Fixing traffic on Silver Lake Road

This is part three in a series on Silver Lake Road traffic and area population growth

By Hannah Ball

How do you fix the traffic on Silver Lake Road? Fenton officials have discussed the idea of widening Silver Lake Road from two lanes to four underneath the U.S. 23 overpass. They’re also working to implement recommended changes from a traffic study done in 2018.

Fenton’s population increased 7,824 from 1950 (4,226) to 2020 (12,050). Along with residential and neighborhood growth, Fenton also experienced an increase in business development over the past few decades. This all adds to increased traffic on Silver Lake Road, which has remained two lanes in most sections.

Fenton City Manager Lynn Markland said when “Big Box” stores started coming to the city in the 1990s, the city started becoming a regional hub for commercial shopping.

City decides on water meter opt-out fee

Linden works to upgrade water system, install more efficient meters

By Hannah Ball

Linden—Linden City Council will charge residents who opt out of receiving new water meters $35.19 a quarter.

The council voted 6-1 on Monday, Nov. 8. Two weeks prior, the council approved a 20% upcharge fee for residents who were non-responsive when the city reached out to change their meters to an upgraded system. Residents who chose to opt out entirely will be charged $35.19 per quarter to read the meters.

Ladies Night Out returns to Linden

Downtown full of people shopping for That’s What She Shed

By Hannah Ball

Linden — Linden’s That What She Shed had one of the biggest attendances for a Ladies Night Out in the city.

Hundreds of people walked around downtown Linden on Saturday, Nov. 6 to shop and support local businesses. Shops had sales and drinks available, and they gave out “Ladies Night Out bucks” to customers. These tickets were used to enter drawings to win gift baskets, which were donated from dozens of businesses from Linden and Fenton.

Attendees enjoyed walking through the Linden VFW Hall and talking with a dozen local vendors setting clothes, Linden merchandise, candles, jewelry and more. The event was put on by Happening in Linden.

New this year was the beer tent set up outside the VFW Hall.

Thank you, veterans

By Editor Sharon Stone

Tomorrow, Thursday, Nov. 11 is Veterans Day. An Act approved May 13, 1938 made the 11th of November in each year a legal holiday — a day to be dedicated to the cause of world peace and to be thereafter celebrated and known as “Armistice Day.”

In today’s Midweek edition of the Times, we honor our veterans and the sacrifices that the men and woman made to serve our country.

For nearly two years, the Times has been running the Honoring Our Veterans column on page three in every issue. Sharp Funeral Homes sponsors every one of these columns. Please keep sending me information your military service or about the veteran in your life to sstone@ctimes.com. We are honored to present so many of our veterans to our readers.

There are local Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFWs) and American Legion posts in the tri-county area. Most are seeking new members to keep their posts vital and a source to help other veterans. In Holly, veterans and their families are welcome to reach out to the Holly Area Veterans Resource Center. Veterans are invited any Tuesday or Wednesday to play cards, socialize, tell stories and more.

We all have a veteran or veterans in our life, whether we served ourselves or a loved one did. Although I did not serve, my late father, Don Richey, served stateside in the U.S. Air Force during the Korean War time. Speaking of the Korean War, it was an honor to interview Ken Maxwell, another veteran of the Korean War, for a story in today’s edition. He’s 91. The Times featured him in 2012 when he received his Purple Heart because of all of his injuries he sustained.

Some of our veterans come home injured, traumatized, overwhelmed, depressed and more. It also was encouraging to hear how Jill Haas of Warrior Path Home has helped so many veterans who have either reached out to her for virtual therapy sessions or those who have been referred to her by a loved one. There is help for veterans who need help getting their lives back on track after a possibly life-altering experience.

Some of my closest friends served in the military or have children in the military right now. I commend my friends Patricia and Toby Morris who both served.

Small Claims Court

In 1981, a television show called “The People’s Court” debuted. It starred retired Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Joseph Wapner and featured trials of small claims cases in a courtroom setting.

Believe it or not, it took six years for the producers to convince any station to air it because it was believed that viewers simply wouldn’t be interested. Of course, Judge Wapner proved them all wrong and today, there are so many similar court shows on television that it’s hard to keep track of them all.

Since these shows have a widespread appeal and people are clearly interested, I will present some additional information on small claims in Michigan.

Michigan’s Small Claims Court is a division of the District Court created by statute in 1968.

There are no lawyers, no jury trials, and no appeals.

Currently, the maximum amount that a plaintiff can sue a defendant for is $6,500. This amount increases to $7,000 on January 1, 2024.

Small claims cases can be for almost any type of money damages, but claims for fraud, libel, slander, assault, battery, and other intentional wrongs are prohibited.

At the trial the rules of substantive law apply but other procedural rules do not, including the Rules of Evidence. The judge conducts the trial in an informal manner so as to do substantial justice to the parties.

All witnesses are put under oath and each side is then allowed to present their respective sides of the story in their own words. If the plaintiff prevails, a judgment for damages and court costs is entered which can be collected as any other civil judgment.

A defendant then has the right to request that the judgment be paid in installments. If the request is granted, the plaintiff cannot attempt to collect it using any other method as long as the defendant’s payments remain current.

There is much more to small claims cases but I can’t detail everything here. However, for those interested, the Michigan Supreme Court and Michigan Legal Help websites have a wealth of additional small claims court information.

Small claims court gives litigants a quick, inexpensive and fair determination of their disputes and has proven to be an important part of our system of justice.

into an agreement with Medstar to provide ambulance services, Medstar CEO Kolby Miller said the way Genesee County operates with EMS ambulance services has oddities that only exist within this county.

In other Michigan counties and in other states, counties or municipalities have a dedicated EMS ambulance provider that contracts under service agreements. “In those places, there is an identified EMS provider for every city, township, village,” Miller said.

This is not the case in Genesee County. In this county, multiple EMS ambulance companies provide coverage, and Genesee County 911 Dispatch Authority assigns the closest ambulance to respond to a scene.

Miller said this results in ambulance crews parking in areas and cities with the highest density population. Those living farther away from downtowns and highly populated areas experience longer wait times for emergency medical care.

“To get the number of calls to be sustainable, you have to be close to where incidents happen. The downside is that the farther away ambulances are, the longer the response times,” Miller said.

During that November meeting, Fenton Township Supervisor Vince Lorraine and Fenton Township Fire Chief Ryan Volz mentioned how for one tier one call, which includes cardiac arrests, it took an ambulance 22 minutes to arrive. Miller mentioned a report from the State 911 Committee that found that always calling the closest ambulance is an unstable EMS system.

“There have been more ambulance companies that have come and gone from Genesee County than any other county in the state,” Miller said. “For the rest of the county, we use designated providers.”

Police and fire departments are entities dedicated to serving a designated area. Fenton, Linden, Argentine Township and Holly provide their own law enforcement, and other municipalities, such as Fenton Township, choose to contract with the Genesee County Sheriff’s Office.

