Public relations firm tasked with improving communications

■ City to pay Vanguard $4,500 per month to upgrade its digital presence

By Vera Hogan

On Monday, July 9, the Fenton City Council voted unanimously to enter into an agreement with Vanguard Public Affairs, Inc., a Lansing public relations firm for $4,500 per month.

They would be involved with the city's efforts to communicate the many events and projects going on in the community, which could include providing the public with factual information on city street improvements and a possible millage.

The six-month contract started on July 1 and will terminate on Dec. 31, 2018, for a total cost of $27,000, and possible "modest" travel expenses.

Love of the game leads to 40,000-card collection

■ Local resident has acquired baseball cards since he was 10 years old

By Tim Jagielo

tjagiolo@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

Mundy Twp. — Eric Goupil isn't sure how many baseball cards he owns, but it's somewhere between 30,000 and 40,000. He admits that he hasn't even looked at them all.

Half of the shelving storage in his basement is dedicated to cards and sports memorabilia, and he has valuable cards stored in a vault at the bank.

Goupil has coached a Swartz Creek travel baseball team for 15 years.

The reason for the collection is rooted in his love of baseball, which his father Ted Goupil passed on to him. He started collecting them in the '70s as a hobby.

Around the time he graduated high school and started college, he was able to turn cards into a business, because there was a robust card market. "What started off as a hobby ended up as a college business for a while," he said.

Popular brands include Topps, Upper Deck and Fleer.

His collection ranges from the 1970s, '80s and a little bit in the '90s, and he's not sure how much he's spent on his collection. "Over the years the price of cards has changed so much," he said. They used to be $.25 per pack, but are now up to $4 a pack.

The value of a card was determined by the popularity of the player and the scarcity of the card. "So when the late '80s hit and I'd say they over-produced, there were no more scarcity of the cards," he said.

Card companies also started putting out several series of cards per year instead of just one, so he stopped being able to buy all the cards that one company put out.

He said today there is a "premium" card market. A premium card could include an exclusive signature or the piece of a player's jersey. Demand is high for these rare cards, and finding one in a pack is matter of luck. "You don't know until you buy the pack," he said. "That might be one in 1,000 packs before you pull something."

After the trading card market went bust, collecting cards became a hobby again, and he's passing it on to his son, Ben, 15. "It's mostly about the connection with baseball that was passed from my dad to me, and now I'm going to pass it to my son," he said.

Goupil and his wife, Keri, have been married for 19 years. He said storing all these cards has been a "topic of discussion" with her, but she understands the importance of sports in their family.

"Why not keep them; you never know what might happen down the road," he said. "It's always kind of nostalgic to look back on them, so it's worth it for me to keep them."

They sure were comfortable — until you wanted to get up. At that point, you needed a buddy to lend a

Lava lamps

Do they still exist? The lava lamp dates back to 1963, when a British accountant came up with the idea, which he dubbed the "Astro lamp." Two guys in Chicago bought the American rights and founded the Lava Manufacturing Corporation. A U.S. patent was issued in 1968 for the common form of the product, which could be found in catalogs, dens and dorm rooms for years to come.

What are delegates?

■Becoming a precinct delegate is an effective way to get involved politically

By Hannah Ball
hball@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

“Precinct delegate” is a term commonly heard during the election season, and a position people will vote for, but one not many people are knowledgeable about. Precinct delegates act as bridges to the voters and the Democratic or Republican parties, spreading information about candidates and representing neighborhoods at party meetings.

The two people on the ballot expected to win the Republican first precinct delegate positions in Argentine Township are Argentine Township Clerk Denise Graves and current State Rep. Joe Graves of the 51st District. On the Democrat ballot, voters will see James Leaman and Ronald Perkins, who are running for two of the seven precinct delegate positions.

“I am running because I care about my community and state and I want to advance conservative principles and solutions,” said Denise Graves, who has been a delegate since 1992.

Delegates do the following: help people register to vote, deliver information on issues and candidates to voters in their precinct, recruit new party members and more. According to oaklandgop.net, delegates will be involved in state conventions where party platforms are adopted and voted on, and nominations are made for different boards and committees.

Genesee County Clerk John Gleason was a delegate when he was younger.

TRI-COUNTY TIMES | USNEWS.COM
Precinct delegates attend county conventions and vote to nominate candidates for secretary of state, attorney general and more.

“In the days of old, they were responsible for their precinct. They took party candidate literature around, found sign locations. Those days are long gone,” he said. “In the old days there was a lot more canvassing. People knew their neighbors were the best advocate. When you go to your neighbor and tell him or her to vote for you candidate, you just get better results.”

He said the title has become more symbolic, but the delegates do vote on party platforms and vote for candidates for secretary of state, attorney general and more.

According to the Genesee County Democratic Party, there are 95 precincts in Genesee County, and each precinct has the ability to elect up to nine delegates. This position is only voted on in the August Primary. Only Democrats can vote for Democratic delegates and Republicans only vote for Republican delegates.

activities can leave them vulnerable to vehicles sharing the road,” Snyder said. “Drivers must exercise caution and maintain awareness around vulnerable roadway users.”

