‘There’s a giant market for this industry’

By Hannah Ball

This is the fourth article in a series on skilled trade opportunities.

Anyone can follow a recipe, but not everyone understands why ingredients act the way they do and why food tastes a certain way.

Chef Matt Cooper, coordinator of the Culinary Arts Program at Mott Community College, said, “It’s a great time to be a student in the culinary arts. There’s a giant market for this industry.

Right now, they’re begging for skilled trades in just about every industry.”

Culinary businesses are experiencing a shortage of qualified people in the front of the restaurant and in the kitchen. This extends to cupcake shops, bakeries, and an increased demand for food management in hospitals and care facilities.

The Culinary Arts Program at Mott Community College offers an associate’s degree in baking and pastry arts, an associate’s degree in culinary arts and an associate’s degree in food service management. These programs are approximately two years long, which includes students working spring and summer. Mott also offers shorter certificate programs in professional baking and professional cooking.

Currently, they have nearly 200 students. Cooper said they get “all different kinds of students” from people seeking a career change to single moms.

“We spend a lot of time on utilization,” Cooper said. “How do we use each part of the cow, of the chicken? Just because one food is more expensive, we don’t necessarily say this one is of higher value. All food is of high value. We teach how to be sustainable.”

In the introductory courses, students learn theory. It’s not about learning recipes; it’s about learning why the ingredients do what they do, and the science behind it. Courses also cover international cuisine.

Students learn the modern ways of cooking before getting “fancy.”

“You can learn to cook in a restaurant but you won’t know why you’re doing what you’re doing, and you can’t go further,” said Cooper, who’s been at Mott for 16 years.

The program has an advisory board, comprised of industry professionals from different food businesses. This includes representatives from white tablecloth restaurants, sports arenas, retirement and See FOOD SERVICE on 2B
Lost without my smartphone

When I started back at the Tri-County Times at the end of March of 2015, I was still using an old-fashioned flip phone. I loved that phone. It had all the features I wanted and needed. My coworkers, however, kept encouraging me to get a smartphone. They said it would change my life. Yeah, right, I thought and I fought it for a few more months.

Eventually it became clear to me that in order to do my job effectively I would need a smartphone, with all the internet options. So, I got a smartphone and now have all the bells and whistles.

Last Wednesday, I got home from work and discovered, after I already put the car in the garage, got my coat and shoes off and finally warmed up, that I left my phone on my desk at work. Do I go back? No, no way am I going out in that cold again tonight. I can make it through one night. I did make it through the night but I have to say, I had no idea how much I rely on that phone for pretty much everything. Before going home, I stopped at Taco Bell and bought a boatload of tacos for dinner. When I got home, I was going to call my husband and tell him I already took care of the meal. No phone! So when he got home, he had already stopped at VG’s and picked up food that we prepared Thursday night instead.

My niece was in the hospital that day, in serious pain waiting for a kidney stone to pass. I wanted to check her progress on Facebook (she’s always on it no matter what). No Facebook! Okay, I will call her instead. No phone! My husband still uses a flip phone without internet or my contact list so that was no good.

While watching TV Wednesday night, I realized how much I depended on my phone to see what time it is, check Facebook, read my emails, see if I received any texts, or Google something. I Google stuff all night long. It could be on any topic but usually it’s to verify the name of an actor on TV. I frequently check the calendar and use the calculator often.

My stepson, who lives in China with our lovely daughter-in-law and our insanely handsome and active grandson, usually calls a couple of times a week on WeChat so we can visit face to face. I was worried that we were going to miss a call; each one is precious until they come to visit in the summer.

Lastly, I use my smartphone as an alarm clock. I actually had to dig around and finally warmed up, that I left my phone in. I was worried that we were going to miss a call; each one is precious until they come to visit in the summer.

Walking into work this morning, I saw my smartphone on my desk just where I left it. Happy days are here again!

Cooper, who lives in Fenton Township, said it’s a “great time” to get into skilled trades.

“For our students, there’s a 100-percent chance of employment if they put their heart into it. We have more employers looking for help than we have students,” Cooper said.

The program also offers scholarships and study abroad opportunities.

