Some fire chiefs don't like new 'eight-mile' rule

■County 911 using one rule for all municipalities

By Hannah Ball

A new 911 protocol went into effect Oct. 21 in Genesee County that changes which first responders arrive on the scene of an emergency.

In the municipalities covered by the dispatch services of Genesee County 911, if someone calls 911 for a Tier 1 medical emergency and there's an ambulance within eight miles, then the fire department in that municipality is not toned out to respond. This new rule was voted in unanimously by the Genesee County Medical Control Authority (GCMCA).

Not all municipalities are happy with the change.

Dairy farmers finally seeing some relief— In this last fiscal quarter, milk prices have risen, which benefits farmers after a long period of declining prices and an overabundant supply. Matt Gramer (left) and Albert Gramer, member/managers of Gramer Farms, LLC, said they're receiving, at most, $16.40 per hundredweight of milk, which is an improvement over the previous five years, but still not enough for profit. 'Throwback Thursday' throws out screen time

■Local middle school experiments with screenfree school day

By Tim Jagielo

Lake Fenton — On Thursday, Nov. 21, students at Lake Fenton Middle School had zero hours of screen time during school hours. There were no personal devices and no assigned Chromebook laptops.

That day, teachers came up with activities that didn't include any technology involving screens. Some found it easier than others. Science teacher Michele Little said they have group activities frequently, and it was actually more difficult to integrate the laptops into her class.

Principal Dan Ferguson said others reported some difficulty with the change but said it was worth it.

Ferguson said this effort was to highlight the number of hours students spend in front of screens, whether at home or school, and added in a letter to parents that this would be an "old school," or "throwback" day.

Ferguson cited a study that suggests that excessive screen time of more than seven hours on average per day may negatively impact them emotionally and academically and with their faceto face activities and communications.

He said their students on average, get a little less than three hours of screen time per day in school based on the time in front of their assigned Chromebook laptops. Students are on their laptops about 21 minutes per class, on average, based on teacher reports.

very Thanksgiving I think about family gatherings and the things that still make me laugh.

In the late 1980s, my youngest sister and her now-late husband amassed a small fortune. For the first 10 years of their marriage, they bought houses that needed to be completely renovated. They would live in the house during the rehab process and then sell it for more than twice what they originally paid. The term "flipping houses" was not yet a thing.

They eventually moved into what I call a mini-mansion. The house featured about 5,000 square feet, had five or six bedrooms and as many bathrooms. She had an amazing kitchen and massive dining room, large living room, family room, den and fireplaces everywhere. It was decorated beautifully, especially for the holidays.

Here's the rub. My sister used to have a terrible flash-in-the-pan hot temper and would often fly off the handle about something. That something included things like walking on her thick white carpeting. Feet would leave deep impressions in the carpet. Not taking your shoes off would be grounds for a major tongue lashing.

That's just one of a thousand examples. So one year, she was hosting the entire family for Thanksgiving. There were about 13 of us. My younger sister and I had not yet had our children.

The long Thanksgiving table came right out of a magazine – white linen table cloth, fine china and silver place settings, and there was a lovely cornucopia centerpiece and candles on the table.

Because my sister was famous for her hot temper, her father-in-law decided to play a trick on her that Thanksgiving. He took away her entire place setting while she was in the kitchen and replaced it with a big red plastic dog dish with the word PIT-

BULL printed across it in large letters.

When the feast reached the table and we all sat down to eat, my sister saw the dog dish and turned as red as the bowl. We all laughed, of course, but she was furious. After a short while, she came around, admitted it was funny and laughed as well. I think she got the message.

Our parents and her husband's parents are all gone now. We later started our own families. My sister had twin girls so between that and finding her church, she has calmed her temper down considerably. In fact, she is downright nice now.

This Thanksgiving, count your many blessings and keep your loved ones close. Tell them every day how much you love them and how much they mean to you. And watch that temper — it isn't worth it.

Happy Thanksgiving to you all.

Live A Pain Free Life

According to the National Health Service (NHS), along with many other respected scientific organizations, new research is now clearly demonstrating that steroid injections actually worsen or exacerbate arthritis and its symptoms.

The discovery comes on the heels of a recent scientific study, which was published in the October 2019 issue of Radiology. The publication is a peer-reviewed monthly medical journal owned and published by the Radiological Society of North America. The study distinctly demonstrated evidence that patients getting steroid injections of the knee or hip saw their arthritis progress faster than people who did nothing.

If you suffer from arthritis and currently receive steroid injection treatments, rather than ending up a victim, you should actively research and pursue several healthier and more natural options for combating osteoarthritis. You don't have to suffer through the pain.

At the Natural Wellness & Pain Relief Center (NWPRC) in Grand Blanc, Dr. Megan Strauchman uses a variety of techniques to improve knee and hip osteoarthritis, including ozone injections, stem cell therapy, PRP injection therapy, homeopathic injections and hyperbaric oxygen therapy (HBOT).

