Fenton will receive $1.4 million to replace bridge

► City to pay 5 percent of construction costs to build new bridge over Shiawassee River

By Ryan Tackabury

The Silver Lake Road bridge over the Shiawassee River is in disrepair and needs to be replaced. Doing so is very expensive however.

Fortunately, the city will not have to pick up the bill on its own and will be able to build a new bridge with minimal costs. The Michigan Department of Transportation’s (MDOT) Local Bridge Program will pick up 95 percent of the $1.4 million construction costs. This funding will be available in 2015. The city will be responsible for roughly $73,000 in construction costs.

► The City of Fenton will receive a large amount of funding from MDOT’s Local Bridge Program to replace the Silver Lake Road bridge that spans the Shiawassee River.

“The city will have to pay 5 percent of the construction costs. The city is also responsible for all of the design engineering, and the construction engineering work,” said Daniel Czarnecki, director of the Department of Public Works (DPW).

Fenton Twp. — Kelly Smith picked through the soaked brown carpet while on her hands and knees in her bedroom Wednesday morning. Looking up to where her ceiling used to be, she can see the blue sky and clouds passing overhead.

Police & Fire report

SHOTS FIRED MOST LIKELY FIREWORKS

Around 11 a.m. on Thursday, May 30, the Genesee County Sheriff's Department responded to Lake Fenton Middle School after receiving a call of possible gunshots fired. Det. Sgt. Bill Lanning said a teacher was outside and heard what sounded like gunshots. Several cars responded to the area around the middle school/administration offices to locate the origin of the sound. A resident on Main Road reported hearing similar noises for the past several days. Lanning said there was no evidence of gunshots, however, someone might have set off fireworks.

WEST NILE VIRUS WARNING

The Michigan Department of Community Health (MDCH) warns residents that in 2012, there 202 human West Nile Virus (WNV) cases with illness, and 17 deaths. For protection, use repellent, especially at dusk and dawn. Homes should be mosquito proofed, and horses should be vaccinated. "One bite from an infected mosquito can lead to a severe and possibly life-altering illness. We know that prevention is key to protection," said the MDCH.

MINING IN HOLLY

Local mine helped build I-75, Ambassador Bridge project and new Powers High School

This loader dumps 11 tons from its 7.5-yard bucket into a truck. At the most, 200 trucks take loads from the mine, driving on special roads designed to hold their weight, as each truck can carry 50 tons.

Summary

► Holly Township is home to several mining operations, which pull sand and gravel from the earth. Holly Disposal Sand and Gravel is one such operation, which produces sand for construction projects.

Holly Twp. — Scoop the sand, drop the sand into the truck, and haul the sand to the job site. The art of mining sand is deceptively simple, and is easily visible from the top of the Mt. Holly ski lift.

Cones of sand 100 feet high are fed from a rumbling processing plant, up to the long conveyor arm. What looks like just a pile of sand is actually an intentional mix that has already been tested for water permeability and compactness. "In its essence though, it's still a 'Fred Flintstone' industry," said Operations Manager Brian Hayes.

Holly Disposal Sand and Gravel is one of a few mines whose permits are issued by Holly Township. The 122-acre site is located on Holdridge Road off Dixie Highway on the Holly/Groveland Township border.

Their sand is used by builders to form a base for roads and foundations. The company is currently mining sand from 60 acres, which over the years has created a 100-foot bowl. There is no gravel left to mine, and technically,

Women in combat proving to be bad idea

It was announced this week by Leon Panetta that there has been an “astounding” 30 percent increase in sexual assaults on women in the military by other soldiers.

I don’t know about you but I am most certainly not ‘astounded.’ The only thing ‘astounding’ to me is that Defense Secretary Leon Panetta ignored the advice of nearly every military expert and recently okayed the ‘right’ of our mothers, wives, sisters and daughters to fight – and die – in wars alongside men.

So, why would we okay a horrendous idea like this? Especially when you consider the fact that the number of women demanding to be on the front lines is miniscule, far less than 1 percent of all women in the military. Of course, it isn’t their voice driving the ‘women in combat’ agenda, it’s more of the liberal-left agenda that believes men and women should no longer be recognized as two distinctly different entities in marriage, in parenting, in life, and now – in war.

Let’s look at the realities of the situation. In a combat environment all soldiers live, eat, sleep and fight together.

Who could be “astounded” that sexual attraction – the strongest human emotion there is – would not be a factor? The same traits and human emotions that are manifested in stateside relationships are going to be present anywhere men and women live together – and especially so in a military setting in a combat zone. Young, testosterone laden male troops experiencing the devastating trauma of daily violence and death are going to be prone to reflect that same aggression in their limited social environment. Only a complete and clueless fool could not see the inevitability of these events occurring.

Additionally, factor in the actual combat environment and the presumption that any properly raised son has been taught from birth by his father and society to protect the women in his life — mothers, sisters, aunts, grandmothers — at all costs, including to the point of sacrificing his own life. This core social canon will surely result in skewed battlefield behavior and additional – and unnecessary – casualties.

And, is it really a good idea to provide our enemies with fresh opportunities for televised atrocities and torture of captured women soldiers that are beyond our imagination?

Isn’t being thousands of miles from home fighting a war against an enemy with no morals or conscience difficult enough? Why would we intentionally implement policy that goes against God-given common sense, while providing absolutely no benefits?

How many more soldiers must die for no other reason than to promote the politically-correct agenda of the left?

Women in combat? An ‘astoundingly’ bad idea.

PEOPLE, PLEASE PROVIDE prayer for the poor pig as petty politicians plan to permanently prevent his presence.

FLAG ON EVERY house? Honor our troops? How about doing something that would help us. Contact your congressperson and ask why all the claims made to the VA are on paper. Why are they 10 months behind? I really don’t care about your flag or honor. I prefer your help.

ONLY IN AMERICA can a bigot like Foster Childs be able to publish whatever he wants with no respect whatsoever for the elected president, congress and senate and get paid for it.

CALLING SOMEONE A ‘racist’ for merely criticizing Obama’s actions is deplorable. If you have the uncanny ability to define what is in an individual’s mind and heart from a Hot line, then how about defining what the next Powerball lotto numbers will be, then we’ll take you seriously.

WHEN OBAMA CAME into office, the deficit was $1.8 trillion. Now it is $600 billion. Seems like he’s doing a pretty good job on that. Of course, I’m assuming you know the difference between the deficit and the debt. So, raising taxes on the top 2 percent actually works.

I AM NOT Catholic but I love the message and example the new Pope is setting. Greed has always been the most common sin. The Pope’s message of bringing humanity and giving to the poor and needy is something everyone can do. Do it in your deeds, not just words.

I AM ONE of those ‘global warming bleaters.’ A cold spell or cold winter doesn’t change the fact that worldwide temperatures are still rising, and the carbon in the atmosphere is still increasing. And no, I’m not a ‘flaming liberal,’ I vote about 60 percent Republican in most elections.

RESIDENTS OF FENTON Township, every time you pay your quarterly fee for the sewer remember the $15,000 the township board paid for scuba gear for the township’s fire department, duplicating a service already preformed by the Genesee County Sheriff. This idea will not stop people from drowning!

I READ THAT 90 percent of Fenton consider themselves Republican. I just wish more educated, socially balanced Republicans would chime in. It seems that only Fox news, Rush Limbaugh, Tea Party loving, everything is a conspiracy, my guy lost so everyone else must be crazy. It makes us moderates look bad.

THIS IS IN response to the Hot line about Barbara Walters. I commend her for providing a good role model both as a young reporter starting out and demonstrating that you can go on and call it quits on your own terms and time. Fresh ideas happen at all ages.

‘POLITICAL CORRECTNESS’ IS a huge fraud perpetrated on Americans to control our social behavior. Our beliefs and actions aren’t political issues for government control. We must stop listening to the PC Police and start using our own common sense to figure out what’s acceptable or not, when and where.

IT SEEMS MEMBERS of the Linden VFW are hypocrites. They pretend to honor fallen comrades with a parade and ceremony, and then ban the participation of a Gold Star Mother who represents families who lost sons and daughters serving on active duty in the military. Seems wrong to me. Very disappointing.

THE REPUBLICANS COULD not have given ABC fake emails about Benghazi because they never had any to begin with. What the Congressional Republicans gave to ABC were notes from a briefing they were given on the emails, they never had the actual emails.

IT WAS GREAT getting a text from the Tri-County alerting to me where all of the garage sales there were last weekend. Can’t wait for my next text alert.

IT’S SUNDAY MORNING and I’m at Clover Beach Park. The park looks immaculate. No trash or litter, the beach has been raked, and the trashcans are empty. Good job, maintenance crew. The park is ready to enjoy so please, people, help the crew by picking up after yourselves.

Resident Janice Sherman speaks passionately about the importance of local dispatch and their role in saving her son's life. "I want my EMS and my fire there in a minute, and we get that here," she said.

Council postpones police dispatch decision

►Audience of 70 attends — most show support for dispatch

By Tim Jagielo

tjagielo@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

Holly — As storms and tornadoes rolled over Genesee and Livingston counties, rumblings filled the Village of Holly Council Chambers.

The Holly Dispatch Center again dominated the meeting that packed the room beyond capacity, drawing more than a dozen public comments and extended discussion from the council. On Grange Hall Road near the village, there are several "Save Holly Dispatch" yard signs, as the topic has filtered through the community for the last few months.

The village budget is currently balanced, but closing the dispatch center and contracting with the Oakland County Communications Center is being considered to keep to savings commitments.

The village would like to be able to sock money away into the fund balance and dam improvement fund, which is currently not possible. It would cost $42,000 to contract with Oakland County for 12 hours, or $113,000 for full 24-hour service. The Holly dispatch budget is around $300,000.

Though the dispatch works, and resident upon resident delivered heartfelt accolades, the dispatch center is no longer compliant with Michigan standards as of March. The village has not budgeted for new equipment, software and personnel, as dispatch centers now should be able to take text and video 911 calls for the deaf community, and there must always be two dedicated dispatchers on duty. There is currently one dispatcher per shift, and systems haven't been upgraded since it was put in place seven years ago.

The agenda on Tuesday looked severe — new business items included "Ceasing Holly Police Department as a Primary PSAP (Public Safety Answering Point) within Oakland County," and adopting a new location for PSAP calls. This brought residents including police employees out to the meeting, spilling into the hallway and side room. They pleaded with real-life stories of their positive experience with their local dispatch.

After nearly three hours of discussion and emotional public comments, the council decided to seek more information

"What's the plan? I want to know how it's going to affect cost. We need to know what the net savings are."

Ask the FINANCIAL ADVISOR

Q. Wow, the stock market is at an all-time high. I feel like I should be doing something with my investments. Should I sell what I have or buy more?

A. In May, the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed above 15,000 for the first time. What does Dow 15,000 mean to you, as an individual investor? If you own stocks, it's obviously good news that prices have risen so dramatically. Nonetheless, sooner or later, the markets will change course. What should you do? First, don't panic when the market drops — corrections of 10 percent or more are a normal part of the market cycle. Also, keep investing. If you head to the investment sidelines, you could miss out on opportunities when the market recovers. Review your portfolio to make sure it still fits your needs and risk tolerance. Keep looking for ways to diversify. Diversification can't guarantee a profit or protect against a loss, but it can help reduce the impact of the volatility that occurs when the market is changing directions. The Dow at 15,000 is a notable event. But today's highs can be quickly forgotten when the market falls — so be prepared for that day.

Fenton Township residents seeking volunteers

►Meeting Saturday at Lake Fenton High School to assist tornado cleanup

By William Axford
axford@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

Fenton Twp. — Residents are looking for help in the aftermath of the tornado that hit earlier this week.

