A Fenton resident has one of the largest University of Michigan memorabilia collections in the country.

From helmets, to jerseys, to Rose Bowl rings, Kenn Domerese's basement is filled with U-M items. On the stairs heading down is a replica of the front gate to Ferry Field, which was Michigan's playing field for years.

"All this stuff is crazy," he said. "Michigan collectors go, 'How the devil did you get this stuff?"

Domerese has been collecting for about 25 years. He doesn't know exactly how many items he has, but it's in the hundreds, and it's the fourth or fifth largest U-M collection in the country.

A message from the director

Grateful for staff, parents for students' success

t's hard to believe that Friday the 30th. is the end of Holly Academy's first marking period. While we have certainly had challenges and a huge learning curve, our school family is healthy and our students are engaged and learning. We are especially proud that we have offered full time in-person learning since August 31 for our Huskies and our virtual Huskies have adjusted to their new learning environment. As I write this column, I am participating in a math "data drop" for our middle school students. After each testing cycle, grade level teachers, interventionists, special education teachers, and administrators meet to analyze each student's performance on standardized assessments, in-class work, and work completion. Through this quarterly process, Holly Academy can individualize a learning path for each student. That path may be an accelerated path, the traditional path,

Julie Kildee Holly Academy director

a tiered path where the student is supported in the classroom by an interventionist, or a special education path where the student receives support through special education services. A benefit of data drops is that all staff members that work with students have a complete understanding of the individual needs of each student. This model is especially important as we work to close learning gaps that occurred due to the spring closing.

We are so grateful to our staff and parents for working tirelessly to support students in this challenging year.

The "Power of the Pack" at Holly Academy is amazing!

'No One Has Time for Flu'

 American Medical Association and Centers for Diseases Control and Prevention recommend flu vaccine

Compiled By Sharon Stone

Amid the backdrop of the COVID-19 pandemic, with hospitals and health care workers already overburdened, medical experts say it's more important than ever to slow the spread of the flu.

In a typical year, the flu causes tens of millions of illnesses, hundreds of thousands of hospitalizations, and tens of thousands of deaths in the U.S.

That is why the Ad Council, the American Medical Association (AMA), the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the CDC Foundation have launched a new campaign, "No One Has Time for Flu." As part of the campaign, Dr. Susan R. Bailey, M.D., president of the AMA, is sharing important insights about flu vaccination:

Flu vaccines are safe

The flu vaccine is a safe, effective step that physicians and public health experts recommend to protect patients and their loved ones from getting sick with influenza. This year, doctor's offices and pharmacies are taking steps to ensure vaccines can be provided safely during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The CDC recommends that each year everyone 6 months and older (with rare exceptions) get a flu vaccine early in the season, preferably by the end of October, before flu is spreading widely.

Getting one is important this year

Because you can get flu and COVID-19 at the same time, it's especially important for people with underlying health conditions that put them at higher risk of serious complications — and their caregivers — to get their flu shot. At the community level, the potential impact of a bad flu season during the COVID-19 pandemic could be devastating. Getting a flu shot will help keep others healthy and help make sure health care workers and hospitals have the resources to continue to treat COVID-19 patients.

Flu protection is especially urgent for people of color

Due to longstanding health care inequities, Black and Latinx/Hispanic people are disproportionately affected by underlying conditions which can cause both COVID-19 and flu complications. This results in much greater rates of flurelated hospitalizations. Indeed, a new CDC analysis of 10 flu seasons showed that Black people were hospitalized at a rate twice as high as White people.

Black and LatinX/Hispanic communities are also less likely to get vaccinated due to a range of barriers. CDC data shows that in the 2019-20 flu season, Latinx/Hispanic adults had the lowest flu vaccination coverage (38.3 percent), with non-Hispanic Black adults next lowest (41.2 percent).

Getting vaccinated is easy

Vaccines are often free or offered at very low cost. To learn more about safe, affordable flu vaccination, including where to get one in your area, visit GetMyFluShot.org. You can also view a short video on flu vaccination by visiting, YouTube.com and searching "No Time For Flu."

"No one has time to get sick from flu — especially this year," Bailey said. "Getting a flu shot is one thing we all can do to help protect ourselves, our families and our communities."

■ Healthy donors needed to maintain blood supply

Bv Sharon Stone

The American Red Cross is urging healthy donors of all blood types to give blood or platelets to ensure a strong blood supply for patients as the U.S. braces for flu season while in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Flu shot doesn't affect blood donation eligibility

Medical experts are urging people to get the flu shot to avoid a flu epidemic on top of the current COVID-19 pandemic. Because blood can only be given by those who are feeling well, a severe flu season could create additional challenges to maintaining a sufficient blood supply for hospital patients in need.

The American Red Cross is advising people to get the flu vaccine this year to help protect the nation from the virus but also to ensure that patients continue to have access to lifesaving blood products. There is no waiting period to give blood or platelets after receiving a flu shot as long as the donor is symptomfree and fever-free. There is no risk of transmitting the influenza virus after receiving a flu vaccination.

For those who have the flu, it is important to wait until they no longer exhibit flu symptoms, have recovered completely and feel well before attempting to donate. Donors must feel healthy and well on the day of donation.

Stay healthy this flu season and make an appointment to donate blood by downloading the Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting RedCrossBlood. org, calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767) or enabling the Blood Donor Skill on any Alexa Echo device.

In thanks for making time to donate, the Red Cross will send those who come to give Oct. 15 to Nov. 11 a $5 Amazon.com Gift Card via email, courtesy of Suburban Propane. Plus, those who come to give in October are automatically entered for a chance to win a $1,000 Amazon.com Gift Card. Five lucky people will win. (Restrictions apply. Additional information and details are available at RedCross-Blood.org/Unite.)

Important COVID-19 information for donors

The Red Cross is testing blood, platelet and plasma donations for COVID-19 antibodies. The test may indicate if the donor's immune system has produced antibodies to this coronavirus, regardless of whether an individual developed COVID-19 symptoms. Red Cross antibody tests will be helpful to identify individuals who have COVID-19 antibodies and may now help current coronavirus patients in need of convalescent plasma transfusions. Convalescent plasma is a type of blood donation collected from COVID-19

survivors that have antibodies that may help patients who are actively fighting the virus

COVID-19 antibody test results will be available within one to two weeks in the Red Cross Blood Donor App or donor portal at RedCrossBlood.org.

A positive antibody test result does not confirm infection or immunity. The Red Cross is not testing donors to diagnose illness, referred to as a diagnostic test. To protect the health and safety of Red Cross staff and donors, it is important that individuals who do not feel well or believe they may be ill with COVID-19 postpone donation.

