Fenton man tells life story of overcoming hardships

By Hannah Ball

The Center of Hope recently shared a photo of directors Bob and Jennifer Strygulec with Kevin Fulgenzi, a man who they met last year before Thanksgiving when he was living in a tent in the woods.

Fulgenzi, an Army veteran, now lives in Fenton and agreed to share his story.

When he was a child, Fulgenzi lived with his father, brother, and sister. He developed a love for music and was the lead singer for a band.

By the time he was 17, he had dropped out of high school and was living on his own in a tent in the woods near the edge of town.

Fulgenzi eventually joined the Army and served overseas. After his service, he moved back to Fenton and lived with a family in a rooming house.

Fulgenzi was referred to the Center of Hope by a friend who had been helped there before.

Fulgenzi said he was immediately impressed with the Center of Hope and the way its directors approached helping people.

‘THANK YOU TO the police officer that stopped to help my family when we were having “car problems” on Owen Road on Thursday morning. We appreciate everything you do for this community.”

‘THANK YOU TO the wonderful woman who returned Sacha, our dog today. The things you did for her are greatly appreciated. Please feel free to stop by anytime to see her. Again, thank you and Happy Holidays to you.”

‘DURING THIS DARK time of COVID, a big thank you to everyone who has taken the time to put Christmas lights on their houses. Awesome!”

“LET THERE BE peace on earth and let it begin with me.”

Retired Lake Fenton schools secretary and her group of angels provide families of 27 students with gift cards this year

By Sharon Stone

Just because in-person fundraisers aren’t taking place this year because of the pandemic doesn’t mean the need has gone away. Dedra Grossmann can attest to that.

For more than 40 years, Grossmann of Fenton Township has been doing whatever she can to help children of Lake Fenton schools when a need arises.

Grossmann was the front office secretary at West Shore Elementary School for 28 years and retired 10 years ago. Using the reduced meal information, she compiled lists of Lake Fenton students that could use some help. Families also knew to reach out to her if their family was experiencing a sudden financial hardship.

In years past, the school district has held fundraisers so that the families with financial challenges could receive Christmas gifts. For example, the schools used to sell suckers with messages for $1. These suckers and messages could be sent to other students. The schools would also hold Hat Day, where kids paid to wear a hat. Grossmann said it gave the kids a fun way to provide donations.

Other fundraisers over the years consisted of teachers and staff paying money to wear jeans on Fridays. Teachers also would adopt children or entire families to provide Christmas gifts. Grossmann said she would post unidentified family wish lists in the staff lounge and teachers would select who they would be helping that year.

Grossmann said the PTA and Kiwanis would hold its own fundraisers and provide her with funds and food baskets to use at Christmas time.

Looking ahead to a brighter 2021

Our Broncho community continues to face the once-in-a-lifetime challenges posed by COVID-19 with courage, patience and an eye toward brighter days ahead in 2021.

Reflecting on these past nine months, I have one message for our Broncho students, families and employees — we understand the challenges, and are doing everything in our power to again safely offer the In-Person learning option to all Bronchos.

Every Broncho student, family and employee experiences the many obstacles created by the pandemic before, during and after school. Students experience it when they start their day by opening their Chromebooks, rather than greeting their friends and classmates at school. Our parents experience it when they juggle their work schedules to ensure their children can learn remotely and their needs are met. Our teachers experience it when they communicate with their students over a computer screen, rather than face-to-face in the classroom.

We all experienced it over Thanksgiving, when we were encouraged to avoid family gatherings altogether as cases spiked statewide. We’re again being asked to limit gatherings over the Christmas and New Year’s holidays. Even the Holly Dickens Festival — an annual staple in our community — has been canceled due to health and safety concerns.

All of this has required a coordinated effort with our Broncho families, who continue to make unparalleled sacrifices to help us educate our students from a distance.

Here’s the good news: We’re starting to see positive results.

Case rates within our district have decreased slightly following the statewide spike, and a continued downward trend through the holidays would help us continue working toward offering the In-Person learning option.

We can meet that goal by taking all necessary health and safety precautions throughout the holiday season and over the holiday break. I will continue providing updates on our progress at https://www.hask12.org/return-to-learn-plan.

Finally, I would like to wish our entire Broncho community a happy holiday season and a safe and healthy new year. Working together, we will embark on a brighter 2021 with a focus on providing all Bronchos with a world-class education that prepares them for bright futures.
Merry Christmas

Fenton community mourns death of Ken Seger

Leo Doan: ‘It’s a sad day for Fenton and the museum’

By Sharon Stone

The Fenton community is mourning the death of Kenneth Seger. He died Saturday, Dec. 12 at the age of 84.

