Vaccine appointment website crashes

Fenton Township reaches 1,000 reported COVID-19 cases

By Hannah Ball

Genesee County does not have enough vaccines for the number of people approved to receive them yet, and the site to register for an appointment was down the night of Monday, Jan. 18.

The county was still experiencing technical difficulties going into Tuesday, Jan. 19.

Last week, Dr. Pamela Hackert, who leads the Genesee County Medical Health Office, said they haven’t been able to receive the number of vaccines they requested from the state, and the state isn’t able to receive the number of vaccines requested from the federal government.

Those in phases 1A and 1B, who are approved to get vaccinations, hit another snag when the state was unable to receive the number of vaccines requested from the federal government.

Developers one step closer to building 83-bed assisted living facility on Silver Lake Road

By Hannah Ball

On Monday, Jan. 18, the Fenton Township Board of Trustees voted to rezone a property on Silver Lake Road that would allow for an assisted living facility.

The 8.26-acre vacant property, just north of Price’s Airport, is rezoned from Horizon Park PUD to DMK Assisted Living PUD, Planned Unit Development. This is one step closer to the 83-bed assisted living facility developers, which is DMK Development Group, plan to build.

LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITY

— Compiled by Sharon Stone —

MichiganVotes.org is a free, non-partisan website created by the Mackinac Center for Public Policy to provide concise, non-partisan, plain-English descriptions of every bill and vote in the Michigan House and Senate. This report was released Friday, Jan. 15. The 101st Michigan Legislature held its first session Wednesday, Jan. 13. In the coming weeks, the House and Senate will organize the policy and appropriations committees through which new bills (usually) must pass on their way to potential enactment. No votes are expected before then. The majority caucuses in the House and Senate (both Republican) sometimes signal priorities with the first bills they introduce. With no voting, this report describes those bills plus some others of general interest.

2021 Senate Bill 1: Limit state health department epidemic orders without legislative approval

Introduced by Sen. Lana Theis (R) on Jan. 13, 2021, to restrict emergency orders the state health department (the Department of Health and Human Services) may impose in response to an epidemic to 28 days unless an extension is approved by the legislature. A state Public Health Code adopted by the legislature in 1978 gives the department the authority to issue such orders.

Foundation, trusts give $20,000 to Young Life

Helps cover shortfall from in-person banquet canceled due to COVID-19 pandemic

Compiled by Sharon Stone

The Nartel Family Foundation, The AG Bishop Charitable Trust, and The Stella and Frederick Loeb Charitable Trust have together provided $20,000 to Young Life Genesee County to help cover a nearly $50,000 shortfall from its annual banquet due to COVID-19 restrictions. An additional $37,716 came in via a fiveday 5for50k campaign for $50,000.

Young Life’s largest fundraiser is traditionally held in-person in May of every year, covering much of the budgetary needs for the host year and part of the following year. The pandemic forced Young Life to abandon the in-person fundraising dinner for an online version that fell far short of the 300-400 normally in attendance.

“We are so grateful for their support,” said Sue Frownfelter, area director of Young Life Genesee County. “Without their generosity, we would be forced to make deep cuts in the programming of Young Life Genesee County. With more than 25,000 youth in our area, we did not want to curtail our efforts to provide healthy friendship and adult support at a time when many need it most. They truly have been an answer to prayer.”

Young Life Genesee County currently serves nearly 7,800 youth in Fenton, Lake Fenton, Grand Blanc, Linden and Flint.

“The Nartel Family Foundation is proud to support Young Life with their continued outreach to the youth of Genesee County,” said Timm Allen, communications officer and trustee of The Nartel Family Foundation.

Young Life is an international faith-based non-profit organization that has been active in Genesee County since 1965. Late businessman Woody Skaff invited numerous other business associates to help spearhead the outreach to unchurched youth. Since then, thousands of area youth have been positively impacted by the high-energy programming and one-on-one relational mentoring that occurs with Young Life staff and volunteers.

