

Neuroscience and surgery center plans Fenton rehab facility

■Has purchased the former Rockwell Memory Care at Adelaide and Rockwell

By Vera Hogan

Although the Fenton City Planning Commission has postponed its March 24 meeting until the April 28 meeting due to COVID-19 safety restrictions, there are some people in the neighborhood of Adelaide and Rockwell streets who are very interested in the outcome of at least one of the agenda items.

In January of this year, Crain's Detroit Business announced that a company called the Insight Institute of Neurosurgery & Neuroscience (IINN) was seeking to come to Fenton, but did not say where.

Since then, Jawad Shah Property Holdings, LLC, of IINN has acquired the property that once housed the Rockwell Memory Care home at 700 S. Adelaide

If approved by the Fenton Planning Commission in April, the former Rockwell Memory Care home will become a neuroscience and surgery rehab center.

Eateries rely on takeout business

By Tim Jagielo

Fenton — The normally bustling lobby of CRUST is much quieter than usual with only a few customers in line. Granted, since Monday, only 12 customers were allowed at one time, and dining in is prohibited.

Gov. Gretchen Whitmer's Monday announcement that all restaurants and bars had to temporarily close for "dine-in" customers sent business owners and managers scrambling for a plan.

For many, this announcement

Local resources for seniors and families

■ There is help available for people in need during the COVID-19 pandemic

By Sally Rummel

At 65, Mona Knapp of Fenton is in the age group that is supposed to be sheltering in place from the coronavirus. She is staying home and using her phone as much as she can, but she's on a mission to round up resources for her senior citizen friends, many of whom have no one else to turn to.

"The elderly, the vulnerable people, what are they supposed to do?" she said. "Many feel lonely and isolated. My heart breaks for the people who have no transportation and are afraid to leave the house. When the elderly get isolated, they fail fast."

She urges local residents to do more than just check on an elderly family member or neighbor. "Find out what they need and help them get it," she said.

As of presstime, many local grocery stores are offering early shopping hours during the pandemic for seniors, the disabled and other immune-compromised residents:

VG's Grocery, Silver Parkway
(810) 629-2627 and North LeRoy
(810) 629-1515 in Fenton

Reserved hours Tuesday and Thursday, 7 to 9 a.m. Also, Senior Discount Wednesday, Fast Lane (curbside pickup) and delivery from both VG's locations.

Alpine Marketplace, Linden
(810) 735-5100

Senior shopping hours daily from 7 to 9 a.m., curbside pick-up and delivery.

Target

(810) 714-0975

Reserved shopping hours every Wednesday from 8 to 9 a.m., plus drive-up, same-day delivery through Shipt.com and online ordering.

Walmart

(810) 750-1132

Senior shopping hours every Tuesday from 6 to 7 a.m., plus curbside pick-up and online delivery.

Dollar General

(810) 215-0876

Senior shopping hours from 8 to 9 a.m. daily.

Many local restaurants also offer carry-out and delivery, especially since dining rooms are closed during the pandemic.

There are many resources out there and most are as close as your phone.

Fenton Center of Hope

(810) 620-8167

Food, non-perishables, even coveted toilet paper and other paper products are available for local residents who need them, as well as complete boxed meals up from the FCH's huge food pantry.

"Every day the need is changing," said Jennifer Strygulec, co-director. "We're getting triple the calls for food than normal. Closures and job loss are

Words with Hannah Happy things

The pandemic is putting a lot of people on edge. As a respite from coronavirus news, here's a list of things that bring me joy. I hope they bring you joy, too.

In the morning, my dog Kaycee will push open my bedroom door and nudge against my bed until I scratch her head and give her attention. Sadly, she's too old to jump on my bed by herself, but I'm always willing to help when she wants to lay with me.

I'm a few hundred pages into a new fantasy series by one of my favorite authors, "Crescent City" by Sarah J. Maas. Another favorite author of mine, N. K. Jemisin, has a new book coming in less than two weeks. Two weeks! I can't wait!

Season three of "Castlevania" is on Netflix, and I'm planning to binge watch it. I loved the first, but stopped there for a reason I can't remember. Recently, I finished the first season of "Altered Carbon," which is a must-watch for any sci-fi lovers.

Sometimes when I pet my dog, she makes this happy-grumbling sound like a purr and it's one of my favorite sounds in the world.

Yard work is an excellent cure for any kind of cabin fever. Last weekend, my father and I redid a few brick steps and it was so much fun. The weather was also nice enough to run outside. It was a slow three miles, but it felt great.

Hannah Ball

The warmer weather also means my dog can be found in various spots around the house, napping in the sun. That always makes me happy. Sleep dog cuddles are the best.

I keep a bowl of Hershey's dark chocolate bites with almonds on my desk at all times. Dark chocolate is life. (A controversial opinion — milk chocolate is gross and white chocolate is wannabe chocolate.)

The best thing I did in 2019 was officiate my sister's wedding. I got ordained, did the proper paperwork, and wrote a speech. Surprisingly, it went very well, as did my maid-of-honor speech.

I have an obsessive personality, meaning when I become interested in a topic, I become very interested in it. Over the years, I've been obsessed with the band All Time Low, pro-wrestling (I became a fan during the height of the Randy Orton-John Cena feud, a great time for wrestling), comic books, cosplay and more. My most recent obsession is K-pop (Korean pop music), and I've developed an appreciation for listening to music in other languages.

Other great things —

Google "marble racing" and thank me later. Search "penguins going down stairs" on YouTube.

I hope everyone is being smart and staying safe.

How has the virus affected your daily life?

"I generally attend daily meetings. My calendar has cleared in the last few days through to the end of April. I am trying to rethink how to reach my residents, to share with them the importance of being counted in the Census."

Dianne Scheib-Snider
Rose Township supervisor

"Tyrone Township is closed to public contact but we still are handling business via digital media and on-site drop box. At home we are trying new recipes, getting a jump on spring cleaning and playing board games and doing puzzles."

Mike Cunningham
Tyrone Township supervisor

Being very busy taking care of regular business and a crisis at the same time it seems a little bizarre.

We're preparing for the next change. I have been on several conference calls with area counties, state health department and the White House for updates and information. Then going straight home and back to work the next day.

Lynn Markland
Fenton City manager

"My office is operating with reduced staff, and we are doing court hearings via Zoom when possible. Our oldest son has been busy with remote learning at Powers and UM Flint. Next week my husband starts his new schedule. It will take some time getting used to this new routine, but we are staying active and our dogs love the company."

FENTON SCHOOLS' TEACHERS, in contract negotiations, now getting a three week paid vacation due to coronavirus emergency. Will you also demand pay for the three-week make-up period at the end of the school year, doubt it. Give the school taxpayers a break.

TO THE HOT-LINER complaining about their child's $70,000 student loan debt. This week the United States Army will pay off $60,000 of student loan debt for anyone who signs up for the Infantry. So bring your little snowflake to the nearest recruiter. Presto. Problem solved.

IT WOULD BE interesting to see if those who've had the flu shot are likely more, less or the same to contract COVID-19. Any information on that?

LOOK AT THE bright side. We are no longer hearing about Meghan Markle and the British Royals on the news. Thanks coronavirus.

I HOPE EVERYONE is better prepared for the next crisis. The COVID-19 pandemic has shown how fragile most of our society is.

Schools are closed; kids still learning

■ Districts adapt with online teaching, video lessons

By Tim Jagielo

Grand Blanc Twp. — Despite being out of school due to the COVID-19 pandemic, West Shore Elementary School student Jackson Gregory can still get six hours of instructional time remotely from his teachers.

