Easter Sunday fire leaves 161-year-old restaurant in need of new roof

Fenton — In the kitchen of the Fenton Hotel Tavern and Grille, finished meals sit in the window ready for servers to take to tables, and salad fixings are prepped and plated desserts are ready to go.

Everything is as it was before the kitchen roof fire of the historic Fenton restaurant on Sunday.

On Monday, the kitchen sits in an eerie dim quiet, with water still dripping from the ceiling. Debris is on the floor, and there are holes in the roof of the kitchen and three ovens and prep tables. A Fenton Township man’s desire to plant an apple orchard on 100 acres of property he owns on Grove Park Road will have to wait a while longer.

On April 13, the Fenton Township Planning Commission held a public hearing for the second time on Ridgway White’s request to rezone the parcel of land, south of Grove Park and west of Swanee Beach from R-3 single family residential to AG Agriculture. The request came with two conditions, the first being that the primary farming activity will be an orchard. The second condition was that animals will be limited to include: household pets, wildlife and farm animals limited to five horses, 10 chickens, two goats, five cows and 10 buffalo.

According to the draft minutes of the April 13 meeting, Tim Sanford represented White at the hearing as White was out of town. He read a prepared letter from White explaining that after putting some thought into the conditional rezoning he will have to wait a while longer. Fenton Twp. — By doing nothing, the Fenton Township Board of Trustees decided not to allow residents to grow, process, transport, or distribute marijuana. Currently, the township does not have an ordinance allowing or not allowing these marijuana facilities.

At the Monday, April 17 meeting, Operations Manager/Deputy Clerk Tom Broecker said the township needs to decide if it wants to allow medical marijuana facilities, and if so, it needs to adopt an ordinance to permit them.

The Medical Marihuana Facilities Licensing Act allows the state of Michigan to license five types of medical marijuana facilities including growers, processors, transporters, and retailers.

ABC-TV12 Meteorologist J.R. Kirtek explains how predictions are made

By Sally Rummel
news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

People love to watch it, talk about it, and complain about it, even though there’s absolutely nothing they can do about it.

“We’re talking about the weather, and few things in life are as unpredictable, especially if you live in Michigan.”

Unexpected warm, sunny days in February and cold, wind, snow and sleet in early April remind us that Michigan’s volatility can make weather forecasting difficult. That doesn’t stop us from sometimes making meteorologists the butt of jokes when their weather predictions are way off.

Weather forecasting is extremely complex, according to J.R. Kirtek, chief meteorologist at ABC-TV12.

“Virtually everything you see or sense is a variable you have to take into account,” he said. “How does the wind interact with the land, or lakes or even buildings? How much solar radiation will reach the Earth’s surface, based on cloud cover or other aerosols? Will the local topography help or hinder a storm’s development?”

In Michigan, the Great Lakes provide their own weather idiosyncrasies. “We all know about lake-effect snow squalls, but many people don’t know the lakes act as an air conditioner, keeping us a little cooler in the summer than we might otherwise be,” said Kirtek. “In the winter, as long as the lakes aren’t frozen over, they will keep us warmer.”

Winter storms can also be challenging to predict accurately. Just a slight shift in the direction a storm travels can dictate where the heaviest snows fall, according to Kirtek.

This is why today’s high-powered computers are so important to weather forecasting. As they model all these various interactions, weather forecasts become more accurate.

Breaking news: Criminals good, cops bad

Evidence, in the wacky world of liberals, suspects now have the right to choose whether or not they feel compelled to comply with orders from a police officer.

Police officer: “You’re under arrest. Put your hands behind your back!”

Suspect: “Don’t touch me! I didn’t do anything!”

Police officer: “Oh, my mistake sir. Glad you woke up. On your way now.”

No police officer — EVER!!!

For those of you who were vacating on Space Island 99 a week ago Sunday, here’s what went down. After overhearing a flight, United Airlines personnel asked for volunteers to give up their seats to make room for some crew members, offering $1,000 vouchers as an incentive. When no one volunteered, United randomly selected several passengers to leave the plane, with passenger David Dao being one of those selected. Dao was forcibly dragged from the flight by police officers from the Chicago Department of Aviation. Video of the incident ignited a “social media frenzy” (definition: a group of aging, liberal weenies who spend their waking hours surfing the internet, breathlessly searching for video footage that can be used to ignite a “social media frenzy.”)

Since the incident, the mainstream media has had a field day trashing United Airlines and the police officers.