Young Life activities for high school aged youth and WyldLife activities for middle school aged youth currently are available in Fenton, Grand Blanc, Linden and Lake Fenton.

Four full-time and two part-time staff head teams of trained volunteers.

If interested in learning more about Young Life of Genesee County or helping with the outreach efforts, contact Sue Frownfelter at sfrownfelter@genco.younglife.org or (810) 391-2189.
‘Honoring Our Veterans’

Back by popular demand, every issue of the Times in 2021 will feature a local veteran.

By Sharon Stone

Keep sending in your veterans.

In every 2020 issue of the Times, a veteran with ties to the tri-county area was featured on page 3.

This feature was a combined initiative between the View Newspaper Group and the generosity of Roger Sharp Sr., owner of Sharp Funeral Homes.

Because of the overwhelming success and positive feedback from the Times’ readers, this feature will continue and be sponsored by Sharp Funeral Homes throughout 2021.

Sharp, who has long been an advocate for the military men and women who serve our country, generously agreed to continue sponsoring this feature.

The military personnel to be featured must live in the tri-county area or have ties to someone in this area. They must have been honorably discharged. The individual featured would not have had to serve in a foreign war, just served in one of the branches of the military – Army, Navy, Marines, Air Force or the Coast Guard.

The Times encourages families to submit the local veterans in their lives even if they have died. The Times is proud to honor all of our veterans. There is no cost to submit your veteran’s information.

If you have a friend or loved one that you would like to feature on this page, please submit their full name, hometown, rank at time of discharge, years served and in which branch of the military. Be sure to include a list of medals or honors they may have received. If they did serve in a foreign war, list the war or war era.

Please send this information, with their military photo or other preferred photo of the veteran to Tri-County Times, 256 N. Fenway Dr., Fenton, MI 48430. You may also submit all of this information by emailing Editor Sharon Stone at ststone@tctimes.com.

Sharin’ the spotlight

By Editor Sharon Stone

W ho doesn’t like to get a birthday card or a check in the mail? These nice surprises make up for all the credit card statements, junk mail and bills that never seem to stop showing up in our mailboxes.

With the Times’ recent switch to having the U.S. Postal Service take care of our delivering, your local newspaper also finds you via your mailbox.

Throughout the tri-county area, there’s a combination of walking and driving routes. My family’s mailbox is at the road. Our mail carriers over the years have always been friendly. They usually wave with their hand filled with envelopes ready to go into the next mailbox.

After some research, I found that a typical walking route could be up to 12 miles long. Can you imagine walking 12 miles a day carrying a heavy postal bag? Imagine if it were 100 degrees on a beautiful July day or zero degrees on a bitterly cold January day. I can’t. One study found that a mail carrier with a walking route could be taking 1,906 steps per hour, which adds up to about 15,250 steps in an eight-hour shift.

Walking mail carriers have to be ready for anything. Unfriendly dogs require them to carry pepper spray. Some carry small treats so they can make friends with the dogs they see every day. Sometimes wasps make nests inside mailboxes.

Mail carriers do more than just deliver mail

Now that the ground is covered with snow, it’s important to keep the sidewalks and paths to our mailboxes clear and safe. I’m sure your mail carrier will appreciate not having to trip over something or sliding on ice.

Mail carriers driving one of the big boxy mail trucks have their own issues to deal with, such as impatient motorists coming too close to them as they pass on a busy road. The snow piles that generally end up along the edge of the road and underneath roadside mailboxes can be dangerous. If you have a difficult time getting to your own mailbox, your mail carrier will too.

Over the years, mail carriers get to know the families on their route. There have been stories of when mail carriers noticed that mail had piled up inside a mailbox. Out of concern for their customer, some have called 911 only to find out that the resident had a health issue and needed help.

I ran into one of our mail carriers one time while out with my husband. She somehow recognized me and as soon as I asked her if she delivered our mail, she instantly knew my address and where I lived. She told me fun stories about my neighborhood. I could tell she enjoyed her job.

So, to all of our mail carriers who endure the rain, snow, heat, cold, dogs, cats, junk mail, distracted drivers and more just to deliver a greeting card, check or bill to us, we appreciate how you keep an eye on our neighborhoods.