Each Red Cross blood drive and donation center follows the highest standards of safety and infection control, and additional precautions, including temperature checks, social distancing and face coverings for donors and staff, have been implemented to help protect the health of all those in attendance.

A Holly High School graduate might be in San Antonio, Texas, to train for the Air Force, but his name is on display for all to see on a tree in front of Holly Elementary.

Nicholas Michels' name and ribbon was put on the tree Oct. 16, and it will remain on the tree until he returns home from service, as part of the "Hometown Support for all on Active Duty" program. The program was started by James and Ina Golden last year. The goal is to raise awareness and support for Holly residents and graduates who are actively serving.

Michels left for basic military training last week, and after he graduates in December, he'll attend school in Wichita Falls, Texas, to learn about aircraft, weapon systems and avionics.

"We're so very proud," said Amy Wright, his mother. "I was a police country."

Michels graduated from Holly High School 2017. Wright said he was known at Holly as Nick "Romeo" Michels in football, wrestling and track.

■ Dort Financial Credit Union a proud presenting sponsor of 'Let's Make Miracles' radiothon

Hurley Children's Hospital, a Children's Miracle Network Hospital, announced that its first annual "Let's Make Miracles" Radiothon raised a total of $94,915. The hospital partnered with CARS 108, Club 93.7, Banana 101.5, US 103.1 and 1470 WFNT for the two-day event. Due to COVID-19, the Radiothon was broadcast directly from the studios of Townsquare Media in Burton on Oct. 8 and 9 rather than from Hurley Children's Hospital.

"Dort Financial Credit Union is thrilled to be the presenting sponsor of this amazing event. Townsquare Media listeners and community members who donated through the radiothon inspire us all. Kids are incredibly different in the treatment and care they need and providing that care wouldn't be possible without the support of our community," said Laura Nestor, director of marketing at Dort Financial Credit Union.

HAZARD PAY

Oct. 19 meeting, which took place via conference call.

Clerk Robert Krug suggested the idea in this letter to the board:

"Fenton Township recently applied for grant funding from the Center for Tech and Civic Life (CTCL), an organization that has allocated $250 million for election related expenses resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic. The Township has been advised that our application has been approved and Fenton Township has been awarded a grant of $5,000.

"With that in mind, I would like to recommend that the Township Board approve a hazard pay premium for Fenton Township election workers for the upcoming election. Even with all of the safety measures in place, I believe election workers spending 15-16 hours at the polls or even longer in absent voter counting boards constitutes 'being on the front lines' of the pandemic.

"My recommendation is to increase election worker pay by $50.00. Election Inspectors, Help Desk and support workers would receive $200 and precinct chairpersons would be paid $250. The increase would apply only to the November 3, 2020 General Election. The total cost increase would be approximately $2,500, or about half of the grant amount."

After the board discussed the suggestion and the grant, they decided to increase Krug's original suggestion from $50 to $100. Krug said he suggested the $50 in case other expenses came up, but he wasn't opposed to increasing the pay to an extra $100.

Thomas Broecker, operations manager/deputy clerk, said they would have to use this grant money this year or else they would lose it, and it has to be spent on COVID-related expenses.

He has multiple pieces relating to Fielding Yost, one of U-M's most legendary coaches who led the Wolverines to six national championships. Domerese has an old pocket camera that Yost previously owned.

"I actually got it from a guy in London, England and he got it from a flea market in Scotland. So it circled back to Michigan," he said. Another piece is a large steering wheel for a sailboat that Henry Ford had made for Yost's birthday.

Domerse's goal is to collect something from every year from the early 1890s to around 1965.

"I have about 90 percent of the years covered," he said. He tries to figure out the history of each item.

Domerese is included in the Michigan Football Memorabilia Guide book.

"The top 25 biggest collections are in here. (The guide) is every piece of memorabilia that's been able to be found," he said.

He's also been featured on TV on the BigTen Treasure Hunters.

Kenn Domerese

Fenton resident

Domerese owns 40 or 50 items dated before 1930. His basement contains Wolverine smoker cups, winged helmets dating back to late 1930s, sheet music from 1901, a U-M yearbook from 1898 and more.

One piece is a replica of the Little Brown Jug, which is the first and oldest trophies from the Michigan-Minnesota collegiate rivalry in 1903. The score was 6-6, and Minnesota's score is a larger font than Michigan's. The replica has all the little imperfections like the original.

Domerese owns multiple items relating to wide receiver Anthony Carter, including a Rose Bowl ring, a signed helmet, and a signed varsity jacket.

One of the largest items in his collection is a framed box of a pillow sham with the names of the star Wolverine players during 1901 when Fielding Yost was coach.

"No one's ever seen another one," he said.

Underneath the pillow sham is a chart showing the results of the 1901 season. In 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1904, Michigan won the National Championship. In the '01 season, the team outscored their opponents 550 to 0. This was before the ball would change hands after the opposing team won a touchdown.

Another rare item is a wood walking stick with a silver football on top.

"It's crazy rare. Starting about 1890s up until about 1920, you know how seniors get the yearbook and they all sign their yearbook? Well, they'd have a senior weekend with the professors and seniors, and they would get canes and they would carve their names on them and so forth," he said.

Domerese's love for U-M started when he was in high school.

"I just got hooked on the winged helmet in Michigan and I was able to collect stuff," he said. "It's one of the most historic (collections). A lot of guys, they do all the programs ... but I'm not a big program guy. I went to the memorabilia side of it. It's just like an addiction, I guess. It's just the fun of trying to find it, get it and put it in your collection. If it's something you want in your collection, you go after it."

Domerese is a veteran coach of 48 years. He now coaches track and cross country at Carman Ainsworth. He moved to Fenton last year to be close to his family. His daughters live in the same subdivision, and Domerese and his wife have seven grandchildren under the age of 13.

Linden girl helps sick children

■ Earns $300 to donate to C.S. Mott Children's Hospital

By Sharon Stone

Macy Common is a 9-year-old student at Linden Community Schools. She approached her parents during quarantine and wanted to do something to help the kids who were sick at C.S. Mott Children's Hospital.

Knowing visiting was limited, her parents felt that raising money for Mott was the best way she could help.

Macy set a goal of $250 and got to work. She did chores for her family, saved some of her birthday gifts and even sold some bracelets she made. She ended up raising $300 and recently, with the help of her parents, wrote a check to C.S. Mott Children's Hospital.

She was happy to know that her gift will be matched dollar for dollar during the CHAMPS For Mott virtual fundraiser next week.

