NEW YEAR'S EVE

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | TIM JAGIELO

The Fenton Hotel Tavern & Grill Bartender Joe Schafer mixes a drink during the dinner rush Tuesday night. Schafer has bartended here for 20 years. While many things in life change, Schafer said that the New Year's Eve celebration really doesn't. He expects to be busy that night.

Are you getting tired of ringing in the new year watching Dick Clark's Rockin' New Year's Eve on TV? Maybe that was OK when the kids were little, but now you're ready to go out and have some real fun with great food and live entertainment.

Or perhaps you're a newbie to the New Year's Eve scene and now that you've reached that magic age of 21, you want to ring in 2017 with friends.

If so, there's good news. Several local restaurants are making plans and taking reservations to ensure their guests have the best New Year's Eve celebration of all time this year.

The Fenton Winery & Brewery is one of them. They plan to celebrate all day and include the college football playoffs. The fun begins at noon in the Taproom and lasts until 1 a.m. on Jan. 1.

According to their website, "Our owners are big Clemson fans (and who doesn't want to root against Ohio State?) so join us for some fun in the taproom."

There is no cover charge. Playoffs will be shown on a 120-inch screen. A host of new wines and beers will be released. The food promises to be fabulous with prime rib and chicken wings, French onion soup and a new dessert pizza.

Fenton Winery & Brewery is at 1370 N. Long Lake Road, Fenton. For more information, call (810) 373-4194, or email drink@fentonwinery.com.

Beale St. Smokehouse BBQ also is planning a smokin' good time on New Year's Eve. Ring in the new year with live music from "The Lost City Band," from 8 p.m. Dec. 31 to 12 a.m. Jan. 1, 2017. They will be offering their full BBQ menu or smoked prime rib until midnight. Guests will also receive champagne and party favors at midnight.

Drinks and appetizers will be available after the ball drops. There is no cover charge. Make reservations by calling (810) 750-0507. Beale St. is at 2461 North Road in Fenton (U.S. 23, Exit 80).

Reservations also are being accepted at the Fenton Hotel Tavern & Grille, 302 N. Leroy St., Fenton.

The Fenton Hotel Tavern & Grille continues to greet hungry patrons as it did when it was first built while the railroads came to Fenton in 1856. They feature a daily menu with a variety of delicious

New Year's Eve traditions include kissing and singing

No matter where people choose to celebrate the new year, it's a good bet a TV will be around somewhere and most of them will join the countdown and watch the ball drop in Times Square in New York City.

The kiss

At the stroke of midnight it is customary to give the loved one nearest you a big kiss. Superstition has it that if you fail to kiss someone at when the clock strikes 12, you are destined for a year of loneliness.

"Auld Lang Syne"

Singing "Auld Lang Syne" is another favorite tradition. It is supposed to inspire goodwill toward men. The song's title, which translates roughly to "times gone by" — has five verses, but if you know the first, you'll already be miles ahead of your guests or companions who've had a little too much champagne.

Fireworks and noise

Fireworks and noise-making on New Year's eve is believed to have originated in ancient times, when noise and fire were thought to ward off evil spirits and bring good luck.

The "bubbly"

The tradition of drinking champagne to mark celebrations like the New Year originated in the royal courts of Europe prior to 1789, where the expensive drink was viewed as a status symbol.

I promise to ...

A New Year's resolution is a promise a person makes for the new year, such as quitting smoking, losing weight, exercising more, to name a few. Good luck with that.

Just sayin'...

vhogan@tctimes.com

Can't say that anymore

My coworkers and I were talking the other day about things people used to say or do that are no longer appropriate or, if you prefer, politically correct.

It came up when I was putting together the piece (on B3) about famous rockers that are over 70 years old. I told them that many years ago, I watched Little Richard being interviewed on TV. The interviewer asked him if he was 'gay.'

'Of course I'm gay,' he said with a big smile. 'I am happy all the time.'

It was clearly very obvious that he was not aware that the young interviewer was questioning him about his sexual orientation.

When I was in sixth grade, I was in my school's Christmas play. I don't remember the name of the play, but it was about a bunch of broken toys that Santa Claus failed to pick up.

I played the part of an "Aunt Jemima" doll. I was dressed like the Aunt Jemima on the pancake syrup bottle from head to toe — including the black face.

I also had to sing a song called "Ho Cake Town." It started out, "Ooooooh, I wants to go down to Ho Cake Town..." I also did a little jiggle of the pillows on my chest, belly and butt while I sang.

