YOUR WAY
TO A NEW
WINTER ATTITUDE

■ Cold winter months are an ideal time to spruce up your home's interior

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Your Christmas tree and holiday decorations have come down and your bare walls are beginning to look, well . . . bare.

These walls can be just the beginning of your inspiration for a winter do-it-yourself painting project that will brighten your home (and your attitude) during these long winter months.

While most people think of painting as a spring, summer or fall project, winter painting has its own advantages. Most people have more time in the winter to take on a do-it-yourself job. Even professional painters are

QUALITY PAINT VS. CHEAP PAINT

BOTTOM LINE: Buy paint that is 100-percent acrylic. Expect to pay $30 to $60 per gallon, but hopefully, buy it on sale.

117), taking advantage of the subtleties and interplays of whites and light.

“Whites and off-whites are definitely making their statement as trendy colors this year,” said Glenda Cornfoot, designer for the Sherwin-Williams store in Fenton. “White is really in, in paint, countertops and backsplashes. People like the clean, simple, uncluttered lines of white.”

SOME DESIGN IDEAS FOR ALABASTER FROM SHERWIN WILLIAMS INCLUDE:

- Use it to set the tone for healing, rest and meditation in residential or commercial spaces.
- Let the color stand by itself as a chic hue in an entryway or lobby.
- Pair with light blushes or grays and bridge transitional and traditional styles.
- Create a yin and yang harmony with contrasting dark colors, such as Urbane Bronze (SW 7048) or Gray Area (SW 7052).

Before you get your paintbrushes and rollers ready to tackle your walls and ceilings, take some advice from the pros.

“Most people don’t prep correctly,” said Lauricella. “Painting is only 25 percent of the work; the other 75 percent is prep. That means pole-sanding the walls to knock down all the grease, pet marks, kids’ residues, etc., and sanding the trim work and moldings. If you skip the sanding, you won’t be happy with the end result. Then there’s dry wall repair.”

He uses the Duration brand of Sherwin Williams paint for all his projects. “It’s the best for homeowners because it’s so ‘forgiving’ with great coverage, and they stand behind it. You’ll save time and money with quality paint.”

Constable says that not buying quality paint and tools is the biggest mistake do-it-yourselfers make. “They tend to buy cheap everything. Buy the more expensive brush and roller cover, because you will definitely get what you pay for.”

He says that the best paint in the market is Home Depot’s Behr Paint with Primer. “If you don’t use good paint, it’s going to take extra labor to cover the area.”

If you’re not a person who enjoys all the detail work of prepping, or you’re not comfortable with the actual painting process, you may want to consider calling a professional painter.

“That’s one of the biggest mistakes people make, not calling a professional,” said Lauricella. “It’s just as important of a skilled trade as an electrician or plumber. It’s that important to get it done right.”

less busy, because they can only do interior work this time of year. “You’ll get the best bang for your buck for discounts by hiring a painter in December, January or February,” said Scott Constable of Scott’s Painting in Fenton.

Today’s new low- or zero-VOC (volatile organic compounds) paints don’t require ventilation like paints used to, so keeping windows open while painting is not as important as it used to be. Plus, paint will dry faster in cooler weather without the humidity of summer’s air.

“If you’re using oil-based paint, which is only about 1 percent of my business, then ventilation is important,” said Todd Lauricello, a local professional painter with more than 20 years of experience. “But with today’s latex paint, homeowners don’t really have to worry about this.”

While grays continue their run as popular neutral colors, whites with their many layers and complexities are the “new neutral” for 2016. The 2016 Color of the Year for Sherwin Williams Paints is Alabaster (SW7008). For Benjamin Moore Paints, it’s Simply White (OC-

New signs point to Fenton's Open Book

■ Staff Christmas gift brought tears to the eyes of owner Karen Piacentini

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

People have been telling Karen Piacentini for years that they can't find her bookstore, Fenton's Open Book, in downtown Fenton.

The old historic building that houses the bookstore didn't leave much room for signage and the store sometimes got lost in the middle of the Dibbleville block it occupies.

Longtime employee Debbie Bommarito took those comments to heart, and spearheaded a secret plan to get Piacentini a new sign for the store for Christmas. She rallied the other employees around the idea and also asked Piacentini's three adult children if they'd be interested in donating. Of course, they all said yes.

At a holiday dinner last Sunday, the employees presented Piacentini with a card and picture of the new sign as a surprise gift.

The sign was installed Wednesday by Sign-A-Rama in Flint. A second sign welcomes visitors to the back entrance of the store off

JANUARY 10

2000: In one of the biggest media mergers in history, America Online Inc. announces plans to acquire Time Warner Inc. for some $182 billion in stock and debt. The result was a $350 billion mega-corporation, AOL Time Warner, which held dominant positions in every type of media, including music, publishing, news, entertainment, cable and the Internet.

JANUARY 11

1908: U.S. President Theodore Roosevelt declares the massive Grand Canyon in northwestern Arizona a national monument. Though Native Americans lived in the area as early as the 13th century, because of its remote location, several centuries passed before North American settlers really explored the canyon.

JANUARY 12

2010: A magnitude 7.0 earthquake devastated the Caribbean island nation of Haiti. The quake, which was the strongest to strike the region in more than 200 years, left over 200,000 people dead and some 895,000 Haitians homeless. The earthquake hit southern Haiti at 4:53 p.m. local time.

