Fenton — If you drive the speed limit down the busy Owen Road corridor, you might make it through the seven lights in less than three minutes.

Bonnie Wood, traffic engineering manager at the Genesee County Road Commission (GCRC) can't recall a busier, more compact corridor, with lights less than 300 feet from each other.

DDA and LFDA pay $450,000 back to city general fund

Fenton — The Fenton City Council voted unanimously Monday, Sept. 25, to approve revenue sharing agreements with the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) and Local Development Finance Authority (LDFA).

According to Assistant City Manager and DDA Director Michael Hart, a revenue sharing agreement between the city, DDA and LDFA is crucial.

The city's general fund is in the process of stabilizing, but there is the high potential for additional and/or continued revenue losses," said Hart. "The city has been diligent in reducing expenditures, made significant changes to employee benefits, and we continue to change the way in which we operate due to the revenue losses.'

Milder weather credited for fewer crashes and fires this summer

tjagielo@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

Typically, police and fire personnel respond to an elevated number of fires and crashes during the summer months. Summer has technically ended, and agencies saw a slower season for both crashes and fires this year.

The main driver of summer calls is the weather, said Fenton Fire Chief Bob Cairnduff. "This summer was very mild compared to last year," he said. "Last year we had drought conditions."

With less machinery overheating, there are fewer fires. His department handled fewer calls in 2017, reporting 143 incidents in 2017, and 155 in 2016. This doesn't sound like a lot of calls, but with an average cost of $1,200 to $1,400, it can make a difference with budgets.

Local agencies were asked for incidents between Memorial Day and Labor Day for this year and in 2016. Several local fire and police departments responded, and most reported less activity.

If I Were King...

The National Anthem and the NFL

he recent controversy over America's National Anthem began in 2016, when NFL quarterback Colin Kaepernick took a knee during the pre-game anthem to protest racial discrimination at the hands of police.

Seeing as how The Star-Spangled Banner is at the center of this controversy, let's look at history to understand how it became the nation's official anthem for the starting of major sporting events.

Most historians point to the 1918 World Series between the Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox as the official start of the anthem being played prior to sporting events. That year's World Series was held during World War I and the public mood was sullen. The war was straining the economy and the manpower available, including baseball's, was sparse. The government began drafting major leaguers for military service that summer and ordered baseball to end the regular season by Labor Day.

The powers-that-be noticed that the mood of the crowd perked up considerably when a brass band began playing the Star-Spangled Banner during the seventh-inning stretch of the first game, showing the first real signs of life all day.

The scene made such an impression that the New York Times opened its recap of the game not with a description of the action on the field but with an account of the impromptu singing. It also made an impression on the two teams' front offices. The Cubs' management made sure the band played the anthem during the next two games as well, and attendance, which had been dropping, increased dramatically. When the series moved to Boston's Fenway Park, officials moved the playing of the anthem to the pregame festivities. The anthem was played periodically in baseball after that, but it took until World War II before it was played before every game.

Since then, the national anthem has been played before virtually every professional football and baseball game in America, as well as most high school and collegiate games football and Major League Baseball games have been on the field during the anthem.

Beginning in 2009, the players in NFL

king@tctimes.com

So, back to the present and the big question. Is there an NFL rule against kneeling while the anthem is being played? According to my research there is. It's on pages A62-63 of the official NFL game operations manual, and it reads:

"The National Anthem must be played prior to every NFL game, and all players must be on the sideline for the National Anthem. During the National Anthem players on the field and bench areas should stand at attention, face the flag, hold helmets in their left hand and refrain from talking. The home team should ensure that the American flag is in good condition. It should be pointed out to players and coaches that we are judged by the public in this area of respect for the flag of our country. Failure to be on the field by the start of the National Anthem may result in discipline, such as fines, suspensions and/or the forfeiture of draft choices(s) for violation of the above, including first offenses."

My opinion? We should all walk away from the ungrateful, spoiled and overpaid NFL and its players. The players and owners are overpaid prima donnas. We'll see how long they hate America when we, the American public, stop watching them and they stop getting a paycheck.

NFL? Not For Long.