Natural Wellness and Pain Relief Centers provide a wide variety of services. The team of experts at NWPRC hope to improve your health and well-being while also preventing reoccurrences and establishing a more solid foundation for a pain-free life.

Pay It Forward Gift Card Tree

The Pay It Forward Gift Card Tree will be on display in the lobby of Linden Child Development Center, 15178 Linden Rd, Linden, from Friday, Nov. 29 to Thursday, Dec. 19. Taking a Pay It Forward Card from the tree is a commitment to donate a gift card to the Pay It Forward Project for a community TRIBE member in need. Gift card requests include gas cards. Walmart, Target, Alpine Marketplace, Subway, Amazon and Visa gift cards. This is a community effort in conjunction with the Argentine Township Police Department, which has donated its police station (8274 Silver Lake Rd.) as a drop-off location for purchased gift cards. Linden Child Development Center is another drop-off site. There are 20 cards on the tree. Donations will be used to assemble future gift card baskets for those experiencing unexpected life changes, health complications or unforeseen financial difficulties. Consider this as a way of tithing to the project. When given from the heart, it blesses not just the giver, but the receiver as well.

Bathroom 'peeper' sentenced

■To serve 36 to 240 months in prison for recording co-workers, friends without their knowledge

By Sharon Stone

Eric Andrews Jr., the 21-year-old Grand Blanc man charged earlier this year with recording five coworkers in the Fenton Tim Hortons bathroom, pleaded guilty Oct. 29 to three of the 26 felony charges against him for six different crimes.

The plea deal was in exchange for the remaining 23 charges being dropped.

On Friday, Nov. 22, Andrews was sentenced to serve 36 to 240 months in prison on each count. The sentences will be served concurrently. He was given credit for 249 days already served in the county jail.

The Michigan State Police said Andrews illegally videotaped coworkers in the Silver Lake Road Tim Hortons in Fenton. He also videotaped his best friend and her boyfriend in the bathroom at Andrews' grandparents' home in Grand Blanc Township without their knowledge. This happened between 2017 and 2018, when three of the victims were under 18.

Court records show he will serve a minimum of three years in prison and he will have to register as a sex offender.

Identity theft suspect rips off Fenton resident

■ Opens up fraudulent credit card, orders online and picks up items at store

By Sharon Stone

The Fenton Police Department is hoping someone can identify the suspect caught on surveillance camera at a Fenton store.

Lt. Jeff Cross said a 55-year-old Fenton man came into the police station to file an identity theft complaint. He said the man had received a Target Red Card in the mail. The address was correct, however, the name on the envelope was similar, but different from his name.

The correspondence congratulated the recipient of becoming a Red Card holder.

Police said the individual shown in the surveillance photo is suspected of opening the fraudulent credit card Nov. 2, using the Fenton man's identification and charging more than $470 on the card. The transaction was made online and the suspect picked up the

More help available for substance abuse and mental health

■ Oakland clinic one of closest treatment centers listed on new government website

By Hannah Ball

America is seeing a "significant" decrease in prescription opioid misuse across all age groups, according

Candy Gilbert

Perspectives Counseling, Oakland

Psychological and Heron Ridge clinics business to the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's (SAMHSA) 2018 National Survey on Drug Use and Health.

The total number of individuals with opioid use disorder decreased from 2.1 million in 2017 to 2 million in 2018, thanks in part to a national effort to combat addiction and the opioid crisis.

Recently, SAMHSA launched a new website called findtreatment.gov. Users put in their zip code and the website shows the closest treatment centers, which insurance they accept and which services they provide.

The Oakland Psychological Clinic on South Saginaw Street is the second center listed at 12.75 miles away. Services provided are substance abuse treatment, outpatient treatment and more. Accepted payments are Medicare, military insurance, private health insurance and more.

"The website is quite nice," said Candy Gilbert, business director and corporate compliance officer for Perspectives Counseling, Oakland Psychological and Heron Ridge clinics, which are owned by Refresh Michigan. "I love the way it's laid out, what the treatment modality looks like. It looks like a comprehensive website, which is wonderful."

The site also has links to SAMHSA, which has a lot of information on substance abuse and mental health.

In Oct. 2017, President Donald Trump declared the opioid crisis a public health emergency.

"The presidential mandate for it being a national crisis really helped push the topic out into the greater news cycle," she said.

She also commended Gov. Gretchen Whitmer for being an advocate for substance abuse treatment and creating the Michigan Opioids Task Force.

For decades, mental health and substance abuse have carried a negative stigma, which prevents people from seeking treatment. The cost for treatment is also a barrier.

"If you're seeking services from a cardiologist, no one says anything about it," she said. But, with substance abuse and mental health disorders, "people are often treated poorly or with disdain. They don't want people to know they're in treatment."

In all, Refresh Michigan runs 16 locations, including the Oakland Psychological Clinic, in southeast Michigan. They're outpatient clinics, and in 2018, they performed approximately 98,000 services.

The number of opioid deaths had been rising in the U.S. for a while. In 2016, it claimed the lives of more than 59,000 people. Gilbert said 40 years ago, there were mental health hospitals run by the state but they were

"Even to find inpatient services is very difficult. I think the government turned a blind eye," she said.

