

Michigan Board of Ed proposes 'gender identity guidelines'

■ Students could change gender identity at school without parental permission

The Michigan Board of Education will be entertaining a vote at its May 10 meeting on a controversial issue that has spread like wildfire on Facebook last week.

The issue at hand is students' gender identity and

“The issue of students being allowed to use the restroom in accordance with their gender identity is an explosion waiting to happen.”

whether Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Questioning (LGBTQ) students should accordingly be able to change their name and pronoun, use whichever bathroom and locker room they feel comfortable with, and wear the clothes of the gender they identify with, and more — without parental or doctoral consent.

Fenton Board of Education President Drew Shapiro has weighed in on the matter.

Nick Wilcox of Flint heads out for a Cottage Inn Pizza delivery on Wednesday. Being so close to the bridge construction has forced him to change his route to make deliveries. While Wilcox hasn't seen a reduction in his deliveries, other businesses are being affected by the closure of the bridge, which will not re-open until July.

Businesses in the vicinity of the Silver Lake Road bridge reconstruction project are counting the days until July 1.

That's the date Fenton officials say the majority of construction will be completed and the street open to traffic.

Local agent charged with real estate fraud

■ Kept $150,000 from transaction for himself

By Vera Hogan • vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

Thomas (Tommy) Tubbs, 45, of Grand Blanc, a former Fenton real estate agent, has been arrested for real estate fraud.

Tubbs, who worked for Century 21 Woodland (formerly Century 21 ParkPlace) in Fenton, has been charged with taking money under false pretenses, according to court records.

Investigators with the Genesee County Sheriff's Office claim Tubbs recently collected $150,000 from an Atlas Township couple for a real estate transaction, but kept the money for himself.

“Our mission is to reach out to the Vietnamese community in Michigan. Many of their lives are troubled. They need to know about God.”

Pastor Tim (Tien) Tran
Minister of the new Vietnamese Bible Church

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | TIM JAGIELO

Pastor Tim (Tien) Tran leads the contemporary Bible service on Sunday. The modest congregation of about 20 started in January. The only other services for the Vietnamese are in Detroit and Lansing. Members live in the Fenton area and use the student center of The Rock Church in Tyrone Township for the weekly service. The service is contemporary, mirroring an English-speaking Christian service.

In fact, you might not understand a single word of the service, but the faith and joy found at the newly formed Vietnamese Bible Church will certainly lift your spirits.

The Vietnamese Bible Church held its first service on Jan. 10, led by Pastor Tim (Tien) Tran, a native Vietnamese who has lived in the U.S. since 1991.

Housed at the student center on The Rock church property in Tyrone Township, their presence there every Sunday has been a blessing, according to Ken Trudell, building maintenance director for The Rock. “We do a lot of mission trips to

Pros and cons of a mild winter

■ Fewer crashes and less plowing, but many businesses lose sales

By Hannah Ball

hball@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

Most people enjoy mild winters — the occasional snowstorm with tolerable cold air and slight winds. However, many businesses, like auto repair shops and retailers that sell snow equipment, rely on the challenges that winter brings.

This winter, the tri-county area experienced just a few snowstorms that covered houses and cars in snow and brought cold temperatures.

Dan Czarnecki, director of Fenton's Department of Public Works, said even though the winter seemed mild, the area actually had a slightly above average winter in regards to snow accumulation.

“We didn't get much of a winter so business was a little slow.”

Dan Shannon
Shannon's Auto Collision owner

“The roads are no more easy to maintain when there is a light snowfall or if we receive six inches of snow,” he said. “Both types of snowfall will require the DPW to travel the streets to plow and salt the streets. The only difference is if the snowfall lasts a long time like a few of the major snowfalls we had this year.”

In this situation, the DPW plows more frequently and uses more salt at intersections and dangerous locations.

Come Heller high water

That’s old news!

Earlier this week, I read an alarming news story posted by somebody on Facebook about a spring snowstorm that was on its way. ‘Eight inches, oh my gosh,’ I thought. ‘I have to repost this.’ Everyone likes to share bad news. It took about four seconds before someone wrote back, ‘Hey, dummy, that story is from last year.’ Damn it — fooled again. Aaargh, you people — and you know who you are — stop posting old news articles on Facebook that I assume are new and repost because, well, who the heck would post an old weather article? Seriously, why do people do that, and how does it start? Is it Google? Do people overhear something about a storm coming and rush to Google for a confirming story only to get one from two years ago? If so, what the heck is wrong with Google? Why don’t they rank articles by date?

Andrew Heller

That must be how it begins because as horrible as some people can be I can’t see them intentionally posting an old article just to annoy or alarm people. Other than Donald Trump, I mean. Him I can see doing it just for fun. Or ISIS. Maybe that’s their way of spreading anger and disruption online. If they could, cats would definitely do it just to amuse themselves. Cats are pure evil. It’s a known fact. I read that on Facebook once.

In any case, false or out of date posts are everyone’s biggest pet peeve about Facebook, even worse than people who incessantly post cute kittens photos or write things like ‘This is a test to find out if anyone reads my posts. Please respond with ONE word about how great I am.’

‘The ones that get me are celebrity deaths — people who have been dead for years,’ one Facebook friend wrote under my bogus weather post. ‘I saw one recently for Bob Denver.’

That’s the skinny guy who played

Gilligan. He died in 2005. Another friend wrote, ‘I just read Don Knotts died. I had to relive my grief for Barney Fife yet again!’ Knotts died in 2006. Can you imagine how hard it is on his relatives to see every few months that he’s died again?

