Dozens of Fenton area residents change plans when motion hearing for bond is canceled in shooting case.

A Fenton area mother is hoping that the judge presiding over the case in which her 20-year-old son is a shooting victim will raise the bond of the defendant. A motion hearing that was scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 8 was canceled Tuesday. She learned that the judge is writing a new order and a new date has not been announced.

Joshua Antwan Liggins, 31, allegedly shot multiple times, unprovoked, at a truck occupied by eight young men aged 18, 19 and 20, while they were

Holly man wishes for new kidney

Hopes to match a living donor as he continues dialysis multiple times each week

By Sharon Stone

A Holly High School Class of 2013 graduate is hoping to connect with someone who might be interested in donating one of their kidneys to him.

Cesante Ward, 26, of Holly, is a graduate of Oakland University. He graduated in 2018 with honors, receiving a Bachelor of Science in Human Resource Development.

Ward needs a kidney transplant. He said his time at OU ultimately has given him the courage to share his story and advocate for himself and to raise awareness for the dire need of kidney donations.

Ward said his kidney disease is from a birth defect and he’s been on and off dialysis until he was 12 (from deceased donor kidney transplants). He then started again when he was 23. He added that most people develop kidney disease through things like diabetes and high blood pressure.

“Most people don’t find out that they’re at risk for kidney disease until it’s too late because most general primary care doctors don’t test for the certain markers,” he said. “But if people are worried, they can ask for a referral to a Nephrologist where they would test levels like BUN, Creatinine and eGFR.”

In December 2018, a kidney transplant failed, and he has been back on dialysis. These treatments consist of being on a machine for four hours, multiple days a week, which can be very tiring and can cause other health complications.

There is no cure for this disease but Ward said receiving a transplant would give him the greatest chance of living a long and healthy life. He fears having to wait maybe five years before receiving a matched deceased donor.

“Asking someone to donate a kidney is difficult and it’s very hard to bring this up with people myself, yet it greatly improves my chances of finding a living kidney donor,” Ward said.

Ward is hoping to spread the word on his own need by sharing his story for more awareness of organ donation. People can share his story by liking his page, “Without a Moment to Spare,” which is on all social media. His blood

The investigation of the Oxford High School mass shooting

The mass shooting that happened Tuesday, Nov. 30 at Oxford High School left four teenagers, Hana St. Juliana, Tate Myre, Madison Baldwin and Justin Shilling, dead. There also are seven other families who are coping with loved ones who were shot and injured in this senseless shooting. I am so mad and sad about this horrific situation, just as I am sure everyone around me feels the same way. This mass shooting, allegedly done by a 15-year-old student, has shattered the lives of those teens’ families and friends along with the entire community.

This hit way too close to home. We don’t know all the details of the investigation so I would never claim I know how it happened or why. We can all speculate for now but the truth will eventually come out.

I’m confident that the Oakland County Sheriff’s Office will do a thorough investigation. Since the beginning, they have been keeping the media, such as the Times, and all of the residents up to date with the latest details through continual press briefings that are live streamed on Facebook and other social media. The sheriff’s office also has been keeping all of its media contacts up to date with schedules of future press briefings, details about apprehensions of the suspect and the suspect’s parents who reportedly purchased the handgun recently for their son as a gift.

Between Sheriff Michael Bouchard and Undersheriff Mike McCabe, everyone who is following this horrific story knows what the sheriff’s office is doing. Oakland County Prosecutor Karen McDonald also went live on social media with charges issued by her office.

Bond was denied for the suspect and bond was set at $500,000 for each of his parents who were arrested in a basement of an office building in Detroit early Saturday morning. All three of them are lodged at the Oakland County Jail. Sheriff Bouchard said they have been segregated and none of them are cooperating with investigators.

More than 5,000 attend Linden’s Frosty Parade

By Hannah Ball

Linden — Linden’s Holiday Happening festivities grow every year, and 2021 was no exception.

It’s estimated that more than 5,000 people attended the Lighted Parade that traveled through downtown. The city was packed with attendees during the fireworks over the Mill Pond, and hundreds of children met Santa at the newly renovated Kimble-Sharp Gazebo.

There were more than 40 floats from local businesses, organizations, civic groups and performances from the Linden High School Marching Band and the Hartland High School Marching Band.