JANUARY 13

1962: Ernie Kovacs, a comedian who hosted his own television shows during the 1950s and is said to have influenced such TV hosts as Johnny Carson and David Letterman, dies at the age of 42 after crashing his Chevrolet Corvair into a telephone pole in Los Angeles, California, while driving in a rainstorm. Kovacs, who often appeared on camera with his trademark cigar, was found by police with an unlit cigar, leading to speculation that he had been reaching for the cigar and lost control of his vehicle.

JANUARY 14

1943: Franklin Roosevelt becomes the first president to travel on official business by airplane. Crossing the Atlantic by air, Roosevelt flew in a Boeing 314 Flying Boat dubbed the Dixie Clipper to a World War II strategy meeting with Winston Churchill at Casablanca in North Africa. Roosevelt, at a frail 60 years old, gamely made the arduous 17,000-mile round trip.

JANUARY 15

1967: At the Los Angeles Coliseum, the Green Bay Packers beat the Kansas City Chiefs in the first-ever world championship game of American football. In the mid-1960s, the intense competition for players and fans between the National Football League (NFL) and the upstart American Football League (AFL) led to talks of a possible merger. It was decided that the winners of each league's championship would meet each year in a single game to determine the "world champion of football."

JANUARY 16

1919: The 18th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, prohibiting the "manufacture, sale, or transportation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes," is ratified on this day in 1919 and becomes the law of the land. The movement for the prohibition of alcohol began in the early 19th century, when Americans concerned about the adverse effects of drinking began forming temperance societies. By the late 19th century, these groups had become a powerful political force, campaigning on the state level and calling for total national abstinence.

Fenton's first-ever Restaurant Week is set for Sunday, Jan. 17 through Saturday, Jan. 23, showcasing local restaurants and what they have to offer. The event was initiated by Mark Hamel, co-owner of The Laundry and Crust in Fenton.

Restaurant Week kicks off Sunday, Jan. 17

■ First-ever event showcases 17 restaurants for people to try during slow winter months

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Fenton has grown into a "foodie" destination, now with more restaurants and dining opportunities than ever before.

Local residents will have a chance to try many different local eateries during Fenton's first-ever Restaurant Week, running Sunday, Jan. 17 through Saturday, Jan. 23.

"It's a celebration of dining out," said Mark Hamel, co-owner of The Laundry and Crust in Fenton. He initiated the event community-wide after running his own Restaurant Week successfully at The Laundry last year. "I've been waiting 19 years to do this in Fenton," he said. "I feel like we finally have enough restaurants to do this here."

The Fenton Regional Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the event.

Seventeen local restaurants are participating, each offering a special or discount to draw diners in during the slowest "eating out" month of the year.

The goal of Restaurant Week is to invite the community to come out during this slow "after the holidays" month of January, instead of staying home during the dark, cold, winter months.

Sandy Zdenek, owner of Johnny's Pizzeria in Fenton, is excited about the possibilities. "I think it's a good idea," she said. "The timing is really good to encourage people to get out and try something new."

Hamel says one of the goals is try to get people to expand their horizons when it comes to dining out. "Look around and try something new that's in your own community," said Hamel. "Try new places you haven't been to before."

Restaurant Week is being promoted in today's Tri-County Times on page 20A and on tctimes.com. Restaurant offerings are also available on the Fenton Regional Chamber of Commerce website, fentonchamber.com.

"I'm hopeful it helps during this slow time of year for restaurants," said Zdenek.

TURKEY CHILI MINI TACO BOWLS

- INGREDIENTS:
- FOR THE TURKEY CHILI
- Oil for cooking
  - 1 onion, peeled and chopped
  - 2 cloves garlic, finely chopped or crushed
  - 1 carrot, peeled and fairly finely diced
  - 1 red and 1 yellow pepper, chopped
  - 14 oz. ground turkey
  - 1 t. each of: hot chili powder, paprika, ground cumin
  - 1 bunch fresh coriander, chopped
  - 1 T. balsamic vinegar
  - 2 14 oz. cans chopped tomatoes
  - 3 T. tomato puree
  - 14 oz. can beans (butter beans, chickpeas or chili beans are all fine)
- FOR THE TORTILLA BOWLS
- Soft tortillas (10"), cut into quarters
- TOPPINGS
- grated cheese, guacamole, sour cream (or Greek yoghurt), chopped tomatoes or a simple tomato salsa, limes for squeezing

- PREPARATION:
1. Pre-heat the oven to 350F. Heat up a good drizzle or two of oil in a heavy based oven-proof casserole pan, then fry the onions for a few minutes until softened. Add the garlic, carrot and pepper and cook for about seven minutes, stirring regularly.
  2. Add the ground turkey and cook and stir until browned. Then add the chili powder, paprika, ground cumin and most of the coriander and cook for about another 10 minutes, stirring often.
  3. Add the balsamic vinegar, tomatoes, tomato puree and beans, then put the casserole dish in the oven for about two hours. Add a splash or two of water after an hour if you think it needs it.
  4. Meanwhile, prepare the tortilla bowls. Press the tortilla quarters into a muffin tin, then bake until lightly browned and crispy (about ten minutes).
  5. When the chili is ready, spoon it into your homemade tortilla bowls and top generously with the toppings and reserved coriander. Serve immediately.
