LOCAL IMPERSONATORS KEEP

ELVIS ALIVE FOR FANS AROUND THE WORLD

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Leo Days was just 3 years old when he was mesmerized by a TV show, “Detroit Remembers Elvis,” back in 1983.

Days, a 1998 graduate of Davison High School, was hooked. “I thought Elvis was the coolest thing I had ever seen,” he said, in a phone interview with the Times from his home in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

Today, he spends six nights a week performing a half-hour Elvis show on the Legends in Concert Theater stage in Myrtle Beach, performing the most popular era of Elvis hits, including “Don’t Be Cruel,” “Jailhouse Rock” and “Blue Suede Shoes.” His own favorite Elvis song? “It’s ‘If I Can Dream,’” said Days.

In the busy summer season starting in June, Days will be performing nine shows a week. It’s a far cry from his early teen years when his uncle used to take him into bars to do Elvis karaoke, and he’d have to leave by 9 p.m. because of his age.

His “career” really took off at the Genesee County Fair when he won the talent show at age 15 with his Elvis impersonation. He spent the next decade singing in local shows, until he was picked up by Rock & Roll Inc. in Los Angeles, performing in a traveling show, “Three Faces of the King.” After a year, he joined Legends as an Elvis Tribute Artist, where he has been performing since 2009.

“I didn’t know people did this for a living until I started doing it for a living,” said Days. He remembers the days when his mom sewed his costumes for him, instead of outlaying up to $5,000 each for the costumes he wears on stage today. “I have about seven or eight different costumes for different sets,” he said.

Fun Fair is set for June 7

►Family-friendly fundraiser benefits West Shore and Torrey Hill schools

Organizers are inviting the community to come out and enjoy the annual Fun Fair at West Shore Elementary and Torrey Hill Intermediate schools. The Fun Fair and silent auction will run from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday, June 7 — rain or shine.

Event organizer/Lake Fenton parent Melissa Evans and her volunteers have been busy finalizing last minute details with expectations of providing another successful event for area families.

The Fun Fair was established in 2000 and since that time, thousands of family members have enjoyed the wide array of activities, while raising supplemental funds for the classrooms at those two Lake Fenton schools. Last year, the Fun

Fair raised nearly $20,000.

Evans said their goal for this year is to raise funds for improving the schools' Guided Reading libraries and updating technology.

The Fun Fair will have nearly 30 games, a bounce house, dunk tank, pie-throwing booth, candy store, bracelet making station, and "win a goldfish" game. Also on hand will be the Fenton Township Fire Department and a Genesee County Sheriff's Department patrol car. The Torrey Hill Robotics Team will be hosting a competition and the FC Bolton Soccer Club and Grand Blanc Gymnastics will be featured.

Some of the silent auction items include a grill, sports memorabilia, passes to the Detroit Zoo, teeth whitening certificate, and golf vouchers.

Mark your calendars and show your support by taking the whole family to this year's Fun Fair.

2014 RACE FOR THE TRIPLE CROWN

California Chrome: The backstory you probably don't know

►Recently becoming one of America's most-famous race horses, California Chrome will attempt to be the first horse to sweep the Triple Crown since 1978.

It all started as a tax write-off

Convinced the government was getting too much of his money, Steve Coburn wanted a tax write-off, so he pitched his wife on buying a horse. The answer was, "No." But she allowed Steve to buy into a syndicate ownership. They bought 5 percent of Love the Chase, eventually leading to the birth of California Chrome. All because of a tax write-off.

Chrome was almost called "Seabisquik"

When naming their now-famous horse, each of the four co-owners put their favorite name in Steve Coburn's cowboy hat and had a waitress pick the winner. The options were Lucky at Love (Carolyn Coburn's name), Big Chapter (Denise Martin's name), California Chrome (Steve Coburn's name) and Seabisquik (Perry Martin's name). The waitress picked out California Chrome.

A history of winning

Art Sherman, the oldest trainer to win the Kentucky Derby at 77, had been the exercise rider on none other than Swaps. Swaps was the 1955 Kentucky Derby winner six generations removed from California Chrome.

Jockey rode donkeys first

The current jockey Victor Espinoza, who has won all six of his races on the California Chrome, grew up learning to ride in Mexico City on donkeys.

What is DAP?

The horse's owners, who are almost as new to racing as their star 3-year-old colt, named their two-man venture "Dumb A Partners," a sarcastic nod to those who thought they were clueless. Their purple and green racing silks sport the image of a male donkey.

THERE ARE ONLY 11 TRIPLE CROWN WINNERS

1919 — One year after a winless season racing as a 2-year-old, Sir Barton became the first horse to win the Triple Crown with victories at the Kentucky Derby, the Preakness and the Belmont Stakes.

1930 — Gallant Fox set a single-season earnings record that stood for 16 years the year he won all three races in the crown.