Something has to be done about this but I’m not sure what.

I suppose we could institute harsh penalties, up to and including prison sentences. ‘What are you in for?’ ‘Murder and bank robbery.’ ‘What about you?’ ‘Posting an old article on Facebook.’

I could see that. But the jails are already so crowded. Public shaming is probably our best bet. It worked with me. After my weather story gaffe, people were merciless in telling me I got it wrong and that I was posting old news. ‘This just in: Columbus discovered a new world!’ wrote one. ‘You can add weather historian to your long list of accomplishments,’ wrote another. ‘Bob Denver... still dead.’ Yeah, OK, I deserved that.

“Cats are pure evil. It’s a known fact. I read that on Facebook once.”

House Bill 5180 — Healthy Food Assistance Act

Dear editor,
As a parent in this state, I am concerned. Nearly 33 percent of Michigan’s youth ages 10-17 are considered overweight or obese. We know that children who are obese are more likely to continue this negative health trend and develop further illnesses as adults. Many children and families simply do not have access to anything other than packaged, processed food. House Bill 5180 is being considered in Lansing that would help increase access to healthy food in underserved communities in Michigan, both rural and urban. The great thing about this bill is that it also provides opportunities for business owners in the food industry to expand their operation, in turn growing their profits. It’s a win-win for our state and its residents. We all know that healthy food is not easily accessible to all, and that children are our most vulnerable. Let’s help make the healthy choice the easy choice.

DEMOCRATS CRACK ME up. Free college, free diapers, phones and whatnot. We’re $19 trillion in debt. What a joke. People who go to work every day have to pay for all this so-called free stuff.

ALONG WITH THEIR policies for high taxes, borrowing and spending, the Democrats have destroyed our immigration policy, economy, military, education, and our health care and most importantly, they have destroyed our self respect as Americans.

YOU LIBERALS SLAY me with your ‘the king is this, the king is that.’ What the king is, is spot on. Any normal person with common sense can tell you that. Sorry about your indoctrination and brain washing.

I HAVE READ Heller for years and have always enjoyed him. I now look forward to his column in your paper every week.

WILL QUIGG, GRAND Dragon of the California KKK has endorsed Hillary Clinton.

SINCE THE PRIMARIES are party affairs, why are we taxpayers footing the bill for primary elections? Each party should reimburse each locality for the costs associated with these kinds of elections.

WHY DON’T THEY set term limits on senators? They have term limits on presidents, it’s time to get rid of dinosaurs like Mitch McConnell.

IF YOU OWN a home on Margaret Drive, Golfview Circle, Torrey Road or Torrey Grove Court, you may have a park dedicated for your use to Lake Fenton. Call Fenton Township and ask.

HAVE YOU EVER wondered when elections for the Fenton Township Board are? The reason most of the board members run unopposed is that by the time you realize there is an election, it’s too late to run against them. I think they need to drop the date on their Charter township website.

YOUR ANTI-GUN argument is flawed. Our high prison population is due to effective law enforcement, not excessive gun ownership. The vast majority of the world has higher crime rates, they just can’t prosecute effectively, so their criminals remain free. There is no relationship between U.S. gun ownership and our prison population.

LaJoice's embezzlement case heads to trial

■ Attorney: could be more than 14 charges of embezzlement as well as federal charges

By Hannah Ball

hball@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

Independence Twp. — Michael LaJoice of Tyrone Township waived his right to a preliminary exam in Oakland County's 52-2 District Court on Tuesday. He is facing 14 felonies related to allegedly embezzling $20 million from his former credit union, Clarkston Brandon Community Credit Union, where he was chief financial officer.

The defense and the prosecuting attorneys signed the waiver.

LaJoice's attorney Michael Manley said he has received more than 1,000 pages of discovery since the last hearing. Manley has gone over the pages, and his rights with LaJoice, and he signed the waiver.

Judge Joseph Fabrizio asked LaJoice if he understood what a preliminary examination is, and if he has received any threats or promises encouraging him to waive it.

LaJoice said "no."

Fabrizio accepted the waiver.

After the hearing, Manley said they have to show probable cause that he committed a crime.

"When somebody walks in and gives a statement you really don't need that probable cause hearing. We waived it today to go to Circuit Court where it's ultimately going to be resolved," he said.

LaJoice's next day in court will take place in Oakland County Circuit Court on April 4.

Manley said he has been working with Oakland County investigators, federal investigators, the National Credit Union Administration, and the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on this case.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | HANNAH BALL

Ashleigh LaJoice, wife of Michael LaJoice, talks to her husband's attorney Michael Manley after LaJoice's hearing on Tuesday, March 22. This was the first time she appeared in court.

"I don't know exactly the strategy at this point in time. I know that at some point in time we'll be talking to the judge to see if there can be some sentence resolution," he said.

He does not anticipate a jury trial and he does not think anyone else in LaJoice's family will be charged.

Ashleigh LaJoice sat in the courtroom, crying, while the hearing took place.

Manley said Ashleigh is "very stressed and very sad," especially because she is taking care of three little children.

LaJoice has not posted the $1 million bond to be released from Oakland County Jail where he has been lodged since Jan. 6.

"Each day that he's in is a day closer that he comes out," Manley said. "The biggest thing that Michael LaJoice wanted to do is set an example for his children. He did wrong. He owned up to it and he's the one that turned himself in. It was very important to him to lead by that example for his children," he said.