In my opinion David Dao was somewhat justified in his outrage. But his outrage should have been directed toward the situation properly is debatable. What isn’t debated is that once a person refuses to comply with clear instructions from the police, under any circumstances, there is only one way for them to ensure that their instructions are followed — by physically subduing the individual and placing them under arrest.

It’s also a given, unfortunately, that the mainstream media will always try to paint the cops as the bad guys and the perps as innocent, misunderstood heroes.

The mainstream media will always try to paint the cops as the bad guys and the perps as innocent, misunderstood heroes.

PLEASE HOLD MR. Childs accountable for his prejudice and demagoguery, as in his April 12 hate speech (yet again). He ‘guesses’ that 80-90 percent of recipients of welfare are able to work but have ‘committed to a lifelong career as a parasite.' So, an easy Google: Less than seven months, 19 percent.

Foster Childs

If you have a child, consider fostering the child of one of the 10-14% of children in Michigan who are in foster care. It is heartbreaking to consider that 30% of them in foster care are there because of abuse or neglect, and an additional 30% are there because of parental substance abuse. The remaining 40% are there because of parental incarceration.

I HAVE AN idea. Be quiet. Until you get your facts right and you know what you’re saying, could you please stop commenting in the Hot Lines?!

A NEW REPORT shows that we spend $60 billion a year to educate, teach and incorporate illegal aliens in our school systems. This is going to increase costs for all local schools. I believe we have a moral obligation to help our current American students get an education and keep them safe.

YOU HAVE TO laugh at the hypocritical liberals who worship Bill Clinton, a known slanderer, female abuser, scandalous and corrupt person. One of the most morally corrupt presidents we have ever known.

THE U.S. TAX code is a mess with high rates on small businesses, individuals, and corporations. High taxes and high regulations have slowed our economic growth, this is why we elected a businessman to take control of this country. This is why Democrats are no longer in power.

THE LANSING MAYOR just made Lansing a sanctuary city. He said he plans to ignore all federal laws ignoring immigration. I wonder what other federal laws he plans to ignore regarding guns, tax evasion or child pornography. One can only assume.

IN FENTON, WE need to have some of these potholes fixed that are leading into some of these stores. There are some terrible holes that are going to break a shock absorber.

I AGREE WITH the person about Comber and Fox. We need a little fruit market like we used to have. They shut them out, they were going to do such good plans with it. We could also use other laundromats.

THE HOT LINES are one of the best parts of the Times. It’s too bad this whole page could not be dedicated to the thoughts, and concerns dedicated to the people of Fenton. The heartbeat of the community is not its newspaper but the people who read the newspaper and the people who make the news.

BOO HOO! POOR Michael LaJuice. He and his family lived in the lap of luxury for years on stolen money. Now it’s time to pay the piper.

Beatles are undisputed leaders of British Invasion

Fab Four made their first appearance on American soil in February 1964

By Vera Hogan
vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

The following is the third in a series about 50 years of music history. We continue with the British Invasion of the early 1960s.

“The British are coming, the British are coming!”

The first time we heard about that was when Paul Revere made his famous ride at the start of the Revolutionary War in 1775.

The second time was in 1963-64, when the Brits sent their best again — only this time by redcoats bearing guitars and a sound that would resonate throughout America for a very long time, and continues to do so today.

The Beatles were the undisputed leaders of the “British Invasion.” In 1963, they released their first U.S. single, “Please Please Me.”

According to rollingstone.com, that same year, the term Beatlemania was coined to describe the phenomenal outburst of enthusiasm in England.

But 1964 was the year of the Beatles’ American conquest, and it began with the Jan. 25 appearance of “I Want to Hold Your Hand” on Billboard’s Top 100 — and every position in the Top 40. It was a record that stood until July 16, 1965, when no fewer than 14 records of British origin occupied the U.S. Top Forty.

The British Invasion fell on June 18, 1965, when no fewer than 14 records of British origin occupied the U.S. Top Forty. It was a record that stood until July 16, 1983, when the second British Invasion — led by Duran Duran, Culture Club and the Police — landed 18 hits on the chart.

The Law of Extradition – Part I

The hypothetical John Doe robs a bank in Florida. He knows that if he crosses the state line, Florida authorities can’t arrest him, so he flees to Michigan thinking he’ll be safe. He is subsequently charged with bank robbery in Florida and the authorities discover that he’s in Michigan.

The question is what can Florida do to have Mr. Doe returned to Florida to face the charges?