Gilbert thinks the government is paying more attention now because the crisis is affecting the medical community more and more. People end up in hospitals because of overdoses, and whenever there's a mass shooting, mental health is again put into the spotlight.

"There's not a person on the planet that can say they didn't know someone who suffered from something. We all struggle with different things at different times," she said.

Holy Cross Services in Flint Township on Miller Road is the closest treatment center. The services listed on find-treatment.gov include substance abuse treatment, treatment for co-occurring serious mental illness and substance abuse disorders, outpatient treatment and more. Payment methods accepted include Medicare, Medicaid, private health insurance and more.

INFORMATION FROM SAMHSA'S 2018 NATIONAL SURVEY ON DRUG USE AND HEALTH

Heroin use declined overall from 2016-2018 and especially for ages 18-25.

The use of medication-assisted treatment (MAT) increased. The past month, substance use among pregnant women decreased compared to 2017. However, there was an overall increase over the past three years, particularly with the use of marijuana.

Marijuana use among young people increased year-over-year, and the prevalence of marijuana use disorder in 18- to 25-year-olds increased from 5.1 percent in 2015 to 5.9 percent in 2018.

There was a significant increase in methamphetamine use among adults older than 26 years old. Serious mental illness is rising among adolescents and adults.

LOUD CAR SPOILS FENTON MAN'S PLAN TO STEAL ITEMS FROM ANOTHER CAR

At 2:30 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 16, Fenton police were dispatched to an apartment complex on Silver Parkway to investigate an unoccupied car, which was parked but running, with a loud exhaust. The caller, who was awakened by the loud exhaust, watched as a male went into cars, which were parked near the loud car. The caller watched the individual get into his loud car and drive away. Based on the description given, responding officers spotted the loud car and initiated a traffic stop. When asked if the driver, a 24-year-old Fenton man, had anything with him, he showed the officer a large amount of loose change. Police then located the owner of the vehicle which and asked if they were missing anything from their car. The owner said she was missing a large amount of loose change. The suspect was arrested for larceny from an automobile and charges are pending.

The school already does not allow personal devices during instructional times or at lunch as of five years ago. Instead, students were each assigned a Chromebook. "We have seen a dramatic decrease in the number of cell phone violations as a result and consequently a huge decrease in student discipline regarding inappropriate use of technology, social media, etc.," Ferguson said. "I am so pleased to hear the number of families that are extending our daytime efforts into their homes."

Ferguson said the search for the right balance of screen time is the goal. He said with these laptops, students are more engaged than when they used their personal smartphones.

Emily Antonangeli, 13 has a smartphone, but also likes having a break from it during school.

Kaden Melynchek, grade six, said there has been more student-to-student interaction without screens. "They can get hands-on activities with the teachers," he said. In a letter sent to parents last week, Ferguson said experts suggest creating a personalized family media plan. Parents should ask:

- To what devices do I want my child to have access?
- Where will devices be allowed and where will they be off limits?
- How long will my child be allowed to use them?
- Will the same rules apply during weekends and school breaks?
- What content is appropriate for my child to access?
- How will I maintain consistency?
- What consequences will there be for misusing devices?
- What example am I setting through my own use of technology?

The charges stem from incidents in downtown Fenton in the early morning hours of Sunday, Sept. 22. Fenton police obtained arrest warrants from the county prosecutor's office.

Lt. Jeff Cross of the Fenton Police Department said officers responded to the 100 block of S. LeRoy Street at 4:15 a.m. on Sept. 22, on a report of a man behaving suspiciously and attempting to open the door of a closed pub.

Upon arrival, police spotted the man, who they recognized as Clark, and responding officers determined he was intoxicated.

As previously reported in the Times on Sept. 29, with some effort, an officer arrested Clark and placed him into the patrol vehicle. While in custody, Cross said that Clark admitted he had just broken a window at a nearby bank.

While police were discussing the situation in the parking lot, an employee of a nearby bakery walked over and said the suspect in custody had allegedly just entered their building, which was open only to employees, and allegedly sprayed WD-40 on the tables. The suspect allegedly also took a bakery dog treat and began eating it. Employees told police that when the man exited the bakery he pulled the fire alarm.

Cross said Clark was quite agitated in the patrol vehicle and he injured himself when kicking and hitting the divider and doors. On the drive to the Genesee County Jail, police changed course and took him instead to an area hospital for medical treatment.

An overall bond of $7,000 was ordered. A probable cause conference has been scheduled for Nov. 21 at 1 p.m.

Clark is also facing five charges in Roswell, New Mexico following a string of suspicious incidents Monday, Oct. 1. He was arrested and booked into the Chavez County Detention Center on charges of burglary, criminal damage to property, concealing identity, falsifying title and registration (altering), and resisting, evading or obstructing an officer.

A Chavez County, New Mexico magistrate judge released Clark on his own recognizance Tuesday, Oct. 1 pending further court proceedings. A bench warrant was issued Oct. 29, when Clark failed to show up for his preliminary hearing.