Miller said they need to look at how other communities work to bring stability to their EMS systems. With a designated ambulance system, there will occasionally be instances when an ambulance that’s farther away will be sent to an incident as opposed to an ambulance that’s in a different municipality but physically closer.

Miller warns against using theoretical “what if” questions “to justify the broken delivery model where there’s a 40 minute response time in Atlas Township.”

“When it’s municipal based, the system improves and response times improve. What’s more beneficial is an EMS system that consistently provides appropriate response times,” he said.

Miller said there’s a lack of accountability allowed at the municipal level.

If a supervisor or mayor from a Genesee County municipality makes a complaint, Miller said the review committee reviews the complaint, but does not discuss outcomes or findings with the person who made the complaint because it’s a protected committee.

“In this county, mayors and councils have no input into who provides medical assistance in ambulances,” he said. This is why Fenton Township entered into the agreement with Medstar. This company has similar contracts with multiple municipalities in the county.

Miller said with this model, local lead-

Interim Public Works Director Thomas Trice said they considered equipment costs, administrative costs, treasurer costs and other factors to arrive at the number.

Linden has been working with Ferguson Water Works to conduct a citywide water meter upgrade program beginning Sept. 14. The project, which costs approximately $20,735, entails replacing about 900 old water meters in Linden buildings with upgraded and more efficient Neptune water meters, along with using Neptune 360 software.

Much of the old equipment was from the 1970s and needed to be replaced. With the updated software, the information can be read on command.

They’ll be able to use handheld devices so they don’t have to go into homes to obtain the readings.

The city will have to physically go into the houses of the residents who opted out in order to read the meter. These customers will be required to sign a waiver.

At the beginning of the program, they identified 875 obsolete meters in the system. As of late October, Utility Metering Solutions successfully upgraded 778 obsolete meters, or have made appointments to do so, and 97 remain. This is 89% completion. Of these, 63 are listed as non-responsive.

Staff recommended an up charge fee of 20% the average water usage to encourage compliance.

City Manager Ellen Glass said they’ve had staffing issues and switching over water meters will make water monitoring more efficient in the city by helping them detect leaks and water loss. During housing inspections during a change of ownership, these meters would be changed out. Credit will be given or they will compensate these residents with a check.

During the June meeting, Steve Berra with Ferguson said there are people who have reservations with radio signals going through their house, and in these situations, usually the municipality will allow an exception. Treasurer Brooke Card said two residents are opting out due to health concerns and two others are temporarily opting out due to personal health situations.

With the decision on Monday, Nov. 8, the city will have an official record of who chooses to opt out.

Councilor Ray Culbert thanked the staff for their work. “I think if these numbers are correct, which I believe they are, this is a good solution,” he said.

Councilor Aaron Wiens said based on what other cities have done, he thinks it is “perfectly acceptable.”

Councilor Brad Dick was the dissenting vote. He said he would prefer a $25 fee instead.

One other factor is the impact response times have in providing medical care. Miller said the standard for emergency response time is 8:59, and this does not include first aid provided by a fire department, who responds to most critical calls.

“We are finding that response times have less of a medical outcome on patients with the exception of cardiac arrest,” Miller said, adding that a shorter wait time is not going to have an impact on situations where someone breaks a bone. There’s also an added risk to ambulance crews and other motorists when EMS crews put on the lights and drive through traffic.

Some municipalities fund EMS services through a millage, such as Livingston County, and Miller said that’s not always necessary.

“In the communities that we engage in for community level service agreements, there’s not a need for subsidy or support from communities. The volume provides enough support,” he said.
Dr. Bobby Mukkamala elected to Mott Foundation board

From Charles Stewart Mott Foundation

Flint — Dr. Bobby Mukkamala, a nationally renowned otolaryngologist in private practice in Flint, has been elected to the board of trustees of the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation, which is headquartered in the city. Mukkamala will begin serving on the board on Jan. 1, 2022.

“My parents moved to Flint in 1972 as immigrants from India,” Mukkamala said. “Flint is where I grew up and where I returned after I finished my medical training. I left here as an individual and came back as a family with my wife, Nita, and our newborn twin sons, Nikhil and Deven.

“I have watched our city’s struggles and our successes, and I have always been thankful for the legacy and vision of Charles Stewart Mott and the Mott Foundation,” Mukkamala said. “Our trajectory as a community would be much different without Mott support. I am humbled and honored to be in discussions about the future of our city, our country and our world with my fellow trustees and Mott staff. I look forward to learning more about and contributing to our capacity to make our world more just, equitable and sustainable.”

Mukkamala is a board-certified otolaryngologist/head and neck surgeon who earned his medical degree from the University of Michigan Medical School and completed his residency at Loyola University Medical Center in Chicago. He is chair of the board of trustees of the American Medical Association and a past recipient of the of the organization’s “Excellence in Medicine” Leadership Award. He is past president of both the Michigan State Medical Society and the Genesee County Medical Society. He also is a past chair of the board of the Community Foundation of Greater Flint and chair emeritus of the Crim Fitness Foundation.

“The Mott Foundation is grateful that Dr. Mukkamala has agreed to bring not only the breadth of his knowledge and experience to the board, but also his passion for helping residents of Flint and the state of Michigan to be able to live their best and fullest lives,” said Ridgway White, who chairs Mott’s board of trustees and serves as the Foundation’s president and CEO. “As a tireless advocate who works to ensure all people have equitable opportunities to succeed and thrive, he’s a leader in the Flint community. We know his guidance will be invaluable.”

With his election, Mukkamala will become the 15th active member of the Mott Foundation’s board of trustees, which includes four family members who are descendants of Charles Stewart Mott. There are also two trustees emeriti.

Actually, that’s where and how they met in 1985. Toby was a staff sergeant in the U.S. Air Force, stationed in Fort Walton Beach, Florida. Pat was a U.S. Air Force administrative assistant, staff sergeant. Oh, the stories they can tell.

Other good friends Joe and Lisa Holzwarth are always in my thoughts as they miss their son, Dakota, who is in the U.S. Air Force and stationed in Colorado. Dakota graduated from Lake Fenton High School.

I’m sure my old college roommate Dawn Davidson misses her son Connor, who is a marine. As a mom, I’m sure it’s difficult to watch the news and not be worried. They, too, will be veterans.

Other friends proudly post photos of their sons and daughters and provide updates of their military service. I appreciate those updates.

As we honor our veterans today, try to make a point of thanking one when you see them. If you can, pick up their tab when you see them dining at an area restaurant. A ‘thank you’ can go a long way and a nice gesture of paying for someone’s meal feels good to the payer.

We’ve done it so I know.

To all our veterans and their families, thank you for all of your service and sacrifices.
TRAFFIC
“The continued development of the industrial park and the redevelopment of the downtown area has enhanced the attractiveness of the area for business and residential living. When you combine a great school system, it makes the community a very desirable place to live and raise families,” he said. “The walkability of the downtown helps attract people and businesses to the downtown. The business growth in the community has been strong and has continued to be strong during the pandemic.”