My dad said our next door neighbor, who was a Kankakee, Illinois police officer at the time, laughed so hard he peed his pants.

Can you even imagine a little girl being asked to play such a role in today's Christmas plays? I think not.

In seventh and eighth grade, we performed the "Twelve Days of Christmas." I played one of the eight maids a milking and nine ladies dancing, respectively. Much safer I think.

'Queer' — that's another word we can no longer use — even to describe something that is strange, odd or peculiar.

You know, like that rare occasion when someone digs up a potato that looks like a Valentine's heart or something. 'Oh look, this is queer.' Not — can't say it.

In my 1969 yearbook (sophomore year), many friends wrote notes. One of them named Karen, who I don't remember at all, wrote, 'Dear Vera, I'm glad I met you this year. Last year when I first met you I thought you were queer. But not no more, aren't you glad? Well, I'll see you this summer especially at work. Well, good luck with Chris (I don't remember a Chris either) and have a great summer.

Love, Karen.'

I thought nothing of being called 'queer' back then, except maybe if she was making fun of my hair or shoes or something.

Years later, in 1995, when I started working for the Tri-County Times, the editorial staff was in its weekly meeting. It was the beginning of December and Holly Whetstone was the editor.

Jan Rynearson (who died in February of 2011 at the age of 77) said, 'I want to write a story about when the Japs bombed Pearl Harbor.'

Holly almost fell out of her chair. 'Jaaaaan, you can't say that!' But Jan didn't think anything of it. She was 8 years old on Dec. 7, 1941 and in her mind, the 'Japs' did bomb Pearl Harbor. You could tell by the look on her face that she didn't know she said something wrong.

Jan, who would never purposely say anything to hurt anyone ever, also was fond of using descriptive phrases like, 'that little colored fella.'

Yes, things have certainly changed over the years, but we really need to lighten up. Maybe it's my inner hippie talking, but people are way too uptight these days.

And, at the risk of saying something that is shockingly becoming inappropriate in some circles, I want to wish you all a very Merry Christmas!

ROCK ON!

■ These over-70 singers, musicians and songwriters are still rocking on!

By Vera Hogan
vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

Mick Jagger (70)

Mick Jagger is the lead singer for The Rolling Stones. Among his many top hits are "Jumpin' Jack Flash," "Paint it Black," and "Angie."

Current status: The Rolling Stones are rumored to be touring again in 2017.

Paul McCartney (71)

Paul McCartney was one of the "Fab Four" with the Beatles. Later, he founded the band Wings, and then went out on his own. His post-Beatles songs include "Maybe I'm Amazed," "Band on the Run," "Silly Love Songs," and more.

Current status: He still stages stadium concerts all over the world.

Aretha Franklin (71)

Aretha Franklin is known as "the Queen of Soul." Among her top hits are "Respect," "Think," "Natural Woman," "Chain of Fools" and many more.

Current status: A medical scare a couple of years ago had media outlets practically writing her obituary, but Franklin survived and is now back on the road.

Bob Dylan (72)

Bob Dylan has just been honored with a Nobel Peace Prize in Literature. His countless famous songs include "Blowin' in the Wind," "Like a Rolling Stone," "Mr. Tambourine Man" and "Forever Young."

Current status: He's been on the Never Ending Tour since the summer of 1988.

Smokey Robinson (73)

Smokey Robinson sang with the Miracles before going solo. His many hits include "The Tracks of My Tears," "Tears of a Clown," "Oooh, Baby Baby."

Current status: Robinson tours year round, performing songs from his solo career as well as Miracles classics and songs he wrote for other artists, such as "My Girl" for The Temptations.

Neil Diamond (72)

Neil Diamond has so many favorite hits it's hard to pick just a few. But they include "Sweet Caroline," "Cracklin' Rosie," "Solitary Man" and "Cherry Cherry."

Current status: He is scheduled to bring his 2017 tour to Detroit with a June 2 performance at The Palace of Auburn Hills.

Jerry Lee Lewis (78)

Jerry Lee Lewis is a pioneer of rock and roll and "rockabilly" music. Known as "The Killer," two of his greatest songs include "Whole Lotta Shakin' Goin' On" and "Great Balls of Fire."

Current status: His once busy concert schedule has been reduced to a small number of gigs a year.