New Apple iPhone X costs $999

By Hannah Ball

hball@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792 Apple recently revealed the next iteration of the iPhone, called iPhone X, will cost $999.

This is a significant price jump from the latest and most expensive iPhone, iPhone 7 Plus, which costs $769, but only slightly higher than Samsung's latest smartphone, the Galaxy Note 8, which costs $950.

This nearly $1,000 price tag has many people questioning the value of a smartphone.

The Times posed these questions to its readers on Facebook — would you pay $1,000 for a smartphone? Is a smartphone worth $1,000?

A few people answered no, but a few answered yes.

Dusty Craine of Linden said, "If anyone owns a smartphone or iPhone today, then most likely yes, it's worth it. For the most part, a quality smartphone is pretty reliable. It's quality technology. For me, aside from my work computer, it is the piece of tech that I interface with the most."

He said he uses his phone for social media, listening to podcasts on his two and a half-hour commute, and many other reasons.

The iPhone X is rumored to contain facial recognition software, a sleek curved screen, augmented reality apps, waterproofing, glass covering the front and back of the phone, and wireless charging. Even if it seems like Apple is simply charging $1,000 for their products because they can, Neil Cybart, an Apple analyst, told slate.com that the technology in those phones is worth $1,000. This model reportedly won't have a home button.

the first iPhone." Many Android phones already have some of this technology, including wireless charging.

Some critics and technology writers are calling the iPhone X a luxury model, and are comparing it to luxury sports cars. Apple still sells cheaper phones. The iPhone SE costs around $400.

"T'm not in the market for the iPhone 8 or X (Ten), but I would have no problem paying that kind of money for a smartphone. There are some things you can skimp on to save yourself a little money, but when it comes to smartphone technology, you really do get what you pay for," Craine said.

The $1,000 price tag is softened by financing. Many consumers choose to put the cost of their phone on their monthly phone bill, and pay for their phone in installments. Apple users can use the iPhone Holly Twp. — With a lot of steel, hydraulic power and Ivory soap, 80 tons of history was picked up and moved 40 feet to the west on Tuesday, Sept. 26.

The Holly Heritage Farmstead Barn built in approximately 1900, was lifted off its foundation to move it out of the way to build a new foundation underneath.

Holly Township Supervisor George Kullis took the reins of the project when he took office. He said the barn should be on its new foundation in November, with a price tag of $151,000 for moving the barn, and building a new foundation. It was funded by township general fund dollars and $40,000 from the Mott family.

This project will give the structure a new foundation and higher ceilings in the basement. The project will be a long-term effort, and has just begun, Kullis said.

The next step is hiring a master planner for the overall site project. "We want to create a destination point, we want to give it a sense of place so that you can enjoy the property," he said.

The project has no end date or budget at the moment, but it's about preserving history, and also making a historical destination in Oakland County.

The site is the home to the original Holly Township supervisor when the township was certified in 1838.

Kullis referenced other historical barn projects like the Van Hoosen Farm in Rochester Hills, which after 36 years is a developed tourist spot.

Continued from Front Page aerosolization of the water until we know it's safe," Valacak said. "They have begun some purging of the water lines in the home."

Valacak said the health department is still awaiting confirmation results on the samples sent to the state.

Last week, the health department conducted a Legionella Environment Assessment using a CDC assessment form and obtained a floor plan and some additional detail about the plumbing in the home, which they shared with the CDC (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention) and MDHHS (Michigan Department of Health and Human Services).

"The CDC and MDHHS recommended additional sampling of the facility," Valacak said. "We conducted a second round of sampling (Monday, Sept. 18) based upon CDC recommendations and we delivered those samples to the State Bureau of Labs (Tuesday, Sept. 19)."

This is an isolated situation, Valacak said. "We've had no additional cases. We continue to ask the healthcare community to test for Legionella if a patient presents with the symptoms," he said.

There were nine confirmed cases of Legionnaires' disease reported in Genesee County, which Valacak said is about average for the county. A 10th was confirmed in Genesee Township last week.

"They are seeing an increase in Southeast Michigan," he said.