Traffic is a common complaint city officials receive, and it was made worse this past summer due to the resurfacing of Silver Lake Road, from Poplar Street west to city limits, and the continued construction on the U.S. 23 overpass, which travels over Silver Lake Road and North Road.

In 2018, the city commissioned a traffic study be done on Silver Lake Road that encompassed all major intersections from Silver Parkway to LeRoy Street. Progressive AE conducted the study and determined that four traffic points received a failing grade. Progressive AE rated the intersections from an “A” to an “F” based on techniques outlined in the Highway Capacity Manual, published by the Transportation Research Board.

The two U.S. 23 entrance/exit ramps at Silver Lake Road nearest Fenway Drive operate at a level of service (LoS) of F. The eastbound traffic movement on Silver Lake Road at LeRoy Street operates at a LoS of E, and the eastbound left-turn movement on Silver Lake Road at LeRoy Street operates at a LoS of E. The study was done during peak rush hours from 7 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. It also found that approximately 20,000 drivers pass through this area on a daily basis.

The study states, “The city of Fenton and its surrounding communities are experiencing significant growth, along with the related increases in traffic, particularly during peak hours. As one of the key arterials in the city, Silver Lake Road has been burdened with much of the traffic increase and appears to be approaching its capacity during those peak periods, especially in the sub-area just east of U.S. 23.”

Progressive AE suggested extending the two-lane northbound off-ramp cross section from 75 feet to 200 feet, and converting the eastbound right-turn lane to a through/right lane. Other suggestions included extending the westbound left-turn lane on the U.S. southbound ramp by 200 feet and extending the right turn lane from 50 feet to 200 feet. The study states that to turn left onto Silver Parkway, the westbound left-turn lanes on Silver Lake Road should be extended by approximately 100 feet.

The Fenway Drive/Silver Lake Road intersection was identified as the worst intersection. Progressive AE suggested revising the cycle length and timing of the light so it operates more efficiently. It was also suggested to convert the eastbound right-turn lane on Silver Lake Road heading to Fenway into a through/right lane.

At Poplar Street, Pete LaMourie, lead transportation engineer from Progressive AE, said the pavement markings on Silver Lake Road should provide a second eastbound through lane until approximately 500 feet east of the intersection. Signal light timing should be improved at the LeRoy/Silver Lake roads intersection.

Suggested improvements for the whole Silver Lake Road corridor include converting all signals to 80-second cycle length, optimizing signal offsets and individual intersection phasing and timing. The study also projected future problems into 2028 with an annual population growth of 1.6 percent.

“Perhaps the most significant result of those noted above is the eastbound movement on Silver lake Road at Fenway Drive,” the study states. “Further, the growing traffic volumes will make the projected queues on the U.S. 23 northbound off-ramp even more extensive and lasting most of the entire afternoon peak hour if a signal is not installed.”

Markland said they are in the process of trying to implement these recommendations.

“One the bridge is complete, the traffic situation should get better. However, we will still be working on the recommended changes,” he said. “I believe widening the road to four lanes under the U.S. 23 bridge would help reduce the traffic congestion.”

Broad Street traffic
In Linden, the population has increased 3,209 from 1950 (933) to 4,142 (2020). Linden City Manager Ellen Glass believes that Silver Lake Road, which is Linden is a great community and offers a good quality of life that includes amenities and economic opportunities,” she said.

She estimates that Bridge and Broad streets are similar in traffic volume. Recently, Beaubien Engineering conducted a traffic study on Linden/Lahring roads and found that there were approximately 6,854 trip generations per day.

“In the past several months, there has been a significant amount of increased traffic on Bridge Street with all the detours and projects in the surrounding area,” she said. “With the growth in Linden and surrounding areas, we do see the impact it has on our streets but overall I think that Bridge Street handles the traffic volumes adequately.”

A day to honor all veterans

The month of November is a special time for the nation’s veterans. While Memorial Day honors fallen soldiers and service people, Veterans Day, which takes place each November, is an opportunity to commemorate the efforts of all who have been in the armed forces, with a special emphasis on living veterans.

While people are encouraged to thank veterans throughout the year, Veterans Day is a particularly poignant time to show your appreciation for the men and women of the military.

Veterans Day takes place on Nov. 11 and marks an important moment in history. On Nov. 11, 1918, World War I, known at the time as “The Great War,” unofficially ended when an armistice, or temporary cessation of hostilities, took place between Germany and the Allied nations on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month. World War I ended on paper when the Treaty of Versailles was signed on June 28, 1919. In Nov. 1919, President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed Nov. 11 as the first commemoration of Armistice Day, according to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

Armistice Day became a federal holiday in the United States in 1938. However, after subsequent wars, including World War II and the Korean War, veterans’ service organizations lobbied for Armistice Day to be revised so it would be more inclusive of all veterans. On June 1, 1954, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed legislation to strike the word “Armistice” from the holiday’s name in favor of “Veterans.” Since then, Nov. 11 has been known as “Veterans Day” and has honored veterans of all wars.

Veterans Day was moved to the fourth Monday in October for roughly seven years under the Uniform Monday Holiday Act, which sought to ensure three-day weekends for federal employees by celebrating certain national holidays on Mondays. But since Nov. 11 bore such significance, many states disapproved and continued to observe the holiday on Nov. 11. In 1975, President Gerald Ford signed legislation to return the observation of Veterans Day to Nov. 11 beginning in 1978. Should the day fall on a Saturday or Sunday, the federal government observes the holiday on the previous Friday or following Monday, respectively, according to History.com.

The United States isn’t the only country to celebrate its veterans. Canada, Great Britain, Australia, and France also commemorate the veterans of World War I and II on or near Nov. 11 as Remembrance Day or Remembrance Sunday.

Veteran’s Day is an important time to show your appreciation for those who have served in the armed forces. Submitted photo

By Sharon Stone

Warrior Path Home is a newer Michigan nonprofit aimed at stopping the struggle and inspiring hope for veterans and their families.

Jill Haas, a professional certified coach, certified equine guided learning (EGL) facilitator/coach and registered nurse, provides therapeutic, multi-dimensional coaching in her Warrior Path Home programs resulting in an experience of transformation, healing and hope.

These unique programs and approaches address the stress and resiliency of each client with goals of better coping and life skills for less stress, anxiety, post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) symptoms and essentially helping to prevent suicide whenever possible for veterans.

Additionally, a family focus may be improving communication, connection and understanding. All coaching services are customized to the client’s needs, meeting each veteran and family where they are. Clients are followed for their well-being for at least six months post-program, which is measured subjectively via surveys to determine progress.

Keeping in mind that everyone has individual coping skills and life circumstances, the programs allow all clients to be themselves, learn more about individual strengths and reach their own goals. Clients of Warrior Path Home become better versions of themselves, regain control of their lives and enjoy happier, healthier relationships.

At Warrior Path Home, Haas said they strive to create programs that implement sustained behavior change. The methods are results-driven, fun and engaging for individuals seeking to improve themselves personally and professionally.