It’s THAT season again...

Should students learn in person or virtually right now?

“Each school district has a different set of circumstances to deal with, classroom size, hallway size, number of students in a class/building. One size will not fit all, sorry to say. This is a different world that we live in now. Change is difficult and parents/people want everything back the way it was before, that isn’t possible.”

Delynn Fairbanks, Linden

“In person! My kids do not seem to learn anything from me. Something that takes the teacher five minutes to do takes us an hour. I applaud people that can make it work. We cannot.”

Andrew Butts, Gaines

“Honestly, I think it should be based on the needs of the individual students, considering some may have health issues, among others, that might warrant virtual learning. Both should be offered since every parent has their own opinions about the pandemic and their children’s education."

Fenton students return for in-person learning

Principal says about 75 percent of students chose in-person learning

By Hannah Ball

Fenton High School returned to in-person learning Tuesday, Jan. 19 after weeks of only virtual learning.

Principal Laura Lemke said approximately 260 students did virtual learning during this past fall semester. When they returned Tuesday, they had a net gain of 30 people in the building because more chose in-person learning. Lemke said 50 more students returned to in-person, while some chose virtual instead.

FHS has approximately 1,180 students this year. Lemke said about 75 percent of students are learning in-person and 25 percent are learning at home.

“That’s pretty consistent for a lot of districts in the county,” she said. “About 75 percent want face-to-face, 25 percent are doing some sort of virtual.”

Fenton’s schedule offers three classes a day. Students stay in those classes for three weeks, and then they switch to another three classes for the next three weeks.

This helps minimize the number of people students interact with in case of a COVID-19 outbreak.

Local COVID-19 cases

Fenton Township reached exactly 1,000 reported COVID-19 cases as of Monday, Jan. 18, according to the Genesee County Health Department.

Township officials estimate the township’s population size to be approximately 17,000.

Argentine Township: 395 cases with a population size of 6,514
Fenton: 646 cases
Linden: 207 cases

GENESEEN COUNTY NUMBERS
AS OF MONDAY, JAN. 18
Cases: 20,353
Deaths: 627
Fatality rate: 3.1 percent
Positivity rate: 8.1 percent

In Michigan, those able to receive a vaccine are in Phases 1A and 1B. Phase 1A consists of healthcare personnel and residents in long-term care facilities. Phase 1B consists of those age 65 and older and frontline essential workers in critical infrastructure.

The Michigan Department of Health and Human Services has a vaccine dashboard showing how many vaccines have been distributed in the state and each county. As of Monday, Jan. 18, 1,049,575 vaccines have been distributed, with 609,375 of those shots coming from Pfizer and 440,200 coming from Moderna.

Genesee County is considered in the low-to-moderate category with 23,425 vaccines distributed. Approximately 14,625 were the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine and 8,800 were the Moderna vaccine.

Oakland County is the only county in Michigan that’s considered to have a “high” vaccine distribution number with 111,400 vaccines distributed. Approximately 97,500 of those were Pfizer and 13,900 were Moderna.

Both vaccines have been approved for ages 18 and up and they involve two doses. Pfizer’s vaccines are recommended to be given 21 days apart and Moderna’s is recommended to be 28 days apart. Those who had a prior COVID-19 infection are approved to get the vaccine, but should wait until they are recovered from the virus and until their quarantine period has ended.

The application link can be found at gchd.us/covid.html. It’s called V-Safe Application and contains a step-by-step guide on how to register for a vaccine appointment.

CAR CRASH

Jenkins was a third-year computer engineering student. The university had counselors available for students Monday. According to the university, Jenkins was involved within residence education and housing services and served as the resident assistant for the “Women in Engineering” community in McNair Hall.

Police said she was driving a red 2005 Pontiac Aztek and was traveling westbound on U.S. 41, in Michigamme Township. A 19-year old Brighton woman was also in the vehicle.

Jenkins reportedly lost control of the Pontiac and hit two eastbound vehicles, police said. She died from her injuries.