Macy has always had a giving heart. Two years ago, Michigan Medicine was opening a new surgery center in Brighton. Her mom, Angie Common, is the nursing supervisor there. Angie was able to track down the original Big Bird from Mott in Northern Michigan. When Angie showed her family what she found, Macy asked if she could purchase it for the kids who are having surgery. A few months later, Big Bird had a fresh coat of paint and is now a staple in the waiting room at the Michigan Medicine Brighton Center for Specialty Care.

Macy's parents, Chris and Angie Common, are both registered nurses and speak openly with Macy and her sister, Hadley, about the challenges that children face when hospitalized.

Macy has always had a desire to help others and she was so excited to reach her first goal.

"We think this is only the beginning of what she will be able to accomplish to make a positive difference in a child's life. We are so proud of her," Angie said.

Macy will be a part of the CHAMPS For Mott virtual program next Tuesday, Oct. 27 at 7 p.m. EDT. To register for the free virtual event and to bid on some great auction items go to champsformott.org.

Avoiding some states like the 'plague' this winter — literally

Michigan snowbirds may choose to winter elsewhere this year

Compiled By Vera Hogan

Gone are the days when Grandma and Grandpa pack their stuff and head to Florida for the winter — at least for this year.

Snowbirds have been paying close attention to where the COVID-19 hot spots are, and where they are improving or getting worse (Florida is currently a hot spot, experiencing 18,500 to 28,000 cases per day). But rather than cancel their plans to find a warmer climate this winter, some may be looking for other safe destinations.

If you're one of them who wish to avoid Michigan winters — and coronavirus hot spots this season — the following are some other places to consider:

Hormone replacement therapy and menopause

Menopause is a natural occurrence that takes place in a woman's life around the age of 50. Menopause is marked by bodily changes that represent the end of a woman's ability to bear children.

Like puberty, menstrual periods and pregnancy, menopause involves fluctuations in hormones, notably estrogen and progesterone. These fluctuations can cause symptoms that may make women uncomfortable, such as hot flashes, vaginal dryness, mood swings, and difficulty sleeping. As a result, many women discuss options that can make them feel more comfortable. Hormone replacement therapy may be a consideration.

What is hormone replacement therapy?

Estrogen levels fall during menopause. The online medical resource WebMD says that hormone replacement therapy, or HRT, involves taking small doses of estrogen alone or estrogen combined with progestin, the synthetic form of progesterone. Women who have undergone a hysterectomy or the surgical removal of their ovaries may only take estrogen, while a woman who still has her uterus typically takes the combination HRT. Many women find that HRT can relieve most of the troubling symptoms of menopause and help them feel more comfortable.

In addition, HRT has been proven to prevent bone loss and reduce fracture in postmenopausal women, according to the Mayo Clinic.

the building, they're asked a series of questions and they have their temperature taken.

Loose Executive Director Carl Gabrielson said some of their instructors were worried no one would return to their classes. However, people are eager to come back and classes are often full. The center has 11 classes a week — five yoga classes, two line dancing, arthritis exercises, Tai Chi, Zumba and another fitness class. They're working on bringing a meditation class for seniors.

"We're now able to get them here and get them moving. Even with social distancing, they're able to say 'hi' to their friends and have some social interaction," said Jaclyn von Linsowe, program director.

With current state restrictions, they can allow 20 people per 1,000-squarefoot room. They clean the gym every day. Gabrielson said Loose is operating at about 45 percent of the level compared to before the pandemic, which he said is "pretty good." He had concerns the center would have to close. However, activities like cards, wood carving, and knitting won't be able to operate for a while.

Every day from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Loose puts out boxes of books and puzzles that people can take, and those are very popular.

Loose's one constant program throughout the pandemic has been the lunch program, which is cooked and run by clerk Cheryl Rex. For $4 a meal, people can buy lunch from the center by calling ahead and driving up. Rex said 20 to 30 people buy lunch per day.

More people get take out lunch compared to the number of people who would come to the center for lunch before the pandemic. Every month, they plan a special meal. The latest was a rib dinner. They'll have a turkey dinner in November. Gabrielson said they often sell out of these meals.

"Those are a fun way for us to do an event without having an event," von Linsowe said. "A lot of it too, is they get to see our faces. They might not come inside, but they get to say hi. It gives them something to do every day."

The center is still helping people connect with Medicare enrollment counselors who help the seniors with enrollment even if they can't meet inside the building, like they would pre-COVID.

"We're still providing the services that we always did, it just might look a little different," von Linsowe said. They're also still running the loan closet, where people can come get medical equipment, like a walker, if they can't get it through insurance.

"If a senior needs help, they need to call here. We may not have the answer, but we can help them," Gabrielson said.

Loose Center had to declare that they had essential services to remain open. The lunch program, the activities, and the Medicare program are considered essential. Everything is being run by five employees.

"What we do here isn't only fun, it's a necessity," Gabrielson said. "The five of us agreed that we would do whatever it takes to get the job done. We multitask. One of the submiracles ... is we're still open. I'm very proud of our programming, I'm very proud of our instructors."

He said they had to "reinvent" who they were because they couldn't run their programs for a while.

The Loose Center budget is approximately $386,000 a year, Gabrielson said. Genesee County and Southern Lakes Park and Recreation account for approximately $245,000 of that, and the center makes up the rest with fundraisers, bus trips and more. They currently don't have a way of creating revenue.

Brittany Hancock, executive assistant, said, "We're doing okay."

A rundown of lung cancer screening

Lung cancer is a formidable and often deadly disease. According to the World Health Organization, lung cancer is the most common cause of cancer deaths across the globe, annually claiming the lives of more than 1.75 million people.

Certain lifestyle choices can greatly reduce a person's risk for lung cancer. For example, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) notes that cigarette smoking is the number one risk factor for lung cancer, linked to about 80 to 90 percent of lung cancer deaths in the United States. People who choose not to smoke cigarettes or smokers who decide to quit can greatly reduce their risk for lung cancer.

Lung cancer screening is another choice people can make to reduce their risk of dying from lung cancer. Understanding screening, including what it involves, who should be screened and what its risks are, can help anyone concerned about lung cancer make the most informed decision possible.

What is lung cancer screening?

The Foundation for Lung Cancer notes that lung cancer screening involves testing with a low-dose computed tomography, which is sometimes referred to as low-dose CT or LDCT. This test is the only lung cancer screening test recommended by the CDC.

During the test, patients lie on a table and an X-ray machine uses a low dose of radiation to make detailed images of the lungs. The screening takes just a few minutes and is not invasive or painful.

Who should be screened?