Frankie Valli (79)

Frankie Valli was one of The Four Seasons, the crooners of the day. Songs like "Can't Take My Eyes off of You," "My Eyes Adored You," "Sherry," and "Big Girls Don't Cry" are among a host of favorites.

Current status: Valli is still hitting the high notes with a new lineup of the Four Seasons. He also acts occasionally and even appeared on an episode of The Sopranos.

Little Richard (80)

Little Richard is another singer whose countless songs can be sung word for word by his many fans. They include "Good Golly Miss Molly," "Long Tall Sally," "Lucille," and the ever popular "Tutti Frutti."

Current status: Little Richard has been plagued by health problems in recent years and is largely confined to a wheelchair, but still makes occasional brief live appearances.

Chuck Berry (86)

Chuck Berry is truly one of rock and roll's earliest pioneers. His music and style especially influenced British rock bands, including the Beatles and Rolling Stones. Great songs attributed to Berry include "Johnny B. Goode," "Maybelene," "My Ding a Ling," and "Sweet Little Sixteen" to name a few.

Current status: Berry performs once a month at Blueberry Hill in his native St. Louis.

Grace Slick (77)

Famous for her performances with Jefferson Airplane, some of her best performances include "White Rabbit" and "We Built This City."

Current status: Grace Slick has switched gears and is now an artist and painter.

■ Experts share advice to improve financial future

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

We asked two local, successful financial experts whose life's work it is to make people millionaires, and one millennial who is on the fast track to becoming one, the same question.

The question is:

"I am 23 years old and still live with my parents. I can't not live with my parents because I pay $215 a month in student loans (for the next 20 years) and $150 a month for my car. That does not include any insurance, my cell phone or anything else like clothes, etc. I have a good job, but it does not pay enough to cover my bills. There is no way I could afford an apartment, especially in the tri-county area. Many of my friends are in the same boat with similar and much higher monthly bills. What advice do you have for young people like us?"

"So here are a few ideas. Create a budget. Figure out what it really takes to maintain your 'lifestyle.' Be honest about your expenses. Starbucks coffee, a new car and the latest smart phone are luxuries not necessities.

"Set goals. You want to move out of the folk's house by when? What will it take to get there? What's your first step? Where will you economize?"

"Be honest about goals and desires. Maybe optimal just won't work, but with a little luck, good enough will. Start saving. Pay yourself first. Build that emergency fund.

"Consider working in areas which offer Public Service Loan Forgiveness. There are a number of programs offering some form of loan forgiveness or direct payments. Research these.

mend purchasing a small multi-family building that is two to four units.

"These type of properties can be purchased for as little as 3.5 percent down with 30-year mortgages so the payments are very low. Buyers with credit scores as low as 600 can still qualify. With the way the numbers work out on a transaction quite often the owner can rent the spare units and live in one of the unit's expense free with the tenant(s) paying the bills for the building.

"Managing such properties in Genesee County is made easy because of the Genesee Landlord Association (GLA) that can teach you how to do everything for just a little over $100.

"Once you are ready to move on past the duplex you can rent the unit you lived in and it will help offset part of your new mortgage expense.

"Essentially the plan is to get other people (tenants) to pay your bills for you so you don't have to."

'Chrimukkah' started this weekend

■ This year's Jewish festival of lights began Dec. 24, ends Jan. 1, 2017

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

It's "Chrimukkah" time again, when the Jewish festival of lights celebration overlaps with the Christian celebration of the birth of Jesus Christ.

This year, Chanukah begins on Dec. 24 and ends on Jan. 1, 2017. The next time Chanukah (or Hanukkha) will overlap with Christmas again is Dec. 23-30, 2019.

For those who have never heard of Chrimukkah, it was a faux holiday, created by Seth Cohen (portrayed by Adam Brody) on the FOX television series, The O.C. for his protestant-Jewish family.

The final episode of The O.C. aired in February 2007, but the term "Chrimukkah" has lived on.

What is Chanukah?

Chanukah is the Jewish eight-day, wintertime "festival of lights," celebrated with a nightly menorah lighting, special prayers and fried foods.

The Hebrew word Chanukah means "dedication," and is thus named because it celebrates the rededication of the Holy Temple. Also spelled Hanukkah (or variations of that spelling), the Hebrew word is actually pronounced with a guttural, "kh" sound, kha-nu-kah, not tcha-new-kah.

In the second century BCE (Before Common Era), the Holy Land was ruled by the Seleucids (Syrian-Greeks), who tried to force the people of Israel to accept Greek culture and beliefs instead of mitzvah observance and belief in Gd (see sidebar).

