Police officer, Fenton native shot and killed

► Husband, father of four, St. John Church member fatally shot responding to 911 call

By Sharon Stone

sstone@tctimes.com

Police Officer Patrick O'Rourke, 39, of Tyrone Township, was shot and killed in the line of duty on Sunday, Sept. 9 in West Bloomfield Township.

O'Rourke, who had worked for the West Bloomfield Police Department for 12 years, responded to the initial 911 call with four other officers. Police believed they were responding to a possible suicide attempt or medical emergency. The call came from the area of Pontiac Trail and Forest Edge Lane in West Fenton — Karen Price, with a chicken-shaped purse in hand, passed out plastic eggs to Fenton City Council and to residents who attended the meeting on Monday to show her support of allowing residents to raise chickens within city limits. She was joined by several others who attended to speak on the issue.

Fenton City Council ultimately passed the ordinance as written in a 6-1 vote, allowing for a household to have up to three chickens in a backyard coup. Councilman Benjamin Smith cast the dissenting vote.

Linden retiree rebuilds plane, flies for fun

By Tim Jagielo

Owosso — Dan Green, 64, of Linden opened up the hangar at Owosso Community Airport. Inside perched his baby, his white, 1946 Cessna 140.

"It's two years older than me and in better shape," said Green. He had learned to fly in the '70s, but gave up the idea of ownership during the recession of the early '80s.

He bought the Cessna in 2003, with no interior and its wings were disconnected. It took five years for him and his family to get the plane into the air, which included paint and a new interior. Green paid $6,300 for his airplane and he assembled it with the help of his son-in-law. He has spent $13,000 since, maintaining it.

"It's beautiful," he said of flying. "To me it's all enjoyable."

His favorite part is giving kids their first ride in an airplane through the Young

Church celebrates 175th anniversary

► Nearly 350 people celebrate historic occasion

By Ryan Tackabury

Fenton — How do you celebrate an anniversary after being around for 175 years? If you are the Fenton United Methodist Church, you do it with live music, grilled food, and friendly company.

Approximately 350 people showed up on Sunday to celebrate the anniversary. Food was served including hamburgers, hotdogs and dessert, all while accompanied by music performed by the LeRoy Street Band.

Indoors, several tables were set up with historical documents and information that told the story of the church's long past. At one point the congregation totaled only seven people — a much smaller number than the hundreds of members it has today.

The Fenton United Methodist Church dates back to 1837, when a Methodist preacher first visited the area. Afterwards a small group of Methodists began meeting in one of the cabins that made up the small village that would later become Fenton, as we know it today. They established the first and oldest congregation in Fenton.

"It was great," said Mayor Sue Osborn, who attended the event. "It is very rewarding to see the amount of people and all of the things that they do for the community."

Greg Fleck spent his time during the celebration grilling hamburgers for the guests to enjoy. "We're happy to look forward to the next 175 years," he said.

"It is very rewarding to see the amount of people and all of the things that they do for the community."

SMART SOLUTIONS

1 Clever recipe organizer

Instead of thumbing through boxes of recipe cards, organize your favorites in a photo album with clear sleeves that let you see the front and the back of each recipe. You'll find what you need in seconds, plus the plastic protects the recipes from spills and splatters while you cook.

2 Winterize your car battery

Winterize your car battery by pouring a 12 ounce can of cola over the battery posts and let it sit for 15 minutes. Wipe clean and dry, then apply petroleum jelly over the posts. The phosphoric acid in the soda dissolves any pre-existing rust and the petroleum jelly seals out corrosion causing moisture and oxygen.

Caffeine...

the world's favorite drug

► Can lower risk of cancers, improve memory

By William Axford

Some adults cannot start their day without it. Giving it to children can make them overactive, giving parents headaches. It's a legal and heavily used drug everywhere in the world. In some forms, it is one of the most traded commodities on earth.

Caffeine is popular, especially in our own nation. John Hopkins Medical Center reports that roughly 90 percent of the American population consumes caffeine, with adults drinking an average of 17 ounces (2 cups) of brewed coffee or 84 ounces (2.4 liters) of pop a day.

Unusual pets

... and the people who love them

► Pets come in a variety of shapes and sizes

By Ryan Tackabury

news@tctimes.com

Dogs might just have some competition vying for the role of man's best friend. Many pet owners out there have adopted some more exotic pets.

Eric Green, 12, of Holly, is the owner of a quite unusual pet — a black miniature potbelled teacup pig named Lulu. Eric had recently sold his dirt bike, and bought Lulu when she was 6 weeks old.

"I always wanted one," Eric said. "They seem smarter than the dogs, and more amusing to watch."

Eric is no stranger to owning unusual pets, as he also is the owner of three bearded dragons.

Truth and God at the DNC

In a speech resembling a TV re-run (the liberal website The Daily Beast called it 'dull'), President Obama accepted his party's nomination for a second term. In doing so, he made the most ludicrous claim of this campaign, indeed, of his presidency: 'You didn't elect me to tell you what you wanted to hear. You elected me to tell you the truth.'

With this president, truth telling remains an unfulfilled promise. Telling Democrats what they want to hear was what the Democratic convention was all about.

Perhaps the only truth-teller at the convention was Cardinal Timothy Dolan, the archbishop of New York. In his benediction, Dolan stood against the anti-life tide of the Democratic Party when he prayed: 'Thus do we praise you for the gift of life. Grant us the courage to defend it, life, without which no other rights are secure. We ask your benediction on those waiting to be born, that they may be welcomed and protected.'

It was a gutsy move by Dolan. But, the only networks respectful enough to show the prayer in its entirety without interruption were Fox News, Fox Business and C-SPAN. ABC, CNN, and PBS kept it in the background, while talking over it. MSNBC completely ignored it.

The party platform would be more truthful had it left God out. Would God approve of abortion on demand and same-sex marriage? Not according to the Book delegates could consult in their hotel rooms.

A major reason why the Obama acceptance speech was regarded as 'dull' is his overexposure. He's on TV too many times a day, every day. We've heard it all before. Instead of a crescendo in Charlotte, President Obama became his own diminuendo.

Friday's jobs report didn't help the president's claim of an improving economy with better days ahead in a second term. The official percentage of unemployed declined slightly from 8.3 percent to 8.1 percent, but that may be because many of the unemployed have stopped looking for work.