From an Acer notebook computer, Jackson can work on math, art, music and even physical education (PE).

According to the National Center for Education Statistics there are no minimum instructional hours required per day in Michigan, but schools must provide 1,098 hours in 180 days. This works out to just over six hours per day, in session.

Jackson's mother, Courtney, said he easily received his six hours on Monday, March 16. Overall, Courtney said the teachers want the work done by Sunday night so they can start on a new course of work.

"At this point I'm just going with the flow," she said. Father Randy appreciates the technology that makes this all possible.

The remote teaching plan varies by district, but most are making efforts to include elective classes like art and PE. Families without internet also are receiving assistance. Programs like Google Classroom and Screencastify have been utilized to connect to students.

For Lake Fenton Community Schools (LFCS) students, materials are delivered Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

"The Lake Fenton staff embraced the challenge of creating online content, in a very short amount of time, to ensure they could continue to provide educational opportunities for our students," Superintendent Julie Williams said. "This is obviously very new to all of us and we will continue to learn as we go."

Teacher training for remote instruction started March 13, which included involving the Technology Department.

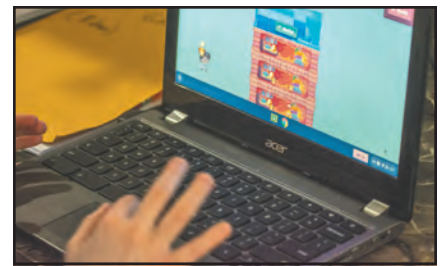

All Fenton Area Public School (FAPS) teachers spent time on Thursday, March 12 creating lessons for the shutdown using online programs, Superintendent Adam Hartley said. "Included within the teacher's Google Classrooms will be many resources for our students and families," he said. "Our goal right now is to connect with our students, engage them in learning the content they would have received in class and help our families have purposeful activities for this unprecedented time."

Holly Area Schools (HAS) created a "Broncho Home Enrichment Opportunities" page for students and families on the main HAS page. Go to hask12.org and click the "COVID-19 Updates" button.

"While Holly Area Schools teachers are not required to provide remote instruction, many of them will be sharing learning opportunities with students and their families during the closure," said Superintendent Scott Roper.

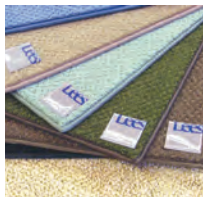

Linden Community Schools Superintendent Russ Ciesielski said their teachers are offering virtual learning experiences and opportunities through the use of Google Classroom, email, and other resources. "Teachers are making attempts to engage students in a learning experience," he said. He added that staff is dedicated to the learning process of their students.

Michigan Severe Weather Week

■ Starts March 22 and runs through March 25; statewide tornado drill at 1 p.m. on March 28

By Vera Hogan

While Michiganders, and the entire country, are taking proactive steps to lessen the spread of COVID-19, citizens are reminded that severe weather season is approaching. This includes tornados, flooding, high winds, and other severe weather that could disrupt daily lives.

According to Michigan.gov, “While we are practicing social distancing, we do not encourage you to congregate in groups for drills, but ask that you review what your plan is in the event of severe weather. Disasters don’t plan ahead, but you can.”

With Gov. Gretchen Whitmer declaring March 22-28 as Michigan’s Severe Weather Awareness Week, the Michigan State Police, Emergency Management and Homeland Security Division (MSP/EMHSD) is calling on residents to take action by participating in a voluntary statewide tornado drill at 1 p.m. on Wednesday, March 25.

“While tornadoes can happen any time of the year, they are especially common in late spring and early summer,” said Capt. Emmitt McGowan, deputy state director of Emergency Management and Homeland Security and commander of the MSP/EMHSD. “This drill is an opportunity for residents to make a plan and test it as if this were a real event. Plan now and you’ll be better prepared when a disaster happens.” Businesses, organizations, families and individuals are encouraged to engage in this statewide preparedness activity but are not required to do so. Nearly all state of Michigan facilities will participate.

During the statewide tornado drill, residents will observe or hear alerts on NOAA Weather Radios, TV and radio stations.

The average lead-time for tornadoes to develop is 10 to 15 minutes, which means residents need to be ready to react quickly when a warning is issued. To be ready for a tornado, know the difference

Tornado Watch means conditions exist for a tornado to develop.

Tornado Warning means a tornado has been sighted or indicated by weather radar.

The Fujita Scale

■ Measures tornado intensity based on damage

Compiled By Vera Hogan

Ted Fujita was the Japanese-born American meteorologist who in collaboration with Allen Pearson, created the Fujita Scale, or F-Scale, a system of classifying tornado intensity based on damage to structures and vegetation. He also discovered macro-bursts and micro-bursts, weather phenomena that are associated with severe thunderstorms and are hazards to aviation.

The following are the scale numbers, wind speeds and damage that could be expected:

— F0 —

Gale tornado; 40-72 mph

Some damage to chimneys; breaks branches off trees, pushes over shallow-rooted trees; damages sign boards

Treasury: small business taxpayers get tax assistance

■ Penalties and interest waived for 30 days for some sales, use and withholding tax filers

Small businesses that have experienced disrupted operations due to the COVID-19 pandemic now have additional time to make their sales, use and withholding tax monthly payment, according to the Michigan Department of Treasury.

Effective immediately, small businesses scheduled to make their monthly sales, use and withholding tax payments on March 20 can postpone filing and payment requirements until April 20.

The state Treasury Department will waive all penalties and interest for 30 days.

"The past week has been hard for small business owners across the state as we work to mitigate the spread of coronavirus," Gov. Gretchen Whitmer

Michigan COVID-19 response timeline

■ First Michigan resident dies from coronavirus

By Hannah Ball

As of Thursday, March 19, there were 110 total cases of COVID-19 in Michigan. No cases have been confirmed in Genesee County.

A timeline of Michigan's response to the coronavirus pandemic:

Tax deadline extended to July 15

By Tim Jagielo

Last week, the federal government announced that payment for taxes owed would be delayed due to the COVID-19 pandemic. On Friday, March 20, major news outlets reported that the filing deadline also would be extended to July 15.

Lewis & Knopf principal and Certified Public Accountant (CPA) Joel Gibbons took time to answer a few questions about the extension.

Is there a need for such an extension? Why?

Yes, this extension has become necessary, as more and more people have been affected by COVID-19. Many businesses have scaled back operations or completely shut down and this brings additional difficulties for filing tax returns in a timely manner. Many accounting firms have closed operations or have asked employees to work from home, which also creates difficulties for filing in a timely manner.

What does the federal extension actually do?

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has extended the tax payment deadline for 2019 income taxes for individuals who owe up to $1 million and corporations that owe up to $10 million.

When is the new deadline?

The deadline to pay has been extended by 90 days and puts the new payment deadline at July 15.

Who does it help and how do they take advantage?

This helps any taxpayer who owes the IRS with their 2019 taxes, which includes individuals and businesses. Instead of owing taxes on April 15, the deadline has been pushed to July 15.

Penalties and interest will not accrue for unpaid taxes during this 90-day time period. Taxpayers who expect a refund when they file their taxes will not be affected by this extension of time to pay.

$125 million in emergency funding approved

■ Local state rep votes in favor for helping Michigan in coronavirus response

By Sharon Stone

State Rep. Mike Mueller (R-Fenton Township) has voted in favor of a new emergency budget plan adding another $125 million to help the state of Michigan and local communities respond to coronavirus.

The measure brings the total state funding approved to $150 million, including the $25 million approved by the Legislature last week. The plan will provide $50 million for immediate needs, such as virus monitoring and testing, $50 million for critical health care providers to expand capacity for coronavirus response, and $50 million to keep in reserve for when necessary.