Manley said LaJoice wants to get this issue resolved to the benefit of the victims and the community. "If everyone sits down, we can resolve this in an amicable manner," he said.

Manley said there could be more than 14 charges of embezzlement, as well as federal charges. He said restitution could include uncharged cases and he's been working with township and city officials where LaJoice's properties are located.

"He wants to do it right. That's what I want to do and I think the authorities want to do it the right way," he said.

Manley said his main goal is to get restitution to the victims as quickly as possible.

They have cash offers for all of LaJoice's properties, including his home and the land of the once proposed "River-view" project in Fenton.

If he gets approval from the federal government, state government and the National Credit Union Administration, he can accept the offers. Manley said the offers are in the seven figures.

"It's my hope to be part of the solution. Those are my marching orders from Mr. LaJoice," he said.

Q: Hi my 2002 Chevy Impala 3400 V6 is making a squealing noise near the front of the engine when i start the car. When I shut the car off, it continues to squeal for about 10-15 seconds before running down and shutting off. I think the sound is coming from the fan, but I'm not sure. - Ridge

Corrected answer from last week:

A: Ridge, this sounds like you have something caught in the electric fan motor. To check this, you should disconnect the battery negative cable and see if the fan moves freely by hand. Keep in mind there may be more than one cooling fan. The second one could be in front of the radiator and difficult to access. Also, if there is nothing in the fan, it could be a motor going bad or a stripped out fan blade.

FOOD AND HEALTH

Dr. Michael Greger, a leading promoter of nutritional health states, "Most deaths in the United States are preventable, and they are related to what we eat. Our diet is the number-one cause of premature death and the number-one cause of disability." Dr. Joel Fuhrman states that "death in America is a food born disease". The Standard American Diet is meat based with an over abundance of sugar and is highly processed. Most Americans are lacking in the recommended daily allowance of nutrients and fiber because most of their dietary habits are lacking in fruits, vegetables and whole grains. As a result, the numbers for heart disease, stroke, cancer and diabetes are increasing every year in this country. For the most part early death and disability in our country is self inflicted. And the more plants you eat the healthier you are going to be. Following is information from an app I have downloaded onto my smart phone that helps me track the food I eat so that I know I am on the right road toward ideal nutrition and health.

Dr. Greger's Daily Dozen

- Beans - 3 servings per day includes hummus, bean dip, cooked beans, split peas, lentils, tofu, fresh peas
- Berries - 1 serving per day includes strawberries, blueberries, blackberries, raspberries, Acai berries
- Other Fruit - 3 servings per day
- Cruciferous Vegetables - 1 serving per day includes broccoli, cabbage, Brussels sprouts,
- Greens - 2 servings per day includes lettuce, spinach, kale, Swiss chard, beet greens and arugula
- Other Vegetables - 2 servings a day
- Flaxseeds - 1 tablespoon ground per day
- Nuts - 1 1/4 cup serving per day
- Spices - 1/4 tsp of turmeric along with any other salt-free herbs and spices you enjoy.
- Whole grains - 3 servings per day
- Beverages - 5 servings per day. Green tea is my favorite
- Exercise - 1 serving per day. Move it or lose it.

Our health is one of God's greatest gifts; something to be cherished and nurtured. Proper eating and nutrition is key. Like most other things in life, if we ignore and abuse our health, we will lose it. Once lost, our health is very difficult, if not impossible to regain.

Community input sought in Fenton superintendent search

■ Public forum to be held Monday in FHS cafeteria

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

The process of creating a candidate profile for the next Fenton Area Schools superintendent has begun.

On Monday, March 28, a community forum with Rich Ramsey, a consultant with the MASB (Michigan Association of School Boards) will be held at 6 p.m. in the Fenton High School cafeteria.

The MASB was selected earlier this month to assist the Fenton Board of Education with the superintendent search. "They are seeking community input on the leadership style and characteristics the next superintendent should have," said Doug Busch.

Busch has served as the interim superintendent, while at the same time handling his own job as executive director of finance and personnel, since last summer, after former Superintendent Tim Jalkanen resigned.

Community members interested in providing feedback as part of the superintendent search process may visit the district website to complete a survey which will be used as part of building the candidate profile and during the interview process.

The survey can be found at fentonschools.org, where it will remain until April 8.

1979: The worst accident in the history of the U.S. nuclear power industry begins when a pressure valve in a reactor at Three Mile Island (Pennsylvania) fails to close. After the cooling water began to drain out of the broken pressure valve, emergency cooling pumps automatically went into operation. Left alone, these safety devices would have prevented a larger crisis. However, human operator error nearly resulted in a meltdown scenario, and deadly radiation could have drifted across the countryside, causing a great number of fatalities.

MARCH 29

1973: Two months after the signing of the Vietnam peace agreement, the last U.S. combat troops leave Vietnam as Hanoi frees the remaining American prisoners of war held in North Vietnam. The Vietnam War was the longest and most unpopular foreign war in U.S. history and cost 58,000 American lives.

In addition to being ill with narcissistic personality disorder, his attorneys argued he had a pathological obsession with the 1976 film Taxi Driver, and the lead actress, Jodie Foster.

Easter activities have changed over the years

■ Many family activities carry on from generation to generation

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

The Easter season is a very special time for area Christians as they celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Whether people are believers or not, that long ago event is the reason for the season.