According to the U.S. Preventive Services Task Force, people who meet certain criteria should be screened with LDCT every year. Those criteria include:

- People between the ages of 55 and 80
 People who are current smokers or
- People who are current smokers or have quit within the past 15 years
- People who have a history of heavy smoking

The Foundation for Lung Cancer notes that the formula for calculating a 30-pack year history can help people determine if they have histories of heavy smoking. That formula takes the number of packs smoked per day multiplied by the number of years smoking. So someone who has smoked one pack a day for 30 years has a 30-pack year history, while someone who has smoked two packs a day for 15 years has a 30-pack year history as well. Each person would be considered a heavy smoker.

Are there risks associated with lung cancer screening?

The CDC notes that there are at least three risks associated with lung cancer screening:

- False-positive result: Lung cancer screenings sometimes indicate a person has lung cancer even when there is no cancer present. This false-positive result can trigger follow-up tests and surgeries that are unnecessary and potentially risky.
- Overdiagnosis: Lung cancer screening tests sometimes find cases of cancer that may never have caused problems for the patient. Known as overdiagnosis, this situation can lead to treatment that is unnecessary.

• Cancer risk: The radiation from repeated lung cancer screenings can cause cancer in otherwise healthy people.

Lung cancer screenings can detect lung cancer at its most treatable stage. Individuals, especially those with a history of smoking, should discuss such screenings with their physicians.

If YOU are suffering from Neuropathy, the feeling of Pain & Numbness in your Hands and or Feet, then we have some good news for you!

Though commonly prescribed Drugs. Surgeries and Injections are failing, there is now new hope for you and anyone suffering with this life altering condition.

Neuropathy is a term used to describe the break down and damage to the nerves in the hand's and feet, that continues through the legs and arms at times due to a lack of blood supply, nutrients and oxygen reaching the nerves. It can be due to Diabetes, Peripheral Vascular Disease, poor nutrition, Chemotherapy, Agent Orange, misaligned spinal bones placing vast amounts of pressure on the nerves and so on.

"Patients experience a multitude of symptoms such as extreme sensitivity, loss of feeling or even no feeling in their hands and/or feet along with muscle spasms, pain, weakness, numbness, tingling and burning sensations and have a very hard time with balance," says Dr. James Ide, clinic director at Painless Chiropractic & Neuropathy Treatment Center.

This condition can eventually lead to further nerve damage causing complete loss of legs and/or arms leading to amputation, death or brain injury due to falls, burns or other injury failure in some cases.

Choices for long-term care

Being able to care for oneself independently can be a source of pride. However, illness or age can affect people in ways that require them to seek assistance with medical needs or daily activities for an extended period of time. In such instances, long-term care services can fill a need.

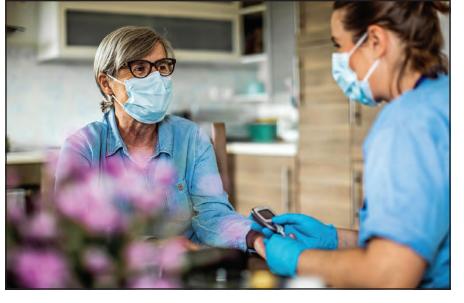

Long-term care assists people in their homes, in the community or in various types of facilities with various daily and medical requirements. According to WebMD, research shows that many people are unaware of long-term care options or may be misinformed about what's out there.

Home care

Various services can be utilized in the comfort of home. According to the Knoxville-Knox County Community Action Committee Office on Aging, services can include home-delivered meals, pest control, minor home modifications, or visiting nurses and health aides. Other benefits may include shopping or physical therapy.

Community care

Community services can include adult day care centers, meal programs, senior centers, community transportation, and others. Community services enable people to continue to live in the community with some support. They also may help family or friends serving as caregivers enjoy a break from the assistance they have been providing.

Care facilities

Long-term care may be mistaken as strictly nursing homes, but facilities extend to places that provide other services. Here's a look at the care facilities.

• Independent senior living: Independent living facilities may provide assistance only when needed. Amenities are designed to make things easier and more convenient for residents. Fitness centers, pools, dining venues, and transportation may be included. These facilities tend to provide the most independent form of senior living. Some independent living facilities are part of larger continuing care retirement communities that have staged care that goes from independent to skilled nursing.

• Assisted living: These homes provide 24-hour supervision, meals, healthcare services, and other forms of assistance in a home-like setting. Types of services include laundry, housekeeping, medication dispersal, and dressing.

• Skilled nursing homes: Nursing homes provide care for those who cannot care for themselves at home or in the community. These facilities offer many services all under one roof, like rehabilitative services, meals, activities, and around-the-clock care. Some skilled nursing homes offer temporary care after an injury or illness and are used in lieu of an extended hospital stay.

It is never too early to begin planning for elder care that may include long-term care possibilities. Individuals are urged to work with an elder care lawyer to help navigate the complexities of planning for medical care and their potential financial needs.

Types of products

There are different types of HRT. HRT may involve taking a pill or applying a patch, gelor vaginal cream. HRT also may include a slow-releasing suppository or a vaginal ring. The delivery method will depend on the symptoms to minimize the amount of medication taken.

Risks of HRT

While there are many benefits to HRT, there are some risks associated with the therapy. These risks depend on the dose, the length of time taking HRT and individual health risks.

The Mayo Clinic says that, in the largest clinical trial to date, HRT that consisted of an estrogen-progestin pill increased the risk of certain serious conditions, such as heart disease, stroke, blood clots, and breast cancer. Women who begin at age 60 or older or more than 10 years from the onset of menopause are at greater risk of the these conditions. If HRT is started before the age of 60 or within 10 years of menopause, the benefits appear to outweigh the risks.

In addition, unless the uterus has been removed, doctors typically prescribe estrogen taken with progesterone because estrogen alone can stimulate the growth of the lining of the uterus, increasing the risk of endometrial cancer.

The American Cancer Society says that estrogen-progestin therapy also is linked to a higher risk of breast cancer the longer the therapy is used.

Minimizing risk

Doctors can work with their patients to minimize the risk of developing adverse affects from HRT. Tactics include finding the best product and delivery method, seeking regular follow-up care, making healthy lifestyle choices to reduce other health conditions, and taking the lowest effective dose for the shortest amount of time needed.

Hormone replacement therapy may be an option to help manage the symptoms of menopause. Women can discuss the pros and cons of HRT with their doctors.

Alabama

Alabama is a surprising favorite for snowbirds looking to escape the winter chill. With mild weather and white sand beaches covering over 30 miles of shoreline, Alabama's Gulf Coast offers plenty of options.