Programs are delivered through private or group coaching virtually and also sometimes may be in combination using horses as learning partners (EGL). Haas said 75% of her interactions with clients is virtual.

“Our main goal at Warrior Path Home is getting to the root of veterans’ issues and let go of them versus simply managing them, while also creating a greater awareness of self and of the world,” she said. “For veterans and their families, Warrior Path Home is truly a path back to themselves.”

Haas said she’s been coaching for 18 years and started her nonprofit in 2019. She knew there was a need for this type of service after working with clients who passed through the Veterans Treatment Court. These individuals, being a veteran, had an option of going through a two-year coaching program to get their lives back in order.

“I wanted to do something more for them,” she said. “So I started my nonprofit.”

Haas said working with horses is a very small part of her program now and out of convenience for her clients who are busy with their jobs, families and health, sessions are usually virtual either over computers or smartphones.

Korean War veteran shares memories

By Sharon Stone

Samuel “Ken” Maxwell, 91, of Tyrone Township might be moving a bit slower these days. However, he has a lifetime of stories and a love for his country that is undeniable.

He and his wife Sharon “Sherry” have been married for 60 years. Their three sons Randy, Shawn and Scott and two daughters Dawn and Bonnie attended Linden schools.

According to the Department of Veterans Affairs, between 1950 and 1955, 6.8 million American men and women served worldwide. In 2020, there were over 1 million Korean War veterans.

By 2030, the aging Korean War Veteran population is projected to fall below 200,000.

Maxwell grew up on a farm in Nolensville, Tennessee. He enlisted in the U.S. Army Jan. 30, 1951 and was discharged Jan. 12, 1954. He remained stateside for a period of his service and also studied medicine at the Naval Academy when he was in Japan. He was a combat medic and a sergeant.

After being discharged, he came up to Michigan, got a job as a machinist in the Detroit area, got married and had five kids. In 1976, the family moved to their current home in Tyrone Township. Maxwell also has his pilot’s license. Their three sons are veterans and have their pilot’s license. One flies for the government.

As one of only seven survivors out of 135 men in his company after the Battle of Pork Chop Hill, Maxwell came home after the war with flecks of shrapnel still in his left leg and a tremor in his left hand that remains there today. He remembers having to retrieve wounded soldiers and having to carry some back.

“The Chinese took it from us,” he said of the Battle on Pork Chop Hill. “We went up at 4 a.m. It was quite the battle. We finally gave up.” He remembers that the others were killed or wounded, but most were killed.

After nine months in Korea, he returned home in 1953.

Almost 60 years after the Korean War, Maxwell got the biggest surprise of his life when he was awarded the Purple Heart in a surprise ceremony June 3, 2012 at the Masonic Lodge in Linden. His nephew, Kevin Cattran, a liaison for the Veterans Administration, organized the effort to get Maxwell his Purple Heart “for wounds received as a result of hostile action.”

During the surprise ceremony, retired Col. Don Neuville, of Linden, pinned the Purple Heart on Maxwell. He also had been recommended for the Silver Star for his actions on Pork Chop Hill, but received the Bronze Star with V device (for Valor), as well as a special tribute from the State of Michigan honoring his service.

Recalling his injuries, Maxwell and his wife said that he had wooden slivers in his stomach, shrapnel all over, tinnitus in his ears and a traumatic brain injury.

Swartz Creek Veterans Memorial the result of grassroots support

By Lania Rocha

SWARTZ CREEK – The City of Swartz Creek is home to one of the most impressive veterans memorials in the state of Michigan.

Beyond the stunning vision of the life-size statues, 20-foot granite star and towering flagpoles is an equally impressive story of the grassroots effort that brought the memorial from idea to reality.

“We have about $400,000 into it, all from individuals or groups,” Rick Henry, chairman of the Veterans Memorial Committee, said of the overwhelming support the memorial continues to receive from the community. “We received nothing (in funds) from the government, although the City of Swartz Creek donated the property. Everything else was from fundraisers.”

Henry said “it didn’t take as long as you might think it would” – only about a year – to raise tens of thousands of dollars needed to get the monumental project off the ground.

The committee sponsored bake sales and rummage sales, accepted monetary donations, and sold brick pavers.

In fact, they continue to sell bricks to help pay for routine maintenance and improvements to the statue park located on Paul Fortino Drive.

Roughly 50 4-inch by 8-inch red brick pavers are still available for purchase at $50 each. Each brick can accommodate three lines of text, with up to 21 characters per line. Most of the pavers display veterans’ names or family names, some have the names of service organizations etched into them. Club logos are allowed, but business and political logos, or other forms of advertising, are prohibited.

Anyone interested in purchasing a brick may contact the city of Swartz Creek for additional information.

The feature most notable to people passing by the memorial are the life-size bronze statues representing the five branches of the military: Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines and Coast Guard, each of which cost $28,000.

“We tried to design it as though the statues are guarding (the memorial),” Henry said.

The statues surround a 20-foot raised granite star. Situated on the west side of the star is the Fallen Soldier Battle Cross. In addition, there is a life-size statue of a German shepherd to represent all the animals used in the service, a serenity fountain, benches and the Purple Heart archway at the entrance. The archway was donated by a local resident in memory of his son.

Services specially designed for, managed by women

Each woman’s experience is unique, yet many women veterans face similar challenges when serving in the military and afterward when they return to civilian life. Below are services specially designed for women.

Military Sisterhood Initiative (virtual)
This is a virtual platform for women of the military (active duty, reserve, veterans). You can join almost 5,000 military women on this Facebook-like platform through Challenge America.
Some benefits of joining: You get to be in a community of women-only, it is a safe space, there are endless activities, and resources to help get you connected to the benefits you’ve earned.

Warrior Path Home uses a sliding scale for fees. She and her clients rely on fundraising and provide donations and corporate sponsorships.
Haas’ program is not cookie-cutter for every veteran. She gauges progress on how they feel and how they are doing with reaching their goals. The sessions can be very therapeutic.
When asked what trends she sees with issues her veterans are facing, Haas said the biggest struggles are anger, anxiety, PTSD, stress, being overwhelmed. “Those feelings aren’t limited to veterans,” she said.

Being virtual, Haas can work with individuals anywhere. She has numerous that are local, or at least in Michigan, but she also has worked with veterans across the country.

Check out these tips for job seekers

An interview can be stressful, but with some preparation beforehand, you can confidently and concisely communicate your military training, education, experience and leadership to a prospective employer.

The following advice lays a basic foundation for your preparation.

Remember, the more time you invest, the better prepared and more relaxed you will be.

Conduct research on the business and the people you will meet prior to the interview.

Research which civilian careers are most suited to you based on your military experiences and training. Be prepared to discuss how many people you led, the various duties you were responsible for in addition to your primary job and quantify the improvements you made.

Employers want to understand STAR (situation, task, action and result).