The way in which families celebrate varies from generation to generation, but some activities and traditions have not changed. For many, the season begins with Ash Wednesday, the start of the Lenten season, a time for personal reflection and sacrifice.

During the 46 days of Lent, many Christians give up something that is important to them in sacrifice. That something can be avoiding a favorite food, candy or chocolate, smoking cigarettes, a favorite TV show ... the list is endless as it's a personal choice.

Catholics avoid consuming meat on Fridays during Lent, while Protestants and other Christians avoid meat on Good Friday.

In the days leading up to Easter, the fun begins as families take their children to visit and have their photos taken with the Easter bunny, and participate in public and private Easter egg hunts.

Movies like "King of Kings," "The Silver Chalice," and "Barabbas" dominated the TV screens. One, "The Ten Commandments" with Charlton Heston continues to be aired during the Easter season, in addition to newer versions of stories depicting the life, death, and resurrection of Christ.

On the days preceding Easter, families prepared for the big day by coloring and decorating Easter eggs, and shopping for the big dinner which usually included a big, juicy ham and all the fixings.

Baby Boomers, in particular, remember when they were boys and girls. The girls were delighted when mom and dad bought them a brand new white or pastel-colored dress, a bonnet, white gloves and socks and patent leather shoes to wear to Easter Sunday services. Little boys likewise, were decked out in a brand new little suit, shirt and tie, and shoes as well.

Many families still enjoy this "dressing up" tradition today.

After Sunday church services, the family returned home to learn that the Easter bunny had arrived and hidden baskets filled with colored eggs, candy and chocolate, small gifts and a big chocolate Easter bunny around the house and yard for the children.

Tracy Bundy of Fenton Township recalls when she was a child.

"The Easter bunny tied a string on kids' baskets and wove it throughout the house and around outside so the kids would have to follow it to get their baskets," Bundy said. "That Easter bunny is pretty sneaky I tell ya."

Like many families, grandparents played an integral part in all holiday celebrations. Veronica Pheasant of Argentine Township recalls with fondness Easter Sundays with her grandparents.

"Ever since I can remember, we all went to Grandma and Grandpa's in Frankenmuth on Easter," said Pheasant. "After our big Easter dinner we would have an egg hunt outside. Everyone who had kids would bring a dozen Easter eggs per child."

Pheasant said the adults would mark all the eggs with denominations ranging from 5 cents to 25 cents, and then pitch in the money for the payout.

"They would hide them all over outside Grandma's farm, then us little kids would run outside and find as many as we could," said Pheasant.

"Grandma had five generations at one time for many years coming to her farm," Pheasant added. "Since the farm had 10 acres and it was spring time, we would always fly kites, remote-controlled airplanes, blow bubbles, shoot BB guns and play with whatever new Easter present was in our baskets. After dark we would play board games and have egg wars to see whose egg was the hardest while the adults played cards."

Since Pheasant's great-grandmother passed away in 2008 and grandma in 2009, family members rotate whose house Easter will be held each year. The family traditions have gone on as long as she can remember. "I am now 51 and can't wait to watch all the little kids this year, and see all the new babies," Pheasant said.

“That Easter bunny is pretty sneaky I tell ya.”

"Ultimately, I think first and foremost, the most important thing is that all students, regardless of how they identify, have a safe and comfortable learning environment," he said. "I don't condone bullying or bigotry in any way."

Shapiro said what school districts see oftentimes with regard to the state of Michigan, is that laws are passed, unfunded mandates, which legislate that the schools have to do things but not put any money behind it.

"If you were forced to create new bathrooms, new locker rooms, etc., they tell us we have to do that but don't provide any financial support," Shapiro said.

At its Feb. 23 meeting, the "Statement and Guidance on Safe and Supportive Learning Environments for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Questioning Students" was presented to the state board.

The document can be viewed in its entirety at Michigan.gov/mde, under "Requests for Public Comment" in the upper right corner.

In the presentation's accompanying memorandum, Chairman Brian Whiston says the state Board of Education recognizes the need for all students to have a safe and supportive school environment to progress academically and developmentally, and believes school administrators, teachers, staff, families, and students all play an important role in creating and sustaining that environment.

The Statement and Guidance document lists several items should be done to make LGBTQ students treated according to their wishes and the gender they identify with.

"Nowhere does the state Board of Education mention age," said Shapiro.

"I think it's inappropriate to put it out there — kind of reckless when you have kindergarten and elementary school students who don't understand these types of things."

Drew Shapiro

Fenton Board of Education president

"I think it's inappropriate to put it out there — kind of reckless when you have kindergarten and elementary school students who don't understand these types of things. There has to be some sort of logical compromise," Shapiro said.

"Without having age limits, without funding, and no parent or doctor input with a minor child, it's very difficult," said Shapiro.

Retired Holly Area Schools Superintendent Kent Barnes, who volunteers his time in elementary school classrooms several times a week offered an old southern saying: "When a presentation is made, God and the presenter know what the meaning of the presentation is. After the presentation is accepted, only God knows what it truly means."

"I do not doubt the good intention of Michigan State School Superintendent Brian Whiston," said Barnes. "He is a fine gentleman who only wants the best for all students."

State Board of Ed issues press release in response to questions and concerns

In a press release issued March 23, Michigan Board of Education President John Austin wrote, "In response to questions and concerns, the State Board of Education wants to provide clarification regarding a Draft Guidance document on "Safe and Supportive Learning Environments for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Questioning (LGBTQ) Students" that currently is out for public comment.