The change amends the Michigan Vehicle Code to require the driver of a vehicle when passing a bicycle in the same direction to pass 3 feet to the left of the bicycle. If 3 feet of space is impractical, then the driver must pass at a safe distance to the left at a safe speed. They also require driver’s education curriculum to include at least one hour of class time on motorcycles, bicycles, pedestrians and other “vulnerable roadway users.” The bills are now Public Acts 277, 279 and 280 of 2018.

The bill, also called the Safe Passing Bill, states, “If it is impracticable to pass the bicycle at a distance of 3 feet to the left at a safe distance to the left of that bicycle at a safe speed, and when safely clear of the overtaken bicycle shall take up a position as near the right-hand edge of the main traveled portion of the highway as it practicable.”

Sponsors of this bill hope it will decrease bicyclist deaths in the state. Michigan bicyclist deaths increased 15 percent in 2016, according to the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning. In 2014, there were 21 fatalities, which rose to 33 in 2015 and to 38 in 2016.

Hughes said 39 other states have some type of law about motorists passing cyclists with a distance identified.

“It’s basically for the safety of the kids and families, the general bike riders, to have some kind of distance named so people pay attention to people on bikes,” Hughes said.

Representatives Joe Graves (R-Dist. 51) and Hank Vaupel (R-Dist. 47) voted in favor of the bill.

A person who violates this law is guilty of a civil infraction, which can incur a fine. The law goes into effect Aug.1, 2019.

“Many Michiganders enjoy activities like bicycling, but these activities can leave them vulnerable to vehicles sharing the road.”

Fenton ArtWalk welcomes visitors Saturday

■ Downtown will host community event featuring artists, food and entertainment

By Sally Rummel

news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

Matt Brehl, 54, worked in the field of automation and robotics for 18 years, until the recession hit Michigan hard.

Then he turned his custom metal work into art, using plasma-cutting, laser and water jet techniques to turn his imagination into a finished piece.

Brehl will be one of about 60 vendors displaying and selling his custom art at the Fenton ArtWalk this Saturday, July 14 in downtown Fenton.

Brehl's unique art form will join other artists using traditional canvas art, pottery, woodworking, photography, fabric arts and jewelry, on display and for sale inside and outside of businesses from Dibbleville to the Cornerstone building.

Long-time Fenton watercolorist Denise Willing-Booher will be on hand with canvases filled with landscapes, nature and portraiture. "I'll be painting on site, so come by and see me paint," she said.

Yet there will be more than art to draw huge crowds into the downtown area. A Flights & Bites tent will serve adult refreshments from more than half a dozen local restaurants, from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. on the front lawn of the Fenton Community & Cultural Center. Live musical acts will entertain the crowds during the day and into the evening.

The 2017 Fenton ArtWalk not only featured art for sale and on display but also pieces created on the spot, like this graffiti mural by Kevin Burdick and Charlie Boike (not pictured.)

Fenton ArtWalk is being organized through Southern Lakes Parks & Recreation (SLPR), with funding by the City of Fenton Downtown Development Authority (DDA). The community center is sponsoring the children's events and members of the Fenton High School National Honor Society are serving as volunteers.

The atmosphere will be similar to a street fair with jugglers, stilt-walkers, face-painting, human statues and more. "There will be a large kids' area in front of the post office," said Vince Paris of SLPR. "We keep adding a little more to the event every year."

This will be Brehl's second time only participating in an art event. His first time was at the Flint Art Fair several weeks ago. He works with his brother-in-law, Matt Miller, at MJB Designs & Fabrication in his shed on his family's property in Goodrich.

"We've been doing this for about five or six years," Brehl said. "I love to make things that are personal to people." Locally, you may have seen his works at Vintage Industrial Uniques in downtown Holly.

The array of activities is designed to create a family friendly event for all ages, Paris said. "We want people to walk around downtown," he said.

The Fenton ArtWalk will be held following the 2018 Bastille Day 15K/5K Run on July 14, which runs from 7:30 to 10 a.m., starting at the Fenton United Methodist Church. The race will benefit the Genesee County Habitat for Humanity.

"We keep adding a little more to the event every year."

MICHIGAN VOTES

LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITY

MichiganVotes.org is a free, non-partisan website created by the Mackinac Center for Public Policy to provide concise, non-partisan, plain-English descriptions of every bill and vote in the Michigan House and Senate. This report was released Friday, June 29.

The Legislature is on a summer/campaign break with no sessions scheduled until July 25. Rather than votes, this report contains some noteworthy legislative proposals to amend the constitution. To become law these require a two-thirds vote in the House and Senate and approval by voters.

2018 Senate Joint Resolution R: Call for "Article V" U.S. constitutional amendment convention

Introduced by Sen. Rick Jones (R), to submit an application to Congress calling for a "convention to propose amendments to the U.S. Constitution," limited to the issues of fiscal restraints, federal powers and congressional term limits.

2018 Senate Joint Resolution S: Limit referendum on appropriations ban and more

Introduced by Rep. Robert Wittenberg (D), to place before voters in the next general election a constitutional amendment to revise the current prohibition on citizen referendums challenging bills that contain an appropriation.

