■Narcotics team finds 520 grams of marijuana, 800 prescription pills during search

By Sharon Stone

sstone@tctimes.com; 810-433-6786 Two Rose Township residents have been charged with multiple drug offenses, including manufacturing and delivering marijuana and prescription drugs.

According to Oakland County Undersheriff Michael McCabe, residents Lewis Lee Smith, 61, and his wife, Keshia Maria Smith, 34, were arrested last Saturday, following a search of their North Hill Drive home.

Lewis was arraigned on Aug. 22 on a five-count felony warrant (see sidebar) and Keshia, 34, was arraigned on one four-year felony. These charges came after an investigation by Oakland County's Narcotics Enforcement Team (NET) Crew 2. Detectives executed a search warrant at 4282 North Hill Dr. in Rose Township on Aug. 20.

were once hubs of activity

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823 Upon seeing the Fenton train depot today, tucked away behind the new Fenton Fire Department facility, it is difficult to imagine that it was once the site of major activities.

With passenger and other trains coming and going throughout the day, the depot was a main attraction in Fenton. The railroad was called the Detroit Grand Haven and Milwaukee at the time. It was the then-village of Fenton's main link to the outside world.

Fenton's train depot was built in 1882 and became a hub of activity for townspeople, travelers, circus folk and other entertainers.

Small traveling circuses and tent shows were a common site in the depot yard.

Jumbo, P.T. Barnum's circus elephant, was one of Fenton's noted, and probably largest, guests in 1883.

A performance of

"Uncle Tom's Cabin," still popular in the 1880s, was presented to large audiences at the Fenton train depot yard by the Fred H. Wren company in 1885. Barefoot children delighted in watching the tents go up and performers getting ready for the nightly shows. The cost to see the performance was 10 and 15 cents.

For some Fenton residents, the train depot was a ticket to the strange and unknown. Several locals got caught up in the "Dakota Fever" and decided to make a go of it out west.

Area schools say 'no' to year-round school

Ten percent of all U.S. public schools say 'yes' to balanced calendar

By Hannah Ball

hball@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

Imagine you're in high school or middle school and you don't have a three-month summer break for vacations, beach visits, and fun with your friends. Instead, you only have a two-month summer break, but with three one-week long breaks throughout the school year.

No tri-county schools operate with this balanced school year system, nor are the schools discussing it.

Davison schools just implemented this balanced calendar school year system district-wide for their 2016-2017 school year, according to davisonschools.org. Davison schools Superintendent Eric Lieske said they're expecting a smooth transition.

"We look at the move as an exciting opportunity and look forward to finding ways to offer students additional learning experiences in the form of optional intersessions," he said.

The decision to switch to a balanced school year came after two years of discussion and studying Hill Elementary, a Davison school that was been on a balanced calendar year since 1999. The results from Hill elementary prompted the school board to discuss the possibility of a district-wide balanced calendar system.

They will have three breaks, in October, February and May, along with regular holiday breaks and spring break. The first day of school will be Aug. 22 and the last day of school will be June 23, 2017.

"We have had overwhelming support from all stakeholders," Leiske said. He added that they're expecting a reduction in summer learning loss, more opportunities for staff and students to get energized during the breaks, more opportunities to learn, and overall, an increase in student achievement.

Davison will evaluate the system annually for three years to determine its effectiveness, according to Davison schools.

Doug Busch, interim superintendent of Fenton schools, said they have not considered switching to a balanced school year, nor has Linden schools, according to Interim Superintendent Russ Ciesielski.

Lake Fenton Superintendent Wayne Wright also said they have not discussed switching to a balanced calendar year. He said one concern would be keeping the air conditioning on during the summer.

"I do feel that a balanced calendar has merit," Wright said. "From what I have read, there is less of a requirement to reteach material after a long summer vacation if a district has a balanced calendar." See SCHOOL on 20A

My 1998 Chevy Silverado started smoking through the vents along with a burnt smell when I turned my defrost on one morning. Also there was no air flow coming through the vents. Could this be the blower motor? - Terry

A: Terry, This sounds like a blower motor resistor to me. And can usually be found near the blower motor, one thing to keep in mind when checking or doing this repair is that the connector will commonly get melted and should be replaced. Most parts stores stock the connector. And you should also be prepared to check the amperage draw of the blower motor or replace it with the resistor as it could be the cause of the failure to begin with.

During the search, detectives discovered and seized a number of items as evidence, including 520 grams of marijuana, 800 pills of OxyContin, Hydrocodone and Xanax, a digital scale, drug packaging and documents.

Lewis' bond was set at $50,000 cash and Keshia's bond was set at $20,000 cash. The defendants are expected back at the Oakland County district court on Aug. 31 at 9 a.m.

Keshia has another court case pending as she awaits a Sept. 8 sentencing on a drunk driving charge that included fleeing the scene of a crash and injuries to two passengers in her truck.

As reported by the Times in May, deputies with the Oakland County Sheriff's Office responded to a single vehicle crash, with injuries, on Dixie Highway near Bay Shore Court. The driver, later identified as Keshia Smith, was driving a pickup truck on Dixie Highway when she lost control of it. The truck left the roadway and struck a tree and utility pole.

Keshia had two unrelated 15-year-old female passengers, one of Holly, the other of Springfield Township. One girl was ejected and transported in critical condition to Genesys Health Park and then later to Royal Oak Beaumont Hospital. The other girl was transported to Genesys in serious, but stable condition.

The sheriff's office reported that Keshia fled the scene on foot, but was later apprehended at a nearby apartment complex. She was arrested and later charged with operating a vehicle while intoxicated causing injury, driving with a suspended license and causing injury, failing to stop at the scene of a crash, OWI with passengers under 16 years of age, and furnishing alcohol to a minor.

Det. Lt. Brent Miles of the Oakland County Sheriff's Office said Keshia is currently on a tether for the OWI injury crash in May.

ABOUT OAKLAND COUNTY'S NARCOTICS ENFORCEMENT TEAM

• In 1971, participating law enforcement agencies in Oakland County, in conjunction with the Michigan State Police, formed the first inter-agency level drug task force in Michigan, known as the "Oakland County Narcotics Enforcement Team" or NET. In January 2001, the Oakland County Sheriff's Office assumed lead-agency responsibilities as the Michigan State Police opted out of the program.