Residents met with Supervisor Bonnie Mathis, Clerk Robert Krug and Genesee County Commissioner Tony Brown at the Fenton Township offices Thursday night, relating stories of damaged properties and the need for extra hands. Uprooted trees, house siding and shingles from roofs are some of the damages residents spoke of.

Officials are encouraging volunteers to meet at the Lake Fenton High School parking lot at 8 a.m. on Saturday and noon on Sunday, rain or shine. Stump grinders, chainsaws, fill dirt, dumpsters, tractors and trailers are some of the materials residents need in order to clean up debris.

Mathis said 50 houses within the township were affected by Tuesday's tornado. The National Weather Service has classified the tornado as EF2, where winds are faster than 100 miles per hour. Most of the damage was near Jennings Road.

Krug said that he will try to secure fire trucks from the fire department this weekend so late comers can find the volunteers throughout the township. Krug stressed that volunteers need to be as safe as possible if they plan on helping residents this weekend.

"Nobody got hurt in the tornado. It would be a shame if someone got hurt in the cleanup," Krug said.

KUDOS TO FENTON for their art sculptures and pride in their city. The only thing Linden boasts are empty stores thanks to our antiquated laws and the people who implement them.

WHILE YOU MIGHT feel better and it makes you happy to see a cyclist facing traffic, Michigan cycling laws require you to move with traffic, not facing it. Look it up.

IF YOU BREAK the law, regardless of how small, you should confront law enforcement. Trespassing is not allowed, even on the railroad tracks. Great job Fenton police.

COME TO CITY Council meetings and tell the City of Fenton that you support Eli the pot-bellied pig. He is not a nuisance, it is the troublemakers in the neighborhoods that are the problem. Support Eli. Support therapy/service animals and fight discrimination against Autism and PBPs.

THANKS TO YOUR article we went to Mackinac Island last weekend. It was everything you stated and more. Saw two other couples from Linden also.

WE WOULD LIKE to thank the person who stopped at Bennington Hills Kennel the night of the tornado who removed and folded our America flag from the fallen flagpole and placed it out of harms way. Your kindness will be paid forward. Linda and Kris.

I LIVE IN Tyrone Township. What am I to do with all of our yard waste, primarily weeds, now that our company no longer takes yard waste from our area? I really don't want to burn it.

I BELIEVE THAT the rudest people on earth live in Fenton. No one makes eye contact, there is never an excuse me, or good morning/hello. I hold the door and no one says thank you. What has happened to manners? Please people, be nicer, it's not hard.

Correction: In the story "Holly schools announces administrators for 2013-14," published on Sunday, May 19, the Times incorrectly reported that Holly Middle School Principal Linda Skrzynski had left her position in 2012, and Rose Pioneer Principal Michael Beattie had been filling in. Skrzynski actually leaves HAS at the end of June and is still the principal of Holly Middle School. Beattie has not been assisting with the middle school.

Son accused of assault, setting fire to father's home

The Shiawassee County Sheriff's Office arrested a 28-year-old man from Perry after responding to a domestic disturbance call in the village of Byron on Saturday.

According to Det. Lt. David Kirk, of the Shiawassee County Sheriff's Office, deputies were dispatched to assist on a domestic disturbance call at 9:20 p.m. on Saturday, May 25 in Byron. Upon arrival, witnesses reported that the suspect had assaulted his father, resulting in minor injuries.

The suspect had fled the scene in his vehicle during which time he had rammed his father's unoccupied vehicle causing significant damage to it.

While investigators were gathering witness statements, the suspect returned to the scene of the assault in Byron and was taken into custody.

Investigators soon learned that the home of the assault victim, located in the 2800 block of East Braden Road in Antrim Township, had been set on fire. Burns Township Fire Department, Perry Area Fire Department and Shiawassee Township Fire Department combined efforts to extinguish the fire. Despite their efforts, the home was destroyed by fire.

The suspect is being held in the Shiawassee County Jail without bond. Charges are pending for arson of a residence, felony malicious destruction of property and domestic assault.

The Byron, Morrice and Michigan State Police departments, the Michigan State Police Fire Marshal's Office and the American Red Cross assisted the Shiawassee County Sheriff's Office.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | TIM JAGIELO

Resident Sally Swayne addresses the audience assisted by Larry Lilly. She had questions about the extra duties incurred by dispatchers.

about the actual savings contracting with Oakland County could incur, because the village would have to hire employees to handle the administrative side work being done by dispatchers currently.

"I just need to know how it's going to work," said President Jason Hughes, echoing Council Member Ryan Bladzick, in needing more specific information on how all needs at the police station would be filled without the dispatchers.

The council asked Manager Jerry Walker to provide an informational outline of operational changes regarding jail and administrative work, cost adjustments, proposed budget amendments, and to also compare that to the cost of upgrading and putting the current system into compliance.

The new business items related to changing dispatch were postponed indefinitely.

FIREWORKS

could see new legislation again this year to address criticisms.

The law passed last year in Michigan made airborne fireworks available for legal purchase in the state. Similar fireworks were already available for purchase in border states, though selling them in Michigan allowed the state to collect sales tax and application fees from fireworks vendors.

The law also limited the ability that local municipalities had to regulate when fireworks could be set off.

Currently, local governments cannot prohibit the use of fireworks the day before, the day of, or the day after a national holiday, which includes New Year's Day, Martin Luther King Day, Presidents Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Columbus Day, Veterans Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The new bipartisan legislation takes the form of House Bill 4743 and it would give local government leaders greater control over fireworks regulation.

Local governments would be able to adopt ordinances that prohibit the use of consumer-grade fireworks between the hours of 12 and 8 a.m. on the day before, the day of, or the day after a national holiday for municipalities with 50,000 residents or more.

Municipalities with a population of less than 50,000 would be able to restrict fireworks usage from 1 to 8 a.m.

The new legislation has passed the Michigan House, and will next receive consideration from the state Senate.

Fenton Police Chief Rick Aro said he spoke with the city attorney, and should the legislation pass, would act to change the ordinance. "We plan to amend our local ordinance to reflect the new law and make our restrictions a little tighter," he said.

Cancer benefit on June 22

A cancer benefit will be held Saturday, June 22 at the Central Church of the Nazarene, located at 1261 West Bristol Rd in Flint. Then event is sponsored by the American Cancer Society and Weight Watchers and will feature a dance class and a kickboxing class. The event starts at 10 a.m. and will end by 12 p.m. Entry fee is $15.

'Wheelz, Dealz and Mealz' on June 8

Trinity Lutheran Church is hosting a fundraiser, "Wheelz, Dealz and Mealz" from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, June 8 at 1025 Main Street, Fenton. This event is one of several activities Trinity is sponsoring to raise funds to start construction of a much-needed larger church and fellowship hall. Live music by Country Jays will be heard throughout the day and there will be a scavenger hunt for adults with prizes. The Wheelz portion is a car show. The Dealz portion includes crafts and other vendors. For more information on showing your car or to rent a vendor table, contact ltdavies533@gmail.com or (248) 217-0862. The Mealz portion includes a pig roast and food tent. A beer and wine tent will feature Fenton Winery & Brewery's favorites. Trinity Lutheran Church purchased the 13-acre property in 2006 and, after paying off the property, is currently working with an architect designing their new home, which is 1,200 feet east of their present location.

PEOPLE FEEL BETTER after telling the truth, but getting them to tell it is difficult.

ABOUT A YEAR ago, our Government went to Gibson Guitar Co. with assault weapons and shut it down. It appears that their crime was that they donated to the GOP campaign. The Liberal-Socialist- Democratic- Communist Party will stop at nothing to retain their power.

IF THEY SELL the grainery to the city, they will just tear it down and then more of our town's history will be lost.

■■■■
THE CITY OF Fenton cannot take care of the dead tree branches hanging over the road. They are renting art.

PEOPLE THAT I talk to criticize the Tea Party because they have influenced the nomination process with people that are not willing to compromise so nothing gets done. The average person wants the voice of all the people heard and reflected in policy. Stay involved and party affiliation won't matter.

Catch OF THE WEEK

The Tri-County Times wants to give our readers the chance to show off the trophies they catch this season. If you have a fish worth showing off, snap a photo and bring it in or mail it to the Times office.

Alaina Linders, 6, of Fenton, caught this bass on Sunday, May 26 while fishing on Lake Ponemah. It was approximately 14 inches long.

Fenton City first applied to the program in March 2012 and it was uncertain if this bridge would be selected.

Fenton City Council, at its meeting last Wednesday, authorized a payment of $83,850 to OHM, the city's engineering firm, to provide design engineering services.

The bridge has seen maintenance done on it before when it was in need of repair. Councilman Les Bland said that he remembers being underneath the bridge and being able to see the sky when he looked up.

"This is the third bridge in the city of Fenton that we have received bridge funding for," Bland said. "We're probably talking about $8-9 million of funding, and we just have had to pick up the other 5 percent and engineering."

Since funding for the bridge will not come through until 2015 the current bridge will have to hold up until then.

"We're getting these bridges done very cheaply," Bland said. "We've still got a couple of others to work on but it's a great project."

REGARDING THE PIG: There should be an exception for a special needs child. If that pig is taken away from her, she will be devastated and not understand why.

I THINK FENTON'S mayor should give that pig a key to the city.

THERE IS FAR too much anger and hatred in Fenton these days, I can see by the Hot lines.

THANKS TO THE heartfelt woman who paid for my coffee at Tim Hortons on May 22. I am most grateful.

AT 6 P.M. MONDAY evening a young girl in a gold Lexus blew a stop sign. We all saw it and I honked at you. Ever wonder why your front end is wrecked?

A FEW YEARS ago Holly agreed to a millage to keep the dispatchers here. That worked so well I guess they want to do it all over again.

REGARDING THE FORECLOSED horse farm on Lake Fenton, what do we have to do to get that properly taken care of and the lawn mowed?

TO THE FELLA in the white pick up truck on West Bennett Lake Road on Wednesday who thought it was great sport to run over garbage cans that had blown into the street. You knocked it into my lane while I was on a motorcycle and I'll think about you every time I look at my road rash and twisted ankle.

IF YOU DON'T like the look of the Holly recycling center and you want it gone, you must not care about our children and the kind of town they will live in.

ABOUT THE CORNERSTONE building. How much will it cost? The front page says 4.7 million but on page 6, it says 5.42 million dollar development. Which is it?

I AGREE WITH the shame on Linden VFW. I hope they have a change of heart.

I LIVE IN Tyrone Township and I wanted to say thank you to the paper delivery guy who brought dog cookies every Sunday. We miss him and got a new guy, but pass on my thanks to the old guy.

I'M SORRY THAT ACO is leaving us. I want to get a hold of the company and see if we can keep it here.

minimum sentence of 36 months and up to 71 months in prison.

The 56-year-old Miles was traveling south on Fenton Road in Hartland Township on Friday, Jan. 11 around 10 p.m. Beazley's 1990 Jeep Wrangler struck Miles' 2011 Dodge Caliber after she failed to stop and drove through a stop sign at Clyde Road.

The Livingston County Sheriff's Department responded to the crash site and Livingston County EMS transported Miles to Genesys Health Park in Grand Blanc Township where he was pronounced dead.

Beazley was charged in connection with the crash and causing his death and had been out on $25,000 bond. She will be back in court on June 13 for sentencing.

the company never had a disposal at that site. President Katie Leoni's father named the company such because he was at the time, in the disposal business.