Because they're less crowded than some other coastal areas, Alabama's beach towns are relatively affordable, as far as housing goes. Choices range from luxury condo rentals to RV parks.

Mississippi

Mississippi's Gulf Coast draws tourists for its numerous beaches, mild winters, and lively waterfront towns. But snowbirds love the Magnolia State for another reason, one that may surprise those who have never been there: This region is home to over a dozen casinos — and the spas, restaurants, shops, and live entertainment that accompany them. Along Mississippi's 62 miles of shoreline, there are many historic sites and museums to visit and natural areas to explore.

North Carolina

Many snowbirds choose to stop in North Carolina's Outer Banks region. Coastal temperatures average in the low 50s, and it can get windy. But snow is uncommon, and the warmth of spring arrives far earlier than it does above the Mason-Dixon line.

The Outer Banks, a string of barrier islands that stretch along much of the North Carolina coast, offer beautiful scenery dotted with small historic communities like Kitty Hawk, Rodanthe and Hatteras.

North Carolina also boasts some of the country's premier golf courses and resorts.

New Mexico

Southern New Mexico's smaller towns attract retirees seeking otherworldly landscapes and rich culture. The weather is warmer, with dry desert air and winter highs in the mid-50s and 60s, and affordable rentals and RV parks are plentiful.

Although the weather is slightly cooler, some northern New Mexico towns have snowbird communities, too. These include Taos, Los Lunas and Rio Rancho, outside of Albuquerque; and Tucumcari, on historic Route 66.

Louisiana

Because of its mild winters (temperatures often reach above 60) and relatively low cost of living, this state is a tempting choice for snowbirds

In the southern part of the state, the city of Lafayette offers something for everyone including restaurants, nightlife, and shopping options, and driving trails. From the city, scenic roads lead to charming smaller towns like New Iberia and Abbeville, where history and photo-worthy architecture abound.

A little further west, the city of Lake Charles has similarly varied attractions. Between the casino and the symphony, the city parks and the libraries, and the sporting events and festivals, snowbirds can entertain themselves nonstop. Winding throughout the region, the bayous provide ample opportunities for fishing, touring, or simply appreciating the natural beauty and wildlife of this unique landscape.

Utch (specifically St. George)

Utah winters are not all about cold weather and snowy mountain tops. The Mojave Desert city of St. George, in the southwestern corner of the state, is actually closer in climate (and distance) to Las Vegas than to the ski resorts in Utah's north.

St. George has been a snowbird destination for many years, but it's becoming more popular as the city grows. Sunny over 300 days a year on average, with winter temperatures in the 50s and 60s and relatively little precipitation, St. George is a great place to enjoy outdoor activities like biking, hiking, golfing, and rock climbing.

Fenton, Linden look poised for high playoff seeds

By David Troppens

COVID-19 has changed a lot of how the prep sports scene has looked this fall.

During the seventh week of the prep football season, the state will see another change — a new playoff football system.

Every single prep football team will play in one of the eight divisions of the state playoff system, with each of the teams in each district already preselected.

And entering Friday night's games, many area teams had strong chances of finishing high seeds entering into their district tournament. Friday night's results were not known at press time, so we'll analyze each district through the first five weeks of the prep football season.

Division 2, District 12

The Fenton Tigers (5-0) entered Friday's game with Ortonville-Brandon as the only undefeated squad among the eight teams in the district, and with a victory should be the top seed.

It's a district that includes the Tigers' playoff nemesis three of the last four seasons, Walled See PLAYOFF on 30

Bronchos earn at least share of Stripes Division crown

By David Troppens

The Holly varsity volleyball team has never been an outright champion at any level since the start of the Flint Metro League.

They are getting mighty close to making that first sentence a comment of the past.

The Holly Bronchos took a big step toward winning that first-ever outright Flint Metro League Stripes Division title last week by beating Linden and then beating second-place Flushing. The victory against Flushing means the Bronchos have already defended its co-Metro League Stripes Division title they held with Flushing last year at the very least. All it will take is Holly winning one of its last two Stripes Division matches or Flushing losing one of the two to lock up the Bronchos' first outright crown. And considering no one has given the Bronchos that great a battle in Metro action so far this season, the Bronchos are looking mighty good at earning that outright crown.

The Bronchos opened the week by beating the Linden Eagles 25-16, 25-20, 25-18. In the win the Bronchos were potent with their attack. Paige Weeder led the offense with 13 kills and a 42.9 hitting percentage while Sarah Jewell had 10 kills with a 38.1 hitting percentage. Kennedy Hogan had five kills and a 27.3 hitting percentage. Nicole Jewell set the offense, recording 28 of Holly's 34 assists in the match.

Defensively, Sarah Jewell also had a strong showing with a team-high 13 digs. Delaney Jenkinson had 10 digs while Paige Weeder had six digs. Weeder also led the Bronchos with a 2.06 serve receive grade (out of three). Hogan led the defense at the net with four blocks while Weeder had two.

Just as everyone in the Metro, the Eagles were unable to mount a consistent attack against the Bronchos. Maddy Shier had five kills while Emma Mossing and Braylin Robbins had four kills each. Kendall Miller had 18 assists and provided 10 digs defensively. Braylin led the Eagles with 13 digs while Drew Kinney and Hannah Lewandowski had 10 digs each.

In a match that Flushing needed to win to stay close in the Metro race, the Raiders were crushed 25-16, 25-17, 25-21.

Hogan led the team offensively against the Raiders with 12 kills and a 58.8 hitting percentage. Sarah Jewell had 10 kills and a 43.5 hitting percentage while Weeder had eight kills and a 31.6 hitting percentage.

Fenton — It was a great season for the Fenton varsity boys soccer team by many measures.

The squad ended the season with a 13-3-1 record and the squad won another Metro League title by tying Goodrich and Linden atop the league standings. It was their third straight league title and fourth in five seasons.

However, while those are nice standards to look at, the one the team looks at more than any doesn't involve wins or losses. It involves the emotional ties the players and coaches have created during the season. It's about making sure you embrace each

Tigers compete against defending D3 champs in three-team meet

By David Troppens

When scheduling a dual meet, teams can compete against anyone.

What does the Fenton varsity girls swim team do when it wants a nice meet against one or two other teams? Why, the Tigers schedule a contest against the defending Division 3 state champions of course.