Private services were held Friday due to COVID-19 concerns and a Celebration of Life service will be held at a later time.

Seger graduated from Fenton High School in 1954 and went on to get his associate's degree from Flint Junior College. He also served in the U.S. Air Force.

He will be remembered for doing so much for Fenton, along with his wife, Donna. In addition to retiring from GM Fisher Body after 30 years, he also was the volunteer curator of Fenton’s A.J. Phillips Museum for 38 years before stepping down in 2017.

The Segers co-wrote “Once over lightly” and a postcard book of Fenton's history.

Seger was inducted into the Fenton High School Hall of Fame in 2012. He was a member and president of the Fenton Historical Society for over 40 years and also was a member of the Sons of the Union Veterans.

The Segers were the Grand Marshals of the 2010 Freedom Festival. He was known for his love of history, Fenton, and gardening.

Through Ken and Donna’s efforts, along with some much-appreciated volunteers, everything in the museum was documented, cataloged and computerized. Seger stepped down from his role at the museum and handpicked Leo Doan of Fenton to be his replacement.

On Wednesday, Doan expressed his condolences for his dear friend. He said, “My heart goes out to the entire Seger family.

“It’s a sad day for Fenton and the museum. Nobody knows more about the city of Fenton than Ken Seger.

“Ken was not only a mentor to me but a dear friend for all my life. He was devoted to keeping Fenton's history alive and I am so grateful that he handpicked me to take over the museum, but his knowledge cannot be replaced.”

Editor’s note: Read more of when Ken Seger stepped down as volunteer curator of the museum in this 2017 article written by Vera Hogan, “Long-time curator leaves museum in good hands.”

More than 900-plus local frontline workers have been approved and awarded funds to attend Mott Community College (MCC) through the Future for Frontliners program. The initiative provides last-dollar scholarships for essential workers to attend community college tuition-free, including those without a high school diploma or equivalency.

Those without a high school diploma or equivalency are eligible for services to help them prepare for and complete this credential and go on to a community college or job training program. The application period runs through Dec. 31, with enrollment available beginning in January 2021.

Post shared on Nextdoor app recognizes Fenton boy’s kindness and helpfulness in the neighborhood

By Sharon Stone

One Fenton boy has made quite an impact in his neighborhood. In fact, a resident was so impressed with the youngster’s good deeds that she posted a short story on her Nextdoor app.

Kavaun Gregory, 12, lives on Second Street in Fenton. His parents are Nick Gregory and Beata Mostafavi and he has has a younger sister, Roya, 8.

On garbage day, he will walk for blocks rolling emptied garbage bins back up closer to the house.

One neighbor, Mona Murphy, who lives a street over, said she met Kavaun this past summer when he was walking around the neighborhood picking up litter.

She said lately that she has seen him traversing the neighborhood on garbage day and putting garbage bins back next to garages. No one has asked to help support the local business community called the “Fenton Community Dollars eGift Card” program.

“During these difficult times, and now more than ever, the objective is to keep shopping local. We wanted something different to ramp-up our continued support of the Fenton business community,” Mayor Sue Osborn said.

Exclusive to Fenton DDA businesses* and specifically members of the “Safe, Strong & Supportive Campaign,” this is the first digital eGift Card program to be redeemable at any of Fenton’s participating restaurants, retailers and personal service providers, all in the Fenton DDA district (more join each day).

“This gives our residents another way to support our local businesses. And especially with the holidays here, these eGift Cards are perfect for gift-giving,” Osborn said.

The public is encouraged to either show their business community support by purchasing an eGift Card for themselves, or send as a gift during the holidays.

Phase one of this program will continue throughout the year, and will be available for gift giving on birthdays, anniversaries, graduations, etc. The eGift Cards come in four denomination selections, $25, $50, $75 up to $100. The purchase of the eGift Card is face value, plus a small processing fee.

In the first part of this stimulus package, the city of Fenton DDA is going to match all eGift Cards purchased with a bonus card. With the BOGO (buy one-get one), the buyer will receive a match on the dollar amount they spend that they can either keep those bonus dollars or give to their recipient. While purchased eGift Cards do not expire, there is a six month expiration (June 30, 2021) on the bonus community dollars — to provide those funds to the merchants quickly.

Cumulatively, the $100,000 of bonus DDA dollars will have a substantial impact of providing supplemental funds to local businesses and buyers. Once these initial bonus funds are depleted, the bonus program will be evaluated and subject to additional funding by the DDA.