The measure would establish that the ban only applies to bills that substantially fund one or more state departments, or which are needed to close current state budget shortfalls.

A 2001 Supreme Court ruling interpreted the provision to prohibit referendums on any bill containing an appropriation. In several instances since then, the legislature has deliberately added modest appropriations to controversial bills, which, without the appropriation, would likely have been challenged by a referendum.

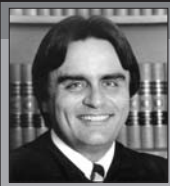

In addition, the proposal would change the process for initiated legislation, which allows citizens to petition for the legislature to either pass a proposed law within 40 days, or put it on the ballot if they don't have the votes. This measure would prohibit the legislature from passing a bill with identical language and then amending or repealing it in the same session.

2018 Senate Joint Resolution T and House Joint Resolution KK: Lower minimum voting age to 16

Introduced by Sen. David Knezek (D) and Rep. Yousef Rabhi (D), respectively, to place before voters in the next general election a Constitutional amendment to lower the minimum voting age from age 18 to age 16.

2018 House Joint Resolution LL: Repeal same sex marriage ban

Introduced by Rep. Jon Hoadley (D), to place before voters in the next general election a constitutional amendment to repeal Section 25 of the Michigan constitution, which states, "To secure and preserve the benefits of marriage for our society and for future generations of children, the union of one man and one woman in marriage shall be the only agreement recognized as a marriage or similar union for any purpose."

Trump v Hawaii and the Korematsu case

On June 26, in Trump v Hawaii, the United States Supreme Court upheld the authority and constitutionality of President Donald Trump's Sept. 24, 2017 Proclamation imposing travel bans and restrictions on citizens of seven countries including several which are predominately Muslim.

I won't go into the merits of the 5 to 4 decision except to say that the majority opinion was written by Chief Justice John Roberts. At the end of his opinion, Justice Roberts stated: "The dissent's reference to Korematsu ... affords this Court the opportunity to make express what is already obvious: Korematsu was gravely wrong the day it was decided, has been overruled in the court of history, and — to be clear — has no place in law under the Constitution."

These are very strong words and the question becomes what is Korematsu?

The answer is that it was a 1944 Supreme Court case (Korematsu v United States), which upheld President Roosevelt's World War II Executive Order, resulting military orders and a statute, which allowed Japanese Americans on the west coast to be forcibly relocated from their homes to internment camps regardless of their citizenship. The stated reason was military necessity in time of war with the Japanese.

The defendant was Fred Korematsu, a United States citizen, who was convicted of not complying with the law. His loyalty was never questioned.

There is no question that the orders and statute were race based.

Before Justice Roberts' opinion there were many criticisms of Korematsu.

Examples include a 1982 Congressional Committee finding that the internments were not a military necessity and were based on racial prejudice, war hysteria and a failure of political leadership.

In 1984, Mr. Korematsu's conviction was set aside by a federal court based on prosecutorial misconduct. As it turns out in 1944, the United States Solicitor General did not disclose a naval intelligence report to the Supreme Court which showed that there wasn't a military necessity for mass Japanese-American internment.

In 1988, Congress passed a law signed by President Ronald Reagan providing $20,000 in reparations to each surviving detainee.

In 2014 and 2015, former Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia indicated Korematsu was wrongly decided.

Without adding more, legal commentators agree with Justice Roberts' opinion on Korematsu.

VANGUARD

Modest travel expenses and any unusually large or non-routine expenses are to be discussed in advance with city administration.

According to City Manager Lynn Markland in a memo to Mayor Sue Osborn, one of the items discussed during the Community Strategic Planning session in May was communications, website issues and digital communications.

At the July 2 work session, T.J. Bucholz of Vanguard Communications discussed contracting with the city to provide these services. "They have provided services for other communities as well as the Michigan Municipal League," Markland said.

Markland further stated, "They would be focused on providing factual information to the public on city issues."

Markland said Monday that the contract with Vanguard is for them to assist the city with communications including its Facebook page, making changes to the city's website to make it more adaptable to mobile devices and assisting the city with an electronic newsletter.

Regarding the references in the contract to the improvement, maintenance and construction of city streets, and appropriate millage rate necessary to pay for street work, Markland said, "Should the City Council approve ballot language for a charter amendment that would include a street millage, they would assist the city in providing factual information to the public regarding the millage."

"They (Vanguard) would be prohibited from advocating for or against the millage," he said. "Any information prepared would be screened by the administration and the city attorney to make sure the information is not presented in such a way that it could be considered as advocating for or against any millage consideration."

"Too often, some of the media presents ballot issues as a request by the City Council for whatever the ballot question is for, when actually it is a ballot question that requests the electorate (voters) to make a decision," Markland said. "If the city does have a ballot issue, the City Council wants the voters to be able to make an informed decision. The City Council believes that the city has a responsibility to inform and educate the voters on the issue. This would be done by presenting factual information and Vanguard would assist us with that task."

Magician wows audience at the library

■ Making magic is full-time job for recent college graduate

By Tim Jagielo

tjagiolo@tctimes.com; 810-433-6795

Linden — After much anticipation and drama, magician Cameron Zvara revealed his latest invention to the audience of kids and family members, designed to extract ideas and imagination from their heads.

