendly downtown district."

AGENCY

This time of year, there's a lot of yard chores being done for seniors that can't handle the work. Each season there is cleaning to be done. Cleaning gutters and cleaning homes is an important service. Each of these services is designed to keep elderly residents in their own homes longer. A senior may need smoke detectors, an elevated toilet seat, shower seat or a shower grab bar. OLHSA will contract to get these services done.

Adding safety devices is part of the Home Injury Control program, so seniors can live longer in their home.

As director of energy services, Leshley runs housing energy programs at OLHSA. Qualifying residents can get a free energy audit for their home's efficiency and necessary insulation to help make their homes more efficient, and help with an energy bill to keep their power on. Leshley finds that residents save money each month for their power bill, and can then use the money for buying anything else they need.

If they do not qualify for a free audit, residents can still pay a fee for the service, which goes back into OLHSA's funds.

This is the goal — to get to the root of the client's problem, whether it is energy efficiency, early childhood, nutrition or employment help, OLHSA likely has an answer.

In charge of the Holly location is Pauline Kenner. Kenner has worn a lot of hats in her 24 years with the organization. She settled on the title "Older Adult Assistant" at the Holly location. She's also a long-term member of the Holly Village Council. "I'm gladly doing more roles in my job duty, and I'm learning new things," she said. "It's a challenge, and it's good challenge." She works 10 hours Monday through Thursday, and four hours from home on Friday.

At the Holly location, they have at least 125 to 200 clients monthly, and a lot of phone calls. On a good week they'll receive 75 calls from people just needing help. "We try to help all of them," said Kenner. "We also try to get them referrals. If we can't help them here we try to refer them to someone who can help them."

There are only three people in the Holly office, including a volunteer and high school intern.

This location offers many of the same services, but is unique in offering transportation help with the SMART bus program. They will also hold personal item drives to get people shampoo, soap, toothpaste, toilet paper and other personal care items that end up being more expensive than food.

Paddleboarding

Fenton woman paddles her way to racing success

►Passion for sport began decade ago in Hawaii

By Sally Rummel
news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

During the school year, you'll find Mary Radtke steering a school bus on her bus route for Fenton schools, but in the summer, she's paddling to a different tune.

As one of the few women standup paddleboard racers in the Midwest, Radtke spends most of her summer weekends in competition. "I've got 12 sanctioned races now through mid-August," said Radtke. On weekdays, you'll likely find her enjoying a paddle through area lakes, rivers and streams, or teaching a class in paddleboard safety.

Radtke has been standup paddleboarding long before its current popularity in the tri-county area. With two brothers living in Maui, Hawaii and one very involved in the sport, Radtke learned all about standup paddleboarding in the mid-2000s. But it was her first race in Holland, Michigan in 2010 that fueled her passion. "I had been solo paddling for so long that it was really exciting to paddle with other people," said Radtke.

While anyone who can stand can learn to standup paddle, the people who excel at the sport often have

Summary

►Fenton woman Mary Radtke has made a name for herself in the sport of standup paddleboarding, racing in a number of competitions through the World Paddling Association. She is a huge advocate for safety and conducts lessons for those new to the sport.

“In order to get the full fitness benefit of the sport, you need to learn the proper stroke technique. It comes more from the core than it does from your arms. Otherwise, your arms will fatigue too quickly.”

— Mary Radtke

"It's a whole body workout, people feel it everywhere," said Mary Radtke of Fenton, about stand up paddleboarding. She took her board out on Silver Lake on Wednesday morning. She said she is the fastest woman in the Midwest, for stand up paddleboarding.

either a canoeing background or have surfed before, according to Radtke. It takes core strength to maintain one's balance on the paddleboard, burning up to 1,000 calories per hour for a man and about 700 calories per hour for a woman.

"In order to get the full fitness benefit of the sport, you need to learn the proper stroke technique," said Radtke. "It comes more from the core than it does from your arms. Otherwise, your arms will fatigue too quickly."

But to Radtke, standup paddleboarding is more about the fun than its strong fitness benefits. She loves the vantage point she sees from her position on the board. "I've seen bald eagles flying overhead and other parts of nature I would miss had I been sitting down in another paddle sport like canoeing or kayaking," said Radtke.

She has even paddled down the Shiawassee River, although she admits it is quite a challenge with the low waters this year, and doesn't recommend it for beginners. She has also paddled down the Detroit River, and has gone 18 miles from Lake St. Clair on her way to Lake Erie, stopping at Wyandotte for a rest.