EIGHT-MILE RULE

Gaines Township

On Oct. 31, the Gaines Township Fire Department posted on its Facebook page the following statement.

"While in the past the residents had enjoyed and expected response for these medicals from the Gaines Township Fire Department, the fire department is no longer being dispatched by Genesee County Central Dispatch, if it shows that there is an ambulance available within eight miles.

"While that sounds reasonable, it had been implemented without proper negotiation or dialog with the Gaines Township Board or Fire Chief. In fact, on two recent occasions the Fire Department would have been on location prior to the ambulance arrival and provided emergency medical care prior to the arrival of the ambulance."

The GCMCA said in a statement, "The new policy will continue to have fire-based EMS agencies respond to the most serious medical calls as they have in the past, regardless of the location of an ambulance."

Linden City

Linden Fire Chief Brian Will, Linden City Manager Ellen Glass Linden Fire Chief Brian Will, Linden City Manager Ellen Glass and Linden Police Chief Scott Sutter oppose this new protocol.

Linden City is 2.5 square miles in size with a substantial number of senior citizens, mostly because of Shiawassee Shores Retirement Community and the Caretel Inns of Linden.

The fire chief said with the small area that Linden City covers, the fire department's first responders can arrive on scene in five to 10 minutes or less which is sometimes three to ten minutes ahead of an ambulance depending on traffic and/or weather conditions. The majority of firefighters live and work close to the city, Will said.

With the change in Dispatch Policy, a 911 call, which could be a Tier 1 medical, has to rely on a waiting ambulance that could be up to eight miles away. The fire chief said neither he, nor his crew would even be toned out to respond even if they are just minutes away.

Will said his fire department in years past respond to approximately 250 medical calls a year, or on average 23 to 25 per month. With the change, they have responded to seven calls in the last 30 days.

Glass said she, the fire department and City Council all want to go back to responding to all Tier 1 medicals. "We want to provide the service to our citizens that they expect and we have been able to provide," she said.

Sutter echoed his colleagues' sentiments and worries that someone within the city could be suffering and waiting for an ambulance when the fire department could have gotten there more quickly. The City will continue to advocate for its residents to have the dispatch policy changed back to how it was originally before Oct. 21.

Fenton City

This protocol doesn't affect all local municipalities, such as the Fenton Fire Department.

"We are a little different as the change only affects those departments served by Genesee County 911 and we are not. We have our own dispatch policy of when our fire department responds," said Fire Chief Bob Cairnduff.

Cairnduff said the change makes sense "for the most part," and it was put into place because the CAD system at Genesee County 911 can't handle all the different policies that the other 11 fire agencies that respond to medical calls had in place.

"The change was requested by the Davison Fire Department due to the lack of ambulances in their coverage area and the fact that they were responding to so many medical calls, where they really weren't needed," Cairnduff said. "The old rule was a 'five-mile' rule. If the ambulance was more than five miles away then the FD was sent. Now its eight miles."

Cairnduff said it's about preferences by a community, and that the municipalities in Genesee County vary widely.

"From rural Gaines Township to the urban city of Flint, it is hard to have one rule cover all those areas the same, but right now their 911 center can't handle all the differences. The County 911 center is looking into a new CAD system to handle these types of issues but that is 12-16 months away and they needed a fix for the interim," he said.

Fenton Township

Ryan Volz, Fenton Township fire chief, is worried about municipalities with smaller populations because these private ambulance companies are going to station themselves where there's more people. A Tier 1 medical call often involves heart or trouble breathing problems. Now, instead of two ambulances and a fire truck responding, it's just one ambulance if the location meets the criteria. He prefers a four or five mile rule instead of eight.

Fire trucks also are well-equipped to handle cardiac arrests.

"They're going to get care one way or another. That's one thing they should never be worried about," he said. However, "It's something they (Genesee County 911) need to look more into."

The change has resulted in significantly fewer calls for the department. They've received 20 calls so far this month, but they usually receive around 40 for November.

When someone uses paper money, they physically know how much they're spending as opposed to simply swiping a card.

"The physical action of handing over cash to someone else is a lot more difficult than swiping a card. Try handing over $100 cash for a pair of shoes. It's much more painful than just swiping a card," according to retireby40.org.

Times

Watching the cash disappear from your wallet also helps people realize how much they're spending.

Using cash also helps avoid debt. The consumer doesn't have to worry about paying off their credit cards or worry about the annual fees. In 2019, Americans' collective debt surpassed $4 trillion, according to the Federal Reserve. The holiday season is expected to add to that debt.

One other advantage is that more and more businesses are offering discounts if a customer uses cash.

Businesses

A big advantage for businesses when customers use cash is they don't need a middle man to process money. Cash is cheaper.

Credit and debit card companies, like American Express and Visa, charge a processing fee to businesses for every transaction. In Michigan, small businesses can be charged up to 4 percent per credit and debit card transaction. This money goes to the perks of using a credit card — cash back, flight points, and more, according to a previous Times story in November 2018.

