Mutants, talking fish, and Ghostbusters will be on the big screen this summer

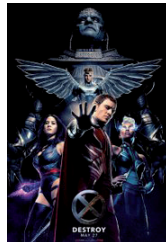

By Hannah Ball

The summer movie season will begin next month, and production companies have set dates for this summer's must-see movies. From comedies, to action movies, to reboots, there are movies for all interests.

X-Men: Apocalypse

May 27

Some of the most famous mutants will come back, but this time for a fight set in the 1980s. Mutants Quicksilver (Evan Peters), Mystique (Jennifer Lawrence), Cyclops (Tye Sheridan) and Jean Gray (Sophie Turner) will battle super villain Apocalypse as teenagers.

The BFG

July 1

A girl named Sophie, played by Ruby Barnhill, encounters the Big Friendly Giant who, despite his intimidating appearance, turns out to be a kindhearted soul who is considered an outcast by the other giants because unlike his peers refuses to eat boys and girls.

Ghostbusters

July 15

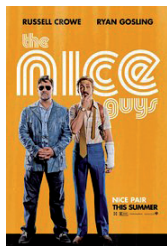

Four women will tackle the ghosts terrifying the residents of New York. The ghostbusters are played by Melissa McCarthy, Leslie Jones and two Saturday Night Live veterans, Kristen Wiig and Kate McKinnon. They have a male receptionist played by Chris Hemsworth.

The Nice Guys

May 20

Starring Ryan Gosling and Russell Crowe, this 1970s thriller is set in Los Angeles where a private eye and a hired gunman investigate the kidnapping of a young girl. They're described as blue-collared heroes.

Finding Dory

June 17

The sequel to "Finding Nemo" has been long awaited and viewers will see Dory, voiced by Ellen DeGeneres, on a quest to find her home and her family. She befriends a whale shark along the way and rekindles an old friendship.

The Legend of Tarzan

July 1

A civilized Tarzan, played by Alexander Skarsgard, goes back to Africa to serve as a trade emissary, but gets played by the Belgian captain, portrayed by Christoph Waltz, who he had agreed to work with.

Ice Age: Collision Course

July 22

Viewers will remember Sid the sloth from the previous Ice Age movies. What isn't as believable is that he has two girlfriends on the cusp of the world coming to an end.

HOT LINE CONTINUED

ANOTHER WEEK PASSES and Whittaker Road is still ignored by John Daly and the Genesee County Road Commission. Why can't we get our road graded? Incompetence at the GCRC is the answer. If they had to run for election, they would all be voted out.

HOUSE IS HISTORICAL, and so are the artifacts buried on the property. I suggest that an archaeological survey be completed before anything happens to the site with all of the artifacts kept with the Fenton Historical Society for storage and study to preserve the history for the future.

IT AMAZES ME that they call the people who are 'protesting' Trump's rallies as demonstrators. They are paid thugs who are there to create a problem. Most of them don't even know what they are complaining about.

HILLARY SPEAKING AT an Al Sharpton event and her apology for white elite not understanding blacks' mistreatment is a speech from the 1950s. I believe Hillary should select Al as her VP. Then you will have one that can't tell the truth and one that won't pay his taxes.

OH, THE HORRORS! The University of Toronto is changing some of its restrooms to Men and Women from Gender Neutral after reports of woman being filmed with cell phones by men while using the facilities. Why those bigots. Who are they to tell us which restroom to use. Right, Heller?

FIRST MOTHER NATURE knocks down Michigan's oldest barn in Mundy, then Novi levels its oldest home for a new subdivision, then Fenton levels the old Baptist seminary and now Fenton wants to level its oldest home. For what? We do not appreciate our history. Sad, sad, sad.

Pomsky

Looking to be the hottest pup of 2016, the Pomsky puppy is without a doubt one of the most dangerous sights a dog lover could ever lay eyes upon simply because they are so cute. One of the more recent additions to the designer dog arena, Pomskies are a result of a crossing between a Siberian Husky and a Pomeranian. The physical appearance of a Pomsky puppy can be somewhat unpredictable. There may be more Husky in one pup, while another is more like a Pomeranian — and they can all be from the same litter. The Pomsky's temperament varies depending on each parent's genetic contribution, but they are generally considered to be highly intelligent, loving and playful dogs.