If voters elected this president to 'tell the truth,' can he be fired for not telling it? We'll know in less than two months.

SO MICHIGAN IS still playing powder puff football? When are we going to get to the Powerhouse status? How many years will it take? Time to get a quarterback that can play the game.

HOW MANY DIFFERENT ways can the Fenton administration and council find, to legally steal our money? I know, a permit to mow our lawns and wash our windows. Then they will give us a ticket and the judge will uphold it because it is legal. Too much government.

FENTON COUNCIL, wake up! Your mismanagement of our valuable tax dollars is near criminal. Maybe we should reconsider the people we have hired, such as the city manager and his assistant.

HOW MUCH LONGER do we have to put up with the construction on North LeRoy? Seems like whenever Fenton takes on a road project it generally turns out taking way longer than expected.

TO THE LADY in the white SUV that got $60.46 at the gas station on North LeRoy Sept 6, at 5:33 p.m. It would be nice if you came back and paid for your gas, I cannot afford your gas on my pay.

HOW ABOUT THAT new company that has come to town by the railroad tracks in downtown Linden. Put the name of your business up so we know you are there.

not how it's done. Get organized like Holly's, Linden's and Adrian's. An organized group cheering in unison can be very intimidating for the opponent. Get it together, give us something to remember, make us proud!

I'M SURPRISED THAT no one else is upset that Fenton is spending $100,000 of unbudgeted funds to hide a pump station that affects one house in one secluded neighborhood. Waste of $$.

NOW THE OAKLAND County Inspectors need to get to Holly Shores to have these people fix their septic systems, or get them tagged unfit to live in. Night time, all the pumps go and they're dumping into the river. The air smells horrible. Can't keep windows open at night.

IF WE'RE GOING to restore downtown Fenton, then I recommend putting parking meters in the new, expensive parking spaces. If you want the convenience, then pay a bit for it.

GOD BLESS OFFICER O'Rourke and his family. What a senseless tragedy.

QUESTION: WHAT IS slower than a two-toed sloth? Answer: The LeRoy Street Project.

I WAS CALLING about the North LeRoy construction. I read somewhere it was supposed to be done by September and it looks like production's gone down.

Bipartisanship begins with seeing the other side's humanity

E.M. Forster famously urged us in 'Howards End' to 'only connect.' The first and most obvious connection is that the better people are able to take care of themselves, the more effective they'll be in taking care of others, including their families, their co-workers and their communities. For instance, when you're on an airplane you are told to 'secure your own mask first before helping others,' even your own child. In other words, it's not easy to help somebody else breathe easier, literally or figuratively, if you're fighting for air yourself.

The second connection is in the benefits of stress reduction itself, which, as science increasingly shows, does have society-wide implications. Researchers at Carnegie Mellon recently found that over the last 30 years, self-reported stress levels have gone up from 10 percent to 30 percent. The worst affected are women, young people and the poor. And higher levels of stress lead to higher instances of diabetes, heart disease, obesity and high blood pressure.

Steve Jobs talked with Walter Isaacson about the advantages of mindfulness for creativity: 'If you just sit and observe, you will see how restless your mind is. If you try to calm it, it only makes it worse, but over time, it does calm, and when it does, there's room to hear more subtle things — that's when your intuition starts to blossom and you start to see things more clearly and be in the present more. Your mind just slows down, and you see a tremendous expanse in the moment. You see so much more than you could see before.'

Seeing things more clearly — an incredibly important quality for anybody, including leaders at both conventions hoping to bring about change through politics.

So the thinking behind stress reduction is to help people to better deal with the destructive effects of stress in their lives and to help them be their best selves so they can go out in the world and make a difference in the lives of others.

And as for the quest for the elusive goal of bipartisanship, it has to begin with seeing the humanity of the other side. And it's hard to see another's humanity if we don't feel connected to our own.

'Community Play Day' back this weekend

►Day of fun and games at Crapo Park in downtown Holly

The second annual Community Play Day is Saturday, Sept. 15, from 2 to 8 p.m. at Crapo Park in downtown Holly.

The free event celebrates Holly's designation as a Playful City USA by the KaBOOM! organization of Washington D.C. Playful Cities USA are communities that recognize the value of play, exercise and wellness in the children and families in communities and commit resources to improving and expanding those opportunities.

This is the second year that Holly has received the designation.

Nearly three dozen Holly area community groups are partnering with the Holly Outdoor Recreation Coalition (ORC) to help celebrate the community's parks and playgrounds.

"We were so encouraged by the success of last year's Community Play Day, that we decided to invite area organizations and businesses to participate in this year's event and share in the fun," said event leader and ORC trustee Katy Hughes.

Approximately 450 people attended last year's Community Play Day, which featured games. This year, community groups and businesses were invited to host games, provide information or other free activities for kids and families, giving them the opportunity to introduce themselves and their activities to the community.

As evening falls, "Park in the Dark" commences with numerous partners providing glow in the dark sticks, bracelets, necklaces and more to turn the day in the park into a neon, fluorescent spectacle until 8 p.m.

"The response to the expanded Community Play Day has been unbelievable," Holly ORC president Ryan Bladzick said. "Katy has gone above and beyond bringing everyone together and it's going to be a fantastic sendoff to summer for everyone."

Summary

►The Holly Community Play Day is this Saturday, from 2 to 8 p.m. at Crapo Park in downtown Holly. The play day is to recognize Holly as a Playful City USA, and offer a chance to have clean, active fun in the community.

BEWARE! The following Hot lines are all political commentary

I LET THE first Hot line pass about Michiganders and their politics, but had to speak out this time. We all are not Democrats and we do not vote with blinders on. I will confess though, I did vote for Carter but have since taken off the blinders. I have had enough economic misery.

THIS IS TO the person who does not understand why the GOP was saying 'we built this.' Where have you been the last two months? Obama is the one that said we did not build our businesses, not the GOP. It was our blood and sweat that built it, not the government.

THE REPUBLICAN-MAJORITY house passed over 20 jobs bills with bi-partisan support only to have the Democratic majority senate leader refuse to bring even one to the floor for debate let alone for a vote. Can be verified.