The game of dreidel was inspired by a German game played at Christmastime, which is itself an imitation of an English and Irish one.

Against all odds, a small band of faithful Jews, led by Judah the Maccabee, defeated one of the mightiest armies on earth, drove the Greeks from the land, reclaimed the Holy Temple in Jerusalem and rededicated it to the service of Gd.

When they sought to light the temple's menorah (the seven-branched candelabrum), they found only a single cruse of olive oil that had escaped contamination by the Greeks. Miraculously, they lit the menorah and the one-day supply of oil lasted for eight days, until new oil could be prepared under conditions of ritual purity.

To commemorate and publicize these miracles, the sages instituted the festival of Chanukah.

The following are some things people may not know about Chanukah:

The coins

Gelt, the Yiddish word for coins, is a relatively new tradition — and no one knows who invented it.

While coins — "gelt" or money have been part of Chanukah observance for centuries, chocolate gelt is considerably younger. Opinions differ concerning the origins of chocolate gelt.

Some credit America's Loft candy company with creating it in the 1920s, while others suggest there were European versions earlier that inspired Israel's Elite candy company. Chocolate gelt is said to resemble a European Christmas tradition of exchanging gold-covered chocolate coins "commemorating the miracles of St. Nicholas."

Chanukah story is not in the Hebrew Bible

The books of Maccabees, which tell the story of Chanukah, weren't included in the Hebrew Bible — but they are in the Catholic Bible.

There are different theories explaining why the first-century rabbis who canonized the scriptures omitted the Maccabees, ranging from the text's relative newness at the time to fears of alienating the Roman leadership in control of Jerusalem at the time.

Game of dreidel

The game of dreidel was inspired by a German game played at Christmastime,

Chanukah or Hanukkah?

In Hebrew, the language from which the Jewish festival originates, the word for Hanukkah is not easily transliterated into English. This accounts for why there are so many spelling variants. But Hanukkah and Chanukah are the two versions that are most widely used and accepted.

Why G-d instead of God

According to reformjudaism.org, writing "G-d" instead of God is a fairly recent custom in America. Many believe this to be a sign of respect, and the custom comes from an interpretation of the commandment in Deuteronomy 12:3-4 regarding the destruction of pagan altars.

According to the medieval commentator, Rashi, we should not erase or destroy God's name and should avoid writing it.

which is itself an imitation of an English and Irish one.

The Eastern European game of dreidel (including the letters nun, gimmel, hey, shin) is directly based on the German equivalent of the British totum game: N = Nichts = nothing; G = Ganz = all; H = Halb = half; and S = Stell ein = put in. In German, the spinning top was called a "torrel" or "trundl."

Greasy foods

Oily food (latkes and sufganiyot) isn't Chanukah's only culinary tradition.

Traditionally, Chanukah has included foods containing cheese, whose liberal recognition of Judith use of the salty treat facilitated a victory for the Maccabees.

RECIPE

Cheese latkes

To combine the two unhealthy but delicious traditions, try this recipe for cheese latkes.

INGREDIENTS:

- Peanut oil
- 1 teaspoon garlic or 2 garlic cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon salt or tamari
- 2 potatoes
- 2/3 lb. farmer's cheese, dry cottage cheese, or dry feta
- 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
- 2-1/2 Tablespoons matzah meal or flour
- 2 eggs

PREPARATION:

Peel, cube, and boil potatoes. Mash. Add cheese. Beat eggs well and add. Add matzah meal or flour, baking powder, and spices. Heat oil until hot and put large spoonful for each pancake. Cook until brown and flip.

The former Hot Shots Photography has a new owner and expanded photo studio

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Local photographer Erik Smith bought the former Hot Shots Photography one year ago from owners Glenn and Joanne Tower. They had owned the business for almost 20 years. Now known as HSP Imaging, the business is located in Lakewinds Plaza, near Walsh Chiropractic, 1537 North LeRoy St., Fenton.

What is your main niche in photography?

We are a full service photography studio, doing senior portraits, weddings, families, pets, special occasion, children's and newborn photography. We do in-studio work, as well as on location, and offer packages. We photograph teams at area schools, including Fenton, Lake Fenton, Bendle and some work in Holly. We shoot many youth sports leagues in Fenton and Linden, including Upward Basketball.

What sets your business apart?

We have our own in-house photo lab, which provides top-level products under our own control. We can also turn around jobs quickly because our work is done in-house.