The financial support also comes with important accountability and legislative oversight provisions to ensure money will be spent in the best interests of the public and taxpayers.

The measure also will make it easier to use federal assistance related to coronavirus.

"The health and safety of our communities is of utmost importance," Mueller said. "Local health care professionals at Hurley, McLaren, and Ascension Genesys are working around the clock to protect citizens of Genesee County.

"I am proud to support funding to help Michigan get through this unprecedented public health crisis."

The best way to prevent illness is to avoid exposure to the virus.

PREVENTION STEPS INCLUDE:

- Wash your hands often with soap and warm water for 20 seconds. Use hand sanitizer if soap and water is not available.
 - Avoid touching your eyes, nose, or mouth.
 - Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue or upper sleeve when coughing or sneezing.
 - Avoid contact with people who are sick.
 - If you are sick, stay home, and avoid contact with others.
 - Stay at least 6 feet away from others when in a public setting.
- Reliable information about COVID-19 can be found at michigan.gov/Coronavirus and CDC.gov/Coronavirus.

TASK FORCE

Church and The Freedom Center, are participating members.

Genesee County does not currently have any confirmed cases of coronavirus, but more people are working from home to help slow the spread. Gov. Gretchen Whitmer ordered dine-in services at bars and restaurants to shut down until late March, and customers are bulk buying at stores.

Swanson announced the creation of the Community Care Task Force, over livestream on the Genesee County Sheriff's Office Facebook page, to address these concerns.

"Over the last couple days, we have seen an increase in, what I call, concern over basic food goods," he said. His goal is to alleviate the stress that comes with social isolation and ensure residents have necessities, such as food, baby products, hygiene supplies, transportation, counseling, needed medications and more.

"Everything is operating. It's going to be okay. I keep saying that. We're going to make it through," he said. "In the meantime, we want to have good prevention. We put together what's called a community care task force."

During the livestream, about a dozen faith-based leaders stood behind Swanson at the podium.

"We don't know how it's going to turn out. There could be more restrictions coming. Right now, the churches don't meet. The restaurants are closed. People are starting to ask questions. The folks behind me are going to bring you peace and encouragement. They're also going to bring you toiletries, food, transportation, anything you need," he said.

Swanson deputized them on the livestream. It's in effect for 90 days.

In the event that more restrictions are put in place and people are confined to their homes, this allows these faith-based leaders to overcome obstacles in delivering food and needed supplies to in-need county residents with the full backing of the Genesee County Sheriff's Office.

A full list of participating churches is available at gcsomichigan.com. Residents can see which church in their area can help. Residents, and churches who wish to participate, can also call the sheriff's office at (810) 257-3422 with any questions.

"I'm calling on the faith-based community in Genesee County and Flint to serve the people," he said.

The Freedom Center and The Rock Church are in region three, which covers Fenton, Linden, Fenton Township, Argentine Township and more. Pastor Wes Morris of The Rock Church spoke on the livestream and thanked Swanson for his efforts.

"I just want to say on behalf of The Rock Church and everyone here behind us, we are happy to support our local government and our federal government," Morris said. "We will be happy to meet physical needs as best we can."

He said he's praying for wisdom and strength for our government, and that if people have worries and don't know where to turn to, churches will offer the hope of the gospel.

"We are an active resource for all of Genesee County to meet physical and spiritual needs," Morris said. "If there's anybody out there that is alone and wants to talk or has a need that is not being met, they can call us. We'll try to help."

Call The Rock Church at (810) 629-2444. Call the Freedom Center at (810) 629-5261 or the Center of Hope (810) 620-8167.

HOT LINE CONTINUED

IT IS THE responsibility of 'parents' to feed their children, not the schools. If the tax dollars were used to educate students and not spent on social programs this country would be in a much better state.

I FEEL GOOD that Gov. Whitmer has been proactive during this crisis. She has shown great leadership.

IT WAS SO nice to see the Michigan Health Care update in my mailbox today paid for by Bloomberg. He spent $2.5 million to get Slotkin elected in 2018. I wonder how much he's going to spend now.

MY COLLEGE KIDDOS are home and taking this virus seriously. My in-laws and friends over 60 years of age think it's a joke. They continue to go out as if they won't be affected.

NEW YORK'S GOVERNOR is making a lot of sense. So glad he and the White House are working together during this crisis.

employment and facilities. COVID-19 Task Force on Health and Human Services covers the provision of medical and human services, including protecting the healthcare workforce.

COVID-19 Task Force on Education covers K-12 public schools and universities and colleges. COVID-19 Task Force on Economy/Workforce covers general economic impact, workforce, supply chain, business continuity, and related issues.

March 6 — Whitmer announced that the Michigan Medicaid Program will waive copays and cost-sharing for testing and health care treatment related to the coronavirus disease (COVID-19). A number of insurers, including Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, Blue Care Network of Michigan, Priority Health, CVS Health, McLaren, and Meridian also announced they will fully cover the cost of medically necessary COVID-19 tests for members.

March 10 — Whitmer declared a state of emergency in Michigan due to the virus.

March 11 — The first two cases of coronavirus are confirmed in Michigan.

March 12 — Whitmer released a statement, announcing all Michigan K-12 schools will close until April 6.

Also on March 12, Whitmer announced that her administration will expand access to telemedicine for Michiganders by immediately allowing Medicaid beneficiaries to receive services in their home while the state combats the spread of the virus.

March 13 — The Governor orders a ban on all events with more than 250 people.

March 16 — Whitmer signed an executive order stating that all dine-in services at restaurants and bars must close. Takeout is allowed.

March 17 — Whitmer signed an executive order prohibiting public events or assemblies in shared indoor spaces with more than 50 people. This is in effect until April 6.

March 18 — Whitmer signed Executive Order 2020-14, which extended the deadline for Michigan residents to pay back taxes and avoid foreclosure on their property during the pandemic.

Executive Order 2020-14, which took effect immediately, will move the tax foreclosure deadline from March 31, 2020, to May 29, 2020, or 30 days after the state of emergency declared in Executive Order 2020-4 is terminated, whichever comes first.

Ford, General Motors and Fiat Chrysler shut down production to help slow the spread of the coronavirus.

We plan on updating all our clients in the event the situation or circumstances change.

As you are cleaning and organizing your closets, please keep us in mind. Every year we volunteer to clean coats, jackets and stuffed (plush) animals for holiday giving for the Clio Community Services and other community groups. We will be happy to accept your donations now, to clean, sanitize and store for the upcoming 2020 holiday season. Thank you in advance for your generosity.

Stay safe and please let us know if we can help you in any way.

St., at Rockwell. Shaw paid $302,500 for the 7,707-square-foot facility. The property is currently zoned MDR (medium density residential). It was last sold in August of 2007 for $1.25 million.

According to Fenton's Building and Zoning Administrator, Mike Reilly, the company plans to expand the house with numerous additional beds.

Reilly said in order to make that work, the owner would have to install an elevator in the building, costing approximately $85,000. He said this type of healthcare facility is "transient," in that it involves physical therapy and other rehabilitation services mainly for vehicle accident victims, many patients who would be coming and going regularly, not all living there as it was with the memory care facility.

According to IINN's website at iinn.com, "Seeing the need for rehabilitation services continue to grow, Insight has purchased a vacant building in Fenton that it will use for a dramatic expansion of its rehabilitation program.

"The Insight Healing Center currently is a 12-bed adult rehabilitation facility with an additional six-bed residential-type recovery unit in Flint. Insight's program will now expand with the purchase of an unoccupied building in Fenton that will be converted into a 40-bed long-term care rehabilitation facility."