1935 — Omaha

1937 — War Admiral won all eight starts as a 3-year-old, including the Triple Crown races. Eleven percent of his foals were stakes winners, including Hall of Famers Busher and Searching.

1941 — A two-time Horse of the Year, Whirlaway was the first horse to earn $500,000 and retired as the world's greatest money earner.

1943 — Count Fleet

1946 — Assault

1948 — The first horse to earn more than a million dollars, Citation still holds the record for earning the most stakes races in a year, with 17 in 1948.

1973 — Horse of the Year at 2 and 3, Secretariat set track records in each of the three classics, including coming from last place to win the Kentucky Derby; coming from last to first on the first turn of the Preakness; and winning the Belmont by 31 lengths.

1977 — Seattle Slew

1978 — In one of horse racing's greatest rivalries, Affirmed edged out Alydar in each of the Triple Crown races in '78. Affirmed retired with a record lifetime earnings of $2,393,818.

Memorial Day: The war to end all wars

A century ago, World War I began. There are no surviving veterans today. All of Europe erupted in war. Countries were forced to choose sides and fight because of all the alliances that had been made.

The war resulted in 36 million casualties, both civilian and military. Sixteen million died in the fighting. The machine-gun and other modern weapons dealt death at every turn.

America was forced into the war in 1917 because of German U-boats and allied pressure. More than 4.6 million Americans served. Of that number, 330,000 were killed or wounded. Many of that number succumbed to an array of diseases.

Folks from the Holly-Fenton area served while their communities helped with the war effort. Some served in the 32nd Infantry Division—Red Arrow Division, while other served in the 339th and 31st regiments. The latter not only fought the Germans but they became known as the Polar Bears because they fought Russian Communists.

We are reminded of their gallant sacrifices by the plaques and monuments. Some of our local heroes didn't return home. Holly's Amel Schwartz served in the Army Air Corps and was killed. As a reminder of his sacrifice, The Holly American Legion Post 149 was named in his honor in 1919.

The war didn't end all wars and didn't make the world safe for democracy. Memorial Day is a time to remember those gallant warriors who served. Take time and reflect upon their sacrifice from all wars and conflicts. Freedom isn't free.

You are not forgotten!

Joe Mishler is a combat-wounded Vietnam veteran. He is also Commander of Holly's American Legion Post.

'I learned a lot'

►Area students attend Rotary leadership seminar to hone skills for the future

By Sally Rummel

Taylor Bernstein, 16, a junior at Linden High School, was one of eight students from three area high schools who attended Rotary International's annual Seminar for Tomorrow's Leaders May 9-11 in Ontario, Canada.

"It was a lot different than I expected," said Bernstein. "I learned a lot. The speakers were amazing, and I've already talked to my counselors at school about bringing them to Linden."

Bernstein was one of several students who presented their experiences from the leadership meeting to the Fenton Rotary Club at their May 20 meeting at Spring Meadows Country Club.

Students who attended the leadership seminar were elected by school counselors to represent their schools. Fenton Rotarian Ron Gilbert has been chairing this program for the last five years. "The Rotary Club invests over $3,360 to send these students to the seminar," said Gilbert. "They always come back enthusiastic about what they have learned."

Representing local schools at the seminar were:

- Fenton High School — sophomores Leah Lynch and Alexis Meghanoff
- Lake Fenton High School — juniors Melissa Williams, Lauren Oppenheiser, and Megan Davis
- Linden High School — juniors Taylor Bernstein, Kali Hnatowich and Madelynn Moughler.

When it helps to remember

During a former memorial season, my column reminisced about family members who were no longer with us. My title that week was 'When It Hurts to Remember,' a fitting title, because remembering the passing of people who have been dear to us can sometimes cause the pain we felt at their loss to return.

The shortest verse in the Bible describes our Lord's broken heart as He stood at the grave of His friend, Lazarus: 'Jesus wept,' wrote John (11:35). But, though memories may sometimes open fountains of tears, they can also mend broken hearts and allow us to relive moments of joy.

My wife has memory places arranged throughout our home that help us relive happy moments with loved ones. Visit our living room and you'll see pictures of our grandparents and parents in youth among those of their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. The hall has a panorama of growing up, vacationing and enjoying life. At the end of the hall, look back through generations. Do these photos ever invoke a touch of sadness over those we remember? Of course. But we're glad they once lived among us and that we now know where they are. These are the positives of faith that make memories more than sad movies.

When Jesus neared the end of His time with His disciples, He met with them in an upper room to share a final meal and let them know what was ahead. 'Let not your heart be troubled,' He said (John 14). Then, assuring them that better things awaited them, added: 'In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.'

These words of comfort have entered hospital rooms, been whispered on battlefields and spoken in cemeteries over the background sounds of bugles and bagpipes while grateful and grieving people have gathered for words of hope while honoring and remembering those who have given their lives in the cause of freedom.

