Linden creates Mill Advisory Committee

City faces high costs, preservation issues in doing upgrades to Linden Mill building

By Hannah Ball

This is part I of a two-part series. Part II will be published Wednesday, Sept. 8.

Foundation repairs. Lead paint. Accessibility issues.

These are a few of the problems facing the Linden Mill building. For years, Linden City Council has discussed doing upgrades to the structure, but they face high costs and historical preservation restrictions.

A 2017 report detailed upgrades that could cost approximately $1.67 million.

“There’s a lot of complications because of the location, the lead, the fact that the building is made to be breathable because it’s a mill,” said Mayor Danielle Cusson.

On Monday, Aug. 23, the Linden City Council voted to reestablish the Mill Advisory Committee. The council established one in April 2019 to last one year, and it was not continued in 2020 due to the pandemic. The committee’s role is to gather information and make recommendations to the council regarding grants and fundraising opportunities. It also was established to identify priorities for work on the Mill building while utilizing current plans, assessments, and reports.

The committee will have a maximum membership of five people that includes a representative from the historical society who doesn’t have to live in Linden. The other four members have to live in the city.

The first Linden Mill Building was built between 1845-1850, and the current one was built in 1871, after the first two were destroyed by fires. It was the first structure in Genesee County to be placed on the national register of historic places in 1972.

The Linden Mill building has been evaluated multiple times over the years, including in 2015 by John Dziurman Architects, Ltd, which recommended that the city maintain the building as “historically accurate and functionally leaky.”

Hubbell, Roth & Clark, Inc (HRC) conducted a facility evaluation report in 2017. The building is approximately 6,000 square feet. Design drawings were not available due to the age and history of the facility, according to the report.

Recommendations in 2017 report:

The report recommended reconstructing the porch foundation, fixing the concrete stairs and walkway. The cost estimate is approximately $84,000.

Engineers noted deterioration of the original fieldstone foundation on the building’s exterior, and the cost estimate to either partially or fully remove and replace the foundation is $150,000 to $300,000. The report also found that interior foundation work needs to be done.

Repairs and replacements to the plumbing and HVAC systems were minor; estimated to cost $20,000-$50,000, and upgrades to the electrical system could cost up to $98,000.

The city could make the building more efficient by sealing gaps and adding insulation and a vapor barrier to the walls and roof. However, significant changes would need to be made to the HVAC system and exterior walls of the building.

“This approach does directly conflict with the intent of the Secretary of the Interior’s Standards for Rehabilitation for historic buildings though, and therefore should only be undertaken after careful consideration and with a comprehensive and historically sensitive plan in place for the future life of the building,” according to the report.
We have a running joke in our family that pertains to something serious — what do you put on your hot dog?

My father is adamant that you should have mustard and onion, no ketchup. My mom likes ketchup, and so does my sister. We ask everyone who visits our family, and we make light-hearted judgments accordingly.

I agree with my father for the most part. Undoubtedly, the best toppings on a hot dog are mustard, onions and coney sauce. Toast the bun on the grill so it’s slightly burnt, and you have perfection.

Hot dog toppings are a sacred topic, especially in Michigan, which is home of the best hot dog on the planet — the Koegel Vienna.

So I wasn’t surprised last week when we asked this question to our Facebook followers for a Street Talk question. We received 41 comments and two shares. It’s some of the most engagement I’ve seen on a Street Talk question.

At times, the comments were heated.

Many said they never put ketchup on their hot dog. (These people are correct.) Someone said ketchup is for 5-year-olds, and then someone said to let people enjoy what they want. And that’s fair. I’m certainly not one to judge. I just typically prefer more savory flavors with my Viennas.

Other times, the comments were surprising.

Someone said they put ketchup, mustard, onions and peanut butter on their hot dog. I was flabbergasted reading that, but that man was adamant about his choices, so maybe he’s braver than I am to even try it.

Mainly, I was taking notes and suggestions while reading the comments. Someone said to put kimchi on a hot dog, and I am absolutely trying that.

Sriracha and cilantro? Definitely trying that.

Warm beans and cottage cheese? I will pass on this one. My taste buds say no to cottage cheese, so I will let others enjoy that.

Someone said syrup. I will not be trying that, but the comment got a laugh out of me, so I still appreciated it.

Another person said barbeque sauce, cheese and jalapenos, and I think this man deserves a medal. This sounds so delicious.

I can’t write a column about hot dogs and not mention Flint style conesys. Recipes typically involve ground beef, coney sauce, mustard and onions, and truly, you cannot go wrong here. One of the best gifts you can give non-Michiganders is a Flint style hot dog.

While making sure I was listing ingredients correctly, I discovered there was a Flint-Style Coney Dog Facebook group, which is one of the most Michigan things I’ve ever seen.