Her passenger was transported to UP Health System Marquette with serious injuries, according to WLUC. Two other drivers involved in the crash also were transported to the hospital for treatment of injuries.

Two memorable Inauguration Days

Today at noon, Joseph Robinette Biden will take the oath of office and become the 46th President of the United States.

It promises to be a very memorable Inauguration Day in a number of ways.

These include the presence of some 25,000 National Guard Troops in Washington, D.C. providing security, numerous streets and bridges going into the Capitol being blocked off, fences erected, and attendance at the event being severely limited.

There’s tension in the air and as things have unfolded in the last few months, it’s difficult to put it all into perspective.

However, what can be said is that in the past there have been other difficult or memorable Inauguration Days when there were deep divisions in our country.

One in particular stands out — the 1861 inauguration of President Abraham Lincoln. Here’s what happened.

On Nov. 6, 1860, Abraham Lincoln was elected as our 16th President.

A number of people in the southern states were adamantly opposed to him because they believed he would eliminate slavery.

Indeed, seven states seceded from the Union between his election and his inauguration on March 4, 1861.

This opposition manifested itself in a number of ways including:

• A mob unsuccessfully tried to break into the Capitol Building on Feb. 13, 1861 to disrupt the counting of the states’ certified electoral ballots.
• Two assassination plots were uncovered to kill Lincoln on his way to the inauguration.
• There were numerous other rumored plots to kidnap or kill him or disrupt the government.

As to disruptions, there was a plan, which involved a march on Washington by insurrectionists to seize control of the government.

As a result of all of this and more, all available military personnel were called upon to provide extensive inaugural security.

This included green-coated sharpshooters on the roof of the Capitol Building and the carriage that Mr. Lincoln took to the inauguration being entirely surrounded by marshals and cavalry to the point that it was almost hidden from view.

No one knew if Lincoln would be shot that day.

President Lincoln’s inaugural address also was memorable as he called for unity in a time of conflict.

Everyone has an opinion on recent events. It is my belief that we all want the violence to stop while recognizing the right to free speech.

Hopefully, this will come to pass.

REZONING

The proposed project is called Silver Lake Road Assisted Living. The Planning Commission recommended approval for the project Oct. 8, and the Board of Trustees discussed it Nov. 9. During these discussions, the Fenton Township Master Plan classified this area as Low Density Residential and township officials debated over whether an assisted living facility is classified as low density residential development.

The Planning Commission conducted a review of the Master Plan.

Township Zoning Administrator Mike Deem said the Planning Commission reviewed the master plan and this area was classified as low density residential when the surrounding areas were medium density residential.

Linden is more comparable to medium or high density residential, Deem said, and it’s close to Fenton and U.S. 23 exits and entrances.

Based on these factors, the low density residential classification was determined to be an error and it should be classified as medium density.

Deem said the Planning Commission will start the process of amending the future land use map.

“The Planning Commission has found that the use is consistent with that area,” Deem said.

Amending the master plan will be a separate agenda item the board will vote on.

Treasurer John Tucker, who’s also on the Planning Commission, said they debated about if the parcel should be classified as high density residential instead.

The amendment was approved with the following conditions, according to Fenton Township meeting minutes:
• The maximum building height shall not exceed 29 feet, unless the method for fire protection is reviewed and approved by the fire department, in which case it may exceed 29 feet but shall not exceed 47 feet.
• Minimum setbacks shall be established at the time of site plan review and approval and shall be a minimum of 10 feet.
• The maximum number of beds shall not exceed 83.
• The landscape and buffering plan shall be subject to Planning Commission approval.
• The developer of the PUD project shall pay to Fenton Township the total cost of any necessary upgrades to the sanitary sewer system, as determined by the Township.

Wujciak leads Powers, collects D3 state title

By David Troppens

“Controlling the uncontrollable.”

That’s how Powers senior Lara Wujciak described the 2020 girls swimming and diving season that didn’t end until 2021 due to the COVID-19 pandemic. But when Flint Powers and Wujciak were able to finish their season Saturday at the Division 3 state meet held at Lake Orion High School, they were in total control.