Dale Johnson was a helicopter pilot in Vietnam. When he was considering a return to battle, he seemed confident he'd make it home. 'This bird shoots back,' he told me. But Dale didn't make it back. For his memorial service, I wrote a poem titled 'My Pilot,' that ends as follows: 'I have a pilot in the sky, and I shall meet Him by and by; I'll walk beside Him on that shore, and stay with Him forevermore.'

Taking time to remember can hurt. We're not made of wood or stone and like our Lord, may find tears flowing out of memories. But remembering a life of faith well lived, culminating in the assurance of heaven, will create its own memorial; one that dries all tears and rests in confident expectation that the best is yet to come.

Cast sworn to secrecy in 'Rehearsal for Murder'

FVP's latest stage production might seem like a classic "Who Done It" play with several suspects, numerous plot twists and enough turns to keep the most avid mystery fan guessing right up to the end. To keep the secret of the guilty party the actors of "Rehearsal to Murder" have been sworn to secrecy so the only way to find out who did it is to attend.

Set in the 1980s, the plot involves a group of people who put on a Broadway play only to have it fail, and the leading actress mysteriously commits suicide. One year later, at the bequest of the play's author, the cast is reunited at the same theater. The play's author, played by Steve Visser, believes one of the play's company is the murderer.

Using new scenes written by the playwright, through flashbacks, the company is brought back to the events of the night of the actress' death. The plot is built one layer upon layer bringing new and sometimes false information. This leads the audience on a merry chase of clues and motives until the final surprise twist.

The play features a cast of both new faces and familiar ones, including Steven Visser, Bob Clark, Jacob Hoffman, Dale Radford, Rachel Herman, Holly Myers, Daniel Ragan, Mary Smith Powers, Geno Essenmacher, Jerry Flewelling, Amy Herman and Maggie Hodkin.

Directed by Gary Smith and Produced by Jill Ann Tomlin. Performances June 5-8 and 13-15. For tickets, times and additional information, visit FentonVillagePlayers.org or call (810) 750-7700.

IN EVERY WAR in U.S. history, disabled soldiers are abandoned. It's not a Republican or Democrat thing. Nobody really cares because disabled veterans are used-up and cost too much.

SO, THE CHAMBER of Commerce and (some of the) GOP oppose (yet again) bumping-up the minimum wage a couple bucks every 10 years because it'll hurt business. If that's true, why don't they ever propose lowering the minimum wage? Think the American public would buy that distortion, too?

TO THE WOMAN Wednesday morning 5/21, at a family practice on Torrey Road, you were appallingly rude to the front desk girl while she was checking me out. You should be ashamed of your behavior.

WELL, I GUESS my 'bucket has a hole in it' cause it seems as if the trips I may want to take are not possible with my income. About as far as I can afford, is to the Upper Peninsula. Even then, my husband worries about the price of gas.

The public is invited to "Jukebox Live" at Linden High School on Tuesday, May 27 at 7 p.m. in the school's auditorium. The purpose of this musical event is to raise money to support The Music for Memories Foundation, a fund that will help Linden students who have lost parents, to be able to afford extra-curricular events, such as spring break. "In addition to appearances by Tim Hunt, a professional dueling pianist, and myself, special guest performances will take place every 20 minutes, including songs by Takoma Curtis and Blake Bloomfield," said Linden Spanish teacher Matt Schar-tow. The performers will also be taking requests for music from the '80s, '90s, or the present. The larger your donation, the more likely your requested song will be played, explained Schar-tow. Admission is $5 at the door.

Nothing ho-hum about this bird...

► Hummingbirds are remarkable in every way

By Amy Mayhew

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

I love to watch birds of all sorts come into the feeder on our deck, but this last week, I've been treated to watching the daily fluttering of our resident hummingbirds!

In fact, the hummingbirds around my house must have radar or something, because no sooner than I hung my new Mother's Day gift — a hummingbird feeder — did they begin to hammer it. And that's fine by me. Much like watching fish swim in an aquarium, I find hummingbirds buzzing around a feeder to be almost mesmerizing.

PBASE.COM

Hummingbirds can fly close to 30 mph in direct flight, and have been clocked at more than 45 mph during courtship dives.

and up-beat of a wing flap. Their power and small size allow tremendous agility in flight. In fact, hummingbirds are the only vertebrates capable of sustained hovering, and they can fly backwards and upside down, too.

Humming right along

Hummingbirds have speed and stamina and have been clocked at close to 30 mph in direct flight, and more than 45 mph during courtship dives. Migratory ruby-throated hummingbirds have no problem flying 18 to 20 straight hours to cross the Gulf of Mexico, powered by their fat stores and given a bit of help from winds.

A racing heart

A ruby-throated hummingbirds heart beats from 225 times a minute when the bird is at rest to more than 1,200 times per minute when flight. Its wings beat about 70 times per second in direct flight and over 200 times per second while diving.

