► Now teaching 'life skills' through innovative 'Life Management' class

By Tim Jagielo
 tjagielo@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

Fenton — Normally, high school classrooms don't smell like fresh-baked cookies made from scratch, but this is how life management teacher Janet Kidd prefers to kick off her child development class. "It's a nice way to start functioning in a kitchen, simply," she said.

This will build into making baby food, a fruit roll-up, pudding, and even teething rings, among teaching the changes that happen to the mother and child's body during pregnancy. Kidd teaches two food classes also.

At Fenton Area Public Schools (FAPS), "Home Economics" has been replaced by "Life Management," the umbrella Kidd's class falls under. Home

The dictionary defines road rage as, 'violent anger caused by the stress and frustration involved in driving a motor vehicle in difficult conditions.' Anyone who spends any time behind the wheel can relate to the feelings of frustration people get when conditions aren't always as favorable as they'd like on the road.

It could be as simple as accidentally cutting someone off on the road, or maybe forgetting to use a blinker.

The only thing that cannot be controlled by the Apple Core Committee for St. John's Applefest is the weather.

But so far, Mother Nature is cooperating with a good forecast for the opening day of Applefest on Thursday, Sept. 18 (tomorrow) at 3 p.m. ABC-TV12 meteorologists are forecasting mostly sunny skies in the 60s, with a warming trend continuing into the weekend.

"We're really excited," said Dave McDermott, co-chair with his wife, Sara. "It's fun to see it all come together."

The midway and carnival rides will be open Thursday from 3 to 10 p.m., Friday from 3 to 11 p.m., Saturday from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m. and Sunday from 12 to 6 p.m.

Ride tickets will be available at the See APPLEFEST on 8

Summary

► Homemade apple pies will cost $10 each. Although retired, Fr. David Harvey's famous chili will be available, along with other festival favorites.

PURE MICHIGAN® ads reflect state's fall colors

► Popular $1.3 million campaign will feature television, radio and billboard promotions

By Tim Jagielo

tjagiolo@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

If you missed the fuzzy feelings for your home state the Pure Michigan ads gave you at the onset of summer, tune in for a campaign underway currently, through the month of September.

Actor, comedian and Michigan native Tim Allen will continue to voice the richly visual TV ads, and richly sonic radio ads as the leaves, and season change.

According to a Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) news release by Michelle Grinnell, $1,306,526 will be spent on the fall campaign. Funding partners committed $6,432,852, and $29 million was spent in total for the year, which is a $4 million increase over 2013.

For TV ads, Pure Michigan has autumn spots entitled "Open Road," "Nature of Trees," "Deep Breath," "Harvest Time," and "Tee Times."

Radio ads include "Nature's Greatest Show," "Catch Up," "Off the Vine," "Sunsets," and "Untapped."

Clarence Page

Nationally syndicated
columnistWhen sportsmen behave badly — again

Again, the sports world is rattled by men behaving badly, but this time with a twist: NFL player Ray Rice tried to stay when he should have gone, while NBA team owner Bruce Levenson left despite good reasons for him to stick around.

The only good thing to be said about Rice's case is the argument it makes for security cameras.

The Baltimore Ravens terminated the 225-pound running back's contract — and the NFL suspended him 'indefinitely' — on Monday after video was released from an elevator security camera of Rice punching Janay Palmer (then his fiancée, now his wife) with his powerful left hook.

They could have done that months ago, after a video showed Rice dragging an apparently unconscious Palmer out of the elevator in Atlantic City. But Commissioner Roger Goodell only suspended him for a ridiculously mild two games in a desperate attempt to protect his image and playing eligibility.

Amazingly, Palmer stood by Rice in a later news conference and actually apologized for whatever role she played in Ray's downfall. This week, she blamed the media in an Instagram post, according to the Baltimore Sun, for her husband's dismissal and suspension.

The case of Bruce Levenson, who has led the ownership group of the Atlanta Hawks since 2004, sends very different messages. He informed NBA commissioner Adam Silver on Saturday that he intended to sell the team, ending a league investigation into an email written by Levenson. It detailed his thoughts to fellow Hawks executives on how the team could attract more white fans.

Indeed, it is hard for me to tell what Levenson did that was so wrong. It seems to me as an African-American that if anyone should feel insulted by his remarks, it might be white people.

What troubles me most is not that Levenson raised the issues, correctly or not, but that he's being punished for it. We need more frank discussions about race between reasonable people these days, even when some of the views expressed are wrong. That's how misguided views get exposed and, one hopes, corrected.

I CAN ONLY hope the Republicans take over the Senate and the House and then maybe they can impeach Obama for malfeasance of office. If you don't know what that word means, look it up in the dictionary.

HAS ANYONE EVER wondered how many lost items are sitting on the bottoms of all our area lakes? Just imagine how many cell phones, necklaces and earrings there are.

THANK YOU FENTON Village Players for Echoes of the Shiawassee History Walk this past Sunday. Hearing about our Civil War veterans in Oakwood Cemetery was so interesting. And the kids were just great. Again thank you.

TO THE PERSON who claims Obama will issue an executive order abolishing presidential voting. Are you willing to back that insane nonsense up with your wallet? Let's place a bet on whether that happens, preferably one in the thousands. It'll be like taking candy from a baby.

OBAMA IS SENDING 3,000 troops and 5,000 body bags to Liberia were the troops will be exposed to an enemy but they cannot return fire. EBOLA! Send the troops to Afghanistan where they have a fighting chance.