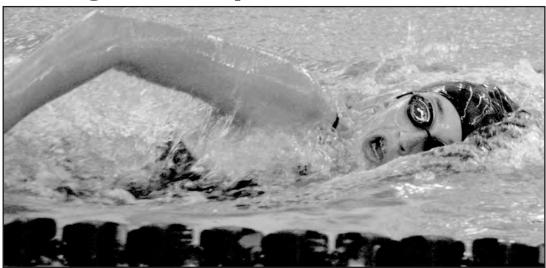

The Tigers competed in a meet with defending state champion East Grand Rapids and with Northview (Grand Rapids) at East Grand Rapids High School and finished in second place. East Grand Rapids won the meet with 117 points, while Fenton had 43 and Northview had 26 points.

There were plenty of exciting races. Fenton and East Grand Rapids had returning state champions from their 2019 teams. Fenton's Gracie Olsen was the Tigers' returning state champion. She won both of her events, taking first in the 200 freestyle (1:51.28) and first in the 100 butterfly (55.17). She competed against Emma Israets who placed third at the D3 state meet in the 100 fly a year ago. Of course, the events were the ones Olsen won her individual state titles in a year ago at the D2 level.

East Grand Rapids had returning D3 state champion Greta Milnes competing in the 100 freestyle, and won the event in 52.94 seconds. However, Fenton's Sophie Stefanac had a pretty good showing against the defending champion, placing second in 54.07 seconds.

East Grand Rapids had the majority of their teams from two state championship relay squads compete in the dual meet as well. The meet ended with the hosts having their entire 400 freestyle relay team competing against Fenton's squad. The Tigers' team of Gracie Olsen, Delaney Fries, took second with a time of 3:37.03, about four seconds behind EGR's title team. The hosts also had three-fourths of last year's state championship 200 medley relay team Stefanac and Abigail Dolliver go against the Tigers. Fenton finished second with a time of 1:51.01 with the team of Olsen, Dolliver, Halee Alexander and Stefanac, finishing just a little more than two seconds longer than EGR's state title team.

Blue Devils struggle vs. Owosso in Stars Division volleyball action

By David Troppens

Lake Fenton — The first time the Lake Fenton varsity volleyball team played Owosso this season, the Blue Devils swept by the Lady Trojans rather handily in a three-set match.

History doesn't always repeat itself, and the Blue Devils found that out the hard way on Tuesday at home.

The Blue Devils (2-5) faced Owosso once again, but this time lost. The Trojans won 25-15, 25-21, 13-25, 25-16 verdict.

The Blue Devils struggled in the first set and never led. They remained tied at 7-7 but Owosso scored the set's next four points. Lake Fenton struggled with service reception and had a hitting error during the run, resulting in a 11-7 deficit. The Blue Devils were unable to manage even a tie score from that point. to a 10-1 lead quickly. Dur-

Back-to-back Lake Fenton ing the run, Amelia Bicego hitting errors on the final two volleys gave Owosso the 25-15 first-set win.

The Blue Devils did take an early lead in the second game, leading at one time 8-5. During the stretch, Nicole Sisk provided three kills and Emily Elrich another kill, sparking the lead. However, the Blue Devils quickly started to struggle once again. Owosso got the serve back and quickly tied the set up again and took the lead back for good. Lake Fenton cut the gap to one a couple of times. The last time came at 16-15 on an Owosso service error. However, Owosso scored the set's next four points and Lake Fenton never got terribly close again, losing 25-21.

The Blue Devils looked like a different team in the third set. The Blue Devils jumped served nine straight points with three points coming on aces. Sisk also led the offense with a couple of kills during the stretch.

From there, the Blue Devils never trailed. Owosso cut the gap to six several times, but Sisk finished the set with seven kills, Bailey Wilson had three kills and Camryn Mc-Millan had two kills resulting in the easy set win. Lake Fenton got its 24th point on a Sisk kill and set point came on an Owosso hitting error.

The fourth set had a challenging start for Lake Fenton as the Blue Devils had errors on each of the first five volleys resulting in a quick 5-0 deficit. Lake Fenton eventually cut into the lead. A kill by Sisk cut the gap to 7-5 and an Owosso hitting error closed Lake Fenton to just a 7-6 deficit.

moment with each other. It was about not worrying about outside influences (like the COVID-19 pandemic) and making the season about themselves.

And once again, the Tigers felt they passed those goals with flying colors. So while the season ended in the district semifinal at Fenton High School in a 2-1 shoot out loss to Okemos, the Tigers weren't worried too much about that. Sure the team lost, but more importantly it meant this was the last time together on the field. And what they focused on was those last special times on the field together. The brothership had prevailed.

"I'm going to remember my brothers of course," Fenton senior Joe Sullivan said. "I'm going to remember that every day - in school, out of school at practices, at games and everything — it never changes. All we did was love each other and love every second we had to play, so obviously I'm going to miss them first. I'm going to miss coming out every day and being at practice and just having fun. We were not even worrying about soccer, but just about having fun."

"We just want to play for each other," Fenton senior keeper Gannon Welch said. "That's why it hurts so much. We don't get another day with our brothers. I will definitely miss the boys. We were definitely a fun team and we always had fun working. It didn't matter where it was."

"It was great," Fenton varsity boys soccer coach Matt Sullivan said. "Every day was a blessing. We knew it was. We knew any day it could be over. Our seniors knew that and they were amazing. We had more fun this year. I don't know how we do it. Every year we manage to have more fun. The hard part is it ended early but there is absolutely no regrets with this team this season and about how we went about the season, especially how we treat each other. It is just a great year."

The game was an entertaining one between two pretty evenly matched teams. Early on, the Tigers dominated the game. Fenton had the first six shots in the contest and scored the contest's first goal on the fourth shot when a cross from Benjamin Chapple to Patrick Hamilton. He scored on a rebound and the Tigers led 1-0.

PLAYOFF

Lake Western. There are a few changes this season in Fenton's favor. The Tigers should enter the eight-team bracket as the top seed and would face the Warriors (if both teams keep winning) on Fenton's home field. Another plus — the Warriors don't seem to be the same team the Tigers have lost to three of the last four seasons in the playoffs. Western are not even a lock to be a second seed. In fact, if the season ended before week six, North Farmington (3-2), would've been the second seed, followed by South Lyon (3-2), Western (3-2), Waterford Mott (2-2), Waterford Kettering (1-4), Milford (1-4) and Walled Lake Central (0-5).

The Tigers defeated South Lyon last season 31-28 in the opening round of the playoffs before losing to Western 49-21. Two years ago, the Tigers defeated Waterford Mott 25-21 in the final week of the regular season. Considering the Tigers should be the top seed, they'll be the home team in each of the three weeks of the district tourney, Fenton fans have plenty of reason to be excited.

