

Parents: DEA issues warning for 'rainbow fentanyl'

■ Brightly colored pills, powder targeted toward young people are lethal

By Sharon Stone

The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) is advising the public of an alarming emerging trend of colorful fentanyl available across the United States. In August, DEA and law enforcement partners began seizing brightly colored fentanyl and fentanyl pills in 18 states. Dubbed "rainbow fentanyl" in the media, this trend appears to be a new method used by drug cartels to sell highly addictive and potentially deadly fentanyl made to look like candy to children and young people.

"Rainbow fentanyl, fentanyl pills and powder that come in a variety of bright colors, shapes and sizes, is a deliberate effort by drug traffickers to drive addiction amongst kids and young adults," said DEA Administrator Anne Milgram. "The men and women of the DEA are relentlessly working to stop the trafficking of rainbow and defeat the Mexican drug cartels that are responsible

Linden water wheel restored

■ Funds donated by two people who also paid to renovate gazebo

By Hannah Ball

The Linden water wheel has been restored and is working again.

On Monday, Aug. 29, Waterwheel Manufacturing installed the restored water wheel in downtown Linden at the Kimble-Sharp Park.

Restoration efforts were paid for by Roger Sharp, CEO and founder of Sharp Funeral Homes, and Joe Kimble, Emeritus Professor at WMU-Cooley Law School. Kimble said he donated for two main reasons. The first is that the structure wasn't working and the rusted buckets were an

David's Dabblings

Labor Day is here. It is hard to believe the day that is known as the unofficial end of summer is here. Gosh, summer flew by. But if there is one positive spin that can be made about summer ending it's this — it means early fall is here as well. And, while others will vehemently argue this isn't true, early fall was the best days and nights of any year.

But Labor Day isn't the only sign fall is near (technically it doesn't start until September 21). Here are some others.

The start of football season — When I was younger and not the jaded Detroit Lions' fan I have become today, Labor Day ranked among my favorite holidays of the season for one reason — it meant the start of the Detroit Lions' season. For a long period now, the NFL's opening week has been on Labor Day weekend, and during the 1990s when we owned season tickets the start of the Lions' season was always a reason to celebrate.

Probably my biggest highlight of a Labor Day Lions' game happened before the actual game in 1992. The Lions played in the NFC Championship game in 1991 and optimism for the 1992 season was at an all-time high. The Lions opened the season on the road against the Bears on Labor Day weekend, so instead of waiting a week for the first home game, we decided to drive to Chicago and scalp a few tickets. While doing so, we were about to purchase a couple when an undercover cop stopped the purchase and it looked like they arrested the person selling us the tickets. We didn't stay to find out. We walked away quickly, pretended like nothing happened and found another scalper. The Lions ended up losing and 1992 ended up being a rotten season, but the experience of being at another venue for an opener was awesome anyway. We did the Labor Day Lions' road trip one more time — in 1996 to watch the Lions play the Vikings. Of course, the Lions lost that game as well. Actually, the Lions are 0-5 at road games I've attended, including 0-2 in playoff games. It's probably the reason I don't go to road games any more.

David Troppens

Cider Mills — We've already attended our first cider mill of the season, making a trip to Diehl's on their opening day, but I'm sure we'll make a few other trips to the other tri-county cider mills before fall ends as well. Cider is what I consider an 'environment food.' In itself, it's not the greatest thing in the world, but in the right environmental context, it's pretty awesome. For example, I love drinking cider at the cider mill, but that half-gallon of cider we purchased to take home is still half-full in our fridge right now. Another environment food would be hotdogs. They aren't the greatest food of all time (my wife Anna would disagree with that statement), but have one at a ball game or at a picnic, or at a farmers market outdoors and they are immediately 10 times better than just heating one up at home.

Pumpkin stuff — The words 'and spice' were purposely left out. I love pumpkin muffins, doughnuts, bread and pies. I don't care as much for those things with that silly spice added to it. Unfortunately, it's getting harder every year to find normal boring items that are just pumpkin, but I'll find them.

Prep sports — For those who haven't noticed, the prep sports season has begun, and the prep football season is already two weeks completed. When the weather is nice, there is no better way to give yourself an excuse to enjoy a fall night outdoors than going to a prep sporting event. Usually the games begin near sunset with that perfect fall light, eventually working itself to darkness, giving you that nice crisp fall air feel. It's probably one of my favorite parts of my job. Chances are, if I wasn't attending that tri-county soccer game on a Monday night, I'd probably be sitting inside doing nothing too important. But that soccer game gives me the perfect excuse to enjoy the fall weather even once it's night. Fall days are pretty awesome, but fall nights are as well.

Paddle boat manufacturer expanding to Fenton

■ Company expected to bring 59 jobs to city

By Hannah Ball

Fenton — American Recreational Products, which manufactures paddle boats, is coming to Fenton.

On Thursday, Aug. 25, the Fenton Planning Commission approved the site plan for the approximate 30,725-square-foot facility to be built at 130 N. Alloy Drive.

The land is zoned industrial and is currently undeveloped.

Along with paddle boats, ARP also manufactures playground equipment, outdoor fitness courses, shade and shelter structures and more. The company is a subsidiary of National Composites, which makes composites and plastics for John Deere, Navistar, Crest Marine, Avalon Pontoons and more.

