Many world famous ROCK 'N' ROLL bands played at MT. HOLLY

Weekly, summertime dances featured superstar entertainers — before they were household names

What does a young girl from Holly have to do with some of the biggest names in rock and roll history?

A lot when you consider that she, her siblings and friends hung out with them from the mid-1960s to 1970, when a host of bands made their way to the Mt. Holly Ski Resort to perform to crowds of between 350 and 1,000 teenagers every Wednesday, Friday and Saturday night.

WTAC, an AM radio station at the time in Grand Blanc had a program director named Bob Dell,

SUMMARY

■ From the mid-1960s to 1970, Mt. Holly carved its way into Detroit area rock and roll history, after a Grand Blanc radio station decided it was the perfect venue for start-up bands gaining in popularity. Being only 10 minutes south of Flint, a half hour northeast of Ann Arbor and only about 50 minutes north of Detroit, it was accessible to over a quarter-million emerging Baby Boomers in Southeast Michigan, who flocked to Mt. Holly for Wednesday, Friday and Saturday night evenings of dancing and rock and roll.

THINGS YOU DIDN'T KNOW ABOUT...

The following are some "fun facts" about the rockers with Michigan ties, who performed during the mid-1960s at Mt. Holly.

Sources: Clashmusic.com, Asx.com; Cbslocal.com; wideopenspaces.com

Chuck Berry

Sources: www.fansshare.com
www.chuckberry.com

- Between 1948 and 1955, while beginning his career as a musician, Chuck Berry worked as a janitor at the Fisher Body auto assembly plant, trained to be a hairdresser at the Poro School, freelanced as a photographer, and assisted his father as a carpenter.

- Berry once opened a restaurant called The Southern Air in Missouri. According to a former waitress, Berry wired the women's toilets with a video camera and recorded approximately 200 unsuspecting patrons using it. Charges were dropped when Berry agreed to compensate financially the victims of his "potty cam."

- Berry's famous "duck walk" dance originated in 1956, when he attempted to hide wrinkles in his rayon suit by shaking them out with his now-signature body movements.

Bob Seger

- Bob Seger co-wrote the Eagles' number one hit "Heartache Tonight." Glenn Frey of the Eagles had his first studio gig singing back-up on Seger's "Ramblin' Gamblin' Man."

- In April 1976, Seger and The Silver Bullet Band released the album Live Bullet, recorded over two nights in Detroit's Cobo Arena in September 1975. In June of 1976, he was a featured performer at the Pontiac Silverdome in front of nearly 80,000 fans. The next night, Seger played before fewer than a thousand people in Chicago.

- "Shakedown" off the 1987 film "Beverly Hills Cop II's" soundtrack, became Seger's first and only number one hit on the pop singles chart. The song was originally intended for Frey, but when he lost his voice just before the recording session, he called in Seger to take his place.

- In 2001 and 2002, Seger won the prestigious Port Huron to Mackinac Boat Race aboard his 52-foot sailboat "Lightning."

Alice Cooper

- When people see Alice Cooper play in concert, they can expect to see electric chairs, demonic baby dolls, decapitations, fake blood, giant snakes, and a singer who is painted up like a demon himself. Yet, Alice Cooper was raised in a religious family. His father was actually a preacher for the Church of Jesus Christ, a branch of the Latter Day Saints Mormon religion. Cooper himself was active in his church as a child.

- The fact that Alice Cooper was the original shock rock icon was really just an accident when it originally started. The incident that started it all happened at the Toronto Peace Festival, a concert that also included John Lennon and The Doors. During the show, someone in the audience threw a live chicken on the stage. Cooper thought the chicken could fly and tossed it into the air. It landed in the crowd and died, blood spraying everywhere. The incident spread like wildfire, with everyone embellishing what happened, and a legend was born.

- While most rock stars are not that interesting in athletic competition of any kind, Cooper happens to be a fantastic golfer. He actually wrote a book called "Golf Monster: My 12 Steps to Becoming a Golf Addict." Cooper has a handicap of seven and started golfing to help battle his alcoholism.

Ted Nugent

- Whether you know him as "The Nuge" or "Uncle Ted," this man is a well-known subject not only in the music scene, but in the outdoor industry as well.

- Besides his music, people know him for his conservative political views and his support of the NRA.

- You may know he hunts, but did you know Ted Nugent owns a game ranch in Texas? Nugent also hosts hunting trips for sick and terminally ill children.