Division 3, District 21

Entering the Eagles' contest against Corunna, Linden and Kearsley were battling for the top spot in a district with only seven squads. That means the top seed will get a bye during the opening round of the playoffs. If Kearsley (3-2) beat Goodrich, the Hornets should get that No. 1 seed. However, if Kearsley loses and the Eagles (3-2) defeat Corunna (3-2), then Linden should not only get the first-round bye but would get the home game through the entire district tournament just as long as they keep winning.

Linden has already beaten Kearsley this season by a sizable 43-22 margin. The other teams in the district are (in order of seeding entering Friday's games were) Bay City Central (2-3), Bay City Western (2-3), Pontiac (0-5), Holly (0-5) and Clio (0-5). Holly and Clio played each other at Holly Friday night. The winner could've jumped as high as the fifth seed with a victory.

Considering the Eagles have already beaten Kearsley and Holly handily and considering the district will have no more than two teams with winning records and three squads will enter with no more than one win, the Eagles are looking poised to make a long tournament run.

Holly played what may have been its best game of the season in a loss to Linden during the fifth week. With a victory against Clio, the Bronchos will position themselves to have a much more favorable match-up in the opening round of the district tournament, and could be looking for its first playoff win in school history as well.

Division 4, District 29

The Blue Devils (2-3) had a challenging game at Swartz Creek Friday night and their result in that game could go a long way toward creating an easier or harder path in their district.

It will be an interesting district made up of teams within a wide area of the state. Traditional non-league foe Williamston (5-0) holds the No. 1 seed and should remain in that spot regardless if they beat or lost to undefeated Mason Friday night. The other teams in the division are (in order of ranking) Battle Creek Pennfield (3-2), Lake Fenton and

Linden's Bryce Eliuck and the Linden Eagles should earn a high seed when the playoff pairings are dsitributed Sunday. Photo: David Troppens

Marshall (tied and both 2-3), Charlotte (2-3), Flint Powers Catholic (1-4), Owosso (1-4) and Eaton Rapids (1-4).

How far the Blue Devils could go and the path's difficulty weighs heavily on what they did against the Dragons on Friday night.

Krueger's Krew finished the season with an 18-1 record overall. His squad, made up of many players from the tri-county area, won the title game 5-2 against Sports Med at Flint's Broome Park.

The squad scored two runs in the opening inning and never trailed. Chris Pickleman doubled and Luke Mumrik singled, setting up the rally. Steve Lezotte walked to load the bases and Kenny Schlosser hit a sacrifice fly to score the first run. The second scored on a batted ball by Steve Sarkon who's hit was booted in left, plating the second run.

Another run scored in the fourth. Sarkon singled and eventually scored after back-to-back singles by Steve Stimson and Miles Ericksen. The team's final two runs were scored in the sixth inning. Mumrik and Lezotte singled and eventually scored on a walk by Schlosser and single by Sarkon. Krueger's Krew led 5-0 and their lead was never seriously threatened by their opposition

On the mound, Chad Logan and Dave Reinfelder combined to help the Krew to the victory.

The squad won the semifinal game 1-0 with Logan getting the game-winning hit. Reinfelder and Logan also combined to toss the shutout on the mound.

Other players on the team included Matt Idoni, Dale Roe, Aaron Rubio, Steve Stimson, Duane Kinney, Jim Bailey, Caleb Norris, Kenny Ayers, Mickey Kimsel, Ben Abbey and Jason Roberts.

Breanna, of the Michigan Crossroads Council, has been involved in Scouting since turning 14, joining the local Venture Scouts troop. There she became involved in the National Youth Leadership Training (NYLT) program. This program takes Scouts in a weeklong program to learn leadership skills that they will take back to their troops and then use throughout their lives.

"My brothers all went through the NYPT program," Breanna said. "They came back from the camp all excited about it. That's when I decided to sign up."

She spent three years with the NYLT program. First as a participant, then working on staff and then in 2019 becoming the Senior Patrol Leader (SPL) to lead the program.

Her family has been actively involved in Scouting. Both her grandfathers were Boy Scouts and it was there that Breanna's father, Jeff Trecha, an Eagle Scout (1976) himself, would also grow up in the Scouting program.

"I knew it was a great program where boys could learn so many skills like camping, first aid, swimming that (Above) Breanna Trecha, 19, of Fenton, stands in front of her completed Eagle Scout project, which consisted of refurbishing 50 park picnic tables. (Bottom left) In 2019, Breanna Trecha attended the World Scout Jamboree at the Summit Bechtel National Scout Reserve in West Virginia. then could be used into adulthood," Jeff Trecha said. "I was so glad to see the Scouts open up the program to girls where they too could experience so many adventures."

Besides her father earning the Eagle Rank, Breanna has three Eagle Scout brothers. John earned his Eagle in 2012, Parker 2014 and her twin brother, Bradley in 2016. Breanna has four uncles (all her dad's brothers) who have earned the highest rank as well as her cousin Alex in 2010.

"I always grew up in Scouting," Breanna said. "I started in Girl Scouts as my mother (Amy) was the leader and I spent six years in that program. My dad was a den leader for two of my bothers in Cub Scouts and I was always able to go along with the Cub Scouts as well."

When John joined the Boy Scouts their dad, Jeff, became one of the leaders immediately and then spent three years as their Scoutmaster.

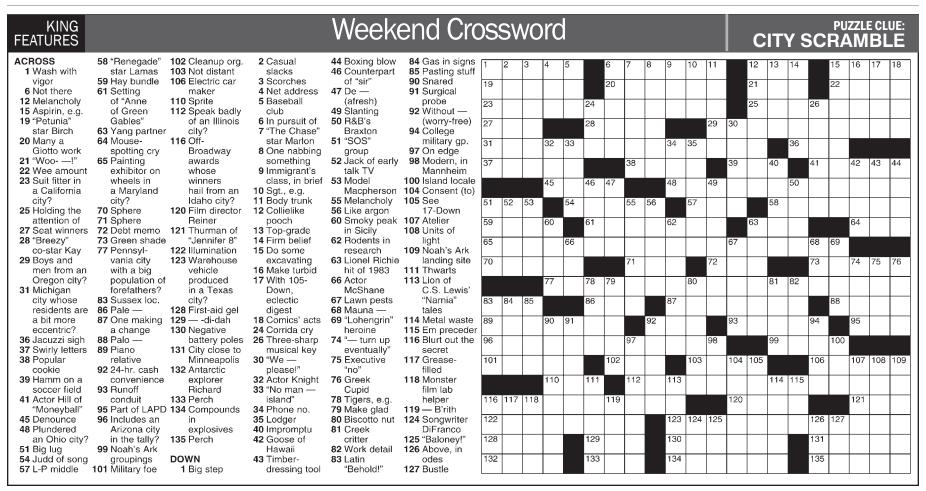

Breanna had the opportunity in 2019 to attend the World Scout Jamboree at the Summit Bechtel National Scout Reserve in West Virginia. Over 50,000 Scouts from 167 countries participated in the jamboree.