The project is expected to generate a total capital investment of $4 million and create 59 jobs, supported by a $250,000 Michigan Business Development Program performance-based grant. Michigan was chosen for the project over competing sites in Minnesota and Missouri, according to a press release from Gov. Gretchen Whitmer's office.

ARP is expected to ask the city for a five-year Industrial Facilities Tax Abatement.

Justin Sprague, vice president of CIB Planning, Fenton's planning consultant, said the commission had a few comments and revisions when the company submitted a site plan last month. They submitted a revised site plan in August. ARP also received a variance from the zoning board of appeals in order to include an overhead door facing N. Alloy Drive. Sprague said they were mostly in compliance. They had concerns about what material the outside of the building would be constructed from and if the architectural characteristics would match the other buildings in the area.

ARP will utilize an underground storm water management system.

Sprague recommended approval with a number of conditions relating to approval from the zoning board of appeals for specific variances, the building materials, certain architectural features, a revised landscaping plan that met U.S. 23 buffer requirements, signage and a few other topics.

Patrick Fenton, a representative from ARP and National Composites, said they're going to expand their at-capacity paddle boat business in Owosso to Fenton. He plans to work with the city on the buffer and other requirements.

Affected by Ford Mo. Co. Cuts? Your Best Road is Right Ahead

Written by Noah Morgan,
CERTIFIED
PLANNER™

Noah Morgan
CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™

With the recent memo sent out by Executive Chair Bill Ford and Jim Farley, Ford Motor Company announced it will cut up to 3,000 salaried jobs, with a ‘significant’ portion of that number in Michigan. Are affected employees ready for the road ahead?

When you face losing your job, you face the reality of losing your identity, salary, and work colleagues - many of which have become like family. This can be stressful and calls for clear headed thinking.

Will I be able to find meaningful work to provide for my family? Could I retire? Is this a calling to pursue an old passion or choose a different path? Perhaps you may take the road less traveled. Decisions will need to be made that requires forward thinking. This is not the end of the world.

Here are a few things you may want to be thinking about if you are affected by the unexpected layoff.

Take the high road. Think about your situation and what you are really pursuing in life. Assess your assets and spending. While you are likely to receive a severance package, this is a great opportunity for you to forge deeply into your current situation, seek counsel and plan for your long-term goals.

Call a trusted family member, a mentor, and your financial advisor. Get their perspective if you are having butterflies on where to turn next. If you do not have a trusted advisor, this is a perfect opportunity to meet with one.

Healthcare, Retirement Pension Benefits, 401(k) Savings Plans, Employer Stock Savings Plans, and Life Insurance are all necessary items which you must consider. Do not wait until decisions are rushed. While you may not have to decide on what to do with each of these items at first, you will want to map out what things will look like in the future.

Healthcare coverage.

One of the first challenges in a layoff is your loss of healthcare coverage. While some employees may be able to go on to a spousal plan, others may need to research the best coverage for this moment in time. You may be able to go on a traditional short-term Cobra plan if you are job searching. Not sure if you are Medicare eligible yet? Look for a good agent that can help you with your Medicare eligibility, benefits, and timing. If you are over 65 you will need to transition to a Medicare plan if Ford does not offer you a lifetime benefit. If you are on the fence regarding retirement, but under age 65 (pre-Medicare) you will need to start shopping for a private individual/family insurance plan. Don't forget to fill up your health savings accounts if eligible. All this information can feel complicated and tortuous at the same time – this is where an advisor can be a wonderful partner and walk you through the details about what your healthcare will look like in the future.

Pension Retirement Benefits. The layoffs are forcing folks to make decisions on their Pension Retirement Benefits - important decisions you may not fully understand. Should you take a lump-sum vs. a monthly pension benefit? This will depend on many factors that include age, family situation, and health status. This is the million-dollar decision we often joke about that now is no laughing matter and a reality for many. Don't leave any stone unturned when considering all the options.

Once you get through the immediate twists in the road, assess your overall big picture, and determine, “Am I on the right road to my retirement?” Spend time calculating your overall net worth and savings. This final number usually comes as a surprise to people. Consider filling up on tax advantaged accounts like a Roth IRA or looking at Roth Conversions. Not sure what these even mean? This is the time to meet with an Advisor.

Your old 401(k) will bring you to a crossroad in decision making. Should you roll it over into your new plan with a new employer, roll it over into an IRA, or leave it where it is in the old plan? All these questions need to be evaluated and will be based on several factors. It may be more cost effective to leave the 401(k) right where it is, but you may also want to consider rolling it into an IRA where you will have more control and more investment flexibility. Keep in mind you should always consult with a Fiduciary financial planner, lawyer and/or accountant before making any actions.

Thoroughly understand your budget.

This is an excellent idea for one of your first steps. Take time to pull out the last 12 months of bank and credit card statements. Add them up and divide by 12 to determine how much you spend monthly. Chances are this number will surprise you just like your net worth. A severance package may sound great initially, but it may not go as far as you intended especially if you have a family to support and are watching the rise cost of inflation. Consider using a budget planner spreadsheet, or even a budgeting App on your phone. This will help you begin tracking your true spending numbers.