I'D LIKE TO thank the gentleman who stopped to help me on Tuesday by the BP on Owen Road. Many cars drove by before he stopped. I ran out of gas in the middle of the road and he pushed me out of the road. I just want to tell him 'thank you.'

THE NEW DEFINITION for the word Liberal is as follows, 'a person who is so open-minded that their brains have fallen out.'

'THE 10 ITEMS' or less line in the store is for people with a small amount of items so they don't have to wait behind someone with a full cart. I used to think it was adults that couldn't read that sign until I heard a woman tell her kid to ignore that sign.

CHECK YOUR MATH and count your pennies. Of the 1,200 plus parking spaces available almost a hundred don't exist and won't come for months. Another couple hundred are for municipal parking for apartment dwellers, a dozen more for homes without driveways.

MUNICIPAL PARKING LOTS are just that, for all municipal entities to share, apartments and businesses. Private parking is for the businesses, and bought and taxed. They should all have their signs made, and buy them locally.

DOES ANYBODY KNOW of a shoe repair place in the area that does repairing and polishing, and heel plates?

TO THE PERSON wanting me to take into consideration all the great things that this president has accomplished, please name me one. I will be watching the paper for your reply.

IT'S JUST MY opinion but I think Obama needs to wear a back support since he doesn't have any backbone.

FROM THE RIGHT

Cal Thomas

Nationally syndicated
columnistThe sacking of Ray Rice

The 'indefinite suspension' of Baltimore Ravens running back Ray Rice for knocking out his then-fiancée, now wife, in an elevator at an Atlantic City casino has again provoked debate about domestic violence and what the National Football League tolerates when it affects a star player.

Ravens head coach John Harbaugh, who last spring testified to Rice's good character, says a new video has 'changed things.' Rice was initially suspended for two games after part of a video showed Rice dragging fiancée Janay Palmer from the elevator. When TMZ released the rest of the video, it showed Rice punching Palmer in the face inside the elevator, knocking her unconscious. The video also shows her spitting at him and both of them exchanging obscenities.

Hollywood once had its film stars sign contracts that included morals clauses. Maybe the NFL should consider an updated version of such clauses to project a better image and encourage players not to engage in self-destructive (and otherwise destructive) behavior.

While most NFL players are responsible citizens, and some have used social media to denounce Rice's behavior, the culture from which many players emerge ought to be indicted for its contributions to the violence that occurs too often off the field. The demeaning language applied to women in rap music has been chronicled for many years. Few of the words can be printed here, but 'bitches' and 'hos' are some of the milder ones.

Writing on the website SportsGrid.com, Jake O'Donnell commented: '... this is how abusive relationships happen. Woman gets beat unconscious. Somehow feels responsible. Apologizes.'

Players should be told they are part of a unique club and bad behavior will cost them more than fines and brief suspensions. They need counseling about money and especially about women.

If the NFL wants to help itself in this area more, women should be put in positions of power where they could not only provide a useful check on players, but on the predominately male management that has for too long made excuses for outrageous and even criminal behavior.

Linden Mills building may get a facelift

The Linden Mills building appears like it needs a paint job upon first glance, but according to City Manager Paul Zelenak, it needs more than just painting. "There are other repairs that need to be done," Zelenak said at this week's city council meeting. Linden City Council agreed to have a written assessment done for repair and restoration to the building, which houses the library, museum, and city council chambers. John Dziurman Architects Ltd. will be doing the assessment, which upon completion will allow the city to look for grants and loans to help with the restoration process. Zelenak said, "We need to make it last for generations."

Debit and credit card facts, figures and security breaches

A couple of weeks ago I wrote a column about the good and bad of modern technology. Unfortunately, with the latest report of a payment (credit and debit) card breach at The Home Depot stores, the 'bad' part of the equation is once again raising its ugly head.

The fact of the matter is that generally the use of credit and debit cards is a good thing as long as consumers don't get in over their heads with debt.

Historically, the advent of the modern credit card system in the United States came in 1946 when John Biggins of the Flatbush National Bank in Brooklyn New York, introduced the 'Charg-It' credit card, which allowed customers to charge purchases at local merchants. The rest as they say is history, and since then the use of debit and credit cards has expanded exponentially. According to the United States Federal Reserve, there were more than 73 billion credit/debit card transactions in 2012.

Years ago, the state of the art as to credit card point of sale (POS) machines was the manual imprinter where the card was manually run through a machine using a carbonized slip. Technology then improved and in 1979, 'dial up terminals' were introduced using a phone line for credit card approval. Today there are also high-speed swipe machines (both 'wired' and 'wireless') which read magnetic strip cards and print out a receipt.

With the recent breaches at not only The Home Depot, but at least seven other major retailers, a reportedly more secure system called 'chip-and-pin' is to be introduced in the United States. These new cards have an embedded microchip and after the card is placed into the POS terminal, the customer enters a personal identification number to complete the sale. This system is widely used in Europe.

For now, card issuers and merchants recommend frequent checks of one's statements. If a card has been compromised, hopefully it will be cancelled and replaced without delay or loss.