The answer lies in what is known as the Law of Extradition.

The word extradition comes to us from two Latin words “ex” meaning out of and “traditio” meaning delivering up.

The law itself has its origin in the United States Constitution Article IV Section 2, which requires a fugitive to be returned upon the demand of the executive authority of the state from which they fled.

There is also a federal extradition statute and a statute called the Uniform Criminal Extradition Act (UCEA). This is a state statute, which has been adopted by 48 states including Michigan and is the most commonly used law in extradition cases.

Under the UCEA, an extradition starts with the demanding state requesting that a defendant be returned from the asylum state. The demand must include a showing that a crime was committed. Thereafter the defendant is arraigned by the asylum state’s court and has the right to be represented by an attorney at all hearings and court appearances.

The extradition hearing is very limited in its scope and centers on whether the defendant is the same person charged with a crime in the demanding state and whether they were in the demanding state when the crime was committed.

The court may not determine guilt or innocence and it does not matter if the defendant has led an exemplary life since becoming a fugitive.

If the legal tests are met, the defendant is held without bond to allow the demanding state’s authority to pick them up and be returned.

The law is meant to preclude sanctuary in any state and encourage mutual respect and cooperation among states. Its requirements are strictly construed.

Extradition also includes cases involving post-conviction fugitives who have escaped from prison. There is no statute of limitations in such cases.

Lake Fenton honors Van Gilder family and music director

Foundation to host dinner May 13 at Spring Meadows

Two well-known names are being recognized for their contributions to Lake Fenton Community Schools.

The Van Gilder family has been selected by the Lake Fenton Foundation as this year’s recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Award, sponsored by The State Bank. Lake Fenton Music Director Ryan Gonder has been selected for the Teacher of the Year Award, sponsored by Bill Carr Signs.

The Van Gilder family represents a lifetime achievement in business and philanthropy. Russ Van Gilder founded the VG’s grocery name and opened his first store in Clio in 1961. He and wife, Shirley, son Rusty, and daughter Lisa went on to grow their business to 17 stores in Mid-2008.

Over the years, the Van Gilders have given to hundreds of local school and church fundraisers through their community share program and The Van Gilder Family Foundation established in 2009.

While the Van Gilders were in business, they received numerous awards and recognition from local, state and national organizations. In 2011, they were honored by serving as grand marshals in the Fenton Freedom Festival, recognized by Camp Copneconic for contributing to the building of the health and wellness center, and have a room named after them at the renovated Fenton Community Center.

Gonder is being honored as Lake Fenton’s Teacher of the Year. He had an impressive college career at Michigan State University with a Bachelor of Music degree in 2002, and Eastern Michigan University, Master of Art in 2007, Specialist of Arts in 2010, and has completed the coursework for a doctorate in Educational Leadership.

Gonder is a proficient musician with multiple instruments including flute, oboe, clarinet, saxophone, trumpet, horn, trombone, tuba, and percussion. He has performed for President Bill Clinton, The Florida Citrus Bowl, Orange Bowl, Kentucky Derby, and Indianapolis 500 Festival parades among many other events.

After graduating from Michigan State University in December 2002, Gonder was hired as a music teacher by Lake Fenton. In his 15-plus years of enthusiastic teaching, student participation in all music programs has increased dramatically. The ensembles of Lake Fenton High School since 2002 have performed in more than 30 events, including at the Detroit Pistons and Tiger games, Michigan State University homecoming parade, Detroit Thanksgiving and Disney Magic Kingdom parades.

Just as impressive are the academic achievements of his students. Since 2002 the Lake Fenton band and choirs have graduated a West Point Military Academy graduate, a National Merit Scholar, seven high school valedictorians, and more than half of Lake Fenton High School’s Top 10 Honors students.

Former Fenton businessman laid to rest

Community in mourning after Jim Hall, former owner of Hall Chrysler, dies

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

The Golden Rule was always important to Jim Hall. 52, well-known local businessman, who died unexpectedly on Friday, April 14 at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

Family and friends, many who drove their Chrysler and Jeep vehicles as a sign of loving support, attended visitation on Monday and his funeral on Tuesday. Cremation will take place following Mass.

The former owner of Hall Chrysler Jeep Dodge Ram in Fenton, Hall sold the business he had owned since 2005 to LaFontaine Automotive Group 10 months ago. He worked closely with his brother, Tim Hall, who served as the dealership’s manager, building a successful dealership. Together, along with staff, they earned numerous awards for customer satisfaction and service.