Sue Turpen, board member of Happening in Linden, said the parade went well with no big issues.

Linden Police Chief Scott Sutter said the event went “fantastic” and there were no issues. “The community was able to come together and enjoy a great parade and wonderful fireworks. I think it was important to have this in light of what occurred in Oxford. It was a time to just relieve the stress and anxiety that we are all going through. I saw many happy faces in the crowds, both young, old and in between,” he said.

The entire Linden Police Department was at the event. Two Argentine Township officers attended and the Genesee County Sheriff’s Office sent four reserve officers. Linden Fire Department personnel helped, along with the Department of Public Works and city staff. He believes it was the largest Holiday Happening parade they’ve had as far as attendance. More than 5,000 people attended and the crowds went farther on Bridge and Broad streets compared to years past. “This event is our largest event of the year and it takes many hands to put this event on,” he said.

Other festivities included the family zone at the Linden Fire Department and a visit from dogs and handlers from Mid-Michigan Therapy Dogs. Food trucks were on scene to provide food and drinks. Refreshments were available at the VFW Hall, and horse and carriage rides went on until 9 p.m.
Immigration, deportation, Padilla v Kentucky, and competence of counsel

Over the years, issues surrounding immigration have been a topic of conversation. For example as to legal status, noncitizens have a number of ways of being here legally including temporary visitors who are given special visas and coming for work, school or tourism; permanent residents who aren’t citizens who hold what are known as “green” cards; and other visa holders and authorized individuals.

These noncitizens have a protected status, which can be removed under certain circumstances and result in deportation from the United States.

One way for noncitizens to be deported is by being convicted of a crime. Not all crimes result in deportation and the law has five major categories of deportable crimes as follows:

- Crimes of moral turpitude
- Aggravated felonies
- Controlled substances offenses
- Firearms offenses
- Domestic violence offenses

In criminal cases, defendants (including noncitizens) have a Sixth Amendment right to an attorney who is effective and provides competent legal advice.

In the 2010 United States Supreme Court case of Padilla v Kentucky, this right was confirmed as to the legal advice to be given to a defendant before they pleaded guilty to a deportable offense.

Mr. Padilla was born in Honduras, a lawful permanent resident of the United States for over 40 years, and a Vietnam veteran.

He pleaded guilty to a drug charge as his attorney assured him that he “did not have to worry about his immigration status since he had been in the country so long.”

This advice was wrong and in fact, he was subject to deportation no matter how long he’d lived in the United States.

The Supreme Court held that the attorney’s performance was constitutionally deficient and attorneys are always under an affirmative duty to inform noncitizen defendants of whether their plea carries a risk of deportation. The defendant was allowed to withdraw his plea.

On Nov. 18, 2021, the Michigan Court of Appeals discussed Padilla in People v Brizo-Custodio, and affirmed the obligations of counsel to noncitizens before there is a guilty plea.

While deportation is devastating and can separate families, it doesn’t mean that defendants who are convicted of certain crimes shouldn’t be deported. It does mean that the law demands that they are given all of the necessary information before making a guilty plea decision.

FREE MENTAL HEALTH COUNSELING AND RESOURCES

Oakland County hosts events in aftermath of Oxford High School shooting

Oakland County and its community partners will offer free mental health and other assistance throughout the county to individuals impacted by the tragic Oxford High School shooting last week. The Oakland Cares Mental Health Counseling & Resource Events will offer on-site counseling, pastoral guidance, and other resources Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday this week.

“We will deploy every resource at our disposal to give this community what it needs to heal. But make no mistake, there are no students, faculty and staff who were left unscathed in this tragedy,” said Oakland County Executive David Coulter. “There were more than 1,700 students at Oxford High School who were forced to flee the violence and that is a trauma that isn’t easily erased for students, their families and the larger community.”

The Oakland Cares Mental Health Counseling & Resource Events will be in various locations to make it accessible to residents throughout the county. They will take place from 2-7 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 7 at the Legacy Center in Oxford; 2-7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 8 at Welcome Missionary Baptist Church in Pontiac; and 2-7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9 at the Southfield Pavilion in Southfield.

Oakland Cares Mental Health Counseling & Resource Events will return to the Oxford community next week, date to be announced later.