According to this page, “A true Flint-style Coney Dog is a Koegel’s hot dog served on a steamed bun with Coney sauce, onions and mustard only. The key is that Flint style must use the dry, loose meat Coney sauce NOT red sauce or chili sauce and NO beans or sauerkraut.”

POLICE RESPOND TO CONTROL TRAFFIC ON FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL

Holly police were on hand at two schools in the Holly Area Schools district for traffic control Monday, Aug. 30, the first day of school. Holly Police Chief Jerry Narsh said the schools experienced similar traffic problems last year, however this first day of school was worse. With so many parents driving their children to Patterson Elementary on Grange Hall Road and Holly Middle School on N. Holly Road, traffic in the parking lots and roads came to a near standstill. Buses were unable to drive into the parking lot at Holly Middle School. Narsh said law enforcement will work with the school district to identify the problem and come up with a solution. He said there were basically too many vehicles arriving at the same time.

Doug and Shelly Tebo honored

Recognized for tireless, compassionate work at Oakwood Cemetery in Fenton

By Sharon Stone

At the Monday, Aug. 23, Fenton City Council meeting, the city celebrated that the Michigan Association of Municipal Cemeteries (MAMC) named Oakwood Cemetery volunteers Doug and Shelly Tebo its Cemeterians of the Year at its conference in Traverse City the week prior.

The Tebos have volunteered with Oakwood for 12 years, with Doug Tebo serving as chair of the cemetery board for much of that time. In a nomination letter submitted by the city in July, many aspects of their service were lauded.

Among the highlights, they:

• Organized the installation of the Baptist Seminary Monument and Bench
• Enhanced the Civil War Monument
• Organized history walk events
• Place a memory tree yearly in November. The community places ornaments in honor of the departed.
• Keep veterans’ markers and service flags placed and in good condition
• Hold proper flag disposal ceremonies
• Reset and clean monuments
• Plant Flowers every spring and autumn
• Repaired stairs
• Maintain cemetery grounds for a pristine appearance
• Organize service groups to help with cemetery clean up and teach the kids history of Oakwood

At the City Council meeting, Mayor Sue Osborn read a proclamation congratulating the two on the award. Osborn said she wanted to thank the Tebo family for representing the city of Fenton and their dedication to Oakwood Cemetery. “Fenton is very proud of them being recognized with this award,” she said.

The cemetery association says the award is given annually to volunteers or staff who “go the extra mile to care for, represent and improve” a cemetery.

After accepting the mayor’s proclamation, Doug Tebo said that the MAMC award is “a community award, you know. The (Department of Public Works) guys … everybody works on this. But we thank you.”

Fenton City Clerk Jennifer Kienast sent in a letter dated July 12 to the MAMC board members nominating the Tebos for this award.

Dan Czarnecki, the former director of the department of public works, had nominated the Tebos back in 2019, just prior to him leaving Fenton for a similar position with another municipality. The timing was off for 2019 and then COVID slowed the process by canceling the conference in 2020.

“Some people I can think of were presented with this well-deserved award,” he said. He added that he hopes that the community could come together and provide the Tebos with a golf cart or gator type vehicle to help them get around the cemetery rather than using Doug’s old small pickup truck.

HOT DOG TOPPINGS

Chicago-style hot dogs are a close second for me. The combination of a hot dog, mustard, relish, onion, pickles, peppers (I know some recipes include tomato slices) is so satisfying. But really, when you’re in Chicago, the best hot dog is the vendor’s favorite way to make it. Trust the chef.

In the show “Queer Eye,” the Fab Five gave a makeover to a fire department and Antoni taught the firefighters how to make hot dogs slightly fancier than only with mustard and onions.

One recipe was pickled carrots and honey mustard. I’ve had them, and I implore everyone to try them. A strong 10/10.

Another recipe was chipotle mayo and crushed Ruffles on a hot dog, which deserves an 11/10 because I love anything with crushed chips.

Ultimately, the best toppings to put on a hot dog are what make you the happiest.
Delivering Hope’s Founder and President, Kristen Sobanski, started the organization in 2015 with assistance from her husband, and co-founder, Eric Sobanski. After becoming parents to four children, Kristen was inspired by one of Mahatma Gandhi’s most renowned phrases: “Be the change you want to see in the world.”

And so, she became the change that she wanted to see in the world.

Delivering Hope is a proud member of The Fenton & Linden Regional Chamber of Commerce, giving them a platform to reach all community members in need. On Bealfred Drive in Fenton, Mich., volunteers of Delivering Hope come together to brainstorm the most efficient and helpful ways to improve the lives of children and their families.

By hosting various programs, partnering with other organizations, and conducting giveaways, Delivering Hope is able to achieve their literal mission of “delivering hope” to countless individuals throughout Fenton and Linden.

Fenton Area Schools and Linden Community Schools work alongside Delivering Hope to ensure that all children have access to nutrition, educational programs, and a support system. Through partnership with local schools, the organization provides school-age children with an equal opportunity toward success by feeding their minds and body.

