Walk in... waltz out

►Dancing is more popular than ever, with health benefits and fun for all ages

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Scott Metcalfe, 30, and his fiancée Michal Kelly, 33, are getting married in just four weeks. He chose the song, "In Your Eyes" by Peter Gabriel for their first dance as a couple, yet for the life of him, he couldn't figure out how to dance to it.

That's why he and Kelly were doing the Rumba on the dance floor with dance instructor Stephanie Martin at Chassé Ballroom & Latin Dance Studio on Wednesday night.

"They're doing great," said Martin. "It's only their third lesson and they've already picked up two steps, the Rumba and the Night Club Two-Step. It helps that Scott has a musical background."

Not everyone who walks in to Chassé Ballroom will pick it up as quickly as this couple will, but one thing is for sure, you'll have fun trying. Metcalfe and Kelly are just two of the hundreds of people who are either learning to dance or perfecting their moves at Chassé Ballroom, some as individuals and others as couples.

"Dancing With the Stars" has definitely helped make ballroom dancing as popular as it is today," said Bethany Green, studio manager

Summary

►Dancing offers not only a fun 'Date Night' opportunity, but also health benefits for all ages, including your brain.

and certified ballroom instructor. "But there are two other reasons dancing is so big right now. One, people are discovering that dancing is great for your health and a lot more fun than going to the gym and two, dancing at the studio makes a perfect 'Date Night' for couples."

She says that dancing is a great escape for busy couples, away from day-to-day responsibilities and schedules. "It kind of forces couples to spend this time together alone, without any other interruptions."

Green admits she loves working with couples, because she can see such a difference in their relationship, from the first time they come in until they get comfortable dancing together. "You can almost see them fall in love all over again," she said.

She also says it's a myth that women are more interested in dancing than men. "For many couples, it's the woman who buys the initial introductory package, but by the end of their sessions, it's the husband who's buying more lessons," she said.

Facts about Famous Christmas movies

Miracle on 34th Street

The scenes of the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade are actually taken from the 1946 parade. The movie is credited with bringing the traditional parade to the national spotlight, and Macy's employees were given half a day off so they could see the first showing of the movie. Most people didn't realize that Edmund Gwenn, Santa Claus in the movie, also played Santa Claus during the real 1946 Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade. He even played to the crowd from the marquee of Macy's when the parade ended to open the "official" Christmas shopping season.

IT'S A WONDERFUL LIFE

Does George look strangely sweaty to you when he and Clarence are on the bridge? That's because it was 90 degrees out the day that scene was filmed.

The movie was mentioned in an FBI file in 1947, when an analyst passed along the concern that the film was an obvious attempt to discredit bankers, a "common trick used by Communists."

The assistant director of Christmas Vacation, Frank Capra III, is the grandson of the legendary Frank Capra, who directed It's a Wonderful Life.

NATIONAL LAMPOON'S Christmas Vacation

The part where Clark "fixes" the newel post by sawing it off with a chainsaw is an homage to It's a Wonderful Life – the newel post at the Bailey's house was also loose. Also, Russ is watching It's a Wonderful Life on TV when his grandparents arrive.

SCROOGED

All of Bill Murray's actor brothers are in the movie:

Brian Doyle-Murray plays Frank's dad in a flashback.

Joel Murray has a walk-on as a party guest.

John Murray got to play his real-life big brother's younger brother.

During the scene where Carol Kane grabs Bill Murray's lip, she really latched on and accidentally tore it so badly that they had to stop filming for a few days so Bill could heal and his injuries wouldn't be so obvious on camera.

A Christmas Story

For anyone keeping count, Ralphie says he wants the Red Ryder BB Gun 28 times throughout the course of the movie.

Ming Ming the elf from the beginning of the movie is Peter Billingsley, the actor who played Ralphie in A Christmas Story.

According to some reports, when the movie was first discussed back in 1993, Jim Carrey was going to play the lead.