• The primary goal of

NET has been to eliminate or reduce controlled substance trafficking in Oakland County through investigations leading to the identification, apprehension, prosecution and conviction of controlled substancerelated law enforcement.

• The Oakland County Sheriff's Office and 15 local police departments constitute the unit. The Oakland County Sheriff's Office provides supervision and funding for all vehicles, equipment, buy money and office space for the unit.

LAPTOPS TAKEN DURING LARCENY

Dep. Geno Gaticka of the Genesee County Sheriff's Department said the department received two larceny from auto (LFA) complaints at about 9 a.m. on Aug. 20. Two residents, both living at separate homes in the 13000 block of Lake Shore Drive in Fenton Township, reported that someone entered their vehicles and stole their laptop computers. Gaticka said there were no signs of forced entry. There is no suspect information.

ITEMS STOLEN FROM GARAGE

On Aug. 21, the Genesee County Sheriff's Department took a breaking and entering complaint from a resident in the 11000 block of Torrey Road in Fenton Township. The resident said someone entered their garage and stole a chainsaw, weed trimmer, extension cords and other miscellaneous items. There were no signs of forced entry into the garage.

CAR STOLEN IN FENTON TOWNSHIP

The Genesee County Sheriff's Department is investigating an auto theft complaint out of Fenton Township. Dep. Geno Gaticka said a homeowner in the 15000 block of South Linden Road reported a red 2000 Chrysler Cirrus LXI was stolen from the driveway. The car was entered into Law Enforcement Information Network (LEI) as stolen.

CELL PHONE STOLEN FROM CAR

A resident from the area of Torrey and Ray roads in Fenton Township reported to the Genesee County Sheriff's Department on Aug. 23 that someone entered their vehicle between Aug. 21 and 23 and stole their $700 Samsung cell phone. It appears entry to the car was made with a key. Deputies are following up on leads to a possible suspect.

Raising money to feed young survivors of earthquake

By Hannah Ball

hball@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

Since the 7.0 magnitude earthquake in January 2010, Haiti has been going through a difficult time with famine, disease, and hundreds of thousands of kids left orphaned.

One local pastor hopes to help those orphans by running 150 miles from Aug. 27 to Sept. 10.

Jim Wiegand, pastor at The Freedom Center in Fenton, said his goal is to raise $16,500 to pay for 33,000 meals for those children. "Fifty cents pays for one meal," said Wiegand. "I'm just trying to raise awareness with what's happening in Haiti. More than 300,000 people died in a matter of minutes."

He said there is no infrastructure in Haiti to help the kids. Wiegand decided to work with the Convoy of Hope, a global disaster relief ministry, which feeds about 100,000 kids a day in Haiti.

"I really appreciate what they're doing down there," he said.

He was happy to find a ministry that's been there long term, with high accountability and ratings, he said. Wiegand liked the organization because they're promoting an agriculturalbased economy by buying food from Haitian farmers to feed the people. He wanted to work with an organization that's fixing problems holistically and not just for a day.

"It's one of the things where you feel like a drop in the ocean, but then you remember the ocean is made out of drops," he said. "Haiti is now the poorest country in the world and it's a 40-minute flight from Miami. It's such a stark reality." One local pastor

He started his run Thursday afternoon in Port Huron and will end near Lake Michigan, but the majority of his run will take place in the tri-county area when he'll run 15 miles every day for 10 days.

"I'll go up and down every street in Fenton, Linden, and Holly," he said. "I'll be running past everybody's home."

The church had already raised enough money to feed 3,000 kids before Aug. 27. "It's encouraging. We're already raising money and I haven't even taken a step," he said, prior to starting the run.

If anyone wants to donate, they can go to tfconline.org. "We'll take all the help we can get," he said. Wiegand will be up-at @jimwiegand1. After the run, Wiegand, along with 30 other people, will package the meals and hand deliver them to the children in Haiti from Oct. 17-24. This will be his third trip to Haiti.

He's been running for 10 years and stays in good shape. "My wife and I both love to run," he said. "It's nice to go out on a country road. It's a nice feeling."

Wiegand successfully ran 50 miles last week to make sure his body could survive the run. He'll be wearing a T-shirt that reads "Run 4 Haiti" during his 150-mile run. Wiegand turns 50 years old on Sept. 10, the last day. "If someone sees me and wants to have a conversation about Haiti, I'll talk. If not, I'll always take Motrin and a wave," he said.

EYES ON LEARNING

School, computer use and cell phones ramp up the visual demands on your child drastically. There are many visual tools kids need in order to learn effectively.

Multiple visual systems/tools are used in school that can break down and many are not obvious to the parent or teachers. The easy one to spot is poor visual acuity (if the kid can't see the chalkboard, ding-ding-ding... there's a problem).

Other equally or more devastating visual problems that decrease a child's learning potential are visual fatigue and poor eye teaming/visual coordination to name a couple. Both drastically decrease reading (books, computer, chalkboard) and comprehension at all ages.

Insidious medical problems often are present as well that are hard to detect such as mild lazy eye or a small eye turn that only occurs during reading. The latter by the way is extremely hard to detect without an eye doctor specifically looking for it.

With most of these conditions the child is 100% unaware these problems are occurring.

Often I have seen kids that appear to have ADD or Dyslexia who simply need eye exercises or therapeutic lenses which improve concentration and visual organization.

Standard eye exams and screenings are not enough to effectively isolate vision learning problems and that's why we always perform many extra tests and employ very high tech equipment with each and every eye exam we perform.

On Aug. 27, a Linden woman from the 400 block of Lydia filed a larceny from auto (LFA) complaint with Linden police. Police Chief Scott Sutter said that the woman reported that between Aug. 25 at 7 p.m. and Aug. 26 at 9 a.m., someone entered her 2009 Chevrolet Traverse and took her Coach purse that contained over $1,900 in cash. She said she was unsure if the doors to the vehicle were unlocked but there was no damage to her vehicle.

Financial Q&A What's is going on with the Market?