SAYING THE REPUBLICAN Party is primarily made up of old white folks is the same nonsense as saying the Democratic Party is primarily made up gays, blacks, welfare recipients and abortionists. Both parties have many different members and points of view. Don't be so close-minded.

PEOPLE OF WEALTH don't steal their money, they earn it. If the 1 percent pay at a lower tax-rate than the middle class it's because they retired, pay taxes on money that's already been taxed, and/or make large donations to charities. Romney donated 20 percent of his income and paid millions in taxes.

NOVEMBER WILL BE a crossroad in American history. It will not be a Democratic or Republican election but a vote for Socialism or American freedom. If the vote is for socialism, all the American freedom fighters since the 1700s who have given the greatest sacrifice will have died in vain.

IF YOU DON'T like that fact that rich people 'legally' pay taxes at a lower rate than you, then vote for Romney who is in favor of tax reform that would eliminate loopholes and ensure that everyone would pay taxes at a fair rate.

MANY UNION MEMBERS were forced to join a union. Shouldn't union membership be a choice? Has being a union member helped you personally with your job? If all you know is working for a union, why not look into how non-union people that do your job are doing? Right to work?

IT WAS DECIDED in Roe v. Wade that a woman can have an abortion but the law does not say that taxpayers should pay for it. That is what Obama is asking for.

OBAMA BLOCKED THE Keystone pipeline, gave and lost hundreds of millions of dollars to 'green' energy and has over-regulated the oil, coal and gas industries blocking jobs and energy independence and gas prices were at a historical high on Labor Day. Wrong candidate. Wrong direction.

OBAMA BETTER GET off his high horse and become good buddies with Netanyahu. If Iran attacks American assets, then it will be Obama's fault, because Obama already said when the crap hits the fan he'll side with the Muslim countries. He doesn't care about American assets!

OBAMA GAVE THE rights to count most of the votes in the upcoming presidential elections to SCYTL, a company based in Spain that provides 'secure' voting services. George Soros, Obama's long-time billionaire mentor and supporter just bought SCYTL. That's not a coincidence and is extremely troubling. Can easily be verified.

Holly schools' financial audit OK

► District receives best rating from accounting firm

By Tim Jagielo

tjagielo@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

Holly — Holly Area Schools (HAS) received another "unqualified" opinion on their 2011-12 budget audit on Monday.

Accounting firm Yeo & Yeo of Flint delivered its annual audit of HAS financial records on Monday. "This gives you a certain level of confidence in your staff," said CPA Michael Frawley.

An unqualified opinion means the records are clean and maintained accurately. The Holly school district was also free of any material weaknesses in its financial practices and passed all litmus tests the firm has for possible money problems.

In all, the firm only had to make adjustments of $1,800 and borrow funds from the Michigan School Bond Loan Fund to continue to pay bond debt service, which according to Frawley is very common.

"This gives you a certain level of confidence in your staff."

Michael Frawley
CPA, Yeo & Yeo

Out of a $45 million budget, HAS was $60,000 off in its accounting, which president Tony Mayhew said was an acceptable amount.

The district lost 200 students from last year, costing $1.4 million, but was better than projected. The continuing drop in property taxes also hurt the district, like most municipal bodies in Michigan.

I HAVE AN idea what the water drainage problem is. I would challenge the water department if they would check every sewer drain in the streets of Fenton that 50 percent are plugged with debris.

I WAS LOOKING at the city of Fenton's website and I noticed that now in Fenton after Aug. 1, you have to ask the kings and queens of Fenton if you can put siding on your house. When you do get their permission, they're going to charge you fees. Hmm, taxation without representation? Socialism sucks.

I WAS JUST at a local store and someone's purse was stolen by another lady who lied and said it was hers. I hope you feel real good about yourself.

THIS IS NANCY and I live out in Gaines. In my yard, I have a big lilac bush, which is blossoming. I thought I would put that in the Hot lines because people are always putting 'first things' in there. Thank you.

TO THE MAN on the lake who keeps calling everyone who is five or 10 pounds overweight, you should be ashamed of yourself. Don't throw stones when you live in a glass house.

WE SAW YOU in my yard last night throwing sticks at my paddleboat, grow up, before you end up getting in trouble.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | RYAN TACKABURY

Malissa Bossardet addresses Fenton City Council during the public hearing, requesting that more than three chickens be allowed.

CHICKENS

This vote was preceded by a failed vote to amend the ordinance to alter the maximum number of chickens to six.

The motion to amend the ordinance and allow for up to six chickens was made by Councilman Bradley Jacob. "This is a chance where we can affect someone's life on a personal level. It's not important to everyone whether or not you can have chickens. But to the people who want them, it is important," he said. "Let's give people a little bit of freedom and see what happens."

Councilman Les Bland was in favor of allowing up to six chickens, and expressed his frustrations with the time it has taken to pass the ordinance. "It's been a considerable amount of time since we started this, since the time we got here, and in my personal opinion has been a bit ridiculous," he said.

Both Mayor Sue Osborn and Councilwoman Pat Lockwood said that they would support the ordinance allowing three chickens, but not six.

Also not in favor of six chickens was Councilmember Cheryl King. "If it's more than three, I am not going to support it. Though I am not sure if I am going to support it anyway."

Councilmember Benjamin Smith opposed the chickens of any number. "A year from now somebody else will want ducks to go along with them, and goats to go along with them because they are lonely," he said.

During the public hearing, several residents spoke in favor of the ordinance, while only one spoke against it. Everyone who was in favor of the ordinance was also in favor of allowing more than just three chickens.

Theresa Doan spoke in favor of allowing more than three chickens. "What I think has happened is that this has blown up into something really ridiculous. It has taken way too much time," she said to applause from the audience.

Malissa Bossardet, who first brought the matter to the council last year, requested the ordinance allow for more chickens. "Three chickens is not enough," she said. "Which one of us doesn't have our breakfast that day?"

Councilman Mike Piacentini thanked Bossardet for bringing her daughter to a council meeting, months ago to speak about keeping chickens, saying that it was very informative. "I probably would have been an anti-chicken person before this discussion," he said. "I am obviously in support of it now."

The vote to amend the ordinance failed 3-4, with councilmembers Jacob, Piacentini and Bland in favor, though outnumbered by councilmembers Smith, King, Lockwood and Mayor Osborn who were against amending the ordinance.