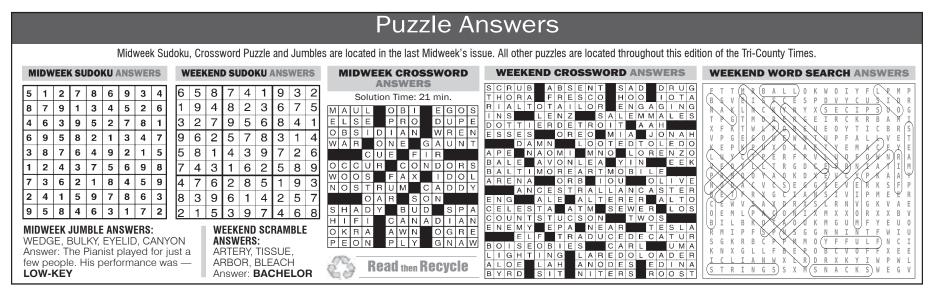

If Breanna wasn't camping with the troop, the weekends would be spent camping with her dad and learning all the skills needed to earn the ranks.

"Last summer we barely would see Breanna," Amy Trecha said.

Besides earning her ranks, Breanna also earned merit badges. The Scouts offer 137 merit badges that range from astronomy to wood working. Merit badges offer the Scouts the opportunity to explore hobbies, skills, interests in just about every aspect that one can imagine. In order to earn the Eagle rank, Scouts must earn 21 merit badges, 13 of which are required and every Scout must earn. Breanna not only earned the 21 merit badges necessary to earn her Eagle, but earned 51.

See EAGLE SCOUTS on 33

Her three brothers each have earned all the merit badges available to earn (a feat that only about 300 Scouts in the whole 110-year history of Scouting have ever earned).

The most challenging for Breanna was Scuba Diving. "I was able to earn my scuba certification so now I can go scuba diving any time," she said.

Breanna joined Troop 212G in March 2019. With so much Scouting experience, she became the SPL for her troop. "I wanted the Scouts (girls) to get as much out of Scouting as possible. I also have a great Scoutmaster, Mrs. Staley."

All Eagle Scouts must perform and lead an Eagle Scout project.

"I wanted to help beautify the area so I led a group of volunteers in refurbishing, repairing and staining about 50 park picnic tables that had never been repaired. We spent over 100 hours fundraising, getting materials, supplies and then actually completing the project," she said.

Breanna plans to earn a Bachelor's of Science majoring in Biology, a minor in Chemistry and a Master's degree in Pharmaceutical Research at Toledo where she hopes to be able to look at ways the pharmaceutical industry can assist in curing diseases.

Stranger danger — not just for kids!

ith all of the frightening things going on in the world today, Halloween week may be a good time to remind young ladies (and men) that there are still predators out there who would think nothing of hurting them, or even take their lives.

I think everyone can remember experiencing a close call, a situation that could have gone "either way."

When I was in my mid-20s, I accompanied friends to a bar to celebrate Halloween. I had a good time and even met a couple of new people there.

VERA HOGAN

I wanted to go home earlier than my friends, who wanted to stay and party a while longer. I complained out loud that it was raining and my car was parked so far away. One young man I was talking to earlier in the evening heard me and said he was parked close and could give me a ride to my car. I didn't hesitate and accepted his offer.

Stupid! Stupid! I should have hesitated. Once I got into his car, I knew it was a mistake. The feeling of dread was overwhelming and I wondered if this is what it was like for the countless young ladies who fell prey to rapists, or worse, serial killers, when they knew they were trapped.

This guy did not turn on the ignition and just sat there staring straight ahead. Even though it was chilly, he had beads of sweat on his forehead. I told him I was ready to go but he said nothing. I don't know what he was thinking, but the range of expressions on his face were more than scary, like he was trying to make a decision about something. He would not let me out.

I slowly dipped my hand into my purse, which thankfully was next to the passenger door, grabbed a long metal nail file I kept in there and clutched it tightly, hoping I would not have to use it. Trying to distract him from his thoughts, whatever they were, I started talking, telling this guy (like a dummy, I didn't even ask him his name) that he had a very nice car. He looked very clean cut and I told him he seemed very nice and probably had good parents, and brothers and sisters. I said he probably had a good job. I asked if he had a dog. He finally just nodded and mumbled "uh huh."

After what seemed like an hour (it was only about 10 or 15 minutes), I grabbed the door handle and slowly got out. He didn't try to stop me and I walked as fast my legs would go to my own car. I didn't want to break out in a run for fear he would come after me.

This could have gone either way and I will never forget it. Lesson definitely learned that night.

With all the alcohol and illegal drugs being used or abused by who knows who, young people need to be very careful when they decide to party with strangers at bars, or wherever.

Stranger danger — it's not just for kids. Just sayin'!

Licorice

Here we're talking black licorice, and this does not include Twizzlers. Twizzlers are mostly fruity flavored, chewy sugar candies. Traditional black licorice has a savory side that doesn't mesh with the sugar highs of Halloween.

Mary Janes

Mary Janes, a chewy peanut buttery confection, are back on many shelves. They have a huge following, but apparently not with the Halloween crowd.

Yuck!

The worst Halloween candy for 2020

Compiled By Vera Hogan

You know the drill. Your kids come home on Halloween with their bags filled with candy and the sorting process begins. While you're looking to make sure the candy is safe, you should really look to see what your little goblins have designated the "icky" pile first. Then check the ones they are really going to eat. The following are said to be the worst Halloween candy for 2020:

Good & Plenty

Since Good & Plenty are pretty much licorice, it follows that they would come right after licorice on the list.

Smarties

Another one accused of being dry and chalky. Your kids will get plenty of these on Halloween.

Wax Coke Bottles

The novelty factor of these is great, the first time you get one. Then the realization sets in: you're biting through wax to get not even a mouthful of sugar water.

Necco Wafers

They were off the market for a while, but are back. Some people absolutely love Necco Wafers but they are not a big hit with the kids on Halloween. Complaints about these are that they're dry and chalky.

Tootsie Roll

Tootsie Rolls

Your kids will get a lot of these. They're the easy way out for people who don't want to spend much money handing out candy to kids. You can throw a handful into each kid's bag and it won't set hack much. But apparently kids.

you back much. But apparently kids tend not to like them for Halloween.