Fenton City Manager Lynn Markland said that although a portion of a residential care facility has tested presumptive positive, the Genesee County Health Department was careful to advise the city that the possible presence of the bacteria is not related to the city's water distribution system and the system is not affected.

"We have been told by the Health Department that this is an isolated incident, in only a part of a facility and is not related to the city's water system," Markland said. "Our records show that the chlorination introduced at the city's water plant and in the distribution system is high enough to prevent any contamination of the city's water system.

"Our operators at the plant and those responsible for the distribution system are licensed by the state of Michigan and they do a great job ensuring that the public receives the highest quality and safest water at their home and business," Markland said. "While this issue does not impact our water system and there is no health threat to the general public, we will work with the appropriate state and county agencies toward resolving the problem with this facility.

"We reviewed the city's chlorine residual levels with the CDC, and the city's water supply meets the EPA standards," Valacak said.

Because of health privacy laws, Valacak is not at liberty to confirm the location of the residence.

Sgt. Jeffrey Cross of the Fenton Police Department has earned the new rank of lieutenant. His promotion became effective on Monday, Sept. 25, following a brief swearing-in ceremony at the start of the City Council meeting.

The lieutenant's position became available when Jason Slater was named chief of police in July.

Council chambers were packed with members of the Fenton Police Department and their families, who were there to witness the ceremony.

"We're so proud of our police department," said Mayor Sue Osborn. "They are a true family."

Cross joined the department on June 13, 2000, after obtaining a bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice from Saginaw Valley State University. He began as a patrolman and in May of 2015, he was promoted to the rank of sergeant.

"Jeff is a hard-working individual who has proven himself an effective leader," Slater said. "Jeff continues to lead by example which has earned him a great deal of respect from his peers as well as myself."

After being sworn in and receiving his lieutenant's badge, which his wife Anna pinned to his uniform, Cross said, "When I started 17 years ago, I never thought I would reach this position. Back then my supervisor would send back every report I turned in. I was thinking this guy hates me."

That supervisor was Slater, now the chief of police. "Chief Slater always told me, pay attention to the little things and the big things will fall into place," he said.

In his new position, Cross serves as second in command for the police department.

"The chief and I will work well together and get the job done for the city."

Getting it right

Fall arrived last week and interestingly it coincided with the hottest temperatures of the year.

Now we Michiganders know that the coming of fall means that winter is just around the corner and early forecasts predict we're in for a very snowy and cold season.

Although we see variances in the seasons, we know that on average Mother Nature gets it right over time and on average.

What does this have to do about a column on the law you may ask?

The answer is that the law, like the weather, sometimes reaches an initial unusual result, but the beauty of the law is that eventually it will provide the right answer when previous decisions are changed.

There are a number of areas where this has occurred and civil rights is one of them. To illustrate this we'll go back to 1896 when the United States Supreme Court was faced with the following question in the case of Plessy v. Ferguson was an 1890 Louisiana law (The Separate Car Act) which required railroads to provide equal but separate accommodations for white and black people constitutional?

The facts of the case involved a black man named Homer Plessy who was arrested and charged for sitting in a whites-only railway car.

On May 18, 1896, the Supreme Court ruled that Mr. Plessy could properly be arrested and charged with a crime and that segregation in the United States was constitutional.

Fast forward to 1954 and a case called Brown v. Board of Education of Topeka. In the Brown case, the question was the constitutionality of allowing separate public schools for black and white students.

In a unanimous opinion, the Court ruled that separate educational facilities are inherently unequal under the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution (Equal Protection) thus paving the way for a series of cases that abolished the segregation laws.

Additionally in this era, the United States Congress passed a variety of civil rights legislation including the The Civil Rights Act of 1964 to address the issue.

So, as one can see eventually the law did "Get it Right."

This is always the goal of our courts and the law and why our system of justice works so well.

Who doesn't love a good Stephen King story?

■Not all of them feature satanic weirdness, vicious dogs or creepy clowns

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

When asked why he writes the scary stuff, Stephen King told Rolling Stone magazine in a 2014 interview, "The first movie I ever saw was a horror movie. It was 'Bambi.' When that little deer gets caught in a forest fire, I was terrified, but I was also exhilarated. I can't explain it.