Life Insurance. You likely had what is known as Group Life Insurance that was offered by Ford. While this was great while working under a group plan rate, you may be sticker shocked when you opt to continue the policies and see the actual rates for an individual plan policy. Review your life insurance needs using a Life Insurance needs analysis and keep only what you need. Shop around for better quotes if desired.

Considering Retirement. If you are considering retirement the monthly spend is especially important. A good rule of thumb is for your assets to equal 25x your annual spend before making the retirement leap based on the 4% distribution rule. Your financial advisor can ask you some very basic questions to get you thinking, and you will continue to ask yourself “Is this enough money?” The answer is not always simple. There will be plenty of roadblocks ahead, and open roads to explore. Make effective use of your time and be thoughtful about your decisions as they can make all the difference in life when two roads diverge.

Finally, be sure to spend time continually educating yourself. Pick up the phone to call your trusted professionals like your accountant or financial planner and get their green light before you spin your wheels!

RAINBOW FENTANYL

for the vast majority of the fentanyl that is being trafficked in the United States.”

Brightly colored fentanyl is being seized in multiple forms, including pills, powder and blocks that resembles sidewalk chalk. Despite claims that certain colors may be more potent than others, there is no indication through DEA’s laboratory testing that this is the case. Every color, shape and size of fentanyl should be considered extremely dangerous.

Fentanyl is a synthetic opioid that is 50 times more potent than heroin and 100 times more potent than morphine. Just two milligrams of fentanyl, which is equal to 10-15 grains of table salt, is considered a lethal dose. Without laboratory testing, there is no way to know how much fentanyl is concentrated in a pill or powder.

Fentanyl remains the deadliest drug threat facing this country. According to the Centers of Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), 107,622 Americans died of drug overdoses in 2021, with 66% of those deaths related to synthetic opioids like fentanyl. Drug poisonings are the leading killer of Americans between the ages of 18 and 45. Fentanyl available in the United States is primarily supplied by two drug networks, the Sinaloa Cartel and the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG).

In September 2021, DEA launched the One Pill Can Kill Public Awareness Campaign to educate Americans about the dangers of fake pills. Additional resources for parents and the community can be found on the DEA’s Fentanyl Awareness page.

Acting Fenton Police Chief Jeff Cross said the first thing to remember is to not touch the suspected drug.

“Fentanyl is very dangerous and just a minor exposure can cause serious health complications and in some cases even death,” Cross said. “Call 911 if someone is in possession of or has ingested fentanyl. Time is of the essence.

“If someone has touched the suspected fentanyl, they should immediately wash their hands prior to touching their mouth, nose, or eyes.”

Cross added that as law enforcement, they’ve have been dealing with it for several years.

“It’s so dangerous that we have been advised not to field test suspected fentanyl and to only send it to the lab for analysis,” he said.

FENTON COMMUNITY FOCUS

PRESENTED BY

 TRI COUNTY EQUIPMENT

A friend for life

Adopt-A-Pet is committed to helping animals in need

Forty-five years in operation has cemented the name Adopt-A-Pet into the hearts and minds of everyone in the Fenton area. It's a nonprofit animal center that operates on eight acres of land in Fenton Township on Fenton Road.

"Adopt-A-Pet is committed to helping people and animals in need. We hold ourselves to a high standard — one which looks out for the physical and mental well-being of the animals who come into our care. Our mission is to provide a means to place unwanted, adoptable animals into appropriate, loving homes," said Director Jody Maddock

Inside, they have multiple rooms and a screened-in area, called "catios" for cats, along with dozens of kennels for dogs. Outside, dogs are free to enjoy the agility course and fenced-in area for them to play.

The state-of-the-art shelter helps on average 1,100 animals per year. Currently, the shelter is taking care of more than 140 cats and dogs. Over 40 volunteers help clean cages, feed the animals and do day-to-day work to ensure they receive top quality care.

"Adopt-A-Pet takes pride ensuring the animals' mental faculties are attended to by utilizing puzzle bowls for feeding, including enrichment activities in their daily care, providing music and olfactory stimulation to take their minds off the shelter. Each animal gets at least one session of training per day," Maddock said.

Adopt-A-Pet is a unique animal care facility because they often take in animals that need extensive medical care. These animals come into their care through owner surrenders, animal control organizations, police calls and hoarder/puppy mills.

The shelter doesn't receive any county or government funds. Their financial foundation comes from the generosity of the community, grants and fundraising at their popular yearly events, including the upcoming Spaghetti Dinner and The Howling Haunted Trail this fall.

"There are several incredible fundraisers we hold throughout the year," Maddock said. "February holds our Wags & Whiskers Auction & Dinner Party."

At this event, more than 100 auction items are available, and attendees can enjoy dinner and a fun party. A hardworking committee puts on this celebratory event to create an evening for animal lovers who come together for the purpose of raising money for the animals.

In April, they have the Kitten Shower where they play games, have raffles and get supplies for the upcoming kitten season.

"May holds our Golf Outing that is so much fun, groups of people have been coming back for years. This event sells out every year," Maddock said. "July holds our Picnic where a great group of people pull together a magical day for the community to come together with bounce houses, music and doggone good BBQ."