The kind of sand they produce is used in commercial ventures — Leoni's father mined gravel from the site that went into constructing I-75 in the 1960s. The gravel is gone now, and the sand goes to projects like the Gateway Project which made the Ambassador Bridge more accessible.

A few municipal projects kept the company running while new construction slowed over the last few years. Currently they are providing sand for the Powers Catholic High School relocation to the former Michigan School for the Deaf in Flint.

Hayes said that 800 tons shipped out is a good year, at $2.25 a ton. He added that $2.25 is what the industry paid in 1985.

The company runs a very lean operation. Including Hayes, there are only four that run the business. "We can't afford redundancy," he said. Hayes enjoys the dynamic that keeps them on their toes.

A simple scale house at the mouth of the mine is run by one person, another runs the processing machine and loader, and Hayes manages the operation. Leoni functions as business manager and sales rep for the company. All the employees are able to do other jobs on the site. Leoni is also part owner along with seven other family members.

Though the ownership of the business has stayed with the family since 1963, the property was leased by another company until 2006, when the family took back the mining operation.

A point of pride for the company is the reclamation project they have ran since then. Mines like theirs must reclaim the land they've mined.

The steep walls etched by the loader must be filled in with slopes of material, and then grass seed is planted. Each step is strictly regimented. Currently there are 10 acres reclaimed, meaning vegetation is now growing on the slope.

Permits cost around $12,000 annually for the contractors required for aerial photography and others.

Though they essentially dig sand out of a pit for a living, Hays and Leoni are enthusiastic about their business, and the future of the site. In five years, the mine could be finished, which opens the property up for development. It's likely the mine could become commercial land. "This (highway) exit is primed for development in the next 10 years," said Hayes.

Leoni added that former mines have become lakes, around which spring million-dollar homes. "We can take this and make something really special out of it," said Hayes.

Q: What could be wrong with my truck? It won't start up and it is spitting gas out of the front manifold. - Sydney

A: Sydney, I would need to know more information about your truck. For example year, make, model, and engine size. However, I have seen this type of problem on several Chevrolet and GMC model trucks with a 4.3 vortec motor. It usually ends up being leaky fuel lines or fuel pressure regulator under the upper intake manifold. If this is the case, you should replace both while you are in there. This way you don't have to open it up again if the part that is not leaking goes bad after you repair the current leaking part.

We now offer free complimentary towing and roadside assistance package of up to 75.00 for 12 months or 12,000 miles with any repair or service (even oil changes) at Wilkinson Auto Repair, see store for details.

damaged in the storm, ranging from minor damage up to the Smith's total loss.

Though there were 50 incidents of damage and extensive clean-up, no one was reported injured, said Volz. "It was a very smooth operation."

Aside from Fenton Township assisting the City of Fenton for part of the tornado that struck in 2007, he said he hadn't seen anything this severe.

"This was a nightmare," said Martin before he delved back into the manufactured home to grab more boxes. The roof and walls are gone, but the family's entertainment center with TV seems untouched, exposed to the outside elements seemingly ready for viewing. The Smiths appreciate that no one was hurt, "but it's a mess," said Martin.

Along with his father, Martin works to salvage personal belongings like heirloom jewelry. On Tuesday night, he saw the funnel cloud, and made it downstairs just as it hit.

Like many of the residents, their stories have been shared by TV media, and he admitted the interviews were getting old.

Across the street on Jennings Road, north of Thompson Road, Cord Alvarado's family and co-workers cut and removed trees and shrubbery from their yard. His father's plumbing com-

Six homes were damaged on Thompson Road, the worst of which belongs to Jim Reynolds who lost his roof. By morning it was rebuilt and covered with plastic sheeting.

Dee and Paul Grossmann's home like many others saw trees representing family history uprooted and tossed dangerously about their property. The couple's vehicles were trapped in the garage by fallen trees. Despite the loss, Paul said that it's still nothing like the recent tornado in Oklahoma. "This is all fixable," he said.

Much of the atmosphere of the residents, even after the storm whipped through Tuesday night, was upbeat and positive.

By Thursday, Kelly Smith still hadn't located her engagement ring, though she hopes it made it out with the other piles of belongings. They spent Wednesday night with her sister-in-law.

She has begun to laugh off the catastrophe, whereas on Wednesday, every ► Local Girl Scouts partner with Linden art students to create custom shoes for sick children

By Olivia Dimmer

Fenton — When Carrie Keech was first approached by Sandy Kosofsky and her Junior Girl Scout Troop, she could not believe all the generous hands that were reaching out to aide her 2-year-old daughter, Phoebe, who was diagnosed with Pre-B ALL Leukemia in January.

“The girls were working on their Junior Bronze award, which is aimed at helping the community in some way,” Kosofsky said. “The girls came up with it all on their own.”

Kosofsky along with Junior Girl Scout Troop 70122 had offered to buy toys and other items for Phoebe. While flattered, Keech knew that Phoebe wasn’t the only child who needed support and love while battling cancer.

Keech decided to use the Girl Scout’s help to piggyback on a charity called Peaches Neat Feet, which donates shoes designed by artists to children struggling with health issues. Keech then called upon her sister-in-law, Linden High School art teacher Gemma Keech, to provide student artists willing to donate their talents to the cause. Thus, this project began.

“In mid-April, the Girl Scout troop did a pop can drive, called ‘Friends of Phoebe.’ They raised close to $300,” Carrie Keech said. “I shared with Sandy where to buy the shoes and what sizes. She ended up buying 12 pairs of shoes for the children at CS Mott. There is also a pair being specifically designed for Phoebe.”

White shoes were bought and delivered to the Advanced Placement Art class at LHS, which then designed them. Although specific names and diseases could not be given out due to privacy laws, each student designed their pair with a small child in mind.

“My students genuinely love that they were given this opportunity to use their expressive abilities in a way that will bring joy to these children in their unfortunate circumstance. They are so happy that they are able to contribute to such a beautiful cause,” said Gemma Keech.

“Our AP Art class is a small class full of students that are very passionate about art. They have created many unique pieces that they have submitted to the AP Board along with many other paintings, drawings, digital pieces. The art teacher said they are fortunate to have an administration that is excited about the students and supportive of their involvement in community projects.

Gemma Keech plans to continue this project in future years with her AP Art students and encourages the community to show their support by getting involved and making donations. She can be reached at gkeech@lindenschools.org. In the meantime, she is focusing her efforts on fostering her student’s passion for art and the cause.

Once the shoes are completed, the AP Art students will be given a tour of the hospital and will be able personally to deliver their shoes to any children that are currently staying at the hospital. A date has yet to be set for this event.

“Our family truly appreciates their support. Their personal commitment and generosity will directly benefit Phoebe, our family, and other children battling this disease,” Carrie Keech said. “They’ve truly done an incredible thing. It’s inspiring. They are role models for all children.”

It's a Fenton-Linden district final on Saturday

►Tigers, Eagles earn easy semi wins on Thursday

By David Troppens
dtroppens@tctimes.com

Fenton — About the only thing that could keep Linden and Fenton's varsity girls soccer teams from scoring goals during their Division 2 district semifinal contests at Fenton High School on Thursday was Mother Nature.

Both teams had to suffer through rain delays. But it mattered little as it took just one half of play for both teams to earn a spot in Saturday's district title game slated for 11 a.m. at Fenton High School. Linden crushed Flint Northwestern 14-0 in just 40 minutes of play, while the Fenton Tigers had seven different goal scorers in a 7-0 victory against the Clio Mustangs.

Linden coach Kevin Fiebernitz rested his top players most of the contest against the Wildcats, but it hardly mattered as the Eagles pounded the Northwestern net constantly. In a matter of five minutes, the Eagles led 3-0, and it never really stopped as Linden averaged a goal a little bit less than one every three minutes.

Jordan Holscher led the Eagles with three goals, while Olivia Kirk, Amelia Simberg and Gabrielle Freeman each provided two goals. Also scoring a goal each were Madison Maxheimer, Audrey Bakos, Emily Huffman and Hanna Whitted.

"That's what we wanted. We wanted to play (Fenton) again," Fiebernitz said. "You want to get another opportunity, but not only that, but it's for a district championship. We have to play our 'A' game. There have been some games we've looked absolutely brilliant and there were some other games I don't know the team that showed up. We'll see."

Fenton had a tougher foe, facing Clio, but still dominated the contest, earning a 24-0 shot edge during the game. And has been pretty typical of the season, the Tigers' offense was extremely well balanced. Seven girls scored the Tigers' seven goals.

The first came within the opening minutes on a Allison Cialkowszewski cross to Brianna Costigan for a goal. The onslaught never really stopped the rest of the half as Fenton got goals from Carly Granger, Baylee Adams, Natalee Marshall,

Blue Devils headed into finals after 6-1 win vs. Perry

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

What has been a near-perfect season for the Lake Fenton varsity girls soccer team, has a chance to get a little better on Saturday.

The Blue Devils earned a spot in the Division 3 Durand district final by defeating Perry 6-1 on Wednesday in the district semifinals.

"The game was much closer than the final score shows," Lake Fenton coach Lenny Glasstetter said. "It was our third time playing them and playing a team three times in one season is tough."

The Ramblers gave the Blue

Devils their toughest competition of the three contests on Wednesday. However, it didn't keep the Blue Devils from dominating, and earning a spot against Ovid Elsie in the finals at 10 a.m.

Jordan Newman led the Blue Devils with three goals, while Denise Carlson provided two goals.

Miranda Quick had a goal.

Unlike many of Lake Fenton's games this season, however, Perry did provide an attack against the Blue Devils (15-2-1). Perry had 13 shots on net. Lake Fenton keeper Missy Eggleston was strong, making saves on 12 of them to preserve the victory.

Eagles win seventh-inning thriller vs. Corunna, 6-5

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Lake Fenton — Just keep swimming.

When things are going bad for the Linden varsity softball team, the phrase that has become popular through "Finding Nemo" has become the Eagles' battle cry.

It worked on Tuesday in the team's Division 2 pre-district game against the Corunna Cavaliers.

Trailing 5-2 with one out in the bottom of the seventh inning, the next seven Eagles reached base safely, earning Linden a 6-5 victory at Lake Fenton High School, earning the team a spot in Saturday's district semifinal game against tourney hosts Lake Fenton at approximately noon. The winner of that game plays either Owosso or Ovid-Elsie in the title game.

With the bases loaded and one out, junior Alyssa Logie came up with the game-winning single to left field, plating the go-ahead run in the 6-5 win.

"It feels great. I was just looking for a base hit, trying to get on base," Logie said. "Bases were loaded and we had one out. I was going to do whatever it took — a little pop to get it in and get that winning run in."

"That's how they've been all year," Linden coach Gordon Jamison said. "They really haven't been panicking. We've come back a couple of times. They got this saying from 'Little Nemo' to just keep swimming. So when we get in a bind like this they say 'Just keep swimming' and it's kind of a good attitude for them — not to get panicked and to keep plugging away."

The game didn't start well for Linden. The Cavaliers scored three runs on three hits and a walk in the second inning, taking a 3-0 lead.

Linden cut the gap to 3-1 in the top of the third with an RBI-single by Savannah Weaver, plating Makayla Cavanaugh, who walked, but Corunna responded with another run in the top of the fourth on three consecutive hits. Corunna's lead grew to 5-1 in the top of the sixth after a leadoff walk and consecutive singles, but Linden was able to plate a run in the bottom of the sixth. Maija Satkowiak singled, went to third on an error off of Tori Davis' batted ball and scored on a wild pitch. Still, Linden trailed 5-2 entering the seventh.