Gimbels Department Store was a real department store and competitor of Macy's until it closed in 1987. It was also featured in Miracle on 34th Street. The Gimbels exterior in the movie is actually the 34th Street Macy's in Manhattan with a bit of digital alteration.

Jack Nicholson was very interested in playing Ralphie's dad. But casting (and paying) Jack would have been too expensive. Director Bob Clark has said Darrin McGavin was the perfect choice.

Mythbusters tested whether it was possible to get your tongue truly stuck on a piece of cold metal. Guess what? It is. So don't triple dog dare your best friend to try it.

McDowell Eye Care

Scott McDowell, O.D., opens new Fenton practice

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Scott McDowell, O.D., has been practicing optometry in Fenton for over a decade, and has now opened the doors to his own practice.

Open since Oct. 8, many Fenton residents have been watching the project come to completion at 2472 South Long Lake Rd., just east of Torrey Road.

The new building houses a full-service optometry practice, including the treatment of many eye diseases from glaucoma to diabetic vision issues, non-surgical eye care and the dispensing of contact lenses and glasses.

"One of my passions is pediatric optometry, and another is contact lenses," said McDowell, a graduate of the Ferris State University Optometry School. His wife, Adrienne, works at the front reception desk as office manager.

The Optical Department, headed by Leigh Balias, an optician for 25 years, carries glasses by Coach, Versace, Polo, Brooks Brothers, Dolabany, Kenneth Cole, among many others — all displayed in cabinetry handcrafted by the McDowells. The building project was completed by local contractors.

McDowell Eye Care is open Tuesday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The practice is accepting new patients and takes most major insurance carriers. For more information or to make an appointment, call (810) 714-2020.

YOUR SMILE MATTERS!

TOOTHPASTE

I am often asked by patients which toothpaste is best. Toothpaste is used to promote oral health. It serves as an abrasive that aids in removing of dental plaques, food and stains from teeth. Toothpaste also assists in suppressing halitosis (bad breath), and delivers active ingredients such as fluoride to help prevent tooth decay and gum disease. It should be noted that most of the cleaning achieved by the mechanical action of the tooth brush and that other materials such as baking soda and salt work nearly as well in cleaning of the teeth. One of the key ingredients of toothpaste is fluoride. Fluoride toothpaste, I feel, is very important in the prevention of tooth decay. In fact, for those folks in my practice who are struggling in their battle with tooth decay; I sometimes recommend a prescription strength fluoride tooth paste that they get from their pharmacist. Some patients struggle with a lot of tooth sensitivity and there are toothpastes which have desensitizing agents as an active ingredient which give them relief. There are several whitening toothpastes on the market now that can help brighten the smile and I feel these do an OK job of helping to keep the teeth whiter especially for those people who have had teeth whitening. So as you can see there are many options and your choice really depends on your individual situation.

I welcome your questions and comments. Feel free to e-mail me drsulfaro@comcast.net

Michigan VOTES

What y our legisla tors
vo ted on recentl y

MichiganVotes.org is a free, non-partisan website created by the Mackinac Center for Public Policy to provide concise, non-partisan, plain-English descriptions of every bill and vote in the Michigan House and Senate. This report was release on Friday, Nov. 14.

House Bill 4482: Convert “economic development” programs from rule-based to discretionary subsidies. To consolidate within the Michigan Strategic Fund agency the decision-making powers currently vested in various other government “economic development” and job training programs created over the years. In general, this and related bills have the effect of converting programs that give selective corporate and developer tax breaks and subsidies from (putatively) rule-based programs to ones in which the benefits are granted at the discretion of political appointees on the Michigan Strategic Fund board. The bill also expand this agency’s authority over “brownfield” and “historic district” tax breaks and subsidies, and government job training subsidies for particular companies.

House Bill 5513: Expand mobile home court regulation. To expand the jurisdiction of the Department of Environmental Quality over mobile home parks; impose new licensure conditions; require the state “Manufactured Housing Commission” to notify local governments of any complaints from residents; impose a performance bond mandate on mobile home park owners; impose an annual inspection mandate; authorize placing a park under court-ordered receivership if conditions threaten residents’ health and safety; and more.

