'Mix and mingle' with fun dance events

■ Local residents take to the dance floor with lessons and dance parties

By Sally Rummel

Dancing is such a huge part of our culture, but we spend more time watching the artful moves of Patrick Swayze and Jennifer Grey in "Dirty Dancing" (1987) and John Travolta in "Saturday Night Fever" (1977) than we actually go dancing ourselves.

People love to watch others dance, which is why "Dancing With the Stars" and "So You Think You Can Dance" are such popular reality TV shows.

But what about dancing as an activity to enjoy on your own or as a couple? It will get you off the couch this winter and into an activity that will keep your mind and body fit while you're being social

While you're sitting home wishing winter would soon be over, there's an entire dance community in the tri-county area that is regularly "strutting their stuff" on local dance floors.

the month with a new dance step to learn for the month. "This month it's 'the Hustle,'" said Jim Vroman, club president. "In February, it will be the Nightclub Two-Step."

Total membership in the club during 2019 was 255. Many of these dancers are from the Fenton, Linden and Holly areas, Vroman said.

SUMMARY

■ Dancing is a recreational activity that's beneficial for all ages and both genders. You can enjoy dance events or lessons, or can learn more privately at local dance studios.

Terry and Julie Lane of Holly enjoy dancing for fun as an activity they can do together. "We've been dancing together for 15 years," Julie said. "We just wanted something fun we could do together when we got married."

The Lanes used to dance competitively, but now spend their time dancing for enjoyment and exercise. They also teach a handful of students in their at-home dance room.

Coreena Storms of Fenton usually dances three nights per week, from the Linden VFW Hall on Mondays to the Great Lakes Swing Dance Club on Wednesdays and social dancing on Fridays.

"It's just a fun way to dance," she said. "As a single person, I can learn structured couples' dances. Everyone dances with everyone else. We mix and mingle."

As a 'single,' Storms also appreciates the safety of these dance environments. "It's like a family wedding, it's not intimidating at all," she said.

GOTTA DANCE

Compiled By Vera Hogan

Everyone knows that dancing is just plain fun and makes people happy (not to mention it's great exercise). Ginger Rogers, who famously danced up a storm in the 1930s and '40s with Fred Astaire, shared a great quote about dancing. That is, "There's nothing a man can do, that I can't do better backwards and in heels."

Fred Astaire said, "I just put my feet on the ground and move them around." Gene Kelly, another favorite celebrity dancer famously said, "Any man who looks like a sissy while dancing is just a lousy dancer."

John Travolta, who dazzled the country with his disco style said, "Dancing's part of my soul. I enjoy it, it makes people happy, and it makes me happy."

Here are a few well-known celebrity performers and dance partners in action:

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers

Affectionately known as "Fred and Ginger," Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers were to musical movies what Fonteyn and Nureyev were to ballet. In Smoke Gets in Your Eyes (1935), the grace and the passion among them are evident.

Gene Kelly and Rita Hayworth

Gene Kelly is well known for his solo tap dance numbers, but he became famous originally for his work with Rita Hayworth in films such as Cover Girl (1944). While they didn't dance as often or as fervently as Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, this couple had the same chemistry and were absolutely magical onscreen.

John Travolta and Karen Lynn Gomey

John Travolta and Olivia Newton-John

The hit movie musical Grease (1978) had many excellent dance scenes, but the ones featuring the male and female leads dancing and singing together are some of the most fun ones. It's the music, and the dancing that make this partnership between John Travolta and Olivia Newton-John so much fun to watch. Photo: cltampa.com

Patrick Swayze and Jennifer Grey

In 1987 Dirty Dancing took the world by storm. Not only were girls attracted to the magnetic Patrick Swayze, but also to the idea of choosing one's future instead of having it chosen for you. Just remember, "Nobody puts Baby in the corner!" Photo: womanmagazine.co.uk

Just sayin'...

Comfort is the key

I don't know about anyone else but I am so grateful to have a job where I can wear comfortable attire. I don't dress like a slob (I don't think), but everything is clean, wrinkle-free and everything matches, even my socks.

When I was a kid, we were not allowed to wear pants or shorts, casual shirts or sneakers to school. Those were reserved for gym class. We wore skirts with nice button-up blouses with a collar, dresses and crew socks or knee-highs with good shoes. I'm aging myself when I say saddle shoes, but I did have a pair for a while. Then it was on to loafers.

It wasn't until my sophomore year in high school that we were able to wear pantsuits to school, and they were (gulp) made of polyester. The boys had them, too, and used to call them "lesion suits." Whoever came up with the pantsuit and leisure suit idea was ... I won't say it.

But as a 15-year-old sophomore, it was exciting to be able to wear pants to school for the first time ever. Then the late '60s arrived and my wardrobe consisted of a pair of worn out bell-bottom, hip-hugger jeans, a long-sleeved T-shirt and suede jacket with tassels (complete with colorful beads) on the sleeves. Yup, I was definitely a hippie for a couple of years, or at least dressed like one.