It's a plunger on top of a Frisbee. He used his plunger to extract coins from the heads of his volunteers, which clanged loudly into the metal container he used to catch them.

"With a plunger on your head, it's impossible to not laugh," said participant Cameron Moses, 11, of Fenton.

Zvara will preform three shows a day, and has had 10 so far with the Genesee District Library (GDL) system. "I feel exhausted, but it's a good exhausted," he said after the show.

Zvara juggles, does magic tricks, uses crowd participation heavily, and links it all together with choreographed music and sound effects. He triggers various sounds and music with a discrete remote in his pocket as he performs.

He said he loves giving communities something they can experience together. "That's the real magic in what I do. Giving different people a shared experience," he said.

He's a recent college graduate with a marketing degree, and is into his second year performing full time. He said he has 125 shows between June and August.

This Linden Library audience was smaller, but he's played for as many as 5,000 people at a baseball stadium, and as few as one. He has a polished show that integrates comedy, illusion, crowd participation and music with sound effects.

Zvara believes that he has to entertain everyone in the family, and everyone in the room, the entire set. "When creating new material and piecing together a solid program, the magic has to be good, but the entertainment value must be even better," he said.

Sara Moses and Brian Moses brought their son, Cameron, to the show. They said the show was fun — but they have also known Zvara since he was a kid.

Cameron Moses is an aspiring magician himself. He liked that Zvara spends a fair amount of time showing the crowd how certain tricks work, such as the handkerchief trick, using an egg.

Zvara, 23, has been performing since he was a child. He utilizes classic performance techniques while harnessing all the social media sites he can to reach his fans.

He said he tries to change his show 30 to 40 percent each year, and that a 15-minute performance can take a year to create.

The library circuit is something that he can use to build his repertoire, eventually have enough material to pitch himself to bigger venues like theatres and cruise ships. He said this could take a few more years.

He credits his family for supporting him as he develops his show, playing for children's birthday parties.

Kelly Flynn, Community Relations manager for the GDL, said they hired Zvara because, "He is a superb performer. He's young enough to really connect with the kids, but he's as professional as if he's been doing this for 30 years."

Magic shows are one part of the summer programming at local libraries.

Zvara will next perform at the Holly Township Library at 10 a.m., Thursday July 19.

Precincts are allotted a number of delegates based on past party voting strengths. Gleason said the parties set the amount of delegates.

Denise Graves said being a delegate does not interfere with her position as clerk because she does not do any precinct delegate work from the Argentine Township office. She attends state conventions and served on the Executive Committee of the Genesee County GOP for years until she was elected clerk in 2008.

SUMMARY

■ Precinct delegates help register voters, spread information about candidates, and vote on party platforms and nominees at county conventions.

"It is important to be sure to vote for the best candidate for lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, university board candidates as well as rules, and party platform. Most delegates do volunteer for their party or candidates," she said.

On the primary ballot this August, voters will see that not enough people are running to become delegates to fill all the available positions.

According to gc4me.com, there are three Republicans and no Democrats running for a delegate position in Fenton City. In Fenton Township, there are two Republicans and four Democrats running for delegate positions.

In the city of Linden, Democrat David Lossing, who is also running to become the district 51 state representative, is running to become a delegate, and two Republicans are running for the positions. There are enough delegate positions for everyone running to win.

Those wishing to become a delegate must file a Precinct Delegate Affidavit of Identity and turn it into the county. Delegates are volunteers. The deadline has already passed since forms must be turned in by the 12th Tuesday before the August primary, which would have been May 15.

Calvin Klein

In 1968, fashion designer Calvin Klein, about 25 years old at the time, scraped together $10,000 to open a coat shop in the York Hotel in New York City. He called his shop Calvin Klein Limited. A year later, his clothes had made the cover of Vogue. Today, CK is a fashion empire, in large part thanks to a teenage Brooke Shields asking in advertisements, "You want to know what comes between me and my Calvins? Nothing."

The Archies

The Archie Comics characters date back to the early days of World War II, but in 1968, the fictional town Riverdale reached a new level of fame with the launch of The Archie Show, a cartoon on CBS. Out of the show spun a bubblegum pop phenomenon, as the band the Archies became a legitimate chart sensation. The animated group released its first album in 1968, and the first single, "Bang-Shang-A-Lang," climbed to No. 22 in the Billboard charts.

After it became the official ball of the 1970 World Cup in Mexico, the design took hold in the sport.

"I had no idea I would be able to purchase my dream home on June 14."

That's the date she closed on the sale. In 2007, the facility was purchased for $875,000, according to city of Fenton records, and, as Rockwell Assisted Living, carried on the tradition of providing assisted living services to the Fenton and Genesee county areas.

Peabody was able to purchase the house and property for $465,000.

Peabody said on Tuesday that she plans to give the building a facelift with some fresh paint and new flooring, and convert it into a "health and wellness" center. In addition to moving her chiropractic practice to the first floor, which she said encompasses about 2,000 square feet, the rooms and space on the second floor will be rented to other like health and wellness practices. The third floor will be rented as a residential one-bedroom, two-bathroom apartment.