According to the release, a number of school districts asked the state Board of Education for guidance on how to address circumstances where transgender students and their parents express how the students were being marginalized, excluded, and discriminated against.

As a result, a work group was formed to develop a guidance document for local school districts. This work group consisted of parents, teachers, students, administrators, social workers, psychologists, local school board members, attorneys, and other stakeholders.

Draft guidance was developed by this work group for the state board to consider adopting, to provide assistance to local school districts that may be faced with these circumstances. "This guidance would not be required to be adopted by any local school district, it merely offers options for districts to consider, if they so choose. As with all state Board of Education guidance, this would not be mandatory for local school districts to adopt. Local school districts each would decide to do what they believe is appropriate and helpful for all of their students," according to the press release.

The draft guidance document referred to, states that the action items are encouraged; it does not say the action items are not mandatory.

Persons wanting to provide their input on the Draft Guidance can do so through April 11 at www.everyvoicecountsmi.org. The Draft Guidance document is available here: <http://everyvoicecountsmi.org/wp-content/uploads/2016/03/SBE-Statement-on-LGBTQ-Youth-2-9-2016-v2.pdf>.

"I have several concerns, not with the rationale per se for fair and equal treatment for students, but with the implementation of the state Board of Education's recommendations," he added. "Once again, it appears that additional mandates could be placed on schools without any additional resources for support services such as counselors, social workers, or psychologists.

"The litigation that will result is a given, Barnes said. "What will finally occur on some of these items will be finalized in court. Sad to say, these issues won't be finalized in a manner everyone will concur."

REAL ESTATE FRAUD

During a press conference Thursday, Genesee County Sheriff Robert Pickell said, "He does not have drug problem. It doesn't appear that he has an alcohol problem. He just uses it to live on. He drives nice cars, lives with his parents.

"The purchase was never completed and they never closed on the residence," he added. "The residence was eventually purchased by another investment firm.

Tubbs has been charged previously with similar crimes. In 2014, he was charged for allegedly taking $114,000 in Fenton Township.

In February of 2015, Tubbs was charged with larceny by conversion. He posted bond and a jury trial is set to begin this August.

Tubbs is again free on bond on the latest charge. He faces up to 20 years in prison if convicted.

Pickell added, "Here we have a case at least a year old, and it's not even out of the district yet, and he's out there doing the same thing."

"Call it false pretenses, call it whatever you want, they're scams," he said.

Dan Borgerding is the new broker for the Century 21 office on Torrey Road and said the incidents took place before he took over.

Since real estate agents typically don't accept money from buyers, Borgerding was asked how Tubbs could have pulled this off.

"I really have no idea," he said. "It's making me sick. I only met the guy one time. All this happened before I bought the firm"

Borgerding has removed Tubbs' license from the Century 21 Woodland wall and sent it back to the state of Michigan.

"The best I could find is that he didn't do anything through the real estate company," said Borgerding. "This was done completely outside the real estate company."

Borgerding said he hates to speculate, but said it is his understanding that Tubbs may have been talking people into giving him money to flip a house.

"All I know is that none of that money went through the real estate company," he said.

Borgerding said he looked up one of the addresses he became aware on the MLS (Multiple Listing Service). "That house sold in 2013, 2014 and 2015, but not through Century 21.

"I am about as dumbfounded as you about this," he said. "I'm about as sick about it as everyone else."

TEACHERS

an A, the information available to the public on teachers' background checks is lacking in Michigan.

USA Today found that "bad apples" slip through the cracks when school districts fail to include certain information on background checks.

What's the process for local schools on hiring teachers?

The following information is from Linden Interim Superintendent Russ Ciesielski, Lake Fenton Superintendent Wayne Wright, Fenton Interim Superintendent Doug Busch, and Holly Superintendent Dave Nuss.

Linden, Lake Fenton, and Fenton schools all require that candidates disclose any information on previous felony or misdemeanor convictions in compliance with Public Act 68 of 1993, Michigan law.

SUMMARY

■ A USA Today story revealed that many teachers fired for misconduct and have had their licenses revoked, only need to cross state lines to find another teaching job.

the district can void their application.

The Holly school district searches the candidates through AppliTrack, where candidates must disclose if they have ever been convicted of a misdemeanor or a felony. Their name is then sent to the Michigan Department of Education teacher database to verify their valid teaching credential.

Candidates must have a valid Michigan teaching license to teach in Michigan.

All candidates are fingerprinted by the Genesee Intermediate School District and the prints are sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) under Public Act of 129 of 2005 and Public Act 138 of 2005.

The potential new employees pay the fee for the FBI and state police searches.

The school contacts the candidate's previous employer and is required to complete a form disclosing any unprofessional misconduct under Section 1230b of the Revised School Code.

The candidate's previous or current employer is required to provide any information on misconduct within 20 days.

Throughout the process, candidates go through interviews and their references are checked.

The process for hiring teachers in local school districts seems extensive, but USA Today gave Michigan a failing grade when it comes to background checks.

Compared to Ohio, which received an A, the information available to the public on teacher's background checks is minimal in Michigan.

Ohio background checks reveal a myriad of information on teachers, including disciplinary action, but Michigan background checks through the Department of Education only include a list of approved teaching subjects and the verification of a teacher's license, according to the Detroit Free Press.