"I thought it was great fun to scare people. I also knew it was socially acceptable because there were a lot of horror movies out there," King said. "And I cut my teeth on horror comics like "The Crypt of Terror."

King has said in a few interviews that his favorites, which are among the many stories that have been made into movies, include the following:

THE DEAD ZONE (October 1983)

When Johnny Smith (Christopher Walken) awakens from a coma caused by a car accident, he finds that years have passed, and he now has psychic abilities. Heartbroken that his girlfriend (Brooke Adams) has moved on with her life, Johnny also must contend with his unsettling powers, which allow him to see a person's future with a mere touch. After shaking the hand of aspiring politician Greg Stillson (Martin Sheen), Johnny sees the danger presented by the candidate's rise and resolves to kill him.

STAND BY ME (August 1986)

Not even all diehard Stephen King fans know that he wrote a book called "The Body," which was later made into a movie called "Stand By Me."

As the story goes, after learning that a stranger has been accidentally killed near their rural homes, four Oregon boys decide to go see the body. On the way, Gordie Lachance (Wil Wheaton), Vern Tessio (Jerry O'Connell), Chris Chambers (River Phoenix) and Teddy Duchamp (Corey Feldman) encounter a mean junk man, a bunch of local teenagers trying to beat them to the body, and a marsh full of leeches, as they also learn more about one another and their very different home lives. Just a lark at first, the boys' adventure evolves into a defining event in their lives.

MISERY (November 1990)

After a serious car crash, novelist Paul Sheldon (James Caan) is rescued by former nurse Annie Wilkes (Kathy Bates), who claims to be his biggest fan. Annie brings him to her remote cabin to recover, where her obsession takes a dark turn when she discovers Sheldon is killing off her favorite character from his novels. As Sheldon devises plans for escape, Annie grows increasingly controlling, even violent, as she forces the author to shape his writing to suit her twisted fantasies.

THE SHAWSHANK REDEMPTION (September 1994)

Andy Dufresne (Tim Robbins) is sentenced to two consecutive life terms in prison for the murders of his wife and her lover and is sentenced to a tough prison. However, only Andy knows he didn't commit the crimes. While there, he forms a friendship with Red (Morgan Freeman), experiences brutality of prison life, adapts through various means, helps the warden, etc., all in 19 years.

The Shawshank Redemption is regarded as one of the greatest movies of all time.

DOLORES

England town, Dolores Claiborne (Kathy Bates) works as a housekeeper for the rich but heartless Vera Donovan (Judy Parfitt). When Vera turns up dead, Dolores is accused of killing her elderly employer. Her estranged daughter, Selena (Jennifer Jason Leigh), a well-respected New York City journalist, decides to visit her mother and investigate the matter for herself. As Selena digs deeper into the case, she uncovers shocking truths about the murder and her own childhood.

THE GREEN MILE

(December 1999) Paul Edgecomb (Tom Hanks) walked the mile with a variety of cons. He had never encountered someone like John Coffey (Michael Clarke Duncan), a massive black man convicted of brutally killing a pair of young sisters. Coffey had the size and strength to kill anyone, but not the demeanor. Beyond his simple, naive nature and a deathly fear of the dark, Coffey seemed to possess a prodigious, supernatural gift. Paul began to question whether Coffey was truly guilty of murdering the two girls.

cuts, the revenue sharing the city's general fund receives from both the LDFA and DDA is crucial for providing essential municipal services in those districts, Hart said.

Both taxing authorities have approved their fiscal year 2017-2018 budgets.

The LDFA will reimburse the city for $100,000 and the DDA, $350,000.

"We have been doing this every year for many years," said Stephen Schultz, city attorney.

Schultz said getting the money into the general fund will involve a simple fund transfer.

The DDA district zigzags a little bit around the city. Included in the district are properties on LeRoy Street from Elizabeth to Sixth streets. It jogs over to the east from Walnut to Adelaide and extends from Silver Lake Road to Owen Road, including Silver Parkway. Everything south of Silver Lake Road is in the district, plus some of the businesses in the business and technology park.

The LDFA district covers the remainder of the Fenton Business and Technology Park.

Is Chiropractic Care Safe or Effective?