Dalmachshund

The Dachshund is a medium purebred known for being aggressive, courageous, energetic, independent, lively, loyal, and social. The most common colors for Dachshunds are black, black and tan, blue, brown, red, silver, and white. The Dalmatian is a large purebred known for being aggressive, alert, cheerful, courageous, energetic, friendly, independent, intelligent, loyal, out-going, and playful. The most common colors for Dalmatians are black, brown, and white. Put the breeds together, and you have one cute, playful dog.

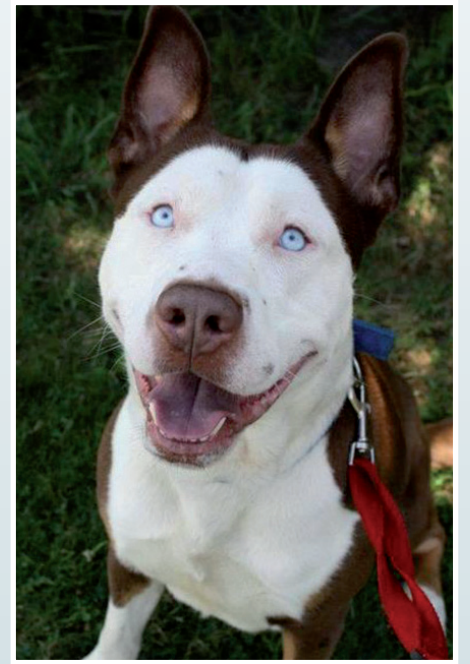

www.buzger.com

Pitsky

The Pitsky is a medium to large sized mixed breed. She is the result of crossing an American Pit Bull Terrier with either the Siberian Husky or the Alaskan Husky. She has talents in guarding, watch-dog, hunting, racing and sledding and has a life span of 12 to 15 years. The Pitsky is a very loyal and devoted dog and when well raised is even tempered, too.

Watch just-released movies in your pajamas?

■ For a fee, streaming services let movie buffs watch movies on their TV or computer

By Hannah Ball

hball@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

Moviegoers might not have to pay more than $10 for one ticket to watch a movie at the theater. Instead, they could watch that same movie in the comfort of your own home on the same day it is released.

Consumer demands for entertainment grows as the technology world expands, and homes are becoming more like theaters as streaming services are offering movies the same day they come out on the big screen.

In the past few years, streaming services like Netflix have become some of the leading mediums of watching movies and television shows, with no commercials, a long list of titles, and instant access to hundreds of hours worth of entertainment.

When consumers began using streaming services, the options weren't nearly as updated as they are now.

Instead of spending $12 for one ticket, Netflix subscribers, who currently pay $8 a month, could watch the movie with as many people as they wanted and as many times as they wanted.

There are fewer reasons to go to the theater if you can see a movie at home the same day it comes out.

Streaming services are also decreasing the need to buy a physical copy of a movie. Apple TV lets you rent a movie the same day it comes out on DVD and Blu Ray.

This trend will continue as technology improves and streaming services grow to meet consumer demands.

While it can be argued that the movie theater experience will never trump watching a movie in most basements,

SUMMARY

■ In the near future, streaming services might offer users an option to watch movies at home the same day they hit theaters.

theaters are constantly finding ways to make moviewatchers stay moviegoers.

A handful of big-time Hollywood directors, such as Steven Spielberg, Martin

Scorsese, and Peter Jackson,

are supporting Screening

Room, which would allow

Netflix users to watch even more movies the same day

they come out in theaters, according to BoyGenius Report (bgr.com).

Screening Room would involve a $150 top box with anti-piracy technology and a $50 fee for every new movie you want to watch. That's a hefty fee for instant availability, but the cost could easily be covered by having friends pitch in and not having to buy expensive drinks and snacks at the theater.

For that $50, users would also receive tickets to the movie theater. Theaters would receive a portion of that $50, possibly up to 40 percent, according to bgr.com.

Major studios like Fox, Sony, and Universal have met with Screening Room representatives, so in the near future consumers might be able to watch all the movies they want, the same day it comes out in theaters.