According to IINN, the need for rehabilitation services has grown over the last two years as Insight neurosurgeons concluded they could control patient outcomes more effectively after they conducted surgeries on accident victims by managing their own facility.

While initial treatment of catastrophic injuries such as auto accidents are effective, Insight's leaders say they believe that a continuity of care with enhanced long-term rehabilitation treatment can enhance recovery.

According to the Crain's article (link is on the IINN website) Shah said he and his associates have admitting privileges and share emergency on-call coverage at a number of hospitals near Flint, including McLaren Flint Hospital, Hurley Medical Center and Ascension Genesys Hospital in Grand Blanc Township, where they treat seriously injured patients.

Community focus CEO Chad Grant of McLaren Flint said there are few people like Shah who both contribute to the growth of Flint from a business and health care standpoint and are also as committed to community and civic development

Shah's efforts to improve Flint's economy and community services, also are supported by U.S. Rep. Dan Kildee of Flint, who said, "He sets a really good example for being the ultimate citizen."

IINN has other facilities, including one in Warren, in a former GM building.

TO ANYONE WHO is concerned about the elderly in our community with the risks associated with the coronavirus, please contact VG's and ask them to open an hour or two in the morning for elderly-only shopping to help reduce their risks.

THANKS TO THE City of Fenton for the roundabout at the south end of Torrey Road. Despite all the naysayers, it's safer now than it ever has been. Problem identified, problem solved. Thank you.

FELLOW FENTONITES, PLEASE! We are better than this. Why are you hoarding stuff? The manufacturers are not, I repeat, not out of product. If you just shop as normal everything would be fine. Everybody's going bonkers out there. It's ridiculous.

NOW THAT PEOPLE have the time, why not purge your junk and clean up your property. Just driving around Fenton Township makes me wonder why people don't take pride in their yards and community. If you were too busy before, take time now to clean. It costs nothing.

DURING TIMES OF crisis it amazes me what happens among the public. Through some of the confusion, there are many random acts of kindness. I've seen many people help others help neighbors that need it. And even during my couple trips to grocery stores have seen people thanking the cashiers for doing their jobs. It's small acts like this that make me feel good about the human race.

Michigan attorney general warns of scam

■ Spoofing health department phone numbers seeking Medicaid, Medicare Information

Michigan Attorney General Dana Nessel is warning that scammers are spoofing phone numbers of at least one local public health department and calling residents to offer medication while asking for their Medicaid and Medicare numbers for billing purposes.

Incoming calls to the local health department are then jamming up phone lines and delaying official business in responding to the coronavirus disease.

Reports so far have been focused on the Ionia County Health Department. The Attorney General's office issued a consumer alert making residents aware of the situation earlier today.

"Scammers will not hesitate to gain access to your private information, and false promises of medications will not be fulfilled," Nessel said. "As a result of this scam, the number of calls to local public health departments are also hindering their ability to respond to the current COVID-19 pandemic."

"Never provide any personal information over the phone unless you have first independently confirmed who you are talking to."

To seem more official, scammers often use a process known as "spoofing" — when a call appears to be coming from a legitimate government phone number. The caller may also sound professional and be very persuasive.

Anyone who receives a phone call they suspect to be a scam should hang up the phone. No one should give out personal information to an unsolicited caller.

Residents should also be aware of online coronavirus scams selling bogus products and providing false information on COVID-19 tests and treatments. These attempts to obtain the personal information of consumers may include emails or online posts pitching unreliable products, advice, fake tests and cures to prevent the spread of COVID-19.

Those who wish to make a report about potential scams, price-gouging and any other violation of the Michigan Consumer Protection Act can do so with the Attorney General's Consumer Protection team by filing a complaint online or by calling (877) 765-8388.

Information around this outbreak is changing rapidly. The latest information is available at Michigan.gov/Coronavirus and CDC.gov/Coronavirus.

“Never provide any personal information over the phone unless you have first independently confirmed who you are talking to.”

Pandemic affects Loose Center operations

■ County directive says they are available for essential services

By Hannah Ball

The spread of COVID-19, and the threat it poses to the elderly population, have dramatically changed the way senior centers operate.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), older people, those with heart and lung complications, diabetes and immunological conditions are the most vulnerable to the effects of the coronavirus.

Loose Center Director Carl Gabrielson said due to a directive from Genesee County issued Monday, March 16, the center is only open for essential services. This includes food services, planned informational appointments and a few other exceptions. Food cannot be eaten inside the building — it has to be taken out.

This directive affects the 13 senior centers in Genesee County which operate similar to Loose Center.

"Loose will be open to distribute a take-home lunch daily at 11:30 a.m. All other programs, events and appointments are canceled the remainder of the month," Gabrielson said. "(The building) is two-thirds empty. Most of the building is blocked off and has been disinfected."

Most events have been canceled or postponed. This won't change until the county gives further direction.

"We're trying to find ways we can help people the best. The biggest thing is we have to keep the people in the building to a minimum," he said.

Gabrielson said he feels bad for seniors who use the center regularly.

"The center handles about 300 people a day. We're down to about 10 people a day," he said. "Anything that would draw a large crowd has been canceled, which is unfortunate. It affects seniors who really don't have a place to go. We're their life. They look forward to coming here. They miss it."

Many stores have run out of products such as toilet paper and cleaning wipes. Gabrielson said Loose works to help seniors find these products if need be.

"We do help people in any way we can."

As our communities continue to feel the increased impact of Coronavirus (COVID-19) we feel it is important to share with you what we are doing to help keep people safe and healthy.

At Sonoma dental group and dynamic dental care, we strive to take great care of the people in the communities in which we serve. We like to assure the community that we have protocols in place and are working with the CDC and local public health officials.

We, like most businesses, have decided to do our part, and temporary close for three weeks in order to prevent the spread of this disease to our patients, team members and ultimately to the community.

We are also in the process of donating some of our masks and gloves to the medical community as our appreciation for all their hard work in the front lines, keeping us safe and saving lives.

Therefore, Patients with cosmetic and elective procedures have been rescheduled for a later time and we have limited our office to EMERGENCY patients only.

We are here to help the community... If you are in need of a dental emergency you can call our office at (810)629-7682.

Please follow the instructions on the message and one of our doctors will return your call.

We thank our patients in advance for your patience as we navigate this challenging situation one day at a time and determine how best to continue serving our communities.

Sincerely, Dr. Nikki Mazhari and staff

MEASURES

— F1 —

Moderate tornado; 73-112 mph

The lower limit is the beginning of hurricane wind speed; peels surface off roofs; mobile homes pushed off foundations or overturned; moving autos pushed off roads; attached garages may be destroyed

— F2 —

Significant tornado; 113-157 mph

Considerable damage; roofs torn off frame houses; mobile homes demolished; boxcars pushed over; large trees snapped or uprooted; light object missiles generated

— F3 —

Severe tornado; 158-206 mph

Roof and some walls torn off well-constructed houses; trains overturned; most trees in forest uprooted

— F4 —

Devastating tornado; 207-260 mph

Well constructed houses leveled; structures with weak foundations blown off some distance; cars thrown and large missiles generated

— F5 —

Incredible tornado; 261-318 mph

Strong frame houses lifted off foundations and carried considerable distances to disintegrate; automobile sized missiles fly through the air in excess of 100 meters; trees debarked; steel-reinforced concrete structures badly damaged

— F6 —

Inconceivable tornado; 319-379 mph

These winds are very unlikely. The small area of damage they might produce would probably not be recognizable along with the mess produced by F4 and F5 wind that would surround the F6 winds. Missiles, such as cars and refrigerators would do serious secondary damage that could not be directly identified as F6 damage. If this level is ever achieved, evidence for it might only be found in some manner of ground swirl pattern, for it may never be identifiable through engineering studies.

