

Linden Frosty Parade grand marshal announced

■ Happening in Linden chooses historic business as grand marshal for holiday parade

By Hannah Ball

This year's grand marshal of the Linden Holiday Happening Frosty Parade is a third generation family run business.

Linden Kitchen & Bath has accepted the honor and owners will ride on the grand marshal float Friday, Dec. 2 during Linden's holiday festivities. The Lighted Frosty Parade begins at 7 p.m.

The Robins family, who started and have ran the business for three generations, learned they were chosen in early October when they received letters from the event organizers, Happening in Linden.

"I was surprised to the point of tears in my eyes. It means a lot to be acknowledged for all the work my family has done over the years, and I know it is a big accomplishment that the business is 76 years old," said owner Michelle Robins. "We have always loved Linden. It is such a wonderful community with great people."

In past years, they've made a float to join the Frosty Parade, but this year, they'll ride in a featured spot as grand marshals.

Don't feed the deer

■ Councilors report increase in deer population

By Hannah Ball

Linden — Linden City Council is reminding residents not to feed deer in the city.

Feeding deer is illegal in Michigan's Lower Peninsula. During the Monday, Nov. 14 Linden City Council meeting, a few councilors said they know of some city residents that feed deer. They also commented on how the deer population has reportedly grown in the area.

Councilor Pamela Howd, who's a biologist for the state of Michigan, said in 2005, they would rarely see deer in their backyard. Now they regularly see approximately 20 deer.

"I've now seen them every-

Feeding families for Thanksgiving

■ Annual FARR event raises food for families, seniors and others in need

By Hannah Ball

Fenton — Last weekend, volunteers from the Fenton Area Resources and Referral Network, Inc. (FARR) stood at the LeRoy and Silver Lake Road intersection in cold, windy weather to fundraise and help families have a feast this Thanksgiving.

“We have a lot of help from a lot of people,” said Carla Juarez, client specialist at FARR.

Local schools in the Fenton, Lake Fenton and Linden districts collected nonperishable food items over the last few weeks for the Stuff the Bus fundraiser. Thanks to these donations to the Community Food Share Program, FARR is able to feed 145 families this Thanksgiving. The remainder of the food will be given out to families and people in the future.

On Monday, Nov. 21, FARR volunteers picked up the food from the schools and sorted everything. On Tuesday, they made deliveries to families and people in Fenton, Linden and Fenton Township who need help for their Thanksgiving dinner. Families could pick up the food or the fire department delivered it.

teachers and students from local school districts.

They received a significant amount of donations, which took hours to organize. Two schools in the Linden Community Schools district collected more than

David's Dabblings

Digesting the Lions' Thanksgiving Day game

Gosh, it's hard being a Detroit Lions' fan.

It's about 24 hours after the Lions' heart-breaking 28-25 loss to the Buffalo Bills and I still don't know exactly how I feel about it.

There was more emotional thought invested in Thursday's game than most recent holiday games. At 4-6, with a win, the Lions would've put themselves in a position as a playoff contender, no matter if one thought that was reality or not. It was a mathematical reality. And, gosh, the emotional tug of a Thanksgiving game actually meaning something was just something just about every Lions' fan from the ages of 10 to 90 wanted to experience.

The contest itself was a great game, and for the most part it had a different feel than most of the 21st century's Thanksgiving battles. While the game went on it didn't feel like a Cinderella team (the Lions) hoping to stay close and pull off the upset. At least in my mind, it felt like a good team facing another good team, exchanging body blows, wondering which quality squad would fall.

The Lions were hit with some serious blows and bounced back. When they had to punt after three plays on their first possession, who wasn't thinking, 'Oh no, this is going to be a blowout' as the

David Troppens
Sports Editor

Lions punted the ball back to the Bills? But then the Lions' defense did the same against Buffalo. Hmm, that's a little different than usual.