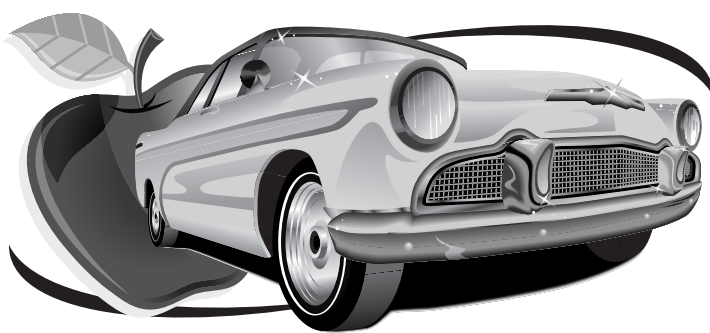

Technology is a wonderful thing, but in this day and age caution and care should always be exercised.

Fenton Kiwanis Art Fair returns for 36th year

By Yvonne Stegall
ystegall@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

The Fenton Kiwanis Art Fair will take place on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 20 and 21 at Lake Fenton High School. This Art Fair has a long history with the city of Fenton, and the Kiwanis Club works to give back to the children in the community.

With their slogan, “serving the children of the world,” this special yearly event helps the Fenton Kiwanis Club with year around community service projects. It also helps them sponsor Key Clubs, Builder Clubs, and Terrific Kids in our local high schools, middle schools, and elementary schools. These clubs provide youths with an opportunity to develop leadership and organization skills, while teaching the value of volunteerism.

“Anyone attending the show can expect high quality artwork available for purchase,” said Donna Peters, representative for the Art Fair. They are hosting the third annual ArtPrize contest where the public will vote for one artist, who could win $1,000.

“Not only is the show a great cultural opportunity, all of the proceeds will be used by our club (Kiwanis) for service projects benefiting local children,” said Peters. In addition to the Art Fair, there will be a raffle, concessions, entertainment, kids’ activities, and a Youth Art Show.

The event runs from noon to 5 p.m. on Saturday and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday. For details, visit fentonartatthecenter.org.

Special headstone dedication opens history walk on Sunday

By Yvonne Stegall
ystegall@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

Fenton — Oakwood Cemetery’s “Echoes of the Shiawassee” History Walk this year started out with a special event at noon. The Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, along with the Daughters of the Union, conducted a headstone dedication for Julius N. Ripley, past commander of the Michigan Division of the Sons of the Veterans, and son of Civil War Veteran James Ripley.

A small group of people gathered to watch the headstone dedication, which included speeches, a gun salute, and “TAPS” played on trumpet. It was a touching ceremony, followed by the History Walk, which saw more attendees, about two dozen. The walk took people around the graveyard where actors played the roles of soldiers and former Fenton residents from days gone by.

The history walk was held on Sunday, and sponsored by the Fenton Cemetery Board, Fenton Historical Society and Fenton Village Players.

Carnival Ride Booth for $1 each or 50 tickets for $40. “There are no price increases this year,” said McDermott.

An ATM will be on site to make it convenient for families.

More fun for kids will be found with a bounce house, kids’ games and face painting.

To burn off all those apple pie and chili calories, the Applefest Road Race steps out on Saturday, Sept. 20, offering a 10k run, 5k run/walk, one-mile walk and quarter-mile kids’ run.

Food tents will be open Thursday from 3 to 9 p.m., Friday from 3 to 10 p.m., Saturday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 12 to 6 p.m. In addition to Fr. Harvey’s “Padre’s Chili,” the food tents will sell tacos and nachos, grilled sausage, burgers and hot dogs, and, of course, apple pies — affordably priced at just $10 each. There will be plenty of carnival fixin’s, too, from

One of the most popular midway events is Attic Treasures, a giant community-wide yard sale, which follows the food tent hours, although usually closing before 10 p.m. A Doll Booth and Cake Walk are other sought-after activities.

This year, Bingo has moved upstairs in the courtyard by St. John’s School, just a few steps from the south festival entrance. Bingo times are Friday from 6 to 10 p.m., Saturday from 1 to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 12 to 5 p.m.

A Friday Night Fish Fry will kick-off from 4 to 7 p.m., followed by a Chicken Dinner on Saturday from 3 to 7 p.m.

The Entertainment Tent will feature bands all three nights, kicking off “Country Night” on Thursday with the Tim McGraw Tribute Band, “Looking Back” Bob Seger Tribute Band on Friday and Flint’s own party rock band, Rook, on Saturday. Tent hours are Thursday from 8 to 11 p.m., Friday and Saturday from 8 to midnight. After 6 p.m you must be 21 years old to enter and there is a cover charge.

Two special events will take place in the Grand Hall of the St. John’s Activity Center. Nite N Reno will be held Friday, from 7:30 p.m. to midnight. Texas Hold ‘Em will be held on Saturday at 3 p.m., with doors opening at 2 p.m. Buy-in is $55.

The Grand Prize Raffle Drawing will conclude the 2014 Applefest at 6:30 p.m. “We’ll be raffling off the winner’s choice of a three-year lease on a Cadillac CTS, Chrysler 200, Chevy Impala and Buick Regal,” said McDermott. “The winner also has the option of a Regal Pontoon from White’s Landing or a $10,000 cash prize.”

Smaller raffles will be held for a Hand-made Afghan and an American Girl Doll.

Where do I park?

Applefest parking is adjacent to Bush Park and accessed by turning onto Jefferson Street from North Adelaide Street.

Parking for the handicapped is available in the convent parking lot and in the main parking area south of the parish grounds (follow signs). Golf cart shuttles and wheelchairs are available for transportation of physically-challenged and wheelchair-bound guests.