VERA HOGAN

When I got my first office job, my wardrobe had to change, mostly because my dad got me the job and he would kill me if I didn't dress appropriately. I started wearing nice slacks and/or skirts with matching silky blouses, nylon stockings and high heels. I refused, however, to give into the brief trend when women would complete their office suit ensemble with a man's tie.

When the movie Saturday Night Fever came out in 1977 and discos and nightclubs started popping up everywhere, I found myself buying some pretty fancy little dresses to wear when my friends and I went "clubbing." Mine were mostly silky or velvety black, blue or red, with some glittery accents. Again, we wore nylon stockings and impossibly high heels. I'm surprised I didn't break a leg on the dance floor.

Today, I see what women wear to work and it seems like "comfort" is the key. I agree. Who wants an employee or a coworker who can't concentrate because they are uncomfortable in their attire?

I'm still a bit old-school though. I like jeans on jean day, which remains Friday at most companies. But I have a hard time embracing the jeans with rips, tears and holes in them. That still remains in my mind a sign of poverty, not a look I'd pay $200 to achieve. Oh well, wonder what's next in the fashion world.

TRAFFIC

Fenton, extreme caution is needed for the safety of pedestrians — and handicapped citizens.

It becomes even more critical when the snow and icy conditions of winter are upon us.

Bale died as a result of injuries sustained when his wheelchair was struck by an SUV on Owen Road, west of U.S. 23 in Fenton. On Sunday, Nov. 24, 2019, Bale was crossing from the north side of Owen Road to the south side without using the crosswalk, police said. He died the next day at the hospital. Neither speed nor alcohol were factors in the crash.

According to the National Highway Transportation Safety Administration (NHTSA), at some point in the day, everyone is a pedestrian, and pedestrian fatalities remain high. There was a more than 3 percent increase in the number of pedestrians killed in traffic crashes in 2018, totaling 6,283 deaths — the most deaths since 1990.

NHTSA offers the following tips for pedestrian safety:

- Be predictable. Follow the rules of the road and obey signs and signals.
- Walk on sidewalks whenever they are available.
- If there is no sidewalk, walk facing traffic and as far from traffic as possible.

- Keep alert at all times; don't be distracted by electronic devices that take your eyes (and ears) off the road.

- Whenever possible, cross streets at crosswalks or intersections, where drivers expect pedestrians. Look for cars in all directions, including those turning left or right.

- If a crosswalk or intersection is not available, locate a well-lit area where you have the best view of traffic. Wait for a gap in traffic that allows enough time to cross safely; continue watching for traffic as you cross.

- Never assume a driver sees you. Make eye contact with drivers as they approach to make sure you are seen.

- Be visible at all times. Wear bright clothing during the day, and wear reflective materials or use a flashlight at night.

- Watch for cars entering or exiting driveways or backing up in parking lots.

- Avoid alcohol and drugs when walking; they impair your abilities and your judgment.

TIPS FOR DRIVERS

Drivers are reminded to turn on vehicle headlights at dusk and be vigilant in looking out for cyclists and pedestrians. Additionally, drivers should:

- Stop for pedestrians at crosswalks.
- Slow down and obey the posted speed limit.
- Yield to pedestrians and cyclists when turning.
- Look before opening your door.
- Be careful when passing stopped vehicles.
- Allow three feet when passing bicyclists.

Eagles avenge losses, edge Bronchos

By David Troppens

Goodrich — Wednesday was a good night for the Linden varsity wrestling team.

The Eagles finished second to Holly in the Metro League race a year ago and also lost in the team district tournament against Goodrich.

They avenged both losses at Goodrich High School, beating Holly 38-34 and Goodrich 49-21.

"We like the heart in some wrestlers of our wrestlers tonight," Linden varsity wrestling coach Kyle Summerfield said. "Some of what we demonstrate and expect in the room is starting to carry over. Underclassmen stepped up today. We need to get a few more upper classman to do the same. It's all about growing and peaking at the right time of year. This was step one in the Metro. We have several steps still to climb to reach our goal."

Prep basketball games are 32-minute contests.

For 24 minutes, the Lake Fenton varsity boys basketball team hung with the defending Metro League champion Linden Eagles.

However, there was one eight-minute period that the Eagles dominated and that stretch decided the victor in a battle of neighboring schools.

Linden outscored Lake Fenton 26-12 in the second quarter, resulting in the Eagles' 18-point halftime. The Blue Devils played even with the Eagles during the second half, but the damage had already been done as the Eagles soared to a 70-53 victory.

"The second quarter was a good one for us," Linden varsity boys basketball coach Chris Root said. "We were able to get in a rhythm and did a

Blue Devils' press sparks easy win vs. Linden Eagles

By David Troppens

Lake Fenton — It looked like the Linden varsity girls basketball team had weathered the storm and were about ready to compete with the Blue Devils Tuesday.