In September, they hold their annual Spaghetti Dinner that Brick Street Bar & Grill hosts. Finally, in October they hold their newest fundraiser- The Howling Haunted Trail & Party.

"This event has grown every year to be this amazingly fun event. For six nights in October, people come to go through the haunted trail and hang out with family and friends in the adult beverage tent. No lines, food trucks, adult beverage tent and a frighteningly haunted trail make this event a huge success," she said.

Find more information on their Facebook page, "Adopt A Pet of Fenton, Michigan." All of the donations, care and work go into one common goal — helping animals.

"People love that animals provide companionship, unconditional love and someone to care for. There is nothing like coming home after a crazy busy day or a depressing day and your animal comes to you with a tail wag or purrs and just wants to be with you," Maddock said.

The shelter currently needs volunteers, kitten and puppy food, and donations to help build their events and training center. Learn more at www.adoptapetfenton.com or by calling 810-629-0723.

AWARDS

Sept. 8 at The Laundry. Cocktails begin at 6 p.m., followed by the dinner program at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $250.

The State Bank Community Contribution to Education Award is presented annually to an individual whose efforts in the community have made a significant and lasting impact on the educational community in Fenton. This year's recipient is the LaFontaine family.

The LaFontaine family was nominated by Heidi Ciesielski, superintendent of Fenton Area Public Schools. She said the LaFontaines sponsored every new teacher the district hired this year with a $500 classroom spending certificate, and they provided vehicles for the district tour date, as well as provided T-shirts for every staff member during their Positivity Project Community Awareness Day. Lastly, they have also helped provide funds for a therapy dog and sponsored several things for the Foundations' Pancake Breakfast. The LaFontaines also sponsored the Polar Plunge last year when the Moose could not host due to COVID.

In June 2019, with friends, family, employees and community members attending, the LaFontaines celebrated their new Chrysler Dodge Jeep Ram dealership on Silver Parkway in Fenton.

The LaFontaine family has been actively involved with U CAN-CER VIVE, which was created by Kelley LaFontaine and Ryan LaFontaine, sibling owners of LaFontaine Chrysler Dodge Jeep Ram of Fenton, in 2016, but the 501(c)(3) was seven years in the making. Ryan is a cancer survivor.

U CAN-CER-VIVE donates the money to Michigan hospitals, including Beaumont Health, CS Mott Children's Hospital and Henry Ford Health System.

The LaFontaines have raised nearly $3 million providing funds for cancer research grants annually here in the State of Michigan.

Linda Mora

This passion toward the fight against cancer stems from the heart and soul of the LaFontaines' commitment to give back after experiencing the affliction of cancer firsthand.

The Nancy and Edward Petruska Life Time Achievement in Education Award was established through a gift from the Petruska family to the Fenton Education Foundation and is presented annually. The award recognizes the contribution that educators make to the community of Fenton. The Petruska's were part of a generation that developed the standards of excellence that have been the hallmark of the Fenton Public Schools. They served the school and the community with humility, generosity and leadership. Edward and Nancy Petruska devoted a combined 52 years of educational services to the Fenton Area Public Schools.

This year's recipient is Linda Mora, who recently retired as director/principal of Ellen Street Campus/World of Wonder (WOW) Early Learning Program. She had been with the school district for 36 years.

Mora earned her bachelor's degree in elementary education with minors in art and French from Alma College. She then earned her master's degree in early childhood education with an early childhood endorsement from Eastern Michigan University.

She recently retired after spending her entire 40-year career in early childhood education, doing what she loved.

"I am passionate about the critical importance of play and believe in doing 'nothing without joy!'" she said.

She became Fenton Area Public Schools Early Childhood Director in the fall of 2008. Together, they created WoW or World of Wonder Early Learning Programs at the Ellen Street Campus. World of Wonder utilizes a Reggio Emilia Inspired Approach which provides a play-based curriculum centered on the "Image of the Child" as competent, capable and creative. The emphasis is on providing a learning environment that is filled with wonder, joy and rich relationships.

Early in her career, she taught full-day kindergarten in Louisiana, one year teaching preschool in Fenton, and then the next 22 years at North Road Elementary teaching both kindergarten and Young Fives.

"Fenton is where my husband, Tony, grew up and went to school," she said. "He is a retired Fenton special education teacher. We have been married 38 years and have three children, Michael, Melissa (Littell), and Marc and four grandchildren."

The Laundry has been the venue for the annual Black Tie Awards Dinner for the last 16 years.

Mike LaFontaine and his late wife Maureen LaFontaine with daughter, Kelly and son Ryan LaFontaine.

PARADE & GRAND MARSHAL

This year’s HollyDay Parade will honor the Historical Downtown District.

McCanney said the parks commission wanted to specifically acknowledge the business owners that were affected the most and their dedicated commitment to restoration.

- Andrea Chapin of Andy’s Place
- George and Chrissy Kutlenlos of The Holly Hotel

These businesses were destroyed.

“We are forever grateful for the opportunity to see these businesses rebuild their properties, restore and reopen once again,” McCanney said. “Their commitment to restore our downtown is a direct reflection of their commitment to our community and we are honored to provide the opportunity for them to receive the community’s heartfelt love, appreciation and cheers as they lead this year’s HollyDay Parade.