Well it appears that the market 'correction' we have been discussing for over 18 months now is finally upon us. The expectation is always different than the reality. When we speak in terms of percentages it never seems too bad. Translating those percentages to dollars is the tough part. If we look back in history every year we experience intra-year stock market declines. What is clear throughout history is that the market is capable of recovering from intra-year drops and finishing the year in positive territory, which should encourage us to stay the course when markets get choppy. For most of you that have lived through declines before you realize that, despite what the TV show hosts say, the SKY IS NOT FALLING. We believe that this is a long overdue correction and that the relative strength of the economy, reflected in almost all metrics, is improving. There continues to be very large sums of money in cash in the institutional coffers. Once this decline ends, and the Federal Reserve makes a decision to raise interest rates. 'we expect' a more positive trend to resume in the stock markets. There are headwinds but the key is to realize that, for Acorn clients, your portfolios are diversified and have been constructed to reflect your individual risk tolerance level. Rolling bin trash and recycling approved by Fenton

Goes into effect in October

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823 Fenton — City residents will be receiving their new, 95-gallon trash and recycling containers sometime in October, now that the City Council has approved a five-year contract with Republic Services of Flint.

Residents can use the new rolling-cart system as soon as their carts are delivered, according to Gary Hicks, municipal services manager for Republic.

The annual cost for a resident will be $128.68 in the first year. According to City Manager Lynn Markland, that includes a $1 per quarter administrative fee. Residents will pay for these services with their quarterly water bill.

Currently, residents pay $1.60 for each trash bag/can they put out on the curb, and 50 cents for each yard waste bag. Recycling is currently paid for with water bills at $16.95 per quarter, which will come off when the new program is implemented.

The average homeowner is expected to save money with the new program, according to Hicks and city administrators. Once the program is implemented, there will be no need to purchase bags and tags for trash. There will be no need to buy tags for yard waste. Yard waste will be collected each week on residents' regular trash day, not on Mondays as it is now. Yard waste cannot go in the 95-gallon cart with the regular garbage.

"People can use their old 32-gallon trash containers, or get the bags from Home Depot or wherever for yard waste," said Hicks. "They do need to go down to city hall and pick up free stickers that say 'yard waste.' You won't have to pay for them anymore."

Anyone who has more trash than will fit in the 95-gallon container can set it along side of it and it, too, will be picked up on their regular garbage day. Large item pick up will continue as it has in the past. Trash will be picked up weekly, while recycling will be collected every other week.

Five homeowners spoke against the new program during public comment at the Monday night City Council meeting. Bob Zientek was one of them.

"I sort of like it the way it is," Zientek said of the current system. "I'm only 82 years old and only use the existing system every two weeks. I think it's a good system and we should leave it the way it is."

Rudy Mora also spoke. "I've lived in Fenton for more than 50 years. I never thought I'd get into a situation like this," he said. "I like the present system, it's a good system and it shouldn't change."

a rodent problem in the city.

"We've had a real problem with that this year," said Mayor Sue Osborn.

Hicks said the program has been very successful in other communities, which include Holly, Linden and Fenton Township.

"We believe that by adding recycling carts we will grow recycling participation in the city," he said.

Hicks joked when he said, "I did not place rodents in the city, that was not my doing."

To those in opposition of the new program, he added, "All I ask is that you give it a try. We are willing to work with residents."

Councilwoman Pat Lockwood said the Solid Waste Committee has been working on this for almost two years. "Change is sometimes a struggle for people, but sometimes change is good," she said.

Lockwood said Republic will work with residents who live in condos and are bound by association rules that prohibit leaving trash bins outside. The garages at those condos also are very small and cannot accommodate a vehicle and two big blue bins.

Residents who leave the city for 30 or more days, such as "winter snowbirds," will be able to have the fees adjusted on their water bill, if they agree to have their water shut off for the duration of their trip.

Because of the age of some of Fenton's historic homes, shutting off water may not be an option. Councilman Les Bland said he supports signing an agreement with the city clerk, for example, but doesn't think people should be forced to turn off their water.

Fenton residents were reminded that the city currently pays Republic for trash pickup at each household, even if they never put out trash. Those costs are recouped through the bag and tag purchase system.

According to Councilwoman Cheryl King, people who take their garbage out of the city, or dump it in commercial dumpsters are costing the rest of the citizens money. The new system is aimed at preventing that.

If they are paying for the service on their water bill, King said, "They are not going to load smelly, leaky trash bags into their car and drive it somewhere else."

INFORMATIONAL MEETINGS SCHEDULED

There will be two meetings held in September to provide information and education on the city of Fenton's new trash and recycling system. The meetings will be held on Sept. 9 and 30, from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Fenton Community and Cultural Center, 150 South LeRoy St., Fenton.

Fenton man's expertise brings technology to hospitalized children

Community activist Joe Kryza volunteers his time and talents to worthy causes

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823 Joe Kryza of Fenton is more than just another IT guy. He is a community activist, volunteering his time and talents to a variety of worthy causes.

Kryza recently won an award from the Mott Golf Classic for his work to bring computers to every patient room in the Mott Children's Hospital, to help children and families stay connected and entertained throughout a hospitalization.

He has led a team of volunteers who have done incredible things, using funds raised by the generous donors to the Golf Classic, including those who play in or sponsor the annual golf tournament, said Sue Schade, chief information officer for the University of Michigan Health System.

Individual and organizational sponsors have over the years provided support for computers at patient bedsides, medically safe camps for children with serious health issues, assistive devices for children with special needs, and many more important projects and services.

Kryza, executive director of Infrastructure and Systems Operations for the University of Michigan Health System, has made significant contributions over the past 10 plus the past 10-plus years to the Mott Family Network, a non-profit volunteer organization to which many of the IT staff contributes their time, Schade said. The group is funded by the Mott Golf Classic.

"It was wonderful to see Joe awarded the Bob Kelch Classic Champion Award at this year's Mott Golf Classic," said Schade on her blog. "Several years ago, the Mott Golf Classic Committee established this award to recognize an individual who has demonstrated substantial commitment and dedication to Mott Hospital."

Kryza is very humbled by the award. As a Rotarian, he takes the motto "Service LETIC and I worked with a above Self" to heart. Eric Karsten Eric Karsten, former Fenton Board of Education member, was the person who introduced the volunteer project to Kryza. "Eric and I worked with a group of volunteers in Fenton to install the first Internet connections in the Fenton schools. This exposed me to the rewards of working on volunteer projects.