"I am going to have some broken hearted children," Bossardet said. "I am just really disappointed in how long it took the council to debate this. The council needs to remember that they work for us."

Those who wish to make use of the new chicken ordinance will be required to build a coop to specifications set by the city, and are required to obtain an annual permit.

"This is a chance where we can affect someone's life on a personal level. It's not important to everyone whether or not you can have chickens. But to the people who want them, it is important."

The six Michigan ballot proposals

A few months ago, I wrote about the process that is required to have a ballot proposal put on the November election ballot in Michigan that seeks to either amend Michigan's Constitution or enact a new law.

This summer there has been much publicity surrounding a number of the proposals including the possible repeal of the Emergency Manager Law, constitutionally ensuring collective bargaining rights and allowing eight additional Michigan casinos.

The Michigan Board of Canvassers and the Michigan Supreme Court have now spoken and on the Nov. 6, ballot there will be a total of six Proposals — one seeking the repeal of an existing state law and five seeking approval to amend Michigan's Constitution.

Last Friday Michigan's Board of Canvassers finalized the approval and numbering for the proposals and the specifics are available on the Michigan Secretary of State website.

THE SIX PROPOSALS ARE AS FOLLOWS:

Proposal 1: A referendum on Public Act 4 of 2011 — The Emergency Manager Law.

Proposal 2: A proposal to amend the State Constitution regarding collective bargaining.

Proposal 3: A proposal to amend the State Constitution to establish a standard for renewable energy.

Proposal 4: A proposal to amend the State Constitution to establish the Michigan Quality Home Care Council and provide collective bargaining for in-home care workers.

Proposal 5: A proposal to amend the State Constitution to limit the enactment of new taxes by state government.

Proposal 6: A proposal to amend the State Constitution regarding construction of international bridges and tunnels.

The ballot question as to the Emergency Manager Law is 'should this law be approved?' For the other proposals the ballot question is 'should this proposal be approved?'

It is important for voters to be knowledgeable about these proposals and all other election issues and candidates.

Our democracy depends on voters having as much information as possible. I hope that all of us educate ourselves before Nov. 6 so that when we vote we will have all the information we need to make good voting decisions.

Footprints lead police to larceny suspect

Holly man faces several felonies

By Sharon Stone

sstone@tctimes.com; 810-433-6786

Footprints in wet grass led Holly police to the home of a 27-year-old Holly man, suspected of breaking into several vehicles and stealing personal belongings during the early morning hours of Sunday, Sept. 9.

Holly police responded to the 700 block of Sherman Street to investigate a report of a suspicious individual entering vehicles and using a flashlight. The responding officers were unable to locate a suspect in that area, however, they did find several vehicles, which had been entered and ransacked. Most of the vehicles were unlocked, but a window on one of the victim's vehicles had been broken with a large rock.

Owners of the vehicles were notified

Summary

Holly police followed footprints, left in wet grass, to a home where they located a 27-year-old Holly man that they believe is responsible for breaking into several vehicles.

The suspect was located inside the home, as well as stolen property. Multiple items, reported stolen were recovered from the home.

One of the victim's vehicles contained items, which the suspect had attempted to set on fire. There was minimal damage to the victim's vehicle.

The suspect is being held, pending several felony charges, including a charge of preparing to burn, a five-year felony.

and a list of stolen property was obtained from each victim, said Det. Julie Bemus. Officers were then able to track the lone suspect, who had left footprints in the wet grass, to a nearby home.

OFFICER

Bloomfield Township for a barricaded gunman shortly after 10 p.m.

According to Officer Down Memorial Page, several family members who had been in the home had exited prior to the arrival of the officers and informed them that the man inside, identified as 50-year-old Ricky Coley, may have committed suicide. The man reportedly was going through a divorce and financial difficulties.

Officers entered the home and made their way to a bedroom. Before entering the bedroom, they called out the man's name, at which time they were met with gunfire through the bedroom door.

O'Rourke was struck by the gunfire and critically wounded. He was transported to McLaren Hospital in Pontiac where he succumbed to his wounds.

Oakland County Sheriff's officers as well as a SWAT team responded to the scene. For a good part of Monday, the standoff continued as the gunman remained barricaded inside the home. Michigan State Police brought in a robot and the gunman reportedly shot at it. After the 20-hour armed standoff, police found Coley, dead in an upstairs room. Autopsy results released Tuesday revealed that Coley fatally shot himself.

Fr. David Harvey of St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church in Fenton presided over O'Rourke's marriage and baptized his four children, including his youngest son Stephen this past January. Fr. Harvey said he shook hands with O'Rourke Sunday morning after mass, adding the officer had just returned from a family vacation.

"Pat was a very caring and dutiful husband and father to his children," Fr. Harvey said. "He comes from a very faithful family. He was always here (at St. John)."

O'Rourke graduated from Hartland schools in 1991; his wife Amy graduated from the same school district in 1993.

Fr. Harvey said O'Rourke's funeral is scheduled to take place at St. John this Friday at 10:30 a.m. with assistance from Fenton police.

O'Rourke is survived by his wife, Amy, and four children. The O'Rourkes are active members of the St. John the Evangelist Church of Fenton. To leave a condolence, go to the Officer Down Memorial Page website at www.ofmp.org. The family has also established a memorial page on Facebook, called "Officer Patrick O'Rourke."

'Fill the Boot' collects $1,766 for MDA

The Fenton Fire Department collected $1,766 for the Muscular Dystrophy Association last weekend during its "Fill the Boot" event, according to Charles Koan, assistant chief. Firefighters were stationed at both Fenton VG's Grocery stores, on Silver Parkway and North LeRoy Street on Saturday. Koan said the fire department would like to thank VG's for allowing them to conduct their collections in front of the stores and to thank the many people who gave generously to the MDA. The money has already been sent to the MDA, said Koan. In comparison, Koan said two years ago, they collected $1,800 and last year, over three days, they collected $2,500. Considering the economy, Koan believes the "Fill the Boot" event was successful.

Other than oil, coffee is one of the most traded liquids on earth. Caffeine is a naturally occurring drug that is found in coffee berries, kola nuts and tea leaves.