Fenton, Holly compete at annual Tiger Relays

By David Troppens

The Fenton Tiger Relays are always a nice mix of area teams along with some other strong squads maybe not in the tri-county area.

This year's event pretty much fit that description.

Saturday's relays included three other Flint Metro League squads, county power Grand Blanc and squads like Brighton and Lake Orion among its 16-team field. Within it, the Fenton Tigers finished fourth while the Holly Bronchos placed 13th.

Fenton recorded one first and three seconds.

Eagles win tight contest vs. Lake Fenton, 2-1

By David Troppens

Lake Fenton — Chances are the Linden varsity boys soccer team leads the state in at least one category so far this school year.

The prep soccer season is about two weeks old, and the Eagles have already played nine games.

Unfortunately for Linden, a lot of those games have come against strong competition, resulting in a 1-8 start.

However, the Eagles earned some positive news in its Flint Metro League season opener. Maybe all of those extra games paid off when they traveled to Lake Fenton, earning a 2-1 league win.

"We just had our summer league and we came off with seven losses," senior Aiden Hegenauer said. "This was our first league game and we took it right at them.

The score was 2-1 so we felt really great about it. Our communication and working as a team has helped out.

"(Playing all those early games) was a lot of fun. We definitely learned from them. They helped us improve and fix our mistakes."

Maybe a start with so many early games wasn't a bad idea considering it did help the team get a lot of experience quickly. The Eagles needed to get some, considering their youth. Hegenauer is one of just two seniors on the roster. The other is Devin Nowak.

"We've had a rough schedule," Linden varsity boys soccer coach Kevin Fiebertz said. "We've played the toughest schedule probably since I've been here. ... We told the guys early on to (learn) from the brutalness of the first six See EAGLES on 22

Fenton soccer off to 2-0 start in Flint Metro League action

By David Troppens

Fenton's first-year varsity boys soccer coach Mishael Kunji remains perfect.

After defeating Goodrich and Linden in the Tigers' first two contests of in what were league opponents but not games that counted in the league standings, the Tigers finally played their first two official Metro contests last week.

The Tigers won the first game at home, earning a 3-2 victory against Ortonville-Brandon on Monday. They followed that contest up with an even more convincing 6-0 victory on the road against Swartz Creek on Wednesday.

In the victory against the Dragons, the Tigers dominated right from the first minute when Patrick Hamilton scored off a Will Dickens assist just 36 seconds into the contest. Before the first half was over, the Tigers led 4-0. Dickens, who would finish the game with a three-goal hat trick, scored two of the goals while Zach Jones earned a goal as well. Connor McDermott and Zach Whitten had assists.

The most visually stunning goal was Dickens's third goal in the second half. He scored it with a bicycle kick off a Ryan Stocker crossed assist. The Tigers' final goal was a McDermott goal off an assist by Jackson Schmaltz.

Blue Devils improving by playing tough competition

By David Troppens

The Lake Fenton varsity volleyball team has some lofty goals for their squad this fall.

One goal is to win the Flint Metro League Stars Division title.

To help accomplish that goal, the squad has had many solid non-league foes to prepare them for the strong competition on their side of the Metro.

The Blue Devils have faced their share of competition in the last week, competing in the Mt. Morris tournament on Saturday and then competing in the Clarkston quad on Tuesday.

The Blue Devils went 2-2 at Mt. Morris, defeating Royal Oak and Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard and losing to West Ottawa and Wood Haven.

Kelsey Corkran had a strong weekend, recording 21 kills and eight aces on efficient 40-of-42 serving. Cola Sisk also had a solid offensive game, recording 22 kills. Sisk also had seven blocks. Joslynn Stalo was the team's primary setter, recording 34 assists. Defensively, Abbigayl Sells had 19 digs.

In the Clarkston quad, the Blue Devils lost to Clarkston 25-11, 25-21 and to Birch Run 25-19, 25-15. The squad's victory came against fellow Flint Metro League squad Flushing 25-16, 25-17.

Sisk had a strong service game, converting four aces on 21-of-23 serving. She also had four blocks. Jill Ferrill led the offense with 10 kills and also had two blocks. Stalo had 20 assists while

Sells had 19 digs.

"Overall, I was fairly happy," Lake Fenton varsity volleyball coach Brent Maynor said. "Offensively we look very good when we are in system, but we have to work harder on serve receive. We fix that one area and we would be a difficult match-up for anyone with our good size in the front row."

Bronchos win opening Flint Metro League match vs. Corunna, 5-2

By David Troppens

What was a close battle for a half eventually became a pretty decisive result for the Holly varsity boys soccer team against Corunna.

The Bronchos (2-3 overall) scored four second-half goals and recorded a 5-2 victory in their first Flint Metro League contest of the 2022 fall season.

Tied at 1-all at the half, the Bronchos were a determined bunch on the pitch during the second half, quickly taking control of the possession and taking control where that possession took place — in the Corunna defensive third.

"(We were) generating dangerous chance after dangerous chance, slowly breaking down the opposition," Holly varsity boys soccer coach Darius Reynolds said.