After the teams exchanged TDs, the Lions fumbled the ball away as they moved into Buffalo territory. The Bills respond by taking their first lead 10 plays later on a Josh Allen three-yard run. Maybe this was the beginning of the end? Nope. The Lions marched 15 plays and tied it up on an Amon-Ra St. Brown TD reception from Jared Goff. Wow, that was impressive, even if the Lions kept more time on the clock than they needed to.

Of course, that time management issue helps set up a late first-half field goal by the Bills, enabling Buffalo to take a 17-14 lead. Still, life was okay for Lions' fans at the half.

The second half started with a ton of adversity, as it looked like the Bills were going to score on their first possession of the second half. However, Alex Anzalone comes up with a pick, thwarting the score. Yes, now that's some Lions' resolve. But that was followed by some, 'Ugh, throw the ball already, Jared Goff' as he was tackled for a safety. Trailing 19-14, it felt like that was the beginning of the end.

It wasn't. The Lions' defense stopped Buffalo on its next possession, and that's when the game started to feel truly like a potential statement game for the Detroit Lions.

The Lions took the lead on a DJ Chark one-yard TD reception from Goff, and after a two-point conversion, the Lions actually lead 22-19 early in the fourth quarter. Every pessimistic Lions' memory I retain desperately wanted to leave my body as the always optimistic Lions' fan of my youth wanted to come out. This was a different, Lions' team. Wow.

Buffalo responded with a TD, but then the Lions connected on Michael Badgely's 51-yard field goal (tying the game at 25-all with 23 seconds left). Wow, what resolve. Maybe the Lions can hold on these final 23 seconds, force overtime and win this game in overtime. Maybe the Lions are finally going to have that statement win with the entire NFL watching.

However, of course, the Bills took just three plays to set up Buffalo's game-winning field goal to earn the win. Augh, it happened again.

The aftermath

And now 24 hours later, I'm still trying to digest what I saw. Was the month of November a fluke? I don't think so. If that performance was Detroit's worst of the month, it's hard to be upset with that. The Lions pushed the Bills for 60 minutes.

Was thinking playoffs a little silly by fans? Yeah, it probably was. Teams don't

Local Elias Cady Society C.A.R. honors veterans

■ Attend keychain workshop and Sons of the American Revolution plaque dedication

The local Elias Cady Society Children of the American Revolution (C.A.R.) participated in two events to honor veterans for Veterans Day. Their president, Parker Hagle, led the workshop to make veterans keychains in Waterford on Sunday, Nov. 6. Additionally, Hagle spoke at a joint Sons of the American Revolution and Daughters of the American Revolution (SAR/DAR) Historical Preservation Event in Ann Arbor on Saturday, Nov. 12.

Members of the C.A.R. started the workshop/meeting with a prayer by their Chaplain, Macie Hagle and the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Registrar Emma Nelson. Board members Britton Lawless, Ilan Lawless and Joey Podsiadlik led them with the Preamble, American Creed, and C.A.R. Creed.

Lia Farber provided all the materials to make the veterans keychains as a hospice coordinator volunteer at Residential Hospice in Troy. Emma Nelson showed how to make the keychains. Families of members and friends of the society attended, including local DAR chapters from Sashabaw Plains in Clarkston, Piety Hill in Birmingham, Lydia Barnes Potter in Waterford and Nipissing of Lapeer.

JoAnn Jarvis-Jackson, attended the workshop to share her knowledge to honor American Indian (Indigenous) American Heritage month. She brought a few artifacts to show the children, including traditional bearskins, examples of how they carried infants, a kachina doll, and a handbag made with turtle shell. Fundraiser planned for speakeasy employees

■ 'It was a staple in our community'

By Hannah Ball

Specialty drink lovers are uniting to support employees of Relief & Resource, the popular Fenton speakeasy that burned down in June, by organizing a holiday fundraiser for Saturday, Dec. 10 from 6 to 10 p.m. at The Laundry Room.