Wujciak won an individual event state championship and the Chargers’ squad, made up of three tri-county state qualifiers, placed eighth at the D3 event.

Wujciak won the 100 yard butterfly and took third in the 100 breaststroke. She also helped two relays place. Meanwhile, Lauren Taylor competed in two individual events and two relays while Katelyn Iordanou competed in a relay as well.

Wujciak was the area’s biggest star. She entered the 100 butterfly as the top seed with a time of 56.59 seconds. She improved upon that time, winning with a time of 56.77 seconds. She won the race by .35 seconds against second-place Cranbrook Kingswood’s Hale Oal. Wujciak led at the halfway point with a time of 26.69 seconds, .13 seconds ahead of Oal.

Olsen, Tigers have a day to remember at state meet

Fenton junior collects fourth state title, second runner-up finish

By David Troppens

Grand Rapids — Gracie Olsen added another individual event state championship to her resume Saturday at the Division 2 State Swimming and Diving Championships held at Northview High School.

The Fenton junior defended her D2 100-yard butterfly state championship, posting a time of 55.18 seconds, narrowly matching her seeded time of 55.17. She won last year’s title with a time of 55.57 seconds.

She also collected her second individual event runner-up finish of her career, taking second in the 200 freestyle with a time of 1:50.61. Olsen was the defending state champion in that event as well, but fell one spot short of repeating.

The 100 butterfly was Olsen’s final individual event on Saturday. She dominated the event from the start, finishing the first 50 yards in 26.06 seconds, .18 seconds ahead of second-place Rhian Russell. She increased her lead during the second half of the event, winning the race by 1.07 seconds.

“It’s really special.” Olsen said about defending her championship. “It’s something I never take for granted. I just couldn’t do it without the people I have and everything that has led up to it. I’m really thankful for everyone. It’s just really super special.”

Olsen solidified herself as Fenton’s greatest swimmer in school history. She started her career by earning an individual state championship in the 200 individual medley her freshman year. She also was the runner-up in the 100 butterfly with a time of 55.69 seconds. Along with winning the 100 butterfly last year, she also took the top spot in the 200 freestyle with a time of 1:48.98.

Fenton places seventh in final team standings

By David Troppens

Grand Rapids — For a long time it looked like the Division 2 state swim and diving championships were never going to happen during the 2020 fall season.

They were suspended twice and 2020 came and went. Yet, the three Division state meets finally did happen and the Fenton varsity girls swim team made sure they made an impact while at the D2 event, earning an individual state championship, a runner-up finish and two other All-State performances during the Tigers’ seventh-place team finish at the D2 meet held at Northview High School on Saturday.

“It was awesome,” one of Fenton’s senior swimmers Abigail Dolliver said. “We had a lot of high expectations this year. We are definitely the strongest we’ve ever been. It definitely was an honor to anchor the last relay to end the season, especially with this being our longest season and this being our third state meet after they canceled it (two other times).

“A blessing in disguise is a great way to put it. I’m very grateful that my last season was my longest season, even if it wasn’t exactly the way we wanted it to be. It was the most time I got to spend with these girls.”

“This season definitely had high highs and low lows,” sophomore Sophie Stefanac said. “We had meets canceled and rescheduled, but today was definitely one of the highest highs and I’d definitely do it again. It’s a great time.”

“I just love the fact that these girls got to finish the season on their own terms,” Fenton varsity girls swim coach Brad Jones said. “We had some great swims. We moved up as a team overall. We finished seventh which is great for us.

“This is an amazing group of girls. There is no downside to spending extra time with them. It certainly was an emotional roller coaster. It was not knowing when you were going to compete, but I would spend another six months with this group. ... They support each other and that’s what it’s all about. Just to finish the season as they were supposed to for our seniors and walking out with their heads up with some great swims. I’m so proud of the girls.”