- Before he became famous Nugent grew up in a strict environment created by his Army sergeant father. He is today the father of three daughters and two sons.

- Nugent once participated in a jam session tribute to Martin Luther King, Jr. with Jimi Hendrix.

ADVANCED PHYSICAL THERAPY CENTER IN GRAND BLANC OFFERS CONCUSSION TESTING

With concussions now a big topic on the news and among parents, schools and athletes, Advanced Physical Therapy Center has begun to offer balance baseline testing and a cognitive assessment for concussions at its Grand Blanc office. "The test only takes minutes and the cost is minimal," said Karen Strader of APTC. "It helps take the guesswork out of tough return-to-play decisions for parents and coaches, and helps physicians know where the patients are in the recovery process." The Grand Blanc office is located at 10809 South Saginaw St., telephone (810) 695-8700. APTC also has locations in Hartland, Flint, Davison, Goodrich, Clio and Clarkston.

Holly man named local Mason of the Year

Eric M. Crawford, Worshipful Master of Holly Lodge No. 134, was recently named 2016 District 16 Mason of the Year.

Crawford was selected from amongst candidates of District 16 Lodges — Linden, Fenton, Grand Blanc, Goodrich, Holly, Ortonville, Clarkston, Oxford and Lake Orion.

A native of White Lake and veteran of Operation Desert Storm in the U.S. Army Reserves and National Guard, Crawford joined the Masonic orders in Kansas while serving as a police officer and explosive K9 handler. He returned to Holly in 2009. "I'm truly humbled," said Crawford. "Holly Lodge has given me many opportunities for leadership and to be involved in the community, and I'm looking forward to what the future will bring."

As a District Mason of the Year, Crawford is eligible for selection as the State Mason of the Year, which is presented at the annual meeting in May.

Fond memories of Mt. Holly dance days

Some people remember the fun times they had at the Mt. Holly dances.

Jim Murray of Fenton is one of them. "I'm not sure what year they started, but I went to them as early as 1964," he said. "They had top name featured bands there. It was great, they really packed them in."

"I remember a group called The Kingsmen," he added. "I still have their album somewhere."

Jim Sitko said he enjoyed going to the Mt. Holly dances on Friday and Saturday nights.

"I was a GMI (now Kettering) student between 1964 and 1968 so it was reasonably close," he said. "It was a great venue for getting together and meeting people."

Mark Tibbitts, general manager for Mt. Holly for many years said he was too young to have gone to the dances, but said he has been privy over the years to stories, and said the room in which these dances took place is still intact.

"I've had multi-year class reunions out here for Lake Fenton and almost always take people on a tour of the old dance room," said Tibbitts. "I secretly call it the Bob Seger room."

Tibbitts said through the network of Michigan entertainers performing at Mt. Holly, Dick Wagner of The Frost, wrote

Jane and Jim Sitko have been married for 48 years. Here they pose with their first grandchild, Lillian. Jim spent some of his college years at Mt. Holly.

several songs for Alice Cooper, the most notable of which is "Only Women Bleed."

"I met Dick at his book signing a year and a half ago at then-Raymo's and he told me that," said Tibbitts. "Dick has since passed away."

BANDS

who decided Mt. Holly might be the perfect venue for record hops. He was right because a few broadcast announcements and plugs about the venue did the trick.

Mary Jane (Hanks) Glenn, who is now 60, recalls vividly the days when her late father, John "Glenn" Hanks, opened, owned and operated the Mt. Holly Ski Resort.

"My dad had a partner named Mort Graddis," said Glenn. "They met at the lumberyards in East Detroit. My dad was a carpenter at the time."

"Mort actually owned the property (Mt. Holly) but my dad did so much work he made him a partner," she added.

The summertime band performances and dances started when Glenn was about 10 years old. "But my dad didn't let me go until I was a teenager," she said.

When she was finally old enough in her father's eyes, Glenn said she worked as a "soda jerk" at the soda fountain.

"My girlfriend and I would take turns," she said. "One of us would work at the soda fountain and the other would go out on the dance floor, and vice versa."

Glenn said, "We met a lot of people. I got to meet Chuck Berry. He came in about 10:30 at night because his plane was late. This is the first time I remember that people did not dance. The kids all sat down on the floor and listened. They were in awe, he was that great."

Glenn said Alice Cooper, Bob Seger, Ted Nugent (The Amboy Dukes), Grand Funk Railroad and many more acts made their way to the popular Dixie Highway venue — long before they went on to greater fame.