ROAD RAGE

Road rage is when those frustrated feelings are blown out of proportion. Recently, a man from Howell allegedly shot another driver in a road rage incident.

“The ‘Road Rage’ incidents we most commonly see involve both parties losing their temper over a frequently minor traffic incident,” said Fenton Police Chief Rick Aro. “Unless one or both of the individuals remove themselves from the situation, it can spiral rapidly out of control.”

Even the calmest driver has a chance of facing road rage from another driver. Simply honking the horn at someone that does something ‘dumb’ on the road can provoke his or her anger.

Instead of using obscene hand gestures, or the horn, to point out another drivers mistake, just let it go. Save the horn for alerting other drivers of dangers on the road rather than mistakes.

The same goes for the way you deal

“Unless one or both of the individuals remove themselves from the situation it can spiral rapidly out of control.”

Rick Aro
Fenton police chief

switch lanes when it is safe. Turn on your blinker ahead of time to let them know that you plan to get out of their way. This could help ease their anger and it keeps them from passing on the right.

Just because there is heavy traffic doesn’t mean it’s OK to drive bumper to bumper. Back in the ‘90s, driver’s education taught young drivers to keep three car lengths between them and the driver in front of them. While three car lengths might seem like a lot, enough space for another car to move into is enough. Not only does this space leave room for others, but it also gives you room to escape a sticky situation.

Doing something calming can help keep you from joining in on the road rage. Listen to some calming music, stay focused on your driving and safety, and avoid gripping the steering wheel too hard.

“We get road rage calls fairly often,” said Fenton Police Chief Rick Aro. “I can’t give you an exact number, but we probably average four to five per month. “We haven’t had any in the last year in which an assault occurred (or worse). Typically, one of the drivers leaves the area prior to our arrival.”

If you find yourself in a road rage incident, Aro said, “My advice would be to turn or change directions from the aggressor if possible, stay in a public place and immediately call 911. Do not provoke, stop, argue or talk to the aggressor.” It is also helpful to get a description of the vehicle and license plate number if possible, but do not follow or chase the other vehicle.

ROAD RAGE STATISTICS

• According to a survey done by AutoVantage Miami, Florida has the most aggressive drivers. The other four of the top five cities with the angriest drivers are New York City, Boston, Los Angeles and Washington, DC.

• Men experience road rage more than women, with 56 percent of guys admitting to anger behind the wheel and only 44 percent of women.

• 66 percent of traffic fatalities are caused by aggressive driving.

• 37 percent of aggressive driving incidents involve a firearm.

• Males under the age of 19 are the most likely to exhibit road rage.

• Half of drivers who are on the receiving end of an aggressive behavior, such as horn honking, a rude gesture, or tailgating admit to responding with aggressive behavior themselves.

• Over a seven-year period, 218 murders and 12,610 injuries were attributed to road rage.

• 2 percent of drivers admit to trying to run an aggressor off the road.

If you use Amway products, shop at Meijer or buy cars from the Ford Motor Co., you are “rubbing elbows” with the richest people in Michigan.

Michigan is home to 11 billionaires who have made it on the Forbes 400 list, naming the richest people in the U.S.

Overall, Microsoft founder Bill Gates is still the richest man in the U.S., with a net worth of $73 billion. He has held that spot for 20 years, according to Forbes magazine. He is followed by Warren Buffett, the head of Berkshire Hathaway, with $58.5 billion. Larry Ellison, the founder of Oracle, is third, with $41 billion.

Here is the Michigan list of billionaires, including their ranking, net worth, residence and industry:

#49 – Hank and Doug Meijer, $8.3 billion, Grand Rapids, supermarkets. They run the Grand Rapids-based Meijer chain.

#60 – Richard DeVos, $6.8 billion, Holland, Amway.

#118 – Dan Gilbert, $3.9 billion, Franklin, Quicken Loans.

#157 – Michael and Marian Ilitch and family, $3.2 billion, Bingham Farms, Little Caesar’s Pizza.

#166 – Ronda Stryker, $3 billion, Portage, medical equipment.

#201 – Alfred Taubman, $2.7 billion, Bloomfield Hills, real estate.

#351 – John Brown, $1.5 billion, Portage, medical equipment.

LIFE SKILLS

Ec used to include cooking, sewing, balancing a checkbook and other banal but important details about regular life.

Home economics as it was doesn't exist in most schools anymore.

A lot of those skills can still be found, but not centralized in one class, or even school, or school district. Lake Fenton High School for example, only has an accounting class, which Principal Todd Reynolds said helps with checkbooks. "But other than that, we don't have cooking classes, or sewing classes or any general studies," he said.

Holly High School (HHS) Principal Peter LoFiego said that statewide, "Home Economics" was replaced by "Life Management Education," and finally "Family Consumer Sciences (FCS)."

Home Ec as it was known ended around 2003, but funding and core requirements pushed the majority of schools and students away from the traditional home economics-style curriculum around 2009, he said.

State funding is always geared toward what prepares students for jobs, versus sewing on a button, or cooking something.

The Michigan Department of Education (MDE) doesn't really require nor have any guidelines on life skills, except some health education requirements.

"Family and Consumer Science Education prepares students to evaluate, coordinate, and function in multiple adult roles of day-to-day living and working throughout the life cycle," reads the "Vision" section of the page, but again, has no course names, guidelines, or requirements.

