on two pontoons in the festival parade on the Fourth of July, at 10 a.m., through downtown Fenton.

The entire club will be guests of honor at the Grand Marshal Reception on Tiesday, July 2 at 7 p.m. at the Fenton Community and Cultural Center.

"We are really excited about this," said Denise Penwell, incoming Fenton Lions Club president. "We're proud to serve our community."

The public is invited to attend this event, hosted by the Fenton High School Alumni Association. Residents will have an opportunity to thank members of the club for their service to the community for the past 40 years.

This recognition comes at a pivotal time in Fenton Lions Club history . The club is striving to continue one of its global missions, focusing on blindness and other vision issues while building its local membership.

"We collected 2,056 pairs of used glasses last year" said Mary Ann Brostek, three-term president and Fenton Lions Club member for 15 years. "They all get sent to Special Needs V ision Clinic in Saginaw. We've got collection boxes all over town, behind the Fenton Police Department, at The State Bank and at local optometry offices."

The Fenton Lions Club is literally the "eyes and ears of the community"." They will purchase new eyeglasses for low-income residents and collect used hearing aids.

All of their fundraising eforts go back to the community through donations, including $4,000 in scholarships to two high school seniors each year at Fenton High School and two at Lake Fenton High School.

This local club is a huge supporter of Leader Dogs for the Blind in Rochester. "I've directly seen what these dogs do, how they change peoples'lives," Brostek said. "The stories are endless. There's nothing better than someone telling us we helped them out."

In order to strengthen and grow membership, the Fenton Lions Club plans to become more visible in the community. Members will have a booth at the Fenton Farmers Market on Thursday evenings and are giving away a Kenmore gas grill, sponsored by Sears Hometown Store of Fenton, on the final Farmers Market of the year on Thursday, Sept. 19.

"We want to educate the community about all that the Fenton Lions Club does in service to others," Penwell said.

Born on the fourth of July Compiled By Vera Hogan

If you celebrate an Independence Day birthday, you are in good company.

Here are some famous people who came into the world on the Fourth of July.

1. CALVIN COOLIDGE

Calvin Coolidge was the only chief executive born on Independence Day. The 30th president was born July 4, 1872, in the small hamlet of Plymouth Notch, Vermont.

2. NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE

The famed American novelist, who authored such works as "The Scarlet Letter," "The House of the Seven Gables" and many more, was born Nathaniel Hathorne (he added the 'w' later) on July 4, 1804, in Salem, Massachusetts.

3. STEPHEN FOSTER

Stephen Foster, the renowned American songwriter was born exactly 50 years after the adoption of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1826, in Lawrenceville, Pennsylvania. The "father of American music" wrote more than 200 songs and tunes such as "Oh! Susanna,"
"Camptown Races," "Old Folks at Home" (better known as "Swanee River") and "My Old Kentucky Home" and they remain popular today.

4. GEORGE STEINBRENNER

New York Yankees owner George Michael Steinbrenner III was born into a wealthy shipping family July 4, 1930, near Cleveland, Ohio. Steinbrenner joined the family business in 1957 and grew it so substantially that he was able to head an investment group that bought baseball's most famous franchise for less than $10 million in 1973. Until Steinbrenner's death in 2010, the Yankees won seven World Series championships and 11 American League pennants under his ownership.

5. TWINS: ANN LANDERS AND DEAR ABBY

Born in Sioux City, Iowa, on July 4, 1918, Esther "Eppie" Lederer was better known to millions of Americans by her pseudonym, Ann Landers. Syndicated in more than 1,000 newspapers over the course of nearly 50 years, Ann Landers became one of North America's best-known advice columnists, although she faced competition from an unlikely source, her twin sister also born on the Fourth of July, Pauline Phillips, who wrote the Dear Abby advice column. The two sisters had a lengthy estrangement as a result of their newspaper rivalry.

6. GERALDO RIVERA

Born July 4, 1943, in New York City, the television personality first served as an investigator with the New York City Police Department before entering law school. While practicing law in New York, Geraldo Rivera was offered a job as a television reporter by the local ABC affiliate. His undercover reports exposing the neglect and abuse of patients with intellectual disabilities at New York's Willowbrook School earned him national attention and spots on ABC's national news programs.

7. MALIA OBAMA

Malia Obama, the first-born daughter of former President Barack Obama (44th), was born July 4, 1998 in Chicago, Illinois.