While she loves the competition of the sport, she knows that she can't compete with the women from the west coast or Hawaii, who have literally grown up surfing and can paddleboard all year long. Radtke does do some winter paddleboarding on rivers and streams that don't ice over. She's content to be known as the "fastest woman paddleboarder in the Midwest," a title she has earned during recent sanctioned races through the World Paddling Association.

While racing, Radtke is sponsored by Blkbox Surf, a company that makes the boards right here in Michigan. All of her team's paddles and fins are made in the USA. "We're really passionate about these local boards, which are really fast," said Radtke.

In her races, she competes with the men for points. "I have taken first for women's and a second and third place overall for the 12-foot, 6-inch men's division," said Radtke. "That is the length of the board. There is also a 14-foot board division."

As passionate as she is about the sport, she's equally passionate about safety. "There have been three standup paddleboarding deaths in the U.S. this year and they all could have been prevented," said Radtke.

She formed a company in January with Matt Campbell of Blkbox Surf called Sup Edu. They teach the sport in area pools and offer demonstrations. Currently, she holds lessons in Huron Valley Parks and Recreation, and through Highland Recreation. She'll be out at Maple Beach at Kensington Metro Park on Saturday, July 28 for an all-day family day with races and demonstrations. Sup Edu can be reached on facebook or by calling (808) 344-1553.

"I just love the sport," said Radtke. "My husband, Ken, has his hunting season and I have my paddling season."

Keeping cats and dogs secure

- Make sure your dog or cat always has somewhere to hide if he or she wants to and has access to this place at all times. For example this could be under some furniture or in a cupboard.
- During firework seasons, walk dogs during daylight hours and keep cats and dogs indoors when fireworks are likely to be set off.
- At nightfall close windows and curtains and put on music to mask and muffle the sound of fireworks.
- If your pet shows any signs of fear try to ignore their behavior. Leave them alone unless they are likely to harm themselves.
- Never punish or fuss over your pet when it's scared as this will only make things worse in the long run.
- Make sure your cat or dog is always kept in a safe and secure environment and can't escape if there's a sudden noise. Have your pet microchipped in case they do escape.
- Playing a CD with sounds of thunderstorms or explosions prior to the fireworks can help desensitize your pet to loud noises. Begin with very low volume and gradually increase the volume each day until your pet grows accustomed to the noise.

Hometown Computers owner Mike Oliver repairs most computers on-site, and enjoys educating his customers as much as he does servicing their equipment.

Hometown Computers

Shop sets up in new location on Silver Parkway

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Mike Oliver wants to take the “fear factor” out of owning a computer. As owner of Hometown Computers in Fenton, his goal is to be a destination for computer questions and repairs, so that people can get the maximum use out of their system.

He has recently moved his store to its new location at 15282 Silver Parkway in Fenton, across from The Home Depot.

“People don’t know where to turn when they have a problem with their computer,” said Oliver, who has been professionally working on computers for almost a decade and tinkering with them since he was a kid. “We’re an honest alternative to a ‘big box’ repair service,” said Oliver. “One of my customers had been on the phone with a person from India for two hours with questions about his computer. People find that to be very frustrating.”

In addition to repairs, Hometown Computers handles the sale of new and used reputable computer brands like Dell, HP and IBM. Oliver handles repairs both on-site and off-site, depending upon the needs of his customers and the scope of the repair. “Most of the time, we are servicing the customer as much as we are the computer,” explained Oliver. “It’s often a matter of educating them about their system.”

Hometown Computers is also committed to charging reasonable prices for their services. “We want to be the place you go to that you can trust,” said Oliver.

The store is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. For more information, call (810) 714-1418.

Summary

►Hometown Computers is now located at 15282 Silver Parkway in Fenton, offering both computer sales and service on new and used equipment.

Holly Emporium

Gifts for everyone can be found at new shop

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

When you walk through the doors of the Holly Emporium in downtown Holly’s Battle Alley, you’ll find a welcoming mix of old and new — from fashionable sack-style purses to teacup sets like those that your grandma used to collect.

Owners John and Pat Blasco of Holly opened this shop on April 27, bringing with them decades of experience as gift shop owners in the Higgins Lake area.

This cozy retail space makes up for its small size by offering lots of browsing opportunities in every nook and cranny.

Crystal, Hummel figurines, cookbooks, jewelry, pictures, baby items, handmade tag items, small furniture pieces, teddy bears, clever wooden signs and greeting cards are just a few of the items that make up its eclectic retail mix.

“We’ve got something for everyone,” said Pat Blasco. “It’s a fun place to browse. Maybe you’ll find yourself a treasure, something for your home or a unique gift for a friend.”

Holly Emporium is located at 104 Battle Alley. Summer store hours are Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

PAUL G. DONOHUE, M.D.

