It's county fair season

■ Oakland County fair attracts more than 100,000 visitors; three more fairs coming up

By Tim Jagielo

Davisburg — Matt Hagen, 14, of Oakland County 4-H prepares Zander, a crossbred steer for auction on Saturday, July 14. He washes him down and shampoos his wiry orange coat. Nearby, families watch and take pictures.

To Oakland County Fair General Manager LC Scramlin, this is the point of county fairs — to connect the youth with a sense of hard work and responsibility,

The Oakland County Fair is designed to offer a little bit for everyone. Activities include the carnival with rides and midway, unique events like pig races and 4-H farm animal competitions and auctions.

Upcoming fairs

FOWLerville FAMILY FAIRGROUNDS (LIVINGSTON COUNTY FAIR)

This fair is run by the Fowlerville Agricultural Society, a 5-1(c) non-profit. The fair includes 4-H competitions, harness racing, The Butterfly Experience and family activities.

Gate admission: $6 for adults; $3 for children 5-12

Schedule: Monday, July 23 to Saturday, July 28

Website: Fowlervillefamilyfair.com

SHIAWASSEE COUNTY FAIR

This fair also has a heavy focus on livestock, but includes carnival by Skerbeck Amusements.

Schedule: Sunday, Aug. 5, to Saturday, Aug. 11

Gate admission: $5 per adult; $3 for children 6 to 12.

Website: shiasseeefair.com

GENESEE COUNTY FAIR

Located in Mt. Morris, this fair has livestock, live music and monster trucks. At its core, it remains about agriculture, and is run by the Genesee County Agricultural Society.

Schedule: Monday, Aug. 20 to Saturday, Aug. 26

Gate admission: Daily parking passes are $15, and ride wrist bands are $20.

Stop and think before you speak (or write)

By Vera Hogan

vhogan@tctimes.com; 810-433-6823

When I was a kid, the rhyme “Sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me,” meant something. It meant something to all of us kids in grade school (what they called elementary school back in the olden days).

If a classmate or someone called us a bad name, we would stand tall, look that person right in the eye and proudly recite the rhyme, and that person would usually just go away.

Facebook is a wonderful thing. Because of it, I have been able to reconnect with five of the kids I grew up with. We haven't seen each other in more than 50 years, but because we live all over the map, it is wonderful to be able to visit with them via Facebook, share their joys, see their families through photos, and more. We would never think to say anything negative to each other. That's not how we were raised.

Sometimes, however, Facebook is used as a weapon and that is a tragedy. I have the pleasure of being called Aunt Vera by 16 nieces and nephews. A few days ago, someone posted this on Facebook about one of my beautiful nieces: “That fun moment when someone brings his fat girlfriend to my house and says, ‘she is here for your protection.’ B!+@# the only thing in my house that needs protection is my Klondike Bars.”

Where to begin!

The person who posted this trash talk is a “supposed” friend of her significant other, who is a very nice man and adores my niece, who was very hurt by the comment. I hope he took his friend to task over this.

I am always flabbergasted with people who think they have the right to comment negatively on one's appearance, or to tell them what they should do to change how they look.

“If you stopped eating this and this and this, you would probably lose a few pounds, or

“If you went to the gym a couple times a week, you would look and feel a lot better about yourself.

“You know, you would be so much more attractive if you wore some mascara and put on some lipstick, or

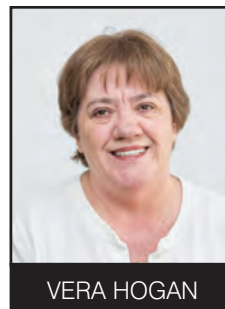

“I noticed you have a cigarette and a second glass of wine there. You know you would look and feel a lot healthier if you didn't smoke or drink.”

Excuse me! Unless you are a medical professional and I am paying for your advice and expert skills — mind your own business. People who are over- or underweight know it, and people who have unhealthy habits know it. Unless they ask for your advice, they don't need you to give it to them.

Why is it that some people are so mean and feel the need to make cruel comments like the one to my niece? How did they ever get the idea that people want or need their unsolicited advice on extremely personal matters?

The next time you start a conversation with the words “You should ...,” stop and think for a minute on whether you should continue talking and say what's on your mind, or be quiet and mind your own business.