Here are some examples:

- I worked as an Army Signal officer, which means I was a mid-level manager providing services similar to that of AT&T and Comcast in war zones or remote areas of the world.
- I procured approximately $4.2 million in telecommunications equipment for 10,000 Iraqi National Guard soldiers and trained them on how to use this equipment during war time operations.
- I supervised 30 soldiers implementing and managing a digital and voice network for 20,000 users in a heavily wooded area with no pre-existing IT or telecommunications infrastructure.
- I conducted and evaluated a 30-day training exercise preparing 462 personnel deploying to Kosovo and resulting in a readiness rating of 90%, a 15% increase over the previous year.

Practice interviewing. You may even want to make a video of yourself to get an idea of how you sound and look during the interview.

The committee began raising funds in 2006 and, in about a year, they had enough money to purchase the first statue, an Army soldier in World War II fatigues. The statue was set in place in 2008.

Next came the Navy and Air Force statues, both of which are depicted in World War II uniforms. The Marine Corps statue, fashioned to honor the Marines who have served in the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, was set in place in 2011, followed by the Coast Guard statue in 2012.

Coastie April Caverly was the inspiration for the final statue. She was stationed at Coast Guard Air Station Traverse City at the time, and was in attendance at the dedication ceremony, which included a fly-in of a Coast Guard helicopter. Among the helicopter crew was a Swartz Creek graduate.

The memorial remains a community endeavor, with the Master Gardener Association of Genesee County planting flowers every year, and local Boy Scouts and other volunteers keeping the statue park ship shape.

The memorial provides the backdrop for several annual ceremonies, including the Memorial Day service sponsored by American Legion Post 294 of Swartz Creek, and the Veterans’ Day ceremony sponsored by the VFW Hammerberg Memorial Post 3720 of Swartz Creek. The Veterans Day service begins at 11:11 a.m. on Nov. 11 every year.

In addition, the GFWC Swartz Creek Women’s Club hosts a 911 Remembrance Day on Sept. 11 – Patriot Day.

“We also do tours for elementary school groups,” Henry said. “We try to keep the kids in town involved, so they learn to appreciate and respect it.”

Anticipate what questions the employer might ask. The following are some common questions you may encounter:

- Tell me about yourself.
- Why should we hire you?
- Why did you leave your last job? Answer with a positive statement. Try not to say: “I was fired,” “terminated,” “quit,” “had no babysitter,” or “couldn’t get along with coworkers or supervisor.” However, you can say: “new job,” “contract ended,” “seasonal,” “temporary,” “career change,” “returned to school,” or “relocated.”

- Why have you been unemployed for such a long time? Tell the truth. Emphasize that you were looking for a good company where you can settle and make a contribution.

- Why should we hire you? Make a positive statement, such as “I would like the opportunity to work with you and believe that I can do the work.” Restate some of your skills and experiences that match the job description.

- Do you have references? It is most important that you contact your references ahead of time and have their name, current address and telephone numbers.

Flint Township seeks donations for Heroes Plaza memorial project

By Ben Gagnon
810-462-2681 • bgagnon@mihomепaper.com

FLINT TWP. — For years, Flint Township has entertained the idea of constructing a memorial to honor military veterans and local first responders.

Now, that concept is about to be realized as a Heroes Plaza on the grounds of the Flint Township Police Department on Norko Drive.

To get the project finalized, Flint Township is seeking donations from the public in the form of commemorative bricks that will be installed at the memorial. Those who wish to honor a past or present United States Armed Forces member, a Flint Township police officer or a Flint Township firefighter (active or retired) can purchase a 4x8 brick ($50) or an 8x8 brick ($100) and have the name, rank and service branch of their military veteran or first responder inscribed on the brick.

Donations of $1,000 or more will be acknowledged on a brass plaque as part of the memorial.

Three granite stones will also stand as the focal point of Heroes Plaza. The largest stone, which will display logos of the six branches of the U.S. military, is projected to stand about five feet tall and weigh 4,000 pounds. The other granite stones will display logos of the Flint Township Police Department and the Flint Township Fire Department.

Flint Township Supervisor Karyn Miller, who helped to spearhead the memorial project this year along with Trustees Barb Vert and Carol Pfaff-Dahl, said that the Heroes Plaza will likely be constructed in a space near the police department’s front entrance and flagpoles.

See DONATIONS on 14
DONATIONS

“Every time someone comes into the police station parking lot, the memorial will remind them of those who served and sacrificed for our freedom,” Miller said. “It’s a small token of appreciation for the people who have served to keep us free.”

Although Flint Township officials were hoping to have the memorial finished in time for Veterans Day, Miller said that an official unveiling probably won’t be held until next Memorial Day.

Miller said that about 50 bricks have been purchased for the memorial over the last decade, and another 30 to 50 bricks are expected to be ordered ahead of the groundbreaking.

Plans for the Heroes Plaza began in 2007 when Tracey Tucker, Flint Township’s current Economic Enhancement Director, and her father, Galen Jamison, helped to form a committee and start fundraising efforts with local businesses.

“My Dad always felt that service members, especially during the Vietnam Era, needed to be honored,” Tucker said. “The memorial was one of the last things we were working on together. So it has a lot of emotional significance for me.”

After her father passed away in May of 2007, Tucker and then Flint Township Trustee Roger Powell continued fundraising, but the project eventually stalled out in the 2010s until it was revived this year by the Flint Township Board of Trustees.

In addition to individual donors, Zellar Excavating, Modern Concrete and Crannie Signs have each stepped in to support the project.

To purchase a brick for the memorial or to donate to the cause, visit https://www.flinttownship.org/i-want-to/hero-s-plaza-memorial-brick-form. Volunteers are also needed to help lay concrete for the memorial. To volunteer, contact Tracey Tucker at tucker@flinttownship.org or 810-287-1059.

High school diplomas for WWII, Korea and Vietnam veterans

It’s not too late, even for next of kin to obtain important documents

Honorably discharged WWII, Korean or Vietnam era veterans who were unable to receive their high school diplomas because they enlisted or were drafted into the armed forces can still be awarded their graduation certificate.

Veterans must have attended high school in Michigan and served in the military during the following time periods:

• WWII: Dec. 16, 1940 to Dec. 31, 1946
• Korean conflict: June 27, 1950 to Jan. 31, 1955
• Vietnam: Feb. 28, 1961 to May 7, 1975

To apply for a diploma, the veteran or next of kin must return the Application for High School Diploma for Michigan WWII, Korean and Vietnam Era Veterans form to the veteran’s school district for processing along with a copy of their discharge papers.

To obtain a copy of their discharge papers, a DD-214 Request Form needs to be completed, signed and submitted to MVAA’s Resource Center.

A request form can also be downloaded and emailed to MVAAResourceCenter@michigan.gov.

Buy a brick to honor a veteran

By Emily Caswell

Fenton — After a pause due to the pandemic, the committee working to secure a Veteran’s Memorial in Fenton’s Freedom Park is back in action.

“With so many pressing community needs throughout the past year and a half, it made sense for this committee to pause,” said City Councilwoman Pat Lockwood, who is also chair of the committee. “We are all happy to be back together to make our vision a reality.”