SEVERE WEATHER

Know the signs of an approaching tornado — dark, often greenish sky; large hail; a large, dark low-lying cloud; and loud roar, like a freight train.

Develop an emergency preparedness kit with essential items such as a three-day supply of water and food, a NOAA Weather Radio, important family documents and items that satisfy unique family needs.

Conduct regular tornado drills. Make sure each household member knows where to go and what to do in the event of a tornado.

Stay tuned to commercial radio or television broadcasts for news on changing weather conditions or approaching storms.

Although it has been just nearly 13 years, residents won't soon forget the F-2 tornado that ripped through Fenton and Holly just after 5:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 24, 2007.

Many homes were damaged and some were leveled. In the city of Fenton alone, more than 4,000 trees were destroyed.

About 50 homes in Fenton Township were affected by a May 28, 2013 tornado, also classified as an F-2. Most of the damage was near Jennings Road.

If a tornado warning is issued:

- Identify the lowest place to take cover during a tornado.
- If a basement does not exist, find an interior hallway away from windows, doors and outside walls.
- Go under something sturdy, such as a workbench or stairwell when taking shelter in the basement or designated spot.
- Conduct regular tornado drills. Make sure each household member knows where to go and what to do in the event of a tornado.
- Stay tuned to commercial radio or television broadcasts for news on changing weather conditions or approaching storms.

Do not ignore the tornado sirens. In years prior, the city of Fenton's emergency warning signal would be activated if a tornado siren was sighted anywhere in Genesee County. Today, if the tornado sirens in Fenton are activated — it means one has been sighted in or near Fenton, or is heading this way.

To Our Clients, Colleagues, Neighbors, and Friends:

Abraham Law is closely following the developments with the global COVID-19 pandemic and we are continuing to take measures to protect the health and safety of our personnel, clients, and all of our families. As with you, the situation is forcing us to change the ways we do business, but our commitment and ability to provide outstanding client service remains unchanged.

Rest assured that none of our operations have been interrupted, and we have taken measures focused on maintaining a healthy workplace and business continuity. Presently we have undertaken the following:

- We have implemented protocols and equipped lawyers and staff to work remotely with full access to firm files and resources, while still ensuring privacy and data safeguards.
- We have scheduled personnel into divided groups who will work physically in our offices on alternate days.
- When reasonable, we are restricting communication with clients to email, telephone, and videoconferencing instead of in-person meetings.
- We have canceled all non-essential business travel for our personnel.

- We continue to monitor updates from the Centers for Disease Control, the federal government, and state agencies in Michigan.
- We are scheduling in-person meetings by appointment only.
- We are requesting clients and personnel not come to our offices if they do not feel well or experience any flu-like symptoms.

Despite this unprecedented pandemic and the actions and safeguards it demands, we will continue to be responsive, minimize disruptions, and accommodate the protocols of our clients, colleagues, and local community.

If Abraham Law is currently handling a matter for you, please contact our office. If you are not yet a client and are in need of legal assistance, please contact us and we will be happy to help any way we can.

Please stay safe, and we will continue to provide updates as things change. We will continue to post updates and resources via our website at www.AbrahamPC.com.

Churches adapt due to virus

■ Large public gatherings prohibited; local churches go digital

By Hannah Ball

Churches are meeting places that regularly host Bible studies, group meetings, Sunday services and more. However, due to the coronavirus pandemic, Gov. Gretchen Whitmer has limited public gatherings to 50 people, and experts are encouraging social distancing to slow the spread of the virus.

Local churches are working to adapt.

"We have gone completely digital as far as preaching and Bible teaching," said Pastor Wes Morris of The Rock Church. They're holding livestreams throughout the week and weekend for the foreseeable future.

This has taken "very little adjustments" for them, Morris said, because the congregation regularly uses technology in their operations.

"We've been really thankful for our technology infrastructure. We record everything anyway and livestream a

Although local churches have suspended in-person services for the time being, church leaders and essential services are available for their parishioners. Times file photo majority of what we do," Morris said.

The one big change is there's very few people in the room when he preaches, which he said can be a little awkward, but he knows many people are watching from home.

"You can almost feel the members watching," he said. "We've also reached out to other churches who don't have the technology, and we've offered to help livestream and get their messages out there."

Morris said some of the church's members are concerned and feeling uncertainty. Others are adapting and taking this as an opportunity to reach out to people in a time of crisis.

"We are having our membership reach out and check in on each other and see what kinds of needs they have. We're trying to stay connected to our members and community so no one gets left behind."

The Rock Church is a member of the Genesee County Community Care Task Force, which was announced Tuesday, March 17 by Sheriff Chris Swanson.

At St. John the Evangelist Catholic Church in Fenton, Operations Manager Shauna Meyers said they received information the morning of Tuesday, March 17 from their diocese about guidelines. Public Masses and activities have been canceled from now until April 8. Private baptisms, marriages and funerals will still take place, but only with immediate family present.

They received dispensation for Sunday Mass, which means they are forgiven for not being in a position to attend Mass, Meyers said.

Many of the smaller Bible studies have been canceled, as well as the fish fries. Confirmations, which were supposed to take place next Thursday, have been postponed. Meyers said they haven't yet received any information about Easter.

St. John is working on livestreaming Mass to the parishioners. It will be the first time the church will livestream a service.

Schools are closed at least until April 8. Meyers said they had a day for parents and students to pick up materials. Teachers have been sending out assignments since last Friday.

"We've been very lucky. Our parishioners have been very understanding. They're obviously concerned about not being able to attend Mass. They've been very gracious with the predicament that everyone is in. We've done our best to communicate any information we receive in a timely manner just to keep them up to date," Meyers said.

As for outreach, St. John is still accepting clients and people seeking help. However, they are not taking walk-ins, only phone calls and emails. Call (810) 629-2251.

Specific information about the Treasury providing tax assistance to small businesses due to COVID-19 can be found in SUW Penalty and Interest Waiver Notice.

"Our small businesses are important drivers of Michigan's economy," State Treasurer Rachael Eubanks said. "This change will provide some help to businesses as they navigate their way through this state and national emergency."

The waiver is not available for accelerated sales, use or withholding tax filers. Businesses with questions should call the Treasury Business Tax Call Center at (517) 636-6925.

Just sayin'...

vhogan@tctimes.com

'It was the best of times, it was the worst of times ...'

Charles Dickens has always been one of my favorite authors. I do believe I had to have been the only sophomore in my high school that actually enjoyed reading "A Tale of Two Cities." In fact, I still own an antique copy today (1935).

Dickens begins: "It was the best of times, it was the worst of times, it was the age of wisdom, it was the age of foolishness, it was the epoch of belief, it was the epoch of incredulity, it was the season of light, it was the season of darkness, it was the spring of hope, it was the winter of despair, we had everything before us, we had nothing before us ..."

Dickens' profound first words, written in March of 1859, have been meaningful to me personally a few times throughout my life, but no more so than they are today, while the world stands still over, of all things, a deadly virus.

It is the best of times because not only do we live in the best country on earth, we have incredible advantages in areas like advanced communication, technology, healthcare, career opportunities, recreation, travel, just to name a few. We take for granted more than our grandparents and ancestors would ever have imagined or believed possible.

It is the worst of times because unlike our grandparents and ancestors, many of us don't really know or appreciate the meaning of simple words like kindness, generosity and sacrifice.