And with one out in the seventh, the situation looked bleak. However, Bri Senter singled, and Cavanaugh reached base on a passed ball after she struck out. Weaver walked, loading the bases. Satkowiak hit into a fielder's choice that got nobody out and drove in a run, cutting the gap to 5-3. Then Molly Sherman and Tori Davis had consecutive singles, tying the game up at 5-all with Logie up to bat. She made her at-bat a no-doubter, singling to left and giving Linden the 6-5 win.

"We were confident," Logie said. "We were a little nervous toward the sixth and seventh inning, but we got a rally going and they couldn't stop it. Once we got the bases loaded with only one out, that was the point we knew we could do this."

Sherman was the winning pitcher, but struggled. She allowed 15 hits and two walks, while striking out six. However, the Eagles' defense played well behind her, throwing out two base runners from the outfield.

"I don't know what to say," Jamison said. "They just kept playing, and kept plugging away."

Eagles' offense soars in district opener, defeat Cavaliers 12-2

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Lake Fenton — In what has been an up and down season for the Linden varsity baseball team, it seems the Eagles are going through an "up" at the right time of the season.

Just 24 hours after winning the Greater Flint Tournament for the first time in school history, the Eagles' bats did some more damage against Corunna in a Division 2 pre-district tournament game at Lake Fenton High School, earning a 12-2 victory in six innings.

The Eagles didn't waste any time. They took advantage of five Corunna walks in the opening inning, scoring six times in the stanza and capturing a 6-0 lead. Mixed in with those free passes was an RBI-single by Mitch Juhl and Trent Marks and a two-run single by Jake Dunleavy.

"I think we hit the ball well," Juhl said. "We waited for our pitch and when we got it we drove it. We didn't swing at anything bad, and that helped us get on the base-paths. Once we were on them, when we got our pitch, we swung them in."

Linden added another two runs in the second inning, increasing the lead to 8-0. By then, the only question that seemed to remain was if the Eagles would win the game via the five-inning mercy rule or not. Eventually the Eagles did win by the mercy rule, but it took six innings to do so. Leading 11-2 entering the bottom of the sixth, Marshael Ryan and Jake Klosek each reached base on an error and Austin Buerkel concluded the game with an RBI-single to center.

Others providing RBIs were Brady Sar-

Bryce Benedict was the winning pitcher, going the distance on the mound, allowing only three hits and one walk. He

LF golfers capture district crown

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Denny Lucius thought it was his team's time to finally win a district title.

The Lake Fenton varsity boys golf coach ended up being right.

Lake Fenton captured the Division 3 district held at Hollow Meadows in Capac Wednesday afternoon.

"It's been a long time since we won (a district or regional championship)," Lucius said. "Every year you go and wonder when it is your team, when it's your turn to win one. This year it was our turn."

The Blue Devils dominated the district. Lake Fenton won with a team score of 303, while Lutheran North finished second, six strokes back with a 309. The top six teams and the top six individuals who are not on a team that qualifies, earn bids to the regional tournament held Thursday at Flint Elks Golf Course.

Lake Fenton's Merrick George placed second overall, recording a one-under-par 71 for his 18-hole event. Lutheran North's Davis Harm won with a 70.

"He was a little disappointed he wasn't the medalist," Lucius said. "He had a shot out of bounds, so that cost him two strokes."

After George, Blake Bonicki carded a fourth-place score of 74, while Wes Potts and Jon Growney each had 79s.

Now the team prepares for the region-

Three tri-county teams win district openers

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Fenton — The tri-county's two conference championship girls soccer teams began their runs in district tournaments the way they won their games during the regular season.

In Lake Fenton's situation, they rode the state's most potent goal scorer, Jordan Newman. She scored five goals in the Blue Devils' 8-0 Division 3 victory against Chesaning High School on Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the Fenton Tigers used their offensive depth, earning six goal scorers in a 6-0 victory against Owosso High School on Tuesday. Linden earned its first-game victory in district action on Wednesday, defeating Swartz Creek 3-1.

Holly wasn't as fortunate, seeing its district run end in the first round, losing a 7-0 verdict to Lapeer West at the Lapeer West district.

Lake Fenton dominated Chesaning in a game that was shortened due to the mercy rule. After Newman's five goals, Kaitlyn Begley, Alyssa Krueger and Melissa Williams had one goal each. Denise Carlson, Alexis Cash, Sidney Scott, Newman, Krueger and Begley also had assists.

In net, Missy Eggleston had her 10th shutout of the season, making two saves.

Fenton scored three first-half goals and cruised against Owosso, earning the easy 6-0 victory. While there were six different goal scorers, Allison Cialkoszewski had an outstanding offensive night, collecting three assists to go with her one goal. Also scoring for Fenton were Payton Maxheimer, Madison Wegner, Carly Granger, Mackenzie Murphy and Chloe Foor. Katie Delavergne, Jennifer Surface and Brennan Sullivan also had assists.

Tiffany Cairns and Kaleigh Keyandwy had two saves each, preserving the shutout.

Katie Wilkowski scored two goals off of assists from Kelsey Brecht for Linden, helping lead the Eagles to the 3-1 victory on Wednesday. Creek cut the gap into half, but Linden's Jessie Megalski scored off an assist from Samantha Thornton to put the game away.

struck out three, and gave up just two harmless runs. Corunna never seriously threatened the Eagles' lead.

The Eagles have had a strange season. They contended for the Metro League title, but lost their last twinbill, resulting in a .500 record in league play. However, they also showed stellar play in the Greater Flint Tournament, winning the championship.

And now, the Eagles hold a nice 20-11 record overall and are preparing for the district semifinals with a 10 a.m. game against Lake Fenton on Saturday. The winner of that game will play in the district title contest later that day, at approximately 2:30 p.m.

"It's been a pretty crazy season — lots of ups and downs," Juhl said. "But I think we are really pulling together after the two wins we just got — the Greater Flint and now this one. I think we are starting to get back to our peak."

FINAL

Cialkoszewski, Chloe Foor, and Mackenzie Murphy. Granger and Brennan Sullivan each had two assists. Maggie Dewan and Cialkoszewski had an assist each.

"It's not just the girls being unselfish, which they have been, but it's also been the girls making the effort to get in a position to score. I think that's the most important thing," Fenton coach Matt Sullivan said about the team's offensive balance. "It's not about passing and sharing the ball, but it's about being at the right spot at the right time, and I think we've done a good job at that."

Fenton has two regulation-timed victories against Linden this season already. The Tigers beat Linden 1-0 early in the season on a last-minute goal. The Tigers also won a 3-0 contest during what was the league game.

"Beating a team three times is very hard," Sullivan said. "We know they are gunning for us. They are hungry for us, want revenge and we are really going to have to step out our game on Saturday if we want to be successful."

"We know the games are usually competitive. The last game wasn't really competitive," Fiebernitz said. "The good thing is we didn't have our starters waste any energy today, and a couple of girls who were banged up got a chance to heal. We'll see what we can do."

Interested in playing a game of quidditch?

►AYSO players going to get a taste of the Harry Potter game at tourney

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Krystina Packard has always been a Harry Potter fan.

So when she got the chance to play one of Harry's favorite games, a contest called quidditch in the Harry Potter novels, she jumped at the chance.

"I attended Michigan State, I saw an informational meeting about it, fell in love with the sport and have gone on from there," said Packard, who works with the Little Kritters soccer program with the Midwest Soccer Academy (MSA).

And now the Fenton resident is going to get a chance to present her love for the sport during the American Youth Soccer Organization's (AYSO) Area 6 Tournament, being hosted at Deer Run Park June 7 through June 9. The game is scheduled for noon on June 8. The quidditch exhibition will involve players from the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, Eastern Michigan University and the University of Toledo. Packard, who recently competed in the Quidditch World Cup, is excited to present the sport to not only the AYSO students but to anyone else who wants to watch the exhibition being hosted in between soccer games. The FC Bolton travel soccer club will sponsor the game.

"Tony (Shard, president of MSA) presented the idea to me. He asked me if I could contact any quidditch players so they could watch the game, and help the kids try it out, too," Packard said. "We want to let the kids experience it, too."

Ask what quidditch is and it's likely 10 different people will give you 10 different explanations. Packard said the game is a combination of dodgeball, tag, basketball and rugby.

Quidditch is played in a large outdoor court in a sphere. Brooms, balls and hoops are involved. Teams can score points by throwing the balls through the opposing team's hoops, which are suspended above the ground so a ball can be tossed through them. Teams try to collect the balls so they can throw them through the hoops for points. However, while trying to do so, the opposing team can hit the opposing players, forcing them to go back to their starting position. The players involved in this portion of the game are called chasers, beaters and the keeper. There are three chasers, two beaters and one keeper on each team.

However, they aren't the only ones on the field. Each team also has a seeker. Their goal is to find the last person on the field, called the snitch. The snitch is a participant who is neutral to both teams.

Once a seeker catches the snitch, their team collects 30 points and the game ends. The team with the higher point total wins the game. Packard said games can last as little as two minutes but can be as long as 90 minutes. Most last between 25 to 30 minutes.

"A lot of soccer players play it," Packard said. "I'm hoping the kids find it exciting. It should be lots of fun."

"The quidditch promotional match will gather the attention of many Harry Potter fans across the area," regional commissioner and president of Tri-County Soccer Robert Levander said. "It is a great privilege to be able to host them at the AYSO Area G Tournament. Almost everyone I have spoke to wants to see this match. It should bring additional traffic through the complex and the area."

While there will be the quidditch exhibition for most of the month, soccer will dominate the action at Deer Run Park. Along with the June 7 to 9 tournament consisting of Tri-County Soccer's teams and AYSO teams from all around Genesee County, the organization will be hosting the AYSO Section 8 Tournament for soccer teams from Michigan and Indiana from June 21 to June 23.

The events should bring thousands of competitors for both weekends to the tri-county area.

Blue Devils suffer one bad inning at Greater Flint tourney championship game

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Brad LaRowe appreciates the history of the Greater Flint Baseball Tournament.

And he was glad his Lake Fenton Blue Devils were able to become a part of that history by playing in the championship game on Memorial Day.

However, the Blue Devils came one step short of winning the title.

The Blue Devils (13-13) gave up six runs in the top of the fifth, resulting in a 7-4 loss to Mt. Morris in the Division II game at Flint's Broome Park.

"One bad inning, of course," LaRowe said. "It seems we usually have one bad inning. We were up 2-1 going to the bottom of the fifth, allowed six runs and couldn't recover."

The Blue Devils took the early lead in the first when Neil Allor singled, and Robbie Alexander reached base on an error. Both runners scored on a batted ball by Tyler Begley which was booted. Mt. Morris scored a single run in the fourth, cutting the gap to 2-1. But then came the fifth inning. Three singles, two doubles and an error allowed Mt. Morris to score the six runs and capture a 7-2 lead.

The Blue Devils had some chances to get back into the game. They scored a run in the sixth when Allor reached on an error, stole second and scored on Alexander's single to center. Then in the bottom of the seventh, Tyler Smith, who walked, scored on Allor's double, cutting the gap to 7-4. Lake Fenton actually had the game-tying run at the plate, in the seventh but were unable to score again.

The top six teams at the 14-team district qualified for regionals, as did the top six golfers on non-qualifying teams.

Holly placed eighth at the meet, missing qualifying by 10 strokes with the Bronchos' team score of 334. After Rowse, Kyle Pepper carded an 83 and Mitchell Hughes had an 84. William Moller carded an 86.

Fenton placed ninth with a 336. Jack Berry carded an 83, while Max Martin scored an 86. Anthony Flannery scored a 94.

Linden at Division 2 district at Lapeer Country Club

The Eagles qualified for the regional tourney by placing third at the meet with a score of 332.