The idea for the Veteran’s Memorial has been in the works since about 2017 and an official committee was formed and began work in 2019. It was decided around that same time that the memorial would be placed in Fenton’s Freedom Park, bordered by Shiawassee Avenue, Elizabeth Street and Park Street.

The park was originally used for town meetings and Civil War troops mustered here before heading off to battle. The park has long been a place of remembrance to honor those who have served from our local community.

The new Veteran’s Memorial will consist of a Veteran’s pathway, filled with memorial bricks, a sponsor area, seven flags honoring each branch of the United States military, a statue and commemorative wall.

The committee had a conceptual drawing done before the pandemic and estimates the total project will cost $375,000.

Initial funding for the project has been made possible by the Fenton Fund of the Community Foundation of Greater Flint, with support from the City of Fenton. Other sponsors include City of Fenton Parks Board, Fenton Department of Public Works, Fenton & Linden Regional Chamber of Commerce, Fenton Memorials, Inc., Kerning Advertising, Tri-County Times, OHM Engineering and the VFW Post 3243.

The committee is currently working to secure community and business sponsors as well. Those interested can contact Lockwood at 810-516-9480 or lockwoodpa4@gmail.com.

Those wishing to purchase a brick and honor a veteran have an option for a regular brick (4” x 8”) for $100 or a large brick (8” x 8”) for $175. Bricks can be purchased at www.FentonVeteransMemorial.com.

“With the holidays quickly approaching, we believe these bricks would make the perfect gift for a veteran you know and love,” Lockwood added. “With the delay over, the entire committee is anxious to see the memorial come together and provide a long-lasting legacy for our area veterans and a beautiful space for the entire community to enjoy.”

Local agencies that help area veterans

Important things veterans need to know about the Genesee County Department of Veterans Services

Genesee County has a population of 436,000. The county currently has the fifth largest veteran population in the state of Michigan. Formed in 1975, the Genesee County Department of Veterans Services was created to help local veterans and their families obtain veterans’ benefits from federal, state and local agencies. The office also was set up to help indigent veterans and veterans in emergency situations who need help with the necessities of life.

Since the department’s inception, the Board of Commissioners has continued to recognize the need for professional veterans’ advocates to provide claims assistance to the 40,000 veterans and their families who reside in this county and to continue helping our indigent veterans.

The Genesee County Board of Commissioners is responsible for four separate departments: Department of Veterans Services, Soldiers Relief Commission, Michigan Veterans Trust Fund and the Veterans Burial Fund. These departments are supervised by Jeanne C. Thick, Director.

The Department of Veterans Services is a networking center for all veteran organizations in the county. The staff answers any questions that the veteran or family member may have, and/or refers them to the proper agency for additional help. The staff also disseminates information to the veteran’s organizations as it relates to upcoming events, legislative concerns, or issues we feel are important to the veteran.

The Department of Veterans Services is unique in that they house three State Service Officers from Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, and Marine Corp. League. These counselors assist veterans and family members with their claims and filling out VA forms for service-connected and non-service connected disabilities and pensions for veterans, spouses, widows and dependent children. The Service See LOCAL on 19
Michigan sees increase in veteran population, VA benefits

The number of military veterans in Michigan grew for the first time in over a decade last year, while the amount of federal disability benefits paid to the state’s veterans also increased significantly, according to an annual report from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA).

Michigan’s veteran population increased by 15,507 — to 567,919 veterans in fiscal year 2020 (FY20) from 552,412 the previous fiscal year. That 2.8% increase topped the national increase of 1.8% and reverses the state’s yearly skid of declining veteran population that dates back to at least 2010, when Michigan had more than 703,000 veterans.

The data comes from the VA’s Geographic Distribution of Expenditures, or GDX report, which also tracks how much money VA spends in each state. Michigan saw a nearly $345 million increase in overall VA expenditures as well as an increase in disability compensation and pension, which are tax-free benefits for disabled veterans.

“We are proud to see more veterans and their families choose to make Michigan home,” said Gov. Gretchen Whitmer. “We remain committed to supporting the brave men and women who selflessly served our country in uniform and making sure they can thrive right here in Michigan.”

Zaneta Adams, director of the Michigan Veterans Affairs Agency (MVAA), said the latest report suggests Michigan is improving in its efforts to reach veterans in their communities and to get them connected to the benefits and resources they earned for their service. As the state’s coordinating agency for veterans and their families, the MVAA is available 24/7 through its 1-800-MICH-VET hotline and at Michigan.gov/MVAA.

“This latest GDX report is promising on several fronts,” Adams said. “Michigan continues to see an increase in overall federal expenditures to our veterans and their families. We also experienced a significant rise in compensation and pension benefits to our veterans, as well as the first increase in our veteran population in years. That points to the fact that our messaging is being received and veterans in Michigan, who weren’t previously connected with VA, are making that connection and starting to receive the benefits they’ve earned.”

One key to getting more Michigan veterans connected to benefits is to first get them to identify as veterans. Adams said the MVAA has made significant strides in reaching former service members who may not identify as veterans, including women veterans through its “She is A Veteran” campaign, as well as tribal veterans and peacetime veterans. Overall, Michigan has the 11th largest veteran population in the nation.

According to the latest GDX report:

Overall, the VA spent $4.88 billion in Michigan in FY20, up from $4.53 billion the previous fiscal year. That equated to $8,592 per veteran, on average, in Michigan - the eighth straight year that figure has increased. Michigan’s rank among the 53 states and territories improved to 49th in FY20 from 50th the year before.

Michigan received $4,406 per veteran, on average, for compensation and pension benefits in FY20, a 3.2% increase from the previous year. Michigan’s ranking in this key category improved to 36th, up two spots from 38th in FY19.

VA tracks the funding it sends to states for construction and infrastructure projects such as improvements to state-run veteran homes and cemeteries. Michigan received $46 per veteran, on average, for construction expenditures. This is a drop from $55 per veteran in FY19, but still higher than any other fiscal year in the past 10 years. Michigan ranked 23rd among the 53 states and territories in FY20.

Education benefits (including the G.I. Bill) and vocational rehabilitation are combined into one category. Michigan received an average of $352 per veteran in education and vocational rehab in FY20. This was a decrease from $405 per veteran in FY19 and dropped Michigan from 46th to 49th among the states and territories. However, when compared to its peer states, Michigan ranked higher than Wisconsin (50th) and Indiana (53rd), while Ohio was 47th and Illinois was 39th.

“We still have much work to do in getting more Michigan veterans connected to the benefits they earned for their service, and in securing more federal support toward that goal,” Adams said. “We saw the amount of money the VA spends in Michigan on infrastructure dip last year, although we still rank in the top half of all states in that category. We will continue engaging the VA to find out what they can do to boost infrastructure and staffing in our state to serve our large veteran population.”

“Additionally,” she said, “we dropped in rank for the number of veterans utilizing education and vocational rehabilitation benefits and we are still evaluating to see if that was a result of COVID-19 or other factors.”