According to howstuffworks.com, caffeine works like harder drugs, such as cocaine and heroin, but is nowhere near as deadly or intense. Caffeine works by speeding up nerve cells in the brain. Due to caffeine increasing activity in the brain, glands produce more adrenaline. The increased adrenaline causes dilated pupils, faster heartbeats, tightened muscles and increased blood pressure.

The increased productivity isn't what causes addiction, however. Caffeine increases dopamine, a substance in the brain that is linked to happiness. The increase in dopamine and adrenaline is fleeting however and the effects of caffeine eventually wear off. When this happens, the user is often left tired, irritable and possibly depressed.

Like most things humans consume, caffeine can be good in limited doses and deadly in larger doses. Taken in recommended daily doses (two to four cups), Webmd.com reports coffee may have the ability to lower the risk of type 2 diabetes, Parkinson's disease and dementia. Those who drink coffee may have fewer strokes and avoid certain cancers versus nondrinkers. Coffee is also full of antioxidants, which helps with digestion and effects of aging.

While coffee and caffeine may seem like a miracle drug, too much consumption can cause adverse effects. John Hopkins School of Medicine defines caffeine as a dependent drug. Withdrawals can include fatigue, irritability, depression and anxiety. In extreme cases, users can experience caffeine intoxication where the body's senses are over stimulated. Caffeine intoxication can cause tremors, sensory disturbances, muscle twitching and insomnia. However, caffeine intoxication requires a lot of caffeine ingestion – the equivalent of drinking 10 cups of coffee at once.

Other drinks that include caffeine may cause health issues. Energy drinks and other carbonated beverages mix high volumes of sugar with caffeine, which can cause a bigger "crash" once the boosting effects wear off. Sugar has also been found to be addictive and combined with caffeine can be hard to quit.

To get the most out of caffeine, drink it in moderation, which experts cite at about four cups of coffee a day.

Summary

► Caffeine works like amphetamines by stimulating the brain and increasing adrenaline. However, caffeine works in smaller doses and is not as deadly as other drugs.

FATHER

O'Rourke's sister-in-law, Halle Corry, of Linden, recalls the special relationship she had with him. "I love my brother-in-law so much," said Corry. "We'd always have some sort of a good laugh. I have many fond memories. I feel a big void that he is gone, but I just keep telling myself I will see him again one day in heaven."

Parish members at St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church in Fenton, echo that sentiment. "The O'Rourke family is an icon of a Catholic-Christian family," said Carolyn Witherow. "They're just beautiful people. You can't help but fall in love with them."

The O'Rourke's have been active members at St. John's since 1999. All four of their children were baptized there, most recently Stephen, 8 months, who was baptized in January.

Amanda Miannecki, a close friend of Amy O'Rourke's since meeting at a St. John's church retreat, said, "Pat was an amazing father. He was so close with Amy and each one of his kids. He spent as much time as he possibly could with his family."

St. John's has already fielded many phone calls from parish members, Knights of Columbus and members of the community who want to help, according to Mary Gorzenski, parish secretary. "We'll have to go through Fr. Harvey to make final plans," she said.

The O'Rourke's three oldest children, Eileen, Mary and Andrew all attend North Road Elementary School, fifth grade, third grade and kindergarten, respectfully.

"We're just so fond of the family," said Chris Kronk, school secretary. "Of course, we'd see Amy and the kids a lot more often than Pat because of his work. They're just a wonderful, wonderful family."

Principal Trevor Alward and Kronk are working together to coordinate the North Road Elementary staff's efforts to help the family.

"We, as a staff, are collecting money for the education fund for the children," said Kronk. "The teachers and classrooms of each of the O'Rourke children are also making their own plans."

PETS

His family also keeps four ducks as pets in their backyard.

"Part of the fun is when you tell people what kind of pets you have, and they say 'You have what?'"

While Lulu may look like the odd pig out at first, she fits right in with the family quite well. She gets along well with the family's two dogs. One of Lulu's favorite things is to eat a handful of cheerios — something she shares in common with a few other pets in the area.

Annette Regan is the owner of three cereal-loving fennec foxes, which are more typically found in the northern parts of Africa.

In their normal habitat, the foxes' diet would include plants, insects, rodents, lizards and small birds. While lounging in Regan's outdoor, multi-tiered enclosed pen, the foxes enjoy vegetables and both dog food and cat food.

"They are like having both a cat and a dog," Regan said of the animals. The foxes are quick and agile, and enjoy a good game of fetch.

Regan first welcomed the two older foxes, Timber and Ginger, into her home seven years ago. The pair were rescued from a home that provided them limited space and daylight, and were given a new home that has all the love and attention that they could ask for.

After taking care of the foxes for two months, Regan then had to make room for a third as Chipper was born. "They get along with all animals and people," Regan said. The foxes are known to play along with the family golden retriever, Paris.

In the winter, the foxes live in Regan's basement where they can keep warm. Being desert animals, they are used to a certain climate and need to be kept warm.

"They are a lot of work. They require a lot of time and attention," Regan said. "A lot more than other types of pets."

Everyone likes to see a unique pet, and being able to show them off is certainly a perk. Mary Konopka, 15, of Holly owns a hairless guinea pig that she got on Prince Edward Island in Canada.

"Most people don't even know what they are," she said. "I think they're pretty rare."

There are other animals that Mary would like to own too that most people might not consider to be typical pets.

"My mom and I want to get a capybara. They are the largest rodent in the world."

For those who may be interested in owning their own, capybaras can grow to be 2 feet tall and weigh up to 150 pounds.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | RYAN TACKABURY

Fennec foxes are nocturnal and spend most of the day sleeping. During the night, Annette Regan said they tend to make a lot of noise.

"A bunch of parents will wait until after the funeral on Friday to contact the family to see what they need," said Colleen Woodruff, whose daughter Grace, attends school with Mary O'Rourke.

The North Road PTO will also be helping the family with a gift basket, meal preparation, etc., according to Kronk.

The West Bloomfield Police Department has set up a trust fund in the name of Officer Patrick O'Rourke. Any donations can be sent or dropped off at the West Bloomfield Police Department, 4530 Walnut Lake Rd., West Bloomfield, MI 48325.

Lt. Tim Diamond, of the West Bloomfield Police Department, worked with O'Rourke and spoke highly of him.