Further, because we live in the greatest country in the world, we enjoy freedom of speech. That's a good thing until we abuse that privilege by disrespecting each other and our leaders through public expressions of hatred and thoughtlessness.

The human race is capable of intense love, caring and compassion, which is evidenced by friends, neighbors and communities stepping up to do what they can during our current crisis. It is also capable of intense hate, abuse, apathy and destruction, which is evidenced by the selfish people, who will do anything to make sure they have what they need without regard for anyone else.

There's good and bad in everything and everyone, and this is undoubtedly a bad time, but as people did throughout history, after countless wars, a great depression, and horrific terrorist attacks like 9/11, we all need to find the good in our circumstances and make positive outcomes happen.

I will be the first to admit that my own act could use some cleaning up when it comes to what I think, say and write. Despite our personal beliefs, I believe we need to try to be better people because there is someone or something else in charge of this universe — and it isn't us.

Bird feeder

Keep an eye on your feathered friends by whipping up this easy feeder. All you have to do is spread peanut butter onto a toilet paper roll, and then dip the tube into birdseed. The seeds will stick to the roll so that you can hang it up porch-side.

Organize your cords

Wrap cords in a toilet paper roll to keep them neat and organized. The rolls also work for documents, scarves and more. You can paint the rolls or add colorful ribbon for a personalized touch.

Seedling pots

Work those green thumbs by using a toilet paper roll as a mini plant pot, perfect for starter herbs and veggies. Wrap each tube in brown packing paper to keep dirt from spilling out the bottom, and secure with a ribbon or string.

Fire starters

Save those extra toilet paper rolls for summer and take them with you when you go camping. Use scissors to cut the rolls into skinny strips for kindling, or stuff them full of newspaper or dryer lint, then tape over the ends for a faux log that will help get your fire burning.

Confetti poppers

Turn your kid's next bash into the party of the year with these confetti poppers crafted out of a tied balloon wrapped and taped over a toilet tissue roll. Pour confetti into the open end, gently pull the end of the balloon ... and POP!

Kitchen knife sheath

Flatten a toilet paper tube and tape one end shut to make a kitchen knife sheath. Keep bugs at bay and keep the sharp knife blade covered when you go camping or have a picnic.

Store wrapping paper

Lots of wrapping paper tubes can become a big mess once you've started to unwrap them. Securely store wrapping paper by using a toilet paper to prevent it from unraveling.

For the time being, area golf courses are open

By David Troppens

With the worldwide spread of the coronavirus (COVID-19) life has dramatically changed for sports enthusiasts.

There isn't much competing going on, even for the weekend warrior.

In recent days Michigan Gov. Gretchen Whitmer has used executive orders to close some businesses including gymnasiums, fitness centers, recreation centers, indoor sports facilities, exercise studios, spas and casinos through March 30. She also limited the size of indoor events to no more than 50 people.

However, apparently the executive orders haven't impacted at least one sport — golf.

Uyl remains hopeful MHSAA seasons could continue

By David Troppens

So what's the possibility there will be prep sports before the end of the 2019-20 school year?

If you ask MHSAA Executive Director Mark Uyl, he's still reasonably hopeful there could still be prep athletic events.

Currently, all MHSAA-sponsored sporting events are suspended until at least April 5. When they were suspended, several winter sports postseasons were yet concluded, including seasons for the Lake Fenton varsity girls basketball team, the Linden varsity boys basketball team, the LFLF varsity gymnastics squad and the Fenton varsity boys swim team. All spring sports teams were brought to a halt during their practice sessions. None of the teams had started their seasons yet.

Linden's varsity boys basketball team celebrates its victory against the Holly Bronchos in the D1 district semifinal. MHSAA Executive Director Mark Uyl is hopeful the winter sports season could be completed after April 5 during a recent radio interview. Photo:

When one looks at what's happening nationally with professional and collegiate sports, it would seem unlikely either the winter season would be finished or the spring season continued, but during a radio appearance on "The Huge Show" Uyl said he remains hopeful.

Some thoughts about sports and others not dealing with sports at all

I FEEL FOR ATHLETES BUT SUSPENSION OF WINTER SPORTS SEASON MADE SENSE

For months I've followed stories about the coronavirus.

However, it wasn't until March 11 at the end of the Holly versus Linden boys basketball district semifinal game at Howell that I truly understood beyond just a few news clips.

Holly and Linden played in what was one of the more memorable boys basketball district games involving tri-county squads in awhile. In fact, in my 17 years at the paper, I can't think of a game that was more entertaining than this boys district game.

Holly was a clear underdog against the top-seeded and Metro League Stripes Division undefeated champion Linden Eagles. Yet, the Bronchos jumped to an early lead Lake Fenton's defense forced 29 turnovers and allowed just 31 points.

Katelyn Siebert (left) had another outstanding game, scoring a game-high 21 points and grabbing five rebounds against Marine City.

Lake Fenton's defense collected 17 steals against Marine City. Aubrey Fray (left) had five of them.

The Blue Devils are scheduled to play Imlay City in the regional title game. However, due to the MHSAA's suspension of sporting activities until April 5, it's unknown if the winter sports season will continue.

and at one time led by 18 points in the second half. Holly led until Linden's Blake Lund hit a free throw with less than a minute left, earning the Eagles the 67-66 victory.

Both teams were still feeling the adrenaline and the emotions of the game near the locker rooms. Heck, I was on an emotional high. But during that high, we had our first indication of what may be coming up. There was talk that future post-season games could end up being played in front of no audiences or they could be suspended all together because of that virus. It was at that time, I started realizing our lives would take course down a 'new normal' for a decent period of time.

Events moved fast from that point. Eventually the rest of the prep winter sports season was suspended and the start of the spring sports season was suspended until at least April 5.

When the dates for the Lake Fenton varsity girls basketball regional championship game and Linden's varsity boys basketball district title game went by one had to think about the emotions that the players were going through, realizing that it's very likely the games they had been waiting to play in for a lifetime may never happen. And for the Fenton varsity boys swim team state qualifiers I probably felt even worse. Swimmers set their training schedules to peak at the state meet, so they can post their best times against the best competition in the state. Yet, when their state meet was suspended, it meant even if by the slim chance the state meet is held after April 5, there won't be a single state swimmer properly trained for the event.

It's a shame this happened. The loss of their chances to accomplish postseason glory will probably always bother the prep athletes it impacted but looking back now, it was obvious calling these games when the MHSAA did made perfect sense. Waiting another day or two really was playing Russian Roulette with those at the events. The health of not only the students, fans and officials attending these events had to be the primary concern. While it may not erase their pain certainly most of the athletes even realize it was the right thing to do.

"Some have said you're giving folks false hope with this approach," Uyl said during the interview. "I don't think we're giving false hope. I don't know where we're going to be in three weeks or six weeks and nine weeks. Frankly, with as much negativity and as anxious as we feel right now, I just want some hope, period. I think that promising nothing beyond what we're going to announce or do in the next three weeks, I think most people understand that."

Uyl said a deadline date when it's too late to continue the winter seasons or return to spring activities does currently exist. Uyl said the MHSAA will continue to listen to what government leaders and medical personnel are saying and will evaluate that situation in three week segments.

"I think it's a pretty prudent plan of let's just take things in three-week segments and let's see what the world looks like on April 6," Uyl said. "If we're still in a shutdown, but a long-term decision hasn't been made, it will be then let's look again at what late April brings and confirmed with Whitmer that golf courses can remain open for the sole purpose of golf this spring, and two area public golf courses are taking full advantage — Fenton Farms and Tyrone Hills.