School cafeterias have more of an impact on children than you might think. More than 21 million children qualify for free or price-reduced meals at schools throughout the country, and that school-provided lunch could be the only food a child has access to. With that, Delivering Hope begged the question, “What about summer vacation?”

Delivering Hope has partnered with local schools and the Food Bank of Eastern Michigan’s BackPack Program to guarantee that children have food to eat while school is out-of-session. Without federally-funded breakfasts and lunches throughout the summer months, many families are under the pressure of providing three meals to their family due to food insecurity. For a child to have to wonder and fear where their next meal will come from, they are losing the privilege of being a child.

In the past, Delivering Hope has participated in fundraisers or giveaways hosted by other organizations. Over the past month, Fenton Center of Hope, a charity organization, hosted a “Back to School Blast” event in which children and families had access to free school supplies and necessities. For more events like this, visit Delivering Hope’s Facebook page at “@DeliveringHopeforkids.”

To be a change you would like to see in the world, you can make a difference by visiting Delivering Hope’s website at www.deliveringhopeforkids.org to make donations, learn about future events, and more. To recognize John and Gail Strayer and Mark Suchowski for their service to Fenton schools

By Sharon Stone

The Fenton Education Foundation will host its 2021 Black Tie Awards Dinner on Thursday, Sept. 9 to honor John and Gail Strayer and Mark Suchowski. The Strayers are the 2020 recipient of The State Bank Community Contribution to Education Award and Suchowski is the recipient of the Nancy and Edward Petruska Lifetime Achievement in Education Award.

The event is being held at The Laundry. It begins with cocktails at 6 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $250 each.

The Black Tie Dinner celebrates the academic achievement and careers of Fenton’s community members and school faculty members. This event has sold out since its inception and in 10 years has raised more than $250,000. Each year, the winners of both The State Bank Community Contribution to Education Award and The Nancy and Edward Petruska Life Time Achievement in Education Award are invited as guests of honor. The dinner includes a seven-course meal, cocktails and live music. Formal attire is optional.

Mark Suchowski taught at Fenton School beginning in 1994, became assistant principal in 1999 and was principal from 2004 until he retired in 2020. He said his parents instilled in him and his siblings the importance not only of family, but also education. His parents worked several jobs to send all of them to parochial schools from first grade through high school. He earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in English Education in 1984 from Michigan State University.

In the fall of 1984, his career in public education began as a high school English and debate teacher in the Dade County Public Schools in South Florida. He earned a Master of Science in Education from the University of Miami at Coral Gables.

In August of 1994, Suchowski returned to Michigan and landed an English teaching position at Fenton High School. He also served as co-sponsor of the National Honor Society for his first five years at FHS.

Over his 16-plus years as principal, Suchowski said he is most proud of the talented teachers and staff he was able to assemble and work beside as an outstanding staff focused on the importance of building relationships, engaging students, maintaining high standards and developing global citizens.

In 2010, he said he was invited to join the Kiwanis Club of Fenton, and he has enjoyed serving this community for the last 11 years.

He said he’s also proud to work closely with the Key Clubs of both Fenton High School and Lake Fenton High School.

John and Gail Strayer are recipients of The State Bank Community Contribution to Education Award. In addition to their countless hours of dedication to Fenton schools, they also own and run Tanglewood Assisted Living and Memory Care.

Below is a summary of what the Strayers have done with Fenton Area Public Schools:
- Initiated, organized and managed the State Road Craft Show over four years
- Served as president of the State Road PTO over two terms
- Camp counselors at fifth grade camp over two years
- Participated in the organization and management of the State Road Craft Show over four years

Township fills parks commission seat

By Sharon Stone

The Holly Township Board of Trustees voted 3-2 on Aug. 18 to appoint Kurt Miscovich to a vacated seat on the township’s parks commission at the recommendation of Supervisor George Kullis. The seat became vacant when Carrigan Roche, who was elected to the four-year term in November 2020 moved from the Holly area and resigned from the position. Miscovich will serve until Nov. 20, 2024.

Supervisor George Kullis, Clerk Karin Winchester and Trustee Derek Burton voted in favor of appointing Miscovich to the parks board. Treasurer Mark Freeman and Trustee Steve Ruth voted against appointing Miscovich.

Supervisor George Kullis said he received a total of seven resumes in addition to three that were originally received by the parks board.

In a memo to the township board, Kullis wrote that he was happy to see such an interest in their parks and a willingness for people to step up and volunteer their time to serve on the board.

One of the responsibilities the Holly Township Board of Trustees has regarding the parks is to approve its budget.

Kullis said Miscovich stood out as a person who could bring much-needed value to the parks board with his organizational skills, business skills, and his team leadership experience. Being semi-retired, Kullis said Miscovich told him he’d have the time available to invest in the projects.