"He was a model police officer. He took his job seriously and was very fair," Lt. Diamond said. "We're all suffering here as well as Pat's family and friends. The incident has come to a conclusion. The focus is now on Pat and his family."

Even though O'Rourke was not a member of the Fenton Police Department, officers will be in attendance at O'Rourke's funeral on Friday. "Because the funeral will be at St. John's, we will be there," said Fenton Police Chief Rick Aro.

Reporter William Axford contributed to this story.

Eagles program. "I haven't scared one yet," he said.

Aside from the fun, his plane and his plan to fly again helped him through his bouts with colon cancer and chemo therapy.

"I was just laying in the bed breathing," he said. He passed the time, thinking about what his plane needed to be finished and what he would do once he finished it. "It helped me get through it, actually."

Green did get through it and he overcame the medical restrictions for having had cancer and diabetes. On Tuesday, he was able to casually decide to take a 45-minute flight up to Clair, just for fun. "It's almost ideal flying conditions," he said. Green prefers cooler weather for flight.

His plane is small and efficient. If it were 130 pounds lighter, he could fly it with a driver's license as a sport pilot. It weighs 961 pounds without fuel.

The "conventional" landing gear has a tail wheel, instead of a tricycle composition found with newer planes. He said landing it is like pushing a grocery cart backwards and trying to keep it straight. It requires a special endorsement so he could land it.

The plane flies smoothly and has a tiny, minimalist cabin, with exposed aluminum walls and fire retardant panels. "I'd rather spend time flying it than working on it," he said. It needs a proper headliner and new skylights. It's more work for him to climb inside the cabin than to fly the plane. It's only 32 inches across the seats.

It takes 85 horsepower to lift the craft into the sky and tops out at 103 mph. This is why the weight of the passengers, fuel and gear matters before taking off.

The plane isn't too expensive to own and operate for a retiree like him. "I do this for fun, I don't worry about price," said Green.

Though Green knew he wanted a Cessna 140, there are a myriad of models available to buy. Searching for a Cessna single propeller, private aircraft on Aircraft Shopper, revealed a range of aircraft from $14,000 to $230,000.

Sonex Aircraft LCC of Wisconsin produces light sport aircraft that only requires a driver's license to fly. Once the aircraft is purchased, the main operating costs are insurance, the hangar, maintenance and fuel. There are also annual inspections.

David Walker, president of Hartland Insurance, said the price of insurance depends on the pilot and aircraft, much like automotive insurance. Walker suggests going to an agency that specializes in aircraft. Walker sends clients looking for insurance on a personal aircraft to McCreadie Insurance Agency in Flint.

Todd McCreadie is president and a pilot. He said that for a single-engine Cessna, with one private pilot flying a $50,000 aircraft, they should expect to budget between $1,000 to $1,200 per year for insurance. "Aviation insurance is relatively cheap," he said.

Linda Hathaway of Brad Hoffman Insurance of Fenton said that life insurance for a private pilot can be much more expensive. The pilot can choose to exclude their flight time from the insurance policy to lower the cost — but then they are not covered in case of an accident.

Piston aircraft like Green's runs on 100 Octane, low-lead fuel. Green pays $5.60 a gallon at the airport and his plane burns around five gallons an hour.

To maintain the engine, a pilot needs to save $100 for every flight hour, to get ready for expensive engine over hauls every 2,000 flight hours. "Your life depends on it, you don't want something breaking in the air," said Green.

Green plans to fly until he can't drive a car anymore. "I just love it ... anyone can learn how to fly."

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | TIM JAGIELO

Dan Green has been a pilot for more than 30 years, but only flew his own aircraft in the last few years, after fighting cancer twice.

BEWARE! The following Hot lines are all political commentary

AS AN AMERICAN citizen I don't want an ineligible voter casting a vote that may cancel mine. States are making every effort to ensure that everyone that casts a vote is a citizen but Obama is challenging every effort the states' are making to ensure a fair election. Why?

THANKS TO OBAMA'S policies, the unemployment rate went down a measly .2 percent while only adding a paltry 96,000 jobs in August with 368,000 people dropping out of the workforce. In Obama's convention speech he said, "I am not done yet." Heaven help America if he is re-elected.

IF PRESIDENT OBAMA is such a great president than why didn't his own party show up to listen to his acceptance speech?

AS PUBLICIZED AS the war in Iraq was, why does the American public think they were told everything that was found or not found? The Iraq war was totally censored, only unclassified information was given. Ever hear the saying 'Loose Lips, Loses Lives.'

TIRED OF HEARING how Obama saved GM. GM went bankrupt after the billions given to it by Obama. Should have let them go bankrupt without the money and they would still be in business and not owe the taxpayers billions. Romney was right. Oh, they have not repaid their debt.

ABORTION IS A NON-issue for the election. We never ever voted for abortion, it was Roe v. Wade, a Supreme Court decision. They are the only ones that can overthrow it. Please quit using it against each other!

IN RESPONSE TO the person who asked which person, Michelle Obama or Ann Romney, I would prefer to have as a neighbor the answer is simple: either one. Both seem to be fine women. However, the person I would not like to have as a neighbor is the disgusting person who wrote such hateful and slanderous things about the first lady of the United States.

THREE TIMES THE Democrats were asked to include God in the platform. And three times the crowd shouted no and denied God. Give us Obama, they cried.

IF YOU DELVE into Mitt Romney's background you will learn when he was head of Baine & Co., he had the utmost ethics. He was very particular as to how he invested money. He didn't invest in alcohol or tobacco companies. He was very successful in helping Dominos and Staples get going and creating jobs.

Fenton's passing game sparks 36-34 win vs. Holly

Fenton — Amongst the rain, lightning delays and the numerous momentum swings, Connor Davidson had a record-tying night for the Fenton Tigers (2-1) against the Holly Bronchos.

Davidson tied a team record by completing four TD passes, including the game-winning 30-yard strike to Damon Thomas with 5:35 left, leading the Tigers to a 36-34 victory during a game that was delayed by thunderstorms for about 90 minutes.

The 30-yard TD throw came just over a minute after Holly took its last lead of the game on a 65-yard run by Evin Papuga. Papuga broke a couple of tackles in the middle of the line and sprinted for the score. Holly (0-3) led 34-30 after Austin Chmura made his fourth extra-point of the game with 6:44 left. However, it took just three plays from scrimmage before Fenton took the lead for good. The first play of the drive — a 25-yard run by Trent Grimes — put Fenton on Holly's side of the field. A play later, Thomas caught his third TD pass of the game in the end zone.