Flying by day...torpor by night

Hummingbirds are one of the few groups of birds that are known to go into torpor — or a very deep sleep-like state in which metabolic functions are slowed to a minimum, and a very low body temperature is maintained. If torpor lasted for long periods of time, we'd call it hibernation. But hummingbirds can go into torpor any night of the year when temperature and food conditions demand it. They are the masters of torpor because they have to be.

Their feathers offer poor insulation and they have huge metabolic demands.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | DELAWARENATURESOCIETY.ORG

The female hummingbird will lay two small pea-sized eggs in a nest the size of a walnut.

Torpor allows them to check out physiologically when they can't maintain their normal 105-degree Fahrenheit body temp.

World's smallest bird

The bee hummingbird of Cuba is only 1.95 grams. The calliope hummingbird, the fourth smallest bird, weighs in at a whopping 2.5 grams — or less than an ounce, and can be found in the mountains of western North America.

An egg the size of a pea

From small eggs hatch small birds. Makes sense. But how small? The one to two eggs in a ruby-throated hummingbird clutch are about as tiny as peas and are placed in a walnut-shell sized cup woven from spider webs and plant material.

It's a 'bird chopper'

Hummingbirds and swifts are able to stroke with power both on the down-

Other cool facts about hummingbirds

- A hummingbird's brain is 4.2-percent of its body weight, the largest proportion in the bird kingdom.
- Hummingbirds can see farther and hear better than humans.
- Hummingbirds can see ultraviolet light.
- A hummingbird has little to no sense of smell.
- Hummingbirds don't drink through their beaks like a straw — they lap up nectar with their tongues.

YOUR SMILE MATTERS!

By: Dr. Steven Sulfaro

BRUXISM

Have you ever woken up in the morning with soreness in your jaw or with an earache or headache or neck or shoulder pain? Have you ever broken a tooth when biting into a soft piece of food? Have you ever experienced cold or sweet sensitivity in your teeth that seemed to disappear as quickly as it came without any apparent reason? Or, have you noticed the biting edges of your front teeth becoming flatter and straighter across? Well these are all signs and symptoms associated with bruxism, or tooth grinding. Research and studies find that 80 to 90 percent of us clench and grind our teeth during the night when we sleep. Some people grind throughout the day as well. Only about 10% of those of us who grind are even aware that we are doing it. About 30% of us who grind our teeth are doing significant irreversible damage to the teeth and TMJs (jaw joints). The average normal bite force on your teeth is about 160 pounds. During episodes of bruxism the bite force is greatly increased to almost 6 times that amount which can cause major damage. One of the main reasons for all this bruxism is the stress we experience in our lives and how we subsequently deal with it. Because of this, bruxism cannot be stopped permanently. However, we can ensure that the damage done is limited. A very effective form of protective treatment is bite splint therapy. A bite splint is a U-shaped, hard acrylic, precision fit appliance made by your dentist. It covers either the bottom or top teeth. It is very comfortable and easy to take in and out. I have a bite splint that I wear at night and find I sleep much better while wearing it. If you are experiencing any of the signs and symptoms of bruxism you should talk to your dentist.

I welcome your questions and comments.

Leo Days, a graduate of Davison High School, has been impersonating Elvis since he was 3 years old.

ELVIS

He and his wife, Ashley, got another taste of fame when they were featured last October in an episode of HGTV's "House Hunters," looking for a home to buy in Myrtle Beach "that was fit for a King," according to the show's episode guide. With a budget of $250,000, they ended up buying a home in the Carolina Forest area.

Days, 32, looks into his future and sees about another 10 years of doing Elvis shows, putting him just about the age Elvis was when he died on Aug. 16, 1977.

"It's weird that I wasn't even born yet when Elvis died," said Days. "I'm a huge Elvis fan. He was the greatest rock musician that ever lived."

Days will be back in Michigan for the Michigan ElvisFest in Ypsilanti on Thursday, July 17. Michigan ElvisFest is one of 13 officially sanctioned Elvis festivals that occur between July and October, according to Elvis.com. Other events are in Blackpool, England; Newberry, South Carolina and Queensland, Australia.

One person who won't be there is Fenton resident and Elvis impersonator Irv Cass of Irv Cass Productions. He'll be performing that day and into the weekend at the Las Vegas Hotel & Casino, formerly the Las Vegas Hilton, where Elvis used to perform.

Cass has performed at the ElvisFest for many years, as well as at other Elvis competitions. "I've been competing and performing as Elvis for more than 20 years," said Cass, who keeps in shape to look far younger than his years. Fifteen years ago, he was performing at Legends in Concert, playing all venues except for Hawaii.

"I've also been doing Tom Jones impersonations for about four years now," said Cass, who has added emceeing to his entertainment repertoire. This year, he will be master of ceremonies at Elvis Festivals in South Carolina, Georgia, New York, Lake George and Las Vegas.