However, the credit card companies aren't paying for those rewards. The businesses take on these fees, which also are called "interchanges."

In November 2018, Tim Turczyn of Fenton, who created Zero Fee 123, a company that developed and installs software that aids businesses with this problem, said, "Merchants pay 100 percent of the rewards the consumer has on their cards."

Turczyn's software allows a business to assess a customer's fees and gives them the choice if they want to cover the cost of the transaction or receive the cash discount. The fees vary from company to company.

According to Forbes, there are two ways for businesses to get a discount on these fees. One way is to process over 82 million transactions and over $5 billion in volume annually, which is why big box stores can pay less in fees compared to small businesses. The other way is to create a class action lawsuit against these credit card companies.

More than a decade ago, Visa and Mastercard were sued on behalf of 12 million retailers for allegedly violating federal antitrust laws by forcing merchants to pay swipe fees and prohibiting them from directing consumers to other methods of payment, according to bizjournals.com.

In September 2018, both credit card companies agreed to pay a combined $6.2 billion to settle the charges.

Too little, too late for dairy farmers?

■ Milk prices and demand for dairy products have increased steadily in 2019 after severe declines

By Tim Jagielo

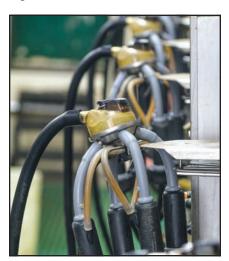

Deerfield Twp.—Steve Bontekoe's milking parlor looks immaculate after a careful cleaning ahead of a state inspection, which he prepared for the afternoon of Thursday, Nov. 14.

Milking is in the early morning and after 5 p.m. Little has changed in this process for him, except recently, milk prices are finally climbing. His family business, Bontekoe Farms, milks about 175 cows. Their fluid milk ends up at Kroger, and is used for cheese.

After five years of high production, low prices and lower demand, dairy farmers are finally getting a little relief in the form of higher dairy prices.

This is due to an increase in demand and lower milk production. "Increases in demand coupled with a decrease in overall supply have led to positive movement for dairy prices and more profitable levels for dairy farmers," said Ernie Birchmeier with the Michigan Farm Bureau.

There have been small increases in fluid milk demand and larger increases in cheese and butter demand according to Birchmeier. "The holiday season typically means an increase in baking and baked goods consumption and that is positive for butter demand," he said.

With the exception of a 10-year period, Steve Bontekoe said the dairy farm has been in his family since 1866. Photo by Tim Jagielo Settling trade agreements between Canada, Mexico and China will also help farmers.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), milk prices were at their lowest March 2018 at just over $15 per hundredweight of milk. It costs farms about $14.50 to $15 to produce and transport this much milk. A "hundredweight" of milk is the volume, which prices are paid on to the farmer, Birchmeier said. A gallon of milk weighs 8.6 pounds so there are approximately 11½ gallons of milk in a "hundredweight."

Starting March 2019, prices have increased steadily up to more than $19 per hundredweight of milk, the highest they've been in years.

Still, lower prices and higher volume of the last five years have severely affected many farms leading to sales of herds and farmers leaving the industry.

Matt Gramer, member manager of Gramer Farms, LLC said they're still trying to make up the losses over the last five years.

"You're not trying to gain, you're just maintaining," Albert Gramer said. "You learn to survive on these prices."

Both Bontekoe and Gramer Farms said they're receiving closer to $16 per hundredweight. Bontekoe said it's still not a profit business. They're also still unable to upgrade equipment or facilities, which suppresses connected markets, such as farm equipment.

Farms large and small have been hurt by the dairy market. Recently Dean Foods, America's largest milk producer, filed for bankruptcy. This was in part due to its largest customer, Walmart, which began processing some of its own milk in 2017, according to CNBC.

Locally, Corner Oak Dairy Farm in Mundy Township no longer produces milk.

Milk consumption had declined steadily since 2000, dropping from 23 gallons to 17 gallons per capita according to the USDA.

Neilson data shows that non-dairy milk is now at $1.8 billion in sales, chipping into cow's milk, which is still king at $12 billion. The most popular non-dairy milk by far is almond milk.

HIGH TAXES IN large cities or anywhere have nothing to do with the Electoral College. It's about state representation versus large coastal cities owning the presidential election.

A time to give thanks (and eat...)

earch the internet for "reasons to be thankful" and you'll literally get 40 million results. That helps explain why Thanksgiving is different from every other holiday we celebrate each year.

We expect something at Christmas (spending family time together and receiving gifts) and other holidays such as Halloween (dressing up and getting treats), but Thanksgiving expects something from US.

Thanksgiving is the one day set aside to show gratitude — to give back. We're all supposed to GIVE something instead of GET something this one day each year. It sounds pretty simple, but it's truly profound.

Most folks get a day off work when the dozen or so "big" national holidays come around. There often are special events, sports games and annual TV shows to help us celebrate most special days. And as Americans, we usually top off our holidays with lots of food and sometimes a little too much to drink in the beverage department. That's how Americans celebrate most holidays.