Linden High School (LHS) Principal Russ Ciesielski said he took home economics at Linden Middle School, and he remembers learning about cooking and sewing. He said that the simple day-to-day things, like cooking is absent for the general student population. "We are relying on the home for some of that help," he said. "Traditional home ec skills, I think some of those are missing."

Ciesielski said, like most schools, LHS doesn't have one single "home-ec" class for the general student population, but "life skills" classes are spread over a few different courses.

“You need those basic skills just to be an adult and function independently.”

Janet Kidd
Life Management teacher

In "Senior Portfolio" class, social functions like personal communications skills, proper dress for interviews, and even handshakes, he said, are discussed.

There are career-oriented courses like business management, and a personal finance literacy course. He describes those as the "math of daily living," where students learn about checkbooks, credit cards, car loans and home applications.

Back to the cookies at FHS. Kidd will also teach how to make bread, along with entrées, a beverage, and the history behind the foods we eat. Did you know the snickerdoodle was the first cookie to arrive in North America? Or that the gingerbread cookie is the oldest?

She said she has seen courses like auto shop and wood shop, melt away, and despite all the options, there's no place to learn how to sew on a button in area schools.

"I know that the top schools do have it," she said, along with other top-notch indicators like a bigger gym or library.

She'd like to see students be able to run an account, balance a budget, understand how to budget money and time, and make best use of resources. "I think they should open it up so it's more accessible to more students," she said, because scheduling is often tight with all the required courses.

"I hope they learn to be self-reliant, and learn how to take a tomato from the bush, and do something with it," she said. "You need those basic skills just to be an adult and function independently."

HHS also has food and nutrition courses and even a class on interior design. Personal finance is taught through an economics section, and they cover those state-required health courses.

Although students can't really learn how to sew on a button at any area schools this year, HHS may be the first to bring that back for the 2015-16 school year, said LoFiego.

COUPLE'S ARGUMENT LEADS TO ARREST

On Sept. 13, at 2:40 a.m. Holly police responded to a bar in the 900 block of North Saginaw Street on a report of a domestic incident. Police made contact with a 42-year-old Holly man, who had slurred speech and smelled of intoxicants. The man said he had been in the vehicle with his girlfriend, a 42-year-old Holly resident, when she allegedly assaulted him. Police located the woman and she told them that she and her boyfriend had argued all day and he had allegedly struck her. Neither wanted to press charges on the other, but outstanding warrants came back on the man. He was arrested and transported to the Oakland County Jail for the warrants.

'MAN WITH GUN' ARRESTED IN LINDEN

At 2:24 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 11, Linden police responded to the 700 block of North Bridge Street on a report of a man with a gun. The complainant, a 65-year-old Linden man, told police that as he walked his dog on the sidewalk, a man came out of a house and yelled at him, threatening to kill him if his dog urinated on his lawn. The suspect, later identified as a 50-year-old Linden resident, was holding a pellet gun while standing in his front yard. The man walking his dog kept walking, however, the suspect, got in his car and followed the older man. Police arrested the 50-year-old man for disorderly conduct and recovered his pellet gun from his home.

VIOLENT FENTON MAN ARRESTED

At 5:30 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 13, Fenton police were dispatched to the 2000 block of Kellogg Drive on a report of a man, possibly on drugs, behaving violently and threatening to kill himself. A deputy with the Genesee County Sheriff's Department responded to assist Fenton police. As police approached location, a woman yelled for their help. As police exited their cars, the man charged toward them yelling profanities. The man also assaulted the deputy. Police arrested the man, identified as a 21-year-old Fenton resident, and transported him to Genesys Health Park in Grand Blanc Township for a psychiatric evaluation. The man was released from the hospital the next day and police are seeking warrants for assaulting a police officer and resisting and obstructing police.

DAVID'S DABBLINGS

I've gotten a little smarter in my older age.

Twenty years ago, if Sunday's Lions' game happened, I probably would've been wrapped up with anger for a good 48 hours after the contest.

On Sunday, I took it for what it was—a loss against a very good team who happens to be even better at their home stadium.

That said, there truly were reasons to be upset about the Lions' 24-7 loss to Carolina. The secondary continues to get more injuries on what was already a thin unit. The Lions started dropping passes again. Their kicker (I refuse to use his name until he proves himself worthy of such an honor) has now missed three straight kicks from 40 to 49 yards. The running game struggled and Matthew Stafford took a step backwards.

Gosh, on second thought what is wrong with me. I should be fuming.

And the beat goes on for Linden soccer

►Second-ranked Eagles remain unbeaten after 5-1 victory vs. Bronchos

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Holly — Ben Thornton will be the first to admit it.

Last season, there was a period in time when he and his Linden varsity boys soccer team was ranked No. 1 in Division 2.

But this season's squad graduated 12 players, so Thornton didn't think reaching last year's heights was probably a realistic goal. About a month into the season, he's probably changed his opinion.

The Eagles remain unbeaten this season after defeating Holly 5-1 at Holly's Karl Richter campus on Monday night.

"By the way we are playing right now, it doesn't look like (there's been a drop)," Thornton said. "I didn't know what to expect from this year, but we are playing just like we did last year. It doesn't look like we've missed a beat or anything."

"I thought we were going to lose a little bit of a beat. I didn't think we'd be this good, losing 12 players. We only have four starters coming back from last year, and we had a bunch of positions to fill. I was kind of up in the air with this season, but right now we are looking great."