The one-story auxiliary building adjacent to the Victorian home is 4,500 square feet and also will be offered for rent. Looking into the future, she sees yoga and gym-type exercise businesses there. Her main focus, however, is on the main house. Peabody said she outgrew her current building overlooking the Shiawassee River on North LeRoy Street, which she purchased in 2010. That building, too, will be available for rent once Café of Life vacates.

"Big blue is an icon," said Peabody of her new house. She plans to have the modest renovations completed and be ready to move in this fall.

The current assisted living facility accommodated 30-plus residents at one time. Currently there are about four living there.

Peabody said when she closed on the building on June 14, the assisted living business was given 45 days from that date to find other accommodations for its residents.

Rockwell management did not respond to phone calls from the Times to address rumors that residents were only given two weeks to find other homes.

"I feel for the residents," Peabody said. "That's why I kept quiet during this whole process. I never want people to think Dr. Peabody put these people out on the street. I realized the business needed an appropriate amount of time to relocate its residents."

"I've been trying to figure out how to step back and let them do that," she said. "I have no contact with them whatsoever. We're not in any rush and are being patient with the whole process. It needs to be done properly for the elderly people."

"I'm so excited to be there but am being patient out of respect for the residents," she said. "I don't even have the keys yet."

History

The turn-of-the-century house at the corner of S. Adelaide Street and W. Shiawassee Avenue is the site of the oldest house in Fenton — a log cabin, which was erected in 1834 at the time the village of Fenton was founded.

In 1889, A.J. Phillips began construction on the house that now occupies the site. An addition was put on in 1962. There is 10,259 square feet of living space, plus 1,000 square feet of basement storage. There is a detached barn and ample parking.

The building at 700 S. Adelaide St. in Fenton is also for sale. It currently houses Rockwell Memory Care, Inc.

Phillips was a prominent industrialist in early Fenton, employing more than 200 men in his multifaceted business; manufacturing a variety of products too numerous to mention. It was reported that his sliding window screens were installed at the White House in Washington, D.C.

In 1927, the property was purchased by Frank Algae, a retired hardware dealer from Flint, who lived in the house for about 20 years. Algae was fond of carriages and kept them in the adjacent carriage house.

When Kenneth Jameyson purchased the property in 1947, he and his wife Marie Jameyson opened the Fenton Convalescent Home, which was the first in the area. It was licensed by the state of Michigan in 1957 and was listed as a skilled facility in 1966. The home was renamed "Elder House" in 1981 when daughter Betty Carlson (who purchased the facility from her parents in 1973) converted it into an assisted living facility. It has served as an assisted living facility ever since.

Rockwell Memory Care, Inc. also for sale

According to zillow.com, 700 S. Adelaide St. in Fenton also is for sale. The turn-of-the-century home is more commonly known as Rockwell Memory Care, Inc.

The house, which accommodates elderly dementia and Alzheimer's patients, was built as a single-family home in 1900. The sale price is $436,900.

It is a 7,707-square-foot, 11-bedroom, eight-bathroom house at the corner of Adelaide and Rockwell Street.

According to Zillow, the house is listed with the Lucy Ham Group, Inc. of Flushing. It has been listed for about four months. City records show this property is owned by Sakshi Real Estate Properties, LLC in Lapeer, who paid $1.25 million for it in August of 2007.

The property at 202 W. Shiawassee also was listed by the Lucy Ham Group. The owner is listed as Surbhi Real Estate Properties, LLC, at the same P.O. Box as Sakshi (569) in Lapeer.

DEMOCRATS ARE OK with the killing of 55 million babies, but become unhinged when 1,600 children are separated from their parents for 20 days while we sort through the immigration process. This policy was written into law by Clinton and was a policy under Obama.

WELCOME TO HOTEL America, which is owned and operated by the Democratic National Committee. This is only for illegal immigrants and they can come here and live for free. They will be clothed, fed, given welfare, free medical care, free education and in many cases a driver's license and cars. Unbelievable.

ONE OF THE top songs in the country right now is, 'I stand for the flag and the flag stands for all of us.' This is a great reminder of support for our military, for our vets, for all of the American patriots that we do not agree with the kneelers. The kneelers and the NFL are wrong and they are un-American.

I'D LIKE TO wish Happy Independence Day to all of our Fenton residents, a day that we celebrate freedom and courage of the men and women who serve in our military, on our border and ICE, and those who serve in law enforcement throughout our country.

DID YOU KNOW that the Democratic Party is supporting 35 socialists running for Congressional races this fall? Their support also comes from Marxist professors, a Hollywood leftist ideology and biased liberal media. Millions of Americans lost their lives fighting for freedom against Communism.

I JUST READ an article that talked about the NBA receiving a national diversity award. This league is 90-percent black and the whites who play in the NBA mostly are from Europe. Huh?

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY is compassionate and caring. The Republican party is mean spirited and petty. The children of immigrants should not have to suffer because their parents want a better life. What have we become?

I GREW UP in Fenton. I want to say I'm very thankful for our hometown newspaper. I find myself in total agreement with the King's writings weekly and I'm very inspired by what he brings to the table in terms of his beliefs and his writings. Thank you very much.

OPEN THE BORDER, open the borders.