But Thanksgiving is the king of all eating events. It's the one holiday we totally equate with food — usually lots of it shared on big plates and bowls with special people, whether prepared at home or served to us in restaurants. We make fun of the poor pumpkin pie and more each time the fourth Thursday of November rolls around. Who knows — maybe our hapless Detroit Lions might even win, as their Thanksgiving games are another annual tradition, along with holiday kickoff parades in Detroit and other major cities. Bring on the big aerial balloons, marching bands and colorful floats!

But among those 40 million search results you'll find for Thanksgiving is one overriding truth: Thanksgiving is a day we should show true gratitude for what we have. No one has everything they want. Many, many people could use more health, clean air, money, time, love or other necessities.

An attitude of gratitude for all that we DO have should be our first priority this Thursday. Whether as a prayer or thinking good thoughts or by whatever method you choose, it's a time to appreciate life as it is, imperfections and all.

Now, please pass the mashed pota-

and tax rates:

- A clerical error, such as an erroneous posting of an assessment as $250,000 when it should have been $25,000
- A mutual mistake, such as a building being assessed to the wrong
- A mistake in the millage rates, such as levying 32 mills instead of 30.2
- A mistake in mathematical calculation, such as 40 acres multiplied by $750 equaling $22,800 instead of $30,000
- To review claims of qualified homestead on properties
- To review hardship/poverty claims

Enriching lives of the YOUNG and Old

■Elderly memory care residents interact with daycare kids for fun and much-needed interaction

By Tim Jagielo

Fenton — While holiday public service announcements might urge people to check on their elderly and possibly lonely neighbors, Tonia Hishke, Courtyard Manor of Fenton manager, said this interaction isn't just for the holiday season. "It's all year," she said. "Watch out for each other. Help each other out."

Positive interaction with the elderly was the point of the event Thursday, Nov. 21. Five residents of the assisted living facility visited with Fenton Early Learning Center children for crafts, snacks and singing songs between 10 and 11:30 a.m.

Shelly Williamson is co-owner of Fenton Early Learning Center. She said this is the first time they've had elderly residents of such a facility visit their daycare, with the plan of the children interacting with seniors, "so they're not afraid of them."

She said sometimes children aren't used to octogenarians and beyond, or used to seeing an elderly person in a wheelchair.

Visiting residents were between 78 and 100 years old. The children's grandparents are likely closer to 60. "A lot of children now don't have that

The preliminary investigation revealed that northbound traffic, south of Clyde Road, was stopped due to congestion.

A 2008 Ford Edge, operated by a 75-year-old Fenton resident with five occupants in the vehicle, was traveling north on Old U.S. 23 when it struck the rear of a stopped 2003 GMC Sierra, driven by a 53-year-old Brighton resident. The GMC Sierra was pushed forward into a 2008 Jeep Grand Cherokee, driven by a 19-year-old Fenton resident that was stopped in the roadway while waiting for traffic.

An 89-year-old woman from Fenton was a front seat passenger in the Ford Edge. She sustained serious injuries while all of the other parties involved were treated and released at the scene. She was transported to the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor by Livingston County EMS.

Speed and alcohol do not appear to be a factor in this crash. All parties involved were wearing their seatbelts.

Deputies were assisted on scene by the Hartland Fire Department and Livingston County Ambulance. The crash remains under investigation by the Livingston County Sheriff's Office Major Crash Team.

After snacks and crafts, children sang Thanksgiving songs for their elderly visitors. Richard Parker, 4, (above) and Kai Dreffs, 4, were included. Photo: Tim Jagielo interaction with great-grandparents or even grandparents," Hishke said. "Their grandparents may live in another state, so they don't have that interaction with actual elderly."

Many of residents have Alzheimer's or dementia. She said they only see children when they visit them at their home. The children seemed to be having fun with the Courtyard residents.

The benefits of such an event are the children becoming much more comfortable with the elderly, while enriching the lives of the Courtyard residents. "The smiles I've seen today have been amazing," Hishke said.

She has a granddaughter at the daycare, which gave her the idea to suggest to Williamson. They plan to come again for Christmas and in the future, try to make it a regular event.

ADVENT CALENDARS TO CELEBRATE CHRISTMAS

By Hannah Ball

"Advent" means "coming" in Latin, and Advent calendars are a tradition to celebrate the coming of Jesus Christ into the world. However, one huge aspect about the holiday season undoubtedly centers on buying gifts. Here's how you can combine Advent with gift giving.

TYRONE TOWNSHIP PUBLIC NOTICE

REVISIONS TO ZONING ORDINANCE #36

Notice is hereby given the Tyrone Township Board, during a regular meeting held on November 19, 2019, adopted amendments to Zoning Ordinance #36, Article 21. All ordinances are available to the public for review during regular business hours at the Tyrone Township Hall, 8420 Runyan Lake Rd., Fenton, Michigan 48430 and can also be accessed from the township's website at www.tyronetownship.us. A summary of the revisions follows:

- Home Occupations: Article 21, Section 21.14 Home Occupations, to redefine review requirements for permitted home occupations such that those permitted may be administratively approved, to update the list of permitted home occupations, to permit signs in certain cases subject to Planning Commission approval, and to redefine the space limits for home occupations;
- Noise Regulations: Article 21, Section 21.16 Noise, to update fireworks regulations for consistency with PA 634 of 2018 and PA 635 of 2018, and to add clarification to enforcement of noise violations:

The above amendments to the Tyrone Township Zoning Ordinance #36 shall take effect 30 days after the publication of this notice.