“Encouraging our community to shop local has always been an ongoing theme for the city of Fenton DDA and the city of Fenton,” said Craig Schmidt, chairman of the Fenton DDA. “While local businesses work hard to reopen safely, many of us are wondering what we can do to help. The Fenton Community Dollars eGift Card makes it easy for all of us to play a role in boosting our local economy and strengthening our business community.”

In addition to the BOGOs, the Fenton Community Dollars eGift Card program is eager to help the business community set up bulk gifting opportunities. Bulk gifting is a simple and effective way for both businesses and individuals to input the email addresses of all the recipients and send them out in just minutes. Genesee County hospitals partner with Flint schools

For the 20th annual ‘Shoes That Fit Connie’s Kidz’ in 2020

The employees of Ascension Genesys, Hurley Medical Center and McLaren Flint weren’t about to let COVID-19 stop them from joining forces again this year to benefit Flint Community Schools’ elementary students. The hospitals are celebrating 20 years of sponsorship of the “Shoes That Fit Connie’s Kidz” program.

Coordinated by Flint Community Schools and the three hospitals, school staff identifies students in need of shoes, and employees at the three hospitals purchase them. Although the 20th anniversary of this special outreach effort in the year 2020 didn’t quite look the same, the “Shoes That Fit” campaign marched on from Nov. 16 through Dec. 11. “We appreciate the hospitals and their frontline heroes for supporting this project for two decades and especially this year,” said Ernest Steward, director of student services and centralized enrollment. “We were really looking forward to celebrating the 20th anniversary in a special way but will have to do so in 2021. Students look forward to getting their new shoes every year and the hospitals are always willing to help fill the need no matter the circumstances.”

This year, hospital employees provided more than 800 pairs of shoes to students, which equals nearly 40 percent of the elementary pupils in the Flint Community School system. Students will receive their new shoes this week as is the tradition, which is just in time for their Christmas break.

LAKE FENTON

The Fenton Township Fire Department and its Shop with a Hero program would use proceeds from the fundraisers. Members of the fire department would volunteer their time and take a Lake Fenton child on a shopping trip at Target in order for them to buy a gift for themselves or family members.

Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, Grossmann said everything has been different this year and she was worried that they wouldn’t be able to provide Christmas gifts.

“This year we were really scrambling,” Grossmann said.

Grossmann’s good friend, Hewitt (Huey) Judson, longtime teacher and coach at Lake Fenton, sent a note to his friends who were students at Lake Fenton to let them know of this year’s challenges.

To her surprise, many sent her checks, some for as much as $100. Others dropped off gift cards at the school. Grossmann said she was touched to see some of the students that had been helped in the past donated this year to say thank you.

“This makes my Christmas,” she said.

Grossman said she recently ran into a man, whose family she and the school helped in the past. He yelled out to her, “Are you still doing God’s work?” she said.

This year, Grossmann was able to collect more than $2,000, which will be disbursed as gift cards for the families of 27 students on her list. It is not too late to help with Grossmann’s mission. Donations can be dropped off at West Shore Elementary. The front office phone is (810) 591-6542.

Task force apprehends human traffickers

Two more people have been arrested by the Genesee County Sheriff’s Office task force that conducts undercover operations to catch human traffickers and people who plan to engage in sexual relations with children.

This unit, GHOST, also known as Genesee Human Oppression Strike Team, has now arrested 83 people this year.

“Our GHOST team has not stopped. It’s called proactive policing,” said Genesee County Sheriff Chris Swanson during the Wednesday, Dec. 16 weekly briefing that’s broadcasted on Facebook. “Human trafficking, you know all too well in Genesee County, is a real threat to society, especially to the most vulnerable.”

The week of Monday, Dec. 7, GHOST conducted an operation in Grand Blanc, off I-75 and Holly Road. The GCSO worked with local police departments on these operations.

Antoine El-Hajj, 30, of Brighton, had just become a U.S. citizen in September of this year, Swanson said. The officer posed as a 15-year-old and El-Hajj messaged with them and planned on trading a bottle of wine for sex. He was arrested at the door.

The second person arrested was Robert Irby, 53, of Flint Township. He believed he was talking with a 15-year-old girl and planned on making a donation so “she” could go back to school.

Both have been charged with two felonies.

“We’re at 83 (people arrested) and we’re not stopping. I want you to know that,” Swanson said.

He also released more information about a man who is now facing six counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct, which carries a life sentence.

Shane Conley, 51, had allegedly sexually assaulted a girl, now 13, for more than two years. Conley, who used to live in Genesee County, was arrested in Benzie County. The GCSO worked with the Benzie County Sheriff’s Office in the operation.

The GHOST team has gained recognition statewide and nationally for its success in catching people who would participate in human trafficking.