Lake Fenton's press and uptempo play had an adverse impact on the Eagles during the first 12 minutes of the contest. The result was a 23-7 Lake Fenton lead after a layup by Katelyn Siebert with 4:14 left in the half.

However, Linden started making a run, and got back into the game. The run started with a Delanie Prince hoop, followed by a three-pointer by Jordan Peterson. About a minute later, a diving layup by Alexcis Parker cut the Lake Fenton lead to just 23-14. Suddenly, it looked like the Eagles had survived the storm and were steadily getting back into the contest.

However, that's when the Blue Devils turned up the heat again. Lake Fenton's pressing defense forced the Eagles into seven turnovers during the final three minutes of the first half, sparking the Blue Devils' 12-2 run. Suddenly, the Blue Devils were completely back in command, leading 35-16 at the break. Lake Fenton never lost control of the game again, eventually winning a 69-26 verdict against the Eagles.

"It was the moment of the game," Lake Fenton varsity girls basketball coach Brian VanBuren said. "Even with us having a little bit of a lead, it was a competitive game. There was a point we were blowing it open, but they got back into it and there was work to be done. ... That pace right before the half changed things. Suddenly, bang, bang and we are up by 19. We came out of the locker room up 19 and we were able to just play basketball. We were relaxed."

The Holly bout wasn't decided until the final match between Linden's Bryce Shingleton and Holly's Brian James at 119 pounds. The teams were tied 34-34 entering the bout, but Shingleton earned the major decision victory, giving the Eagles the win.

Earning pinfall wins for Linden were Josh Brennen (125), and Tyler McCabe (103). Colton Powell (189) earned a victory by tech fall while Jaylin Berry (145), Jayden Rittenbury (152) and Uz-ziah Delgado (171) won major decisions. Adelia Carr (119) also won her match by forfeit.

Holly's Mason Forsythe (135), Tyler Hild (215) and Kolten Steele (285) won by pinfalls while Andrew Kolman (112) and Nate Young (140) won by tech fall. Jacob Gonzales (152) won by forfeit.

Shingleton, Berry, Rittenbury, Delgado and Powell earned 2-0 marks, with Powell earning his 100th career victory.

"The second quarter was the difference," Lake Fenton varsity boys basketball coach Josh Fox said. "The third quarter was 18-18 and it was 13-14 (Lake Fenton winning the quarter) in the fourth. We have to preach the message of consistency and maintain our focus on the game. We can't let the turnovers haunt us."

The Eagles (4-1) posted their second-highest point total of the season. Blake Lund had a strong contest, scoring a game-high 23 points. However, the Eagles had others who had big offensive nights as well. Eli Beil netted 14 points while Seeger DeGayner also scored double-digits, netting 12 points.

"I saw some improvement on both ends of the floor," Root said. "We were able to get out on the break a little better than we had the last couple of games. We were sharp offensively, and I hope we can continue to improve upon that the rest of the season."

LF wrestlers gaining experience during Metro League dual meet

By David Troppens

Lake Fenton — The Lake Fenton varsity wrestling team has a young squad that's looking at strides of progress on a weekly basis more than wins right now.

The Blue Devils saw some of those signs of progress in two competitive losses at home against Flushing and Corunna on Wednesday.

Lake Fenton lost to Corunna 40-28 and then lost a tighter bout against Flushing 42-36.

"We are a young team,"

Lake Fenton varsity wrestling coach Vance Corcoran said.

"We only have one or two seniors and we competed. These are good programs and we competed and did what we had to do. They wrestled hard. To come in score 36 on Flushing and 28 on Corunna is all right. We'll get better."

Bronchos edge past Corunna, 56-54

By David Troppens

The 2020 portion of Holly's varsity boys basketball season began on a high note.

The Bronchos ended a three-game losing streak, winning a tight 56-54 home contest against Corunna Tuesday night.

It was a tight contest throughout, with both teams enjoying leads. The Bronchos trailed 38-33 entering the fourth quarter, but outscored Corunna 23-16 during the final eight minutes, earning the Bronchos the victory.

Ryan Ortiz played a huge role in the strong fourth quarter, scoring 10 of his team-high 13 points during the final eight minutes.

Holly led 14-7 after one quarter.

Holly girls fall to Lady Cavaliers, 41-38

By David Troppens

The Holly varsity girls basketball team seems to be creating streaks in pairs this season.

The squad lost its first two games, but bounced back to win its next two. However, since those victories, the Bronchos have now lost two straight games. The second loss came on Tuesday when Holly lost a tight 41-38 road contest against the Corunna Cavaliers.

The Bronchos started strong, leading 12-6 after one quarter. Holly still led 21-15 at halftime. However, Corunna cut the Holly lead to just 27-26 entering the fourth quarter as the Bronchos only scored six third-quarter points.