"I just read it on the flight," Thomas said. "I just stepped inside, got position and got the ball. Connor got me the ball and I did what I do and caught it."

Linden — It was a typical Fenton-Linden soccer game all night long.

It had ups and downs for both sides. It had physical challenges and had times of great thrills.

But this one didn't have a goal.

In what was the Flint Metro League opener for both squads, the visiting Fenton Tigers drew the Linden Eagles 0-0 Monday night.

Linden keeper Collin Hoeberling earned his second shutout against the Tigers this season, making 10 saves. Meanwhile, Fenton keeper Carl Berkley had seven saves of an "off" day for the squad.

"We had an off-day and that kind of sort of tells you something about our team when we can have an off-day and still win," Fenton coach Kurt Herbstreit said. "It wasn't a bad score, but everybody struggled just a little bit."

Samantha Thornton led the Tigers, tying for second overall with an 83. Tailer Przybylowicz placed fourth with an 85, while Meghan Berry was eighth with an 89. Olivia Fabatz followed the other three with a 97.

A day earlier, the Tigers broke a school record with a 169 team score in a nine-hole dual win against Brandon. Thronton also tied the nine-hole record with a 38.

The Eagles captured their title with Julie Guckian leading the way with a second-place score of 77. McKailey Mitchell placed third with an 88. Maija Satkowiak carded a 92, while Sierra Juhl had a 98. The Eagles are ranked seventh in Division 3.

"The girls played really well," Linden coach Todd Skinner said. "We struggled the day before against Kearsley, but turned it around. All four of our seniors played well. That's something really good to build on. We have a tough schedule coming up. It's going to be kind of a grind. If we can build on this, things will be OK."

The Eagles' score was just two strokes off the school record.

"These girls have been doing this for four years and you can't buy this type of experience," Skinner said. "We were two strokes off the school record. For us to shoot a 355 is awesome."

LF dominates Mt. Morris in less than a half, 47-0

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The Lake Fenton varsity football team experienced two great displays of thunder and lightning on Friday night.

One was provided by Mother Nature, resulting in the game being postponed with three minutes left in the first half. But the other was by the Blue Devils themselves.

Lake Fenton's defense provided the thunder while the offense provided the lightning quick scoring drives resulting in a 47-0 victory against Mt. Morris.

Neil Allor provided quite the punch on both sides of the ball. Allor caught TD passes of 28 yards and 69 yards from quarterback Gage Smith, and also had an interception return of 70 yards for a touchdown.

"He showed he's one of the best play-makers in the league," Lake Fenton coach Eric Doyle said. "When he gets the ball in his hands, things happen — punt return, kick return, running, catching or interception. He's always capable of making plays. He had some big ones."

The Blue Devils (2-1) didn't waste time blowing the game out, leading 33-0 after one quarter. A lot of players got into the scoring act.

Nick VanDuser scored the team's first TD on a 17-yard run. Lance Hasenfratz scored the second on a three-yard run. Alex Schwartz matched Allor's two offensive TDs by scoring on TD runs of 28 and 2 yards.

The Blue Devils had 387 yards total offense in about 21 minutes of actual game time action. The defense held the Panthers to negative-nine yards. Smith threw for 124 yards.

"Gage really got settled in there and threw the ball well in the second quarter," Doyle said.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | SCOTT SCHUPBACH

"He had the big throws to Neil."

Doyle likes the progress the team is making on the defensive side of the field.

"We are starting to get an edge about us,"

Doyle said. "The kids are taking it personal. They wanted to get that shutout really bad. We gave up only one first down."

"Offensively we are playing good, but it helps when we get the short fields the defense is giving us. We scored in about three to four plays on each possession. If the defense keeps improving as it is and the offense keeps getting better, we'll be tough the rest of the way."

Linden boys CC places second at competitive Bath Invitational

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The Linden varsity boys cross country team continued its strong start to the season by taking second in the Division 2 race at the Bath Invitational on Saturday.

The Eagles placed second to Mason, the squad expected to be ranked No. 1 in the state when the first rankings come out. Mason had 77 points to Linden's 88. Chelsea took third with 105 points.

The Linden girls took a very respectable fourth-place team finish. In Division 1 action, Holly's girls took sixth, while the boys placed eighth.

The Linden boys were paced by Roger Phillips' seventh-place time of 16:31.6. Not far behind Phillips was Graham Elliott in ninth with a lifetime best time of 16:38.5. The rest of the team's scorers were Adrian Taylor in 23rd place (17:35.2), Jeremiah Gossett in 25th (17:38.7) and Kyle Susalla in 28th (17:47.1).

48 and 30 yards from Davidson, while Mitch Shegos had a 30-yard TD reception. The pair combined to catch 17 passes for 231 yards.

"It wasn't just me and the receivers. The line worked hard all week and that's what won this game," Davidson said. "They've beaten us the last couple of years and we weren't going to let that happen again. Everybody is improving. It's not just me. It's the whole team. The offensive line is getting better at blocking and receivers are coming down with the balls."

"We've gotten to the point where (Davidson) can call the game at the line of scrimmage," Fenton coach Jeff Setzke said. "And some of those (pass) plays (to Thomas and Shegos) were check plays. He saw the coverage he liked. And you have a lot of confidence when you can throw it to receivers like Damon and Mitch."