The Bronchos broke the 1-1 deadlock during the 66th minute when Mitchell Price was fouled in the box, giving Zayne Dennie a penalty kick chance. He scored it and the Bronchos led 2-1.

Sparma's effort, clinches '68 Tigers' AL pennant

By David Troppens

Editor's note: This is the last of our stories reliving the Detroit Tigers' 1968 regular season.

Denny McLain had earned his 30th victory.

In thrilling fashion, the Tigers had earned a 5-4 walk-off victory when Willie Horton hit an RBI-single in the bottom of the ninth, plating Mickey Stanley.

The only one real regular season goal remained — the Tigers had to win the American League pennant.

Entering Sept. 15's final contest of a three-game series with Oakland, the Tigers led second-place Baltimore by 9 1/2 games, so it wasn't if it would happen, but when. The Tigers closed the gap toward winning the pennant on Sept. 15 by crushing the Oakland Athletics 13-0. Mickey Lolich pitched a complete-game three hitter while Jim Northrup and Bill Freehan each hit two home runs and Willie Horton hit one of his own. Detroit's magic number was now down to two.

Up next were three games with the New York Yankees, and in the first game John Hiller tossed what was Detroit's starting pitchers' 10th straight complete game. He tossed an eight-hitter in what was a 9-1 Tigers' win, earning the team no worse than a tie for the pennant. Norm

Joe Sparma pitched the game that clinched the Tigers winning the 1968 American League pennant.

Cash had three hits and drove in five runs. The big hit was a three-run home run in the second inning.

"We clinched a tie for the pennant and you don't see everyone jumping around and raising hell," Cash said. "We've been ahead all year, so it's not that exciting."

There was some celebrating going on in the Tigers' next game. Detroit clinched its first American League pennant in front of 46,512 fans by earning a 2-1 victory against the Yankees.

Of all pitchers, Joe Sparma, who spent most of 1968 in manager Mayo Smith's doghouse, pitched the pennant clincher, tossing a five-hit, one walk and two-strike out masterpiece. That said, New York starter Stan Bahnsen pitched pretty brilliantly himself. The game remained tied until the Tigers' fifth inning. Bill Freehan began the inning with a single and moved to second on Tommy Matchick's ground out. Don Wert flew to left and suddenly there were two out with Sparma coming to the plate. Sparma probably shocked everyone at Tiger Stadium when he produced a two-out RBI-single, giving the Tigers a 1-0 lead. Sparma had only eight hits in 60 at bats during the 1968 season.

Sparma didn't face a serious threat for the first eight innings against the Yankees' lineup. Detroit led 1-0 entering the top of the ninth. However, the Yankees finally got to Sparma in the ninth. Charley Smith singled, but Steve Whitaker struck out and Horace Clarke grounded out, putting a runner on second with two out. Jake Gibbs responded with an RBI-single to center. The contest was tied at 1-all. He was able to get Mickey Mantle to strike out to end the inning.

Steve Hamilton replaced Bahnsen on the mound and got two easy outs to start Detroit's ninth. However, that's when the Tigers' rally began. Al Kaline picked up a two-out walk, bringing Freehan to the plate. He singled to left, putting runners on first and third. Pinch hitter Gates Brown walked to lead the bases, bringing up Don Wert. Wert followed with an RBI-single, earning the Tigers the walk-off win and the pennant.

Earl Wilson was supposed to start on the mound, but had a sore shoulder, so Smith asked Sparma if he could start.

"Through it all, a lot of people kept faith in me," Sparma said. "My wife, Johnny (Sain), Tigers telecaster (George Kell). It really moved me. But without Connie (Sparma's wife) I don't think I could have got through it."

Wert's hit was one to remember.

"I didn't go up there with any inner feeling that I'd get a hit, but my gosh I was sure conscious of the situation," Wert said. "All I really wanted to do was hit the ball. Above all, I didn't want to strike out. I was looking for a breaking ball and I got it."

Sophie Stefanac and Tess Heavner teamed up to win the 850 freestyle relay with a time of 9:00.01. Stefanac, Heavner and Saab also played a role in two of Fenton's three seconds. They teamed with Leigh Stafford to take second in the 400 medley (4:21.34) and also teamed with Ashlee Michelson to take second and record a MISCAs-qualifying time of 1:57.42 in the 200 medley relay. The Tigers' final second was posted by divers Zoe Plunkett and Ella Koch who recorded a combined score of 274.40.

Holly's top performing relay was the 200 freestyle relay team of Megan Holloper, Marie Halligan, Allison Rockafellow and Evelyn Wolleson who finished sixth in 2:03.51.

The team's other top-eight performance came in the 200 relay with Rockafellow, Percy Kline, Emma Coggins and Halligan earning eighth in 2:52.84.

The Fenton Tigers had three other relays finish sixth. One of them earned a MISCAs-qualifying time. The 400 freestyle relay team of Stefanac, Heavner, Saab and Josie Fries earned the sixth-place finish with the MISCAs time of 3:48.93. The other two sixth-place performances were earned by Fries, Stafford, Perez and Michelson in the 400 medley relay (4:57.49); and by Julia Blanchard, Julia Jenson, Alexis Lemansky and Michelson in the 800 freestyle relay (9:47.09).