Back Pain, Arm or Leg Pain like Sciatica, Numbness, Tingling, or Weakness in the Arms or Legs, Headaches, Migraines and problems with the Discs are often times what brings people into a chiropractic office. The major question we all keep wondering is this: IS CHIROPRACTIC RE-ALLY SAFE or TRULY EFFECTIVE? To end the confusion on this topic, we are going to dive into this subject with Dr. James Ide of Painless Chiropractic in Fenton and you're going to want to pay close attention because we're going to destroy some important myths and reveal the facts.

MYTH: Chiropractors are not Real Doctors. FACT: Not True. Doctors of Chiropractic or DC's receive an overall post graduate curriculum structure similar to the training medical doctors receive. DC's spend additional hours studying Spinal Manipulation, Nutrition, Physiotherapy and Advanced Radiology rather than Pharmacology and Immunology. "I attend training classes out of town about every other month and research online daily to stay up to date on the latest advances in technology, and technique. There is always something new to learn or a better way to do things in order to get better results and happier patients" Dr. Ide said.

MYTH: Visiting a Chiropractor could cause More Harm than Good.

FACT: Chiropractic care is actually found to be far Less Invasive meaning Safer, then options like drugs or surgery. Doctors of Chiropractic have one of the Lowest Malpractice Insurance Premiums, coming in at around 7 Times Lower per year, compared to the average medical doctor That alone should prove to show how safe it is to visit a Chiropractor. When asked his thoughts on the matter Dr. James Ide said "There are bad Chiropractors out there just as there are bad Dentists and MD's, but that doesn't mean you swear them all off and stop going, am I right? It's best to do your research and find an office that takes your full history into account, consults with you and really listens, does an Exam and X-rays and then takes the time to go over all of your information and analyze your x-rays in depth before diagnos-ing, setting up a care plan and adjusting you, that's how you know you're in good hands". MYTH: Chiropractors ONLY Treat Back Pain FACT: Dr. Ide's office, Painless Chiropractic in Fenton, has great success treating patients for Disc Issues of all kinds, Sciatic Pain, Pain Down the Legs and Arms, Hip Pain, Migraine Headaches, Neck Pain and even soft tissue damage due to an Auto Accident or other injury. "About 25% of our patients are families that simply visit for wellness care because they understand spinal hygiene is vital to prevent degeneration and arthritis in the future" Dr. Ide explained.

MYTH: Chiropractors just push around on your back, they can't help me. FACT: Many offices like Painless Chiropractic in Fenton base their procedures on X-Ray studies to determine what type of care is right for each individual. Dr. Ide says that at his office "We do an In-Depth, Motion Study X-Ray Analysis to Pin-Point the Root Cause. We then structure a plan that has many components to first get the patient out of pain, then work towards correcting the problem as much as possible so it doesn't keep coming back".

MYTH: SURGERY is the Only Option For Me. FACT: NO! There's been a huge breakthrough in the treatment for Bulging DISC, Degenerative DISC, Slipped DISC, Herniated DISC, Spinal Stenosis, Foraminal Stenosis, Sciatic Pain (that goes down the leg) and many other chronic back and neck pain related ailments that now can be helped without the use of Drugs or Surgery. Dr. Ide's clinic, right here in Fenton MI has seen success rates as high as 88% utilizing a new procedure called Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care. The excellent results from this treatment have been helping patients avoid surgery and go with a much safer alternative to finding relief. MYTH: Finding out if Chiropractic or Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care is right for me or getting properly diagnosed is expensive. FACT: Not True. Dr. James Ide of Fenton is currently offering an initial Consultation and Exam for the first 35 Times readers to call 810-515-8878 and set up an appointment for only $27 which is normally $197, saving you $152! Senate Bill 73: Repeal life without parole for some cocaine sale crimes

To revise a law that authorized a mandatory life sentence for possessing or selling large quantities of cocaine or other "hard" drugs. This bill would change the law to instead authorize twice the usual drug trafficking sentence for these crimes. Senate Bill 72 would make prisoners convicted of these offenses eligible for parole after serving five years in prison.