To your good health

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: From the minute I get out of bed, I have attacks of dizziness. I don't know what brings them on. I'm afraid these spells are going to make me fall and break something. Do you have any thoughts that could help? I'm 82. — R.M.

ANSWER: The causes of dizziness (vertigo) are many. I'll mention a couple, but you need a doctor's exam to determine what the exact problem is.

Meniere's (main-YAIRS) disease is a triad of dizziness, hearing loss and ear noises (tinnitus). It comes in brief attacks, with recovery in a short time. As time passes, attacks last longer, with briefer periods of relief. A buildup of fluid in the inner ear is responsible. Water pills and a strict low-sodium diet help. Surgical drainage of the fluid is another treatment.

A viral infection of the inner ear is a common dizziness cause. Time eventually takes care of the virus. During the period of infection, a medicine like meclizine improves symptoms.

A third common problem is benign positional vertigo — dizziness attacks with head movement. Getting out of bed, rolling over in bed, looking up at a high shelf and just about any change in head position trigger an attack, which is short-lived. Tiny calcium crystals in the inner ear have migrated to places where they engender a discharge of confusing signals to the brain. Repositioning the crystals puts an end to the attacks.

Sit in the middle of a bed, far enough to the opposite side of the bed that your head will project over that side when you lie down. If a head turn to the right provokes an attack, quickly turn your head to the right, and keep it turned until dizziness goes. Then lie down quickly with your head off the side of the bed and still turned to the right. Then, from that position, turn your head to the left. Roll over onto your left side, with your nose pointed down to the floor, for 30 seconds. Then go back to the starting sitting position with head bent. If dizziness persists, repeat. If this is too complicated, let your doctor lead you through it.

Daughter's ink causes a stink

DEAR AMY: I am a recent college graduate living at home and my mother recently discovered my tattoo. My mother does not believe in body modification (she calls it disfigurement), and she is very unhappy with me. I am not a bad kid. I never got into trouble as a teen, and she is making me feel as if I have committed a crime by getting this tattoo. How can I explain to her that it was not meant to hurt or disrespect her?

— Tattoo Trouble

Ask Amy

DEAR TROUBLE: You can explain this to your mother the way you have explained it to me: "This is not meant to disrespect you or hurt your feelings. I'm sorry to have disappointed you, but this is about me, Mom -- not you." After that, you can't control how your mother behaves or reacts.

DEAR AMY: What do you think of a husband who says, "In 10 years, I'm outta here! "We have been married for almost 20 years and in nine years, our youngest will be in college. His job has long hours, four days a week, leaving him exhausted and feeling overwhelmed by the amount of yardwork and chores at home, while also wanting to be spending time with his kids. Do you think it's more important for the emotional health of the kids to stay in this marriage or to be good role models of a loving relationship, perhaps with another person?"

— Wondering Out West

DEAR WONDERING: Why does your husband emerge from his exhausting work life to face yardwork and chores? Can't he be relieved from the burden of these additional duties? Can you and the kids take these chores off his docket? Can you hire someone? Yes, your children deserve two loving and emotionally healthy parents, but it is best for them if their parents demonstrate these values while married to each other.

The Right Way to Remove Ticks

Ticks need to be removed quickly — within 24 hours or less.

Why?

Because after a day of feeding, the tick is completely engorged with blood. To keep feeding, it regurgitates that blood right back into your pet — and if the tick is carrying a disease like Lyme, your pet is likely to be infected.

So what's the best way to remove ticks?

Experts recommend tweezers, grabbing as close to the tick's head as possible. Slowly pull the head out without twisting or jerking — being careful not to squish the tick for the reasons listed above. If the tick's head or part of its head breaks off in the skin, monitor your pet for a few days. It should be worked out by your pet's own body, but if signs of infection appear, contact your veterinarian.

Not Recommended

Dollop of Vaseline?

Veterinarians and disease-control experts have recommended against using Vaseline because it can take up to 48 hours for the tick to suffocate.

Lighting a match?

When a lighted match is held to the tick, the tick often pulls out quickly — but it tends to regurgitate as it does so which could lead to Lyme disease in your pet.

OUR LIVES, OUR FORTUNES, and OUR SACRED HONOR

Of the 56 men who signed the Declaration of Independence, nine died of wounds or hardships during the war. Five were captured and imprisoned. Several lost wives, sons or entire families. Two wives were brutally treated. All were at one time or another, the victims of manhunts and driven from their homes. Twelve signers had their homes completely burned. Seventeen lost everything they owned.

Yet not one defected or went back on his pledged word. Their honor, and the nation they sacrificed so much to create, is still intact.
