Did President Obama keep his promises?

■A recap of Barack Obama's success, or failure, in keeping his many campaign pledges

By Hannah Ball

hball@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

Politicians promise to accomplish many things while campaigning to get elected. Whether they accomplish those goals is another matter entirely.

According to "Promises and Performance: Presidential Campaigns as Policy Predictors," about 75 percent of promises made by presidents from Woodrow Wilson through Jimmy Carter were kept. Presidents try to keep their promises, but many fail due to congressional opposition.

Here are 10 of the promises Obama made while campaigning or in office, and if he kept those promises.

It's not your imagination... your toilet paper is shrinking

■ It's the latest consumer item to fall victim to our 'incredible shrinking groceries'

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Have you noticed that you're running out of toilet paper at your house faster than ever before?

It's not just your imagination; slowly but surely, toilet paper has joined many other consumer goods that have shrunk, either in package size, contents or both, during the past decade and more.

Mr. Whipple may have told us, 'Don't squeeze the Charmin' in that memorable TV commercial from the 1970s to mid-1980s, but now it's the consumers being squeezed out of toilet paper.

And it's not just the packaging. Toilet paper squares, the individual sheets that connect to make each roll, were once 4½ by 4½ inches square, according to a recent story in the Washington Post. That standard has been shifted to a point where companies are selling sheets that are half an inch shorter or thinner or both.

What's wrong with rakes?

Before we leave fall too far behind, allow me to pen a quick note to the owners of leaf blowers — the single worst invention of mankind, with the possible exception of hip-hop. Or shrink wrap. Or possibly Wolf Blitzer. It's a toss-up.

Dear Leaf Blower Owners:

You're killing me. Seriously, you're killing me.

Remember that extremely rare 70-degree November afternoon we had last week? I was out on the deck enjoying the heck out of it with a glass of wine and H.W. Brands' biography of Ben Franklin

'The First American,' which I recommend.

I was in hog heaven. I read a few paragraphs, then took a sip, then marveled at the peace and perfection of the day. Then I repeated this entirely pleasant sequence — read, sip, marvel — for 30 glorious minutes.

Then this happened: 'RHEEEEEEEEE!'

That was you and your loud, screechy leaf blower toy. You're aware of the screechiness, yes? If not, let me assure you, your leaf blower sounds like a hundred 20-year-old pickup trucks with loose timing belts.

RHEEEEEEEEE!

Or a thousand babies crying at once.

RHEEEEEEEEE!

Or a million hair bands with a million blow dryers getting their fluff on before a concert.

RHEEEEEEEEE!

Or a really large, really loud mosquito inside my ear canal.

RHEEEEEEEEE!

It's the pitch that gets me even more than the volume. It's this high, tinny, insistent pitch that is instant ear agony. I can't be the only one bothered by it. Why the leaf blower industry can't lower the pitch so that it's a loud but endurable BUUUUUUUH! (think foghorn) instead of a whiny, insistent RHEEEEEEEEE! is beyond me.

Probably it's because it would cost them 20 extra cents per unit for a muffler. Can't have that. No, no. Much better to annoy the hell out of America for all eternity than make a modestly better product. RHEEEEEEEEE!

I also don't get why the industry can get away with creating a product that deafens people three backyards away. Isn't there some sort of federal agency that regulates stuff like that — the Department of Noise or something?

If not, there should be. If nothing else, think of the squirrels and their hearing. Do we really want a generation of squirrels that go around saying, 'What?'

Call me anti-progress, but what was so wrong with rakes? They're quiet and quaint and you get some exercise when you use them. And if you can't or don't want to rake leaves or simply have too many of them, pay a kid, for crying out loud, you cheapskate, or use the time-honored method of letting the wind carry your leaves off to neighboring yards.

Convenience? Yes, I get that leaf blowers are convenient. They prevent sore backs and arms. They save time, I'm sure.

But at what cost? The sheer pervasiveness of leaf blowers has led to the death of peace and quiet on beautiful autumn afternoons in most neighborhoods across America.

If that's not a crime against humanity, I don't know what is.

WHAT MAKES YOU a deplorable is you voted for a racist and you're proud of it.

MR. OBAMA SAYS he's going to express his opinion against Mr. Trump if he feels it's needed. But this is the same man who did not speak out against Islamic radicalism, he did not speak out against the murders at Benghazi, or against the cops who were murdered, and not against the rioting.

PRESIDENT-ELECT TRUMP has said he is going to be too busy to pursue to criminal wrong doings of Hillary Clinton. However, the DOJ, FBI, and our U.S. Congress are going to pursue Hillary Clinton with four separate investigations.

I AM SO excited by all the picks of Mr. Trump as he continues to drain the swamp of Washington, D.C. Please remember we have a corrupt DOJ and a very biased and racist president.

CAN ANYONE PLEASE tell me why it costs so much to have a spare key made for a car? We just paid $325 for a key for our son, because his used car came with only one key. Guess that will be his entire Christmas gift. What a racket.

YES, THOSE SLIPPERY leaves on Sinclair St. Why, I could hardly drive over that 3-inch-high pile. Shame on that handsome young man for cleaning and beautifying his property, while I sit on my couch eating bonbons and wine to the newspaper. Perhaps I could sue the state for falling leaves, too?