Senate Bill 335: Revise campaign finance law to reflect Citizens United ruling

To revise Michigan campaign finance law provisions that violate the holding of the U.S. Supreme Court in the Citizens United case. That decision limited the power of congress and state legislatures to restrict election-related political speech by corporations, under a definition that includes non-profit groups motivated by ideological or political concerns.

The bill would authorize "independent expenditure committees" (dubbed "super-PACs") that could advocate for a candidate or ballot initiative but not contribute to or coordinate with a candidate. Candidates could solicit money for these committees, however. Committees would be subject to campaign finance filings but would not have to disclose the identity of donors, and there would be no cap on spending or contributions, which could come from corporations and unions. Passed 62 to 45 in the House

Non-motorized pathways group asks for support at upcoming Sept. 28 SLPR meeting

Members of the Linden-Argentine-Fenton-Lake Fenton (LAFF) Pathway Group are encouraging community members to attend a meeting this Thursday, Sept. 28 at 6 p.m. of the Southern Lakes Park and Recreation Commission at the Fenton Community & Cultural Center, in support of nonmotorized pathways in southern Genesee County. LAFF has asked SLPRC to become the signature authority for engineering contracts and easement documents in order to facilitate the Silver Lake Road portion of the pathway project, according to Victor Lukasavitz. He is asking for a call to action by the public to show their support. "The SLPRC has been delaying this decision to support the pathway, even though their own master plan calls for such an action and the public in previous public hearings, even before own board, had demanded such action," he said.

Past and present collide in murder mystery novel

New supernatural thriller, penned by local author Amy Mayhew

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823 Amy Mayhew, 52, of Holly is officially a published author. Her novel, "Raging Soul," is a supernatural thriller that is set entirely in Michigan. It takes place in the greater Lansing area — Mulliken, Grand Ledge, Potterville, and East Lansing.

"I grew up around there, so when I was writing about these places, I was able to describe them in vivid detail," Mayhew said. "I can't imagine the story happening anywhere else but Michigan. Raging Soul is a fictional story, but most of the places where the characters go in the story still exist to this day." (see sidebar)

During the day, Mayhew works for FIAT Chrysler Automobiles as a writer/ instructional designer. She was formerly the owner/operator of thehollyexpress. com, and between the years 2004-2014, a freelance writer for the Tri-County Times, The Flint Journal and Oakland Press.

Mayhew said she has been thinking about writing a novel for as long as she can remember, and this one took 26 years. "I've wanted to write a book, but didn't believe I had the skills back then," she said.

Her inspiration came from her love of murder mystery novels, and her fascination with the concept of reincarnation.

"In my teens, I read every Shirley MacLaine book I could get my hands on. I know she has the reputation for being a little 'out there,' but her work led me to read other books by authors like Edgar Cayce, Brian L. Weiss, and John Edwards," Mayhew said. "Combining the two themes, murder mystery and reincarnation, was an intriguing concept and it has made for a very fast and furious read in the form of Raging Soul."

Mayhew started writing her book under the working title of 'Blood Secrets' back in 1991. My final effort began in 2007. I really made it my job to write it and spent six to eight hours a day writing it over a two year period."

She finished the book in 2009 but sat on it for a few years.

"In 2015, I got serious about it and worked with an editor in Seattle for about eight months to really tighten up the manuscript. When it was ready, I began working with Archway Publishing.

"I finally realized that my dream would never become a reality unless I do the work on my end. You have to try — nothing changes if nothing changes," she said.

"Holding the book in my hands for the first time was an indescribable experience," Mayhew said. "I'm grateful to be living the dream, and feel proud of what I've accomplished."

Where to get it

Raging Soul is available on Amazon, online with Barnes and Nobel and a few other places like Google Books and iBooks. Mayhew's website is www. amymayhewbooks.com, and she can be followed on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram.

Mayhew will have a book signing at Fenton's Open Book in downtown Fenton, from 1 to 3 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 7. Another signing will be at Barnes and Noble, 2800 S. Rochester Road in Rochester Hills on Sunday, Dec. 17 at 1 p.m.