Misconduct information or disciplinary action is not available to the public in these checks, even when the teacher's license was challenged or revoked due to criminal convictions.

appreciate that.”

Andrews said the road is open just past Tim Hortons, just to the bridge.

“So we’re accessible,” Andrews said.

“We’re mostly delivery so it really hasn’t hurt our business that much,” said Jason Fair, owner of Cottage Inn Pizza. “It definitely is an inconvenience though.”

Fair said they tell pick-up and walk-in customers to take Adelaide to Roberts Street to access Cottage Inn, located on the point between Silver Lake Road and Roberts.

“Most of our recent callers are coming from the east side, from Grange Hall Road,” Fair said.

Dr. Cynthia Cupal of Fenton Vision Center on Silver Lake Road said, “I think we’re doing OK with the construction. We’re not really having any problems with patients getting in and out of our parking lot.

“For a period of time, they were trying to find the water main,” she added. “I came to work and there was big hole in front of our building, but that was just temporary.

“I’m kind of excited to see what happens when they reroute the water,” Cupal said. “Overall we’re doing pretty good over here. I kind of enjoy watching the progress because I have front row seats.”

Joe Yousif, owner/manager of the Marathon Service Station on Silver Lake Road at Adelaide, said his business has been affected negatively.

“About half of my business is gone,” Yousif said. “There is a 40 to 50 percent reduction in gas and inside store sales. But not the (mechanic’s) shop. That’s OK.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | TIM JAGIELLO

The Marathon gas station has seen a reduction of 40 percent or more in gas and inside store sales during bridge construction.

“The problem is the people coming from Linden going to Holly to get on the highway (I-75) don’t stop by my station anymore,” he said. “They have found another way to get there.”

According to Dan Czarnecki, director of the Department of Public Works (DPW), the Silver Lake Road bridge project involves the removal and replacement of the entire bridge over the Shiawassee River.

Ninety-five percent of the $1,013,063 project is being funded via a bridge replacement grant from the state of Michigan. The city will be responsible for paying about $50,653, plus engineering fees. OHM, the city engineers, will perform the construction engineering work for $251,350.

Davis Construction, Inc. of Lansing was awarded the project by the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT).

The major portion of the construction project is to be completed with the street open to traffic by July 1.

The entire project, including restoration and final cleanup is to be completed by the first of September.

The work consists of replacement of the bridge, replacement of the water main that travels beneath the bridge and beneath the Shiawassee River, new curbs, sidewalks and street surface.

In mid-March, Czarnecki said via email that the contractor will continue to work hard to complete the work as quickly as possible, and have the roadway open by July.

Until then, motorists will use North Road, Owen Road and Caroline Street to bypass the closed bridge site.

WALL STREET GREED and lack of regulatory control did not produce the 2008 economic crisis. Democrat politicians Rahm Emanuel and Barney Frank conspired to use a government corporation (Freddie Mac) to write subprime mortgages. They wanted America to provide universal home ownership. They caused the crash, not Wall Street.

Elite eight named for strong winter season

Linden wrestling starts our list of the top eight athletic squads

By David Troppens
dtroppens@tctimes.com

The 2015-16 winter sports season had it's highs and lows.

There were times it looked like it was going to be a weaker season than most as many teams were not competing for league championships.

But when the postseason came, some of the squads that didn't win league crowns suddenly earned some of the biggest headlines of the school year.

And now that the 2015-16 winter season is over, I guess it's fair to say the winter had a pretty reasonable performance.

Now it's time to list our Tri-County Elite Eight Winter Sports Teams. With this edition, we'll discuss our first three teams and a couple of honorable mention squads. And remember, Fenton's Sarah Cummings will continue her basketball career at Tiffin University next fall. Cummings helped lead the Tigers to a Class A regional final contest this season.

Fenton's Cummings headed to Tiffin University

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Sarah Cummings always knew she wanted to play a sport at the collegiate level.

"It's been a dream of mine since I was in elementary school," the Fenton senior said. "I've wanted to go pro or play in college in some type of sport."

Cummings' dream is coming true. The Fenton varsity girls basketball forward is headed to Tiffin University to play college basketball at the Division 2 Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Association (GLIAC) school.

"Going to the college level and getting a scholarship is huge," Cummings said. "People are paying me to go to school because they think I have talent."

Cummings said she knew she wanted to go to Tiffin almost immediately.

"I knew it as soon as I went out there," Cummings said. "(Tiffin University) coach (Jason Mischler) made my decision for me. He is such a great guy. He had a four-year plan laid out for me. Other schools talk to you and you feel you may be easily replaced. He had a plan of how I can reach my potential and that is a really big thing for me."

Cummings showed her potential while at Fenton. During her senior season, Cummings netted 284 points, 190 rebounds and 42 assists on the Tigers' Class A District Championship squad which finished the season with an 18-7 record. She earned First-Team All-Metro honors. She also earned First-Team All-Metro honors a year ago, scoring a team-high 290 points. She also had 148 rebounds, 26 steals and 16 assists. She was a four-year varsity performer on the Tigers' squad. In her four seasons at Fenton, the Tigers won district titles in three of the four seasons.

"Me and Mrs. Moore have gotten pretty close," Cummings said. "Her along with the rest of the coaches being alongside me have been like having extra parents. They've helped me so much. The program is so close. Going through four years of basketball with the program, it's going to be hard to leave."