The Flint Powers team had a relay finish in fifth. The team of Marin Custack, Ella Dunsmore, Gracie Spezia and Abby Custack earned it in the 200 relay (2:16.79).

from the top.

It looks like the 2022 season is going to follow that pattern.

Fenton remained undefeated in Flint Metro League dual play by crushing Corunna, a squad the Tigers were expected to defeat. They did so by an overwhelming 190-270 score at Corunna Hills Golf Course on Wednesday.

Katelyn Burkett continued her fine season, earning match medalist honors. She scored a 45 during the nine-hole event. Not far behind her were two other teammates shooting in the 40s. Payton LaRowe carded a 46 while Ava Pyeatt shot a 48. In fact, all six Fenton golfers defeated Corunna's best scorer. Natalie Finch shot a 52, Ava Herbert carded a 53 and Lily Reese shot a 59.

The Tigers have been remarkably consistent in their four league duals, shooting a 189, two 190s and a 191 among those events.

Fenton is currently 4-0, one-half a match behind Goodrich (5-0) one of the teams that has been one of the Metro competitors since joining the Metro League.

or seven games, and now it should ease up. We are still going to play good competition but it won't be like what we played. As long as they don't get down on themselves and continue to play, hopefully it will click, we will play better and get win after win. We are happy we got (our first win) out of the way. It's a league one and it's against one of our rivals, obviously."

The game started in a rain that lasted for the entire first half. That didn't seem to bother the Eagles, as they scored the game's first goal just 2:02 into the contest. It came on a throw in by Caleb Clift that made itself to Hegenauer. Hegenauer scored on a shot once receiving it.

"When Caleb threw it in, it went over Luke (Haney's) head, so I thought it was the perfect opportunity to just hit it in the back of the net. I was able to finish," Hegenauer said.

Linden enjoyed most of the offensive pressure in the first half, enjoying a 8-3 shot edge. Eventually that edge resulted in another goal when Nowak tapped the ball during a two-touch free kick to Danill Duprey. Duprey took the shot and scored it from 30 yards out. The Eagles led 2-0 at the half.

Lake Fenton played a stronger second half, but that didn't result into a goal until late in the second half. Off a corner kick attempt, Ashton Hunter headed the goal into the back of the net off the cross by Alex Zatelli. The Blue Devils were within a 2-1 margin with 4:37 remaining in the contest.

It created a festive final few minutes, but the Eagles were able to withstand the pressure and earn the victory.

Austin Huyck made five saves to record the victory between the pipes for Linden.

"I thought my back line was stellar today," Fiebertz said. "They did a great job. ... And Austin, he's getting better and better every game. For a kid that has never played goal before, he was solid. And he's only getting better. He's an athlete."

While the Eagles have played many games, the Blue Devils (0-2) were playing in what was only their second contest of the season.

"You could tell," Lake Fenton varsity boys soccer coach John Hunter said about the in-game experience difference between the two teams so far this season. "They were hungrier to start the game than we were. In the second half we came out a little more hungry. We have to come out for the full 80. We can't just come out and play like that for the last 15 minutes and that's it. The last 15 minutes I was happy with the way we played. We played a little more like we are trying to play this year."ss

Fenton man brings home the gold

■ Represents USA at regional powerlifting championship in Panama

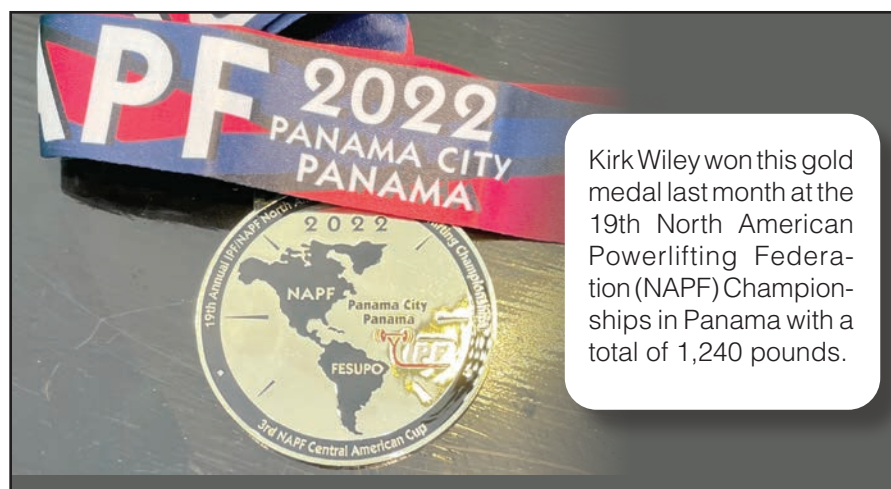

By Sharon Stone

Kirk Wiley of Tyrone Township traveled to Panama City, Panama with the USA team to compete in the 19th North American Powerlifting Federation (NAPF) Championships from Aug. 15-20.

Wiley, 57, competes in the 50 to 59 age group, 105kg weight class (231lbs).

In addition to winning the gold medal with a total of 562.5 kg or 1,240 pounds, Wiley set a new NAPF record and a new USA record in the squat, lifting 237.5kg or 524 pounds. That squat is the fourth best in the world in 2022.