The Eagles (2-0, 9-0-1), indeed look great. It took Linden a little bit to get its offense to score against Holly on Monday, but for the most part the Eagles dominated possession. And when Holly did have possession, the Eagles pressured the ball immediately, making it tough for the Bronchos to keep possession.

That said, it remained tight for most of the first half. Linden scored about 15 minutes into the game when David Fowler sent a diagonal cross to Thornton, who headed it in the net. Linden led 1-0.

However, Holly found a way to tie the contest with 14:08 left in the half. It came on a pass from Zack Caldwell, resulting in a dribble and drive goal by Lucas Sammut. Holly had the game tied at 1-all.

"That was a beautiful goal," Holly coach Mike Steibel said.

Fenton's long-time boys varsity golf coach Bill Hajec is being inducted into the Michigan High School Coaches Hall of Fame on Sunday.

Hajec, Covert being inducted into Hall on Sunday

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

A few weeks ago Marti Covert was driving to some destination when he thought he noticed Bill Hajec near the side of the road.

"I don't know where I was going, but I think he was afraid I was going to hit him," Covert said. "I just stopped to tell him congratulations."

And it's likely Hajec reciprocated the congratulatory act to Covert as well. After all, both will be inducted into the Michigan High School Coaches Association (MHSCA) Hall of Fame on Sunday.

A Fenton graduate and long-time coach and teacher, Hajec could be labeled as a jack of all trades when it comes to coaching. Hajec coached JV baseball for two years and varsity baseball from 1969 until 1981, posting a 175-134 record during that time.

"I just found the baseball season too cold," Hajec said. "I didn't find it enjoyable any more. But I enjoyed the kids."

Hajec coached JV football for seven years and freshman basketball under LeRoy Decker for three years. He also was the JV softball coach for two seasons. But what Hajec is mostly known for is his service as the Fenton varsity boys golf coach. Hajec coached boys golf for 33 years, from 1976 to 2006. He finished with a 275-93-6 record.

"In golf I had really good kids," Hajec said. "It seemed I had top-notch kids all of the time."

"It was a nice assist from Zack and it was a beautiful shot and finish by Lucas. It was nicely done."

Linden's offensive pressure finally got to Holly late in the first half. Kevin Wright assisted a goal by Nolan McDonald with 2:06 left in the half. The lead grew to 3-1 with 23 seconds left in the half on a nice header goal by Tyler Ziccardi off of a pass from Derek Deighton.

The Eagles blew the game open with Wright scoring twice. The first was assisted by Marcos Toledano. The second goal was unassisted.

"I think we are meshing together really well," Thornton said. "We have a lot of fun out on the field, playing for each other, winning for each other and looking out for each other on the field. I think we have good team chemistry."

"We are playing really good right now," Linden coach Kevin Fiebernitz said. "I like the chemistry and like what is going on. There are a lot of young guys playing major roles."

Fenton swimmers expecting depth to be its strength

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Fenton — The Fenton varsity girls swim team knows they may not get a ton of firsts this year at the Metro League meet.

But the Tigers also know that doesn't mean it'll keep them from taking first in the league either.

As has been the case ever since the Metro League has had girls swimming for a championship, the Fenton Tigers entered this season as the favorites. And up until now, the Tigers have always made good on those prognostications by winning a league title, only sharing it once. This year, Fenton expects to make those predictions right with its depth.

"We are a really deep team," said senior co-captain Hannah Gregory. "We have a lot of depth because having girls in every single grade makes us better than the other teams. That's what gives us the scoring for everything. Most teams have only good senior girls, but we have good girls throughout the team. That's the difference between winning and not winning."

"Our depth is really important," Fenton-co-senior Marie-sa Elizondo said. "We don't need an all-star person getting firsts. We need people getting the thirds and the fourths. Those combined points are more than the first-place person. So if we push ourselves really hard, we work ourselves really hard, we taper really good and 'Hell Week' goes really good, I think we can (win) the Metro."

The Tigers are working on improving that depth right now. On Thursday the Tigers faced Genesee County's top team, Grand Blanc, and lost a 129-57 dual. The Bobcats, however, are not in the Metro League, meaning the dual meant more to the Tigers in terms of pushing themselves than getting the victory.

Why don't the Tigers appear to have an abundance of first-place performers this season? It's a two-folded answer. First, a large chunk of their state performers from a year ago graduated. Secondly, the team is very young this season, meaning most of the swimmers' days are ahead of them when they become juniors and seniors.

"(Having a young team) was a little challenging at first, but we've gotten it all together really well," Elizondo said. "We all train hard and all go hard.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | DAVID TROPPENS

Fenton's Brianna Costigan won the 500 freestyle against Grand Blanc. She's one of the team's top returning swimmers this fall.

And (the young swimmers) are making us better and better as we go."

Against Grand Blanc, the Tigers had two individual firsts. They were posted by junior Brianna Costigan. Costigan is one of Fenton's few returning performers from last year's D2 state meet. She won the 200 freestyle (2:07.15) and the 500 freestyle (5:49.42).

Three others took individual seconds. Sophomore diver Zoe Weinberg took second in diving (264.85), while sophomore Elise Cassidy (1:07.93) was a runner-up in the 100 backstroke. Another sophomore, Lauren Gruber, placed second in the 100 breaststroke (1:19.54).

Gregory, who is returning this year after being out her entire junior season due to a shoulder injury, likes how the team is progressing.