Hall was always proud of his Catholic upbringing, which included his 15-plus years of enthusiastic teaching, student participation in all music programs has increased dramatically. The ensembles of Lake Fenton High School since 2002 have performed in more than 30 events, including at the Detroit Pistons and Tiger games, Michigan State University homecoming parade, Detroit Thanksgiving and Disney Magic Kingdom parades.

Other than being with his wife, Holly, Gonder enjoys jazz, Chicago, Spartan athletics, attending performances, and practicing voice/instruments just for fun.

The Lake Fenton Foundation dinner is 6 p.m. on May 13 at Spring Meadows Country Club in Linden. Tickets are $50 per person; call Jerry Ragsdale (810) 694-0003 for reservations by May 6.
Happy Earth Day

Annual environmental awareness day started with an oil spill and river fire

By Hannah Ball hbali@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

Saturday, April 22 is the biggest day of the year to celebrate the ground you walk on.

Earth Day has been celebrated nationwide every year on April 22 since the 1970s, and is now a worldwide event.

Before the 1970s, there was little public regard for the welfare of the environment. Factories released smoke into the environment without fear of legal consequences or bad press, and air pollution was commonly accepted, according to earthday.org.

However, in 1962 Rachel Carson’s book “Silent Spring” became a bestseller. It focused on the environment and importance of protecting living organisms, the earth, and the links between pollution and public health.

In 1969, on the beaches of Santa Barbara, California, an oil spill from a Unocal Oil Company offshore rig in January that covered approximately 30 miles of coastline. It killed birds and other wildlife.

Then came the fire. In June 1969, the Cuyahoga River in Cleveland, Ohio, was a river polluted with oily wastes, chemicals and debris, caught fire.

The oil spill encouraged Gaylord Nelson, then a U.S. Senator from Wisconsin, to start Earth Day. He used the river fire as a poster image.

On April 22, 1970, 20 million Americans rallied and walked in streets, parks and auditoriums to demonstrate in support of a healthy, sustainable environment, according to earthday.org. This movement showed a rare political alignment — both Republican and Democratic politicians and civilians supported these efforts.

The same year, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) was established on Dec. 2 and the Clean Air, Clean Water, and Endangered Species Act passed.

The agency is the governing body involved in federal environmental research, monitoring, standard-setting and enforcement activities to ensure environmental protection, according to epan.gov.

The EPA is the reason we have clean air and water.

In 1990, the movement went global. Earth Day was celebrated by 200 million people in 141 countries. This movement helped pave the way for the 1992 United Nations Earth Summit in Rio de Janeiro.

All of these efforts helped bring environmental issues to the global stage.

Surprise! Crowdfunding for money gaining popularity

Dozens of online sites allow anyone to ask for donations

By Vera Hogan
vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

While GoFundMe.com is probably the most recognizable crowdfunding site online, there are literally dozens of sites aimed at helping people make some needed cash fast.

They include Indiegogo, Kickstarter, Crowdfunding, Crowdise, Rockethub, YouCaring, Fundable, Kiva, GiveForward and many more.

These sites collect funds for medical expenses, funeral costs, mission trips and much more for people with critical needs.

ABOUT GOFUNDME

GoFundMe is a crowdfunding platform that allows users to raise money for a wide variety of personal causes, including medical bills, special events, and even for animals and pets.

According to the company’s website, they’ve helped thousands of people raise over $160 million over the past three years.

Founded in 2010 and based out of San Diego, California, GoFundMe has been featured on CNN, Forbes, New York Times, and TIME, and has an A rating with the Better Business Bureau, based on just one complaint in three years. Overall, it appears GoFundMe has a relatively positive online reputation.

HOW GOFUNDME WORKS

Similar to Kickstarter and Indiegogo, GoFundMe is an online crowdfunding destination that helps people raise money for something in which they strongly believe.

When compared to their competition, GoFundMe allows users to raise money for almost anything they want — including school tuition, medical bills, business ideas, travel expenses, even for animals and pets — as long as it’s not illegal and doesn’t contain inappropriate content, according to highya.com.

GoFundMe states that getting a personal crowdfunding campaign underway takes less than a minute, and there are no required deadlines or time limits. Depending on the type of campaign chosen, users can even keep all their donations, even if they don’t reach the ultimate goal.

From start to finish, the GoFundMe process entails four primary steps: Create a GoFundMe site. Share the site with friends and family, invite contacts, and post to social media sites to garner traffic. Collect online donations, and track results.