But it is made easier knowing her career will continue at Tiffin. Mischler entered his first year as the Dragons' head coach last season, and the squad posted a rebuilding-like record of 8-19, including a 6-16 GLIAC mark. In 2014-15, the school posted a 7-21 overall record.

"They have a lot of potential and I think we will be getting better as the years go along," Cummings said. "I hope to make an impact."

Cummings is a three-sport athlete. She was the back-up keeper for the Tigers' Division 2 state-runner-up girls soccer team in the spring of 2015 and she's also a member of the Fenton's strong varsity girls golf team. However, basketball is her love. She also plays with the AAU Michigan Storm. Holly's Kaitlyn Smith and ex-Linden player Taylor Smith were two of her teammates on the squad.

"It's always something I could do and watch with my family — my brother, dad and mom. We are a big basketball family," Cummings said. "I enjoy the team competitiveness. Golf is more about an individual sport, and it's boring. You can't talk to anyone. I love basketball. There's something about basketball."

Cummings has proven herself to be a pretty versatile athlete, which could help earn her playing time earlier than some.

"I think my versatility is my strength," Cummings said. "Last year I was primarily a scorer but this year I've done more with my passing game and other aspects on the stat sheet other than scoring. My shooting has definitely gotten better."

David's Dabblings

A few thoughts about the area's sports scene and some others not dealing with sports at all.

BOYS HOOPS IS GETTING BETTER

When I first took over as sports editor at the Tri-County Times on August 6, 2002, there were a few things I learned rather quickly about my new job.

I learned quickly what sports the area was pretty strong at, and quickly figured out which sports the area was, well, not so impressive.

On the negative side, one stuck out easily over the others. That was boys basketball.

It didn't matter what Fenton, Lake Fenton, Linden and Holly did during their conference seasons. I knew one thing was certain — when the postseason began they'd be done within a week.

That first year, it wasn't that long since the area's last success in tourney action. After all, it was in 1998 when the Linden Eagles captured a Class B regional crown to Flint Powers Catholic. However, since that point, no one had even whiffed success in the district tourney.

And as the seasons went by, it seemed no one would ever earn a district title again. It got so bad, I'll have to admit that I scheduled my annual spring vacation the Wednesday of regional week. After all, even if by some small fluke one of our area squads actually won a district, there was no way in the world they were ever going to win a regional semifinal game. And for years I used that method when figuring out my spring vacation. That's how bad the teams were.

I don't know if anyone has noticed, but things are changing in the tri-county area. Basketball certainly isn't a hotbed sport in the tri-county area. Heck, the sport probably doesn't even qualify as one of the five best sports among our schools. However, there's no doubt play has gotten better.

During the 2015-16 season the area saw the best boys basketball since I've been around. Lake Fenton captured its first Class B district title in school history and earned its first district crown of any kind since 1997. And to prove their success wasn't a fluke, the Blue Devils won a regional semifinal contest and were leading in the regional title game late before falling to New Haven 53-50. The Blue Devils also won a school-breaking 21 games during the season.

The thing is Lake Fenton's run isn't all that strange any more. Just last year, the Holly Bronchos won their first Class A district title in school history, and their first of any kind since 1982. The Bronchos also advanced to the regional final, falling by two points to Walled Lake Central when a game-winning three-pointer wasn't sunk.

And who was the team to start all of this recent success? Why it was the Fenton Tigers in 2012 when the Tigers won their first Class A crown and first of any class since 1990 when they defeated Clarkston 68-66 in their district title game. To this day, that probably ranks the area's biggest signature win of any of the teams in the 2000s considering Clarkston had won 18 straight district championships entering that season.

Indeed, boys basketball is getting more entertaining and, more importantly, much better. Consequently, I'm taking my spring vacations after the state tourney these days, just in case someone gets hot. My how times have changed — for the better.

squad is a co-op with a non-tri-county squad and they fell just outside the top eight.

No. 8 – Linden wrestling: The Linden varsity wrestling team had great goals for the 2015-16 season, and for a good chunk of the season, the Eagles showed why they had those high standards in mind. The Eagles finished with a strong 25-7 dual meet record which included a second-place dual meet performance and meet performance in the Metro League. However, when the season came to its end, the Eagles had bad luck. They were suffering from injuries resulting in an early departure in team districts.

No. 7 – Lake Fenton competitive cheer: The Blue Devils' competitive cheer program had solid performances during the postseason portion of the schedule. Lake Fenton captured first at the Genesee Area Conference meet by posting a three-round team score of 653.10, about 19 points ahead of second-place Goodrich. The Blue Devils were the only area competitive cheer team to advance through districts, taking third with a team score of 664.42. However, the Blue Devils' state meet dreams ended at regionals with a ninth-place performance with a team score of 695.70.

No. 6 – Fenton/Linden girls ski: The co-op squad had an outstanding season at Mt. Holly, dominating every dual meet during the season. At divisional they tied Powers for first, but ended up losing in a tiebreaker and were moved to second. The drop meant the squad lost the divisional title to the Chargers as well. The squad only took sixth at regionals, but Zoe Weinberg still moved on and performed outstanding at the state meet. However, despite the fact her combined times in the slalom and giant slalom would've earned her an overall title if there was such thing, she left the meet without a state event championship. With one more year left in her career, it'll be fun to see what she does next season.

Invisible Fence marks 20 years

■ Local dealership in Fenton has grown by 'leaps and bounds'

Earl and Rachel Carter of Tyrone Township not only love their five dogs, but also the dogs and cats they keep safe for thousands of customers through their Invisible Fence dealership.