“We do them in a way where they have a 100-percent conviction rate. I know that’s going to be a challenge. I know that’s a bold statement but we don’t want to do police work without doing it the right way,” he said. “We are taking it very serious to make sure we don’t lose a case.”

Swanson said when one perpetrator is identified and arrested, this saves approximately 25 future victims.

“We don’t want a single day to go by where a predator feels as though no one’s watching,” he said.

McLaren Flint nationally recognized

- Given ‘A’ for the fall 2020 Leapfrog Hospital Safety Grade

McLaren Flint was awarded an ‘A’ in the fall 2020 Leapfrog Hospital Safety Grade, a national distinction recognizing McLaren Flint’s achievements protecting patients from harm and providing safer health care. The Leapfrog Group is an independent national watchdog organization committed to health care quality and safety.

The Safety Grade assigns an ‘A,’ ‘B,’ ‘C,’ ‘D’ or ‘F’ grade to all general hospitals across the country and is updated every six months. It is based on a hospital’s performance in preventing medical errors, injuries, accidents, infections and other harms to patients in their care.

“The Leapfrog ‘A’ Safety Grade is reflective of the numerous initiatives put into place at the hospital over the past three years to build upon our extensive safe care patient initiatives,” said Chad Grant, president and CEO of McLaren Flint. “This recognition is a true testament to everyone’s hard work and confirmation of the high-quality care that we know is being delivered by our team.”

“We are extremely grateful to hospital leadership and health care workers who have remained steadfast in prioritizing patient safety as our nation battles COVID-19,” said Leah Binder, president and CEO of The Leapfrog Group. “This ‘A’ is a testament to the care and commitment of those who work for McLaren Flint. With the current pandemic exposing existing flaws within the U.S. health care system, we appreciate you putting patient safety first. Lives depend on it.”

Developed under the guidance of a national expert panel, the Leapfrog Hospital Safety Grade uses up to 27 measures of publicly available hospital safety data to assign grades to more than 2,600 U.S. acute-care hospitals twice per year. The Hospital Safety Grade’s methodology is peer-reviewed and fully transparent, and the results are free to the public.

McLaren Flint was awarded an ‘A’ grade today when Leapfrog updated grades for fall 2020. To see McLaren Flint’s full grade details and access patient tips for staying safe in the hospital, visit hospitalafetygrade.org and follow The Leapfrog Group on Twitter and Facebook.
Jupiter and Saturn to form a ‘Christmas star’

First visible ‘double planet’ in 800 years to shine bright just after sunset on Dec. 21

Go outside right after sunset tomorrow and look to the southwest. In the rising twilight you’ll see the planet Jupiter shining brightly, followed shortly after by Saturn, which will soon become visible in the gathering darkness, according to a Dec. 15 article at forbes.com.

In a celestial event that’s been interpreted as a possible source of the “Star of Bethlehem” nativity story from the Christian religion, the two giant gas planets will appear a tantalising 0.1 degree apart on the evening of Dec. 21, 2020. That’s about a fifth of the full Moon’s diameter.

It will be the closest approach of Jupiter and Saturn since shortly after the telescope was invented in the early 17th century.

To the naked eye the two planets will appear to shine almost as one. However, Jupiter is much brighter than Saturn. On Dec. 21, Jupiter will shine at a magnitude of -2.0 while Saturn will be 10 times dimmer at just +0.64.

The Forbes article went on to say that it will be their closest alignment since July 16, 1623, but that one was too close to the Sun for anyone to observe. The last alignment as easy to see as the “great conjunction” of Dec. 21, 2020 was March 4, 1226 when the two planets appeared to be just one fifteenth of the Moon’s diameter apart.

It’s called a “great conjunction” because Jupiter and Saturn are the two largest planets in the Solar System.

You’ll have to take a look as quickly as you can because this “great conjunction” won’t take long to sink below the horizon. In fact, it’s best to look 45 minutes after sunset where you are on Dec. 21, 2020 to see the planet pairing as high as possible in the southwestern sky.

Sunset in the Fenton area on Dec. 21 is at 5:04 p.m.
Fenton police deliver gifts for Shop With a Cop

Our hope is next year we’ll be able to do Shop With a Cop in person …

By Hannah Ball

On Thursday, Dec. 17, Fenton police officers Nick Jones and Julie Bemus (shown above) organized the department’s Shop With a Cop this year. The department raised more than $9,000 for the program. Photo: Hannah Ball

The officers drove around the city and delivered the baskets to different houses.

Officer Nick Jones said the baskets have individualized gifts for the kids depending on age, gender and reading level, and each basket has gift cards for Walmart, Target and gas cards.