While it’s completely free to create a fundraising campaign, GoFundMe will deduct a 5-percent fee from each donation and the user will be charged a 2.9 percent plus 30-cent fee from WePay for each payment requested. All online donations processed through GoFundMe are completely secure and money withdrawals can happen whenever the user likes, subject to the fees.

When ready to withdraw money, one simply provides their bank account information and the money will be deposited within five to seven business days. Alternatively, GoFundMe can send a paper check, though this obviously takes longer.

PROS OF GOFUNDME

● It has helped individuals raise more than $160 million.
● It is completely free to start and run a campaign.
● Campaign topics are completely open, as long as they’re not promoting anything illegal or contain inappropriate content.
● You get to keep your donations even if you don’t reach your goal.
● You can withdraw funds from your campaign whenever you like.
● Customer support appears to be very active.

CONS TO GOFUNDME

● High fees when compared to other crowdfunding sites.
● Several complaints of poor customer service.

MARIJUANA

Broecker said currently, when people ask about medical marijuana facilities, the township does not necessarily have an answer about whether it allows them because the township hasn’t adopted a resolution in support of or against medical marijuana facilities.

Treasurer John Tucker said, “There is a lot of discussion in the business community in a broad sense about this licensing opportunity. There’s a lot of stuff going on behind the scenes. People you’d be surprised to hear about are looking into it,” he said.

He’s gotten a lot of questions about the Act and what the township will do about it.

“I don’t think Fenton Township is really interested in any of these kinds of facilities, but there is some potential, I think, under legislation for some tax revenue and that would probably be the only reason we’d want to consider it,” he said.

He said all the potential effects are pure speculation at this point.

Tucker’s initial reaction was that Fenton Township is a different kind of township, and that they probably would forego that potential tax revenue to not allow marijuana facilities.

“It’s hard to make a judgment in this state in the game because you don’t know anything, but my gut reaction was I would probably do nothing. That’s what I think the residents would want,” he said.

Township Attorney Jack Belzer said if the Township does not act on the resolution, marijuana facilities are not allowed. He said he’s not convinced the township would make money from a potential medical marijuana facility.

There is a lot of discussion in the business community in a broad sense about this licensing opportunity. There’s a lot of stuff going on behind the scenes.

White explained that it is his desire to preserve the property in its natural state. He told the Planning Commission he would like to plant an apple orchard on the property and maybe sell the apples at local farm markets. At that time, White offered a condition to the AG zoning classification to restrict the use of the property for an orchard only.

White noted that the property is approximately 50 percent high, dry land. He showed an area in the center of the upland where he said he would like to start with two rows of 25 to 50 apple trees.

White said, when asked by Tucker, that hayrides, a pumpkin patch and some farm animals may be in the distant future but he is only asking to use the property for an orchard.

“I’m pursuing a family farm. My goal is to build a family farm where we can grow some apples and sell them at farm markets,” White said later. “I want to preserve the natural beauty of the property.”

age of 13

The charges stem from crimes committed in Oakland County in October of 2010.

On Nov. 14, 2016, Dennis pleaded “no contest” to the first-degree CSC charges in Oakland County. A no contest plea concedes the charges alleged without disputing or admitting guilt and without offering a defense.

Dennis was sentenced in Oakland County on Dec. 13, 2016. His earliest release date is Feb. 25, 2076, when he will be almost 100 years old. The maximum release date is Feb. 25, 2116.

In the meantime, Dennis still faces eight charges of first-degree CSC with a defendant under the age of 13 in Genesee County. He has a jury trial scheduled for 9 a.m. on Oct. 31 to face those charges. If found guilty of these charges, he faces life in prison.