Tips for safe holiday entertaining in pet-friendly households

The holidays are a time to spend with friends and family. Celebrating and entertaining are large components of what makes Thanksgiving, Christmas, Chanukah, and New Years festivities so enjoyable. Holiday hosts with pets must consider companion animals when planning the festivities.

The holiday season brings added dangers for pets. The American Veterinary Association notes that, by keeping hazards in mind, pet owners can ensure their four-legged friends enjoy the season as much as everyone else.

- Secure the tree. Securely anchor the Christmas tree so that it won't tip over on anyone, including rambunctious pets. Also, stagnant tree stand water can grow bacteria. If a pet should drink the water, it may end up with nausea or diarrhea. Replenish the tree basin with fresh water daily.
- Skip the candles. When creating mood lighting, opt for electronic or battery-powered lights instead of open flames. Pets may knock over candles, and that can be an instant fire hazard.
- Keep food out of reach. Situate food buffets beyond the reach of hungry and curious animals. Warn guests to promptly throw out their leftovers so that dogs and cats do not sneak away with scraps that may cause stomach upset or worse. Real Simple magazine warns that fatty foods can promote pancreatitis a potentially dangerous inflammation of the pancreas that produces toxic enzymes and causes illness and dehydration. Small bones can get lodged in a pet's throat or intestines as well.
- Avoid artificial sweeteners. Exercise caution when baking sugar-free desserts. The artificial sweetener xylitol can cause dogs' blood pressure to drop to dangerously low levels. Xylitol is found in some toothpastes and gum, so tell overnight guests to keep their toiletries secure to avoid accidental exposure.

- Be cautious with cocktails. If the celebration will include alcoholic beverages, the ASPCA says to place unattended adult beverages where pets cannot reach them. Ingested alcohol can make pets ill, weak and even induce comas.
- Be picky about plants. Mistletoe, holly and poinsettias can be dangerous in petfriendly households. These plants can cause gastrointestinal upset and may lead to other problems if ingested. Opt for artificial replicas instead. If guests bring flowers, confirm they are nontoxic to pets before putting them on display.
- Watch the door. Guests going in and out may inadvertently leave doors open. In such instances, pets who get scared or are door dashers may be able to escape the house. Put a note by the door to watch for escaping pets.
- Designate a safe space for pets. If the holiday hustle proves too much for cats, dogs, birds, and more, give the pet a safe, quiet spot away from the crowds.

Holiday hosts should factor in pet safety when they open their homes to guests.

Linden's Buchanan headed to Wayne State's XC team

By David Troppens

Tyler Buchanan has been the Metro League's elite male cross country runner in each of the last three seasons.

So it's not a shock that the three-time Metro League champion is going to con-tionue his running career at the college level. The question was where the Linden senior was going to do that.

Buchanan made his decision he's going to run for the cross country and the indoor track team at Wayne State University, a Division 2 athletic program.

Buchanan said the decision came between Wayne State and Grand Valley State University, another Division 2 Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC) program.

Griffins open hockey season at U-M's Yost Arena

■ Co-op falls behind early, but competes vs. Davison

By David Troppens

Ann Arbor — It was a little bit different way to open the season.

There was a pep band and the Fenton/Linden co-op hockey team was hosting the Davison Cardinals in a special venue — the University of Michigan's Yost Arena. Also, it felt like old times with Matt Krusniak back at the helm of the program, even if the last time he coached an area high school hockey team, it wasn't a co-op squad.

The Griffins played pretty well for most of the contest. However, Davison used a few odd-man rushes to jump out to a four-goal lead and earn a 4-1 season-opening win against the Fenton/Linden Griffins.

Really, it was the odd-man rushes that defined the contest. When the Cardinals got one, they usually made the Griffins pay. Once the Griffins stopped giving up the puck in precarious positions, the second half of the game was very even with Davison only enjoying a 31-30 shot edge. The

Holly's Barrett, Johnson thriving on college squads

By David Troppens

The Holly varsity girls tennis program has been one of the most successful programs, if not the most successful, in the tri-county area for the last 30 years.

The girls have either won or shared every single Metro League crown but two since the 1982-83 school year, and have made waves at the state level in recent seasons as well.

But some new history was made this fall when two ex-Holly teammates competed against each other at the collegiate level — at least in terms of their teams. The pair didn't play directly against each other in either of their matches.

Grand Valley while Nicole Johnson competed for Saginaw Valley. Grand Valley won the dual match 5-3, but both Holly graduates left the dual with victories.