Devon Cota led Linden with a 77, while Alec Bond carded an 83. Dylan Elmer had an 84 and Trevor Sundia carded an 88.

al round. The top three squads at regionals qualify for the state meet. It's a challenge Lucius said won't be easy.

"We have one of the toughest regionals," Lucius said. "We barely got by Lutheran North and we have Almont as well. We have Powers coming to our regional and they are a very strong team, too. If we play like we are capable of playing, we can qualify."

Fenton, Holly at Division 1 district at Coyote Preserve

The Tigers' John Lloyd was the medalist with a one-over-par 73, earning a spot in regional action at Lake Orion's Boulder Pointe Golf Course on Thursday. Holly also had an individual qualify. Parker Rowse carded an 81.

The more morels, the merrier

►Tasty mushrooms can be preserved by air drying, revived in bowl of water

By Ryan Tackabury

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

"It looks like a toadstool that has sponges that sit up like a thumb." That's the description of a morel mushroom from local morel hunter Robert Jarret.

Yet every year thousands of people across the country head out into the woods to scavenge any of the mushrooms that they can find. At around $20 a pound, it's easy to see why people would seek out morels on their own. Not only is it more cost efficient, it can be fun too.

Jarret and his wife Sue have been hunting for morels for more than 30 years. It's a hobby they have shared with their children, and now grandchildren. This year they started hunting the week before Mother's Day and gathered more than 1,100 morel mushrooms.

"It's something we have done with our kids and with our grandkids and something we will pursue doing forever. That's our plan," he said.

Despite how expensive they can be or the work involved of picking your own, there is one clear reason they morels remain popular — the taste.

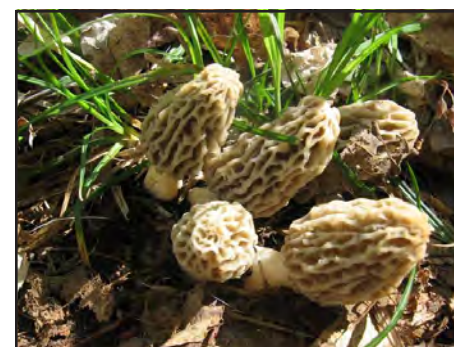

"They're just a wholesome tasting mushroom. Whatever you make it with, it will bring out the flavor," Jarret said. "It just has a flavor of its own."

Because the season for hunting morel mushrooms is so short, you will want what you pick to last as long as possible. To do this, you can dry the morels and save them until you decide you are ready for another morel dish.

To air dry morels, leave them in a cool, dry place until they become brittle, which can take up to a week.

"We use a screen," Jarret said. "You can use your window screens or whatever it might be. You set that up so the air is below it and above the morels."

To dry them quicker, morels can be oven dried by setting an oven to 140 degrees Fahrenheit. Using a needle and dental floss, string the morels together,

Last call for morel hunting

If you want to go out and pick your own morel mushrooms, you have a little bit of time left. The picking season tends to end in mid-June. With that in mind, here are some tips for finding them • Know how to identify the morels.

Real morels will have pits and a cone shape, with the bottom of the cap attached near the bottom of the stem. Before you go out picking be certain you can identify a real morel so you do not eat a potentially toxic mushroom.

• Know where to look. Morels tend to appear on the edge of forested areas, and grow around elm, oak, aspen, and ash trees. Once you come across a morel, look around to see if others have grown in the nearby vicinity.

• If you are new to hunting morels, look for someone who already has experience who can share their knowledge with you. Not only will you be able to learn how to hunt faster, but you will have company as you hike through the woods looking for delicious snacks.

Source: www.fieldandstream.com and hang them from your oven's cooling racks so that no morels are touching. This process will take about eight hours.

When you are ready to revive your dried mushrooms, just add water. Let the morels sit in a bowl of water for about 20 minutes and they will once again become soft.

"They shrivel up and will get hard and dry. When you put them in water, they pop to life again. It's amazing," Jarret said.

Meet Bobby Grossi

Husband, father, coach, community booster, dentist

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

It's not by accident that Bobby Grossi, 40, of Linden describes himself first and foremost as a husband and father, before talking about his work as a dentist. Married to Sabrina for 13 years and the father of three, Grossi grew up in Flint and is passionate about his role as a community booster for Linden, which has been his family's home for the past eight years.

You're a real booster for Linden. What is it about your community that you love so much? I believe in being involved. My dental practice, Gateway Dental in Grand Blanc Township, sponsors four local traveling baseball teams, and I coach AYSO soccer and baseball here in Linden. Since moving to Linden eight years ago from Flint, my whole family has moved to the area, too. I love the Fenton and Linden area because everything is so down to earth. What you do for a living doesn't separate you from who you are. It's not pompous or arrogant. It's not about your job title, it's what's in your heart.

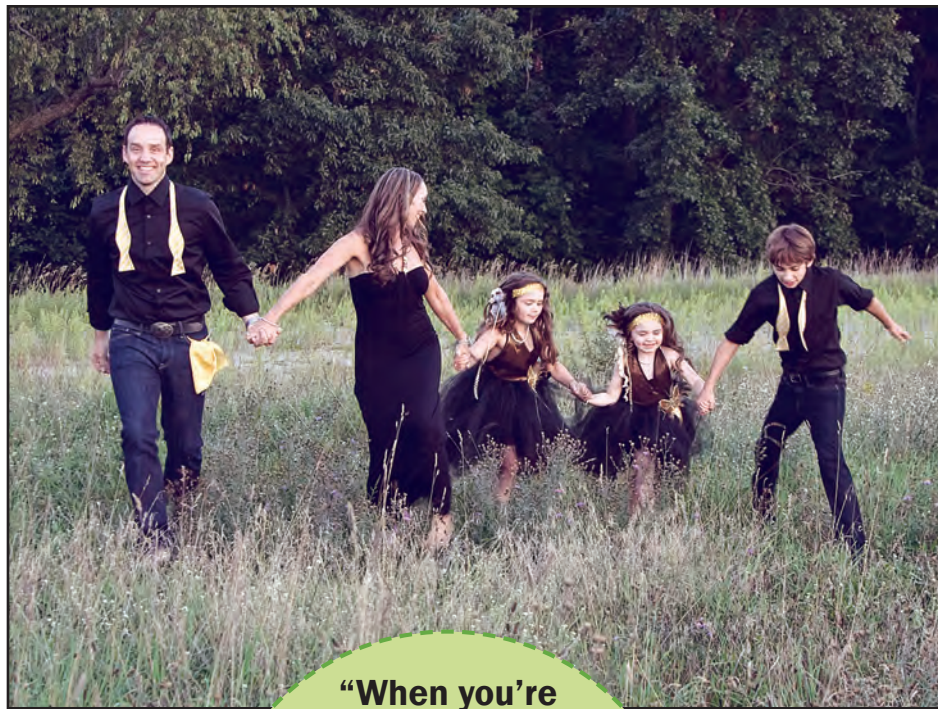

You seem very passionate about helping others. Where has that desire come from in your life?

I came from a broken home in Flint, raised by a single mother. I know what it's like to lose everything. When you're a child, life is always about you. Now I know life is much bigger than myself. In fact, it's not about me at all. I just want to try to make the biggest impact in the world that I can. I want to put a smile on everyone's face other than mine.

Who has been the biggest influence in your life?

No question, it's my wife. Sabrina is the smartest woman I know. We've been married for 13 years, but together for 22 years. I didn't have a male role model growing up, but her demand for excellence became my greatest influence. She is the reason why I am who I am today.

What role in your life are you proudest of? I'm a more dedicated father and husband than anything else in my life. The hardest part for me in becoming a parent was learning how to be a true parent. I always ask myself how I can truly mentor my kids. What kind of legacy can I leave them? I want to teach my kids by example how to live life to the fullest by giving back to others.

Why did you become a dentist?

My grandfather died of oral cancer, so I had always wanted to go into medicine. My wife suggested dentistry and I went for it. I graduated from University of Detroit-Mercy School of Dentistry in 2003.

I hear you have spearheaded a campaign called Cure for Phoebe to help a local toddler with leukemia. Can you tell us about it?

A little sister of my daughter's classmate at school was recently diagnosed with leukemia. Sabrina helped put together an event at my dental practice to raise funds for the family by donating all the proceeds from dental work done for the community on a recent Sunday. Anyone who still wants to donate can do so by sending a check to my office or through PNC Bank.

What life advice has been the most important to you? Stay true to who you are. Stay humble. Never, ever take anything for granted, because it can be gone in an instant.

ASK THE APPLIANCE EXPERT

Q. My refrigerator is 15 years old and works great. Does it make sense to buy a new energy efficient refrigerator?

A. Great question! Refrigerators manufactured 15 years ago consumed at least twice the energy that today's units do. A refrigerator is also by far the largest energy consuming device in your home, that's why Consumers Energy offers a $50 rebate plus hauls away your old working refrigerator if you purchase a new one. When purchasing a new unit pay attention to the energy rating tag on the unit. Not all new units have the same energy rating. LG seems to have the lowest energy consumption that I have seen.

DDA selects John Strayer as vice chairman

By Ryan Tackabury

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

John Strayer has lived in Fenton for more than 20 years, has served on the Downtown Development Authority board for four of them, and will continue to serve as the new vice chairman.

Strayer owns and operates Tanglewood Assisted Living Home Care in Fenton along with his wife, Gail. A licensed attorney, Strayer offers free legal advice on geriatric issues to the residents of Tanglewood and their families.

During his time on the DDA, Strayer has organized the Fenton Film Series, a free monthly event where films are shown at the Fenton Community and Cultural center. Strayer also played a large role in working with the Michigan Sculpture Initiative to bring sculptures to the downtown.

"It's exciting for me to be involved in the redevelopment of the downtown area," he said.

For Strayer, the Fire Hall and the expansion for the community center are two big DDA projects that he is excited about. "It's not just the expansion, but the restoration of the existing structure. It's such a beautiful piece of architecture to me," he said.

Strayer was first nominated for the position at the most recent DDA meeting by former vice chairman Jim Saule. The DDA board voted unanimously in favor of Strayer.

John Strayer

"A lot of things that have happened here in the last three years are because of Jim," said DDA chairman Craig Schmidt.

Though he is stepping down as Vice Chairman, Saule will remain on the board and will continue to work to better Fenton's downtown.

"I ain't through yet," he said.

Schmidt began serving as DDA chairman in 2009 after winning a coin toss with then fellow DDA member, Robert Cole after both remembers received an equal number of votes. Last month, he accepted a nomination to continue to retain the position for another year.

Schmidt, a long-time Fenton resident, also runs his own real estate appraisal business in town, Value One, Inc.

“It's exciting for me to be involved in the redevelopment of the downtown area.”

Concerts in the Park

Kicking off the weekly Concerts in the Park series in Fenton on Thursday, June 6 will be Toppermost, a Beatles tribute band. Head down to Millpond Park in Fenton on Thursday evenings at 7 p.m. to hear a different band every week and a range of many different musical performances.

In the month of August, Linden will also be hosting its own Concerts in the Park every Wednesday from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the Linden gazebo.

Linden Mills Days — June 21-23

How can you best kick off the official start of summer? Why not with a carnival, fireworks, a car show, and plenty of live entertainment? That's what you can find at the Linden Mills Days this year, which will offer something for everyone.

Fenton Freedom Festival — July 4

How do you want to celebrate Independence Day? The annual Fenton Freedom Festival offers many choices. Events include the Freedom Festival parade, pancake breakfast, Fenton Rotary's Rubber Ducky Regatta, pony rides, and much more.