It's called the R&R Whiskey Club Fundraiser. Fenton resident Zac Boddy knew he wanted to plan a fundraiser the day of the fire, Tuesday, June 28. The fire destroyed El Topo, the Relief & Resource speakeasy and a barn.

Boddy and his wife, Vena, have been members of the R&R Whiskey Club for years. Members paid an annual fee and were invited to special events. Jon Foley, head bartender and co-owner of R&R, and the crew put so much effort into events for the club and for regular members, Boddy said.

The restaurant and bar originally opened in August 2016. For years, El Topo and Relief & Resource were a popular destination for Fenton area residents and beyond.

"It was a staple in our community," Boddy said. Whenever he tells people he's from Fenton, they ask if he's been to the "Pringles" speakeasy.

"Jon and the crew created such an amazing experience for all of us every time we walked through that door. It never got old. It was always warm and inviting. They took care of all of their customers even on busy days. They took the time to talk to everyone. The fact that they spent so much time and effort making us feel special, we wanted to give that back to them. We understand they lost their business, their work family is broken up, and we wanted to give them back something for a change," he said.

Tickets are $100. Proceeds will help the former employees of the speakeasy. For that fee, attendees will receive light appetizer options, bread and butter, mixed green salads, two drink tickets, a buffet style dinner and non-alcoholic drinks. Organizers are seeking donations from local businesses to hold silent raffles. Whiskey Club members have donated bottles of whiskey for fundraising games.

They will hold a deck-of-cards raffle for $20 per card. For this fundraiser, people can buy a card, which will be ripped in half. The customer keeps one half and organizers keep the other half. Once the entire desk is sold, they choose a card and the winner will pick a bottle of alcohol of their choosing. Attendees can expect other games and raffles. Approximately 30 tickets are left.

Boddy has stayed in contact with employees from R&R. Some work at The Laundry in Fenton and others have found employment at other local establishments. A staff member of R&R will be bartending the fundraiser on Dec. 10.

Foley heard about the fundraiser in late summer or early fall when Boddy began organizing it and said he was touched by the effort.

"It was very touching. It was very awesome. It's a tight knit group of regulars who feel that place and that space and that culture was very special," he said. "Part of a bar's culture doesn't just come from people who work there, it comes from people who go there. While it was touching, it wasn't surprising," Foley said.

He's helping Boddy with preparations as needed. He consulted with them on what drinks to serve that night and he found old posters from the bar that weren't damaged. They'll be displayed at the fundraiser.

Having the event at The Laundry Room is also special for Foley.

"It's great. It's nice of them. I spent over a decade building their beverage program. That building still means a great deal so it's awesome they're hosting it," he said.

Day of global giving is Tuesday

■ Fenton Center of Hope asks for help to feed families, build emergency housing

By Hannah Ball

Giving Tuesday is approaching, and one local nonprofit is hoping people think of them on this day.

The Fenton Center of Hope runs a food pantry, baby closet, classes and groups on parenting, Bible study, life skills, and more, as well as mentoring and pregnancy resources. They released a press release on Wednesday, Nov. 23 announcing their involvement in Giving Tuesday.

“The biggest day of global giving is just around the corner. On Nov. 29, Center of Hope will join thousands of organizations around the world by participating in Giving Tuesday. And with so many projects happening at the Center of Hope, we need your help,” according to the release.

“Without the generous support of our friends and community, these projects might not happen. It takes a community-wide effort to reach our goals and fully fund these life changing efforts. Your donation can have a remarkable impact on Giving Tuesday, when matches and challenges help it go even further to support the cause — or causes — of your choice.”

Giving Tuesday, which is always the Tuesday after Thanksgiving, is a movement created in 2012 as a way to encourage people to do good, according to givingtuesday.com.

The FCOH, which used to operate out of a 1,500-square foot building off Shiawassee Avenue, acquired a property off N. Fenton Road, near Camp Copneconic, in late 2021 to allow them to expand their services. They now manage four buildings and are preparing space for emergency housing.