"I'm a stay-at-home dad during the week," said Cass, father of Harrison, 4 and Preston, 8. "Then I fly out of town on weekends for shows and festivals." Irv Cass Productions provides entertainment for all different venues, from Moose clubs to weddings, corporate events and more. "I know everyone in the business who does impersonations, from tribute artists for Tim McGraw, Michael Jackson, Roy Orbison and more."

In fact, the Elvis impersonation business has changed in the years since Michael Jackson died. "Now he has become a very popular tribute act, because people in this generation know his music so well," said Days.

“I work very hard to stay in shape, so I can continue to perform as Elvis and Tom Jones in festivals all over the U.S.”

AGS steps into 'The Outsiders'

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | TIM JAGIELO

At Fenton Andrew G. Schmidt Middle School, 200 eighth-graders took an active part in a reading selection on Wednesday — they dressed like “greasers” or “socs” from “The Outsiders” book. Will Galvin and Molly Gundry (right) are greasers. “I was shocked that so many kids dressed up like that,” said language arts teacher Lisa McGill. (Below) Kelsey Drews is a “soc” and Madi Senko and Josh lid are “greasers.”

Fenton schools' education foundation has new look

►Melissa Taylor hired as Fundraising, Marketing and Communications director

The Fenton Education Foundation, formerly known as FAPSEF (Fenton Area Public Schools Education Foundation), has created a new logo to help brand its giving campaign for 2014. The design was created by the Foundation's Marketing Committee and has already begun circulating on marketing pieces within the community.

The group hopes that the simplified name and design will bring further awareness to the Foundation's mission to support programs that benefit all students in the Fenton Schools district.

In addition to the new logo, the Foundation has hired a fundraising and marketing professional to help advance the goals of the organization and bring in additional funds to support academic, athletic and arts programs in the district. The new Director of Fundraising, Marketing and Communications position has been filled by Melissa Taylor, a Fenton resident whose children attend Fenton schools.

Taylor has held other positions within the community including president of the Tomek-Eastern Elementary PTO. She has been involved in past fundraising efforts to help support the Foundation, co-chairing the IB World Fair, which ran annually for five years. Taylor's past professional experience includes advertising consultant for the Tri-County Times newspaper and bid coordinator for Niles Industrial Services, both located in Fenton. She also holds a bachelor's degree from Michigan State University.

Rick Koester, the Committee's chairperson, said the Foundation Board is excited for these new changes and eager to see what the future will hold for FEF.

“Getting the word out to our community about how the Foundation can benefit all children in the Fenton school district is important. We believe that Missy is the person to help us accomplish this goal.”

The Foundation's 2014 giving campaign is being kicked off with a Monthly Giving Program, which provides families the opportunity to make small contribution on a monthly basis to help support academic, athletic and art programs in the district. A letter has been created that details the program and ways to give and will be mailed to families in the district this month.

To date, the FEF has given more than $200,000 to programs that support students, teachers and district programs through scholarships and grants. For more information on the Fenton Education Foundation, please visit the FEF website at fentoneducationfoundation.org.

Meet Denis Husse

- Club Pro at Tyrone Hills Golf Club
- College sports fan
- Treats others as he wants to be treated

By Hannah Ball

news@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

Denis Husse, 64, has been golfing for 51 years and has been the Club Pro at Tyrone Hills Golf Club for 37 years. He's golfed in Scotland and plays as many Michigan events as he can, but sometimes works sunrise to sunset at Tyrone Hills.

How'd you start? I started caddy-ing at a club in Ypsilanti, Washtenaw Country Club. They let us play free on Mondays and we took full advantage of that. I played a lot of golf, got hooked, and I've been golfing ever since.

"You're always learning. You never stop learning."

Denis Husse
Golf Pro at Tyrone Hills Golf Club

How old were you then? I was 13 and I'm 64 now. So 51 years, I guess I've been playing.

How did you come to work in Tyrone Hills?

One of the members at Washtenaw told me about a job opening up here. I'd never heard of Tyrone Hills before. They bought the course one year before I came and then the same ownership has been here for 38 years. I've been here 37 years now.

Have you lived in Michigan your whole life? Yes. I spend a little time in Florida in the winter times, mostly winter,

TRI-COUNTY TIMES

HANNAH BALL

Aside from Tyrone Hills Golf Club, Denis Husse's favorite courses are Indianwood in Orion Township, Crystal Downs in Frankfurt, and Forest Dunes in Roscommon.

and Michigan in the summer time.

How many hours do you work a day? It varies. In summer, it's a lot. Sometimes 15 hours a day. That's flexible. Sometimes we'll take two or three days off to play in tournaments or events. From morning to dark, that's how the golf business is.

Do you have time to golf yourself? Yeah, sometimes it's real sporadic. Sometimes I'll play a lot. Sometimes I may go a few weeks and hardly play at all.