Barrett played at No. 4 singles and won her match against Gyselle Gutierrez 4-6, 6-0, 10-4, while Johnson played at No. 6 singles and won her match 6-2, 2-6, 6-3. Both also played in doubles matches. Barrett teamed up with Marija Leko to win her No. 2 doubles match while Johnson teamed with Sara Neves and lost at No. 3 doubles.

Johnson is in her sophomore season and posted a 9-5 record in singles matches and a 4-9 record in doubles matches this fall. During her freshman season she posted a 3-7 singles record and a 3-6 doubles record. She capped her Holly playing career by winning the No. 2 singles state title at the Division 2 meet in 2018.

Barrett began her career at Grand Valley this year and posted a 10-1 record in singles matches at a variety of flights. She was 10-4 in doubles matches, usually playing at No. 2 doubles.

Grand Valley finished second in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Association (GLIAC), posting an 8-1 dual record. Saginaw Valley was 3-6 in its GLIAC duals.

Andrew Foerster

The Lake Fenton graduate is playing defensive end for Concordia University's NAIA national tournament-bound football squad.

Foerster played in nine games this fall, recording 12 unassisted tackles and 13 assisted tackles. He posted 3.5 sacks for a loss of 35 yards and 8.5 tackles for loss for 43 yards worth of losses.

Concordia (8-2 overall) competes against Grand View University Saturday in Des Moines, Iowa.

"The reason I picked Wayne State was not only because I liked the programs they offered but also the team they have," Buchanan said. "I enjoyed talking to all of the teammates during my visit there. I also know that I would be an immediate contributor to their team. I really liked the fact that they had their own big goals to win regionals and go to nationals.

"I also related to this with Linden because we had always made goals, whether it was to win the Metro title, win the regional title or place well at the state meet. I really liked having these kinds of challenges, and that's exactly what I want to continue doing at Wayne State."

The Warriors placed fourth at the GLIAC Championships and placed seventh out of 31 teams at the D2 NCAA Midwest Regional this fall. Another interesting aspect about the Wayne State program is that it already has a strong tri-county flavor to the roster. Linden graduate Tanner Blaney and Fenton graduate Mitchell Chabot are on the squad as well. Buchanan will have to prepare for longer cross country races. The men's cross country teams generally compete in 8K races to start the year and conclude with 10K events. High school cross country programs run 5K races.

"I'm very excited for the longer distances because I believe that I am a very strong runner and I will perform better because I run well with the longer distances," Buchanan said. "(Being able to continue his running career at the collegiate level) means a lot to me that I get to continue doing what I love and I'm very excited for it. It also shows my dedication to the sport which means a lot to me because I can now carry on such a huge factor of my life that has impacted me so greatly."

Buchanan finished first in seven races this fall, including all three Metro League jamborees. He won the final league meet race with a time of 16:17.4. He also won a Division 2 regional championship with a time of 16:14.3, earning a spot at the state meet. While there he placed sixth overall in the D2 race with a time of 15:57.3. He also competed in a recent MITCA Team Michigan Trials, placing second among seniors with a time of 15:43.0.

Last track season Buchanan was the Metro League's 1,600 run champion (4:30.15). He was a regional runner-up (4:20.01) in the same event and placed fifth at the D2 state meet (4:22.78).

"The Linden cross country and track programs have helped me prepare for the next level with the year-round training by holding nonmandatory practices in the winter and non-mandatory but eventually mandatory practices in the summer," Buchanan said.

Cardinals are typically a strong program in the Flint area. Last season the Griffins lost to Davison 7-2. Two years ago the Griffins lost 8-2 and 9-1 verditcts to the Cardinals, so Tuesday night's three-goal loss looked a bit better after comparing the verdict to previous contests.

"I felt the game was closer than the 4-1 score," Krusniak said. "Davison and Powers are the powerhouses in this area and if we want to play at that level, we have to play them. I'm thankful they give us the games, and we have to take it to that level. I think we have the depth to be able to do it."

Early in the first period the Cardinals controlled action, taking 14 of the first 17 shots of the session. However, once the Griffins killed off a penalty, they started to get back into the contest, enjoying a 7-2 shot-on-goal edge during the final 7:12 of the period. However, it was on one of those Davison shots that the Cardinals took the lead.

The Griffins lost the puck and it resulted in a 2-on-1 scoring chance for the Cardinals. Jeffrey Schmidt took advantage of the situation, scoring the game's first goal off an assist by Caleb Manville. Davison led 1-0.

Fenton/Linden outshot Davison in the second period 13-8, but that didn't keep the Cardinals from taking a fourgoal lead. The next goal was provided by Schmidt on another odd-man rush, followed by a goal by Dylan McMul-the second period.

The lead grew to 4-0 when the Griffins were on the power play. The puck got out of the Davison zone and they were able to pounce on it resulting in a breakaway goal by McMullen off an assist by Schmidt. Fenton trailed 4-0, and Krusniak called a time out.

Whatever Krusniak said must've worked. Fenton/Linden's Brendan Miles won the ensuing face off and passed it to Ethan Hutchings, who scored the Griffins' first goal of the