“We need financial support more than ever. We are seeing a huge increase in the number of people seeking assistance through the food pantry due to the rising costs of food. We are also anxious to complete renovations on our main building so we can better serve the community through the services we provide. Getting the emergency housing up and running is also imperative as the need seems to continually rise,” said Jennifer Strygulec, co-director of FCOH.

The organization is also doing a 100 Days of Hope Campaign, which highlights their services, encourages people to donate, and spreads awareness about their volunteer efforts and more.

FENTON WOMAN ARRESTED ON WARRANT AND POSSESSION OF A CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE

On Nov. 12 at 11:09 a.m., a Fenton police officer observed a Ford Focus with expired registration. A computer check showed a 36-year-old Fenton woman was the registered owner. The woman had an active felony warrant from Monroe police. When the woman walked out of the gas station store and confirmed her identity, she was arrested on the warrant. When asked if there were drugs in her car she said there might be. During a consent search, the officer recovered a plastic bag containing five pills that were a prescribed controlled substance. The woman admitted to having the pills but the prescription was not in her name. She was arrested on the warrant and for possession of a controlled substance.

where,” she said. “I never used to see him down Hickory or East or North and now you see them down there and the problem is car-deer accidents.”

In Michigan, there are nearly 50,000 reported vehicle-deer crashes each year. Approximately 80% of these crashes occur on two-lane roads between dusk and dawn, according to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

Julie Oakes, wildlife biologist from the DNR wildlife division, said they don't typically track deer populations for smaller municipalities, and deer often take refuge in areas where they aren't hunted. She said people are supposed to ensure that their feeders are not accessible to deer, and that it's illegal to intentionally feed deer in the LP.

Another problem with deer is the diseases they can carry. Feeding these animals increases the likelihood of diseases transmitting from deer to humans. Deer can carry chronic wasting disease (CWD), and the MDNR has no evidence that CWD has been transmitted to humans through deer.

“Chronic wasting disease is a contagious, neurological disease that affects deer, elk and moose,” according to the DNR. “It causes a degeneration of the brain resulting in emaciation (abnormally thin), abnormal behavior, loss of bodily functions and death. CWD is fatal; once an animal is infected there is no recovery or cure. To date, there is no evidence that CWD can be naturally transmitted to humans or to other animals.”

According to the DNR, infected animals may not show symptoms of CWD for a long period of time.

CWD was first detected in a deer in Michigan in 2015. Since then, confirmed cases in free-ranging white-tailed deer have been found in the LP in Clinton, Ionia, Ingham, Jackson, Kent, Gratiot, Eaton, and Montcalm counties. In October 2018, a CWD positive deer was found in the Upper Peninsula. It has also been found in four different privately owned deer facilities: Kent County in 2008, Mecosta County in 2017 and 2018, and Montcalm County in 2019.

Councilors expressed concerns about

Linden City Council discussed the increase in the number of deer in city limits, which can lead to more car/deer crashes. Councilors remind residents not to feed the deer. In addition to more crashes, deer can carry diseases.

these diseases coming to Linden. Howd also mentioned that deer can carry tuberculosis, however, it's a very rare disease in wild deer, according to the DNR. Tuberculosis can cross over to humans, Oakes said, and deer cases have been discovered in the northeast LP.

Oakes said the DNR is asking hunters in the counties of Genesee, Livingston, Oakland, Lapeer and more to bring in their deer heads for free disease testing. They can bring them to the check station at the Seven Lakes State Park Field Office. Deer heads can also be left at the Holly Wildlife Office drop box 24/7 at 8100 Grange Hall Rd. in Holly.

Once samples are taken to the lab, it takes approximately three weeks to receive results. Hunters will receive a receipt with a code to look up results online.

“We have an elderly population and (deer) feces are everywhere,” Howd said. “They have a bunch of things that elderly people are really susceptible to, all sorts of viruses and stuff...the problem is there's so many deer in close proximity.”