Kullis also pointed out that the parks director, Toni Brinker, spoke in public comment regarding Miscovich with a positive review.

In his resume, Miscovich wrote that he’s been an avid park user and the parks was one of the reasons why he and his wife moved to Holly. He added that for 30 years, he worked for financial services and technical companies as a manager and lead developer. He has led multi-million dollar projects with a group of developers and he has found ways to save money by reducing or improving the current business processes or programs.

Dear State Representative Mike Mueller and State Senator Ruth Johnson

You were elected to go to Lansing to work on behalf your constituents. But for We Can’t Wait, a group of 5,000 catastrophic auto accident victims and the families who love them, the no-fault insurance reforms passed in 2019 have been nothing short of a nightmare.

Insurance reform was touted as a bipartisan win for Michigan consumers. But with the latest no-fault provisions gutting provider reimbursements and ripping care away from accident survivors with devastating injuries, the only winners seem to be billion-dollar insurance carriers and the lobbyists who push their agenda at the Capitol.

Please fix this law as soon as possible, before any other caregivers are forced out of business – and before any other patients unnecessarily wind up in the hospital, fighting for their lives and terrified about the future.

We elected you to prevent tragedies like the catastrophic care crisis from happening in the first place. Now that it’s here, we desperately need you to stand up and fight for us.

I DON'T KNOW who was complaining about the city spending money buying the butterfly sculpture, but I believe City Manager Lynn Markland and Mayor Sue Osborn are doing a fantastic job. Gerry and Kay Willey donated $18,000 for the city to buy the sculpture so it didn’t cost the city a dime.

WHOEVER WALKS THE grey Weimaraner past Adelaide, I’ve noticed you’ve let it run all over on lawns and left the droppings behind. Be kind and pick up please?

I WAS WALKING my dog in the south part of town when a local woman threatened to call the police on us. What has this town come to?

TUESDAY NIGHT, AUG. 31, I lost my phone by the Linden Millpond. A woman found it, but a man walking a small dog mistook it for his and claimed it. Please. I just need irreplaceable photos on the SD card. Turn it in to the police. No questions. Thank you.

NO MASTER PLAN discussions. No communication about how COVID relief funding will be spent. Five canceled board meetings since January because, ‘There aren’t enough items for an agenda.’ Disregarding our community’s history like yesterday’s garbage. Tyrone Township desperately needs a new supervisor. Clerk and treasurer need to go, too.

I JUST READ a letter that the Allegan County Health Department sent to a family claiming their child might have been exposed to COVID and if they didn’t comply with health department orders they would end up in court. If some government person shows up at my door, it won’t be pretty.

Event to honor first responders during 20-year anniversary of 9/11 attacks

By Hannah Ball

This is the seventh year for one of Holly’s most popular events — HollyDays.

On Saturday, Sept. 11 and Sunday, Sept. 12, the public is invited to celebrate Holly’s families, communities and history with a parade, activities, the farmers market and more.

“It’s surprisingly all coming together very easily. I expected a lot of groups wouldn’t be interested because of COVID, but it seems like everyone is so excited to see some normal coming back,” said Sarah McCanney, event organizer and Holly Village Parks commissioner. “So much of the community is rallying together to do this.”

The ax-wielding Carry Nation impersonator is coming back, which is a crowd favorite.

Unofficially, HollyDays got its start as the Carry Nation Festival years ago, celebrating this American prohibitionist who was famous for using a hatchet to demolish barrooms. The event was revamped in 2015, when the village of Holly celebrated its Sesquicentennial.

Local chief on being named Grand Marshal and the 20-year anniversary of 9/11

North Oakland County Fire Authority Chief Jeremy Lintz will travel to New York for the 20th anniversary

By Hannah Ball

This year’s Grand Marshals are Holly Police Chief Jerry Narsh, Holly Fire Chief Steve McGee and North Oakland County Fire Authority (NOCFA) Chief Jeremy Lintz.

North Oakland County Fire Authority (NOCFA) Chief Jeremy Lintz said it’s good to see local communities recognize its first responders.

“Firefighters, police and EMS providers all perform outstanding services to their communities. These professions are exhausting and dangerous and take a mental toll on them and their families,” Lintz said. “They also tend to be low paying and most departments are struggling to maintain personnel. With all that’s been happening politically and with the COVID pandemic, the people that work in these professions deserve to be praised for what they do.”

Lintz said he was “honored and very thankful” when he was asked to be a Grand Marshal. However, he and his wife are traveling to New York that week for the 9/11 anniversary so they will not be able to attend.

“It’s hard to believe that it’s been 20 years since the attacks. It still seems like it was so recent. I think because of the sheer scale of so much loss of life and destruction that occurred that day, that it’s something that will just always be ingrained in the minds of people,” Lintz said. “It’s especially a prominent reminder to the men and women of first responders that serve our country, that they should always be proud of what they do and to never forget the sacrifices that their colleagues made.”