"We had some weird things go on in those days," said Glenn. "One weekend, a girl came in with a big pouch. She had a 6-foot boa constrictor in it. We went out and told the cops about it."

Sometimes Glenn would pull a few pranks of her own, like the time she donned some giant rubber ears and went about her business as though nothing was wrong. "You wouldn't believe some of the reactions I got," she said.

Glenn said the Oakland County Sheriff's deputies provided security for Mt. Holly during the dances on their own time.

"I looked at them as my guardian angels," she said.

During the times when there was no band playing, DJs would spin records. The DJs working Mt. Holly were from the WTAC station.

The dances started around 7 or 8 o'clock at night and ended at midnight, said Glenn.

In addition to her job as soda jerk, Glenn cleaned the lodge building the next day.

"One day I was sweeping the floor, looked up and there were four Oakland County Sheriff's deputies with shotguns pointing at me," she said. "I had accidentally tripped the alarm."

Glenn said the weekly dances ended for a variety of reasons — one of which was that the times and music had changed. Her father, affectionately known by many as "Father Snow," eventually sold his share of the business.

"He was one of the hardest working men I have ever known," she said.

A league OF YOUR OWN

►Tri-county area boasts hundreds of golf leagues for fun and competition

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Bernell Wood of Tyrone Township has continued her active lifestyle and social life through the game of golf.

"It's the most difficult sport I've ever played, yet the most enjoyable. Just look at me—I'm 76 and still golfing three to four times a week, when the weather's right."

As co-chair of the Chicks with Sticks Golf League at Spring Meadows Country Club and secretary of the Birdie and Bogie League at Dunham Hills Golf Club in Hartland, she takes the game seriously, while still having fun.

"A league makes you get out there to play, and helps you meet people," said Wood, a retired physical education teacher. "You play in different formats, like best ball or a scramble, and it can be competitive or just fun, depending on the league."

There are literally hundreds of golf leagues in the tri-county area, not only separate men's and women's leagues, but also couple's leagues, senior leagues and junior leagues.

Some people play for competition, while others enjoy the social aspect of playing golf with friends, enjoying an active sport. Others make deals out on the golf course, putting a relaxing spin on business while still getting work accomplished. Leagues put a lot of the "fun" in golf, with special events, prizes, trophies, end-of-season banquets, etc.

"The demand for leagues is overwhelming," said Christopher White of Fenton Farms Golf Club in Fenton Township. "I honestly think it's because people are beginning to negotiate time for themselves on their calendar—some 'me time.'"

GOLF LEAGUES

FENTON FARMS takes its leagues very seriously. "We do a whole week of League Appreciation Week in mid-season, so our league golfers know how much we appreciate them," said White. "We'll provide food all week for them. It's a way for us to say thanks."

COYOTE PRESERVE GOLF COURSE in Tyrone Township also has a lot of new leagues. "We're pretty full for the season," said Jason Raney, general manager. "We've got a waiting list for leagues," he said.

All of Coyote Preserve's leagues are in the late afternoon and early evening. "It's mostly for fun," said Raney. "It's a night away from work. Our restaurant and bar cater to our leagues, so it's a full evening after the golf game."

SPRING MEADOWS COUNTRY CLUB in Linden has several leagues in its private club setting, including Chicks with Sticks for women, an Early Bird Golf League, starting April 5, Boys of Summer, beginning in August and a Men's League. "We'll have 72 women out there in the Chicks with Sticks league, taking up the whole course," said Jeremy Hibbard, assistant golf pro.

"We'll all get together afterward to eat," added Wood.

Senior leagues are popular too, with 50 players coming out on Thursday mornings at Hartland Glen Golf Course in Hartland. Approximately 18 leagues rotate nine-hole play among the course's 36 holes each month, providing variety and a challenge for each weekly game.

More than 20 leagues dominate the course at HEATHER HIGHLANDS GOLF CLUB in Holly, according to Debbie Niemiec, manager. "We do have some openings, including room for a league on Friday. Most of our leagues play Monday through Thursday."

Summary

► Most golf leagues start up in mid-April or early May. Call your favorite local golf course to find out how to sign up.

8 ways to improve your game

Warmer weather sends scores of golfers to their favorite courses each and every day. Golf is a challenging pastime, but a few pointers can help golfers hone their short games, long games and everything in between.

■ CHOOSE THE RIGHT CLUBS.