Ultimately, Michigan’s goal within the next five years is to rank in the top third of the 53 states and territories in terms of federal expenditures to veterans.

“That’s an aggressive goal, particularly given the fact that Michigan does not have a large military installation that naturally attracts transitioning service members to remain in the state,” Adams said. “But Michigan boasts a vast array of veteran-specific employment, education, health care and quality-of-life opportunities - along with low cost of living and a statewide veteran-support network - that make it a great place for transitioning service members to live, work, play and retire.”

The Soldiers Relief Commission was established to help indigent veterans and/or veterans in an emergency situation who have at least one day of wartime service. A staff member fills out the application form for the veteran and Soldiers Relief Commissioners determine their needs. Many times, when immediate help is needed, they are referred to other county agencies. The veteran may apply for financial assistance for food, rent, mortgage, taxes, utility bills, clothing and many other necessities of life. The Soldiers Relief Committee meets the first and third Thursday at 10 a.m.

The Veterans Burial Fund is a fund set up for veterans who have at least 90 days of wartime service. If the estate, real and personal, does not exceed $40,000 excluding the homestead, the family will receive $300 toward the burial expenses from Genesee County. The veteran must also have been a resident of Michigan for a period of six months before entering the service, or for a period of three years immediately preceding death.

The Michigan Veterans Trust Fund is a state fund set up for veterans who have at least 180 days of wartime service and have a short-term emergent situation. In most cases, veterans apply for food, utility bills, rent, mortgage, taxes, clothing and other items deemed as an emergent need. The Trust Fund Committee meets on a monthly basis.

Calling all Linden residents
Get involved in municipal matters by applying to be on these boards

By Hannah Ball
Linden Mayor Danielle Cusson is hoping city residents will be interested in getting involved in municipal activities.
During the Monday, Oct. 25 meeting, Cusson said Linden has positions on multiple boards that are up for reappointment this year. The city will consider new applicants on the following boards:

Linden Planning Commission
The planning commission works on the master plan for existing and future land uses in the city. The master plan is an analysis and mapping report for a municipality based on population factors and zoning uses. It is used for reviews during land use requests, site plans and related approvals for development, change of occupancy and assisting with the development of capital improvement plans.
Commissioners are appointed by city council. The Linden Planning Commission meets the first Monday of each month at 7:00 p.m. in Council Chambers located on the lower level of the Mill Building.

Board of Review
The board of review is responsible for considering appeals to property assessments, poverty exemption applications, and tax roll corrections. The board meets annually on the third Monday in March, and it meets in July and December for tax roll corrections only. Members are appointed by the city council.

Library Board
The Library Board meets the first Thursday of April, June, September, and December to work with the librarian of the Linden Branch of the Genesee District Library and conducts events to promote the use of the library, said Councilor Pam Howd, who is on the library board. They work on projects that enrich the library and host the annual book sale. Proceeds go to library needs.
The members are appointed.

Parks and Recreation
The Parks and Recreation board organizes and conducts cleanup days for city parks. The board works to spread information and promote the safe use of recreation in Linden.

Downtown Development Authority
The DDA oversees the promotional activities and public improvements within the district. The nine members on the board are responsible for the downtown development plan and overseeing the budget for tax increment financing within the district. DDA members are appointed by the city council and meet on the fourth Thursday of every month, at 8:30 a.m., in Council Chambers on the lower level of the Mill Building.

More information is available at lindenmi.us/dda.

Zoning Board of Appeals
The Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) is a quasi-judicial board that considers appeals, variance requests, and ordinance interpretation. It meets the second Tuesday of each quarter, once in January, April, July, and October, at 7:00 p.m. in the City Council Chambers, and at times when a special meeting is requested. Members are appointed by the city council.
Find the application at lindenmi.us under the “Boards & Commissions” tab. Applications should be in by mid November, and appointments will be made in December.

Linden boys XC finish seventh at state meet

By David Troppens

It’s pretty easy to look back at the Linden varsity boys cross country season and recognize it as a tremendous success.

A year after not qualifying for the state meet, the Eagles returned this season under first-year head coach Trevor Hall, earned two All-State performances and also earned seventh place as a team.

Linden’s squad recorded 259 points, 39 more than sixth-place Adrian and six less than eighth-place East Grand Rapids.

“We went into the season with high expectations, but coming in seventh definitely exceeded those expectations,” one of Linden’s two All-State runners River Meckstroth said. “Everyone has worked so hard this season and I’m grateful we get to see it all pay off.”

“I thought the team ran great,” Linden’s other All-State runner Kyle Eberhard said. “We all had really good days, especially from Ryan (Blackwood) and Clayton (Ackerman). Those two ran really well and had great times.”

“I thought it was a really strong end to a memorable season,” Hall said. “I felt like each of the seven guys who competed for us had a strong race and it culminated in a couple of PRs and a top-10 finish, which has been the goal from the beginning.”

By David Troppens

Lake Fenton — It was a season of firsts for the Lake Fenton varsity football team.

It was the first time the Blue Devils earned a Flint Metro League Stars Division title, sharing it with Goodrich. It was the first time Lake Fenton represented the Flint Metro League Stars Division as its squad in the championship game against the Stripes Division champion. And, of course, the Blue Devils were the first Stars Division team to become the outright league champion when they defeated Fenton in the crossover title game.

However, what was an outstanding season for the Blue Devils came to an end in a Division 4 District championship game at home against the Freeland Falcons Friday night.

The Blue Devils (9-2) couldn’t stop the Falcons’ potent ground attack, resulting in a 37-6 loss.

Still, it was an outstanding season by a squad that posted just a combined six wins in the past two seasons, and had earned three consecutive losing seasons before this year. Lake Fenton recorded its first nine-win season since winning 11 contests during the 2006 season.

“This means the world,” Lake Fenton senior Reid Shumaker said. “To see this program from one that hasn’t won a playoff game in I don’t know how long to one that won a playoff game (means a lot). Us seniors built it. We got to see it grow and this was definitely special for us.”

“Before we came in we really didn’t have much,” Lake Fenton senior Dylan Hammis said. “We had some broken up years but everything came together this year. We finished off strong even though we didn’t come out with the win (against Freeland).”

The Blue Devils posted just a 3-5 record a year ago but they entered the season with a renewed optimism created by the relationships the senior class tried to build throughout the offseason. It, obviously, worked.

“Everyone bought in at the beginning of the year,” Lake Fenton senior Max Muenzer said. “We love each other, we are so close and we never quit.

We got after it.
“(Being a part of the Lake Fenton program) meant building bonds with people and creating relationships with people you will never forget.”

“This is the closest that any of us have been with any team around,” Shumaker said. “We are just close and that’s what made us a good team. We were closer than any other team we played.”

Lake Fenton varsity football coach Marty Borski agreed.
“They love each other,” Borski said. “I don’t know if we’ve ever had a group — we are talented, don’t get me wrong — that was us instead of me, that was we instead of me. It made us greater. I have said it all year, that’s our super power. These kids absolutely love each other. They want to be with each other all the time. They want to do more. That’s what makes them different.”