Who is on your staff?

Our lab manager, Sheena Harris, has been with the company for eight years.

Amanda Allen is our studio manager and our lead photographer is Peter Putman.

What's new at HSP Imaging?

We just expanded our business space and put in a new state-of-the-art 1,300 square foot photo studio in November.

The "Hotel" offers the only live piano bar with live entertainment in Fenton. For more information and to make New Year's Eve reservations, call (810) 750-9463.

Boston's, at 3324 Owen Road, must be planning a pretty classy affair for New Year's Eve. Guests are encouraged to "dress to impress." They will enjoy entertainment via a soundtrack by Chachi. There is no cover charge and a champagne toast will be provided.

For more information, call Boston's at (810) 750-5800.

Always a crowd-pleaser, The Laundry, at the corner of Adelaide and Shiawassee in Fenton, is hosting a big New Year's celebration. In addition to dinner service until 11 p.m., craft cocktails and punch service will be available until 1 a.m.

Their New Year's Eve celebration will feature live jazz from the Jack McDonald Trio and a champagne toast. Reservations are not required, but for more information, call (810) 629-8852.

In the Linden area, be sure to check out the New Year's Eve hours Shirley's Café & Grill, 522 W. Broad St., Linden. Shirley's will be open for breakfast and lunch from 7 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Ekklesia on the Water, a new sports bar and eatery on Silver Lake Road in Argentine, may be your New Year's Eve hot spot. For more information, call (810) 458-6147.

Just a little out of the way, Cranberries Spirits and Dining Café in Goodrich encourages guests to make their New Year's Eve reservations early. They can be reached by calling (810) 636-3407. Visit their website at www.cranberries-cafe.com. They are at 10250 Hegel Road in Goodrich.

Chris Wilkinson, Certified Mechanic

Q: Hi there. I have a 2008 Honda Civic 2.2ctdi. Anytime I turn the heat on, the fan starts making a noise which gets louder and louder. However when I turn the heat off, the fan makes more noise and immediately stops. When I'm driving and steer the wheel to the left as I turn, the heater rattles then starts making noise. Any ideas? Please help, Thanks.

- Randall

A: Randall, this sounds like a blower motor wheel that is coming loose. You will need to take the blower motor out to check this, but also be aware that this time of year that small animals like to hide nuts and other items in places like this. Don't be surprised to find this and if you do, try spraying some perfume or ammonia around the fender wells and under the car as this odor will offend the little rodents. Be careful not to spray on to anything that may get hot or create a spark as these items can be flammable.

BUSINESS HAS BEEN 'DOWNHILL' AT MT. HOLLY FOR 60 YEARS

Local ski and snowboard resort continues to be a landmark recreation area

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Mt. Holly Ski & Snowboard Resort is celebrating its 60th anniversary this year. Mark Tibbitts, general manager and president of Mt. Holly Resort, Inc., has been at the helm since 1997. He began working at Mt. Holly part-time in 1977 and became Lift Operations Manager in 1979. He also holds a stockholder interest as part owner, but Mother Nature is a strong silent partner.

What has been the biggest change at Mt. Holly in the last 60 years?

Most assuredly, the snowmaking. Mt. Holly was one of the first areas to have snowmaking in Southeastern Michigan. Starting in December 1956 with just a few crude duckbill snowmaking apparatus, by 1979 the fleet had grown to 20 machines. In the early 1980s, with our challenging climate, Mt. Holly expanded its snowmaking capability, adding at least 10 snowmaking machines annually. Our current fleet is 145, quickly able to correct any adverse conditions from Mother Nature.

Mt. Holly Ski and Snowboard Resort is celebrating its 60th year in business. It was one of the first ski resorts to begin making its own snow. Here, skiers wait at the top of the Woodward ski trail.

The second biggest change is the capacity to move skiers up the hill. In a nutshell, early uphill capacity in the 1950s ranged from 2,000-2,500 passengers per hour, compared to today's capacity of more than 13,000 passengers per hour.

What's the earliest you've ever opened, and when's the latest you've ever skied in the spring?

In my 39-year career, the earliest was very recent, Nov. 13, 2013. The latest in recent years was March 26, but in the mid 1970s, a closing was noted after the first week of April.

Any plans for improvements or growth for the 2016-17 ski season?

Mt. Holly added five snow-making machines to its fleet this year. In addition, a water cooling system was added to its snowmaking pond to help improve snow making production.