And of course, it's not a Fourth of July in Fenton without watching the spectacular fireworks display.

Fenton Art Walk — July 13

Spend a day visiting the shops of local merchants while celebrating the arts of local and regional artists. Prizes can be won from participating merchants. The event promises music, food, and a fun day with the Fenton community. The event is located in downtown Fenton, running from the Shiawassee River to the Fenton Hotel from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Sights, Sounds, & Tastes of Holly — August 4

Enjoy the tastes of food provided by local Holly restaurants, while taking in the sound of live musical entertainment and the sights of downtown Holly. Raffles, dancing and more will also provide further entertainment. The event will start at 5 p.m. and last for six hours, with food being served until 8 p.m. Tickets are $10 per person.

Back to the Bricks Tune Up — Aug. 7 and 8

Like classic cars? Then the popular Back to the Bricks Tune Up events are a must see. This year there will be two. The first will take place in downtown Linden on Wednesday, Aug. 7 at 4 p.m., while the other will take place in Fenton the day after on Thursday, Aug. 8.

Taste in Fenton — Aug. 10

Good food with great company, what could be better? That is what the Fenton Regional Chamber of Commerce hopes to offer with the Taste in Fenton. With more than 30 local restaurants bringing some of their best foods, accompanied by samples of unique wines and beers provided by Fenton Winery & Brewery, this is one event you won't want to miss. The event lasts from 12 to 8 p.m. at the Community & Cultural Center. Tickets are $12 in advance, and $15 if purchased the day of the event.

BOATING FORECAST 2013:

Local marine owners hope for warm, sunny weather with a strong sales season

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

The marine forecast for this summer calls for sunny skies, warm temperatures and plenty of boat sales.

That's the optimistic view of local marina owners, who are hoping that this summer will be an excellent season out on the water, based on spring sales in spite of the season's cold, wet weather.

"We've been very busy and have sold a lot of boats, even though we didn't have much of a spring," said Jonathan Hamel, of White's Landing in Fenton. "Our 20-foot Bennington pontoons are always our biggest seller. If the weather holds and we have a nice, warm summer, people will continue to buy boats."

"Sales are very strong, even with the late start of the season," said Doug Lynch, of Skipper Bud's Marina on Lake Fenton. Their niche is primarily in pontoons and runabouts, although they're very excited about the new Tige boats that allow wakeboarders to enjoy their sport without a rope. "A good sign of the economy is that all of our more than 130 boat slips are sold out already, and we're already 50 percent sold for our indoor storage for next winter," added Lynch.

Joe and Dana Ceresia of Lake Ponemah Marina in Fenton Township are pleased with Avalon pontoon sales so far this year, predicting that the most affordably priced models will sell very fast, along with used boats priced between $3,000 and $17,000. "Our 40 boat slips are already full," said Dana. "Spoon Lake-side Tavern right next to us is now open. Everything is going great."

Patti Smith of Silver Spray Sports says it's going to be a great year, whether boat buyers purchase used or new. As a Nautique dealer, most of Silver Spray Sports customers are buying ski boats.

"People want to enjoy the lakes around us that we're blessed with," she said. "We're hoping that the wet April we had will bring the lake levels up where they need to be. I recommend to all boaters that they be familiar with the water levels at the lakes they're visiting this summer."

Don Nichols of Aqua Sports Marine in Fenton Township predicts a strong market this summer, in spite of the cold start to the season. "Our MB Sports custom boats win on competitive pricing, performance and quality and we're excited about that." He admits he's not a weather forecaster, but still predicts a busy, warm summer.

Mary Rising of Action Water Sports in Tyrone Township expects the sales momentum from the last two years to continue this summer.

"We're expecting the trend of slight improvements in all areas of our sales as we've been seeing for the last two seasons," said Rising. "Many folks are ready to upgrade their family boat or get their first boat. Boating is such a wonderful way for families to have fun together and we're so fortunate to have the abundance of beautiful, clean lakes in our area in which to enjoy this pastime."

THIS IS NO cheap spin. Bush and Cheney lied and over 5,000 died. Paste that on your little red wagon.

ATTORNEY GENERAL ERIC Holder, Obama's right-hand man and friend, swore under oath to Congress that he knew nothing about spying on the Associated Press, reporters, and their personal and families' phones/messages. But he reviewed, signed, ordered and tried to cover it up. Everyone's privacy is at risk.

A 10-YEAR-old girl with Cystic Fibrosis is being denied a heart-lung transplant to save her because of a federal regulation stating she must be 12. Why is the federal government making medical decisions instead of the patient and doctor. Obamacare will only make it worse. We should be afraid.

OBAMA IS A lame duck, in more ways than one. He's the best talker I've ever seen and the most inept president as well.

IN 2009, 'OPERATION Vigilant Eagle,' Homeland Security Program began 'helping' military veterans returning from Iraq and Afghanistan. Instead, many were characterized as extremists and potential domestic terrorists. They were surveilled, threatened with incarceration, committed, or arrested. Their crime — speaking out against our government's actions eroding freedoms. That dishonors our veterans.

CALIFORNIA HAS MADE public the prices for Obama-care insurance plans that will be available on its exchange in 2014. Lo and behold, the prices are consistent with the prices being paid by employers for employer-based plans. The lies coming from the right have been exposed again.

TO THE PERSON who wrote in about the flowers being stolen from their loved one's grave, it might be deer or rabbits since tulips are a favorite of both. I live nearby and they eat all my tulips. Plant daffodils, they don't eat those.

PRETTY AMAZING THAT someone who has been in education 15 years or less is a principal with Fenton schools and now has been named Michigan Middle School Principal of the Year. Some teachers work hard their whole career to earn such an honor.

I WOULD LIKE TO commend all the volunteer firemen and emergency personnel that interrupt their lives to respond to all emergency calls. We don't appreciate them until we need them. Thank you guys and gals.

LIVING off the LAND

Fenton area couple live self-sufficient life on 14-acre farm

By Olivia Dimmer
news@tctimes.com;

Tyrone Twp. — Zach and Jennifer Sartell live their lives according to an era that they both fell in love with — a simpler time where daily activities include milking and shearing goats, hand-making soaps and cheeses, tending to the garden and the menagerie of other animals that call Iron Oak Farm their home.

The Sartells live on 14 acres of gently rolling hills that provide roaming ground for their seven Angola goats, eight dairy goats, and various breeds of chickens, turkeys, ducks, and honeybees.

The front door of the Sartells' home displays what ought to be their motto: 'Simplify.'

The kitchen is Jennifer's workshop for making parmesan and cheddar cheeses, sour cream and butter — all from goats' milk. The living room displays a piano, a banjo, and a small collection of colored yarn (hand spun by Jennifer) and a pile of recycled railroad spikes turned bottle openers (crafted by Zach.) The home is decorated with products of their craftiness: hand-woven baskets, homemade canned goods, bundles of yarn and a drawing done by Jennifer of their bull Angola goat, Sully.

"I grew up in Clarkston on 10 acres of deep woods so I've always had an appreciation for nature," Jennifer said. "We had chickens but never anything more. The Angola goats came about in 2009. I had wanted them for their fiber for eight years."

Angola goats are a furrer type of goat that is bred specifically for the production of yarn. The Sartells breed their own goats, raise them to maturity, shear them and then Jennifer spins and dyes the yarn herself.

“When I was a kid I was really hung up on the Laura Ingles Wilder books. I fell in love with the time period and doing it yourself... Some people are into Star Wars or other things — I'm into this.”

Jennifer Sartell poses with one of her Angola goat kids, which will grow up to be sheared and provide fiber for Sartell to spin into yarn. One of her Nubian dairy goats, Esther, prances in the background.

"When I was a kid I was really hung up on the Laura Ingles Wilder books," Jennifer said. "I fell in love with the time period and doing it yourself. It's about following the process backwards. I like to make yarn, so I wondered if I could dye it myself, raise the animal myself and everything to do with the process. Some people are into Star Wars or other things — I'm into this."

When Zach first started dating Jennifer, he realized his love for the livestock and lifestyle along with his love for Jennifer. The two combined their talents and created the Iron Oak Farm.

"I started doing blacksmith work in 2001 when I first saw a piece of metal become red-hot in a forge," Zach said. "Then “Wheel of Fortune” has been a fixture on American TV for 30 years, giving away more than $200 million in cash and prizes to contestants since its debut. “Good Morning America” went behind the scenes to get the secrets of the beloved game show from none other than co-hosts Pat Sajak and Vanna White. Whether you’re a game show fanatic or a casual viewer, here are 13 fun facts about the show that you probably didn’t know and are guaranteed to come in handy on trivia night.

1 The original name of the show was not “Wheel of Fortune.”

It was called “Shoppers Bazaar” and the major difference was players didn’t win cash. They won fake money to put toward prizes on the set, Sajak explained, and there was a carnival theme.

2 The famous wheel weighs 2,400 pounds.

Yes, it’s that heavy. The wheel is equipped with more than 200 computerized lights, which can turn up to 2 million different colors. It gets its token sound from 73 stainless steel pins that fly past three hard rubber “flippers.”

3 Vanna White has worn more than 5,700 gowns on the show.

The sparkles, the pink, the sheer, oh my! “I’ve worn everything,” White said. “Everything from slinky to tight to sequins to satin – whatever it may be.” The co-host has never repeated a dress on the show. While she loves to play dress up, White says she doesn’t get to keep the outfits. Her favorites are the comfortable ones. And if one’s too tight? “I’m only wearing them for 30 minutes. I just hold my breath for 30 minutes,” she said.

4 Pat matches his tie to Vanna’s dresses.

5 They tape five or six shows a day.

6 More than 10,000 people try out each year, and fewer than 600 get on the show.

7 Today’s puzzleboard is made up of 52-touch screen television monitors.

It’s changed over the years, but the board that Vanna White controls is a high-tech wonder, featuring 52-touch screen televisions turned on their sides. There are 12 across in the top and bottom rows, and 14 across in the two middle rows.

8 The first letter Vanna ever turned on the puzzleboard was a “T.”

9 There is only one wheel and one puzzleboard.

There’s only one famous wheel, and it must be broken down and put back together whenever the show goes on the road. The show travels with more than 1 million pounds of equipment to tape in locations all across the country.

10 The price of a vowel hasn’t been adjusted over the course of 30 years. It’s still only $250. A bargain, Sajak says!

11 The Bonus Wheel contains 24 prize envelopes.

12 There is a screen off-camera that indicates for Pat Sajak how many times a chosen letter appears in the puzzle. In the early days of the show, someone from the production sat off-camera and held up their fingers to signal to Pat. “They came to be known as ‘finger boys,’” Sajak explained, “because someone would say, ‘Are there any Bs?’ And someone would have the puzzle in front of them and go [holds up two fingers], and I would say, ‘There are two Bs!’”

13 The biggest payout was $1,026,080 in cash and prizes.

Michelle Loewenstein is the lucky contestant with this distinction, according to the show. In October 2008, she won $1 million in the bonus round, upping her payout to over $1 million.

New Powerhouse Gym owner Kevin Law shows the drawings of renovations now being tackled step-by-step through its plan, Powerhouse 365.

Powerhouse 365

Longtime Powerhouse Gym makes upgrades with new owner

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

If you haven't been to Powerhouse Gym in Fenton for awhile, you're in for quite a surprise.

New owner Kevin Law assumed ownership on April 1, and has begun a plan of renovation not only in facilities and equipment, but also in services and accessibility. Called Powerhouse 365, Powerhouse Gym has already undergone many physical changes — from an emphasis on cleanliness and sanitation to a more open floor plan and a renovation of showers and dry saunas. The popular smoothie bar will be re-opening and exciting new cardio equipment will be added.