Powerlifting events are organized around three lifts and competitors are given three attempts at each lift. The lifts are the squat, bench press and deadlift. All lifts are judged according to strict rules for form and control, so while moving the weight is the critical component, judges can “red flag” a lift for other reasons that deny the competitor a successful attempt. Adding together the highest successful

Other countries represented included Canada, Mexico, USVI, Costa Rica, Belize, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Dominican Republic, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Cayman Islands and host nation Panama.

Wiley has been powerlifting competitively since 2018, with a break during the first year of COVID. He trains at Jeff Tirrell Fitness in Fenton with coaches Jeff Tirrell, Amanda Quasarano and Tracey Smith. He trains three to four days weekly and adds aerobic activity on alternate days as schedules permit.

specific to the needs of competition, so training sessions last two hours each typically," he said.

If anyone is considering trying powerlifting, Wiley said, "Do it! It's a lot of fun and there is space for everyone."

Wiley said there are numerous reasons to trying powerlifting, including:

- Credible research proves the benefits of resistance training as a defense against aging.
- Being stronger has practical applications throughout life — carrying a bag of water softener salt, shoveling a walkway, pushing a lawn mower, moving a couch to vacuum, carrying groceries, and more.
- The powerlifting community is super supportive. They embrace new lifters with encouragement, guidance, etc.
- The powerlifting community is body positive — every body shape and size can be found.
- Coaching makes the difference. A coach can teach technique and provide feedback after observing you. A coach understands the adaptive process of the body and can help you understand what is happening and at what pace it's happening. When soreness occurs, a coach can help you continue training around the injury in a safe manner and productive manner.

- Once a fringe sport, today powerlifting embraces men and women, ages 16 to 80, weighing less than 100 pounds and more than 400 pounds and everything in between.
- Powerlifting doesn't cause repetitive use injuries associated with running.

Following the competition, Jim Brown, USA team head coach for the IPF/NAPF North Americans, said he believes this contest was Wiley's first international championship and by powerlifting standards, he is a newbie, (just starting out in 2019).

"He handled the stresses of international competition with ease, even putting up a new NAPF M2 Squat record," Brown said. "Now that Kirk has done this championship, it will light a fire inside Kirk that will make him excel in the years to come. This is just the beginning for Kirk."

Kirk Wiley set a new NAPF record and a new USA record in the squat, lifting 524 pounds. That squat is the fourth best in the world in 2022. Submitted photo eyesore.

"The Kimble-Sharp Park is looking better and better, but the waterwheel was detracting from a picturesque site," he said. "Second, for family reasons. My dad, Ralph Kimble, and his friend Lee Eneix hauled the waterwheel to Linden. I'm not sure exactly where they found it or exactly when, but I believe the late '60s."

The wheel was also redone in 1971.

Kimble didn't want to say how much restoration cost. He and Sharp split the cost. They also donated to restore the gazebo, which is now called the Kimble-Sharp Gazebo, and it's been used many times this summer during events.

"During the restoration of the gazebo, I mentioned the water wheel. The city was looking into getting it restored. And Roger and I agreed to handle the cost," Kimble said.

Bob Vitale, president of Waterwheel Manufacturing, which is based in North Carolina, said he began talking with Linden officials about working on the wheel in 2021. Fabrication work began this past March. Vitale said one hang up was that when they took down the wheel, the foundation had to be reinforced.

The structure is a Fitz metal water wheel. Vitale specializes in metal water wheels, and to his knowledge, he's the only metal water wheel manufacturer left in the country. He's been in the field for more than 22 years.

He dismantled the old wheel and replaced the rusted wheel that was attached to the axel, which was built in the 1920s or '30s. Vitale made 3D printer templates.

"Everything was made with an aerospace CAD system. Everything was laser cut. We used high end 21st century tech to replicate a 20th century wheel," he said.

Metal water wheels became popular in the U.S. in the 1860s, 1870s. They were installed along rivers to generate power for factories. They were utilized less and less when diesel engines were invented and metal water wheels were often taken apart and used for scrap parts during World War II, Vitale said.

Metal water wheels still exist in the U.S. and around the world, but people with the knowledge to restore them are rare. Vitale is currently working on four other metal wheels.

He worked closely with Don Grice, Linden's Department of Public Works director, who Vitale said helped with installation on Monday, Aug. 29.

"It was a full day's work but we got it up," Vitale said.

Kimble said it was a "great pleasure" to donate and be able to work and reconnect with Sharp after so many years.

"There's a little more work to be done, including some painting, but it's very cool to see the wheel turning again. And it's great to see so many people using the park area and the river," Kimble said. "Next in line for needed restoration is the historic Linden Mill building, the heart of the city. Of course, that's a much bigger project. But the process is underway."

In the summer of 2021, when Sharp was asked why he donated to improve the gazebo and river area, he said that he grew up in Linden and spent a lot of time by the river as a kid.

"I was part of the self-proclaimed 'River Rats' with a group of kids from Linden. I also wanted to honor my parents along with Joe's parents. Our fathers were close friends and our families were very active in the Linden community for years," he said, adding that their parents "were staples of the Linden Community and this is a great way to remember their contributions to the community."