"I was inspired to start Mott Family Network by a man named Brian Marlier of Cisco Systems, who committed to donate $50,000 a year for 10 years to the cause," added Kryza. "After committing to the donation, Brian challenged me by asking 'Now that I did my part, what are you going to do?""

The Mott Family Network is currently working to install 250 Xboxes into every child's hospital room. There are gaming groups that donate Xboxes after their conventions, for example. "They only use them once for the convention and then donate them," Kryza said.

Another upcoming project Kryza is excited about is called "North Star Reach," a 105-acre camp in Pinckney. Information on North Star Reach Camp can be found at www.northstarreach.org.

Kryza would encourage people to help support this camp by visiting the site.

"Any child within 1,000 miles, who has a serious medical issue, can attend the camp programs for free," said Kryza.

Cabins are being equipped to address specific medical issues. For example, one cabin will be equipped to handle campers who need ventilators and wheelchairs. Mott Family Network and the Mott Golf Classic are providing all the networking and computer technology for the camp.

The camp is modeled after Paul Newman's "The Hole in the Wall Gang Camp," which first opened in 1988 in Connecticut. It is filled with traditional summer camp programs adapted so that children with physical and medical limitations can participate.

PREMEDICATION

In 2007 the American Heart Association in conjunction with the American Dental Association came out with new guidelines for antibiotic premedication for bacterial endocarditis. Endocarditis is a serious and life-threatening bacterial infection of the lining of the heart and heart valves. The disease is fairly rare and usually only affects those people with an already underlying heart condition and/or defect. The same bacteria that attack the heart in endocardi tis also commonly live in the mouth where they are a harmless part of dental plaque. In theory, it is though that these bacteria in the mouth would migrate into the blood stream and ultimately to the heart during a visit to the dentist. Before 1997 anybody who had a simple heart murmur, or a history of rheumatic fever needed to be on antibiotics before going to the dentist. This meant that between 10-20% of our patients were having to take antibiotics as a precaution against bacterial endocarditis every time they had a dental appointment. Now, with the new recommendations, only patients with serious heart conditions and defects need to take antibiotics before their dental appointment. Less that 2% of our patients now need to be pre-medicated against bacterial endocarditis; and not for every dental appointment as before Antibiotic premedication is recommended only if major dental work is needed. This is great news for a lot of people who used to have to take a lot of mediation as a precaution.

From games to competitions to dangerous stunts, cheerleading is no easy sport

By Hannah Ball

hball@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792 Athletes participating in fall sports have been conditioning and practicing all summer for their first games of the season. One certain sport has been practicing not only for games, but for competition as well.

The 20 girls on the Linden High School varsity cheerleading team have been doing burpees, wall sits, sit-ups, Russian twists, jumping jacks, running, cheering and stunting at practice from 8-10:30 a.m. all summer.

They're preparing to cheer at sporting events this fall and compete in competitions starting in November.

Linden's Thursday football game against DeWitt was Raya Elizondo's first game as head coach.

She may only be 20 years old, but she's been cheerleading her whole life, cheering at Davison, Lake Fenton, and Fenton.

Taylor Miller, 19, is the assistant coach.

Elizondo was assistant coach last year and said she was excited about her first game as head coach. "I have a lot of people who are really excited for their daughters," she said. "Taylor and I have focused a lot on improving their confidence as well as their skills. Parents are excited for how well they're going to do."

Everyone who went to high school football games remembers the energetic cheers to get the crowd pumped, yelling back to the cheerleaders and watching them perform stunts, basket tosses, and backhand tucks.

Elizondo's favorite football game cheers have a beat to them and have formation changes. "They're more fun to watch and more fun to do," she said.

But cheerleading isn't just yelling and tumbling for other sports.

Cheerleaders compete in competitions against neighboring schools. "They're (games and competitions) way different," said Elizondo. "Competitions have dif-cap it off.

Competitions can last a few hours or all day, depending on how many teams compete. Schools are separated into different divisions and then all compete at the same place. Linden is division three.

Teams are judged on their jumps, tumbling, vocals, formations, coordination, execution, general impression and difficulty.

Some people may say cheerleading isn't a sport, but that's never bothered Elizondo. "We do what we do. We have fun. That's all that really matters," she said. "When people come to competitions, they say 'wow, it's a tough sport. You guys have a lot of injuries.'

"It's definitely dangerous. You can get hurt doing anything," she said.

Elizondo's never been hurt while cheering, and she doesn't let the girls do any stunts they're not comfortable doing. The most common injury happens during stunting when girls get elbowed or punched in the face.

"If they don't fall correctly, they punch the girls in the face sometimes," she said. "It just depends on how well you're previously trained on how to do things. We don't do anything that's too crazy. I like to be more safe. I'd rather do more simple things perfectly."

She said the most common misconception is "saying it's all just preppy, less intelligent girls, but that's definitely not the case. We've had people in band, people in drama and girls who are very smart."

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | TIM JAGIELO Tori Keller, 17, acts as a "base" for another cheerleader, and concentrates on holding her "flyer" up in the air. "If they hit the ground you're in big trouble," she said.

Cardinals' last-minute TD spells Fenton's doom

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789 Fenton — It was a night that not much went right for the Fenton varsity football team.

The Tigers had times when they struggled on offense, on defense and on special teams. Yet, with 4:39 left, the Tigers found themselves beating the Davison Cardinals by a 26-23 score after a 16-yard TD run by sophomore quarterback Josh Czarnota.

But the lead didn't last long. Davison took 4:11 and 11 plays to drive 69 yards and score the game-winning touchdown on Davison quarterback Brenden McRill's three-yard touchdown run around the left side of the line, earning Davison a 29-26 victory at Fenton High School on Thursday night in what was the opening contest of the season for both squads.

"You could kind of feel what was going on. We were struggling defensively with stopping them," Fenton varsity head coach Jeff Setzke said. "We knew what they were going to do and, unfortunately, we didn't defend it well. What are you going to do? If we get a stop, we'll feel good about ourselves, but we didn't play well enough to win. It was one those games we could've won and

The Bronchos erased any visions that remained of 2014's 0-9 season by beginning 2015 with an impressive 29-7 road victory against Berkley on Thursday.