Licensed counselors and social workers will be available, including for private one-on-one sessions, as well as faith-based leaders. Table resources will include parent support groups, school shooting resources, parent guidelines for helping youth after a shooting, discussing difficult situations with children, including violence, and information on suicide prevention.

Participating community partners include Oakland County Department of Health and Human Services, Oakland Community Health Network, ACCESS Community Health and Research Center, Catholic Charities of Southeast Michigan, and Welcome Missionary Baptist Church.

OXFORD HIGH

It felt as if everyone in this area was following what was happening at Oxford High School in real time. The story quickly spread across the internet and everyone I know watched in shock as school officials and law enforcement provided more details.

Schools across mid-Michigan closed their schools as copycat threats of violence circulated via social media causing short-staffed and overwhelmed police departments to shift their resources to investigate threats, which may or may not be credible. Reports of threats or shootings are continuing this week, prompting immediate response from multiple law enforcement agencies.

When the suspect’s parents missed their arraignment, a be-on-the-lookout was issued and every police department in Michigan was focused on finding them. A credible tip came in, which led law enforcement from Detroit to locate and apprehend the couple who were hiding in an office basement. This apprehension was the culmination of many law enforcement agencies working together.

Now that the suspect and his parents are in custody, investigators will be conducting interviews around the clock. They’ll be asking all the tough questions to learn how such a devastating turn of events happened and determining who will be held accountable.

The families of Hana, Tate, Madison and Justin want and need answers. The other families also want and need answers. As one who has lost a child, I know their parents are numb right now, they’re confused, they’re mad and they’re in auto mode. It’s enough that they pull themselves out of bed each morning.

While we let our justice system work, it’s a good time to hug our loved ones a bit longer. It’s also time to say something if you see something. An anonymous tip to your local police department could be all it takes to prevent this from happening again.

Those interested can learn more about donation from the University of Michigan Transplant Center or at the National Kidney Foundation. If interested, contact his coordinator at the U of M Transplant Center at 1-800-333-9013.
“A transplant would allow me to continue enjoying life, along with having more energy, a less restricted diet, and would lessen this health burden overall,” he said.
Ward has recently pursued a career as a summer camp director to develop programs that encourage and influence children to find new passions and to build their own identity. However, he said these are difficult to achieve with the long and tiring dialysis treatments.
To be a kidney donor, you need to be in generally good health. Routine tests are performed to determine a potential donor’s qualifications. Kidney donors go on to live long healthy lives with one kidney. All costs are covered, and the recuperation time in the hospital is a couple of days and two to three weeks at home.
“My experiences with the treatments consist of seizures, frequent hospital stays, stunted growth, countless amount of surgeries, among other difficulties,” Ward said. “Kidney failure and transplant rejection also caused me to miss school, field trips, sports, or events.”

McLaren Flint launches $1.5 million tuition payment program

Goal is to recruit and retain workforce

The McLaren Flint Foundation has secured $1.5 million dedicated toward the McLaren Flint Tuition/Loan Forgiveness program to help provide student loan repayment benefits to more than 100 healthcare employees. The hospital is partnering with Goodly, a platform that assists companies in making contributions to student loan debt by creating student loan benefits for employees. Current and new full-time and part-time employees in high-demand positions are eligible, including registered nurses, respiratory therapists, pharmacists, medical technologists, and more.

“The McLaren Flint Foundation not only assists patients in their time of need, but they have been vital in assisting the hospital to show appreciation and assist our frontline heroes in their times of need, as well,” said Chris Candela, president and CEO of McLaren Flint. “We want to be a forward-thinking employer, retain the amazing healthcare workers we already have, and attract new caring individuals to join our team. Being able to add a student loan benefit for eligible employees will help ease some of the stress of paying student loans and allows staff to put more of their mental energy into providing the best care for our patients and career growth.”

The student loan benefit will be applied like a 401(k) contribution — Goodly will automatically take an amount from McLaren Flint to apply toward student loans every month. This tuition payment is a payment on top of the employee’s student loan payment, which will lead to shortening the length of the loan and avoidance of compounding interest. The monthly payment amount increases in years two and three as long as the employee remains with McLaren Flint. A maximum of $15,000 of funding may be applied toward the employee’s student loans.