ALL BILL CLINTON did was sign the NAFTA bill into law? It wouldn't be a law if he hadn't have signed it. Your argument makes no sense and proves what conservatives are arguing, without Bill Clinton's signature NAFTA wouldn't exist.

THE GRINCH THAT stole Christmas. The Whisperwood board sent an email ordering that we cannot put outside decorations up until after Thanksgiving. And that if you must put up your Christmas tree, do not light it until Nov. 25. Who are they to tell us what we can do inside our own homes?

THE PRESIDENT OF our country just released 39 more of our hardened criminals just before Thanksgiving, totaling 1,032, more than the last 11 presidents combined. I wonder if the families of the five officers who were brutally killed this week feel the same compassion as our leader.

IT'S BEEN A few weeks, but I was impressed how the elections were handled in Argentine Township this year. If all three precincts funneled through the fire hall, it would have been a disaster. Thank you Denise Graves and thank you Argentine Nazarene Church for allowing the community to vote at your building.

THE TALK ABOUT inappropriate discussions from teachers is interesting. Students aren't allowed to tape in the classrooms and one local high school administrator, when told students report something, comments 'you can't believe the students.' Seems like the schools really don't want to know what is going on in the classrooms.

THE PEOPLE WHO voted that President Johnson was one of the greatest, I would like to remind you that he is the president that took our Social Security and put it in the general fund with a Democratic congress.

Judge orders property to be returned to Smiths

■Holly officials vow to fight court order

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

Timm and Maria Smith of Holly Township have won another major battle, but their days in court may not be over.

For the last several years, the Smiths have been embroiled in a lawsuit with Holly Township regarding ownership of a 10-acre portion of the 20-acre property the Smiths once entirely owned.

On May 25, 2016, a consent judgment was entered ordering the township to grant the Smiths an option to purchase the parcel in question. The purchase price was to be determined by an appraisal of the property.

The appraisal was done by Louise Braun. On Sept. 21, the Smiths exercised their option to purchase the parcel and provided an appraisal that was done by Braun.

Braun deemed the 10-acre parcel to be worth zero dollars, citing that it's landlocked. And, in her appraisal, she said adjacent neighbors, who typically purchase parcels like this, were not interested in purchasing the property.

In the most recent court case, on Wednesday, Nov. 16, Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Hala Jarbou signed an order denying Holly Township's request to strike that appraisal.

Jarbou also ordered that Holly Township convey the property to the Smiths by covenant deed.

"Our family is elated and we feel at last we are vindicated," said Maria Smith of the ruling.

On Wednesday, Nov. 16, the Holly Township Board of Trustees voted 4-0 that the township attorney be directed to appeal Jarbou's Nov. 16 order with the Michigan Court of Appeals, that the township attorney be authorized to file any actions he deems are available regarding the purported appraisal of Louise Braun, which could include litigation to recover damages, together with disciplinary proceedings before the Michigan State Board of Real Estate Appraisers.

A third motion was passed which directs the township's zoning administrator and

Police&Fire report

FENTON WOMAN INJURED IN CRASH

A 22-year-old Fenton woman was transported to McLaren Hospital in Pontiac where she was listed in serious condition following a car crash in Highland Township at 8:30 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 20. Oakland County Sheriff's deputies responded to the intersection of M-59 and Milford Road for a personal injury crash involving a Chevrolet Silverado and a Star EMS unit. The EMS unit was en route to an emergency run with lights and sirens activated. It proceeded slowly through a red light for northbound Milford Road and into the path of the Fenton woman's vehicle that proceeded through the intersection on a green light. Both occupants of the Star EMS unit were transported to St. Joseph's Hospital in Pontiac by Star EMS where they were listed in stable condition. Alcohol did not appear to be a factor. The crash remains under investigation.

HOLLY WOMAN ARRESTED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Holly police arrested a 50-year-old Holly woman on Nov. 17 for disorderly conduct and an open criminal bench warrant. According to Holly police records, officers responded to a residence in the 4000 block of Grange Hall Road to investigate trouble between neighbors. A 28-year-old Holly man told police that he heard music loud enough to shake his home and went outside to ask the driver of a vehicle to turn down the music. The driver yelled at the man and sped away. The 50-year-old woman from across the street exited her home and yelled profanities at the Holly man. Police questioned a witness. The officer attempted to question the woman, however, she was uncooperative. He arrested her for disorderly conduct and transported her to the police station for booking. A computer check revealed her outstanding warrant.

ITEMS MISSING FROM HOLLY CHURCH

On Nov. 15, Holly police received a larceny report from the Holly Presbyterian Church on E. Maple St. Sometime between Oct. 2 and Nov. 6, three communion serving plates, a chalice and a serving pitcher went missing from the church. The complainant told police there are several support groups as well as members and board members who have access to the church. The complainant had asked around about the missing items but was not able to locate them. The church would not be claiming the items on their insurance due to the deductible being higher than the cost of the items, but the complainant was instructed to file a police report. The items are valued between $200 and $400. There are no suspects.

LICENSE PLATE STOLEN IN HOLLY

On Nov. 14, Holly police responded to a home in the 4000 block of Grange Hall Road to investigate a report of a stolen license plate. A woman was checking on another home for out-of-town residents and told police that the license plate was missing from their vehicle. The plate was last seen on the vehicle on Nov. 11. The plate was entered into Law Enforcement Information Network as stolen.