Tuition varies in cost. The associate’s degree in baking often $13,500. The associate’s degree in food service management costs around $13,800. The associate’s degree in culinary arts costs around $13,800. The associate’s degree in food service management costs around $13,500. Living outside of Genesee County will impact the cost.
Barbie has passed a major milestone. She turned 60 years old yesterday, having been born March 9, 1959. Ruth Handler, co-founder of Mattel, observed her daughter Barbara playing with paper dolls for hours. This sparked Ruth’s vision to create a 3-D doll for girls to play out their dreams. Then, in 1959, the first Barbie doll — named after Ruth’s daughter — made its debut at New York Toy Fair.

At first, Barbie was received with skepticism by the industry, but Ruth persevered. And now, 60 years later, Barbie is a global icon inspiring girls everywhere to be anything.

Barbie and Ken became an item in 1961.

Barbie has held numerous careers over the years.

The best-selling Barbie doll ever was 1992 Totally Hair doll, with hair from the top of her head to her toes.

Compiled By Vera Hogan

Barbie is the most popular fashion doll ever produced and the No. 1 fashion doll property in the US.

There are more than 100 dolls sold every minute, with a total of 58 million sold annually.

Barbie is sold in 150 countries worldwide.

Barbie has products in 45 categories, including food, fitness and clothing.

Barbie’s YouTube channel has over 5 million subscribers, making Barbie the No. 1 girls brand on YouTube. More than 151 million minutes of content has been watched on Barbie’s YouTube.

Barbie has a powerful social media presence with over 14 million fans on Facebook, 283,000 followers on Twitter and over 1.2 million followers on Instagram (@Barbie). There is over 18 billion minutes of Barbie user generated content each year.

As part of their ongoing commitment to #CloseTheDreamGap, Barbie is honoring #MoreRoleModels from around the world than ever before. These women are breaking boundaries to inspire the next generation of girls.

Some Barbie Facts:

- Barbie’s full name is Barbara Millicent Roberts and she is from the fictional town of Willows, Wisconsin, not Malibu, California as many assume.
- Barbie first appeared in the now-famous black-and-white striped swimsuit.
- Barbie was joined by boyfriend Ken in 1961.
- The best-selling Barbie doll ever was 1992 Totally Hair doll, with hair from the top of her head to her toes.
- In 1968, the first black doll was introduced to the line.
- Barbie doll has had over 200 inspirational careers including astronaut, robotics engineer, journalist and entrepreneur, to name a few.
- Barbie traveled into space in 1965, four years before man walked on the moon.
- Although she has never won an election, Barbie has run for president six times since 1992. In 2016, she ran on the first all-female ticket.
- In the 1970s, Barbie saved lives in the operating room as a surgeon, at a time when few women were applying to medical school.
- In the 2000s, with only 24 percent of today’s STEM careers held by women, Barbie doll has been a Computer Engineer, Video Game Developer, Mars Explorer and Robotics Engineer, just to name a few.
- It takes a professional staff of top fashion designers, makeup artists and the most elite couturiers — more than 100 people in all — to create a Barbie doll and her fashions.
- Twiggy was the first celebrity to have a doll in her likeness.
- Oscar de la Renta was the first designer collaboration in the 1980s.
- In 1997, the hit song “Barbie Girl” by Aqua came on the scene.
- Barbie has fans of all ages. The National Barbie Doll Collectors Convention has been driven by doll clubs across the country for over 25 years.

Southern Lakes Metropolitan Parks & Recreation District,
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING,
Submission of a Michigan Department of Natural Resources Grant Application - For April 2019

The Southern Lakes Parks and Recreation Commission is considering applying for a MNRTF Grant in the amount of $300,000 for the development of the Silver Lake Road Connector Trail. This 2.0-mile-long, non-motorized pathway facility is to be located on the south side of Silver Lake Road from Jennings Road to East Broad Street. The proposed pathway benefits the Southern Lakes area communities of City of Linden, the City of Fenton, and Fenton Township by providing alternate transportation, recreational opportunities, and regional connectivity. This pathway has been identified as a Tier 1: Short Term Priority in the Genesee County Regional Non-Motorized Long-Range Transportation Plan. Tier 1 pathways represent those which have strong public support and are the highest priority for development. This non-motorized paved pathway segment will directly connect the City of Linden, and City of Fenton (through Fenton Township) and is contemplated as a part of an overall goal to develop non-motorized connectivity within these southern Genesee County communities. Once complete, this preferred pathway segment will provide safe non-motorized connection to many schools, parks, recreational, cultural, commercial and residential facilities and areas that these communities offer. A public hearing will be held on March 28, 2019 at 6:00pm at the Fenton Community & Cultural Center located at 150 South Leroy Street, Fenton MI 48430. The meeting will be held in the Club Room in the lower level. Questions in advance of the meeting can be directed to Mr. Vince Paria, Executive Director at the following contact information: Phone: 810-714-2011x1 or at vparia@slpr.net.