“When looking at ways we can continue being a leading employer of choice for RNs and health care workers in our community, this benefit seemed fit for the time,” said Doug Glazier, vice president of the McLaren Flint Foundation. “More and more nurses are continuing their education, and though McLaren Flint offers tuition reimbursement, the remaining balance has to be paid by the employee. This is another way we hope to help our healthcare workers as they continue to care for our patients. We’re gracious to have donors who find the benefit in giving to the Foundation to help make initiatives like this happen.”

Eligible employees will be required to submit an application for the McLaren Flint Tuition/Loan Forgiveness Program, prove student loan debt, and their loans cannot be in default. The first payments to student loans are anticipated to occur in January 2022.

Like any other hospital and healthcare institution, McLaren Flint has seen staffing challenges during the pandemic. The student loan repayment benefit will help the hospital recruit more nurses and other hard-to-fill clinical positions. According to Goodly, 49% of millennials would prefer receiving a student loan benefit instead of contributions to a 401(k). The platform also reports that 86% of employees they surveyed would consider staying at a company for at least five years if the employer assisted with student loan repayment.

Additional McLaren hospitals across the state have jumped on board with this forward-thinking model. For more information on careers at McLaren Flint, visit mclaren.org/careers.

Local Eastern Stars give away Christmas basket

Pat Lockwood, chairperson of the Jinglefest Committee, said they were happy to be able to get the committee together this year after not having an event in 2020 due to COVID-19. They made some changes due to safety, but it felt like a Jinglefest from before the pandemic.

More than 350 people ran or walked in the Jinglefest 5K, and approximately 2,500-3,000 people attended the parade. With 51 floats, it was the largest Jinglefest parade in Fenton’s history. Float attendants handed out candy and fliers, and Santa came by on a sleigh built by the Kiwanis Club.

“It really lifted peoples’ spirits. Everyone was in a great mood,” Lockwood said.

Marching bands from Fenton and Lake Fenton entertained the large crowd with music and lights decorating their instruments. After the parade, the city lit the Christmas tree in front of the Fenton Community and Cultural Center, which coincided with the fireworks.

The Girl Scouts gave out hot chocolate and the Boy Scouts sold food. The First Presbyterian Church had a live nativity scene and live animals. The Fenton High School Ambassadors sang Christmas songs. A local mom-to-mom group prepared all the cookies, brownies and other treats that were given out at the warming tent.

There was an ice carving demonstration, and the more than 18 ice sculptures will remain up until they melt. “Thanks to local businesses for sponsoring everything. They all sponsored the ice sculptures. A lot of people really love walking through and seeing that,” Lockwood said. “It’s almost like there was a little bit of everything for everyone. It was beautiful weather.”

The veterans committee spread information and awareness about building a veterans memorial at Freedom Park. After the parade and fireworks, children met Santa in the warming tent. Children were encouraged to write letters to Santa and drop them in the mailbox in front of the community center. The Key Club at Fenton High School and the Kiwanis Club is ensuring that each child gets a response from Santa. Jingle Fest is a joint event sponsored by the city of Fenton, the Fenton Downtown Development Authority, the Fenton and Linden Regional Chamber of Commerce, and area civic and non-profit groups.

“All in all, everyone was very pleased with it. We had very positive comments. We’re really thankful to everyone who came down and celebrated,” Lockwood said. She gave a special “thank you” to the Fenton police and fire departments, and the Department of Public Works, for their help.

Fenton Police Chief Jason Slater said they increased security measures for the event.

“I feel that the event was a success allowing for a return to normalcy since the pandemic began. It was a great evening to be out at a family centered event. Behind the scenes, there were many people committed to ensuring a great event for all that chose to attend,” Slater said. “There were no issues to speak of other than a medical situation near the community center. Medical personnel responded, and the situation was handled.”
Olsen, Jones earn top postseason MISCA honors

By David Troppens

The Fenton varsity girls swim team had a breakout season this fall. The Tigers finished fourth in Division 2 and had All-State performances in four individual events and in two relays, with two of the individual efforts resulting in state championship performances.