ATTEMPTED AUTO BREAK-IN

On Nov. 14, a 59-year-old Holly man filed a malicious destruction of property complaint with Holly police. The man said his pickup truck was parked in the driveway of his home on E. Maple St. at 9 p.m., Nov. 13. When he returned to his truck the next morning, he noticed the back cab window was broken. It appeared someone had tried to pry open the right side of the window, causing it to break. No entry was made into the truck. At this time, there are no suspects or witnesses.

HOUSE WINDOW AND SIDING DAMAGED

On Nov. 14, Holly police were dispatched to a home in the 700 block of Richard St. to investigate a malicious destruction of property complaint. The homeowner told the officer he heard a loud bang outside of his bedroom window. When he looked outside, he didn't see anyone, but the window screen was damaged and he noticed damage to the siding on the house. There are no suspects.

ASSAULTING

During his arraignment on Nov. 18, Hargett pleaded not guilty. He remains lodged at the Oakland County Jail.

The charges stem from incidents that took place in Holly Village on Nov. 17.

According to Holly police reports, officers were dispatched to Hargett's apartment on Maple Street to investigate a "family trouble" call at 10:30 p.m.

While en route, the responding police learned that other officers responded to his apartment at 7 p.m., to take him into custody on an outstanding arrest warrant. He was intoxicated and passed out on the couch.

Due to his intoxication level, the jail could not accommodate him at that time. Police advised Hargett's wife to call police when he awoke so they could take him into custody on an outstanding assault and battery warrant.

The woman called back and police returned to the apartment when Hargett awoke at approximately 10:30 p.m. She told police that her husband had punched holes in the living room walls when he awoke. Police noted that the holes were not there earlier that evening.

According to the police report, Hargett resisted the first police officer to enter the apartment and fled on foot. Two additional police officers arrived. Hargett ignored verbal commands to stop running. The officers sustained injuries when they forcibly apprehended and handcuffed Hargett in a nearby restaurant parking lot.

A probable cause hearing has been scheduled for Friday, Dec. 2 at 8:30 a.m.

News briefs

Overnight parking restrictions in effect for Fenton City

The Fenton Police Department is reminding residents and visitors of Fenton that overnight parking restrictions went into effect on Nov. 1. Fenton police officers have been writing warnings to let drivers know that it is in effect. If anyone has questions, call the station at (810) 629-5311. As stated in city ordinance, parking is prohibited on all city streets and in the municipal parking lots, for snow removal from Nov. 1 to March 31 of each year, between 2 and 5 a.m., except for the following: emergency services personnel (police and fire) in the vicinity of the police station and fire station and properly registered vehicles, if special permits have been issued by the city.

Overnight parking restrictions in effect for Holly Village

It is improper for any vehicles to be parked on the streets of Holly Village between the hours of 3 and 7 a.m. from Nov. 15 through April 15 of each year. During this time, vehicles may be parked in the area between the sidewalk and the street, but such parking is prohibited at all other times. It is also improper for any vehicles to be parked in village-owned parking lots between the hours of 3 and 7 a.m. from Nov. 15 through April 15 of each year except in the following designated areas: (1) the parking lot bounded by Civic Drive and Maple Street and the shops on the west side of S. Saginaw Street — 11 parking spaces west side of middle island, (2) the parking lot bounded by building(s) on the south side of Maple Street on the north, Broad Street on the east, Battle Alley and shops on the south, and the shops on the east side of S. Saginaw Street — 14 parking spaces center two parking lanes, (3) Crapo park parking area -- entire parking lot, and (4) the surfaced area west of the village offices know as Parcel "B" — entire area.

Minor injuries from Owen Road crash

Why virtual bariatric surgery is better

This is the best long term weight loss option

Bariatric surgery seems like the perfect solution. And it might be, if it weren't for the failure rate. Importantly, according to an NIH study, lap-band surgery only has a 65 percent success rate.

Side effects are the problem. According to Pharmacy Times, approximately 40 percent of bariatric patients develop "Dumping Syndrome." During or immediately after a meal, patients report nausea, bloating, cramping, diarrhea, dizziness and then vomiting.

Other problems include fecal incon-tinence. More than a third develop gallstones. Alarming, according to the New York Times, one study calculated suicide rates for patients at five times more than normal.

Virtual Bariatric Surgery, is different. Clients go into hypnotic trance and have imaginary bariatric surgery. Once out of trance, they eat like they've had the surgery, but with zero side effects. And the cost is tiny by comparison to the real surgery. But insurance does not cover it. The great news is this: It has a 74 percent success rate.

Dr. Tomlinson, certified in the procedure, believes hypnosis allows clients to do more. Weight problems are psychological. As such, his eight-week program helps clients with the deep-seated issues that keep clients from losing weight.

Diets fail due to defiance. If we're told we have to - we don't want to. If told we can't, we want it more. Tomlinson Medical Hypnotherapy does it differently: Biochemically, bodies make extra fat four ways. When clients stop, they can easily lose 1-2 pounds per week.

Trim Down Forever! VIRTUAL Bariatric Surgery

Using revolutionary Virtual Gastric Surgery, our eight-week program helps you trim down and get mentally, physically and spiritually healthy so as to promote permanent weight reduction.