Gracie Olsen finished her season with her fourth individual event state championship of her career and her second individual runner up finish. She won the 100 yard butterfly (55.18) and took second in the 200 freestyle (1:50.61). More about her individual performances can be found in another story in this publication.

The Tigers’ best team effort tied the best relay finish by a Fenton team at the state meet. The 400 freestyle relay team of Olsen, Stefanac, Delaney Fries and Dolliver tied last year’s third-place finish at the state meet, earning that placing again this year with a time of 3:36.71.

“It definitely meant a lot because I haven’t been on the relays with these girls before,” Stefanac said. “I’ve seen it but I’ve never got to experience. Today was definitely really special.”

“The relay was the best feeling,” Olsen said. “With swimming there is a lot of individual tendencies. You swim your own race and there’s not a ton of relays. So when you get a chance to be with your team in that one event and you get that feeling you are all together it’s awesome because it really feels like a team sport.”

Stefanac earned All-State honors in an individual event as well. She tied for sixth in the 100 backstroke (59.19) to earn that status. She also placed ninth in the 100 freestyle (54.31).

“I was close to both of my best times and I was proud of both of those (events),” Stefanac said. “Our relays did really good. I’m really proud of what we’ve done today.”

Two others had individual events. Maddie Kazmierski capped her career by placing 13th in the 100 butterfly (1:01.14) and 17th in the 500 freestyle (5:22.95). Finally, Dolliver placed 13th in the 100 breaststroke (1:09.00).

The Tigers had two other relays place. The 200 medley relay team of Olsen, Dolliver, Haley Alexander and Fries placed ninth (1:51.88) while the 200 freestyle team of Stefanac, Rose Haney, Fries and Dolliver placed 11th (1:41.44).

“We went through this season not knowing if we were going to have another meet, and it was nice to know it has finally come to an end,” Stefanac said. “We finally had a goal and we finally reached it.”

This season she also competed on two Fenton relays, helping the 400 freestyle relay team to a third-place All-State finish for the second straight year.

The team of Olsen, Sophie Stefanac, Delaney Fries and Abigail Dolliver posted a third-place time of 3:36.71, tied for the best relay finish in school history. Last year the 400 freestyle relay team that also included Olsen, Fries and Dolliver posted a time of 3:34.55 to earn their third place at the state meet. Lillie Kromer was last year’s fourth participant. Olsen also competed in the 200 medley with Dolliver, Halee Alexander and Fries, taking ninth with a time of 1:51.38.

For a quick moment Olsen thought she had won two individual event state titles as she did a year ago. She won the 100 backstroke with a time of 1:50.61, beating Samantha Clifford (1:52.76) easily. However, little did Olsen know, Portage Northern’s Hannah Williams raced in the first heat (traditionally the slowest swimmers in an event) and posted a time of 1:49.42 while the other two heats worked on getting prepared for their races, not knowing about the time. That’s why Olsen thought she won when she finished her race.

“I didn’t know that until after the fact,” Olsen said. “I finished and was like, ‘Oh my gosh, I got first’ and Jones was like ‘No, you got second. There was a girl that went 1:49 earlier,’ so that hurt a bit. I was happy for her, and it was a little bit of an off-race for me. I didn’t feel great. But I was able to come back in the fly and feel good. I was happy about that. And then the relay made up for all of that, which was good. It was really great.”

“Not being able to swim against her makes a huge difference,” Fenton varsity girls swim coach Brad Jones said. “I think head-to-head Gracie wins all day long, and she knows it. But it certainly wasn’t a bad day knowing the way the season went and knowing the way we had to train and rest.”

Olsen has one more season left and will get a chance to add to her already impressive list of state accomplishments next year.

“I might (do the 200 freestyle) next year,” Olsen said. “It will be my third year if I do it. That event is one I’ve done consistently since I was young. It’s always been that one event that I found my spark in.

“I may want to switch it up next year. Maybe if I can get my 100 backstroke down to a 1:01 by next year maybe that’s something I will do. Maybe I’ll switch it up and do the 100 freestyle. We’ll see.”