"We are doing awesome. I'm super proud of everyone," Gregory said. "Brandon is our biggest rivals and we had a virtual practice against them to compare times, and we did really good. We are feeling pretty good about it already. We're excited."

Eagles' defense keys 23-6 win vs Bronchos

By David Troppens

Holly — The Linden-Holly football game remained a defensive battle for most of Friday night.

And it was the Eagles' defense that had the biggest impact in the game, resulting in the Eagles' 23-6 Metro League victory at Holly High School.

"It starts with the line and our front three — me, Austin McNeill, (Skyler) Stites and Ray (Ballard)," said Linden senior Kyle Korman, who had 14 tackles and three sacks. "Just getting the first push, pushing the pressure on the quarterback and getting the tackles in the back field — it sets the mood. And when you get pressure on the quarterback, passes go wild."

The Bronchos managed 148 rushing yards, but for large periods of the game they couldn't sustain a ground game. Two of their 32 carries resulted in 64 of those 148 yards. And there wasn't a passing game that could help compliment the ground game. While Holly's starting quarterback Matt Barnett was able to run for 84 yards on 15 running attempts, he wasn't able to complete any of his three pass attempts. Barnett was replaced by Alex Mazzone in the second half after an injury to Barnett and was able to complete 5-of-8 passes for 42 yards, leading the Bronchos to their only scoring drive, but his last three passes were two incomplete attempts and an interception by Linden's Trenton Strang. Zachary Kentish also collected a fumble recovery early in the second half setting up the Eagles' first of two second-half TD drives.

Linden's offense struggled against Holly for the entire first half minus the Eagles' last drive. Starting with possession at the Holly 26, the Eagles took 10 plays to drive 64 yards and score on a 15-yard TD pass from Ethan Quesnelle to Michael Gold in the middle of the end zone. Bailey Davis made the first of his two extra-points and the Eagles led 7-0 with just eight seconds left in the half. They took that lead into the halftime break.

In the second half, the Eagles kept to their primary offensive weapon of the night — Kevin Bates. Bates was only able to run for 37 yards on 13 carries in the first half, but he wore down the Holly defense in the second half. He ran the ball 10 times for 56 yards and two scores. He also caught six passes for 61 yards during the contest, giving him 154 yards total offense.

"I love it. It's fun," Bates said about being Linden's workhorse on offense. "It's fun to keep the drive going, put my head down and get the yards."

Holly opened the second half driving the ball to the Linden 36 before a Bronchos' fumble was collected by Kentish. Starting at Holly's 49, the Eagles took 10 plays to set up Bates' two-yard TD run up the middle. Bates ran the ball five times for 19 yards and also caught a screen pass for 22 yards on the drive, converting two Linden third-down plays.

Barnett was sacked on Holly's next possession by Korman, forcing the Bronchos' best ground threat out of the game. The Bronchos took over the ball on their next possession on their own 5. Two plays later, an intentional grounding call in the end zone resulted in a safety, the second one Linden's defense has recorded this season. The Eagles led 16-0 with 10:58 left in the game.

Holly (0-3) did try to get back into the game. The Bronchos' defense forced Linden to punt on the Eagles' next possession after the safety, and Holly followed that with its only TD drive of the game. Mazzone completed four consecutive passes and also had a 13-yard run during the series, setting up his 15-yard TD pass to Javon Barr. Holly went for the two-point conversion, but Linden's Jacob Marshall sacked Mazzone, assuring Linden kept a 16-6 lead with 6:47 left.

Lake Fenton — With a shutout loss and a blowout win to start the season, Lake Fenton's head coach Eric Doyle wanted to find out who his Blue Devils really were on the field. After Friday, he's still wondering.

"I've seen it in flashes," Doyle said.

"We've got to grow up," he continued. "No one's going to feel sorry for ourselves."

He'll see if that growing can happen next week, as Lake Fenton fell to Montrose 27-12 in the Genesee Area Conference Red Division matchup.

The Blue Devils were plagued by the turnover — three interceptions and a fumble.

The game started with Lake Fenton just trying to stay competitive.

Montrose returned the opening kick past the 50 yard line. Three plays later, with less than a minute gone in the game, they were in the end zone when bruising senior running back Alex Elavich pounded it in from the 5-yard line.

When the Blue Devils went three-and-out on their first possession, Elavich ran 46 yards when Montrose got the ball back, punching it in from 1 yard out to give the Rams a 14-0 lead.

On Lake Fenton's next possession, they finally found their footing. Junior running

The Fenton varsity football team was held scoreless at Swartz Creek for the first half Friday night.

But the second half was a different story.

The Tigers (3-0) scored 35 second-half points, earning a 35-19 road victory.

Brett Pero caught a 14-yard TD pass from Gage Smith late in the first quarter, earning the Dragons the early 6-0 lead. That's what the score was at halftime.

The Tigers took the lead for good with two TDs in the third quarter. The first came on a two-yard run by Bryce Roney and the second came on a 37-yard score by Greg Lukas. Evan Gornick's extra-

It was kind of a short season and the weather in the fall was much better than the weather in the spring when I coached baseball."