"We are just typing a letter to tell people the golf course is open," Fenton Farms co-owner and director of golf Christopher White said Wednesday morning. "But unfortunately, the clubhouse is closed. We are adhering to the guidelines given to us by Gretchen Whitmer. Right now, the driving range is open and the golf course is open."

Tyrone Hills has been open through the first days of the 'new normal' ways of life created by the coronavirus outbreak and are pleased to hear they can remain open.

"We never did close because it was so unclear what was going on," Tyrone Hills PGA pro Denis Husse said.

then you move to May and then you keep taking it three weeks at a time. I think most people understand that."

The Lake Fenton varsity girls basketball team saw its season suspended after defeating Marine City 74-31 in a D2 regional semifinal game, and the Linden varsity boys basketball team had its season suspended after beating the Holly Bronchos 67-66 in a D1 district semifinal game. The Fenton varsity boys swim team missed out on competing at the D2 state meet while the LFLF gymnastics team had individual competitors qualify for the individual gymnastics state meet.

One Lake Fenton varsity girls basketball player, senior Katelyn Siebert, still hopes to play the rest of those tournament games.

"I'm still looking forward to playing (our regional championship game)," Siebert said. "We still want to keep on playing."

"My heart just absolutely breaks for these seniors and their families out there right now that have had the end of a winter tournament interrupted and with spring kind of up in the air," Uyl said.

NOTICE ROSE TOWNSHIP

2020 ANNUAL SPRING ROADSIDE CLEAN-UP DAY

Rose Township will hold its annual Roadside Clean-Up for residents and property owners on the following date:

Saturday May 2, 2020
8:00 AM to 4:00 PM

Residents and township organizations are encouraged to participate in the clean-up of the roadsides.

Dumpsters will be located in the Rose Township Park located on the northwest corner of Milford Road and West Rose Center Road. Refuse to be disposed of must be transported to the dumpsters. THERE IS NO ROADSIDE PICK UP. No commercial dumping will be allowed.

Clerk Debbie Miller will be on duty to verify residence and/or property ownership. Fire department personnel will be there to assist with loading materials into the dumpsters. Propane tanks will NOT be accepted. No barrels, gas or fuel oil tanks, stumps, brush or concrete will be accepted. Paint cans must be empty or filled with sand or cat litter. Each household will be permitted four (4) car tires; additional tires will be accepted at a price of $4.00 per tire and $25.00 per tire for tractor or large truck tires.

Burning permits to allow the burning of leaves and brush are available by obtaining a burning permit through www.nocfa.org.

Bags for cleaning roadsides will be available at the Rose Township Offices, 9080 Mason Street, Holly, Michigan beginning March 23, 2020 until April 30, 2020 and also at the clean-up day location on clean-up day.

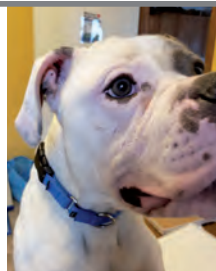

Rose Township's regular daily recycling is located in the rear of the Township Office's parking lot at 9080 Mason Street, Holly, MI.

Residents may call 248-634-8701 with any questions.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE AMENDMENT
- PLANNED UNIT DEVELOPMENT (PUD)
CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF FENTON, GENESEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN

To the residents and property owners of The Charter Township of Fenton, Genesee County, Michigan, and any other interested persons:

As a result of the cancellation of the March 16, 2020 Fenton Township Board meeting due to COVID-19 pandemic precautions, the public hearing outlined below has been rescheduled to April 6, 2020. If the April 6, 2020 Fenton Township Board meeting is also canceled, the public hearing will automatically be rescheduled at the next regular or special Fenton Township Board meeting, without further notice.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that as a result of a recommendation made by the Fenton Township Planning Commission, the Township Board of the Charter Township of Fenton will conduct a public hearing on a proposed amendment to the Fenton Township Zoning Ordinance for the purpose of revising the PUD conditions for previously rezoned property, parcels 06-02-100-002 and 06-02-100-003, owned by Virik Land Development, LLC, and located at 11191 Torrey Road and 11175 Torrey Road in Section 2 of the Charter Township of Fenton. Said revisions include language that would allow the development of the subject property as a self-storage facility, with outdoor/vehicle storage.

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that the legal description of the subject property is as follows:

06-02-100-002

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that the Township Board has tentatively scheduled the first reading of the proposed amendatory ordinance to be conducted concurrently with the public hearing.

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that the proposed amendatory ordinance may be examined at the office of the Township Clerk from the date of this Notice until and including the date of the public hearing hereon and may further be examined at such public hearing.

PLEASE TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that the public hearing for the proposed Zoning Ordinance amendment will be held at the Fenton Township Civic Community Center at 12060 Mantawauka Drive, Fenton, Michigan within the Township commencing at 7:30 p.m. on Monday April 6, 2020.

At such hearing, the board will consider any written comments regarding the proposed Zoning Ordinance amendment that might be filed with said board at or prior to the time of said hearing. All interested persons are also invited to be present at the aforesaid time and place and to submit verbal comments concerning any of the foregoing.

How to choose the right dog collar

New pet parents quickly learn just how many supplies they need to raise happy, healthy animals. Collars and leashes are two essential items dog owners will need. No matter how well-trained a pooch may be, collars and leashes are oftentimes necessary, especially when taking dogs to public places.

In addition to helping keep pets close, collars are a great place to hang identification tags, increasing the likelihood that dogs will be safely returned if they dash off.

There are various types of collars, each offering unique attributes. Choosing a collar involves investigating the key functions collars can serve, and assessing the pros and cons of each.

Flat collar

A flat collar is the standard collar used by many dog owners. Flat collars are typically made from nylon, fabric or leather, and many come with plastic or metal quick-release tabs. Some may have buckles similar to a belt.

Flat collars are useful for many dogs. However, some pet parents find dogs are more apt to pull when wearing flat collars, choking themselves in the process. A properly fit collar shouldn't slide off and should be gentle on the dog's neck.

Martingale collar

Also known as limited slip collars or greyhound collars, according to the consumer information site The Spruce: Pets, martingale collars are designed primarily for dogs with narrow necks and heads. The martingale will tighten (only to the size of the dog's neck when properly adjusted) when the dog pulls, so he can't be a collar Houdini. Some people worry that the collar will squeeze too tightly, but proper sizing can prevent that.

Head collar

A head collar is reminiscent of a horse's halter, as it slips over the dog's snout and attaches behind the ears. The purpose of head collars is to redirect a dog's attention so pulling is minimal. Some dog's do not like the feeling of a collar on their faces and may resist.

Prong collars

Sometimes called pinch collars, prong collars are controversial. Prong collars are made of various links that can be expanded or shortened by "pinching" the links and removing or adding links.

When the dog puts tension on the leash, the prongs will add pressure to the neck to help correct pulling, offers the Canine Journal, a pet care resource. Many trainers advise that prong collars should be used only as a training tool and not for extended periods of time as the primary collar. Also, the Humane Society emphasizes that prong collars must be properly fitted with the size of the prong links appropriate for the size of the dog, and it must sit high on the dog's neck. A chain collar works similarly as a pinch collar, in that it also tightens when tension is applied.

Harness

Some pet owners like a harness, which puts the pressure on the dog's chest and back instead of its neck. Harnesses come with back clips or front clip attachments to offer control where owners want it.

A knowledgeable pet store employee or a dog trainer can help guide new pet parents in regard to which type of collar may be most appropriate for their dogs.