There is more to selecting clubs than pulling any old iron out of your golf bag and whacking away. Wind, hazards and obstructions in landing areas should influence your decision of which club to use. Novice golfers may want to rely on their caddies to make club recommendations, and as they become more confident in their abilities they can start to make their own choices.

■ ANCHOR YOUR FEET.

Anchor your foot behind the ball to drive the ball further. Right-handed players will keep the right foot anchored, and lefties will do the opposite. Do not lift your foot prematurely otherwise, you can lose power and distance.

■ IDENTIFY YOUR WEAKNESSES.

As with any hobby, identifying those areas that need the most work can help you become a better golfer. Keep track of each shot you take, and then look at the results to see which areas of your game need the most work.

■ FIX YOUR ALIGNMENT.

Align your shots by assessing the target from behind the ball. Then set the clubface behind the golf ball and align it with the target before you enter your stance.

■ USE YOUR TORSO FOR POWER.

The torso is essential to a solid swing. Practice rotating from your core to control your backswing and then maintain the same spine angle and posture on the downswing.

■ USE THE WIND. Not every golf game will be played in perfect weather. A good player knows how to make adjustments for the wind depending on the shot. Use the wind to your advantage when you can, and adjust your swing when hitting into the wind.

■ BECOME A BETTER CHIPPER.

Many players put so much emphasis on their backswings and putt shots that they fail to devote any practice to chips. All shots are important for golfers trying to shed strokes off of their scores.

■ KEEP FIT. Maintaining or improving your physical strength and overall health can help your golf game. Exercise and eat right, and you will have more endurance on the links.

Personal Notices

✝ NOVENA TO ST. JUDE
May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world, now and forever. O Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, helper of the hopeless, pray for us. Say this prayer 9 times a day, by the 8th day your prayers will be answered. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised. Thanks, MT.

Give instant help to those nearest and in need. Show them how to help themselves. Afterwards, let them help others.

FUNERAL ETIQUETTE

Should I bring my children?

Viewing the body is an issue that should be approached with caution when children are present.
Some will be frightened by the sight and won't be able to understand what's happening.
On the other hand, others will feel comfortable with the process,
so you shouldn't automatically assume that you'll need to keep kids away from the viewing.

Donald Lorne Wyant

1927-2016

Donald Lorne Wyant - age 88, of Dewitt, formerly of Fenton, passed away on March 16, 2016. Services will be held 1 PM Friday, March 25, 2016
at Sharp Funeral Homes, 1000 Silver
Lake Road, Fenton.
Interment in Great Lakes National Cemetery, Holly.
Visitation will take place from 11 AM until the time of service. In lieu of flowers, those desiring may make contributions to U of M School of Music, Great Lakes Hospice Foundation, or Prestige Pines, (www.
sharpfuneralhomes.com for more information). Donald was born October 11, 1927, an only child, of Cecile and Elsa (Braendle) Wyant of Flint. Donald had a love for music and studied piano with the late Alice Thayer and violin taught by his mother. He attended High School at Flint Central and college at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.
After one year of college he enlisted in the Army for WWII. Stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky he was assigned the duty of Chaplin's assistant. After the war he
M taking classes for music and architectural renderings and graduated with a music degree. He was an accomplished musician and played many years notably with his good friend, the late Sherm Mitchell of Flint.

Don was a business man and had ventures with restaurants from 1962-1979. He was the owner of the Shorthorn (Flint) for 17 years and started other restaurants
such as Diablos,
Super Chicken,
The Texan, and Floogles. With all sold by 1979 he moved to Florida and did architectural illustrations for several companies. He and his wife, Mary missed family too much and moved back to Fenton where he continued to design, renovate, and build homes until his retirement. Don loved being at his cottage at Point Lookout on Lake Huron where he spent many young years swimming and sailing. He also had a love for designing cars and sailing yachts.
He leaves behind his loving wife of 49 years, Mary (Severn) Wyant; children,
James Wyant of Traverse City, Julia Shaw (Steven) of Williamston, Donald Wyant
Jr. of New Lothrop, Shelly Helms (Don) of Naperville, Ill., Sherry Pickering (Dave)
of Grand Ledge; and many grand and great-grand children. He was preceded in death by his parents; Cecile and Elsa (Braendle) Wyant; daughter, Debra Lanning.