House Bill 4157: Lend IT project money to local governments. To create a government fund to make loans to state agencies, local governments, colleges and universities, school districts, and nonprofits that provide public services, for information technology projects that meet various criteria specified in the bill, and which would be selected by a board of state officials and political appointees.

House Bill 4401: Exempt some excavation and mining from permit mandate. To exempt from state dredging and related permit requirements excavation or mining activities associated with an active mining operation, unless they create an inland lake with a surface area of five acres or greater.

House Bill 5230: Expand government’s power to seize and sell property deemed a “nuisance.” To expand the power of government to seize and sell an owner’s property, so that it applies to the contents of a building deemed a “nuisance” because they are connected with unlawful gun violence or human trafficking. Under this power, the property owner does not need to be charged or convicted of a crime, and most of the proceeds from the taking go to the law enforcement agencies involved.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | TIM JAGIELO

“They end up having so much fun.”

Sometimes, it’s the boyfriend or husband who comes in to buy an initial package for their significant other, because he says that she loves to watch “Dancing With the Stars” and he wants to surprise her on her birthday, for example. But men find they do like to dance as much as women, according to Green.

Most people do come in to dance lessons with a specific goal, such as an upcoming wedding, a cruise or to have a destination for weekly date nights. “Most people come in for one weekly lesson, although some may come in a few times a week if a specific event is coming right up,” said Green.

Chassé Ballroom offers private lesson packages, and they’re available at the same price for either singles or couples. “Most people start with the introductory package of three private lessons, and then go from there,” she added. “We also have group lessons and Friday night dancing with a group lesson at 6:45 p.m. and a ‘Practice Party’ from 7:30 to 10, where people can dance for fun and try out their new steps.”

Is there such a thing really as having “two left feet?” While Green admits not everyone has the same innate ability to dance, everyone can learn. It just might take a few more lessons for some and different teaching methods.

“Our first goal is to get you comfortable on the dance floor,” said Green. “We offer an extremely friendly environment, not intimidating. If you walk in the door, we want you to be able to waltz out!”

Westfall PLAN 30-944

Ranch-style homes have been enduringly popular in North America for several decades, and the Westfall is a prime example. The lap siding's crisp horizontal lines frame and underscore two sets of street-facing front windows, while vertical lines front the garage, under a high row of sparkling windows.

Double doors in the foyer open into a den. Its location just inside the entry makes it well-suited for use as a home office. The natural light spilling in through the front windows is muted slightly by the recessed porch.

An opening on the opposite side of the foyer leads to the owners' suite. A pocket door provides separation from the bathroom, which has a shower, private toilet, and double vanity, and links up with a roomy walk-in closet.

Repairing this home calls for stealthy DIY

DEAR AMY:

I have dealt with an issue all our married life and I would like some advice on how to ‘let it go.’ For instance, our shower has been dripping for two months and I can hear it when sleeping. He told me to ‘just shut the door.’ He won’t let me call a plumber. I have made a ‘honey do’ list and left it on the counter in the past. The list sat there for months, and then I threw it out. If a repair is his idea, he has no problem attacking it. What am I doing wrong?

ASK Amy

BY AMY DICKINSON

AMY DICKINSON

DEAR AMY:

I am a gainfully employed woman in my mid-20s. I still live in the state where I grew up, and over the last few years I have been feeling stir-crazy and anxious. I have decided to move out of state at the end of my lease (eight months from now). My entire family lives here and no one has ever moved away. My parents and siblings are not happy. They seem to view it as selfish and come up with myriad excuses why I should stay where I am. I know that if I don’t go now, I will never leave and will regret it horribly. How would you advise I help my family understand?
— Stir-Crazy

DEAR STIR-CRAZY:

An important part of the journey to adulthood is separating (in a healthy way) from the control of family members. Because they are happy staying in place, you cannot expect them to understand your need to move. Do it anyway. See to your needs, and reassure family members that you will be healthy and happy — at a distance.