But more importantly, it's a whole new attitude at Powerhouse. As a longtime active member himself, Law knew that some updates needed to be made in order to keep fitness a priority in people's busy lifestyles.

"We're already open 365 days a year, and it costs only $1 a day to work out as often as you want at Powerhouse," said Law. By Christmas, he plans to have transitioned Powerhouse into a 24/7 facility, so that members can work out whenever it fits their schedule.

Child care will re-open on Monday, June 3 from 9 to 11 a.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. "That's one of the misconceptions people have about Powerhouse," said Law. "We're a complete fitness facility that caters to all fitness levels, not just body builders. When people are ready to get results, this is where it happens."

He also wants members and the community at large to be proud of having a Powerhouse Gym in the tri-county area. "We are the biggest fitness facility in the area with the most equipment," said Law. "There's no waiting in lines to work out. That's a huge time and money saver for our clients."

Law is striving to get the award for the best "turn around" club by making important changes at Powerhouse Gym, step by step. "It's all in the details," he said.

Powerhouse Gym is located at 1376 North LeRoy St. in the VG's north end plaza. For more information on membership, call (810) 714-0911.

The Colosseum

New fitness, event facility opens in Fenton Township

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

All of the athletes came to The Colosseum in Rome to train and compete, back in 82 A.D. This is exactly the goal that today's owners of The Colosseum have for their facility, located at 14261 Torrey Rd. in Fenton Township.

"We are a facility that trains, educates and provides fitness activities for youths and adults," said Laird Landis, president and principal owner who has partnered in The Colosseum with Tim Hellebuyck and Dan Kocks.

The Colosseum is actually several concepts under one roof.

- Performance training, led by Ken Hill, offers small group training for youths from 10 to 18 to develop core muscle strength, speed and agility for success in any "ball" sport — from football to soccer, lacrosse to baseball, basketball and soccer.

- Fitness classes for all ages are offered by Abby Rhoades, director of fitness and health, who uses her background of P90X, Insanity, yoga, Pilates, and body sculpting. She is also a certified massage therapist.

- Professional training, primarily pitching and hitting for baseball and softball, is led by several pro athletes, including Brandon Reed, Matt Dimich, Tim Simpson and Scott Aldred. This is designed for young people who are taking their skills to the next level with collegiate or professional aspirations.

"The Colosseum has tailored its programming to both team training and individual training at many different levels at a year 'round facility," said Landis. "Many local high schools are already using our facilities for practice and training."

In addition to these programs, The Colosseum also operates a full service athletic gear store for high school programs or club and travel programs. "We are the single source for uniforms for Fenton High School's Wounded Warrior football program," said Landis.

Perhaps the most exciting part of The Colosseum's development is the community use of the 30,000 square foot indoor arena. In addition to fitness activities, special events are planned — from Mom2Mom sales to a Blowout Boat Show set for this fall and an active senior program targeted for fall.

For more information about programs and events at The Colosseum, visit www.theCOLOSSEUM-fenton.com or call (810) 714-9505.

Let it go!

Sitting at my computer, I pondered how to answer a letter from a bitter man; bitter because he refused to let go of an attitude that was robbing him of the joy of living.

Wronged by a member of his family many years earlier, this angry writer had composed a blistering letter to the relative he felt had contributed to a family breakup from which he had never recovered. Now he had sent a copy of this letter for me to read before mailing it to his supposed enemy.

He wrote well.

But the content of his letter revealed the identity of his real enemy: himself.

He refused to forgive the one he blamed for his problems and this had been perpetuating his misery for years. In spite of efforts I had made in the past to help this bitter man break free from anger, he had kept coddling his contentiousness and as a result his emotional wounds refused to heal.

Millions, like my cold correspondent, move through life shackled to their sulking because they are unwilling to forgive.

How can we forgive those who've wronged us deeply?

Here's a more difficult question to answer: How can we keep on forgiving when the offense is repeated again and again?

Peter once came to Jesus and asked how many times he should forgive one who had offended him. Seven times seemed sufficient to Peter, but his Lord told him to multiply that number by 70, calling for His questioning disciple to forgive 490 times. Actually, Peter was being taught to just keep on forgiving. One who has forgiven 490 times has developed a healthy habit of living in a forgiving way.

Following this challenging lesson on forgiveness, Peter was told about a king who discovered one of his trusted servants had borrowed heavily from the royal coffers and owed him a large amount of money. Since the servant couldn't pay what he owed, the king ordered that his family be sold into slavery and the money applied to his huge outstanding debt. Later, however, the king had a change of heart and forgave the servant, canceling his entire obligation.

Upon being forgiven, the ungrateful servant found one of his friends who owed him a small amount of money (about fifteen dollars) and threatened to have him thrown into prison if he didn't pay up immediately (Matthew 18:23-25).

This parable teaches the first principle of forgiveness: we must forgive because we have been forgiven. But another important dimension to the lesson is added: we have never been wronged to the extent that we have wronged God. Since He offers to forgive us, we are obligated to do the same for others.

A free flow of forgiveness would revive most churches and revitalize many marriages.

Barriers erected long ago would fall. Warm embraces would replace cold stares.

Nursing an old wound grieves God and barricades His blessings.

Let it go!

"The hardest part of living the way we do is just finding time to get it all done," Jennifer said. "There's an endless list and the animals wait for no one. The spring is the most work where everything needs to be planted and babies are being born, but it all pays off during the harvest when we can see and have the satisfaction of knowing we did all of this ourselves."

changed to Lake Fenton. I know it must have been about a half century ago as the Lake Fenton schools and Lake Fenton Methodist Church were also called Long Lake schools and Long Lake Methodist Church. A history lesson.

WHEN DISASTER STRIKES in America, we thank God it wasn't worse, and offer prayers, help and comfort to friends, neighbors and countrymen because America, 'We the People' is 'One Nation Under God.' Always was, always will be. Letting discontents push our Christian principles out of America is not acceptable.

IF YOU'RE AGAINST alternative fuels, clean energy, and higher gas mileage standards, then you have no right to complain about gas prices.

Curb appeal...

2013's hottest outdoor home improvement trends will attract potential buyers to your home

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | KITCHENDESIGNHQ.COM
The appearance of your home's exterior, from siding to landscaping and other details, may make the difference between your home getting noticed or overlooked by a potential buyer.

By Sally Rummel
news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Never has it been more important to create a strong first impression with your home's exterior, than when trying to attract a potential buyer.

"In today's digital age, prospective homebuyers view your home online before deciding if they even want to take a look at your house in person," said Patrik Welty, of Legacy Realty in Fenton. "It's important that you show your home's best features with digital photos, and that includes sprucing up the outside as well as the inside."

According to Better Homes & Gardens, consumer "wish lists" for their home's exterior include low maintenance siding products, a private backyard and high performance products that come in a variety of colors, textures and designs. Other subtle improvements include the addition of modern lighting fixtures, detailed railings, a new mailbox, stone columns or decorative house numbers.

Landscaping is a huge draw to your property and can make or break a person's decision to even look inside your home. "The most important landscape features you can have in selling your home are an in-ground sprinkler system and sod," said Matt Mowinski, owner of Royalty Services on Silver Lake Road in Fenton and Thompson Road in Fenton Township.

He advises homeowners to plant two or three deciduous trees and/or evergreens throughout the property. "One rule of thumb is to spend 5-10 percent of your home value in landscaping," said Mowinski.

He also suggests that homeowners get in on a five-step fertilizer program, now offered by another division of Royalty Services, Royalty Green, LLC. "If a house's landscape looks like it has been well-maintained, then people will want to be there," said Mowinski.

Top rooms to sell your house?

►Give your kitchen and master bath the 'wow' factor before putting home on the market

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

You're not actually selling your house, you're selling your kitchen. That's how important this room is to the success of a potential home sale.

While you might find it difficult to spend money on a home you no longer plan to live in, sprucing up your kitchen will actually pay off in a big way when you do sell your house.

"The money you put into your kitchen you'll get back at sale time, and then some," said Shane Adams of ReMAX Select in Flint. "Your house will also spend less time on the market."

Fresh, clean, neutral and updated is his mantra for all rooms in the house, but is especially important in the kitchen. "Your kitchen and bath are what sells a house to a woman," said Adams. "For a man and kids, it's more likely to be a family room/great room area and a finished lower level."

How much you'll want to spend in remodeling depends on the property and the price range, according to Adams.

"If it's a high-end property, prospective buyers will expect certain amenities in their kitchen."

Kristy Cantleberry of ReMAX Platinum in Grand Blanc didn't hesitate at all when asked which room of a house makes a sale. "If the kitchen 'wows' you, that will sell the rest of the house," she said. "Make sure that countertops are new or updated, as well as the flooring. People look for lots of cabinet space, as well as upgraded appliances."

Granite countertops are very popular, said Shannon Brant, of Coldwell Banker Professionals in Fenton. "People also like stainless steel appliances, or at least appliances that match each other. If you can, repurpose the cabinets to give them an updated look."

Other expert advice includes quick, inexpensive updates like fresh paint and new cabinetry hardware and molding. Use a neutral color paint so you can present buyers with a blank canvas to help them envision their own style. If you can afford to, purchase one stainless steel appliance. Prospective homebuyers will envision the entire kitchen is done in stainless and this will provide a "wow" factor.

The master bath is the second most sought after room in a competitive housing market. "It's going to be key in the sale of your home," said Brant. "Replace the vanity, stool and tub, if needed. Add a neutral paint and new flooring."

“The money you put into your kitchen you’ll get back at sale time, and then some.”

Cantleberry suggests that you can also inexpensively replace mirrors to "crisp up" the look of the bathroom. "Put in a good sink. Make your bathroom a focal point. A closet for storage in a bathroom is also a big selling point."

She suggests that the rest of the rooms of the house be re-painted and have fresh carpeting installed.

In every room, cleanliness, not clutter, is a very important aspect of a strong first impression. "Stage your house with a professional agent," said Adams. "You'll always get back more than what you put into it."

Marching Ant Moving, a moving company in Grand Blanc advises homeowners to label each moving box with a list of contents and to what room it should be carried.

Moving checklist

►Marching Ant Moving of Grand Blanc offers moving tips for summer's busy re-location season

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Summer is the busiest time to make a move, and the work may seem overwhelming. Marching Ant Moving of Grand Blanc offers these tips to help make your move faster, cheaper and easier:

- Pack heavy items like books and magazines in small boxes.
- If you are moving from an apartment, try to save a parking spot or two near the building the night before by using your own vehicles. This will make the movers much more efficient.
- Use packing tape, not duct tape, for boxes.
- When marking your boxes for the movers, mark the side and top of each box with the contents and room the box is to go to.
- Legally, your mover can't move flammable goods or ammunition.

- Tape the bottom of all packing boxes. Folding them in leaves them weak and vulnerable to damage.
- Have a general "game plan" for the location of large items at your new location, to help avoid relocating items several times.
- It is easiest for everyone if pets and small children are taken care of off-site during a move.
- To save time on moving day, break down beds and disconnect appliances before movers come.
- Try to say goodbye to neighbors the day before the move to avoid the distraction of visitors on moving day.
- Place electronics in original packaging if you still have it, for additional protection.
- Provide the movers with cell phone numbers in case there are questions on moving day.
- Keep a box of essentials that stays with you for things like medications, vital documents that you don't want to have to search for on moving day.