Ever since, the festivities have only grown.

The event features a farmers market, a community play, a parade, disc golf, a color run and so much more. These festivities begin at 8 a.m., Saturday with a prayer for first responders.

Shuttles traveling to and from downtown will take people around town. Carry Nation impersonator Karen Craner will be at the Holly Depot tours, who might be harassing people imbibing in too much alcohol or other misbehavior, McCanney said.

On Saturday, the Community Play Day will take place from noon to 4 p.m. in Crapo Park for family fun activities, such as tug-of-war, hula hoop contests and more. Kids can meet firefighters and police officers and explore fire trucks.

“It’s all about getting to the park and play,” McCanney said. “All different kinds of free activities for families to do with their kids.”

The tug-of-war between the police and fire departments is planned for Saturday at 4 p.m. Holly Foods will sponsor a pie-eating contest Saturday at 1 p.m.

“The street dance is one of my personal favorite parts of HollyDays,” McCanney said. “Families just gather on the street and dance. People of all ages getting together and just dancing the night away.” This takes place Saturday from 7 to 9 p.m.

After the dance, people walk to watch the fireworks, which McCanney expects to be a huge draw this year considering they didn’t have fireworks for the Fourth of July.

Sunday event goers can hope to see a helicopter landing at 11 a.m. McCanney said if there’s an emergency, the helicopter will be in use, but if not, they expect first responders to land one in Holly for the celebrations.

After the helicopter landing, they’ll have the Vintage Baseball Game at Cyclone Park. Players will wear old-fashioned uniforms and use old equipment. Carry Nation will make an appearance at the game.

HollyDays has an official spot on the calendar in September during the weekend after Labor Day and the weekend before Applefest in Fenton.

This year’s date is extra special.

“The biggest highlight this year is going to be the parade. That’s going to be a really nice addition this year in light of it being the 20th anniversary of 9/11,” McCanney said.

Many festivities will incorporate tributes of remembrance and they will honor first responders.

“We plan to reflect on the important roles our own first responders have in our community. This day will focus on acknowledging them for their dedicated service to the people of Holly,” McCanney said.

This year’s Grand Marshals are Holly Police Chief Jerry Narsh, Holly Fire Chief Steve McGee and North Oakland County Fire Authority (NOCFA) Chief Jeremy Lintz.

“We hope to see our entire fleet of first responder vehicles represented in this year’s parade as well as a fly over from the medical rescue helicopter,” McCanney said.
TRIBUTE
One local man, Joe Runci of Fenton Township, was compelled to create his own memorial for those fallen soldiers.

For years, he has flown an American flag and a prisoner of war (POW) flag at the end of his driveway on Linden Road. His grandfather was a POW. When COVID hit, he put up a flag to recognize health care workers.

“I’ve always been a supporter of the flag,” Runci said. “I support everyone.”

For his memorial, Runci bought 13 small American flags and made a wooden cross. The section of Linden Road near his home, across from Byram Lake is heavily traveled and he hopes motorists see his memorial.

“I just wanted to show a tribute, nothing political. These are some pretty crappy times,” he said.

Congress introduced a bill, H.R. 5142, Tuesday, Aug. 31 to honor the slain 13 U.S. service members killed in Kabul last week with the Congressional Gold Medal. The bipartisan bill has 158 sponsors and was spearheaded by Rep. Lisa McClain, R-Michigan. If passed by Congress and signed by President Joe Biden, the medals would be displayed with other recipients at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

The Fenton Fire Department 9/11 Memorial Site, where the ceremony will take place, includes a piece of steel from the World Trade Center towers it obtained from the Port Authority of New York/New Jersey.

Fire Chief Bob Cairnduff said the Port Authority is the keeper of all the artifacts and had a program that would grant these pieces of history to police and fire departments that would use them for a memorial.

Cairnduff said Fenton Memorials was a huge help in the design and construction of the memorial stones. He said Matt Butts wanted to be a part of the project as soon as he explained what they wanted to do and that the fire department had a piece of steel from the towers.

“Everyone at Fenton Memorials took great pride in the work they did on the memorial stones,” Cairnduff said.

With the upcoming 20th anniversary of 9/11, Cairnduff said, “We want to make sure that not only people don’t forget about the events of 9/11 and all of the lives that were lost, but also the spirit that swept across America in the days and months that followed after 9/11.

“The events of 9/11 shaped so many people’s lives. There were so many people that joined the military or emergency services after 9/11. Whether it was the attacks or the acts of bravery that were witnessed on TV or in person, it stirred deep emotions in the soul of Americans.”

Cairnduff added that what is hard to fathom is that two of their fire explorers (junior firefighters) were born five or six years after 9/11.