DEAR WIFE:

The only thing you are doing ‘wrong’ is assigning a task to your husband that you could take care of yourself. One possible solution is to ask your husband to show you how to make the repair. Otherwise, many DIY home stores offer courses on light home repair. I suggest you take a class (or buy a book or watch YouTube videos) on how to repair your dripping shower. And then tackle this task yourself.

INTO THE STORM

In the span of a single day, the town of Silverton is ravaged by an unprecedented onslaught of tornadoes. The entire town is at the mercy of the erratic and deadly cyclones, even as storm trackers predict the worst is yet to come. Most people seek shelter, while others run towards the vortex, testing how far a storm chaser will go for that once-in-a-lifetime shot. Told through the eyes and lenses of professional storm chasers, thrill-seeking amateurs, and courageous townspeople, “Into the Storm” throws you directly into the eye of the storm to experience Mother Nature at her most extreme.

22 JUMP STREET

After making their way through high school (twice), big changes are in store for officers Schmidt (Jonah Hill) and Jenko (Channing Tatum) when they go deep undercover at a local college. But when Jenko meets a kindred spirit on the football team, and Schmidt infiltrates the bohemian art major scene, they begin to question their partnership. Now they don’t have to just crack the case - they have to figure out if they can have a mature relationship. If these two overgrown adolescents can grow from freshmen into real men, college might be the best thing that ever happened to them.

Botox can lessen eye muscle spasms

DR. ROACH:

I have been contending with blepharospasm for years. I got some relief from Botox for about four years, but then it stopped working and my doctor moved me to Dysport, which was horrible. It did not relax my symptoms, and it made me constantly very uncomfortable (with a feeling that my eyes were swollen all the time). I stopped the treatments and have been able to cope, until the past six months. I am almost unable to read, look at a computer screen or drive. Do you have any suggestions? I use Ativan to try to relax the stress of the blinking, but even that has lost its effect. I have been discouraged from getting a limited myectomy because of the risks. My ophthalmologist said that a neurologist would be a waste of time. I am desperate for another opinion.

GOOD HEALTH

ANSWER:

Blepharospasm is an uncontrollable muscle spasm around the eyes, often causing blinking and twitching. It ranges from occasional and mild to the much more severe and disabling condition you report. Treatment with botulinum toxin is effective for most people. Botulinum toxin, directly injected into muscle, weakens or paralyzes it. There are three types of botulinum toxin A currently available in the United States: Botox, Dysport and Xeomin, as well as botulinum toxin B (Myobloc). I suspect your ophthalmologist changed brands because of the concern of antibodies your body may have developed to the Botox. I would never say that a neurologist would be a waste of time. Blepharospasm is a limited form of dystonia, and neurologists are the experts in dystonia. The neurologist will have an opinion on trying a different form of botulinum toxin, as well as other treatments.

GORGONZOLA GREEN BEAN CASSEROLE

A twist on a Thanksgiving favorite

DIRECTIONS

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees and grease an 8x11 inch casserole dish. In a small bowl, combine the panko breadcrumbs, pecans, salt and pepper. Set aside.
2. In a large saucepan, place your green beans and enough water to cover. Heat over medium-high heat for 8 minutes. Drain the green beans and rinse with cold water. Set aside.
3. In the same saucepan, melt the butter over medium heat. When the butter is melted, add the milk and stir until the milk is almost to boiling. Add the shallots and garlic and stir.
4. Then add the gorgonzola cheese. Stir constantly until all of the cheese is melted (5 minutes or so.) When the cheese is melted, stir in the pecans, salt and pepper. Put the green beans in the casserole dish and pour the gorgonzola sauce over the top of the beans.
5. Pour the topping mixture over the green beans. Put in the oven and cook for 30 minutes. Serve hot.