"I think it validates all the work they put in," Holly varsity head coach Ryan Culloty said.

"Especially to go out and put a thumping on a playoff team. They were a playoff team last year and picked to contend for the OAA Blue Division. This was not some also-ran school. ... It was a great way to start. I'm very happy and it gives the kids moving forward."

Holly dominated the contest from the start. Javon Barr earned a blocked punt, dislocating a finger in the process, setting up the Bronchos' first scoring chance. Minutes later, Alex Mazzone gave the Bronchos a 7-0 lead on a 10-yard TD run with 7:17 left in the See BRONCHOS on 19A

Tigers, Eagles battle to scoreless draw

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Fenton — Nicholas Melero wasn't looking for a victory when his Fenton varsity boys soccer team was playing Linden for both squads' season-opening contest. He had other goals in mind.

"Linden has always been our biggest rivals and the last three years it's always been tough playing against them because they've been the big giant," the Fenton senior said. "Now, looking at what we have as a team and looking at our strength, all we wanted to do was come out here and have fun. That's what we did. I had a blast out there, and 0-0 was the best we can get right now."

That's what happened. While the Tigers weren't able to get a victory against the back-to-back defending Metro League champions, the Tigers ended the rare Wednesday afternoon contest with a scoreless draw, suggesting maybe the Eagles' gap atop the Metro could be a little bit less than it has been the past couple of seasons.

"It's a young team," Linden senior Tyler Ziccardi said. "It's an inexperienced team, so we have some room to build and grow. Once we get it together, we'll have a good year.

"We have a senior core, but there are a lot of young pieces around it that have to learn to adapt to the varsity level and find their place. They need to find out what works and what doesn't - to test the waters right now."

The Eagles have 10 seniors on their squad and a few other younger players who saw ample time on their district championship soccer squad from last season. However, there were two serious graduation losses. They were all-state players forward Kevin Wright and midfielder Ben Thornton. Also making things tough is an injury to one of the team's top returning players, Nolan McDonald. It became apparent in Wednesday's game that what Ziccardi said may be right. Right now the Eagles are trying to figure out their roles and move forward from there.

"Our thing is we have to do is match our effort with our talent. The talent is there. The effort just wasn't there," Linden coach Kevin Fiebernitz said. "There were some good things. I will walk out of here with some thoughts of a few things I thought we did well, but we had some places we need to improve upon as well."

As can be expected from a first game of the season being played over a week before the students hit a classroom for the 2015-16 academic school year, neither team looked like a finished product on Wednesday. Both teams had their moments owning some possession and playing solid defense, but both squads struggled putting together a solid offensive attack.

"Forward-wise, I didn't think we had a tremendous amount of creativity," Fiebernitz said. "I told the guys at halftime I didn't think we were committed to going forward enough. And our center-mids were not in synch and laying back a little too much. You can't throw up balls to Julian (Shier), See DRAW on 19A

Eagles already have won 10 matches By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789 The Linden varsity volleyball team is off to a pretty strong start to the 2015 season.

The Eagles improved to 10-1-1 overall on the young season, by defeating all three teams at their annual quad event. Lake Fenton also had a solid showing, going 2-1 on Tuesday night.

Linden defeated Lake Fenton 25-11, 25-14; Swartz Creek 25-11, 25-18; and Byron 25-12, 25-5 to earn its three victories. Lake Fenton also defeated Bryon and edged out Swartz Creek 25-21, 12-25, 25-21 in a thrilling three-set match during the night.

Linden was coming off just beting Powers, Clio and Saginaw Nouvel in a quad a night earlier, and kept up its hot ways.

Bridget Adams led the team with 19 kills, while Breyanna Turnipseed had 11 kills. Allison Conly chipped in eight kills. Defensively, Emily Pearce had 12 digs. She also had four aces.

Lake Fenton's offense was led by Rhiley Cole and Autumn Beardsley, who had eight kills each. Reagan Goupil had seven kills. Allison Petts set the offense with 19 assists. Allison vonDaggenhausen had six aces.

"It was a good start for us," Lake Fenton varsity volleyball coach Angie Del-Morone said.

also managed 98 yards on 15 carries. In reality, the Davison ground game was never stopped.

Offensively, the Tigers experienced up-and-down success. Sophomore quarterback Czarnota completed 9-of-14 passes for 116 yards, but also threw two interceptions. Czarnota had better success running with the ball, collecting 83 yards and two TDs on 10 carries. Also having a big day running the ball was junior running back Dylan Crankshaw who had 122 yards, including 23 yards on a TD run.

Davison opened the contest impressively, converting a third-and 10 and a third-and-7 on its opening drive. The third-down conversions eventually resulted in a quick pass to the middle of the field to Tyler North for a 43-yard TD reception with 8:00 left in the opening quarter. Davison led 7-0.

Fenton had a dropped pass, a screen pass go for negative yards and a pitch play go for a moderate gain before the Davison's offense answered right back, driving 41 yards and eventually scoring on a 38-yard field goal by Graham Hungerford, putting Davison up 10-0 with 53.2 seconds left in the opening quarter.

The Tigers had one of their best drives of the game on their next possession. Starting from their own 5, the Tigers drove 95 yards in 11 plays, eventually scoring on a 23-yard run by Crankshaw. The extra-point was blocked and the Tigers trailed 10-6 with 9:17 left in the half.

An interception by Aaron Boulay helped set up the Tigers' first lead of the 2015 season. Just two plays after the pick, Czarnota hit a wide open Kevin Lack downfield for a 70 yard TD reception. Fenton missed the two-point run, but still enjoyed a 12-10 lead with 6:11 remaining in the half. The lead held entering the break.

It seemed the Tigers were gradually seizing control of the game when Kobe Lookebill tackled Davison's punter after a bad snap. Fenton began its next possession on Davison's 7 and scored when Czarnota ran left and scored from five yards out. Chris York made the extra-point, and Fenton led 19-10 with 6:02 left in the third quarter. However, Davison used runs of 16 and 41 yards by McRill on its next possession and eventually scored on McRill's four-yard TD scamper. The Fenton lead was just 19-17 with 4:11 left in the third quarter. Czarnota's second intercepted pass, both being picked off by Cam Tomczak, became one of the pivotal plays of the game. Tomczak returned the pick to the Fenton 5. Just a play later, McRill scored on a five-yard scamper. The Cardinals led 23-19 with 8:44 left in regulation.