North Oakland County Fire Authority (NOCTFA) will be replacing this 31-year-old special response unit with a customized 2023 Ford 750. Submitted photo

6,000 kilowatts of lighting and a refill cascade for high pressure SCBA (self-contained breathing apparatus) bottles and more.

The new unit will be customized on a Ford F750 4x2 four door chassis and will be 7.3-liter gas powered vehicle.

Assistant Fire Chief Matt Weil presented NOCTFA's proposal to the board. Fire Chief Jeremy Lintz was on vacation and absent from the meeting.

The fire authority currently has a 1991 two-door Chevrolet Kodiak chassis with a 3116 Caterpillar engine and Allison automatic transmission and the body was custom built by SuperVac in Colorado. He said the truck is now 31 years old and has outlived its anticipated service life by 10 or more years. It's in need of several repairs.

Weil said after researching vendors, they were recommending CSI, which is in Grayling and Greenville. It would take approximately one year for NOCTFA to receive a custom built special response unit once it's ordered.

CSI provided a quote of $283,630. Weil recommended $10,000 for contingency on the chassis price as prices are fluid right now. Final cost is not to exceed $300,000. American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funds from Holly and Rose townships are available to cover the cost.

Once CSI is in possession of the new chassis, a down payment will be due.

The current NOCTFA Board is comprised of George Kullis, the Holly Township supervisor, Karin Winchester, the Holly Township clerk, Paul Gambka, the Rose Township treasurer, Glen Nobel, a Rose Township trustee and Brad Stilwell, the citizen-at-large from Rose Township.

“They had some challenges but we got started a little later this year, so that was amazing,” Juarez said. “We really have a lot... We also include food for the kids to eat when they’re not in school.”

She said the support from schools has been “amazing.” A rivalry between Fenton and Linden schools helped students and families bring in more cans. They also had collection sites at VG’s and Alpine Marketplace. One woman came with her SUV filled with food donations. “That’s what this is all about — community coming together,” she said.

After Thanksgiving baskets go out, Kiwanis will put together Christmas baskets for families with the remaining food. Organizers will also make Easter baskets for families.

“It really goes a long way,” she said.

Juarez said the need is greater this year. More families and lower income people are struggling to make ends meet this holiday season.

“We did close registration because, to be honest, this year, the need was so much greater. We went over everything he had already ordered.

We usually plan on around a hundred families. We closed it at 145 and I have a waiting list going,” she said.

They’ve run into a bind trying to order enough turkeys.

Juarez said the cost of groceries and the cost of gasoline are the two main reasons why more families are struggling financially.

“I think that made a big difference for this year. A lot of them are the senior citizens on fixed incomes,” she said. “It’s really hitting them hard right now.”

Food help from FARR is available every week. The Fenton United Methodist Church is the location of FARR’s weekly Pantry Day every Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., year round.

Linden staff are helping raise funds for the Angel Tree program, which gives presents to children for Christmas, and Christmas Express, which donates food to families. Police Chief Scott Sutter, who helped sort food on Monday, said members of the police department, fire department and the department of public works are donating to these programs to participate in No Shave November. Other employees and city staff are donating in order to wear jeans to work.

start 1-6 and qualify for the playoffs. But, I’d be lying if I said if they won that game, I wouldn’t be thinking the playoffs were possible.

The final question, is this team getting better? The answer to that question is certainly yes. And I’m not talking 7-10 better before falling back to 3-14 in three seasons. There are things that suggest this progress can grow into something legitimately promising. This is a better team already, and it seems the Lions finally have the front office capable of making quality long-term decisions. The Lions are accumulating high draft picks and making good selections with them. They were patient this season and are going to open up some dead salary cap space because of it entering next season. We may see some decent decision made on the free agent market. This team actually looks like it’s legitimately trending up. That’s what I’m going to take out of that game.

Maybe after decades, there may be some light at the end of the Lions’ tunnel. We’ll soon find out.