About Raging Soul

John Hanson, a seemingly friendly drifter, offers Beverly Deerfield a ride from the rural bar where she works. Beverly never makes it home, and Hanson's burned body is found hours later among the wreckage of a single car crash along an isolated Michigan highway.

Detective Alan Whitman's gut tells him that Hanson had something to do with Beverly's disappearance, yet he can't prove it. Beverly's body was never recovered, and it's a regret that haunts Whitman for his entire career.

Thirty years later, Julie Deerfield is the spitting image of her late Aunt Beverly as she begins her career at Michigan State University.

After having too much to drink at a Halloween party, Julie falls victim to a date rape. The shame of the incident fuels her newfound interest in drugs and alcohol. Soon, a dark, unknown part of her personality begins to emerge. The past and the present collide as Julie realizes she is mysteriously linked to the man who murdered the aunt she never knew.

About Amy Mayew

Amy Mayhew has been married to Tony Mayhew for 23 years. They have one daughter, Jessica, 20, a graduate of Holly High School and currently a junior at Central Michigan University. "We have two dogs, Millie and Lucy, who faithfully serve as my office mates whenever I'm fortunate enough to work from home," Mayhew said.

Tigers remain perfect, crush Clio Mustangs, 49-12

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Friday night's football temperatures may have been hot, but there is one thing that may have been hotter — the Fenton varsity football team.

The Tigers continued their tear through Metro League foes, crushing Clio 49-12 at Clio High School on Friday night.

The Tigers improved to 5-0 overall and to 5-0 in the league, just two victories away from assuring at least a co-Metro League title. Fenton has captured or shared each of the previous six Metro crowns.

Fenton scored 42 of its points in the first half, scoring 28 in the second quarter alone. The quarter opened with a Josh Czarnota TD run of 25 yards on the first play of the second quarter. Later in the quarter, Spencer Rivera scored on an eight-yard TD run and Czarnota threw a TD pass of two yards to A. J. LePage. Fenton's final score of the first half came on a Chanse Setzke punt return of 52 yards for a touchdown. Fenton led 42-0 at that time. CONTINUED AT

Blue Devils remain perfect in GAC Red

■LF's defense sparks 24-6 win vs. Byron

By David Troppens dtroppens@tctimes.com;

Lake Fenton — Life can become mighty competitive when twin brothers are on the same football team.

Just ask Lake Fenton's Tomczyk twins. Matt Tomczyk ended Byron's second offensive possession with an interception. To make sure he wasn't outdone, Luke Tomczyk ended Byron's final possession of the game with a pick of his own. The brothers also made many more outstanding plays on offense and defense in between the picks, helping lead Lake Fenton to a 24-6 home victory against the Byron Eagles on Friday.

"Sometimes we try to out-do each other," Luke Tomczyk readily admitted after the contest. "We are both competitors, so we like to compete with each other and try to make both of us better. But we like to see each other succeed."

The pair are helping the Blue Devils succeed as well, moving the squad to 4-0 in the Genesee Area Conference Red Division and to 4-1 overall. And it's probably fair to say the defense is helping lead the way so far. Lake Fenton has allowed just 19 points in those four league games.

"We have allowed two touchdowns in the league so I think we are doing pretty well," Matt Tomczyk said. "Tonight we knew their running back was very skillful. We never knew where he was going to go, so we had to stick to our roles and play a basic defense."

"Our defense has been getting us out of a lot of tough situations, so I think it's one of the main reasons why we are doing so well," Luke Tomczyk said.

It didn't take the Blue

"I was going outside," Tomczyk said. "I hit one of my guys, so I kind of hesitated. But then I found a hole and took it."

win against Clio.

Linden's defense held the Hornets to less than 100 yards total offense and the special teams returned a punt for a TD, leading the Eagles to the 38-6 victory at Kearsley on Friday night.

"We played well defensively," Linden co-head varsity football on a George Walterhouse 20-yard coach Denny Hopkins said. "I pass reception to Travis Klocek. don't know if it was the heat, but we didn't start very well. We got going defensively and offensively in the second quarter and then we scored a couple of quick touchdowns in the third quarter.

"It was a good game. Coming off of a week ago (a loss to Fenton) and getting everyone a chance to play, it was good."