According to Genesee County Court records, the offenses occurred on Oct. 1, 2014. Dennis reportedly assaulted someone he knew, a person under the age of 13, over a three-year period in Fenton. It was not disclosed if the Genesee and Oakland County victims are the same individual.
FORECASTS
accurate. Meteorologists use the term “skillful” in referring to forecast accuracy.
A one-day forecast now is typically accurate within about 2 to 2.5 degrees. In other words, when you see a forecast high of 82, the actual high will likely be between 80 and 85.
Weather predictions get less accurate when trying to predict the weather weeks or months in advance. Determining when it will rain or snow more than seven to 10 days into the future is beyond the range of predictability, according to a story about weather in the Washington Post.
Seasonal forecasts — whether it’s going to be a hot, humid summer or a cold, snowy winter — tend to be only marginally more accurate. Global weather patterns might hint at how overall conditions will compare with average months, but they aren’t always right.
Some research shows that our forecast ‘skill’ increases by about a day per decade, said Kirtek. “This means our current seven-day forecast is as skillful as a five-day forecast was about 20 years ago.”
Has today’s weather gotten “wackier” over the decades? Kirtek says it’s perceived that way because of how weather is covered in the media. “If there are tornadoes, blizzards or flooding, the national evening news covers them much more than they used to,” said Kirtek.
What about global warming? “It’s been disruptive storms of various types,” said Kirtek. “Actually, Florida State University found that tropical cyclone development is down quite a bit over the past several years. Likewise, the number of annual tornadoes in the U.S. has also decreased, although this spring has been more active.”
As for this past February’s “wacky warm weather,” Kirtek says the weather across the entire country this past winter was due to La Niña. “While our winter was warmer and less snowy than the long-term average, it’s exactly what we would expect for a ‘La Niña’ winter.”
Here are several significant weather events from Michigan’s past:
• April 6, 1886 — Detroit’s biggest snowfall on record — 24.5 inches
• Nov. 7-10, 1913 — The Great Lakes Blizzard — Port Huron and the Thumb got 2 feet of snow and 273 sailors perished on the Great Lakes in shipwrecks as winds gusted over 80 mph.
• July 7-14, 1936 Heat Wave — Detroit recorded high temperatures of 100 or higher every day of this week. Saginaw hit 111 degrees on July 13, the highest temperature ever recorded in southeast Michigan.
• June 8, 1953 Flint Beecher Tornado — the only recorded F5 tornado ever strike southeast Michigan. It killed 116 people and injured 844 along its path.
• Jan. 26-27, 1967 — The Great Midwest Blizzard of ’67 — the biggest snowstorm on record in Flint and Saginaw with 23.8 inches in Saginaw and 22.7 in Flint, with drifts up to 15 feet and winds over 50 mph.
• The Great Blizzard of Jan. 27-28, 1978 — about 100,000 cars were stranded on Michigan roads, halting commerce for several days.
• The Great Flood of Sept. 10-12, 1986 — this was the worst flooding ever recorded in Michigan, with rainfall totals as much as 14 inches.
• The 1988 Summer Drought and Heat — this was one of the hottest and driest on record, since the droughts of the 1930s.
• July 2, 1997 Tornado Outbreak — with 13 tornado touchdowns in Michigan.
• The July 2011 Heat Wave — the hottest month ever for Detroit, third hottest in Flint and fourth hottest in Saginaw.

mid-Michigan). The outlooks also call for equal chances of above, or below average rainfall.
The sun has been pretty quiet this past winter and early this spring, in terms of the number of sunspots that have occurred. Some research suggests that this may result in cooler than normal temperatures.
Because of this, I believe that our summer will end up a little wetter than normal, and temperatures may end up being a little bit below average.”

Fenton/Linden girls lacrosse heating up, beats two recent foes

By David Troppens
dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The Fenton-Linden girls co-op varsity lacrosse team showed the value of a strong start against Oxford.

The Heat (3-2) jumped to an eight-goal lead in the opening half and never saw Oxford threaten that lead, resulting in a 14-6 victory. The squad also took a first-half lead against the Holly/Brandon co-op on Monday, eventually earning an 18-4 victory.

“THe ladies didn’t play the most flawless of games, but everyone got to see some action,” FLaX Heat coach Roger Ellis said about the Oxford game. “But everyone got to see some action. Jessica Lynch had a strong game taking draws, and Kyle Bliss was splendid in net.”

Draws have been an issue in the Heat’s losses, but weren’t against Oxford. The Heat won 17-of-22 draws, including Lynch winning 11 of them herself. Bliss made 14 saves during the contest.

Offensively, Ellie Reuschlein was strong, scoring a team-high four goals. Skylar Parks and Alex Premo had three goals each while Kelly Kemp scored two. Lynch had one goal herself.

First college, now NFL for Fenton grad Shegos?

Shegos broke many receiving records while at Notre Dame College

By David Troppens
dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

When one talks to Mitchell Shegos, he sounds like he’s living his dream.

And in many ways the 2013 Fenton graduate is.

The ex-football and basketball standout at Fenton High School has just finished what may be one of the greatest individual careers on the Notre Dame College (Ohio) football team. As soon as his sophomore season, Shegos started breaking NCAA records, and the wide receiver capped his career with just about every receiving record imaginable with the Falcons.