What's your favorite part of your job? Just being around the golf course. I like working with the public. It's something different every day. It's not routine all the time. There's always new challenges, new events to run, just the uncertainty from what goes on day to day.

How is the public? Are they nice? I'd say 99 percent of them are. You get a few challenges once in a while, but overall it's good.

Have you learned anything about people from working here for so long? I think you just treat people all the same, treat them like you want to be treated. It's important to have a great staff, and I do here.

What's the most challenging part of working here? The competitiveness of golf. There's so many courses to choose from. You want to have a nice golf course but reasonably priced. That's the biggest challenge, keeping the golf course as good as you can get it, knowing that you can't be over-priced.

Other hobbies? I like Michigan football and basketball. College football and basketball, I enjoy that. Michigan State, I like them too, but if they're playing each other I'd be rooting for Michigan. I grew up in Ann Arbor.

What's the most challenging course that you've golfed? Probably Muirfield in Scotland. I played a tournament there in the early '80s. The course itself was difficult but some days it was so windy it made it very challenging. It was great. I played for a week there. Some days it was nice, but some days it was a totally different course because of the wind.

Any funny golf stories? One of the funniest stories had to do with Junior Golf. We had little kids, 8 or 9 year olds and one was playing our 12th hole. Early in the morning, it goes right into the sun. He's struggling. It was a real dewy day and the sun was real bright, so about the fifth time he missed the ball he said 'How are you supposed to play this game? The sun's shining in your eyes and the grass is all wet.'

What's the most challenging part of golf? You never really learn it all. It just takes time and practice. It's a difficult game, but rewarding. You can't expect too much out of yourself. Some people hit a great shot and think they can do that every time. It just doesn't happen. You have to have the right attitude.

Who's your favorite golfer? I like Phil Mickelson. I like his attitude. He's just a real positive guy. He's good to the media and good to the fans.

What's one thing about golf you think people should know? It's never too late to get started.

What's the most valuable thing you've learned in your 51 years of golf? You're always learning. You never stop learning. Try to be a little more patient.

Glenhaven

PLAN 30-927

Shingle siding, Craftsman-style windows and stone veneer column supports put a warm, natural face on the contemporary Glenhaven. Inside this fairly compact home, wide expanses of glass brighten the vaulted family gathering spaces that flow together at the rear.

Entering via the covered porch, you step into a hallway that leads straight ahead to the expansive vaulted area. Along the way, you pass double doors on the right that open into a den. Its location makes it ideal for a home office. It could also be outfitted as a guest room, fourth bedroom, art studio, exercise room, or whatever suits.

Two nearly identical bedrooms and a bathroom are to the left of the entry hall. One has a front window; the other has a side window.

2013 Water Quality Report for the Village of Holly

This report covers the drinking water quality for the Village of Holly for the 2013 calendar year. This information is a snapshot of the quality of the water that we provided to you in 2013. Included are details about where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and state standards.

Your water comes from four (4) wells located on the West side of town. Wells are approximately 210 feet deep and are embedded into sand stone (Marshall Formation). The State performed an assessment of our source water in 2003. The susceptibility rating is on a seven-tiered scale from “very-low” to “very-high” based on geologic sensitivity, well construction, water chemistry and contamination sources. The susceptibility of our source is moderately high.

Several existing sources of contamination exist in the Holly Wellhead Protection area:
Leaking Underground Storage Tank (LUST) sites are located at Adelphian Academy, 820 Academy Road; Village of Holly, 201 Elm Street; Holly Area Schools, 800 Elm Street; Fresh Air Society, 4236 Grange Hall Road; Holly Volunteer Ambulance, 504 Maple Street; Mobil Oil, 15241 North Holly Road; Muffler Man of Holly, 503 North Saginaw; Wilkinson’s Auto Repair, 402 North Saginaw; Mabel O. Barnes Trust, 1125 North Saginaw Street; Holly Gas Company Inc., 114 North Saginaw; Beacon & Bridge Market, 820 North Saginaw; and Larry Winklemann, 220 Elm Street.
Four Part 201 sites of environmental contamination include Delta Tube and Fabrication Corporation, 4149 Grange Hall Road; Carl Spencer, 422 North Saginaw Street; Larry Winklemann, 220 Elm Street; and E and S Trucking, 15391 Fish Lake Road.

Potential sources of contamination include Underground Storage Tank (UST) sites, Aboveground Storage Tank (AST) sites, and groundwater discharge permit sites. Abandoned wells provide a direct conduit for surface run-off and contaminants to easily reach the groundwater and may pose a potential problem. To ensure that these wells are not a potential threat, they should be searched and properly plugged.

We are making efforts to protect our sources by participating in the Wellhead Protection Program.

If you would like to know more about the SWAP report please contact Brian Klaassen at 248-634-2202, or via email at bcklaassen@comcast.net.