While the Blue Devils entered the contest the top seed based on the formula used by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, most ventured to give the favorite status to Freeland entering the contest due to their consistent success and potent ground game. The two games the squads competed in recent times, Freeland (10-1) won both (2014 and 2015).

The Falcons scored the first blow. On their opening possession of the contest, Freeland came close to scoring, but quarterback Bryson Huckeby fumbled at the Lake Fenton 1. Lake Fenton’s Nash Verhelle recovered, staving off what could’ve been the game’s first score. However, four plays later, Lake Fenton was punting and Freeland took over at the Lake Fenton 24. Six plays later, Huckeby scored on a seven-yard run. Garret Pistro ran in the two-point conversion and the Blue devils trailed 8-0 with 1:32 left in the first quarter.

Both teams’ defenses stiffened from that point for a bit. However, about the midpoint of the second quarter, the Blue Devils began their only scoring drive of the game.

Starting at their own 28, the Blue Devils took six plays to score on a 17-yard TD run up the middle by Lucas Storm. Helping set up that score were pass completions of 27 yards to Dalton Decker and 24 yards to Verhelle. Lake Fenton failed to convert the two-point conversion, enabling Freeland to hole an 8-6 lead with 3:22 left in the half.

However, Freeland responded immediately. Set up by a big kickoff return to the Lake Fenton 45 by Evan Vasicek, the Falcons took seven plays to drive 45 yards and score on Huckeby’s one-yard QB sneak. Freeland led 16-6 with 28.4 seconds left in the half.

After a strong resistance in the first half, the Blue Devils weren’t able to keep up with Freeland’s size in the second half. The Falcons took eight plays to drive 63 yards, scoring on a three-yard run by Huckeby. Jacob Kundinger’s extra-point put Freeland up 22-6 with 8:20 left in the third quarter.

Lake Fenton tried to respond, and with the help of a 31-yard completion to Jack Conley, had the ball at the Freeland 24, facing a fourth-and-4 play. That play resulted in an incomplete pass.

nac, Olsen Alexander and Sana Saab also began the finals with a first-place time of 1:54.96 in the 200 medley relay. That also was a new pool record. Finally, Heavner, Alexander, Dolliver and Saab also won the 200 freestyle relay with a time of 1:45.50.

In individual events, Olsen won the 200 freestyle (1:57.35) and the 100 freestyle (53.64) while Heavner was the Metro’s individual champion in the 100 butterfly (58.53) and the 100 backstroke (58.58). Both were Brandon pool records for Heavner. Olsen’s 200 freestyle time was a meet record.

Three others earned individual league championship finishes. Stefanac won the 200 individual medley (2:18.50) while Molly Blanchard won the 500 freestyle (5:36.68). Ella Koch earned the final first, winning diving (336.70).

The Tigers also had four individual seconds. Saab had two of them, earning runner-up honors in the 50 freestyle (25.73) and in the 100 freestyle (56.53).

Lake Fenton varsity football coach Marty Borski agreed.
“We were closer than any other team we played.”

Ian Pinion for the boys and Claire Hunt and Marielle Hatfield for the girls) and Linden’s women (Ava Fahrenkopf) also had a competitor at the meet.

The Linden boys were the main story. Eberhard, a junior, and Meckstroth, a senior, ran together for most of the race and slowly picked off runners in the field. They ran a 5:16 in the first mile and were well into the pack. They each improved to about the 30th place at the two mile mark, recording times of 10:26. From there, the pair made their move to lock up All-State spots. Eberhard was 22nd at the three-mile mark (15:40.9) and finished in 21st with a time of 16:04.85. Meckstroth improved to 27th at the three-mile mark (15:45.3) and held that position, finishing with a time of 16:15.72.

“Personally, I felt strong during the race and me and River executed our race plan really well,” Eberhard said. “Top 30 at the state meet has always been my long-term high school goal, so to finally accomplish something like that was an unbelievable experience,” Meckstroth said. “The race played out perfectly and I think both Kyle and I ran really great race strategies.”

After Meckstroth, Ackerman placed 77th (16:56.00) while Blackwood took 96th (17:05.36). Hayden Bradfield was Linden’s final scorer taking 140th (17:29.64). The Eagles’ final two runners were Ian Martin in 185th (17:49.48) and Miles Aeschliman in 215th (18:10.65). Only Meckstroth and Aeschliman are seniors.

The area’s other male runner in the D2 race was Lake Fenton’s Pinion. The sophomore finished 40th in 16:32.43.

Among the runners in the female’s event, Lake Fenton’s Hunt completed a fine career with an 82nd-place finish in 2:14.77. About nine seconds behind her was Hunt’s fellow senior teammate Marielle Hatfield, finishing 100th in 20:23.37.

Linden’s Fahrenkopf was the tri-county’s last runner in the D2 event, taking 132nd in 20:45.01.

She not only accomplished them, but the Holly freshman pretty much crushed those goals.

Sobczynski was one of three area runners to compete in the Division 1 meet (the others were Fenton’s Michael Crane and Nathan Katic in the boy’s race) and earned All-State honors by placing 11th at the meet with a time of 18:16.47. Both were eye-popping for Sobczynski.

“Since it was my first state meet and I didn’t know what to expect at all, I was aiming for a big personal record and a top 30 finish,” Sobczynski said. “(Finishing 11th) was crazy. I was seeded to be 35th before I ran the race.”

Sobczynski was within the top 30 (the places that earn All-State honors) at each of the mile marks. She was approximately 19th after the first mile with a time of 5:48.8.

“We went out really fast,” Sobczynski said. “I thought I was going to start feeling pain in my legs, but somehow they didn’t hurt.”

She maintained her pace with the pack she was around during the second mile and was around 18th at the two-mile mark with a time of 11:47.8.

“I knew I only had a mile left, so (when I got to the two mile) I started going again, excited for the finish,” Sobczynski said. “Coach (Richie Brinker) started screaming and stuff. It’s insane because I can hear him over all of the other coaches.”

Sobczynski did make her move. She passed a handful of runners during the final 1.1 mile, getting into the 11th position by the third mile marker (17:45.8). She maintained that position during the final stretch, finishing the 3.1-mile race in 18:16.47. That was a personal best time by about 32 seconds.

“Most of the last mile we were at the speedway,” Sobczynski said. “Since I knew we were back in there, I kept going faster and faster and passing people.”

Sobczynski was one of the area’s top runners all season long. She won the first two Metro jamborees and finished second at the championship race. She also had four other runner-up finishes and three third-place finishes with one of those coming at the regional.

“I think (my season) went very well considering I wanted to aim for 18:30,” Sobczynski said. “And all of the Holly girls team runners were all able to improve really well, which was good.”

Crane led the area boys placing 37th, just seven positions out of the All-State positions. The Fenton senior had a time of 16:11.08. The 30th-place time was 16:00.46. Katic, a junior, finished in 188th position with a time of 17:18.21.