The department raised $9,195 for the program, more than double last year’s amount. Jones said they were “definitely” surprised.

“It was great to see the community come together hand-in-hand with us to give back to the community, especially with a year full of challenges. It’s all worth the effort when we see the kids’ faces when we give them the gifts,” Jones said. “Our hope is next year we’ll be able to do Shop With a Cop in person and make it even bigger and better than next year.”

Upon arrival, Lintz said flames were through the roof in the center of the home. Fire crews knocked down the fire and prevented it from spreading farther into the house. Damage from the fire was limited to the room the fireplace was in and the roof area around the chimney.

The call came in at 5:15 a.m., the first fire units arrived on scene at 5:22 a.m. and the fire was under control at 5:50 a.m. NOCFA cleared the scene at 7:45 a.m. No firefighters were injured.

NOCFA received automatic mutual aid from Holly Village, Springfield Township, Groveland Township, Fenton City, Grand Blanc Township and Atlas Township fire departments.

It took North Oakland County Fire Authority approximately 30 minutes to get a chimney fire at a two-story farmhouse on E. Holly Road under control Tuesday morning. Photo: NOCFA

Ten league championship teams are included in our Dynamite Dozen list

By David Troppens

The fall sports season is generally the strongest in the tri-county area. That held true during the fall of 2020 in a pretty amazing way.

The Flint Metro League sponsors eight fall sports regular season championships. Among our four area tri-county schools, 10 won outright or shared Metro League championships.

That’s an incredible number, and that’s why for our fall list this season we’ll be recognizing the 2020 Tri-County Dynamite Dozen list of teams during the next handful of publications.

Many of our traditional teams will be on the list, with cross country squads grabbing nearly half (five) of the 12 spots.

That’s enough of a summary. Let’s check out the bottom three teams on our list.

No. 12 - Linden boys cross country: The Eagles have been in plenty of our fall lists over the years and have been No. 1 for an entire school year a couple of times.

In 2020, the Eagles finished third in the Flint Metro

Linden’s varsity boys cross country team is No. 12 on our 2020 Tri-County Dynamite Dozen list.

Fenton’s Huntoon leads our 2020 All Tri-County Women’s Cross Country Team

By David Troppens

The tri-county area is never short of quality cross country runners.

In fact, it can easily be argued the cross country season is the area’s most successful season year in and year out.

On the women’s side it looked like 2020 could be a little bit of a rebuilding season considering it seemed like some of the area programs could be in a rebuilding mode. That list included the Fenton varsity girls program. With Alexa Keiser (either our Cross Country Runner of the Year or our Female Runner of the Year for each of her four seasons) graduated, and a few other seniors, it looked like the Tigers could find it challenging to defend their four consecutive seasons of Flint Metro League championships.

It ended up not being a problem. The Tigers had a strong nucleus of runners that made sure the run continued for a fifth straight season as Fenton won the Metro League Stripes Division title. The Tigers’ success earned Fenton four runners on our 2020 All Tri-County Women’s Cross Country Team. The leader of the pack is from Fenton as well. Fenton junior Taylor Huntoon continued our trend of a Tiger leading the squad by earning our Female Runner of the Year honor.

Huntoon showed tremendous improvement from her sophomore season. Huntoon’s best finish in any race was a 10th-place effort at the Kayla O’Mara Invitational. During her junior season, she won three of her 10 races, all being Flint Metro League events. She won the first Metro League Stripes Division jamboree with a time of 20:19.8, beating Holly senior Andrea Ruiz by 10 seconds.

She followed that event with a second-place effort in a dual meet with Walled Lake Northern, recording a time of 20:05.4. She followed that event with a first-place time (20:25.2) at the second Metro Stripes Division Jamboree race, winning by just 1.3 seconds faster than fellow all-area team participant Alexis Mawhinney. From that point, Huntoon broke the 20-minute barrier in each of her final five races, including winning the Metro League Championship with a time of 19:17.7.

As the Tigers attempted to qualify for the state meet, in the pre-regional round, Huntoon placed third (19:30.99) as the Tigers finished second, earning the squad a spot at the regional meet.

Fenton’s Taylor Huntoon is our Female Runner of the Year. She won all three Flint Metro League Stripes Division races.

Huntoon followed that performance with a fourth-place effort (19:31.15) at the regional meet, helping the Tigers to a second-place team finish.

Once at the Division 1 state meet, she posted a personal-best time of 19:15.2 earning 35th-place finish. The state meet was the only time that Huntoon finished an event outside the top four. Along with the three firsts, she placed one second and had two thirds. Finally, she had three fourths.