Diets only work on the outside. But all the scientific research shows that what goes on in your mind is far more determinate in your ultimate success than what you eat. Remember, it's much easier to change your mind and have that change your body than to try and change your body and hope that it changes your mind.

LOOKING BACK

at this week in

NATIONAL HISTORY

COMPILED BY VERA HOGAN

NOV. 27

1942: Guitar legend Jimi Hendrix is born in Seattle. In the early 1960s, Hendrix worked as a pickup guitarist, backing musicians including Little Richard, B.B. King, Ike and Tina Turner, and Sam Cooke. In 1964, bassist Bryan Chandler (the Animals) brought Hendrix to London in 1966, where they created the Jimi Hendrix Experience. The band's first single, "Hey Joe," hit No. 6 on the British pop charts, and the band became an instant sensation.

NOV. 28

1994: Serial killer Jeffrey Dahmer, serving 15 consecutive life sentences for multiple brutal murders, is beaten to death by a fellow inmate at the Columbia Correctional Institute in Portage, Wisconsin. During a 13-year period, Dahmer murdered men, who were mostly young, gay African Americans who he lured back to his home, promising to pay them money to pose nude for photographs. Dahmer would then drug and strangle them to death, generally mutilating, and occasionally cannibalizing, their bodies.

NOV. 29

1981: Actress Natalie Wood, drowns in a boating accident near California's Catalina Island at the age of 43. Wood gained acclaim for her role as Susan Walker, the little girl who doubts the existence of Santa Claus in Miracle on 34th Street (1947). On the night of Nov. 29, 1981, she was with her husband, actor Robert Wagner, on their yacht "The Splendor," which was moored off Santa Catalina, near Los Angeles. Also on the yacht was actor Christopher Walken. Neither Wagner nor Walken saw what happened to Wood that night, but it was believed she somehow slipped overboard while untying a dinghy attached to the boat. Her body was found in the early hours of the following morning.

NOV. 30

1989: Richard Mallory, a storeowner in Palm Harbor, Florida, is last seen taking a ride with Aileen Wuornos. The following day, his car was found abandoned in a remote area of Ormond Beach. Nearly two weeks later, his body turned up in a Daytona Beach junkyard with three bullets in his chest. Mallory's murder was the first of seven committed by Wuornos over the next year.

DEC. 1

1913: Henry Ford installs the first moving assembly line for the mass production of an entire automobile. His innovation reduced the time it took to build a car from more than 12 hours to two hours and 30 minutes.

DEC. 2

2001: The Enron Corporation files for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection, sparking one of the largest corporate scandals in U.S. history. Under the direction of CEO Kenneth Lay, the company employed 21,000 people in 2001 and posted revenue of $111 billion. Over the next year, Enron's stock price began a dramatic slide. As prices fell, Lay sold large amounts of his own Enron stock, while encouraging Enron employees to buy more shares. Employees saw their retirement savings accounts wiped out as Enron's stock price continued to plummet. By the end of the year, Enron's collapse had cost investors billions of dollars, wiped out some 5,600 jobs and liquidated almost $2.1 billion in pension plans.

DEC. 3

1979: The general admission ticketing policy for rock concerts at Cincinnati's Riverfront Coliseum in the 1970s was known as "festival seating." That term and that ticketing policy would become infamous in the wake of one of the deadliest rock-concert incidents in history. Eleven people, including three high school students, were killed on this day in 1979, when a crowd of general-admission ticket-holders to a "Who" concert surged forward in an attempt to enter Riverfront Coliseum and secure prime unreserved seats inside.

PROPERTY

Dale Smith, who lost his seat in the Nov. 8 election, said, "Once the township was gifted the property by the bank and it became a property belonging to the Holly township taxpayers, we could not give it to anyone, including the Smiths."

Dale Smith also said the property is not landlocked. Both the township and the Smiths have a written Consumers Energy easement. "If it were landlocked how did the Smiths access it for over 10 years," he asked.

"They will probably never leave us in peace, which is a real shame," said Maria Smith. "Hopefully they will give up the ghost and get investigated for corruption and clear abuse of power. Rights are sacred and we are thankful that they were upheld."

TOILET PAPER

A recent look in the paper products aisle at a local grocery store Wednesday morning showed Cottonelle Bathroom Tissue squares are now 3.82 by 4.0 inches, not even square, and a far cry from the former industry standard of 4½ by 4½ inches.

It seems especially ironic that toilet paper sheet sizes have shrunk at the same time Americans' girth has increased. The average American male weighs 15 pounds more today than they did 20 years ago, according to livescience.com, making personal hygiene a more challenging effort with extra pounds and smaller sheets.

Consumer Reports has noticed the toilet paper trend, noting that rolls are becoming narrower, cardboard tubes are getting bigger and sheets are shrinking in size and number. Toilet paper rolls might look the same, but they carry less toilet paper yet the same price tag they did before.

This "bathroom humor" isn't very funny, but it's more than just a simple matter of corporate greed. The same few companies that make toilet paper also make other paper products, and sales of those products haven't flushed out as well.

Paper towel volume is down because of touch-free dispensers and hand dryers, wherever there are public bathrooms. Napkin sales have also dropped 7 percent since 2009, because of an increase in dining out.

Companies know that toilet paper isn't something most Americans will skimp on, even if the squares themselves are skimpier than ever.