FENTANYL AND HEROIN RECOVERED AT TRAFFIC STOP

At 11:04 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 14, a Fenton police officer conducted a traffic stop on a grey Chevrolet Trax for a civil infraction. Contact was made with the driver and all passengers and a computer check was made on all the passengers. A 39-year-old Flint woman was seated behind the driver. The Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) revealed she had three active felony arrest warrants. She was asked to exit the vehicle and was arrested. Near her seat, the officer recovered a straw with suspected drug residue inside, a glass pipe and a vile containing suspected drugs when a consent search of the vehicle was done. Those substances later tested positive for fentanyl laced heroin. The woman exhibited signs of a medical issue and was transported to Hurley Medical Center for treatment. She faces a new charge of possession of narcotics. The driver was cited for the civil infractions.

grew up in Swartz Creek and her grandmother, Katherine Roddy, grew up in Durand. When her grandfather left the service, he came to Linden for work. This is where they chose to live, and their family has resided in Linden ever since.

Richard Robins started the business 76 years ago and first called it Linden Sash & Door. He fixed sashes on windows and replaced doors out of a building behind Linden Lumber.

Michelle's parents, Tom and Judy Robins, also worked at the family business. Judy first met Tom when she took a screen into Linden Sash and Door to have it fixed. Tom worked there for 40 years before retiring in 2004, and Judy worked there for 25 years and retired in 2003.

Michelle started to work at the family business in 2009 and bought them out in 2014. After that, she changed the name to Linden Kitchen & Bath after someone asked if her last name was "Sash."

Judy said "shock" was her reaction to finding out that Linden Kitchen & Bath was chosen as grand marshal. "I'm flattered that our business is being recognized for being there for so long," she said.

Tom and Judy moved to Durand because her son inherited a house there and sold it to them. They've been married 53 years. Judy lived in Fenton her whole life until she moved to Durand. In past parades, Judy has ridden in the truck that pulls the Linden Kitchen & Bath float.

She's looking forward to riding in the grand marshal float and hopes for good weather.

The growth in Linden has been "wonderful," she said.

"It shows a lot of growth and how they're getting with the times. I think Michelle has worked really hard on that and deserves a lot of credit," she said, adding that she doesn't know how Michelle has time for everything.

"We're very proud of Michelle. She has really made that business sing," Judy said. "She's brought it a long long way from when we took it over from my father-in-law. We improved it a lot but she has improved it extremely a lot."

Judy and Tom had one bookkeeper, and now Michelle has an expanded staff.

Along with running one of the most historic businesses in the city, Michelle is constantly active in the city of Linden. She's on the board for Happening in Linden, on the board for the Linden Downtown Development Authority, and she will be on the board for the Fenton & Linden Regional Chamber of Commerce in 2023.

"Happening in Linden has chosen Linden Kitchen & Bath this year as grand marshals of the Linden Parade. The Robins family has run this business for over 75 years and are an important part of the Linden Community. Michelle Robins serves on the board of the DDA in Linden. She is also a member of the board of Happening in Linden and is and has been a vital part of events happening in Linden," said Sue Turpen, secretary of Happening in Linden.

This was a joint event with DAR and SAR. It was to honor Sgt. Benjamin Woodruff and Corp. Josiah Cutler. The SAR Color Guard was in full uniform, and their Huron Valley Chapter president, Elijah Shalis was the leader

The honorees being remembered with a plaque are;

- Benjamin Woodruff, who served as a drummer and sergeant in the New Jersey Line. At the age of 92, he traveled to Michigan on the back of a wagon to live with his son, Benjamin Jr. in Pittsfield Township;

- Josiah Cutler, who was a corporal in the 2nd Massachusetts Regiment and as a corporal in the War of 1812 in Massachusetts and moved from Vermont to Michigan to live with his daughter Eliza Cutler Ticknor in April 1840 and

- Eliza Ticknor, who was married to Heman Ticknor, brother of Dr. Benajah Ticknor who built Cobblestone Farm.