What sets Mt. Holly apart from other ski resorts?

First of all, we're close by, right here in Groveland Township, near Holly. Everything you need is right here with seven chairlifts, including southeast Michigan's only high-speed detachable quad, four rope tows and two SunKid Wonder Carpets.

We offer complete alpine/snowboard equipment rental, 19 expertly groomed trails, three snowboard parks, world-class instruction, paver patio and fire pit, a Bavarian lodge with two cafeterias, a fireplace room, a lounge with two additional fireplaces and full-service ski shop.

Zero-calorie drinks no match for water

DEAR DR. ROACH:
I walk 30-60 minutes about four times a week and drink several times from a water bottle that I carry with me. Would it be OK to occasionally substitute caffeine-free diet soda for the water?

ANSWER:
I've talked a few times about diet soda, and the controversy about whether it helps people lose weight or whether, despite having zero calories, it makes people more likely to gain weight. There has been evidence for both. A recent and fascinating study was published showing that artificially sweetened beverages predispose a person to higher blood sugars, and that the effect was due to changes in the bacteria in our gut (called the microbiome). These bacteria have become the focus of intensive study of how important they are for our overall health. I recommend against habitual use of artificially sweetened beverages. Occasional use of diet soda is unlikely to harm much; however, water — still or bubbly, plain or with a wedge of fruit — is the best and most natural way to hydrate.

DEAR DR. ROACH:
I am 68 years old, and will be having bypass surgery soon. After my surgery, will L-arginine be good for my heart? I know I will be walking every day.
— G.J.S.

ANSWER:
L-arginine, an amino acid, has been shown to increase nitric oxide in blood vessels of people with high blood cholesterol and blockages in their arteries. There are two studies I know of that showed no effect from arginine on blood flow or inflammation. On the other hand, one study showed that supplements of arginine, along with phytoestrogens, B vitamins and vitamins C and E (as part of a medical nutrition bar) in people with angina improved some blood flow measurements and the ability to exercise on the treadmill. It also has been shown to have some benefits in people with heart failure. Based on these studies, I don't recommend arginine after cardiac bypass surgery. However, there may be some benefit, and since it is unlikely to be harmful, I wouldn't try to dissuade someone who wanted to give it a try. The booklet on heart attacks, America's No. 1 killer, explains what happens, how they are treated and how they can be avoided.

SULLY
Tom Hanks stars in this portrait of airline pilot Chesley "Sully" Sullenberger, which depicts his successful emergency landing of an Airbus A320 on the Hudson River in January 2009. In the aftermath of this unprecedented and heroic feat, the traumatized pilot must endure second-guessing by investigators, the weight of sudden fame, and his own doubts about his actions that fateful day. Anna Gunn, Laura Linney, and Aaron Eckhart co-star. Directed by Clint Eastwood.

HITCHCOCK/TRUFFAUT
In 1962, Alfred Hitchcock and a 30-year-old François Truffaut sequestered themselves in a windowless Hollywood office for a weeklong conversation. The result: the seminal book "Hitchcock/Truffaut," published a half century ago, dissecting every film Hitchcock had made until then, illuminating his masterful techniques, making the case for the popular director as an artist, and influencing generations of filmmakers. Kent Jones brings "the Bible of Cinema" to invigorating life. He interviews filmmakers whose work has been profoundly influenced by Hitchcock—Martin Scorsese, David Fincher, Richard Linklater, Olivier Assayas, and many others.

Parmesan Roasted Baby Carrots

Prep Time: 5 mins | Cook Time: 25 mins | Total Time: 30 mins
Serves: 8 servings

Courtesy of Paula Morse and www.iheartnaptime.net

INGREDIENTS

- 4-5 cups baby carrots
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 4 cloves (2 teaspoons) minced garlic
- 3 Tablespoons grated parmesan cheese
- 1 to 2 Tablespoons panko bread crumbs, optional
- 3/4 teaspoon kosher salt, more to taste
- 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper, more to taste
- Chopped parsley, optional

DIRECTIONS

1. Preheat oven to 400°F and line a baking sheet with foil. Spray with non-stick cooking spray.
2. Place the olive oil, garlic, parmesan, bread crumbs, salt and pepper in a large zip top bag. Add the carrots and shake until they are well coated. Then spread out onto the prepared baking sheet.
3. Bake for 20 - 25 minutes, or until tender. Toss with a spatula half way through.
4. Remove from oven and serve immediately. Top with fresh parsley if desired.