And while he may have completed his college football career last fall, he’s not quite done with the game just yet. In fact, he may be seeing another door opening, a door that could take him to a career in the National Football League.

Some reports have him projected to be selected as high as the fourth round while others have him lower in the draft, or even as a free agent. No matter what happens, it’s looking pretty good that Shegos may be spending the late portion of the summer trying to make an NFL squad.

Indeed, life has been going well for Shegos.

“Oh man, everything has been great here,” Shegos said. “The ladies didn’t play the most flawless of games, but everyone got to see some action.”

Holly soccer earns first win of season vs. Owosso, 6-0

By David Troppens
droppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The Holly varsity girls soccer team was off to a reasonably slow start to the season, losing its first three games. However, it looks like that slow start may be over after playing in the team’s first home game of the season.

The Lady Bronchos (1-3) scored six goals in a 6-0 victory against Owosso, a school who will be Metro League members starting with the 2017-18 academic school year.

The first goal was provided by Ashlee Long when she buried a shot five minutes into the game off of a Payton Price assist. From there, it was all Holly. Before the night was over, Sami Hild had two goals and an assist.

Fenton girls track place second at Davison; Boys come home in fourth

By David Troppens
droppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The Fenton track programs entered the Davison Shake Off the Rust Meet, and it looks like they did more than shake off the rust. It looks like the programs may already be well-oiled machines.

The Fenton girls placed second while the Fenton boys took fourth in the 20-team meet.

The Fenton girls had two individual champions and had one school record fall. Madaline Hall won the 100 (13.08), while Hannah Chapin took the top spot in the long jump (5-8),而现在 school record was posted by Cambria Tiemann who took fourth in the 1,600 (5:20.94).

The Fenton boys had one champion. Zach West won the 200 (22.8), while the 800 relay team of John Sage, Keegan Pombier, Ethan Pychen and West came mighty close, taking second (1:32.86).

Other individuals placing fifth or better for the Fenton boys were: Dominic Dimambro, third in the 800 (2:02.81); Chasne Setzke, third in the long jump (19-10 ½); Drew Miller, third in the high jump (5-8); Pombier, fifth in the 400 (54.01); and Peter Kennings in the 300 hurdles (44.94).

The girls had three others place fifth or better individually.

State-ranked Holly tennis does well at Forest Hills Northern tournament

By David Troppens
droppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The Holly varsity girls tennis team is off to a pretty strong start after going 2-1 against foes at the Forest Hills Northern Tournament on Saturday.

The sixth-ranked Bronchos defeated Mason and Petoskey by 6-2 scores and also tied second-ranked in D2 Forest Hills Northern 4-4. The Bronchos’ only loss came against No. 5 in Division 1 Ann Arbor Pioneer 5-3. Holly finished with 16 points.

“Our team has learned a lot in the first couple of weeks, including the potential we have when everyone is invested in the team and there to support one another,” Holly varsity girls tennis coach Will Sophiae said. “As a very young team, we know there will be some highs and lows, and we are simply focused on improving each and every day.”

Eagles capture Chelsea Invitational tournament title, beat John Glenn

By David Troppens
droppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The Linden varsity girls soccer team started the season with a tough 1-0 loss against the Fenton Tigers.

But since then, the Eagles have been on fire.

The Eagles improved to 5-1 overall with three wins at the Chelsea Invitational, capturing the tournament title, and an 8-0 victory against Bay City John Glenn.

Linden defeated tournament hosts Chelsea 2-1, DeWitt 3-1 and New Boston Huron 4-0.

“Since our first game, we’ve grown a little bit,” Linden varsity girls soccer coach Kevin Fiebertz said. “The first game we gave up only one shot in the second half and it ended up being a goal, but beyond that we’ve been all right.

“We played a very tough DeWitt team that had a kid come back from a national team, and we did very well there. Other teams we played were solid teams as well. We are moving forward and doing all right.”

While Linden (4-1) is playing a lot of game and getting a lot of wins in the process, Fiebertz admits it is getting a bit taxing. Linden played four games on Saturday, travelled to Bay City John Glenn on Monday, hosting Farmington on Tuesday and then travel to the Saginaw Heritage Showcase on Saturday.

DUELING PIANOS
for possibly thousands of seniors in the tri-county area.