It’s not a shock that with such efforts, the Tigers are seeing some of their individuals earning honors after the season. Fenton’s six-time individual event Division 2 state champion Gracie Olsen was recently named the Division 2 Swimmer of the Year by the Michigan Interscholastic Swim Coaches Association (MISCA) and the Tigers’ mentor, Brad Jones, was named Division 2 Swim Coach of the Year by MISCA as well.

Olsen concluded her four-year swim career with the ultimate high — two event state championships while helping the Tigers to their first-ever Division 2 fourth-place finish in D2 state meet history. She also helped two relays finish in third, helping the team to that fourth-place finish.

This year Olsen won the 200 individual medley with an All-American consideration time of 2:01.58, just .07

Eagles soar by Lapeer in season-opening contest

By David Troppens

Three years ago, the Linden varsity girls basketball team won just one ball game.

Two years ago, the Eagles improved their record to 6-15. Last season, they had a winning record, and despite playing just 13 games due to the COVID-shortened season, they won more games than the previous season, scoring an 8-5 record.

Certainly the Eagles are looking for more progress during the 2021-22 season, and it looks like they are off to a good start.

seconds off the automatic time. She was an automatic All-American in the 100 butterfly though, earning a state championship time of 54.19 seconds.

She also teamed with Sophie Stefanac, Tess Heavner and Sana Saab to earn two third-place efforts in the relays. The squad posted a time of 1:46.38 in the 200 medley relay and a time of 3:33.15 in the 400 freestyle relay.

Olsen is the first swimmer of either gender to earn the honor.

“We can make a list of all of her accolades, but she’s also one of the greatest kids in school history,” Jones said. “She takes her role as a team leader more important than anything else. Taking care of the team is her top priority and that’s why she’s successful.”

That attitude is reflected by what Olsen said was one of her greatest life lessons learned while on Fenton’s team for the last four years moments after her prep career ended at the state meet.

“I learned that it’s more important working for a team than working for yourself,” Olsen said. “I learned to put in my effort and swim toward what the team can do and not just myself.”

Jones has been gathering a few highly noted awards the last couple of seasons himself. He won the MISCA State Coach of the Year award and the MHSCA Coach of the Year award in 2019. Now, he has earned this honor as well. Along with the events already discussed, Jones had Heavner and Stefanac earn individual All-State honors this season as well. Heavner finished second to Olsen in the 200 individual medley (2:04.60) and third in the 100 breaststroke (1:04.54) to earn All-State honors. Stefanac earned All-State honors by placing fifth in the 100 backstroke (58.53).

“This is an award for our program,” Jones said. “I do not do this job alone. I have an incredible assistant coach, Stephanie Olsen, and diving coach, Dave Bale. Add an amazing group of athletes that have bought in and are dedicated to our program. Many of our athletes train outside of our season with coach Adam Cooper and the OLY program. This award symbolizes the work of everyone involved. I am proud to be a part of such an amazing group.

“It was an honor just to be nominated for this award. But to have been selected by my coaching peers, it makes it very special.”

Griffins avenge previous loss, defeat Pinckney Pirates 7-5

By David Troppens

It was the rematch of the Fenton/Linden co-op hockey program against the Pinckney Pirates on Saturday.

Almost two weeks after the Pirates defeated the Griffins 7-3, the Fenton/Linden squad returned the favor, earning a 7-5 victory against the Pirates.

The amazing aspect of this game wasn’t that a pretty high goal total was scored in a competitive game (12), but how they were scored. The teams played the first period with just one goal being scored. The offense started to wake up in the second period with the two teams combining for four goals, but then something really went crazy in the final period. The two teams combined to score seven goals.

The contest featured four ties, but just one lead change. Typically, the Griffins (3-1) trailed but always fought back to tie the score. There were ties at 1-1, 3-3, 4-4 and 5-5. The final deadlock came after Dylan Holloway scored a power-play goal during the third period. From there, the Griffins kept going. Jacob Florida scored the game-winning goal off a Caden Crandall assist. The final goal was provided by Keegan McNamara when he scored off an assist by Mitchell Luck on the empty net late in the contest.

It was a big day for Jace Dumeah who scored his first high school three-goal hat trick for the Griffins. Luck had a goal and four assists while Linden won its season-opening contest by posting an impressive 45-21 road victory at Lapeer.