Invisible Fence is an electronic pet containment system founded in 1973, but it's more than just a "fence," it's a system of training and education for pets and their families.

The Carters have owned their local dealership since March 1996. Mark Hopson is the technician/installer and Laura Griglak is a master certified pet trainer in charge of training and in-home obedience.

"Our technology has really changed over the years," said Earl, who handles sales for their family business, while Rachel handles the office. "Now, there are new systems in place to make pet ownership much easier for pets and families."

Using GPS technology, Invisible Fence can now customize boundaries for each pet on large properties. Homeowners can also protect their yards and flowers from pet damage and safety issues.

Inside the home, a new system allows homeowners to "pet proof" their home, by curbing mischievous behavior. A new electronic pet door allows pets to go in and out automatically, as needed.

Invisible Fence can be reached at (810) 750-4600.

other countries, and this is an outreach right here at home." Trudell is the liaison between The Rock and the Vietnamese Bible Church, also helping each Sunday with the technological aspects of the service.

Their largest church service to date was last Sunday, March 20, when 26 people were in attendance for a lively service consisting of praise band music and a sermon given by Tran. "Our mission is to reach out to the Vietnamese community in Michigan," said Tran. "Many of their lives are troubled. They need to know about God."

His goal is to have 50 Vietnamese attending church here within the next two years. Currently, there are two Vietnamese churches in Detroit and three in Lansing.

Most of the worshippers are members of Tran's extended family, plus people who work for him at Fenton Nails, a business he started when he and Amy moved to Fenton Township in 2009.

Amy is half American and half Vietnamese, growing up in Vietnam, where her marriage to Tran was arranged by both families. Tran's family has a history of Christianity in a non-Christian communist country for more than 100 years. "We were the very first Christian family in Vietnam," said Tran. "We are very proud of that legacy from my grandfather, in a country that's only 5 percent Christian and 95 percent Buddhist."

Tim, Amy and their oldest daughter moved to the U.S. in 1991 so that he could attend New Orleans Theological Seminary. Afterward, Tran started churches in southern California and Atlanta, Georgia, two of the largest centers of Vietnamese populations.

Tim and Amy go back to Vietnam every summer for a mission trip. "We use 15 percent of our income from Fenton Nails — 10 percent to build a church and 5 percent for food," he said. "It's difficult for them to understand the Gospel. They have 4,000 years under China's rule. We have to show them God's love through ourselves. That's how we can turn people's hearts around."

Why are there so many Vietnamese nail techs?

You won't find a Buddha statue at Fenton Nails, typically commonplace in most Vietnamese-run nail salons. Instead, you'll hear Christian music playing in the background, while busy nail techs attend to clients. "Many Vietnamese refugees become nail techs or shop owners because they know how to work hard, are very patient and detail-oriented," said Tran. "Out of two million Vietnamese living in the U.S., 500,000 (25 percent) are nail techs."

Correction: In the article "Weekly, summertime dances featured superstar entertainers — before they were household names," published Sunday, March 20, the late John Hanks was incorrectly referred to as John "Glenn" Hanks, and should have been John "Grant" Hanks.

So far this winter, the DPW has used 1,325 tons of road salt. The 2014-2015 winter they used 1,300 tons of road salt, according to Dan Czarnecki.

CONS

Dan Shannon, owner of Shannon's Auto Collision, said business has been slower this winter compared to previous years. "It was a slow year, we didn't get a lot of accidents," he said. "We didn't get much of a winter so business was a little slow."

A few retailers who sell winter equipment like shovels, snow blowers, and generators, had a harder time selling these items due to the mild winter.

Jeff Stone, owner of Sears Hometown Store in Fenton, said, "We were down a little bit. It wasn't too off from last year."

Michigan experienced a few one- to two-day snowstorms, which prompted customers to buy snow blowers, shovels, and generators. But Stone said having steady snow is better for business. He sold about three dozen shovels.

When it snows in February, people will often decide to hold off buying and wait until next winter to purchase winter equipment.

Stone said they start selling more lawn and garden supplies, however, when the weather gets nicer.

"It was comparable to last year overall," he said. "We generally will make up for it in the spring."

PROS

There were fewer vehicle crashes this winter compared to last winter in Fenton, according to Fenton Police

WHY WAS IT MILD?

Michigan's winter this year was tame compared to previous years. The tri-county area experienced a few harsh snowstorms though, prompting schools to have snow days, but the snow quickly turned to slush in the warmer temperatures that soon followed. Weather experts credit El Nino as the source of the warmer winter.

According to Climate Central, an El Nino occurs when there is a shift of a large pool of warm ocean waters from the western to the central and eastern tropical Pacific. Heat is pumped into the atmosphere, disrupting normal weather patterns for the entire U.S.

Chief Rick Aro.

From Nov. 1, 2015 to March 17, Fenton police responded to 179 crashes. Last winter they responded to 206 crashes within that timeframe, and in the winter of 2013/2014, there were 220 crashes.

Aro said there is no way to tell if these accidents were caused by the weather, however.

"Also, many times slippery roads cause cars to lose control and leave the roadway causing them to get stuck," he added. "Unless there is injury, damage to the vehicle or the guardrail, delineator posts etc., no report is taken."

Area schools had many snow days this past winter, giving students, teachers, and administrators a few days off. Only Fenton and Lake Fenton went over the allotted amount of snow days and have to make up for lost time.