Smaller packages and skimpier portions are becoming mainstream in just about every food category at the grocery store — from soups to cereal, even laundry products and over-the-counter medicines. The reality is that food companies have a choice of either raising prices and keeping packages the same, reducing the quantity in the package or a little bit of both.

Manufacturers hide this practice well, by using tricks like keeping the height and width of the package the same, and shrinking the depth. That way, it looks the same on the grocery shelf.

Other common techniques include deepening an indent in the bottom of a beverage bottle or keeping the product package the same and including less product.

It's a trend that doesn't appear to be going away anytime soon.

HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO AT THE GROCERY STORE:

- Become net-weight conscious, not just price-conscious. Look at unit pricing.
- You can go to the store brand and save money that way.
- You can write to the product manufacturer, and express your frustration. Hopefully, you'll at least end up with a few coupons.
- Look for brands within a category that remains unshrunk. For example, Ben & Jerry's pint of ice cream is still 16 oz., as it proudly declares on its lid.
- Rely less on packaged foods by cooking more items from scratch.

OBAMA

Transparency

Obama talked about increasing transparency in the White House while campaigning, yet he has broken this promise.

According to the Associated Press, the Obama administration took action on fewer requests for federal records from citizens, journalists, companies, and others in 2010 compared to previous years, and the past six years have followed suit.

His administration has censored government files, denied access to them under the U.S. Freedom of Information Act, cited legal exceptions, and refused a record number of times to turn over files quickly that could be newsworthy.

Promise kept? NO

Gitmo

Obama signed an executive order to close Guantanamo Bay in 2009, and he has partly kept this promise. Closing the prison, which was opened under the Bush Administration after the 9/11 terrorist attacks, was put on hold after the Paris attacks that killed more than 129 people last year, according to politico.com.

Over 600 detainees have been moved elsewhere, and 61 remain as of August 2016. According to time.com, Obama has been having a difficult time finding another place for them due to restrictions by Congress that prevents the president from moving the detainees to the U.S.

Promise kept? YES & NO

End the War in Iraq and Afghanistan

Obama promised numerous times while campaigning to end the war in Iraq and Afghanistan and bring American troops home. He has mainly kept this promise.

Thousands of troops have returned home, but American forces remain there in a counterterrorism role, according to newsweek.com.

Promise kept? YES

Obamacare

Obama said, "If you like your health care plan, you can keep it." Politifact chose this as the lie of the year in 2013.

The fact-checking site found that when people could sign up for Obamacare, many health insurers cancelled customers' plans and many rates increased.

Promise kept? NO

Taxes

Obama promised he would lower taxes for the middle class, yet taxes rose for many taxpayers because of Obamacare.

According to the Associated Press, the IRS collected $1.5 billion in penalties from taxpayers who were uninsured in 2014.

Promise kept? NO

Improve the economy

Obama promised to improve the economy, and this is a promise he's kept. Under Obama, the economy has grown about 2 percent a year, stocks are up with the Dow and S&P 500 at record highs, and housing prices have recovered to their pre-crash 2005 highs, according to money.cc.com.

Promise kept? YES

Climate change legislation

Obama has taken action on passing climate change legislation. He promised to sign legislation that would use revenue from emissions taxes to invest in clean energy. This would-be-law died in congress.

Obama developed the Clean Power Plan that would limit greenhouse gas emissions from power plants, but it was blocked by the

Supreme Court

Promise kept? NO

Jobs

In his 2012 re-election campaign, Obama said he hoped to create one million new manufacturing jobs. In the past four years, he's almost kept this promise.

According to The Washington Post, U.S. manufacturing has added more than 800,000 jobs since 2010.

Promise kept? YES

Unemployment

Obama promised his $825 billion stimulus package would keep the unemployment rate below 8 percent, and as of July 2016, the unemployment rate was 4.9 percent, according to U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Promise kept? YES

Middle class

Obama promised to grow the middle class, but the middle class has shrunk to the point where it no longer constitutes the majority of the adult U.S. population, according to latimes.com. As of 2015, the upper and lower class combined are larger than the middle class.

MICHIGAN VOTES

LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITY

MichiganVotes.org is a free, non-partisan website created by the Mackinac Center for Public Policy to provide concise, non-partisan, plain-English descriptions of every bill and vote in the Michigan House and Senate. This report was released Friday, Nov. 18.

The Legislature is taking a two-week post-election break. Rather than describing votes this report highlights some of the constitutional amendments legislators have offered. These are all dead for this session but some may be reintroduced after the 99th Michigan Legislature convenes in January.

Senate Joint Resolution I:

Repeal same sex marriage ban

Introduced by Sen. Rebekah Warren (D), to repeal Section 25 of the Michigan Constitution, which states, "To secure and preserve the benefits of marriage for our society and for future generations of children, the union of one man and one woman in marriage shall be the only agreement recognized as a marriage or similar union for any purpose."

Senate Joint Resolution K and N:

Limit referendum on appropriations ban

Introduced by Sen. Rebekah Warren (D) and Sen. Curtis Hertel, Jr. (D) to revise the current prohibition on citizen referendums challenging bills that contain an appropriation. If adopted, the referendum ban would only apply to bills that substantially fund one or more state departments, or which are needed to close current state budget shortfalls. A 2001 Supreme Court ruling prohibited referendums on any bill containing an appropriation, and the Legislature has deliberately made some controversial bills "referendum proof" by adding a modest appropriation.