The contest was like a typical first-game of the season. There were plenty of miscues, but the Eagles certainly controlled the contest.

“It was a solid 24-point victory for our first game,” Linden varsity girls basketball coach Zachary Darling said. “We had the first-game jitters which was evident by our 28 turnovers. We played a good game defensively, getting 21 steals, 20 deflections and two blocks.

Kelsey McLennan led the defensive charge, collecting a team-high eight steals. She also had eight rebounds.

Offensively, it was a balanced effort. Paige Leedle had 10 points while Allison Maienbrook and McLennan had seven points each. Megan Widner and Kayla Widener had six points each while Shaye Burkholz had five points. Olivia Mawhinney had four points.

“All of our girls got good playing time, and it was a great team win for the first game,” Darling said. “We have a lot to work on, and I am going to be very nit-picky with this team because I believe they have so much potential.”

The potential is evident. Many of the players back this season were the ones that helped make last season a success. Leedle and McLennan were second-team All-Metro Stripes Division members a year ago, while Mawhinney earned honorable mention status as a freshman as well.

were clear favorites entering the contest and solidified that through their actions, scoring the game’s first 12 points. By the time the first quarter was over, the Blue Devils enjoyed a dominating 27-6 lead with four players providing the offense. Amaya Smith scored 11 first-quarter points, which included three treys during that eight-minute period. Cola Sisk netted eight points while Savannah Fellenbaum and Kelsey Corkran had four points each.

The Blue Devils (1-0 overall) continued to dominate in the second half, outscoring their visiting foes 17-4 in the stanza. Lake Fenton led 44-10 entering halftime. The Blue Devils’ offense slowed down a little bit in the second half, but that probably had to do more with the continuous mercy clock than anything.

“We moved up the court pretty well, especially for it being game one, and we shared it,” VanBuren said. “I don’t have any official totals, but I would say we had at least 15 assists.

“Defensively, we were active. We have a long way to go on that end, but we liked the help and activity. Our guards didn’t concede anything and that always helps the overall effort.

Fellenbaum ended up leading the squad with 16 points, including netting nine in the second quarter. Sisk finished with 15 points.

“I loved that we could get the season started with a win, and get good playing time for everyone,” VanBuren said.

“I can’t wait for the week and to see Corunna on Friday.”
OXFORD

Ethan Crumbley, 15, of Oxford, was charged with four counts of first-degree murder, seven counts of assault with intent to murder, terrorism and multiple firearms counts. He faces life in prison. Oakland County Prosecutor Karen McDonald is charging him as an adult.

Ethan is the alleged shooter in a mass school shooting that happened Tuesday, Nov. 30 at Oxford High School in Oakland County. The sheriff’s office reported that James and Jennifer Crumbley legally purchased the handgun that was used in the shooting four days prior to the shooting and said the parents posted on social media that the gun was a gift for Ethan.

Four high school students, Hana St. Juliana, Tate Myre, Madisyn Baldwin and Justin Shilling, died from gunshot wounds. In addition to those four students who died, seven other people were shot — six students and one teacher.

After not showing up for their arraignment, a be-on-the-lookout was issued for the Cumbleys. The two wanted fugitives were located and arrested by the Detroit Police Department. DPD received a 911 call from a business owner that observed the suspect vehicle in his parking lot on Bellevue near Jefferson in the city of Detroit. A female was observed near the car by the business owner. When he called 911, she fled on foot. After an extensive search by DPD including Detroit K9 units, both of the fugitives were located and arrested by DPD. The two were transported to the Oakland County Jail.

Oakland County Undersheriff Michael McCabe said, “Kudos to the Detroit Police Department for this great response and work. We wish to thank all of the agencies that assisted on scene including Border Patrol, MSP, U.S. Marshals and our own Fugitive Team.”

Andrzej Sikora, 65, was to be interviewed Monday, Dec. 6 by sheriff’s detectives as to any connection he may have to the disappearance of Jennifer and James Crumbley. The couple was the focus of an intensive manhunt Friday and Saturday by the Sheriff’s Fugitive Apprehension Team, the U.S. Marshal’s Service, FBI, Michigan State Police and the Detroit Police Department. They were arrested by Detroit Police early Saturday in a commercial building in the 1100 block of Bellevue near Jefferson Avenue in Detroit. The commercial space is linked to Sikora.