Clifford Wayne Green
1941-2020

Clifford Wayne Green, an Air Force Veteran, retired FAA Electronics Technician, and non-federal facilities contract coordinator, passed away peacefully surrounded by family on Sunday, March 15, 2020 at the age of 78. Cliff is survived by his wife of 36 years, Shirley Green; their children, Deann (husband Hector), Roberta (husband Fredy), Veronica (husband Eric), Charles (wife Tammy), Jeffrey (wife Nathalie), Michelle (husband Austin), Michael (fiancée Niki) and niece, Helen. He also is a proud grandfather of 27 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren. He also has "adopted" many children and grandchildren along the way. Cliff was born in Ortonville to Burton and Clara (nee Hickey) Green, and graduated from Brandon High School, class of 1959. Cliff served honorably for 22 years in the military then moved on to become a dedicated employee for the Federal Aviation Administration, retiring in 2006. He also served as a union representative for Professional Airways Systems Specialists. Cliff's family, friends, and peers described him as someone who was dependable, appreciated and respected by all. Cliff enjoyed attending family events, golfing with friends, and supporting his churches. He sang in the Dixie, Heritage, Cornerstone, and Emmanuel Baptist Churches. He taught Sunday school, drove for the Dixie Baptist Bus Ministry, and was a trustee for Heritage Baptist Church. One of his favorite activities was attending family and friends' events such as concerts, sporting activities, and celebrations. He enjoyed traveling the country, visiting military museums and retired naval ships. He was also an avid bowler with a PBA certified 300 game in league bowling and season ticket holder for the Flint Symphony Orchestra. Cliff had the gift of "helps." He devoted resources, compassion and time to those in need, and throughout Cliff's life he had a history of completing anonymous, selfless acts. He gave back to his community through his churches, volunteer tutoring math for elementary students, serving as the Band Booster President, and always being a reliable husband, father, grandfather and friend. Cliff's children often say he was "born to be a DAD!" Cliff's grandchildren will remind you that there was never an activity that he didn't attend, and once you were on his schedule nothing could change it. His service was held 11 AM Wednesday, March 18, 2020 at Sharp Funeral Homes, Fenton Chapel, 1000 Silver Lake Rd., Fenton. Burial followed in Great Lakes National Cemetery. Visitation was held 3 - 8 PM Tuesday, March 17, 2020. Cliff would appreciate donations to Heritage Baptist Missionary Fund in Clifford Green's honor, 402 N. East St., Fenton, MI 48430. Tributes may be shared at www.sharpfuneralhomes.com.

Guess Who?

I am an actor born in Germany on April 2, 1977. My parents relocated to the Republic of Ireland when I was two to open a restaurant. I eventually found my way into acting, and audiences were first introduced to me in "Band of Brothers." I've

Venetian Pears

Serves 10

INGREDIENTS:

- 10 firm Bartlett pears, peeled, halved, and cored, keeping the stem intact on one half
- 6 cups full-bodied red wine
- 1 tablespoon whole black peppercorns
- 2 2/3 cups sugar, divided
- 6 cups full-bodied white wine
- 1 vanilla bean
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, stiffly whipped

While they might not be a food one traditionally associates with winter, pears are versatile and can be utilized in various recipes, particularly those that will be served when the dessert bell rings. Pears come in many different varieties. However, when preparing this recipe for "Venetian Pears" from "Serena Food & Stories: Feeding Friends Every Hour of the Day" (Stewart, Tabori & Chang) by Serena Bass, Bartlett pears are ideal. Look for pears with a stubby rather than pointy top and the stalks left on.

DIRECTIONS:

1. Cut a level 1/2 inch slice off the base of each pear so it will stand up straight. Choose two saucepans - one for the red wine and one for the white - both big enough to hold 10 pear halves. Add the red wine, the peppercorns (see note), half the sugar, and 1 1/2 cups water to one pan; add the white wine, vanilla bean, the remaining sugar, and 1 1/2 cups water to the other pan. Bring each pan to a slow boil and reduce the liquid for 5 minutes. Add the pears, making sure you have five of the ones with stems in the red wine and five with stems in the white. Cover and simmer 30 to 40 minutes, depending on the ripeness of the pears. When a toothpick enters without too much resistance, remove from the heat and set aside to cool. Refrigerate overnight.
2. When you come to arrange the pears on a platter, take 1 red pear half with a stalk and 1 white half without a stalk, and then vice versa; sandwich them together carefully with a tablespoon of the whipped cream.

Note: Don't worry about the peppercorns. Just let them rattle around in the pan and pick off any stuck to the pears after cooking.

CHEVY CARES. WE'RE HERE AND READY TO HELP.

SHOP ONLINE. DELIVER TO YOUR HOME.

If you're in need of a new vehicle but don't want to visit our dealership, we offer the ability to shop and order online, and have your vehicle delivered to your home. It's just another way we're doing our part to flatten the curve.

Customer & employee safety is #1

During this frustrating time, it's important to keep in mind the fluidity of the situation, and to always react in the most positive light possible. Here at Vic Canever, we're re-thinking our customer approach so that we're providing the best customer service. We ask that if you are not feeling well, or have been quarantined, to not visit the dealership. All customers are welcome to take advantage of our online, call and text programs.

We have made some changes to our dealership hours. We will be closed on Saturdays, until further notice and at 6PM on Thursday nights to assist to flatten the curve of this overall pandemic and give employees more time to alleviate strain with children at home and other pressing issues.

REDUCING OUR HOURS WILL ALLOW US TO DO THE FOLLOWING:

- Alleviate strain on our workforce; many of our employees have families and children with laid off parents at home and could use some relief. We want our employees to be rested, calm, and at the top of their game
- Limit exposure between customers and employees. Even one day can make a difference, reducing contact between possibly 50 people or more.
- This will allow us to stagger shifts, as has been recommended to reduce exposure chances and help flatten the curve. As a result, we hope to keep our employees healthy and able keep serving our customers

SALES DEPARTMENT

Inside our New and Used Sales Departments, we provide both plastic gloves and sanitary wipes at the front desk for initial contact between our salesmen/women and you, our valued customer. In addition, hand sanitizer has been placed in each office throughout all buildings. Surfaces are wiped down and sanitized several times daily, and we are encouraging social distancing between all persons on our property. Prior to each test drive, vehicles are thoroughly wiped down, with extra attention on those main touch-points of steering wheel, console and door handles. We've also adjusted our hours to tighten down times the public can visit the dealership, thus shortening opportunity for exposure.

Car Buying Easy 3-Step Approach

1. Visit Canever.com and view our entire New and Used inventory online.
2. Call (810) 629-3350, go to Canever.com or texting is available on our mobile and desktop site. Also, schedule an at-home test drive where we bring the vehicle(s) of interest directly to you.
3. We will deliver the vehicle and paperwork to you to complete the car-buying experience.

AUTO SERVICE, PARTS & BODY SHOP

In our Service Department, not only are we providing all the above safety measures, we're also taking extra precautions while inside each vehicle we service. Steering wheel covers, seat covers and floor mats are being installed prior to any service taking place. At this time, in order to cut down on public shared spaces, we have stopped our shuttle service. Here at the Vic Canever Service and Body Shops, we have added additional service personnel, so vehicle turn-around is quicker. We also have our early bird drop off center outside of the service entrance that can be used 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

As always, it is encouraged that Service Department appointments be made on your mobile device or desktop or by calling (810) 629-3350.

During these difficult times, we know that reliable transportation is vital, and we will press on, taking as many precautions as we can, while continuing to serve you. Again, we want to thank you for the 50+ years of allowing us to be YOUR local dealership. At Vic Canever Chevrolet, we're here to help you anyway we can, and will continue to work together with you through this ever-changing climate. Stay safe and healthy!