We need the vote. Thank you, Nancy Pelosi.

I FIND IT fascinating the senators Feinstein, Kamala Harris and Cory Booker are questioning and criticizing our Supreme Court nominees for their Christianity. It's as if Socialism is just around the corner for the Democratic Party.

DON'T TELL ME we're a cashless society. I had to hit three ATMs over the holiday in order to find cash. The people still want it but the retailers and the banks want to get rid of it because it costs money to process it.

NOW THAT LINDEN'S football field looks fantastic, how about replacing the basketball nets, painting the lines on the roads and parking lots and planting some grass by the entrances not to mention new mulch. Schools of choice give a first good impression please.

I AM A new resident in the area. I went to my first Fourth of July parade. There was nothing but advertising and politicians. What happened to clowns and great floats?

THANK YOU TO all my neighbors who set off fireworks July 3rd and 4th. It was a pleasure to see and hear. It was a great and patriotic day.

OUR STATE SENATORS are elected to represent the citizens, not illegals. They seem to be more worried about the rights of the illegals, who have no rights.

PEOPLE ARE blaming president Trump for separating the kids from their parents. It's not President Trump's fault. It's the damn parents. Don't break the law, don't come here illegally and you won't be separated from your children.

REGARDING THE SILVER Lake Road issue. Silver Parkway should have gone straight through to North Road and then all the traffic would not be funneled back to Poplar to get to North Road and beyond.

DOES ANYONE KNOW how old that oak tree was that was cut down a few weeks ago on North Road?

THE DEMOCRATS NEED to help fix the law they created under the Clinton administration. Until the law is fixed, Trump should be in jail for breaking the law.

THE FBI IS getting ready to screw up another election. Forget the Russian investigation, the real threat is the FBI headquarters.

Area prep diamond stars headed to senior All-Star games

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

The 2017-18 prep sports season ended over a month ago for most area athletes.

But for a handful of senior graduates, they'll have one more game they can enjoy before ending their prep careers.

Five area baseball players will play in the annual North-South All-Star Senior Game at Midland's Dow Diamond on July 12 while two softball players will be headed to Central Michigan University on July 18 to play in the Division 2 MHSSCA All-Star Softball Game.

The baseball players are Linden's Drake McLaughlin and Corbin Sines, and Fenton's Nolan Lawrence and Logan Benson. Fenton varsity baseball coach Shawn Lawrence will be coaching the team. Lake Fenton's Luke Tomczyk also was included on the team recently. The game is scheduled for 6 p.m.

Linden's Liz Rakowski and Lake Fenton's Kalani Lau will be representing the area in the D2 softball game being played at 4 p.m. on July 18.

McLaughlin batted .326 with five doubles, a triple and a home run for the Eagles in 2018. He had an on-base percentage of .396 and drove in 14 runs. He also scored 18 runs.

Sines batted .324 with five doubles and three triples. He scored 20 runs.

Lawrence batted .362 for the Tigers with five doubles and a team-leading five home runs. He drove in 23 runs and scored 31 runs. He had an on-base percentage of .441 and a slugging percentage of .574.

Benson hit .333 with four doubles and three home runs for the Tigers during the spring. He led the team with 27 RBI and scored 15 runs. Tomczyk was an All-Genesee Area Conference First-Team selection, earning it as an unanimous selection.

Rakowski finished her Linden career by recording a .449 batting average, which included 12 doubles, a triple and two home runs. She had a .515 on-base percentage and a .674 slugging percentage. For the second straight season she earned D2 First-Team All-State honors.

Some thoughts about sports and others not dealing with sports at all

YES, WE ARE FENTON'S SUPERSTAR ATHLETIC COUPLE

Within the last week, a life-long dream has come true in the Troppens household.

I think I am now one-half of the 'most athletic married couple' in the tri-county area.

How have I come to this conclusion? Why through results, obviously. Recently, my wife, Anna, was her age group winner at the Fenton Firecracker 5K race. Meanwhile, about a week prior to that one of my league volleyball teams captured second for its regular-season play and third in the season-ending tournament. Yes, we are quite the athletic studs. And if that isn't enough, I'm claiming we are professional athletes as well. After all, Anna won a $25 gift card for her efforts, and our volleyball team won $30 for our efforts. That's prize money. I think I may list 'professional athlete' on my income tax returns next year.

Seriously, my wife deserves a lot of credit. Anna has gone from someone who finished deep in the pack at races to now finishing usually around the top third of the entire race, and quite frequently within the award-winning age-place positions. I'm super proud of how she's used her determination to become a pretty impressive runner. She's even gotten me to do some running. That may be her greatest feat of all.

In terms of volleyball, I should come clean. My volleyball team that took second place was more an indication of my teammates. I was clearly the fourth-best player on a four-person volleyball team. My teammates — Annette Rutkowski, Morgan Gavulic and Thomas Hameline — were the superstars. I just tried to stay out of their way as much as possible. All three are outstanding players, but also are outstanding people. We just had a ton of fun playing all season.

Byron's Jones wins wild one at Daytona

■Collects his first NASCAR Monster Energy Series victory with last-lap passing

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Byron's Erik Jones couldn't have picked a better spot to earn his first win in NASCAR's Monster Energy Series, the organization's top series.