The Tigers had three other team members — Kaitlyn Bayer, Emily Grob, and Nina Frost. The Linden Eagles’ Division 2 state-qualifying team had two members — Melaniea Strauss and Alexis Mawhinney.

League’s Stripes Division, finishing behind Fenton and Flushing. However, the Eagles did take second in the first two Metro jamborees.

Once the postseason began, the Eagles placed fourth in pre-regionals, giving the squad one more chance to compete on its own home course at regionals. Unfortunately, Linden didn’t qualify as team for the state meet, taking fourth. However, four runners did qualify and competed at the state meet.

No. 11 - Fenton boys soccer: Fenton opened the season with four straight victories, but their second loss of the season — a 4-2 loss to Linden — put their league title chances in jeopardy.

The Tigers (13-3-1) finished the regular season by winning their final six league games, earning a co-championship with Linden and Goodrich. In district play, the Tigers recorded a 5-0 victory against Davison in the opening round. However, they lost in the district title game against Okemos via a shootout.

No. 10 - Linden boys soccer: The Eagles won their first 12 games of the season and locked up at least a share of the Metro League title after beating the Lake Fenton Blue Devils 5-0. With a victory against Goodrich, the Eagles could’ve won an outright title, but lost to the Martians 1-0, resulting in a shared championship with Goodrich and Fenton for a second straight season. Unfortunately, the Eagles’ district tournament run ended in the next game as they lost to Orchard Lake St. Mary’s 1-0.

Interest is high this year as skiers and snowboarders eager to enjoy their sport during a pandemic

By Sharon Stone

With winter officially beginning tomorrow, Monday, Dec. 21, ski and snowboard enthusiasts are taking a few hours off worrying about the COVID-19 pandemic and turning their thoughts to enjoying Michigan’s winter wonderland.

One local ski resort, permitted to be open, is very busy.

Nestled in Groveland Township near Holly, Mt. Holly Ski & Snowboard Resort offers seven chairlifts, four rope tows, and two SunKid Wonder Carpets.

With temperatures falling, Mt. Holly has been adding fresh snow to its slopes with their snow guns. As of Thursday, Dec. 17, crews continued to make snow and open runs. The base was up to 16 inches, with 10 runs open, and 8 lifts.

Mt. Holly reopened Wednesday, Dec. 16.

General Manager Mark Tibbits said he and the crew have been scrambling while getting the slopes open. Being one of the few outdoor recreation businesses open, he said interest from novice and experienced skiers and snowboarders is high.

As with every other business, things are different at Mt. Holly and people planning a day at the resort need to know and abide by all of the COVID-19 guidelines.

Tibbitts said the building itself is strictly for ordering take-out food and for people using the restroom. There are no tables or seating available in the building. They have put heaters on the patios and decks.

On Monday, Murphy posted on the Nextdoor app a post titled, “WE’VE BEEN STRUCK AGAIN,” asking neighbors if they knew where the boy lived so she could ‘Elf’ him by anonymously delivering small gifts to his porch.

Response on the app was overwhelming, said Murphy. She soon learned the boy’s full name and reached out to his parents.

“He’s a caring and compassionate boy,” Gregory said.

Kavaun started noticing garbage trucks at around the age of 3 and was fascinated with them during the summer. He would want to run after them, and small gifts for him left on their front porch.

Mostafavi said she loves reading the notes left for Kavaun. “They are sweet messages,” she said. “They tell about the ripple effects of the nice things he has done.”

She added that Kavaun just lights up when he gets of these surprises. “I’m really touched by our neighbors’ efforts to ‘elf’ him back,” she said. “He loves the interactions.”

As a Tomek-Eastern student, Gregory said, “Kavaun is a proud Tomek student. The Tomek community is such a big part of our lives. The teachers and administrators encouraged him to be this way.”

Between sports, piano lessons and band, Gregory said Kavaun has mixed interests. “Kavaun really is a product of a great neighborhood. That’s where it all started. They (neighbors) had a positive reaction and that gave him the confidence to continue.

“I am incredibly grateful for who he is, and he has a sweet mom.”

Gregory added that some of the “Elfing” that Murphy wrote about has already begun. He said Kavaun was shocked that there were greeting cards and small gifts for him left on their front porch.

Rock Church plans in-person, outdoor Christmas Eve service

A prerecorded broadcast from Rock Church will air on local channels on Christmas Day

By Hannah Ball

The Rock Church of Fenton is holding an in-person outdoor Christmas Eve ceremony in the woods across from their main building on Thursday, Dec. 24 at 7 p.m.

On Christmas Day, the church’s Christmas service will be shown on two networks, on Channel 46 The CW at 11 a.m., and then on CBS WNEM Channel 5 at 5 p.m.