Ronald W. Harrold

1946-2013

Ronald W. Harrold - age 66 of Fenton, died Thursday, May 23, 2013. Funeral services were held at 10:30 AM, Wednesday, May 29, 2013, at Sharp Funeral Home, Fenton Chapel, 1000 Silver Lake Road, Fenton. Visitation was held 4-8 PM Monday and Tuesday, May 27-28. Ron was born September 4, 1946 in Gladwin, the son of Charles and Marguerite (Lauer) Harrold. He was a 1964 graduate of Gladwin High School and received his Bachelor's and Master's degrees from Eastern Michigan University. He married Barbara C. Wolfe on August 16, 1968 in Allen Park. Ron taught and coached at both Marysville and Lake Fenton High Schools. Later he was a Sales Rep for Jostens Publications. In 1992, Ron founded Harrold Developments, a residential building company. He established three subdivisions in the Linden area and built over 200 homes. Ron had a strong belief in the value of community and strove to reflect that in each of his developments. Surviving are Barbara, his wife of 44 years; 2 children, Jeff and wife Mary of Linden and Heather and partner Ken of Howell; 5 grandchildren, Jason, Megan, Charlie, Sarah, and Lauren; brother, Tom and wife Marilyn of Woodbury, MN; brothers-in-law Tom Wolfe and wife Sharon of Sterling Heights, Dave Wolfe and partner Sharon of Taylor; sister-in-law Mary Pearce and husband Dane of Pembroke Pines, FL; and numerous nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his parents. Those desiring may make contributions to the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society. www.sharpfuneralhomes.com.

Darlene Ruby Barnett

Darlene Ruby Barnett - of Fenton, died peacefully at home surrounded by loved ones Wednesday, May 29, 2013. A memorial service will be held Monday, June 3, 2013 at noon, located at Grand Blanc Methodist Church, 515 Bush Ave. A lunch service will be served following the service. Darlene requested that people share stories at the service of how she touched your life. Darlene was born on February 19, 1963 in Fenton, the daughter of Larry Barnett and Nancy Estep. She was preceded in death by her mother Nancy, sisters Denise Teall and Deneen Murray and brother Bradley Barnett. She is survived by her brother Matthew Estep and many nieces and nephews. Darlene graduated high school from Lake Fenton in 1981. She earned her Bachelor's Degree in Human Services in 2012 from Baker College. A practitioner of Healing Touch and Reiki, she was an entrepreneur who wanted to help others with End of Life services. She was a lover of animals, especially her cat Furby. She was loved by many and was truly an inspiration to all who knew her. Being very spiritual, she believed that life isn't about finding yourself; life is about creating yourself. She encouraged people to follow their dreams and pursue their passions in life and she helped many people realize their self-worth. To show compassion to all and know that love is the most powerful energy that exists. To never hold the opportunity back to love and forgive others. To not dwell on the bumps in the road, for there will be many because all experiences you go through happen for a reason - to grow you into the person you are meant to be. And above all, to know that you should live each day as your last because tomorrow is never promised.

Zucchini Banana Bread Recipe

Ingredients

- 1-1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 t. ground cinnamon
- 1/2 t. baking powder
- 1/2 t. baking soda
- 1/2 t. salt
- 1 egg
- 1 cup mashed ripe bananas
- 1/2 cup canola oil
- 1/2 t. banana extract
- 1/2 t. vanilla extract
- 1 cup shredded zucchini
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Directions

1. In a large bowl, combine the first six ingredients. In a small bowl, beat the egg, bananas, oil and extracts. Stir into dry ingredients just until moistened. Fold in zucchini and walnuts.

2. Transfer to three 5-3/4-in. x 3-in. x 2-in. loaf pans coated with cooking spray. Bake at 325° for 40-45 minutes or until a toothpick inserted near the center comes out clean. Cool for 10 minutes before removing from pans to wire racks. Yield: 3 mini loaves (6 slices each).

THE NUMBERS STATION

After his latest mission goes disastrously wrong, veteran CIA black ops agent Emerson Kent (John Cusack, 2012) is given one last chance to prove he still has what it takes to do his job. His new assignment: guarding Katherine (Malin Akerman, Watchmen), a code operator at a top-secret remote CIA "Numbers Station" where encrypted messages are sent and received. When an elite team of heavily armed assailants lays siege to the station, Emerson and Katherine suddenly find themselves in a life-or-death struggle against an unknown enemy. With the station compromised and innocent lives at stake, they must stop the deadly plot before it's too late. R, 1 hr. 29 min.

Hot car can kill

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: I was taking my groceries out to the car when I noticed two small puppies looking out the window of a car parked next to mine. The windows were rolled all the way up, and the pups were panting nonstop. I ran back into the store and asked the manager to page the dogs' owner. Fortunately, the owner responded and went out to the car, saying he only meant to be inside for a few minutes. Can you let your readers know that leaving pets in a hot car, even "only for a few minutes," could be a death sentence for them? Thanks. — Charlotte

DEAR CHARLOTTE: You told them, and I thank you! The temperature inside a parked car, even with the windows cracked to allow airflow, can rise dramatically within just 10 minutes on a moderately cool day. Without sweat glands, dogs have trouble staying cool. And when their body temperature rises out of the normal range, their organs can be irreversibly damaged in a shockingly short time.

When it's 80 degrees F. outside, a car's interior can heat up to 99 degrees in 10 minutes, and to 109 degrees in 20 minutes, according to a report by RedRover, a nonprofit animal protection organization.

PAUL G. DONOHUE, M.D.

To your good health

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I had a little trouble breathing, so I saw my doctor, who ordered a chest X-ray. It showed fluid on the right lung. The doctor said he would have to do more tests to find out why the fluid appeared. Could you guess for me what those tests might be? What brought this on? — R.H.

ANSWER: A double-ply covering, called the pleura, encases each lung. A small space between the two leaves of pleura allows the lung to inflate and deflate effortlessly. The fluid you have is in the pleural space. The condition is a pleural effusion. The fluid is not actually in lung tissue. Infections, illnesses like rheumatoid arthritis, heart failure, blood clots in the lungs, liver cirrhosis and chest trauma are some of the causes of pleural effusions. Cancer is another cause. Shortness of breath, chest discomfort and cough are some of the things that a pleural effusion engenders. Some people with an effusion have no symptoms at all. The fluid is discovered when a person has a chest X-ray, as was the case with you. The doctor is most probably planning to obtain a specimen of the fluid from the pleura. It's not a difficult procedure. Analysis of the fluid provides information that determines what caused it. That information also allows the doctor to determine a treatment plan and provide you with a prognosis of what to expect. I'd like to speculate further for you, but I can't. I need more information too.

2012 Water Quality Report for the Village of Holly

This report covers the drinking water quality for the Village of Holly for the 2012 calendar year. This information is a snapshot of the quality of the water that we provided to you in 2012. Included are details about where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and state standards.

Your water comes from four (4) wells located on the West side of town. Wells are approximately 210 feet deep and are embedded into sand stone (Marshall Formation). The State performed an assessment of our source water in 2003. The susceptibility rating is on a seven-tiered scale from “very-low” to “very-high” based on geologic sensitivity, well construction, water chemistry and contamination sources. The susceptibility of our source is moderately high.

Several existing sources of contamination exist in the Holly Wellhead Protection area:
Leaking Underground Storage Tank (LUST) sites are located at Adelphian Academy, 820 Academy Road; Village of Holly, 201 Elm Street; Holly Area Schools, 800 Elm Street; Fresh Air Society, 4236 Grange Hall Road; Holly Volunteer Ambulance, 504 Maple Street; Mobil Oil, 15241 North Holly Road; Muffler Man of Holly, 503 North Saginaw; Wilkinson’s Auto Repair, 402 North Saginaw; Mabel O. Barnes Trust, 1125 North Saginaw Street; Holly Gas Company Inc., 114 North Saginaw; Beacon & Bridge Market, 820 North Saginaw; and Larry Winklemann, 220 Elm Street.
Four Part 201 sites of environmental contamination include Delta Tube and Fabrication Corporation, 4149 Grange Hall Road; Carl Spencer, 422 North Saginaw Street; Larry Winklemann, 220 Elm Street; and E and S Trucking, 15391 Fish Lake Road.

Potential sources of contamination include Underground Storage Tank (UST) sites, Aboveground Storage Tank (AST) sites, and groundwater discharge permit sites. Abandoned wells provide a direct conduit for surface run-off and contaminants to easily reach the groundwater and may pose a potential problem. To ensure that these wells are not a potential threat, they should be searched and properly plugged.

We are making efforts to protect our sources by participating in the Wellhead Protection Program.

If you would like to know more about the SWAP report please contact Brian Klaassen at 248-634-2202, or via email at bcklaassen@comcast.net.

- Contaminants and their presence in water: Drinking Water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA’s Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).
- Vulnerability of sub-populations: Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune systems disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).
- Sources of drinking water: The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. Our water comes from wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.
- Contaminants that may be present in source water include:
 - Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
 - Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.
 - Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture and residential uses.
 - Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.
 - Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which provide the same protection for public health.

Water Quality Data

The table below lists all the drinking water contaminants that we detected during the 2012 calendar year. The presence of these contaminants in the water does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. Unless otherwise noted, the data presented in this table is from testing done January 1 – December 31, 2012. The State allows us to monitor for certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. All of the data is representative of the water quality, but some are more than one year old.

- Terms and abbreviations used below:
- Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
 - Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL): The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
 - Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL): means the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
 - Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG): means the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
 - N/A: Not applicable ND: not detectable at testing limit ppb: parts per billion or micrograms per liter ppm: parts per million or milligrams per liter pCi/l: picocuries per liter (a measure of radioactivity).
 - Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system must follow.

* While your drinking water meets EPA’s standard for arsenic, it does contain low levels of arsenic. EPA’s standard balances the current understanding of arsenic’s possible health effects against the costs of removing arsenic from drinking water. EPA continues to research the health effects of low levels of arsenic, which is a mineral known to cause cancer in humans at high concentrations and is linked to other health effects such as skin damage and circulatory problems.

 Unregulated contaminants are those for which EPA has not established drinking water standards. Monitoring helps EPA to determine where certain contaminants occur and whether it needs to regulate those contaminants.

 Information about lead: If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. The Village of Holly is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

We will update this report annually and will keep you informed of any problems that may occur throughout the year as they happen. Copies of this report are available at Village Office at 202 S. Saginaw St. Holly MI. Office hours are 7:30 to 5:30 Monday thru Thursday. Department of Public Works 201 Elm St. Holly MI. 48442 Office hours are 6:00 to 4:30 Monday thru Thursday. This report will not be sent to you.

We invite public participation in decisions that affect drinking water quality. Village of Holly Council meeting are the 2nd and 4th Tuesday of the month at the Council Chambers, at 315 S. Broad St. Holly MI.48442. For more information about your water, or the contents of this report, contact Brian Klaassen at 248-634-2202, or via email at bcklaassen@comcast.net. For more information about safe drinking water, visit the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency at www.epa.gov/safewater/.

The Hernia Experts

Get Back in the Game

Fully effective treatment with less pain and faster recovery at the Hurley Hernia Center of Excellence, the only one in the region.

If you've been diagnosed with a hernia, turn to the Hurley Hernia Center of Excellence for treatment and repair.

The hernia experts at Hurley specialize in developing effective, minimally invasive procedures based on each patient's individual needs. Treatment plans utilize the latest innovations including lightweight, high-strength meshes that are custom-tailored for men and women to create tension-free hernia repairs.

Procedures at Hurley offer faster recovery time and minimal pain, allowing you to get back to work or the recreational pursuits you enjoy.

If you've been diagnosed with a hernia, we invite you to learn more about our program. For more information, please call the Hurley Hernia Center of Excellence today at 1.855.5.HERNIA (437642).