Covert, a Fenton resident, made his mark primarily in one sport, wrestling. Covert coached Byron High School's wrestling program from 1978 until 2010, winning 403 duals in that period. He also had 14 district-winning teams and two individual state champion wrestlers — Jason Adams (1992) and Jason Jarvinen (1994). But, perhaps the wrestler who made the most impact while Covert was at Byron was his long-time assistant Mark Schaefer. Schaefer was a wrestler when Covert took over the program and wrestled for Covert. When he graduated, Schaefer became Covert's assistant coach.

"I got the job right off the bat when I came to Byron in the fall of 1978," Covert said. "I got a middle school math teaching job and was the JV football coach and varsity wrestling coach."

Covert, a Fenton graduate, wrestled in high school and for one season at Central Michigan University. He joined the Peace Corps for a couple of years and then earned a teaching job in Redford Township. While there, he noticed a classified ad in the Detroit News for a varsity wrestling coach at Redford Union. Covert came in saying he'd like to be an assistant. Redford Union athletic director Howard Kraft didn't like that response.

"He said 'Nope, I need a head coach and you are it,'" Covert. The response set up Covert's long head coaching career.

Covert is also a member of the Michigan Wrestling Association Hall of Fame. Covert was shocked when he heard about the honor.

"The MHSCA (shocked) me. I was not expecting it at all and I'm excited about it," Covert said. "It brought tears to my eyes to think people in the coaching profession looked at me in those terms."

Hajec has been inducted in several halls. He's in the Greater Flint Hall of Fame, the Fenton Athletic Hall of Fame and the Michigan High School Golf Coaches Hall of Fame as an individual. He's also in the Ball State Hall of Fame for being a member of the 1965 football team and also in the Greater Flint Hall of Fame for being a member of the Bishop Construction Baseball Team.

"I think they are all good," Hajec said about the Hall of Fame inductions. "You have to be old to get into them."

"It's the kids that really make it special. We had a lot of great years and some bad years, but you seem to forget those because the kids were still good. We didn't win, but they were still great kids. I really enjoyed it."

back Mitchell Arens ran for 15 yards, followed by an 18-yard pass from senior quarterback Chad Christian to junior running back Trevor Wright. Unfortunately, momentum was halted as Christian was picked off by Montrose's Chad Shelton.

Doyle called Shelton "fantastic" as the senior excelled as a defensive back and the starting quarterback for the Rams.

Lake Fenton's defense put their heels in the ground, including the stalwart play of junior linebacker Mason Rinks, to force a punt from Montrose.

On their next offensive possession, Lake Fenton's Arens scampered for 16 yards and Christian connected with senior running back Mitchell Bollinger for a 40-yard reception to set the Blue Devils up in scoring position for the first time. Christian found Arens from 22 yards out for a touchdown pass to put Lake Fenton on the board. A blocked extra point attempt made the game 14-6.

Lake Fenton felt the momentum even further when junior Jake Zielinski recovered a fumble on Montrose's next possession. Unfortunately, the Blue Devils were forced to punt after going three-and-out.

Montrose was driving down the field toward the end of the half, hoping to tack on more points before the break. In Lake Fenton territory, a crucial passing play was broken up by Lake Fenton's junior defensive back Chris Bell.

The Blue Devils received to start the second half, and they made the most of the opportunity.

Sophomore fullback Trent Hillger rumbled for 38 yards, breaking several tackles on the way. Bollinger followed it up with a 14-yard run of his own. However, the Blue Devils faced a fourth-and-goal situation on the 2-yard line. That's when they called on their bruiser Hillger to punch it in for the touchdown.

The Blue Devils attempted a 2-point conversion to tie the game, but Christian's pass was incomplete to make the score 14-12 in favor of the Rams.

Montrose's Shelton took over the game at this point, doing most of the running and all of the passing to march the Rams down the field, where he ran it in from 5 yards out. The extra point attempt was no good due to a fumbled snap, putting the Rams up 20-12.

A fumble by Lake Fenton's Arens on their next possession gave Montrose another chance to score with momentum, and they seized the opportunity as Shelton connected with junior receiver Noah French from 32 yards out.

Lake Fenton still had a chance as Zielinski recovered another fumble, but Shelton once again picked off Christian's pass.

Lake Fenton (1-1, 1-2) travel to Mt. Morris on Friday.

points put the Tigers up 14-6 with 3:14 left in the third.

Creek scored with 8:03 left in the fourth on a 52-yard TD pass from Smith to Kenyon Spurlock, but the two-point conversion failed, allowing Fenton to hold a 14-12 lead.

The Tigers iced the victory with three TDs in a span of 2:06. The first came on Alec Thomas' 60-yard reception from Ross Ebert with 6:20 left in the contest. Dominic Weiss scored on a three-yard run with 5:20 left, and Mason McCormick scored on an eight-yard interception return for a TD with 4:14 left.

Smith hit Pero with a 29-yard TD pass with 3:06 left in the contest, but it was a case of too little, too late for the Dragons.

The Tigers host Brandon for another Metro League contest on Friday at 7 p.m.

To your Good Health

KEITH ROACH, M.D.

DEAR DR. ROACH: I keep getting little black splinters under my fingernails that disappear on their own. I also have little black splinters under both of my big toenails that have not disappeared and have been there for a while. What is this? — D.F.

ANSWER: These sounds like splinter hemorrhages. The most common cause of these is trauma to the nail bed, but some dermatologic conditions can cause this as well, such as psoriasis and lichen planus. However, the most worrisome (but unusual) condition is infective endocarditis, an infection of the heart valves. Any fever or fatigue should be promptly evaluated by an internist.