The main goal of the TV broadcast is to reach people with the message of Jesus Christ “in a very difficult time in society,” said Pastor Wes Morris.

The broadcast will be prerecorded. The church put the broadcast together in about two weeks.

“We expect to just encourage people in their homes. We call it ‘Home for Christmas.’ We built a living room set and we want to encourage people with Christmas-themed worship music and present the gospel. We hope people are moved by the lord and respond by watching the broadcast,” he said.

The public also is invited to the in-person, outdoor Christmas Eve service, which will take place at 11400 Linden Rd., across the road from the church’s main facility and near the new building that’s under construction.

The Rock Church will have a hospitality tent and people to help transport attendees to the location in the woods. Morris said they will have Christmas lights, live reindeer, the living room set from the broadcast and more.

“We’ll have warming fires, warming barrels for people to stand near. Anybody in any condition whatsoever will be accommodated,” he said. “We do it for the community. We do it for the church. Anyone who doesn’t have anywhere to be, they are welcome to come out to The Rock Church and celebrate a nice Christmas service.”

This service will be an hour or less.

“This year the Rock Church of Fenton is looking at Christmas Eve as a time for peace and hope. As we finish out a very challenging year, we wanted to remind people that there is a message of hope that goes far beyond the Christmas Season,” according to a press release. “In years past, we have hosted large indoor gatherings that allowed people to celebrate Christmas. This year we want to celebrate still but do it in a safe manner.”

The Rock Church invites the public to Christmas Eve service, which will be outdoors. On Christmas Day, a prerecorded Christmas service by The Rock Church will air on two networks.
A REASON
sister, along with his stepmother and her two sons and daughter. At age 6, his father gave him to a couple that his stepmother knew. He said this couple kidnapped them and took them from Michigan to Florida.

They lived with this couple for six years, which he called “the worst time” of his life.

“My God, I was 13. I was out there doing drugs,” he said. “Me and my brothers would go camping for the week. My foster mom never asked us, ‘where are we going?’”

The third foster care home was a similar environment to the first house they lived in in Florida. Fulgenzi lived there for two years before running away at 16.

“I knew if I didn’t change my ways, I was going to prison. I was going down that path,” he said.

At 18, he joined the Army and served for five years. As a buck sergeant, he guarded nuclear missiles in Germany for three years and then went to Fort Hood, Texas.

He describes these traumatic experiences in his life as “hate, fear, hell and nightmare all at one time.”

“It destroyed my life for over 30 years,” Fulgenzi said, adding that he couldn’t get along with anyone. He hated himself and thought he wasn’t worth anything. He has lived in psychiatric wards before, and he used to have anger issues and was sometimes physically destructive. His sister encouraged him to live in a group home and seek help.

In 2009, Fulgenzi learned he had severe post traumatic stress disorder. He went to therapy at a veteran affairs office in Detroit for five years, which he said helped “a lot.”

“We do things in our life to abuse our body. We abuse our minds, too,” he said. He attributes therapy as one of the main reasons why he’s doing much better today, and he retains faith.

“I had to readjust my mind and get the negativity out of my mind. I accomplished that by the grace of God,” Fulgenzi said.

He ended up living in a tent in a park near the border of Waterford and Pontiac for five months. His aunt and uncle, who are more like his parents, helped him find an affordable apartment.

Fulgenzi met the Strygulecs at The Freedom Center. They take him to the store and have him over for holidays.

“It was hard for me to get along with people I didn’t trust. But after knowing them for a year, I had no doubts that I would be in good hands and I was,” he said.

Fulgenzi had stopped drinking for a span of six weeks a few months ago, but then started drinking again. He hasn’t had a drink since Dec. 4, and he hasn’t touched cocaine since April 2019.

“When you drink all your life off and on, that’s what you’re used to. When you think you have problems, you go right back to that,” he said, adding that he got to a point where he had to stop.

Fulgenzi is on disability and receives Social Security. He spends his free time exercising, lifting weights, biking, coloring, and helping his neighbors. He also crochets. It’s a skill one of his foster mothers taught him.

“God put me here for a reason. I’m not leaving this place. So I’m still here,” he said.

An elderly couple lives across the street from him, and this summer Fulgenzi started taking out their trash and recycling. He also fixed their pathway by relaying pavers. Over 30 years and five years of therapy, Fulgenzi said he still has problems, but he doesn’t have a temper anymore. He has a few medical issues. One is leukemia.

“Today, nothing controls me. It took a lot of years. It was a long process. I’m happy today,” he said. The advice he would give other people in similar situations is to learn how to trust people and to never give up.