8. NEIL SIMON

Marvin Neil Simon was an American playwright, screen-writer and author. Born July 4, 1927, he wrote more than 30 plays and nearly the same number of movie screenplays, mostly adaptations of his plays. He received more combined Oscar and Tony nominations than any other writer.

The Silver Lake Ski Club is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization. They perform every Tuesday night during the summer including their big July 3 show . The junior club members perform at 6:15 p.m. and the main show is at 7 p.m. The audience watches from the grassy hill at Silver Lake Park Beach. That night, the $5 entry fee is waived Ski club shows last an hour, and each show features 13acts. Between ski tricks, one group dances with choreography on the deck, and theemcee plays music and coordinates the live sketches.

This summer's theme is "Camp Lat tawata," complete with the dramatic threat of being bought by an outside business entity.

Ski club member Sean Africa of Fenton said he's always been a competitive person. "It makes me happy to be able He'll ski with his daughters on the pyramid right above him. His wife Patty is the announcer. "I can't do that on a soccer field," he said. "We can be together on the water."

While flashy, dazzling and showy, the show is a lot of work. There are nearly a dozen people supporting the show, whether driving a boat, spotting or announcing. The program is care fully synchroni zed with a schedu le that they must follow while almost constantly in motion.

McLouth shouts updates and instructions over her shoulder to Bemman, and tells him where to go next.

Affrica said it takes a yearly budget of up to $30,000 to run the club. This is accomplished with fundraising activities and local business support. It costs members approximately $300 per season, which runs from May to the middle of August.

They practice three times per week, and perform 12 to 14 shows per year, which serve as preparation for three summer tournaments. They work on dancing and building pyramids over the winter months.

Men like Affrica end up as the base of the pyramid, while his daughter, Lexie, 12, ends up at the top, 15 feet in the air. She said it doesn't scare her anymore because she can rely on her team.

"Definitely more teamwork than track," said Mogan Scott, 16, of Fenton. She said she performs in various acts and positions, like the ballet line. She agrees it's a good family environment.

Jake Nichols, 13, of Fenton Township said he usually ends up on the sides of the pyramid base. He equates the show to almost being a play As a sport, he said it's more active than baseball.

Silver Lake Ski Club member Whitney Pedersen who skis and also runs sound for shows has been elected to represent the U.S. at the 2020 Show Ski World Championships. She'll be running sound for Team USA at the competition in Australia.

HHS grad once 'sick of classes' goes on to earn PhD

■Blowing up homemade bottle of hydrogen as a teen led to interest in chemistry

By Vera Hogan

When educators today talk about the importance of STEM (Science Technology Engineering and Mathematics), they are not kidding and students should really pay attention.

When Christopher James Snyder was a student at Holly High School, those studies were part of the curriculum, but not promoted using a handy acronym like STEM. Yet, Snyder, who graduated in 2002, is today a scientist.

While in high school, Snyder was active in the Math/Science Club, Odyssey of the Mind and the National Honor Society.

"I graduated in May 2007 from U of M-Flint with my bachelor of science degree in chemistry and a minor in math," Snyder said.

He received his PhD from Wyne State University in May 2013 in chemistryHis major was "inoganic" chemistry and his minor, "organic chemistry."

Snyder said, "As a teenager, I would play around with chemicals, such as lighting bon fires with thermite, making hydrogen gas from pennies and pool cleaner, and once I accidentally caused my bottle of homemade hydrogen to blow up, which muffled my hearing for the rest of the day.

"I developed an interest in how things work and learned that most things involve chemistry on some level," he said. "In college, I realized that chemistry has a lot in common with art: once you learn the basics, what you can do is limited only by your creativity and imagination.

"I was never the best student, and I thought that going to graduate school was out of the question," Snyder said. "In addition, I was sick of classes and I knew there was no way that I could foot the bill for a graduate degree."

Snyder said that all changed during his senior year of college. Three professors from U of M-Flint (Anselm Omoike, Bob Stach, and Brian Buffin) strongly encouraged him to apply to a PhD program.

"They thought I had what it took to be a good graduate student," he said. "After telling me that a PhD in chemistry only required a year of coursework and a few years of working in a lab in an apprentice-like position, I decided to apply . Also, when you study to get a PhD in chemistry the school actually pays you."

Where he works today

Today, Snyder works as a synthetic chemist at Los Alamos National Labora tory (LANL). Los Alamos, New Mexico was chosen as the top-secret location for a joint civilian/military operation during World War II known as the Manhattan Project, he said.