However, Fenton answered right back, going 74 yards in eight plays, for the go-ahead score with 4:39 left. It came on a 16-yard run to the left side of the line on a fourth-and-1 play. Fenton regained the lead 26-23 with 4:39 left. "Maybe we scored too early," joked

He may have been right. Led by 40 McRill yards on six carries, Davison ended up going 61 yards on 11 plays, taking the lead on the quarterback's third TD of the game. This one being two yards out. Fenton was unable to advance the ball in its last possession during the final 28.7 seconds.

"It's game one," Setzke said. "It's very clear we have a very inexperienced football team and I would expect we will get much growth from this game tonight. ... We have to put it behind us and I think we did some good things today. We're young, but we are going to get there. We'll coach them up. We'll learn from this and move on. At the end of the day it's best to be playing your best at the end of the year, and we clearly have a lot of room for growth and improvement. We'll keep working at it."

The Tigers return to action when they have a lengthy road trip to Temperance-Bedford on Friday for a 7 p.m. kick-off. The school is just a few miles north of the Ohio state border.

"For us we now have to go on the road and play an excellent team," Setzke said. "We'll have to go (close) to Toledo to win that game. We really have to regroup. That's all we can do."

senior, carded a 45-47-92. The Tigers were the only team to post five scores at 100 or better, with sophomore Margaret Berry posting that score.

"After the Powers tournament, I knew Flushing was about 10 strokes less than us, but I knew we didn't play that well," Herbstreit said. "I knew we had a deeper team and we really showed that today. Especially our No. 1 and No. 2 did well. They stayed close to their No. 1 and No. 2. I knew we could win with our No. 3 and No. 4 score. I told them we have five girls and if four shoot well we could possibly do some things this season."

Flushing's Kerrigan Parks was the medalist with a 78, but the Raiders also had to use a 108 score as their fourth golfer, resulting in Flushing taking second.

The Linden Eagles were the only other team to have four girls score sub-100 rounds, placing fourth with a 380. Senior Makena Baldwin led the Eagles with a 44-43-87, earning third place individually. The other Linden scorers were Payton Leedle with a 50-47-97, Sydney Bond with a 49-49-98 and Ashlyn Robinson with a 48-50-98.

"All four scorers used were under 100," Linden coach Jon Hamilton said. "All four were also the low tournament rounds for each player in their 2015 high school seasons."

Holly competed, but had just one golfer finish with a score below triple-digits, finishing with a team score of 424, just one stroke out of seventh. That player was senior Jenna Pepper who finished with a 49-47-96. The other Holly scorers were Chelse Bowles with a 102, Madison Brack with a 112 and Megan McReynolds and Hanna Garza with a 114 each.

Holly always led from that point. A 22-yard field goal by Lorenzo Rodriguez with 2:52 left in the first half, raised Holly's lead to 10-0, but Berkley cut the gap to 10-7 with 47 seconds left before halftime with a short TD pass. Berkley's celebration didn't last long. A 65-yard kickoff return by Kyle Staple gave the Bronchos possession at the Berkley 10 with 30 seconds left in the half. Junior quarterback Garrett Stapleton capped the drive with a TD reception to Jake Ortiz, raising the lead back to 17-7 at halftime.

In the second half, it was all Holly. Adam Tooley had a seven-yard TD run with 9:23 left in the third quarter, and Tooley scored on a TD reception from Stapleton, capping the scoring.

Stapleton completed 4-of-6 passes for 42 yards. Tooley ran for 63 yards, while Paris Partee had 33. Holly ran for 159 yards. Defensively, Cristian Diaz had nine tackles.

"The defense played phenomenal tonight," Culloty said. "With the exception of one long run, they were completely shut down.

"It was great to see the offense clicking — that was the big thing. We wanted to make sure we got off to a great start."

DeWitt 38,

Linden 14

The Linden Eagles trailed just 21-14 at the half, but ended up being the victim of some interceptions in the second half, resulting in the Eagles' loss.

DeWitt took a 14-0 lead in the first quarter, but the Eagles cut the gap in half when Aaron Sarkon tossed a fiveyard TD pass to Ryker Rivera. DeWitt responded with a 22-yard TD pass, but Sarkon responded with his second TD pass of the second quarter, completing a 14-yard reception to Nolan Hill. Linden trailed by just seven at the break.

The Panthers distanced themselves in the third quarter with two touchdowns and a field goal.

In many statistical categories, the Eagles were competitive with DeWitt. The Panthers enjoyed a nice 391-264 total yard advantage, but Linden converted 6-of-12 of its third-down and fourthdown attempts. However, the turnovers were critical with Linden suffering five of them versus the Panthers' one.

Sarkon completed 23 of 36 passes for 223 yards. Bailey Davis caught 12 of those passes for 73 yards. Hill had three catches for 54 yards.

Defensively, Jacob Cox recovered a fumble while Young and Davis each batted down a pass.

"Even though the stats show Sarkon with four interceptions, he didn't really play as bad as that sounds," Linden cohead varsity football coach Nick Douglass said. "Our defense played great at times tonight. We just have to get better every day and learn from what we didn't do correctly tonight. We will get there."

The Eagles had troubles getting the running game going, as Ryan Young mustered just 26 yards on eight carries. Sarkon had 30 on seven attempts.

"We played hard and did well considering we started so many young faces," Linden co-head coach Nick Douglass said. "Our kids will be back this coming week, looking to improve in all areas. We will now turn our focus on Fowlerville for our home opener."

"Defensively, I thought our outside backs (Dante Minatel and Brendan Garvey), who didn't start in those spots last year but got some minutes there, did a good job. I thought some of the young kids who came in are going to start pushing these older guys a little bit, which is what you need. You need a little competition."

But considering Wednesday was just their first game and the contest had no bearing on the Metro race, Fiebernitz was glad to find some concerns now instead of playing an easier opponent who may not have opened up those weaknesses. And now, the

The Tigers defeated Davison 25-21, 22-25, 15-5, but lost to Brighton in three sets and to Clarkson in two sets.