Senate Joint Resolution M: Replace gas tax increase with 1 percent sales tax increase

Introduced by Sen. Kenneth Horn (R), to increase the state sales tax from 6 percent to 7 percent and use the money for roads, while repealing the gas tax and vehicle registration tax increases enacted by the 2015 Legislature.

Senate Joint Resolution O:

Legalize marijuana

Introduced by Sen. Coleman Young, II (D) to prohibit the legislature from adopting a law that makes adult possession or use of marijuana a criminal or civil offense. Laws regulating production and sales would be allowed, as would laws regulating the time, place and manner of use for public health and safety purposes.

Senate Joint Resolution S: Call for U.S. constitutional amendment to regulate political speech

Introduced by Sen. Steve Bieda (D), to submit an application to Congress calling for a "convention to propose amendments to the U.S. Constitution," limited to proposing an amendment to "address concerns such as those raised by the decision of the United States Supreme Court in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission," which affirmed that unions and "corporations" (including nonprofit groups motivated by ideological or political concerns) possess the same right already recognized for individuals to exercise political free speech, including spending money to get their message out.

House Joint Resolution TT: Call for congressional term limits

Introduced by Rep. Tom Barrett (R), to submit an application to Congress calling for a "convention to propose amendments to the U.S. Constitution," limited to a measure to impose congressional term limits.

■ Mt. Holly could stay open this weekend if it gets cold enough

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

They started making snow at about 6 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 20 ... and if all goes well, Mt. Holly Ski & Snowboard Resort could be open for winter sports enthusiasts very soon.

"It's iffy though," said Mark Tibbitts, general manager on Monday, Nov. 21. "We started blowing snow last night and kept going overnight. We had to stop today though because it got too warm outside."

Tibbitts said the temperature has to get down to 28 degrees before they can make more snow.

Tibbitts said they hope to get started on blowing more snow after 8 p.m. Monday night.

What's new at Mt. Holly?

Tibbitts said, "Last year was not a banner year because of the weather. But we did add five more snow guns."

The older 20 horsepower motors are being replaced with 10 horsepower with the same output, he said.

Doing so has allowed them to keep their electrical costs in check.

"We keep it controlled," said Tibbitts. "We're making the best with what we have going to be more energy efficient."

Mt. Holly Ski & Snowboard Resort is in Groveland Township, near Holly. The resort features seven chairlifts, including southeast Michigan's only high-speed, detachable quad, four rope tows, and two SunKid Wonder Carpets.

According to skimtholly.com, Mt. Holly has a complete alpine and snowboard equipment rental, expertly groomed trails, and world-class ski and snowboard instructors.

PLEADS

Genesee County Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Karen Hanson filed the motion to amend Brewer's false report or threat of terrorism charge to attempted false report of threat of terrorism, a five-year felony.

Brewer's defense attorney Elbert Hatchett said, "We felt, under the circumstances, that's a reasonable disposition in light of the expense and time that's going to be involved in trying the case."

Hanson's motion was granted by Judge Joseph J. Farah.

"We happen to have a very good judge," Hatchett said. "He's showing a lot of circumspection."

Brewer pleaded no contest to the amended charge. With this no contest plea, the prosecutor's office agreed to drop the conspiracy to commit homicide in the first degree charge.

A sentencing date has been scheduled for Jan. 23, 2017.

Kody Brewer's defense attorney

Brewer is out on bond. He has a GPS tether and must stay in the home of his parents.

This situation came after Argentine police discovered messages exchanged between Brewer, and his co-defendants Ryan Stevens, 19, and Lamarr Dukes, 16, that indicated the planning of a school shooting. The alleged incident occurred Oct. 27, 2015.

All three teens were arrested. The adult charges against Dukes were dropped Sept. 26, and he was sent to a yearlong rehabilitation program in Grove City, Pennsylvania.

Stevens was lodged in the Genesee County Jail. He recently posted bond and his case is pending in circuit court.

He was released on a GPS tether under special conditions. He must live with his mother in Brighton, have no contact with co-defendants or the victims, and he cannot use computers or social media.

TRAIN

by CN Railroad in the city of Fenton, getting the word out to keep people off the tracks is the most important safety message.

"In the last 15 years, we have seen more train-trespasser accidents," said Fenton Police Chief Rick Aro. "We have had five train-trespasser and one train-car. We have met with the railroad and plan to do some educational sessions at our schools, as well as eliminate some commonly used 'shortcuts' across railroad property."

Aro, Fenton School Superintendent Adam Hartley and an inspector from CN Railroad met last Friday, Nov. 18 to determine the next steps for public education and awareness. "People might also notice an increased presence of CN railroad police patrolling local tracks," said Aro.

The Canadian National Police Service is a private railroad police force protecting the property, personnel and rail infrastructure of the CN Railway in Canada and the U.S.

The word "trespasser" is used to describe a person who is walking along the trails, against state and federal laws, a term that applies in both recent railroad fatalities in Fenton. A "pedestrian" is someone walking along a marked crosswalk.

"Railroads are private property," said Sam Crowl of Operation Lifesaver, a rail safety organization. According to state law, railroad tracks should be crossed only at designated locations where the roadway and/or sidewalks cross the tracks.