- Contaminants and their presence in water: Drinking Water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA’s Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).
- Vulnerability of sub-populations: Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immunocompromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune systems disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).
- Sources of drinking water: The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. Our water comes from wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.
- Contaminants that may be present in source water include:
 - Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
 - Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.
 - Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture and residential uses.
 - Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.
 - Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which provide the same protection for public health.

Water Quality Data

The table below lists all the drinking water contaminants that we detected during the 2013 calendar year. The presence of these contaminants in the water does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. Unless otherwise noted, the data presented in this table is from testing done January 1 – December 31, 2013. The State allows us to monitor for certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. All of the data is representative of the water quality, but some are more than one year old.

- Terms and abbreviations used below:
- Maximum Contaminant Level Goal (MCLG): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
 - Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL): The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
 - Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level (MRDL): means the highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
 - Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal (MRDLG): means the level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
 - N/A: Not applicable ND: not detectable at testing limit ppb: parts per billion or micrograms per liter ppm: parts per million or milligrams per liter pCi/l: picocuries per liter (a measure of radioactivity).
 - Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements that a water system must follow.

Regulated Contaminant	MCL	MCLG	Your Water	Range	Sample Date	Violation Yes / No	Typical Source of Contaminant
*Arsenic (ppb)	10	0	5	NA	Quarterly	No	Erosion of natural deposits; Runoff from orchards; Runoff from glass and electronics production wastes.

Fluoride (ppm)	4	4	5	1 - 4	2013	No	Erosion of natural deposits. Discharge from fertilizer and aluminum factories.
TTHM - Total Trihalomethanes (ppb)	.08	N/A	.0084	.0012-.0028	2011	No	Byproduct of drinking water disinfection.
HAAS Haloacetic Acids (ppb)	.06	N/A	.002	.0000-.002	2011	No	Byproduct of drinking water disinfection.

Lead (ppb)	15	0	.003		2011	0	Corrosion of household plumbing systems; Erosion of natural deposits.
Copper (ppb)	1.3	1.3	.007		2011	0	Corrosion of household plumbing systems; Erosion of natural deposits; Leaching from wood preservatives.

Radioactive Contaminant	MCL	MCLG	Level Detected	Range	Year Sampled	Violation Yes / No	Typical Source of Contaminant
Beta emitters (pCi/L)	50 *	0					Decay of natural and man-made deposits.
Alpha emitters (pCi/L)	15	0					Erosion of natural deposits.
Combined radium (pCi/L)	5	0					Erosion of natural deposits.

* While your drinking water meets EPA’s standard for arsenic, it does contain low levels of arsenic. EPA’s standard balances the current understanding of arsenic’s possible health effects against the costs of removing arsenic from drinking water. EPA continues to research the health effects of low levels of arsenic, which is a mineral known to cause cancer in humans at high concentrations and is linked to other health effects such as skin damage and circulatory problems.

 Unregulated contaminants are those for which EPA has not established drinking water standards. Monitoring helps EPA to determine where certain contaminants occur and whether it needs to regulate those contaminants.

 Information about lead: If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. The Village of Holly is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

We will update this report annually and will keep you informed of any problems that may occur throughout the year as they happen. Until June 30, 2014 copies of this report are available at the Village Office at 202 S. Saginaw St., Holly MI. On July 1, 2014 copies of this report will be available at the Village Office at 200 East Rd., Holly, MI. Office hours are 7:30 to 5:30 Monday thru Thursday. Department of Public Works 201 Elm St. Holly MI. 48442 Office hours are 6:00 to 4:30 Monday thru Thursday. This report will not be sent to you.

We invite public participation in decisions that affect drinking water quality. Village of Holly Council meeting are the 2nd and 4th Tuesday of the month at the Council Chambers, at 315 S. Broad St. Holly MI.48442. For more information about your water, or the contents of this report, contact Brian Klaassen at 248-634-2202, or via email at bcklaassen@comcast.net. INGREDIENTS

- 2 t. plus 1/2 cup vegetable oil, divided
- 1/2 t. fresh ginger, grated
- 1 T. minced garlic
- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 1/2 cup water
- 2/3 cup dark brown sugar
- 1 lb. flank steak
- 1/4 cup cornstarch
- 3 green onions (green parts), sliced into 1 inch pieces

DIRECTIONS

1. In a small saucepan, heat the 2 teaspoons vegetable oil over medium heat. Saute the ginger and garlic until fragrant, about 1 minute. Mix in the soy sauce and water.
2. Increase the heat slightly and stir in the brown sugar. Boil for about 3 minutes until thickened. Set aside.
3. Slice the flank steak as thinly as possible against the grain, 1/8 to 1/4 inch thick. Place the slices in a medium bowl and coat with the cornstarch, shaking off the excess. Set aside for about 10 minutes.
4. In a large wok, heat the 1/2 cup vegetable oil over medium high heat. Once heated, saute the beef until seared on all sides, but still raw in the middle, about 2 minutes. Transfer steak slices to a plate lined with paper towels and remove any oil or fat from the wok. Put the wok back over the heat.
5. Add the sauce and mix in the steak slices. Cook, stirring constantly, until meat is cooked, about 2 minutes. Stir in the green onions, reserving a few pieces for garnish.
6. Transfer to a plate and top with remaining green onions. Serve immediately with rice or thin rice noodles.