Cassidy Curtis had 16 kills, 15 digs and 45 service receptions. Jessica Warford provided 21 kills.

Eagles can grow as a team as they prepare to defend their league crown.

"It's good to see where you stand against them," Ziccardi said about playing Fenton. "Overall it wasn't a terrible. It still feels like a loss beuase we want to beat them, but it wasn't a bad showing."

The Tigers are working on growing closer as a team. And being closer should equate to players competing harder for each other. Some of that was evident on Wednesday.

"It's never about winning," Melero said. "It's about having love for each and everyone out here. We are all brothers out there. We all play for each other. Each year I've grown a stronger bond with each and every one of these players and especially with coach (Matt) Sullivan. I love everyone out here. I love the program. I couldn't imagine being part of something better than our program."

Flint man charged with setting wife's car on fire

Fenton police also seeking OWI third-offense on estranged husband

By Sharon Stone

sstone@tctimes.com; 810-433-6786 Norman Guy, 45, of Flint has been charged with fourthdegree arson stemming from a car fire in Fenton. Lt. Jason Slater of the Fenton Police Department said the police and fire departments responded to a car fire in the 200 block of First Street at 3:17 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 26. While firefighters extinguished the 2003 convertible Ford

Mustang, which was fully engulfed in flames, police spoke with the owner, a 49-year-old Fenton woman. She provided a name of a possible suspect, Guy, her estranged husband.

Police canvassed the area and pulled over a Ford Tempo, which was registered to the woman and spoke with the driver, identified as Guy. Police detected a strong odor of intoxicants and suspected he had been drinking. After registering .19 percent blood alcohol content on the Breathalyzer, he was arrested for operating a vehicle while intoxicated.

During a search of the Ford Tempo, police recovered a one-gallon can of gasoline and a lighter.

Guy was transported to the police station for processing. During a computer check on Guy, police learned that this was his third OWI, which classifies it now as a felony. Fenton police will be seeking an OWI third-offense charge from the county prosecutor.

On Aug. 27, Guy was arraigned in district court on one count of fourth-degree arson, a five-year felony. As of Friday morning, he remains at the Genesee County Jail in lieu of posting the $10,000

Wright mentioned that if students are struggling, there is time at the end of each session for them to catch up.

The one-week breaks would serve as a recharging period for students and teachers, and allow students to participate in advanced, remedial, and enrichment classes, according to ericdigests.org.

THE CONTROVERSY

There are 3,181 year-round schools in the United States. About 10 percent of public school students go to school year round, according to ink.niche.com.

The controversy over year-round school focuses on how much knowledge students lose over summer, efficient use of school space, and how the schedule could interfere with other non-year-round districts, according to the National Education Association.

Proponents of year-round schools claim that students lose too much knowledge over the long summer.

There have also been reports proving that teachers and students are less likely to burn out with a year-round system, according to ericdigests.org.

The dropout rate of students is lower in year-round schools, according to ink. niche.com.

Critics of year-round education claim it will harm scheduling with other districts not on the same calendar, as well as administration concerns and efficient use of the buildings.

Most research on balanced school years has been inconclusive, according to the National Education Association.

YEAR-ROUND CALENDARS

There are multiple year-round calendars for a balanced school year. The most popular is the 45-15 plan, where students go to school for 45 days and then get 15 days off. Other plans are the 60-20, where students attend school for 60 days and then get 20 days off, and the 90-30 plan, where students attend school for 90 days and then get 30 days off.

With each plan, students are in school for 180 days.

Organ grinder men with their little monkeys dressed up in velvet suits often visited Fenton's streets, with the monkey tipping his hat when anyone dropped a penny in his tin cup. It was reported that a dancing bear once performed on LeRoy Street in January 1879.

Other notable visitors brought to Fenton via the railroad included General Tom Thumb and his company, who performed at the downtown Colwell Opera House in December 1886.

Schuyler Colfax, vice president of the United States during President Ulysses S. Grant's term, once visited Fenton, as did Susan B. Anthony, early feminist and women's right activist.

The railroad also brought actress Lillian Langtry to Fenton, as well as Mrs. Jarley's Wax Figures in 1903, Pawnee Bill's Wild West Show in 1905, and the Boston Bloomer Girls baseball team to play the Fenton Nine in 1902.

"Florida on Wheels" came to Fenton by way of a train car, filled with wild wonders that included chained alligators and other creatures that could be viewed for a mere 10 cents.

The depot burned in 1923 and was rebuilt on the same site. The Grand Trunk Railroad closed the station to passenger trains in the 1960s. The city of Fenton owns the building. Starting in the late 1990s, it was used for the Fenton Regional Chamber of Commerce offices. It is now used as offices for Southern Lakes Parks & Recreation.

HOLLY TRAIN DEPOT

According to the Holly Historical Society, Ira C. Alger was the first settler to live within what became the corporate limits of the village. In 1836, Alger built a log cabin in the area where Stiff's Mill Pond and Broad Street are today. By 1843, he dammed the Shiawassee River and constructed a sawmill, and a year later, a gristmill. This became the first business district.

The Detroit Grand Haven and Milwaukee Railroad came through Holly in 1855 followed by the Pierre Marquette in 1862, making Holly one of the first Michigan communities with a junction.

These rails brought white pine from the forests of northern Michigan to the eastern United States. The end of the Civil War marked the incorporation of Holly Village. By then, the business district had moved to the Saginaw and Broad Street blocks, with several hotels, stores, banks, foundries, a coal yard, lumberyard and the train depot.

Joining these two busy streets was Martha Street, named after Alger's daughter. In 1885, it became known as Battle Alley when an altercation between local men and a traveling circus turned into a brawl.

In 1908, national temperance leader Carry Nation stopped here to speak on the prohibition of alcohol and the event was marked by a festival every September for many years the weekend after Labor Day.

The Holly Depot was partially renovated in 2008, thanks in part to a $5,000 grant from the Charles Stewart Harding Mott II of Greater Flint Foundation. It remains vacant today.

LINDEN

David Kincaid, president of the Linden Mills Historical Society, said he believes the railroad came to Linden in 1857.