He earned it at NASCAR's most prestigious track Saturday night, edging out Martin Truex Jr. to win the Coke Zero Sugar 400 at Daytona International Speedway in a race that was filled with crazy crashes and plot twists right until the final three laps. Of course, Jones was part of the final plot twist. After a couple of late-race crashes, Jones saw his position move from just inside the top 10 to the second position during the final restart of the race on NASCAR's most famous 2 1/2-mile oval.

Starting on the outside of the front row during the second overtime attempt, Jones, 22, found himself fall behind initially during the final restart, with Truex Jr. taking the lead while Kasey Kahne snuck into second place. However, Jones started a third line to the outside and surged forward off a strong push by Chris Buescher, enabling Jones to battle with Truex Jr. for the lead. They stayed close to each other entering the final lap, until Jones pushed ahead and took about a full car length lead on Truex Jr., earning his first victory in NASCAR's elite series by just .125 seconds.

The only lap Jones led was the final lap. Jones started the race in the 29th position and spent most of the event in his buyatoyota.com-sponsored Toyota farther back in the field on the lead lap.

"Oh man, what a day, what a day," Jones said when interviewed by NBC immediately in the victory lane. "I didn't think we'd have a shot to win it about halfway. We got ourselves back in contention. The guys did a great job getting this thing fixed up and getting the vibe to it. ... I've never been that good on superspeedways and I never really thought this was our shot to win, but to get here tonight is pretty awesome, man. It's a first win. There's not much that's better than this one."

In Jones's three previous Monster Energy races at Daytona, he had finished 39th, ninth and 36th.

"My first cup win, my first win at Daytona, my first superspeedway win, what an awesome day," Jones said.

He said his thoughts were on his parents after the race. Jones's father, Dave, died of lung cancer on June 7, 2016 when he was 53. His father sold his 1965 Corvette to help fund Jones's dream earlier in his career. Later in his career Jones purchased it back. His mom, Carol, wasn't at Saturday's event.

"I was thinking about my mom and dad right after the checkered (flag)," Jones said. "My mom stayed home for

LF's Lyons headed to Siena Heights to continue football career

By David Troppens

dtroppens@tctimes.com; 810-433-6789

Andy Lyons didn't want to see his football career end with the conclusion of his prep career at Lake Fenton High School.

That won't happen. Lyons, a 2018 graduate, is headed to Siena Heights to continue his career at the collegiate level.

He is thrilled.

"The last four years have been fun," Lyons said. "I've grown into a kid that thought he was going to go to Mott and then transfer, but now I'm going to Siena Heights to play football."

"I started off as a freshman and thought I had four years to play. But (during my junior year) I got first team (all-conference) and I started realizing I had a chance to play football (at the collegiate level)."

Lyons was an All-Genesee Area Conference (GAC) right tackle last season, helping lead the Blue Devils to back-to-back undefeated GAC seasons. At 6-foot-2 and 200 pounds, he helped open up the running lanes for the Blue Devils' typically strong running game.

Lyons said he was looking at Northwood University and Tiffin University as well. He also was thinking about playing baseball.

"It was a decision I had to make," Lyons said about baseball or football. "For an 18-year-old it's hard. I had eight to nine offers to play baseball and I had a lot of D3 offers, so I was weighing my options."

Siena Heights is a National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) school that just started playing football in 2012 as a true varsity sport. The squad has had reasonable success, going 5-5 a year ago, and never worse than 4-6.

Finally, I'd also like to say 'thanks' to my other volleyball league team — Kelly Davis, Sande Davis and Jaime Davidson. I always kid the Davises despite the fact I'm 49, I want someone in that family to adopt me, so I can play volleyball during the Davis family functions. They just smile, nod whenever I ask when the Davis family events are scheduled. But, gosh, their entire family can play volleyball, and they are all such great people. Who doesn't want to be part of a family like that? Meanwhile, I've met Jaime within the last year, and I'm glad I did. She's a great player and a great person as well. I really couldn't have asked to be on two better league teams during the spring.

RUNNER'S LOG

Most sports enthusiasts understand the tri-county area has its share of running enthusiasts. And to give these runners their "racing fix" the tri-county area has plenty of events you can attend located darn near in your own backyard. We'll occasionally present this runner's log during the summer to help those who may be looking for an area race to support. If you know of any events located in Fenton, Holly, Linden, Fenton Township, Tyrone Township, Holly Township or any other tri-county community, alert us about the event at dtroppens@tctimes.com and we'll add it to the list.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT RACES AT THE PARK

► This is the 16th year the Wednesday Night Races at the Park will be held at Linden County Park.

Two more races will be held today. Registration is done the night of the event and the cost is $2 a person or $5 a family. There are races ranging from one-half mile to three miles for every age and skill level. This is more of a cross country format race with the event being ran on the trails around Linden County Park. The shorter races start at 6:30 p.m. while the combined two-mile and three-mile race begins at 7 p.m.