“They didn’t live it firsthand like we did,” he said. “It’s extremely important that they honor the fallen and understand what happened on that day and how it affected all of us, and still does to this day.”
Tigers off to promising start, tame the Dragons, 6-0

By David Troppens

Fenton — Life is pretty good these days on the Fenton varsity boys soccer team. The squad is 5-0 and are tied in first place.

But what matters most to the team is that they are having fun. The Tigers had a lot of fun on Wednesday night, earning a 6-0 Metro League victory at home against the Swartz Creek Dragons, improving to 3-0 in Metro action.

A day later, the Tigers earned what may be their most impressive victory of the young season, a 2-1 win at home against Detroit Country Day.

“I think we have great chemistry this year and we have our brotherhood,” junior Patrick Hamilton said after scoring three second-half goals for the Tigers.

Linden golfers post career record, defeat Fenton

By David Troppens

It was a record-breaking day on the exact day the Linden varsity girls golf team would’ve hoped.

Oddly, it came a day after one they wish didn’t happen.

A day after losing a tough match against Goodrich by one stroke, the Eagles rebounded with their best team nine-hole performance in school history, defeating the Fenton Tigers with a school-record team score of 165 at Heather Highlands. Fenton recorded a 179 while the Holly Bronchos recorded a 237.

“When you beat a program like Fenton who has been the class of our league for over a decade it makes it such a special victory. Plus we have such great respect for their program,” Linden varsity girls coach Jon Hamilton said. “(Beating Fenton) is just as important to them as anyone who wears the Linden shirt or jersey.”

Kaitlyn Straub had the day of her career, shooting an even-par 36 to earn medalist honors among the three teams. She recorded a par on every hole including the final one where she had to two-putt from about 80 feet away. She hit her first putt to about 4 feet away from the hole and made her par.

“She just parred the first few holes and kept it going,” Hamilton said.

Holly soccer plays 3-3 thriller vs. Owosso

By David Troppens

The Holly varsity boys soccer team took its lumps early, but it seems the Metro League season is looking a bit brighter for the Bronchos.

A couple of days after earning their first victory of the season against Corunna, the Bronchos remained unbeaten in league play by earning an entertaining 3-3 draw with Owosso.

“If you love high school sports, this is the type of game you live for,” Holly varsity soccer coach Matt Sherrow said. “What a game.”

Holly led 2-0 at the half but Owosso stormed back with two early goals in the second half, setting up the thrilling finish. Once Owosso scored those two, the game was on.

scoring members were Cate Draper with a 42, Emma Lurvey with a 43 and Ella LaMothe with a 44. Brooke Goll shot a 49 while Emma Most carded a 66.

Fenton’s top scorer was Julia Roberts with a 42, which earned medalist honors against Holly. Summer Smith followed with a 44 while Elise Roberts shot a 46 and Maddi Best carded a 47. Katelyn Burkett shot a 48.

Linden varsity girls golfers split dual with Martians, Mustangs

By David Troppens

The Linden varsity girls golf team found themselves in a tight dual with the Goodrich Martians Monday at Flint Elks Golf Club.

Unfortunately, the Eagles were on the losing end of that battle.

Linden lost a tight 187-188 verdict against Goodrich, but did crush Clio 188-251. It marked the second straight season the Eagles lost to Goodrich in a dual match by a single stroke.

Linden senior Emma Lurvey was the medalist against Clio and finished second in the Goodrich match with a nine-hole score of 46. Cate Draper and Kaitlyn Straub both shot 47s while Ella LaMothe shot a 48.

“The Goodrich loss was definitely painful but it will be forgotten by morning,” Linden varsity girls golf coach Jon Hamilton said.

The reason for that had to do with a match with defending league champions Fenton and fellow area foes Holly at Holly Highlands on Tuesday. The results of that match can be found elsewhere in this edition.

Holly soccer wins first Metro contest

By David Troppens

It has been a tough start to the Holly varsity boys soccer season.

The Bronchos lost their first three games by a combined score of 16-1.

However, the fourth game was a charm. The Bronchos scored three goals and posted their first defensive shutout of the season, earning a 3-0 home victory against Corunna during Monday’s Metro opener.

“The boys were happy with the ‘W,’” Holly varsity boys soccer coach Matt Sherrow said.

The contest started out fairly slow but the Bronchos kept the ball on the Cavaliers’ side of the field for the majority of the first half. And when that happens, there’s a good chance there will be a goal. Eventually the goal came when senior captain Kyle Sherrow took the ball in the middle of the field, worked around the defense and scored on a shot in the lower right corner. Holly led 1-0 at the break.

“The ball only crossed the midfield line a few times,” Matt Sherrow said.

Lake Fenton girls golf gets first win

Lake Fenton’s first-year girls golf program earned its first win on Wednesday.

The Blue Devils defeated Corunna 257-259 at Fenton Farms. The Goodrich Martians beat both teams with their team score of 180.

Katie Bell led the Blue Devils with a 55 while Ava Goss shot a 64.