"The depot was located on Railroad Street, which is now West Rolston," he said. "It was on the south side of the tracks. The depot was sold to Ralph Kimble with the understanding that it would be moved. Since it was not moved as quickly as expected, it was destroyed in the mid 1960s."

DURAND UNION STATION

The village of Durand was built up around the railroads in the late 1870s. Durand Union Station was originally built in 1903. Eighteen months thereafter, it was almost completely destroyed by fire and was rebuilt in 1905.

This was a very busy station as the Grand Trunk Western and Ann Arbor railroads crossed at grade there. During the early 1900s when the railroad industry was at its peak, 42 passenger trains, 22 mail trains, and 78 freight trains passed through Durand daily. Durand Union Station handled approximately 3,000 passengers per day, making it a prospering hub of the industry.

The decline of rail traffic started at the end of WWI and culminated in 1974 when Grand Trunk determined it could no longer justify the cost of maintaining the station and it was abandoned. The old depot's destruction appeared imminent, but the community rallied to save it and in 1979 the city purchased it for $1. Since then, it has become the State Railroad History Museum.

The Durand Depot once contained a formal dining room as well as a snack counter complete with swivel stools and a rack of comic books selling for a nickel each. You could also buy a daily paper from a nearby newsboy. A large postal box collected the mail, which was sent by rail to its destination.

Passengers still walk the corridors of the depot to board their train. The Amtrak Blue Water eastbound to Port Huron and westbound to Chicago make daily stops at the Durand Union Station. Thirty or more freight trains pass the station daily.

The depot is also the State Railroad History Museum, an educational and entertaining source of Michigan's rich railroad history.

Sources: Times 'Fenton Remembers When' special section, hsmichigan.org and durandsta-tion.org

The 110-year-old Durand Union Station still accommodates daily train commuters. The building also is used by the public for a variety of special events. Due to its unusual structure, it is one of the most photographed train depots in the United States. The depot is also the home of the Michigan Railroad History Museum.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | SCOTT SCHUPBACH

Fenton's Peyton Coffman (right) tackles a Davison player during the Tigers' seasonopening 29-26 loss to the Cardinals on Thursday. Prep football season began last weekend, while all of the Division 1 college football teams in the state begin this week.

Are you ready for some football?

What to expect from our high school and college football teams this season

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789 Welcome to Fenton — the land of the four-time defending Metro League football champion Fenton Tigers.

And the Tigers are expected to be Metro's elite football squad for another season if the media day poll placing them first is any indication.

Indeed, late August means football in the tri-county area. For some it means the start of prep football. For others it means cheering on their favorite college teams. But regardless who one is rooting for, chances are everyone is pretty excited about their squad's chances of having a positive season. That comment holds true for all four tri-county area prep football squads.

It feels like decades ago, but just as recent as 2007, the Fenton Tigers finished a football season with a 2-7 record, their seventh straight losing season in a row. However, since that point, varsity head coach Jeff Setzke and his coaching staff has made the Tigers the Metro's strongest program, making the playoffs seven straight years. There are some key players to replace this season, but expectations remain high due to the program's success at the younger levels over the last handful of years. It appears the Tigers only reload now.

Fenton fans got their first chance to see the 2015 Tigers on Thursday in a tough 29-26 loss against Davison. This Friday the Tigers travel to Temperance-Bedford before returning home for the annual Wounded Warrior game against Swartz Creek on Sept. 11.

When it comes to consistency, no tricounty football team can match the success of the Linden Eagles, which opened their season with a 38-14 road loss against state-powers DeWitt on Thursday. The Eagles have made the state playoffs every season starting with 2002. The Eagles are a small, but fast squad. The first time area fans will get to see them at home will be Thursday against Fowlerville. That contest is followed by a home game against Holly on Sept. 11.

Not many squads that finished the previous season at 2-7 begin the next year with a lot of hype, but the Lake Fenton Blue Devils may be the exception to that rule. Lake Fenton was a young squad a year ago, facing a schedule that included six teams that eventually made it into the playoffs. The schedule remains tough this year, but Lake Fenton is a year more experienced and a year stronger. The Blue Devils faced a tough Freeland team on the road Friday night, and will not be home for a while. The first home game will be Sept. 18 against Mt. Morris.

The Holly Bronchos had a tough 0-9 season a year ago, but they should be better as well. Holly also was a young team a year ago, and, like Lake Fenton, is a year stronger and more experienced. The Bronchos opened up with a 29-7 road victory against Berkley on Thursday. Holly has its first home contest Thursday against Williamston and travels to Linden on Sept. 11. All three opponents made the playoffs a year ago.

Division 1 state college teams

It seems since his arrival back to Ann Arbor, Michigan football coach Jim Harbaugh has been credited with just about everything a coach can do.

About the only thing Harbaugh hasn't done is, well, win a football game since being named the Wolverines' 20th head coach in school history early April, replacing Brady Hoke.

Harbaugh will get his first chance at a Michigan coaching victory on Thursday travelling to play a tough Utah Utes' squad. The team's first home game will be Sept. 12 against the Oregon State Beavers.

Until proven otherwise, the Michigan State Spartans remain the state's strongest D1 college football team. The 2015 Cotton Bowl winners have high goals of winning a Big Ten Championship this season. The Spartans begin their season on Friday at 7 p.m. at Western Michigan University, and open their home portion of their season against Oregon on Sept. 12.

The state's D1 directional schools — Western Michigan, Central Michigan and Eastern Michigan — also start soon. The Broncos have the best chance at capturing Mid-American Conference (MAC) glory, being selected second in the MAC West Division. Western also gets the honor of hosting Michigan State in its opener on Friday. Central Michigan and Eastern Michigan were predicted to finish on the bottom of the MAC West Division. The Chippewas host Oklahoma State on Thursday, while the Eagles begin 2015 play at Rynearson Stadium on Saturday against Old Dominion.

Apartment fire displaces six area families. Just before 4:30 p.m. on Aug. 27, several residents at the Pheasant Run apartment complex in Fenton Township called 911 to report a fire at one of the buildings. The preliminary investigation revealed the fire started in a second-floor apartment. Six families were displaced due to the fire damage. The cause of the fire was later ruled accidental, most likely caused by a cigarette.