"Crossing at another location is trespassing, a misdemeanor punishable by 30 days in jail and/or a $100 fine," said Aro. "When crossing tracks in a vehicle, you must obey the warning lights and crossing gates. Ignoring these safety measures is very dangerous and also a crime."

Crowl said more people used to be killed in train-vehicle accidents than in pedestrian trespasser accidents. He attributes deadly distractions, like walking with headphones along a railroad track, to be one of the major reasons for the increase in fatalities.

"When you're walking with your back to the track with loud music in your headphones, you're just not paying attention," he said. "The gravel (on the roadbed) muffles the sound. You won't hear the train even though the engineer blows the whistle. Most locomotives have cameras in the cabin, so there's a recording of the accident. A person on the tracks generally didn't hear the approaching train, or they would jump back."

According to Crowl, every three hours, there's a person or vehicle hit by a train in the U.S. Through September in Michigan, there have been 10 pedestrian trespassers killed out of 15 accidents. Forty train-vehicle accidents have taken place with five fatalities and 15 injuries. In Michigan, there is an average of five to seven suicides on train tracks per year, ruled that way by the coroner.

Nationally, there are 600 trespasser fatalities and 500 fatal crashes a year. About 200 train deaths are ruled a suicide each year in the U.S.

"The behavior we see most often are vehicles ignoring the warning lights and crossing gates at railroad crossings or driving around the gates," said Aro.

Victoria Lane, 15, died after being struck by this train Nov. 14, near Main Street in Fenton.

"Both of these actions are misdemeanors. Trespassing on the railroad right-of-way (tracks) is another problem we deal with on a somewhat regular basis. The incidents we have experienced this (past) week illustrate just what can happen."

Train crews also affected by railroad accidents

The person who loses their life on a railroad track is not the only victim of the tragedy.

An engineer spotting someone on the tracks will throw on emergency brakes and lean on the horn, but averting tragedy is often impossible. Operation Lifesaver says it takes the average freight train more than a mile to bring a freight train from 55 mph to a complete stop.

Train operators are educated to accept that they will likely be involved in a fatal incident during some point in their careers.

According to Sam Crowl of Operation Lifesaver, the average engineer will experience five or six fatalities during their career. Crowl, an employee for Conrail for 40 years, experienced two deaths during his career, adding that he only worked for a short time as an engineer, and was mostly in management.

Fatalities like these require many train engineers and conductors to undergo therapy to cope with the aftermath of emotions.

"There are Employee Assistance Counselors available to them," said Crowl. "By union contract, they are able to take up to three days off work. Some do, and some don't."

Some engineers deal with the tragedies more quickly than others, while others are deeply affected, with post-traumatic stress syndrome, nightmares, etc.

It's not only the train engineers, but also the conductors, rail staff and the first responders who come upon the scene.

The Rail Safety Improvement Act of 2008 required railroads to offer time off, if requested, for employees involved in deadly track incidents.

Fenton's fall season was fantastic

■ Tigers' teams captured seven of eight Metro League championships

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

It started with girls golf.

The Fenton varsity girls golf team opened the season with a nice pre-season Metro League victory. However, after that Flushing defeated Fenton in a dual and it took Fenton winning the postseason tournament to get the Tigers to win Fenton's first Metro League title of the fall.

One would've suspected the Tigers would get a few more. And they did just that. Eventually, Fenton won both the boys and girls cross country championships and then the boys soccer title. It didn't stop there. The Tigers appeared to have the inside track for the championships in volleyball, football and girls swimming and diving. All of those teams held on to those inside tracks, eventually winning Metro League championships in each of the sports.

Before the Tigers knew it, they had done something that hasn't been done in Metro League history ever before. Fenton had won seven of eight fall sport championships. And even the

Owosso joining Flint Metro League next fall

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Fenton athletic director Mike Bakker has been at Fenton High School for 13 years.

In the time he's been at Fenton he's seen a lot of changes in the Flint Metro League.

He's pretty much embraced it, realizing that's just one of the dynamics of being involved in a high school conference. Bakker and the rest of the Flint Metro League are going to have to get used to another change starting with the 2017-18 school year.

Owosso High School is going to become the league's ninth member starting next fall.

"I think as athletic directors we have to be watching out for making sure we are not looking at just right now, but we are looking at the future of our league," Bakker said. "We've seen a lot of changes that have taken place in the league over the years for whatever the reasons. ... I've been here for 13 years now and I've seen the likes of Oxford, Lapeer East and West who have all left, but I've also seen our league grow with members like Clio, Swartz Creek, Kearsley and Flushing. ... Inevitably, there's change and so I think we are doing a good job of making sure we keep our eyes open to those opportunities when they present themselves."

David's Dabblings

A few thoughts about the area's sports scene and others not dealing with sports at all.

THE UPS AND DOWNS IN LIFE

Occasionally things happen in life that surprise you in a pleasant way.

Something like finding a $5 bill in the dryer will do that.

Occasionally something will just drive you crazy. For example, being glued to a show just to have it interrupted by the Emergency Broadcasting System for what is "only a test." is one of them.

I thought I'd bring up a few lighter humored things that may fit in both categories.

Wow, I'm not broke after all

Tuesday, I freaked out a little bit. I was at a gas station and was at the register and needed to purchase my gas. I looked in my wallet and saw two $5 bills and some singles. I thought I was going to be broke after paying for my $20 worth of gas. Well, I was wrong.