Set realistic expectations when housebreaking puppies

Individuals and families who decide to bring new puppies into their homes understand that their lives are bound to change until the new pup acclimates to the household. Many are willing to accept the work involved because of the love and affection their adorable puppy offers. However, it can be easy to underestimate the time involved in housebreaking a puppy. The Humane Society of America says puppies typically can control their bladders for one hour for every month of age. That means if the dog is three months old, he can hold it for about three hours.

How often a puppy will need to defecate depends on the food being fed and when meals are offered. The American Kennel Club says that most puppies will need to poop shortly after a meal, anywhere from 15 minutes to a few hours. Puppies typically can hold urine a little longer over that, but probably won’t be able to go the entire night without a potty break. Many pups can last around six hours from the last time they’ve gone out. An early-morning bathroom break will be needed, or consider penning the dog with puppy pads to catch the mess until the dog gains greater control over its bladder. Housebreaking requires extreme patience, routine and practice. Eventually the puppy will gain greater control of its bowels and stop soiling inside the house.

The following are some other tips for housebreaking success:

- Take pups outside immediately in the morning, after naps and after vigorous play.
- Pick up food bowls and water several hours before bedtime. This can prevent accidents by ensuring dogs’ stomachs and bladders are not full overnight.
- Some pups may be hesitant to go outside when the weather is cold, rainy or snowy, so people who live in cold climates may want to wait until the weather warms up to adopt their puppies. Those who live in cold climates may want to wait until the weather is cold, rainy or snowy, so people who live in cold climates may want to wait until the weather warms up to adopt their puppies.
- Err on the side of caution at the start and take the pup outside once every 30 to 60 minutes to establish a system of reward and praise for going outside.
- Contain the pup when you can’t provide it with your undivided attention. It only takes a moment for a puppy to wander off and have an accident.

How to make Black Bean Tomato Sauce:

Black Bean Tomato Sauce

- 4 cloves garlic, peeled
- 1 inch fresh ginger
- 6 to 7 scallions, chopped
- 1½ cups stock
- 1½ cups dry sherry
- 1 teaspoon oyster sauce
- 1 teaspoon Chinese chili sauce
- 2 teaspoons Chinese black bean sauce
- ½ cup passata
- Juice of 1 lime
- 2 tablespoons fresh cilantro

DIRECTIONS:

Make black bean sauce and set aside:

Crush together the garlic and ginger and put in a wok with the chopped scallions, stock and sherry. Simmer briskly until the liquid has almost evaporated.

Stir in the oyster, chili and black bean sauces and bring to a boil. Continue to boil, stirring for a few seconds longer.

Stir the passata, and then simmer briskly for 30 seconds. Stir in the lime juice and chopped cilantro and simmer for a few seconds longer.

Make the cod:

Crush together the garlic and ginger and put in a bowl with the teriyaki sauce and vinegar.

Put the cod on a plate and cover with the gingery-garlic mixture. Grind to a pepper. Marinate at room temperature for approximately 20 minutes.

Mist a baking sheet with the oil-water spray. Put the cod on the sheet, scraping all of the marinade over the fish. Spray with oil and oven-roast for 9 to 10 minutes per one-inch thickness of fish.

Spoon the heated Black Bean Tomato Sauce onto a plate. Set the roasted fish on top, then surround with salsa as a garnish.

Guess Who?

I am a pop singer born in New York on March 27, 1970. I worked a series of waitressing jobs that didn’t pan out before I got my big break in music. I became one of the top recording artists in the mid-1990s due in part to my five-octave vocal range.