Emilie Poirier followed with a 65 and Sam Hathon shot a 73. Ally Kitson shot a 78 and Reagan Steffey carded an 88.
INJURIES AND COVID PROTOCOL HAS CRUSHED THE LINDEN VARSITY BOYS SOCCER TEAM SO FAR THIS SEASON.

It has resulted in an 0-4 start and a goal differential of 19-0. But some small strides of improvement were made in the Eagles’ (0-5) second Metro contest of the season in a 7-2 loss to Goodrich.

“The score doesn’t indicate it, but we showed some positive things that we can look at,” Linden varsity boys soccer coach Kevin Fiebernitz said. “We still have a tremendous amount of work to do. ... I’m just hoping the kids can stay positive over this ordeal. We have so many kids out with quarantine and injuries and we are asking a ton of young kids to step in when in some instances they are really too young and not ready to do this. We were going to have young kids play anyway, but this is more than we thought.”

Against Goodrich, the Eagles scored their third goal on what was an own goal by the Dragons’ defense.

In the second half, it was the Hamilton show. He scored three goals in a span of just more than 10 minutes. The first came on a cross by William Dicken with 37:38 left in the contest.

Two North Oakland County Fire Authority members drive to Louisiana to assist Hurricane Ida victims

By Sharon Stone

When there is a disaster and they are called upon, they are trained to stop what they are doing and go.

Two members of Michigan Task Force 1, who also are members of the North Oakland County Fire Authority (NOCFA), left at 5 a.m., Monday, Aug. 30 to drive to hurricane-ravaged Louisiana.

Hurricane Ida blasted ashore Sunday, Aug. 29 as one of the most powerful storms to hit the U.S. The Category 4 storm knocked out power to all of New Orleans, blowing roofs off buildings and reversing the flow of the Mississippi River as it rushed from the Louisiana coast, according to apnews.com.

NOCFA Chief Jeremy Lintz said three of his staff are members of Michigan Task Force 1 (MI-TF1) and two of them, Capt. Timothy Seal and firefighter Dustin Lehto, left for Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

NOCFA’s third task force member, Assistant Chief Matt Weil, was unavailable for this deployment due to preexisting plans.

Seal is a trained technical search specialist and swift/flood water rescue specialist. Lehto is a rescue specialist.

She submitted her letter of resignation to the Genesee County 911 Consortium Board, which voted unanimously to approve it. The board voted to place Tremaine on paid administrative leave until Sept. 30, which will be her last day.

“I chose not to renew my contract that is up in 30 days to pursue my lifelong dream of retiring at an early age to pursue quality time with my family and friends,” Spring said.

Spring Tremaine was seen on video dumping yard waste on her neighbor’s driveway in an Aug. 7 incident. Her neighbor, Cathy Lufkin Tremaine, is her ex-sister-in-law. Divorce proceedings are ongoing between Cathy Tremaine and Spring’s brother. The incident led to Spring Tremaine being charged with disorderly conduct.

One main issue is the ownership of a lot across from their properties in Fenton Township. Cathy said she’s owned that lot for 22 years and due to a judge’s orders, the property remains hers as part of the divorce proceedings until Spring Tremaine’s family pays her what’s owed in a settlement.

Spring said she wasn’t aware the ownership of the property had come into question.

It was reported that Spring Tremaine called 911 to have deputies drive to her property twice to deal with disputes relating to her ex-sister-in-law.

Spring Tremaine also threatened to cut off or reduce Fenton’s access to a Genesee County cell tower that city first responders use when providing mutual aid.

Fenton Police Chief Jason Slater wrote in a letter to city council that the issue stemmed from unpaid radio fees.

“A meeting was then held with Genesee County 911 Director Spring Tremaine and representatives from the State of Michigan who oversee the 800 MHz radio system. During this meeting, we learned that Director Tremaine intended to remove or block the ability of our radios to access the Genesee County Consortium simulcast towers if the radio fee of $105.00 per radio for 2019 and 2020 was not paid,” Slater wrote.

This issue began in 2019 when the Genesee County Commissioners agreed to stop charging 20% of Fenton City’s 911 surcharge monies. Fenton has its own dispatch service and does not typically use the county’s. The funds were taken from the city’s 911 surcharge allocation to help with infrastructure costs.

“Since receiving 100% of our surcharge allocation, the Genesee County 911 Consortium, during their March 12, 2019, General Membership Meeting, passed a motion to charge the city of Fenton for radio fees annually. They agreed to bill $105 per radio foil access to their proprietary simulcast radio towers. It was explained that every non-consortium entity in Genesee County that accesses the Genesee County Tower’s is assessed the annual $105 radio fee to assist the Consortium with maintaining their radio towers and equipment,” Slater wrote.

This affects Fenton first responders when they provide mutual aid to another department. For calls within the city, they use a tower located in Holly that’s owned by the state. When providing mutual aid, first responders must connect to a Genesee County-owned tower.