KEITH ROACH, M.D.

To your good health

DEAR DR. ROACH: I have a strange question to ask and hope you can answer it in your newspaper article. Every time I stand up from being in bed, I get hiccups that last about a minute or so (at least a dozen hiccups). I was wondering if there is a medical reason for this, or is it something that is just a fluke that happens to me? — N.C.

ANSWER: It's not just you; I have heard of several cases, and I suspect it's not that rare. It's thought to be brought on by a change in position of the stomach, which causes a reflex in the diaphragm. Esophageal irritation, especially from reflux disease (stomach acid going backward into the esophagus), also might be a cause.

Mom needs to let kids know she's OK

DEAR AMY: Five years ago, my husband left me for his younger co-worker. I have never spoken to my children about their father's relationship with his girlfriend or his behavior in the past. Today my ex-husband asked me to speak to our two daughters (now 14) about his girlfriend. He is afraid they 'don't like' her because they are conflicted about my feelings about her. He caught me off-guard and I said, 'Um, OK' but almost immediately regretted it. Since I haven't mentioned her name or anything about her in four years, it may be painful for me! How do you think I should handle this? — Putting the Kids First

DEAR KIDS FIRST: I assume you have never met your ex-husband's girlfriend. Therefore you cannot advocate for them to 'like' her. However, what he is really asking is to let the girls know that you are OK. You can do this in a myriad of ways. After an overnight, you can say, 'What did you guys do? Did 'Christy' go to the movies with you? ... You know, girls, I'm OK. You know that, right?' They might not even realize that you know the girlfriend exists. They have likely been editing themselves for years out of fear that they would upset you. It is not necessary for you to advocate for a relationship you don't care about. But if you crack the door open, your daughters will eventually walk through it.

DEAR AMY: We often eat out with another couple. The husband has bad grooming habits in public. I am very disgusted seeing him clipping his nails at the table. What is an acceptable way to let him know that this is not the way to behave in public? — Disgusted

DEAR DISGUSTED: I agree that this is beyond gross. I picture a clipped nail flying through the air and landing in the shrimp cocktail. You should say, 'Bart, would you mind not doing that at the table? It's freaking me out.' You aren't necessarily telling him how to behave in public, but more reflecting the idea that this bothers you (and everyone else on the planet).

iPad tip of the week

FaceTime, not only for your iPhone.

FaceTime is Apple's video chat service. It allows anyone with a recent iPhone, iPod touch, iPad, or Mac to make free calls to any other Apple user over Wi-Fi or cellular connection.

How to make a FaceTime call from your iPad or iPod touch:

1. Launch the FaceTime app from the Home screen of your iPad or iPod touch.
2. On the right hand side, you'll see the list of contacts that you have in your Address Book. Tap on the one you'd like to make a FaceTime call to.
3. You'll now see that person's Contact Card. You can select either their phone number or email. Remember they must have a FaceTime capable device as well or the session will fail.
4. The FaceTime call will now initiate.
5. When the person on the other side accepts the video call you'll see your iPad or iPod touch say Connecting. After this, you should be able to communicate freely. That's all there is to it.

THE MONUMENTS MEN
Based on the true story of the greatest treasure hunt in history, The Monuments Men is an action drama focusing on an unlikely World War II platoon, tasked by FDR with going into Germany to rescue artistic masterpieces from Nazi thieves and returning them to their rightful owners. It would be an impossible mission: with the art trapped behind enemy lines, and with the German army under orders to destroy everything as the Reich fell, how could these guys — seven museum directors, curators, and art historians, all more familiar with Michelangelo than the M-1 — possibly hope to succeed? But as the Monuments Men, as they were called, found themselves in a race against time to avoid the destruction of 1000 years of culture, they would risk their lives to protect and defend mankind's greatest achievements. From director George Clooney, the film stars George Clooney, Matt Damon, Bill Murray, John Goodman, Jean Dujardin, Bob Balaban, Hugh Bonneville, and Cate Blanchett. PG-13, 1 hr. 18 min.

3 DAYS TO KILL
In this heart pounding action-thriller, Kevin Costner is a dangerous international spy, who is determined to give up his high stakes life to finally build a closer relationship with his estranged wife and daughter, whom he's previously kept at arm's length to keep out of danger. But first, he must complete one last mission- even if it means juggling the two toughest assignments yet: hunting down the world's most ruthless terrorist and looking after his teenage daughter for the first time in ten years, while his wife is out of town. PG-13, 1 hr. 40 min.