BASTILLE DAY 15K RUN/5K RUN AND WALK

► Saturday's event has three major races — a 15K run that starts at 7:45 a.m., a 5K run that starts at 8 a.m. and the 5K walk that starts immediately after the 5K run. The race starts near the Fenton United Methodist Church in downtown Fenton and costs $30 before July 1 and $35 after that date if the runner wants a shirt. Without a shirt, the prices are $20 before July 1 and $25 after July 1.

To register online, go to h4h.enmotive.com. For more information go to geneseehabitat.org or call (810) 766-9089.

SGT. PATRICK O'ROURKE 5.5K RUN/WALK AND FAMILY HERO 1/4 MILE FUN RUN

► The event is Aug. 11 at Hartland High School's athletic field. The start time is 8:55 a.m.

Part of the course will include the Sgt. Patrick O'Rourke Memorial Highway, a stretch of Old US 23 renamed in his honor. The pre-registration is $35 with a shirt and $25 without. For more information contact Amy O'Rourke-Smith at amy.r.orourke@gmail.com or go to http://www.payitforward55.com.

this one. She missed my first cup win, so 'Hi mom.'" My dad would've been so proud. He worked hard to get me here. It's an awesome day for us."

Prior to Saturday's race at Daytona, Jones's best finish in a NASCAR Monster Energy Series race was a second-place finish at Bristol Motor Speedway, a .533-mile oval paved track, on Aug. 17, 2017. He came within 1.422 seconds of eventual winner Kyle Busch on that date.

Jones has had a pretty fast start to his NASCAR career, racing in five races during the 2013 NASCAR Camping World Truck Series, earning a victory in his fifth race at Phoenix International Raceway when he was just 17 years old. He continued to race full time for a Kyle Busch owned Camping Truck World Series trucks part time in 2014, earning three more victories. He raced full time in 2015 and won three races en route to winning the NASCAR Camping World Truck Series season points championship.

In 2015 he also raced in NASCAR's Xfinity Series, earning two wins in 23 races. In 2016 he moved to Joe Gibbs Racing and raced in all 33 Xfinity races, earning wins in four of them, en route to finishing fourth in the final standings.

Barb was born October 1, 1951 in Linn, KS to her proud parents, Sherman and Ruby Bennett. Surviving are her husband, Timothy; children, Lisa Pearce, Bev (Bruce) Dresselhouse, Ken (Candy) Osmond, Lance (Linsey) Osmond and Jacob McQueen; her beloved grandchildren, Emily, Noah, Owen, Kevin, Victoria, Lucia, Lincoln and Larkin. Siblings, Robert (Jan) Bennett, Sandra (John) Schram, Linda (George) Wright, Annette (Tom) DeMay and Randall Bennett; and many nieces and nephews that all hold a special place in her heart. Barb loved her family and friends with her whole heart and soul. She never knew a stranger - everyone that crossed her path was treated with kindness and compassion. Barb had a strong faith and was very involved in her church. She taught Sunday School, was involved with Oasis, Vacation Bible School and would often let it be known that she would gladly take as many people that she could fit in her car to learn about Jesus. Her family was her pride and joy and brought her never ending happiness. She loved traditions such as the family's annual camping trips, making "human sandwiches," taco night and playing "robber." She made an impact on many lives being involved and a supporter in her kid's and grandkid's various sports. She was a "Hockey Mom" first and foremost in addition to volleyball, softball, baseball, track, football and cheerleading mom. She lived as a child of God forever being a kind and loving person to those placed in her path. She had a special bond with all; especially children. Those desiring, may make contributions to Hope Lutheran Church to be used toward their youth programs.

LEAN ON PETE

Fifteen-year-old Charley Thompson (Charlie Plummer) arrives in Portland, Oregon with his single father Ray (Travis Fimmel), both of them eager for a fresh start after a series of hard knocks. While Ray descends into personal turmoil, Charley finds acceptance and camaraderie at a local racetrack where he lands a job caring for an aging Quarter Horse named Lean On Pete. The horse's gruff owner Del Montgomery (Steve Buscemi) and his seasoned jockey Bonnie (Chloë Sevigny) help Charley fill the void of his father's absence-until he discovers that Pete is bound for slaughter, prompting him to take extreme measures to spare his new friend's life. Charley and Pete head out into the great unknown, embarking on an odyssey across the new American frontier in search of a loving aunt Charley hasn't seen in years. They experience adventure and heartbreak in equal measure, but never lose their irrepressible hope and resiliency as they pursue their dream of finding a place they can call home. R, 2 hrs. 1 min. CHAPPAQUIDDICK

In the riveting suspense drama, Chappaquiddick, the scandal and mysterious events surrounding the tragic drowning of a young woman, as Ted Kennedy drove his car off the infamous bridge, are revealed in the new movie starring Jason Clarke as Ted Kennedy and Kate Mara as Mary Jo Kopechne. Not only did this event take the life of an aspiring political strategist and Kennedy insider, but it ultimately changed the course of presidential history forever. Through true accounts, documented in the inquest from the investigation in 1969, director John Curran and writers Andrew Logan and Taylor Allen, intimately expose the broad reach of political power, the influence of America's most celebrated family; and the vulnerability of Ted Kennedy, the youngest son, in the shadow of his family legacy. PG-13, 1 hr. 41 min.