“We will vigorously investigate the totality of the situation so a determination can be made if there is any criminality or obstruction of justice involved,” Sheriff Michael Bouchard said. “Our findings will be presented to the prosecutor.”

Bloomfield Hills attorney Clarence Dass, who represents Sikora, said his client contacted the Sheriff’s Office and authorities in Detroit after the couple’s arrest.

A probable cause conference has been scheduled for Dec. 13 at 1:15 p.m. for Ethan Crumbley. A probable cause conference has been scheduled for James and Jennifer Crumbley for Dec. 14 at 1:15 p.m.

A Dec. 2 deadlinedetroit.com article with the headline, “Interior secretary orders removal of ‘Squaw’ from 31 Michigan sites, including lakes,” caught the attention of several residents.

Fenton Township is home to Squaw Lake and Squaw Lake Drive.

In a Nov. 19 press release, Secretary of the Interior Deb Haaland formally established a process to review and replace derogatory names of the nation’s geographic features. She also declared “squaw” to be a derogatory term and ordered the Board on Geographic Names — the federal body tasked with naming geographic places — to implement procedures to remove the term from federal usage.

“Racist terms have no place in our vernacular or on our federal lands. Our nation’s lands and waters should be places to celebrate the outdoors and our shared cultural heritage — not to perpetuate the legacies of oppression,” Haaland said. “Today’s actions will accelerate an important process to reconcile derogatory place names and mark a significant step in honoring the ancestors who have stewarded our lands since time immemorial.”

Secretarial Order 3404 formally identifies the term “squaw” as derogatory and creates a federal task force to find replacement names for geographic features on federal lands bearing the term. The term has historically been used as an offensive ethnic, racial, and sexist slur, particularly for Indigenous women. There are currently more than 650 federal land units that contain the term, according to a database maintained by the Board on Geographic Names.

For clarification at the local level, the Times reached out to State Rep. Mike Mueller of Fenton Township.

Mueller said, “Our understanding, after speaking with our legal team, is that Secretary Haaland’s order will only affect the names of federal lands — national parks, national wildlife preserves, national forests, etc.

“The federal government does not have the authority to change the name of Squaw Lake in Fenton Township. It could decide to change the way it references the body of water in federal documents, but there’s no indication that would affect the way state government, local government or the public would refer to the lake or the road.”

HEARING

exiting a club parking lot on Ravine Road in Kalamazoo on Oct. 2 at 3:25 a.m. Several bullets hit the truck.

One passenger was shot through his face/mouth and taken to the hospital by his friends. He was in critical condition and underwent several lifesaving surgeries. Another passenger was injured when the bullet that went through his friend’s face grazed his shoulder.

The Fenton woman said the victims, their families and friends and members of the community had planned to travel to Kalamazoo. She expected approximately 50 family and friends to attend the hearing so that their voices would be heard.

The mother of the now 20-year-old, said, “God was with him in the truck. He turned his head just right and the bullet went through his mouth. It’s a miracle. It’s been a nightmare.”

She said her son spent 33 days in the hospital and needed four transfusions. He graduated from Hartland High School and attends Mott Community College. He and some friends from Hartland drove over to Western for one night to celebrate another friend’s birthday when the shooting occurred.

The Fenton woman credits her son’s friends for saving his life. “Those boys are heroes,” she said. “His friends got him to the hospital. One was calling 911 and one was calling the hospital while an officer was trying to pull them over for speeding (to the hospital). His friends are heroes.”

Liggins was arraigned Nov. 23 on eight counts of assault with intent to murder and eight counts of felony firearms. A cash surety bond of $20,000 was ordered and he posted bond on Nov. 29.

The Fenton woman said during Liggins’ arraignment, the prosecutor asked for a $1 million bond due to the evidence, severity of charges, multiple previous records with the court and increased flight risk. The judge for the arraignment, Judge Alisa Parker-LaGrone, ordered a reduced bond of $20,000 and would not agree to order a tracking device.

According to 8th District Court records, the judge of record in this case is Christopher Haenicke.

The Fenton woman said they are frustrated with the low bond and it was unknown as to which judge they were going to have Wednesday.