“Even though you don’t trust, don’t be afraid to ask somebody for help,” Fulgenzi said. “The worst thing you can do is give up on yourself.”

Bob Strygulec said their dream with Center of Hope was to help people and create these types of relationships with people. “You got to trust somebody in order to allow somebody to help them. If you don’t trust anybody, you don’t move forward. We really feel that we need to earn the right of that trust,” he said.
Meet Elf, the paddle-boarder

Martie Reigle didn’t let ice and frigid waves stop her from spreading Christmas cheer on Lake Fenton. Dressed as an elf, she paddle-boarded six miles of shoreline on Lake Fenton on Dec. 15 and talked with children who wanted to get messages to Santa. She threw out prizes to the kids and waved to the adults who walked out to chat. She said, “Even with slippery plastic elf shoes, I did not fall in. Merry Christmas to all!” Submitted photos

“It’s sad, but that’s where we’re at,” Tibbitts said. “COVID has made things quite a bit more difficult. It’s encouraging though.”
People will need to boot up in the parking lot and there are no storage lockers available for the time being.
With the temperature drop and snow guns, Tibbitts said they feel lucky to have half the mountain open. “It’s been amazingly good skiing and there’s higher than ever interest. We’re encouraged, but it poses challenges.”

MT. HOLLY IS ABIDING BY COVID-19 RESTRICTIONS AND RULES.
Outdoors
• Be courteous to others at all times, give people space and ask before boarding chairlifts.
• Face coverings will be required when 6 feet of social distancing between guests and/or staff is not possible. This includes:
  - in the lift line
  - The base of the hill areas between the lodge and the lift lines
  - When riding the chairlift
  - During lesson
• In the lift line, maintain a tip to tail (the length of a ski from the front tip to the back “tail” of the ski) distance from people in front of you.
• More outdoor seating has been made available this season.
• Check skimtholly.com for hours of operation, snow conditions, and operating policies before visiting.

Indoors
• Face coverings must be worn at all times.
• Social distancing of 6 feet is required indoors.
• Hand sanitizer stations will be readily available in common areas.
• Staff will regularly clean and disinfect high touch surfaces and common areas.
• Under the current rule, there will be no indoor seating available for either dining or gathering.

Tibbitts said the biggest thing for guests to remember is to wear their masks and practice social distancing. “If you don’t do anything else, wear your mask so that we can get through this,” he said.

Mt. Holly seeks to hire more part-time and full-time employees. “If you don’t mind the cold, we’re still looking for employees,” he said.

Douglas Trelling Rounds
1934 – 2020

Douglas Trelling Rounds – age 86 of Zebulon, GA flew West peacefully on his final flight Wednesday, December 9, 2020. Douglas (Doug) was born in Dowagiac, on June 3, 1934. At a young age Doug realized in order to be successful in life he would have to work hard to overcome some of the obstacles that he faced growing up. And that he did. Graduating from Holly High School in 1952 (with Honors) in Holly, where he was class president, he also excelled in all high school sports. Upon finishing high school, he even received offers from the Yankees and the Cubs for a baseball career. But since he was a young boy, Doug had a keen interest in airplanes and elected to pursue his dreams in aviation instead of baseball. After high school he attended Western Michigan College to receive his pilot’s license and ratings. In 1953 he enlisted in the United States Air Force serving a year before being RF’d (reduction in force) and he was honorably discharged. He was hired by Delta Air Lines December 3, 1956 and had a 38 year career with Delta as an airline pilot before he officially retired June 3, 1994. During his career with Delta, he flew every different type of airplane the airline owned from Douglas DC-3’s to Boeing 747’s. Not only was he a pilot for Delta, but also a Flight Instructor and Check Airman. Doug was a member of the Air Line Pilots Association and served on its Safety and Accident Investigation Committees for many years.

In his personal aviation life, he was a respected aviation historian with several articles published. He built and owned the second oldest (1967) registered airport in Pike County, Georgia that still exists today. Doug served his local community in Planning and Zoning for Pike County, the Kiwanis Club, the Elk’s Club, and he volunteered for numerous events in Pike County. Doug had a love for dogs, his farm, his airport, and antique cars, but most of all, he loved and cherished his wife Bonnie more than anything. Doug was preceded in death by his father, Francis Charles Rounds; his mother, Marjorie Rounds; his brother, Don Rounds; by his loving wife Bonnie of 67 years; his brother, Don Rounds; daughter, Leslie Ratliff (Eddie); son, Doug Rounds Jr (Mark); son, Nathan Rounds (Linda); six grandchildren; and 10 great grandchildren. A memorial service for Douglas Trelling Rounds will be announced at a later date.