Fenton City Manager Lynn Markland said he doesn’t believe it’s fair that Fenton was charged for this.

“We’re paying county dispatch for the ability to provide mutual aid to other communities,” he said. They also connect to the Genesee County cell tower when they transport prisoners or when detectives go to other municipalities. Markland said other departments that travel through and use that Genesee County owned tower do not have to pay that fee.

“The reality is we need to look out for our public safety department, fire and police, and the personnel in those departments. We really did it for them. For officer safety and firefighter safety,” Markland said.

Genesee County originally billed them for 132 active radios. However, the city utilizes 69 active radios. The county reid the billing and charged the city $105 per radio. It came to a total of $7,245 for 2019 and $7,245 for 2020, which the council voted to pay on Monday, Aug. 23.

“I do not have knowledge on the status of Fenton fees,” Spring said when asked about the matter on Wednesday, Sept. 1.

The board appointed Genesee County 911 Deputy Director Tim Jones as interim director, however, Jones also submitted his resignation, which is expected to be effective Sept. 30. The board will meet Sept. 14 to receive suggestions from the Consortium’s Personnel Committee on a permanent replacement for Tremaine.

Lintz said the MI-TF1 is a specialty search and rescue team comprised of several fire departments in southeastern Michigan. There are a total of 44 members in this task force. Task force members go through several classes learning technical rescue, water rescue, collapsed structure rescues, destruction rescues and more. They respond to disaster areas when called upon by the local authorities. MI-TF1 also responded to the east coast after Hurricane Dorian in 2019 and to Midland in 2020 when the Edenville Dam failed.
Although they are headed to Baton Rouge, Lintz said their directives could change as need changes. They stopped in Kentucky overnight to rest.
MI-TF1 is fully equipped with specialty trucks and equipment and members are trained to be ready at a moment’s notice. “They’re like a small army,” Lintz said. Task force members can be deployed for up to 14 days and NOCFa personnel fill in for when task force members are away.
Lintz said these teams are self-sustaining and “pretty impressive.”

Jon M. Hanson
1937 – 2021

Jon M. Hanson - age 84, passed away Tuesday, August 31, 2021 at Wellbridge Of Fenton following complications from a hip fracture. Jon was predeceased by his beloved wife of 60 years Mary in January of 2018. Jon was born in Croswell Michigan to Milton and Betty Hanson. He attended Croswell High where he was class president and a gifted athlete and earned a two year basketball scholarship to Port Huron Community College to begin his academic career. Jon earned his undergraduate degree from Michigan State University, and his Masters degree from Michigan State University. Jon began his career teaching in public schools as a science teacher and athletic director. Upon completion of his masters degree, he became a teacher and Director of College Placement at Detroit Country Day School (DCDS) in Birmingham. Jon also coached numerous sports teams at DCDS including golf, basketball, and football. During his 30 year tenure at DCDS, he was proud to say that the school grew from 50 male students when he started to a coed student population of 250. He also served as President of the Michigan Association for College Admission Counseling. Jon was a natural born storyteller with an excellent memory and he loved to regale his family with stories of life experiences. One of his favorites was when he was one of forty four science teachers nationwide awarded a US Federal Education grant to study in California. He liked to tell his family he spent three months in 120 degree temperatures in the deserts around San Diego, stayed up all night observing the stars at Mount Palomar, and crawling in dark caves researching bat species while his young family vacationed in balmy San Diego. Of course in reality, he loved and cherished the knowledge he acquired during this program. Jon was proud, supportive, honest, dependable and independent. He also loved to get hugs, especially from his grandchildren. His primary goal in life was always to support and provide for his family. He enjoyed fishing and his favorite pastime in later life was to watch Michigan State University football and basketball as well as the Detroit Tigers and Detroit Lions. Jon and Mary also enjoyed attending their grandchildren’s many sporting activities. Jon leaves behind his daughter, Karen (Rick Stokes); three sons, Dan (Jeanne), Dave (Mary) and Paul (Diedra); and his nine cherished grandchildren, Brendan, Cole, Kory, Derek, Jade, Jordan, Mykala, Nicole, Ryan, and Taylor. On recent visits with his family, he would recall how when he came to Wellbridge there were only three dead leaves on a tree outside his room window and would say “look at all the beautiful green trees and leaves!” Jon, a person seemingly always in control, decided to exit this life on his terms without any remorse or regrets before the return of autumn and the possibility of looking at three dead leaves for another winter. A Celebration of Life Gathering will be held between 2 – 5 PM Sunday, September 26, 2021 at Spring Meadow Country Club, 1129 Ripley Road, Linden. Arrangements are under the direction of Sharp Funeral Homes, Fenton Chapel, 1000 Silver Lake Rd, Fenton. www.sharpfuneralhomes.com.