"In short, LANL was at the heart of the development of nuclear weapons that helped end WWII. Today, LANL is a federal contractor (owned by the Department of Enegy) that focuses on many areas of research, including chemistry, biology, physics, engineering, supercomputing, climatology, and environmental sciences," Snyder said.

"The primary goal of my job is to design and develop new propellants, pyrotechnics, and explosives that burn cleaner, are safer to handle, and made by greener methods of produc tion," he said. "In addition, Ihelp teach a Homemade Explosives (HMEs) course to Explosive Ordnance Disposal Technicians to help them learn how to identify and safely handle HMEs."

Snyder married Ashley Middleton, a 2004 Holly High School grad. "We actually didn't know each other in high school, but we met through some mutual friends in 2009 and started dating and started working at Home Depot. A in 2010," he said. year later, I had developed a relentless

Snyder and his wife love to hike in their spare time and on vacations.

"When I first thought of New Mexico, I thought of flat, hot desert," he said. "It turns out that I was mostly wrong. Los Alamos is located 7,300 feet above sea level in the foothills of the Jemez mountains, which makes for some awesome hiking. Our vacations are usually planned around hiking, and this year we plan to hike to Havasu Falls in Arizona as our vacation."

Although the Snyders do not have any children at this time, they adopted two dogs since moving to New Mexico. "We found Loki on a hike that we went on Valentine's Day 2015 shortly after we moved to New Mexico," he said. "We adopted Quinn two years ago, who was abandoned on the side of a highway in Texas."

Advice to Holly's 2019 graduates

"I was able to graduate from high school as No. 34 in my class by barely cracking a book. In college, my lacka daisical attitude got me put on academic probation," Snyder said. "I dropped out and started working at Home Depot. A year later, I had developed a relentless work ethic and went back to college. I realized that 'passion' isn't something that you find, it is something that you develop by rising to challenging situations, working hard, and continuously learning. My passion for chemistry has led to opportunities that I never thought were possible, such as a two-year postdoc (post doctoral research) in metropolitan D.C., working three months in Germany and traveling to places like Prague to present at conferences."

Sixth-annual Wings of Mercy 5K draws biggest field ever

Linden — The sixth-annual Wings of Mercy 5K Run could be summed up in one word. That word is "growth."

Advanced registrations were up 25 percent and 480 runners and walkers were registered to compete in the 5K course around Linden's Price Airport and the surrounding community's

Holly football camp teaching teamwork

By David Troppens

Holly — Anyone who watched some of the Holly Football Camp hosted at Holly High School last week may have not realized it was a football camp.

Certainly the players, the coaching staff, the helmets and the footballs were on the prac tice field, but some of the drills didn't look like football at all.

One day the players did humorous skits together . On Wednesday, the team did an egg toss relay drill. They also did a few that at least involved football items. One was the lineman reception relay . An other involved passing the tackle dummies over their heads as one player from the back would run to the front to help move the tackle dummy forward.

These relays looked more like modified versions of team elimination challenges you'd expect to see on Survivor than at a football camp at times, but the events served their purpose.

"This is something we be lieve in," first-year varsity football coach Dallas Lesper ance said. "We have to get the team in more of a team atmo sphere, so I'm always thinking of creative ways to implement conditioning with a little bit of fun, team building and com munication.

"They help us with condi tioning," Holly senior Dylan Hignite said. "The condition-

LF trap shooting team places 12th at state meet

By David Troppens

Two years ago, Lake Fenton High School didn't have a trap shooting team.

Two years later, Lake Fenton is the home of the 12th-best trap shooting team in the state of Michigan.

The squad recently competed at the Michigan State High School Clay Target League and despite its small size, placed 12th overall.

"We only have 12 kids on the team, and that's one of the reasons we are very proud of the team," Lake Fenton trap shooting coach Donald Doyle said. "We competed against teams like Richmond with about 50 (athletes) on their teams. Of those 1 1 that finished ahead of us, you'd be hard-pressed to find one our size."

"This was our second season and to be in our second year and take 12th is a lot," senior competitor Hannah Doyle said. "My mom was overwhelmed. (The team) started with me and about five or six other kids. ... This year we had over two squads and opened up the team to the middle school (students)."

GREATEST CHAMPIONSHIP TEAMS I'VE EXPERIENCED IN MY LIFETIME (PART 1)

The U.S. women's national soccer team is trying to win its fourth World Cup as this publication is going to press, hoping to earn a big quarterfinal victory against France. If they do, the country will certainly celebrate and it will be a memorable moment for many sports fans.