I think I may have broken the record for the most singles in my wallet for no good reason on that day. I ended up taking one of the fives and then giving the cashier 15 singles, and still had plenty of other singles. I finally counted them yesterday. I had $18 in singles remaining in my wallet. That means I had 33 one-dollar bills in my wallet the previous day. I went from thinking I was broke, to still having a decent amount of money. I found that one pretty cool.

Winter Sundays

I still haven't gotten used to it getting dark so early. And the early darkness sparks one thing that drives me crazy annually.

When it gets dark on Sunday nights, that usually represents the time I start changing my focus from the weekend to what I need to do the next week at work.

I enjoy my work, but who doesn't want to be able to enjoy the time they have off as long as possible? I want to. And that's what I find bothersome about winter Sundays. This Sunday I'll be thinking about what I need to do for work somewhere between 5:30 and 6 p.m. Six months from now, that time will be at about 9 p.m. That's about four extra hours of extra leisure time. Gosh, how we rob ourselves.

Here are a few 'ups' that keep me going.

Those days when I play the gas station price game correctly - I love this 'game.' Maybe I'll drive late at night and see the price of gas is $2.01. I can get gas tonight or wait until tomorrow morning to see what happens to the price. I love when I wait and see the price went down two cents, or if I get it and see the price is up two cents.

Another game I love at the gas pump (when I'm right) is guessing exactly how much room I have left in my gas tank.

Linden's new coach motivates players

By David Troppens
dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Linden — One quick glance at a Linden varsity boys basketball practice and one thing is apparent.

It seems first-year varsity boys basketball coach Chris Root has already earned the warmth of his players.

During Monday's practice he joked with his players for a few minutes, and then had their undivided attention prior to doing some drill work. Practices aren't early for this team either — they start at 7 p.m. daily.

Yet, the atmosphere appears high as the Eagles prepare for the start of the Root era. Root is replacing Anthony Wright, who resigned as head coach earlier this school year. It hasn't given Root much time to learn about the players on his team. He's only been around since early October. But, that hasn't kept him from learning about them.

"It will be a good challenge, but I'm not afraid of the challenge," Root said. "The last few years I've been working on putting some things together, preparing for the next opportunity I got. I had a few things set to go, I just didn't know when I'd be able to implement them, and now I have that chance."

Root is Linden's Director of Athletics Greg Durkac's first major hiring for a coaching position since he took over his position at the start of this season. Durkac is impressed with Root.

"He's very proactive and very organized," Durkac said. "He has a very energetic tone with the kids. He is a very positive motivator. He's excited when he's on the basketball court. I've been to his tryouts the last couple of nights and I'm impressed watching his organizational skills. He has a clipboard in hand, and is taking notes like a teacher. He works with kids in an education format."

Root has coached varsity boys basketball before. His first job was in 2000-01 when he coached at Harrison High School. The team had a successful season, winning a league and district title. He then moved to Montrose and became the varsity boys basketball coach there. He moved from there and was the JV coach for two years at Carman-Ainsworth. He then became the varsity assistant coach for six year. The last three years he's been the freshman boys basketball coach at Montrose, the school where he teaches.

"I've interviewed a few places but was turned down," Root said. "The Linden job opened up and I put my name in, and got the job."

"I've been looking to get a varsity coaching job again and wanted to coach at the Class A level. Linden gave me both opportunities."

LFLF gymnasts start season with weekend title

By David Troppens
dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The LFLF co-op gymnastics team has started its third season and has done it in grand style.

The Linden/Fenton/Lake Fenton girls gymnastics team took first place at the Milford/Lakeland Early Bird Invitational against the six other teams in the field.

The beam was the team's top event.

"The highlight of my day was watching six of the seven girls who competed have no-fall beam routines," LFLF coach Nancy Harden said. "This was a great way to start the season."

Blake Hutchings led the squad on the beam by taking first (9.475), followed by Miranda Stephens in second (9.325), Macy Mitchell in third (8.85), Jordan Dawson in sixth (8.25) and Morgan Smith in seventh (8.16).

Hutchings had an outstanding meet, taking first two other events. She won the vault (8.75) and the floor (8.875) while taking third on the bar (8.35). Stephens also had a solid day, finishing second on the beam (9.325), third on the floor (8.825) and eighth on the vault (8.100).

FALL

Bakker said.

"That's when we started looking at it and realized, 'Wow, we are having a really good year.' Then as you looked closer we realized we controlled our destiny for league titles in seven out of eight of these things."

It wasn't just in Metro League competition these teams thrived. It also became a pretty special season in postseason tournaments as well. The boys soccer team made school history by advancing to the Division 2 state semifinal contest, while the Fenton girls golf team finished ninth in the state.

The Fenton football team advanced to a regional championship game for the third time in school history, and Fenton volleyball just recently ended its state run. The Fenton volleyball team also made school history by becoming the first Fenton volleyball squad to advance to the Class A state semifinals.

Self-check lanes - They don't exist for our convenience. They exist so the business doesn't have to pay another worker something around minimum wage. Whenever I can, I go to the one lane that has a regular cashier to force them to keep on extra employee on the clock.

Noticing it's 12:35 - Come on. I can't be the only one that thinks 12:34 is the coolest time of the day. I hate it when I realize I missed seeing it on the clock by one minute.

Here are few more 'downs' that drive me batty.