Program Director Melinda Elmore-Hajek estimates the event raised $2,500, which is to help cover the $100,000 gap between the approximate $270,000 in millage funds they collect, and the $350,000 or more that they need for the general fund.

But budgets were the furthest thing from the minds of the 182 guests in the room. They were focused on the musical comedy happening before them.

Dueling pianos isn’t really how it sounds. “The dueling part is with the audience,” said pianist Noel Leaman of Saginaw. “It’s all crowd participation. We make the crowd part of the show.”

Said Leaman’s counterpart Dan Louisell of Grand Rapids, “The more we can get the crowd to do, the less we actually have to do.” He’s kidding, but not really.

“Whatever we can do to not play an entire song, whatever we can do to interrupt it, we’ll do it.”

Comedic breaking, props, and genre-hopping are all part of the show, but most importantly, getting the crowd involved.

One side of the room belonged to Leaman, while the other side belonged to Louisell. They ramped up the competition between the two sides, which included using cash to annoy the other side or requesting the fight song for the University of Michigan, when Louisell is a Michigan State fan.

While the idea is to make everyone laugh, the two performers are dynamic musicians, ripping through popular crowd-pleasing songs, seamlessly nailing their comedic timing.

This event was a bit of an experiment for Loose, which Executive Director Carl Gabrielson and Elmore-Hajek agreed was a success.

“If we can’t do it right, we’re not going to open.”

Elmore-Hajek said there are 5,860 enrolled at Loose, who can partake in more than 130 programs, which include cards, yoga, Zumba and others.

“People came in and left feeling so good about the night. It was just fun,” said Melinda Elmore-Hajek, Loose Center program director.

Sorise said that the business will not open until the kitchen does. “If we can’t do it right, we’re not going to open.”

The 161-year old restaurant will be closed for an extended period, possibly for the first time since the Great Depression.

There was a minor disruption during a loss of power on Mother’s Day, more than 10 years ago, and a small electrical fire shut the restaurant down for only a day in 2008. Sorise said there was a fire that damaged the upper floors in the 1960s.

The fire began before 3 p.m. on Sunday, April 16. The Fenton Fire Department responded, and sought mutual aid from Linden, Holly, Fenton Township and Grand Blanc fire departments, while the Mundy Township Fire department was on standby to cover the city of Fenton during the incident.

The fire began in the roof above the kitchen, which was discovered after nine holes were cut. The cause of the fire is still under investigation, but has been ruled accidental.

electricity, so that the rest of the building can safely have power restored.

“We’re definitely going to need a new roof,” said owner Nick Sorise. He believes the kitchen equipment, aside from the cooler, seems OK.

As of press time, management didn’t have an estimate for the extent of repairs needed, or a time frame for being closed.

Sorise said that the business will not open until the kitchen does. “If we can’t do it right, we’re not going to open.”

WEDNESDAY SUDOKU

HOROSCOPES

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)
The Lamb loves to be surrounded by flocks of admirers. But be careful that someone doesn’t take his or her adoration too far. Use your persuasive skills to let him or her down easily.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)
This is a good time to begin setting far-reaching goals and connecting with new contacts. Aspects also favor strengthening old relationships — personal and/or professional.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20)
A personal disappointment should be viewed as a valuable learning experience: Go over what went wrong and see where a change in tactics might have led to a more positive outcome.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)
Don’t leave projects unfinished or personal obligations unresolved, or you might find yourself tripping over all those loose ends later on. A relative has important news.

LEO (July 23 to August 22)
Expect a challenge to the usual way you do things. Although you might prefer the tried-and-true, once you take a good look at this new idea, you might feel more receptive to it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)
Much work has yet to be done to polish a still-rough idea into something with significant potential. Expect to encounter some initial rejection, but stay with it nonetheless.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)
There still might be some communication problems in the workplace, but they should be resolved soon. Meanwhile, that “tip” from a friend should be checked out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)
A new relationship appears to need more from you than you might be willing to give right now. Best advice: Resist making promises you might not be able to keep.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)
That restless feeling encourages you to gallop off into a new venture. But remember to keep hold of the reins so you can switch paths when necessary.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)
A demanding work schedule keeps the high-spirited Goat from kicking up his or her heels. But playtime beckons by the week’s end. Have fun. You earned it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)
You’re beginning to come out from under those heavy responsibilities you took on. Use this freed-up time to enjoy some much-deserved fun with people close to you.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20)
Before you get swept away by a tidal wave of conflicting priorities, take time to come up for air, and reassess the situation. You might be surprised by what you’ll find.