Linden scored the only points in the first quarter on a six-yard TD run by Phoenix Dickson and then took a 22-0 lead into halftime off the strength of two TDs in the second quarter. One came The second was a four-yard TD run by Cade Dickson.

Linden added another TD reception in the third quarter on a 24-yard TD reception to Seeger DeGayner. DeGayner continued his strong play with a 76-yard TD punt return. The Eagles scored one more time when Koleton Strauss kicked a 21-yard field goal.

The Linden varsity boys soccer team took a big step toward one of their first goals of the season on Monday night.

The Eagles handed Swartz Creek its first Metro League loss of the season, enhancing their chances of earning a Metro League championship.

Linden scored three first-half goals and cruised from there as the fifth-ranked Division 2 squad in the state remained unbeaten in Metro League play. The win means there are only two teams without a loss remaining in the Metro standings. CONTINUED AT TCTIMES.COM

Holly Bronchos fall to Flushing, 43-21 By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

It was a decent start for the Holly varsity football team in its Friday night Metro League road contest at Flushing.

The Bronchos were tied 14-14 at the break and were in good shape to possibly collect a road win against the Raiders.

However, Flushing outscored Holly 29-7 in the second half, earning the Raiders a 43-21 victory.

The loss drops the Bronchos to 3-2 in the Metro League and to 3-2 overall. The loss also delivered a big blow to any Metro League championship hopes the Bronchos had entering the contest.

Wyatt Scribner provided Holly's most exciting play in the contest, scoring on a 90-yard kickoff return. Offensively, Jacob Honsteter had 65 yards rushing on 10 carries and scored the other two Bronchos' TDs. Collin Dallwitz had six carries for 27 yards.

Cade Dallwitz completed 6-of-13 passes for 58 yards and also rushed for 38 yards on 11 carries. Honstetter caught two of those passes for 22 yards. Grant Tooley had a catch for 15 yards while Scribner caught one pass for seven yards.

Fenton swimmers take second at county meet

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789 The Fenton varsity girls swimming and diving team captured the first of many season goals while competing in the Genesee County Swim meet on Friday and Saturday.

The Tigers posted one state cut, six Michigan Interscholastic Swim Coaches Association (MISA) qualifying times, three event county championships and placed second overall at the meet held Friday and Saturday. The battle between Fenton and eventual champions Grand Blanc would've been even closer if not for a couple Fenton disqualifications. Holly also competed at the meet and placed ninth.

'We did very well," Fenton varsity swim coach Brad Jones said. "We're still battling with Grand Blanc's depth. This year we were ahead until event nine.

Linden XC wins own invitational; other area squads perform well at event

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789 If the Linden varsity boys cross country team is running, chances are they are finishing in first place.

At least that seems to be the trend. The Eagles captured their fifth meet championship of the season, taking first in the large school division of the squad's own Linden Classic during Saturday's hot weather conditions.

In a field of 14 teams, Linden won with 56 points while Hartland took second with 70 points. Lake Fenton's boys moved up to the large school division and finished in fifth place. In the large school girls race, Holly was the area's strongest local team, taking a very respectable fourth (104). Linden took seventh (134) and Lake Fenton placed 13th (369).

Tigers' depth proves too much for Holly, Fenton wins Metro contest 6-1

By David Troppens dtroppens@tctimes.com

Holly — Kevin Pojer has been in America for only two months.

But the foreign exchange student from Italy has found a new family at Fenton High School.

Pojer is a part of the Fenton varsity soccer team and doing pretty well.

Pojer had an assist in Fenton's strong 6-1 victory against the Holly Bronchos on Monday, keeping open the Tigers' (4-1-1 in the Metro) faint Metro League title hopes for at least another day. Pojer is enjoying his time with the Fenton program.

"I feel really good with them. They are like a family," Pojer said. "They became like a family to me and it's fun."

In Italy there aren't high school soccer teams, but Po-jer does play for a club squad. He's been playing since he was 6. He said there are a few differences between the two country's styles of play.

"The game is a bit different," Pojer said. "In Italy the play is more focused on passing, possession of the ball and creating more opportunities to attack the goal. It's more tactical."

Of course, the Fenton style of play