WUJCIAK

Wujciak competed with two relays and was ahead of Oal. She blew out the field in the final 50 yards.

“For the most part, my mind was completely empty but adrenaline was skyrocketing through my body,” Wujciak said about the event. “The only thought that really went through my mind was my team. I knew that it was my time to give back to the amazing four years that Powers Catholic swim and dive had given me. It was an honor to be able to represent my school, family coaches and team in such a positive manner.”

Wujciak also earned All-State honors during her final prep state meet by taking third in the 100 backstroke with a time of 58.74. She improved upon her seeded time of 58.74 seconds.

Wujciak competed with two relays as well. She teamed with Abigail Merz, Taylor and Olivia Camara to place eighth in the 200 medley relay (1:53.13) while also teaming with Camara, Emily Bhagat and Merz to take ninth in the 200 freestyle relay (1:42.72).

“I think I swam extremely well,” Wujciak said. “It’s all about being caught up in the moment and creating a positive atmosphere. At the end of the day, I didn’t pay much attention to my times because all I wanted to do was get my hand on the wall.

“I am so proud of this team. I think the amazing performance Powers had derived from the energetic atmosphere we created at every single practice. Our goal was to seize this opportunity that was given to us after being taken away so many times.”

Taylor, a junior, also competed in two individual events. She scored points in the 100 butterfly with a 16th-place time of 1:01.89. She also took 22nd in the 200 individual medley (2:04.30).

Finally, Taylor teamed with fellow tri-county swimmer Iordanou, Emily Snyder and Bhagat to place 17th in the 400 freestyle relay (3:55.90).
We thank those who are certain of their mission during these uncertain times...

Marjorie A. Kimble
1924 – 2021

Marjorie A. Kimble – age 96. Marge Kimble was a Stars and Stripes girl—born on the Fourth of July, 1924. Her parents were Tom and Harriet Swingle. Her beloved sister, Shirley Rizzo, will be 100 in February. Marge died on January 15. Except for a short time during World War II, she lived her entire life in Linden and became, in a way, its matriarch. In 1943, she married Ralph Kimble, her only boyfriend ever. They owned a clothing store and a Ben Franklin store in Linden until the late 1950s, after which they had long careers as manufacturers’ reps. They were equal partners: year after year, Marge, sample cases in hand, visited retail stores throughout Detroit and the surrounding area to see her clients. And she traveled to trade shows in major U.S. cities—a businesswoman when there weren’t so many. Ralph died in 1997. They had two children, Joe (MaryAnn Pierce) and Karen DeBenedet (d. 2018); two grandchildren, Anthony DeBenedet (Anna) and Emily Brooks (Rowan); and three great-grandchildren, Ava, Mia, and Lola DeBenedet. She was Aunt Marge to Tom Chapman (Mary) and a cousin to Jane Davis. She was immensely proud of her family, as parents tend to be. And to Marge and Ralph, their family owes everything. Marge was a life master at bridge, a world traveler, an avid reader (thank you, Linden Library), a lifelong member of the Linden Presbyterian Church, a big sports fan, a committed bargain shopper, a sweetsaholic, and a kind soul. She had a wide circle of friends who loved her and visited her in her home right until the end. The family is deeply grateful to her unfailing longtime helpers: Jane Davis, Kathy Metvijer, JoAnne and John Bond, Flora and Bernard Bedell, Phyllis and Fritz Balmer, Jim and Jake Wambold, Doreen and Tom Bollinger, Martie Lind, Harvey Bartel, John Felch, Bev Smaka, Joe and Mary Sue Duffy, Colleen Weston-Rebock, Laura Briney, Dr. Mary Marshall, and many others. We will miss Marge terribly. But when the time came, she was clear in her wishes: “I’ve led a good, long life, and I’m ready to go.” Donations in her memory may be made to the Linden Mills Historical Society (PO Box 823, Linden, MI 48451)—an organization that was dear to her heart. Or consider donating in her memory to an organization of your choice. There will be a memorial service at a later date. RIP, Marge Kimble. 1-2-O (family sign-off).