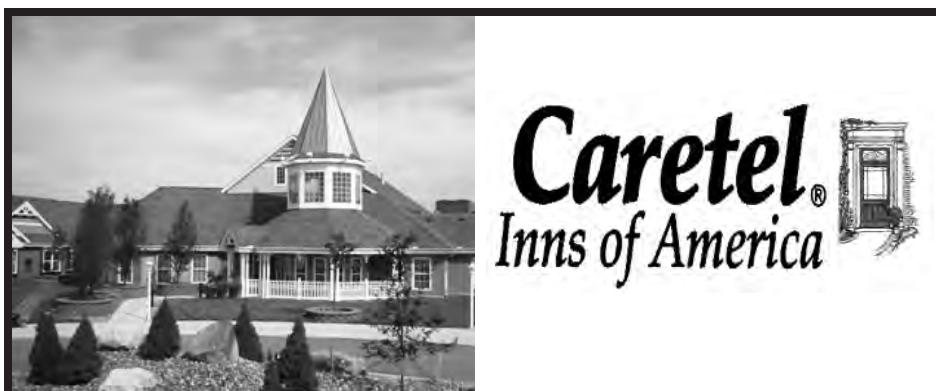

The contest was tied 27-all entering the final quarter after Holly quarterback Johnny Williams scampered in for a 14-yard TD run with just three seconds left in the third quarter. However, there would be three lead changes in the final 12 minutes. Shegos kicked a 27-yard field goal, giving the Tigers a 30-27 lead with 6:59 left. Then, just 14 seconds later, Evin Papuga, who scored on a 54-yard run with just four seconds left in the first half, scored on a 65-yard run. However, it only took Fenton 69 seconds to strike back when Davidson hit Thomas with the 30-yard score in the end zone.

Holly's Papuga had 212 rushing yards on just 12 carries, while Williams ran for 158 yards on 25 carries. Williams completed 5-of-10 passes for 73 yards, with 11 of those yards coming on a TD pass to Kyle McCarty. However, he threw an interception to Fenton's McKay Hamilton late, iced the win.

"What it comes down to is we've played against three really good teams and we've come up short," Holly coach Ryan Culloty said. "I was really proud of how the kids came together tonight. They played with a lot of emotion and a lot of heart. We are a much better team than our record shows right now. Fenton is a really nice ball club. They did some really nice things tonight."

Fenton's Trent Grimes also had a three-yard TD run.

Linden Eagles crush Clio, 49-0

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

When Clio High School joined the Flint Metro League, it was thought the school could have more success in a the league than the Mustangs had in the Big Nine.

The Linden varsity football team apparently doesn't believe that. The Linden Eagles earned their eighth straight blow-out victory against the Mustangs since they've joined the Metro, defeating the home squad 49-0 Friday night.

Like most of Friday night's game, the contest was delayed by thunderstorms for awhile. But by that time the Eagles were already leading 28-0.

Linden's win moves them to 3-0 overall and in the league, tied for first place with surprising Swartz Creek. Lapeer West also remain undefeated in league play, but one-half game behind at 2-0.

The Eagles' offense did what it does best — allowed quarterback Shaye Brown to hit eight receivers resulting in a potent passing attack. Brown collected 317 yards and four touchdowns.

Six Eagles scored, including Mitch Juhl hitting paydirt twice. Randy Moore, Shaye Brown, Mitch Ryan, Marshael Ryan and Eddie Walterhouse also scored TDs. The Eagles' defense was pretty stellar as well, allowing just 117 yards total offense.

The Eagles were so dominant they even dominated the luck factor. On one play the Mustangs looked poised to score their only TD of the game when one of the officials blew the play dead because he was tracking another player who he thought had the ball. Meanwhile the runner with the ball was in the open field sprinting for an apparent score.

In the eight years Clio has competed in the Flint Metro League, the Eagles have shut them out three times and have outscored them 397-62. Clio has never scored more than 14 points against the Eagles and has never scored less than 42.

The Eagles host Flint Kearsley on Friday for a Flint Metro League matchup.

LINDEN

"Our kids were extremely strong in the second half of the race," Linden coach Clint Lawhorne said. "Graham's time was a lifetime personal best and Roger's was a second personal best. The next five across for us all had season-best times."

The Linden girls came home with a fourth-place finish, and its entire scoring five within the top 34 places.

Sydney Elmer placed fifth (19:55.6), while Mckayla Guy was eighth (20:14.5). The rest of Linden's scorers were Aleighsha Engisch in 30th (21:32.0), Gretchen Sack in 32nd (21:32.7) and Courtney Davis in 34th (21:34.3).

The Holly girls were paced by Charlotte Ruffini, who placed 25th in 20:28.3. The other Holly scorers were Maggie Schneider in 31st (20:44.7), Shannon Westfall in 32nd (20:48.2), Abby Brown in 40th (21:36.4), and Courtney Kettle in 44th (22:01.6).

The Holly boys were paced by Nate Frasier in 23rd place (17:22.1), while Dillon Lemond was next in 28th (17:30.0). Following the top two were Nick Myers in 42nd (18:00.8), Vincent Cantu in 43rd (18:01.9), and Zac Felix in 46th (18:16.4).

en route to his clean sheet.

"It's exciting," Hoeberling said of his second shutout against Fenton. "We won the (game against Fenton) earlier. Today we were unfortunate not to score a goal. We had our opportunities, but the defense, again, was good."

"For sure, we put great pressure on offense, but sometimes you don't find the back of the net," Berkey said. "The defense played solid."

Both keepers had times when they were tested. One of those tests came early in the contest. Linden's Kyle Frederick was dribbling toward the Fenton net when Berkey came out to get the ball. However, he didn't get the ball giving Frederick what seemed an open goal. Frederick's shot hit the post and bounced back to him for another shot. Berkey made that save.

"I have never been so scared," Berkey said. "I have never seen a goalie almost singlehandedly cause a goal. But I recovered and made a save."

He also had a tough shot from Linden's Zach Bakos that stood out.

"Bakos had a nice little knuckle ball to the near post," Berkey said. "That was a tough one. I couldn't catch it, but I pounced on it afterward."

Hoeberling probably was tested a bit more than Berkey. Like the first game, it was a shot that he had to deflect over the crossbar that was a pivotal save. It came with 23:15 left on a shot by Aron Ferguson.

"The one on the restart that I tipped over the crossbar scared me," Hoeberling said. "But other than that, I was pretty comfortable with everyone."

The last great chance came by Fenton with 2:30 left. After Linden was unable to generate a chance in Fenton's zone, the Tigers went on a break with passes from Jacob Davis to Jacob Kinsman to Anthony Flannery. Flannery had what was close to a breakaway, but it was saved by Hoeberling with confidence.

Both teams open the Metro season with 0-0-1 records.

"I will take a tie over a loss any day," Berkey said. "But we are going to get better and we are going to play them again in districts. We'll see them there."

"It's always a good game against Fenton," Hoeberling said. "Everyone looks up to playing them because it makes us better. It makes them better."