Sports teams and fans love their championships. I thought this may be a good time for me to list the 10 most impactful championships I've experienced in my lifetime. I will list the bottom half of my countdown in today's column.

No. 10 - 1989-90 Detroit Pistons: The second Bad Boys era championship team wasn't as memorable as the first season. because the first year is always better, but it was still a lot of fun. This title proved the Bad Boys weren't a fluke and truly deserved a place as one of the strongest teams in NBA history.

No. 9 - 1987 Detroit Tigers: After an 11-19 start, the 1987 Tigers trailed by as many as 11 games early on in the season and trailed by 3 1/2 games with eight games remaining after a 10-9 loss to the Toronto Blue Jays. Detroit ended up winning its last four games including winning the last three games of the season against the Jays — to win the division race. In some ways, the Tigers' comeback to win the 1987 division title was more exciting than the 1984 World Series team. It was a thrilling week.

ing helps, but it really isn't like conditioning to us. It's fun and different. Yes, the practicing stuf f — you want to go through the routines, plays, pass routes and all the basics, but when it comes to the other stuf f you can do things that are more creative. With our conditioning exercises, we are creat ing fun while getting conditioned."

"We've been doing fun stuf f all week," senior Lucas Riepe said. "W e had skits on Monday. We just tried to make friendly jokes and get people to laugh. We are trying to get every one working on the team together as a team."

Replacing last full-time head coach Ryan Culloty, it's obvious that life is going to change with any new coach, and this was one of the first obvious changes at the camp by Lesperance. The players like their new head coach.

Hignite didn't play football last year and returned to the team when Lesperance encouraged him to try out.

"He's really fun, ener getic and a great person," Hignite said. "He loves the sport, and even more than the sport, he loves the players playing it. He cares about each and everyone out there. He makes the ener gy great and makes the program great. He's a great person to be around."

"He's a good guy," Riepe said. "He seems to care about what he's doing. He seems to have a good plan for what we are doing on offense."

2006 Detroit Tigers' American League championship team in the top 10, because no one saw that one coming. Maybe they kind of earn a share of this ninth spot.

No. 8 - 1996-97 Detroit Red Wings: It's hard to remember that at one time in my life, it was the Detroit Red Wings that had the longest drought since their last championship in Detroit sports.

But by this season, the Wings were legitimate contenders and finally broke through, earning their first Stanley Cup championship since the 1954-55 season. Who can ever forget the Russian Five line. Everytime they went on the ice it was must-watch television. And, of course, the captain, Steve Yzerman, finally won his cup.

No. 7 - 1983 Michigan Panthers: I grew an attachment to the Michigan Panthers from the moment I saw their uniforms and the moment they signed Anthony Carter. In the USFL's first season, the squad started 1-4. After that, the Panthers finished the season with an 11-2 run, making the playoffs. After the team reduced ticket prices for the playoff game against the Oakland Invaders (what team does that), the Panthers beat the Philadelphia Stars for the first-ever USFL championship. I still have my Panthers' pennant on my wall in my office.

No. 6 - 2006 Central Michigan

Chippewas football: When Dan LeFevre and Antonio Brown were Chippewas, it was a great time to be a CMU fan. I think I ended up at five games that season, including two at Ford Field, which included the Chippewas' 31-10 MAC Championship victory against Ohio University. Oddly, the Chippewas won just as many games at Ford Field as the Lions did in 2006, despite starting the season with no games actually scheduled at Ford Field.

TRAP TEAM

The state meet has each competitor attempt four sets of 25 shots at birds (the clay tar gets). The five highest scorers on each team take their score to make up the squad's position. Lake Fenton's Ethan Johanninsmeier led Lake Fenton by hitting 96 of 100 tar gets, including having a first round of hitting a perfect 25-of-25 birds. After Johanningsmeier, Lucas Northrup hit 92 of 100 tar gets. The rest of Lake Fenton's scorers were Cooper Groat with 91; Doyle with 88; and Cayden Donnell with 86. Doyle finished tied for 10th overall against the women in the competition. Doyle used to be on Fenton's squad, but when she moved to the Lake Fenton school district, her parents helped create the Lake Fenton squad.

"I'm proud of my boys and this team," Doyle said. "Watching this team go from nothing to 12 kids and take 12th is amazing. It makes my heart happy that the sport is still growing and is not going to die."

Doyle only began trap shooting when she became a freshman. Her family wanted her to do at least one extra cirricular activity and trap shooting appealed to Doyle.