Sisters crush one another by not ‘being there’

DEAR AMY:
I have three sisters. We have no brothers. We are all over 60. In 2013 and 2014, two of my brothers-in-law died and I went to their funerals, paying for airfare and motels. Last year, my husband died and two of my sisters did not come to be by my side. I wrote them each a letter explaining how I felt. I can't get past this hurt. I thought we'd always "be there" for each other. You are always telling family members to mend disputes and to move on. I can't get past the fact that they hurt me. I'm just thankful we live in different states and don't have to see each other. — Sad way you did. They are witnesses to your life's story: They are there for the birthdays and weddings and — they should be there for the losses, too. But sisters seem to have a special ability to crush and disappoint one another. You don't say how your sisters have replied to your letter — or if they have replied. It is hard to imagine any excuse or explanation that could possibly be adequate. Their behavior reflects very badly on them, just as your behavior during their time of loss reflects very well upon you. You should not have to beg them for connection, and unfortunately you may have to find a way to move forward and deal with this loss — on top of your other loss. It has been my experience that these monumental losses often bring about a splintering of family connections, instead of a coming together. I hope you are attending a grief group. Communicating with other grieving people, you will learn that sometimes, unfortunately, death brings out the very worst in people. If they don't know what to do, they do nothing, and there is nothing worse than doing nothing when someone else is hurting.

DEAR SAD:
I'm so sorry this has happened. You did the right thing to contact your sisters to let them know how their behavior affected you. This feeling of disappointment compounds your loss and sadness. It's a true fact that your siblings have a lot of power; they have known you your whole life — they are the only people who knew your parents the

Barriers to getting shingles vaccine

DEAR DR. ROACH:
I am 61 years old, and was anxious to get a shingles vaccine shot. I was upset to learn that, because I am allergic to neomycin, an ingredient in the vaccine, I cannot get vaccinated. I have talked to my doctor and a pharmacist about options, but they don't know of any. Do you know of anything I could use to protect myself against shingles? — B.G.P.

regular exercise, good sleep) may help. However, the most important thing for you and others who haven't been vaccinated will be to recognize shingles early and get treated immediately. Being treated early, preferably within 24 hours of the rash, can reduce the duration of symptoms. Shingles usually starts with pain, burning or itching on one side of the body in a particular location, called a dermatome. This might be a band around the torso, the top of the arm or part of the face. The classic description of the rash is a clear, fluid-filled blister on reddened skin ("dewdrop on a rose petal"), but it does not always look so classic. See your doctor immediately after any painful rash shows up in a single area of the body.

Tina Fey (TV's Saturday Night Live, 30 Rock) and Amy Poehler (TV's Saturday Night Live, Parks and Recreation) reunite in Sisters, the story of two disconnected sisters summoned home to clean out their childhood bedroom before their parents sell the family house. Looking to recapture their glory days, they throw one final high-school-style party for their classmates, which turns into the cathartic rager that a bunch of ground-down adults really need. Critics say Sisters is "hilarious, heartfelt, & downright dysfunctional."

This adaptation of Michael Lewis' nonfiction book The Big Short explores the 2008 financial crisis through the lens of four unorthodox moneymen, who foresaw the consequences of the fraudulent mortgage-lending practices of large banks on Wall Street. Christian Bale plays Michael Burry, a former hedge-fund manager who was one of the first to forecast the collapse of the credit bubble due to excessive subprime lending. Steve Carell is Mark Baum, a money manager who rose to fame.

- 6 eggs (beaten)
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon almond extract
- 3 cups flour
- ½ teaspoon baking powder

DIRECTIONS:

1. Mix together sour cream and baking soda and let it ferment. (As this is fermenting, prepare the butter mixture and flour mixture).
2. Cream together butter and sugar with mixer.
3. In a separate bowl, beat eggs, then add in vanilla and almond extract. Add to butter and sugar mixture.
4. In another bowl, sift flour and add baking soda.
5. Alternate adding the sour cream mixture and flour mixture to the butter mixture.
6. Mix with mixer until smooth.
7. Pour batter into greased and floured angel food cake pan.
8. Bake at 325° for 1 hour and 15-30 minutes. (75-90 minutes). Don't open the oven door until after it's baked for 60 minutes. (Baking times may vary.)

Happy 86th Birthday, Mom!
We Love You!

Thank you for the many years of making this delicious cake for your family and friends. We are proud to share it with others so that they, too, may create and enjoy with their own families what we cherish most — the many wonderful memories and great stories you made possible.

Remembering Dad's birthday on this day also.

SUNDAY SCRAMBLER

Unscramble the letters within each rectangle to form four ordinary words. Then rearrange the boxed letters to form the mystery word, which will complete the gag!