Opinions offered in Just Sayin' are the author's alone and do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the Tri-County Times or its staff. Email Vera at vhogan@tctimes.com.

and to connect the public with agriculture through showcasing these activities.

The Oakland County Fair ran for 10 days, ending Sunday, July 15. During that time, Scramlin estimates 109,000 visitors came through the fair, which is slightly higher than last year.

There are all manner of livestock — cows, poultry, pigs and goats. There are 4-H participants, and also just members of the public who wanted to compete for colorful ribbons.

Scramlin said that 90 percent of the showcases and competitions are for the youth, which sets this fair apart from other county fairs. “That is our number one mission, through demonstrations and competition,” Scramlin said.

The fair started as the “4-H Fair,” which was only changed about 10 years ago. It also opened up who may compete, and added some adult competitions.

“We think, truly, we have a little something for everybody,” he said. Competitions and demonstrations have been extended to computers, writing, cooking and canning, dog show, photography and farm design.

There is also a packed schedule of entertainment including petting zoos, watermelon seed spitting competition, a lookalike contest and different grandstand activities, like figure eight races, monster trucks and safety day with first responders.

Awards are handed to winners in the animal competition tent, following the dog obedience competition.

There's even a science day with GM engineers, and, of course, a full carnival with midway.

If you missed the county fair, there are three more coming up (see sidebar).

SEX ADDICTION NOW A MEDICAL CONDITION

Change expected to counter stigma, encourage diagnoses and treatments

While sex addiction is a topic many avoid talking about or don't find valid, the World Health Organization (WHO) recently classified the condition as a mental disorder, giving more validity to symptoms and treatments.

By Hannah Ball
hball@tctimes.com; 810-433-6792

SEX ADDICTION, which is also called nymphomania, hypersexuality, or erotomania, describes someone who feels a lack of control concerning sexual thoughts, urges and behaviors, according to addictionhope.com. One sign of sex addiction is not feeling in control of sexual desires.

DIAGNOSIS

WHO now defines sex addiction, or better known as compulsive sexual health disorder in the medical world, as a "persistent pattern of failure to control intense, repetitive sexual impulses or urges resulting in repetitive sexual behavior." This now means that "sex addiction" can be classified and diagnosed based on a set of criteria:

- Repetitive sexual activities becoming the focus of a person's life
- Numerous unsuccessful efforts to reduce sexual behavior
- Continued sexual activity despite deriving little satisfaction from it

According to USAToday, experts hope this new classification will change how doctors, and the public, view addiction and other addictive disorders, such as alcoholism, drugs and gambling. By having medical criteria, the moral aspect isn't as important and doctors can recognize that someone has a problem.

RECOGNIZING SEX ADDICTION

“Sex addiction can include uncontrollable compulsions with pornography, masturbation, phone sex, cybersex, escorts, prostitutes, meaningless affairs, voyeurism and more.”
-Addictionhope.com

may include therapy or going to a rehabilitation facility, or simply journaling.

Most sex addicts maintain a façade of normality and functionality—holding jobs, paying bills, and showing up physically (though usually not mentally or emotionally) at family functions and other important events, according to addiction.com.

Psychguides.com explains a few unwanted effects from sex addiction as venereal diseases contracted due to behavior. Approximately 38 percent of men and 45 percent of women with sex addiction have venereal diseases.

Another effect is pregnancy. Approximately 70 percent of women with sex addictions reported they'd had at least one unwanted pregnancy.

According to addictionhope.com, research on the causes of sex addiction is lacking and not completely understood.

Theories range from suffering abuse as a child and chemical imbalances in the brain.

Local food pantry needs your help

By Sally Rummel
news@tctimes.com; 810-629-8282

This summer's warm, sunny temperatures are great for the beach, but difficult for storing fresh produce and perishable foods at the community food pantry at the Fenton Center of Hope.

This local organization is in need of a heating and cooling system to enable them to provide healthy fresh foods to members of the community who need them.

"Our current demand (at the food pantry) is exceeding last year's numbers by almost 60 percent," said Bob Strygulec, Fenton Center of Hope director. "We're giving away between 1,500 and 2,000 pounds of produce per week. We can't keep it up now because we have no way to keep it fresh. Our families are really missing out on healthy foods."

“Our current demand (at the food pantry) is exceeding last year’s numbers by almost 60 percent.”