"I don't like running and my brother said you should join the trap shoot ing team. I said 'I don' t shoot guns,"" Doyle said. "I went one day and fell in love with it."

The squad placed second in the final all-around standings in its Conference 3 standings in the Michigan State High School Clay Target League.

Strawberry Rhubarb Crisp

Serves 8

INGREDIENTS:

- 4 cups sliced hulled strawberries
- 4 cups diced rhubarb (about 5 stalks), cut into 1/2-inch dice
- 1½ cups granulated sugar
- · 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1½ tablespoons cornstarch, plus water (optional)
- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1 cup old-fashioned oats
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- ½ cup packed brown sugar
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon ground ginger
- ½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
 ½ cup butter, cut into pieces
- ½ cup sliced almonds, toasted

While grilling is often the method of choice when hosting warm weather gatherings, following up tasty grilled fare with an equally pleasing homemade dessert can set any soiree apart. "Strawberry Rhubarb Crisp" from "Crock-Pot: 365 Year-Round Recipes" (Publications International, Ltd.) from Crock-Pot test kitchens creates a cobbler-esque dessert chockfull of comforting flavors. It can be enjoyed on its own, or topped with a dollop of cream or ice cream.

DIRECTIONS:

Coat a Crock-Pot slow cooker with nonstick cooking spray. Place strawberries, rhubarb, 11/2 cups granulated sugar and lemon juice in the crock and mix well. Cook on high $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours, or until fruit is tender.

If fruit is dry after cooking, add a little water. If fruit has too much liquid, mix cornstarch with 2 tablespoons water and stir into liquid. Cook on high an additional 15 minutes, or until cooking liquid is thickened.

Preheat the oven to 375 F. For the topping, combine flour, oats, sugars, ginger, and nutmeg in medium bowl. Cut in butter using a pastry cutter or two knives until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Stir in almonds.

Remove the lid from the Crock-Pot slow cooker and gently sprinkle topping onto fruit. Transfer the stoneware to the oven. Bake 15 to 20 minutes or until topping begins to brown.

Tips for traveling with pets

Many pet parents choose to include their four-legged companions in their travel plans. Bringing pets along can reduce the hassle of finding a pet sitter or a boarding service. Traveling with pets in tow also can be enjoyable for the entire family, including pets. Perhaps that's why a recent study from AAA and Best Western International found that more than half of American pet owners take their cats and dogs with them when they travel.

Traveling with pets can be fun, but it means taking some extra steps when planning a trip to ensure pets are safe and content. Before anyone hits the road or soars into the sky, consider these tips.

- · Acclimate the pet to the car. Conduct a trial run with your pet in tow to gauge how he or she handles a car ride. Start with shorter trips and build up. Assess how the pet reacts so you can make adjustments if necessary.
- Get a wellness check. Visit the vet prior to departing, particularly if you will be traveling far or abroad. Pack an updated copy of health and immunization records, as well as proof of ownership of the pet. Some countries require pet passports. Investigate if the destination country requires quarantine of the animal.
- Buy a quality pet carrier. Be sure to have a secure and comfortable pet carrier for your dog, cat or small animal. This can make travel safer for the animal. If flying, you may need to purchase an airline-approved crate. Mark the crate with identification information and contact numbers.
- · Pack a pet-friendly kit. The ASPCA suggests bringing along food, a bowl, leash, a waste scoop, plastic bags, grooming supplies, medication and first-aid, and any travel documents. Pack a favorite toy or pillow. Bring along bottled water as well. Drinking unfamiliar water can upset pets' stomachs.

A sturdy, comfortable carrier can help keep a pet safe during travel.

- Book direct flights. A direct flight reduces the likelihood a pet will be kept on the tarmac or spend even longer times in the baggage hold of the plane. A pets-only airline might be a good choice as well. For example, Pet Airways offers climate-controlled cabins outfitted with individual crates, and a flight attendant checks on the animals every 15 minutes. After landing, pets are given a bathroom break.
- · Reserve pet-friendly lodging. Many hotel and motel chains now offer pet accommodations. For a fee you can have your pet stay in the room. There may be specific requirements, such as restricting the pet to a crate when unattended.
- · Make sure microchip data is current. Log into the service that coordinates with the pet's microchip. Check to see that your address and phone number are current. Consider adding temporary travel contact data so the pet can be reunited with you if it gets lost at your destination.

Pets are traveling with their owners more often than ever before. Travel safe and smart at all times.
