HOUSE PLAN OF THE WEEK

Clarkridge PLAN 30-267

The Clarkridge is a cozy, window-bright log home, designed for construction as a vacation retreat. But there's no reason a single person or small family couldn't live in it year-round, if they desired.

Log exteriors are noted for their ease of maintenance, and equally impressive for their natural insulating qualities. Interior walls can be as rustic or sophisticated as the owners' tastes.

In this plan, the great room and kitchen flow together, creating a large open space, naturally illuminated by the light that washes in through six large windows and two small ones. The high ceiling is vaulted, adding to the sense of spaciousness.