Bob Strygulec
Fenton Center of Hope director

Fenton Center of Hope has received a $5,000 quote for having a unit installed from a local company and would like to raise as many of the funds as possible by the end of July.

Any community residents or businesses that would like to partner with Fenton Center of Hope in reaching its goal for this project can mail or drop off a check payable to Fenton Center of Hope, 2525 W. Shiawassee Ave., Fenton, 48430. "Please remember that 100 percent of the funds donated to this project will go toward meeting this extremely important, time-sensitive need," Strygulec said.

For more details about this organization, visit Fentoncenterofhope.org or call (810) 620-8300 to set up a personal tour of the facilities.

Dorothy L. Smale
1923-2018

Dorothy L. Smale - age 95. It is with great sadness that we announce the loss of our beloved mother, Dorothy Louise Smale, a resident of Fenton who passed away July 13, 2018 at the age of 95, surrounded by her children in The Villages, FL. She was born May 1, 1923 in Argentine, the daughter of Elton and Helen Austin. Dorothy graduated from Fenton High School and Cleary Business College. She was a medical stenographer in the Hurley Hospital emergency room prior to becoming a mother and homemaker. She was a member of Fenton United Methodist Church for more than 85 years, where she was active in the United Methodist Women's Peace Circle and Wesley Fellowship. Dorothy enjoyed spending time with her family and was most known and loved for her compassion, care and love for everyone she met. Dorothy was preceded in death by her husband of 73 years, Sidney D. Smale and sister, Donna Sweeney of Albuquerque, NM. She is survived by daughter Julie Smith of Flint; son, Donald and wife, Cindy of Fenton; daughter, Janice and husband, Darrell Hensley of Georgia; five grandchildren, Donnie, Josh, Kelly, Shannon and Heather; and three great-grandchildren, Josh, McKinley and Cecelia. The family is grateful for the compassionate services of Hospice both in Fenton and The Villages and for her loving home health care aide Cheri Ducsay. A Celebration of Life service is being held at 10 AM on Friday, August 3, 2018 at Fenton United Methodist Church. Family will receive visitors at 9 AM with refreshments and fellowship following the service. Interment will be at Great Lakes National Cemetery in Holly at 1 PM. In lieu of flowers, those desiring, may make contributions to the Fenton United Methodist Church Building Fund. Share memories at www.temrowskifamilyfuneralhome.com.

ISLE OF DOGS

In this stop-motion-animated film from writer/director Wes Anderson, an outbreak of canine flu in Japan leads all dogs to be quarantined on an island. A boy (voice of Koyu Rankin) journeys there to rescue his dog Spots (Liev Schreiber), and gets help from a pack of misfit canines who have also been exiled. His quest inspires a group of dog lovers to expose a government conspiracy. The voice cast also includes Bryan Cranston, Edward Norton, Bill Murray, Scarlett Johansson, Tilda Swinton, Bob Balaban, Greta Gerwig, and Yoko Ono.

Guess Who?

I am a singer and dancer born in Indiana on May 16, 1966. I come from a long line of talented entertainers. While I wasn't in my brothers' singing group, I garnered attention with a successful titual debut album and subsequent hits.

I am an actress born in New York on May 30, 1971. I attended Tisch School of the Arts and sang at weddings before I became famous. I originated two roles on Broadway and won a Tony in 2004. I've since given voice to a frosty Disney character.

SUMMER VEGGIE SALAD

"This is my favorite summer salad to take to picnics and makes the best of summer-time vegetables. Add chopped grilled chicken and take it from a hearty salad into an entree."

INGREDIENTS

- 5 ears corn, husked
- 1 (15 ounce) can black beans, rinsed and drained
- 2 avacados, diced
- 1 bunch fresh cilatro, roughly chopped
- 1 pint cherry tomatoes, halved
- 1/4 large red onion, thinly sliced
- 1 jalapeno pepper, seeded and chopped
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 2 limes, zested and juiced

DIRECTIONS

Place corn into a large pot and cover with water; bring to a boil. Reduce heat to medium-low and simmer until tender, about 5 minutes. Drain and cool corn. Cut kernels from cob. Mix corn kernels, black beans, avocados, cilantro, tomatoes, onion, and jalapeno pepper together in a bowl. Whisk olive oil, lime zest, and lime juice together in a bowl; pour over corn mixture and toss to coat. Refrigerate until chilled, about 1 hour.