LOOKING BACK at this week in HISTORY

COMPILED BY SHARON STONE

NOV. 27

1911: Elizabeth Jaffray, a White House housekeeper, writes in her diary about a conversation she'd had with President William Howard Taft and his wife about the commander in chief's ever-expanding waistline. According to the White House Historical Association, Jaffray also was quoted regarding Taft's growing girth in a 1926 book called "Secrets of the White House." In it, she detailed a typical breakfast consumed by the 332-pound president: "two oranges, a 12-ounce beefsteak, several pieces of toast and butter and a vast quantity of coffee with cream and sugar." When she and Taft's wife, Nellie, commented on his eating habits, he jovially responded that he was planning to go on a diet, but lamented the fact that "things are in a sad state of affairs when a man can't even call his gizzard his own."

NOV. 28

1520: After sailing through the straits below South America that now bear his name, Portuguese navigator Ferdinand Magellan enters the Pacific Ocean with three ships, becoming the first European explorer to reach the Pacific from the Atlantic. On Sept. 20, 1519, Magellan set sail from Spain in an effort to find a western sea route to the rich Spice Islands of Indonesia. In command of five ships and 270 men, Magellan sailed to West Africa and then to Brazil, where he searched the South American coast for a strait that would take him to the Pacific. At the end of March 1520, the expedition set up winter quarters at Port St. Julian. On Easter day at midnight, the Spanish captains mutinied against their Portuguese captain, but Magellan crushed the revolt, executing one of the captains and leaving another ashore when his ship left St. Julian in August.

NOV. 29

2011: Conrad Murray, the physician convicted of involuntary manslaughter in the 2009 death of singer Michael Jackson, is sentenced in a Los Angeles County courtroom to four years behind bars. The iconic pop star died at age 50 at his California home after suffering cardiac arrest while under the influence of propofol, a surgical anesthetic given to him by Murray as a sleep aid. In March 2009, after a lengthy time away from the public spotlight, Jackson announced he would perform a series of comeback concerts in London starting in July. That spring, Murray, was hired to serve as Jackson's personal physician while the singer rehearsed for his upcoming shows. Late in the morning on June 25, Jackson was found unconscious in bed in his mansion in the Holmby Hills neighborhood of Los Angeles by Murray, who tried unsuccessfully to revive him.

NOV. 30

1954: The first modern instance of a meteorite striking a human being occurs at Sylacauga, Alabama, when a meteorite crashes through the roof of a house and into a living room, bounces off a radio, and strikes a woman on the hip. The victim, Elizabeth Hodges, was sleeping on a couch at the time of impact. The space rock was a sulfide meteorite weighing 8.5 pounds and measuring 7 inches in length. Hodges was not permanently injured but suffered a nasty bruise along her hip and leg.

DEC. 1

1955: In Montgomery, Alabama, Rosa Parks is jailed for refusing to give up her seat on a public bus to a white man, a violation of the city's racial segregation laws. The successful Montgomery Bus Boycott, organized by a young Baptist minister named Martin Luther King Jr., followed Park's historic act of civil disobedience. She worked as a seamstress and in 1943 joined the Montgomery chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). Learning of Parks' arrest, the NAACP and other African American activists immediately called for a bus boycott to be held by Black citizens on Monday, December 5. The first day of the bus boycott was a great success, and that night the 26-year-old Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., told a large crowd gathered at a church, "The great glory of American democracy is the right to protest for right."

DEC. 2

2001: The Enron Corporation files for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection in a New York court, sparking one of the largest corporate scandals in U.S. history. An energy-trading company based in Houston, Texas, Enron was formed in 1985 as the merger of two gas companies, Houston Natural Gas and Internorth. Under chairman and CEO Kenneth Lay, Enron rose as high as number seven on Fortune magazine's list of the top 500 U.S. companies. In 2000, the company employed 21,000 people and posted revenue of $111 billion. By the end of the year, Enron's collapse had cost investors billions of dollars, wiped out some 5,600 jobs and liquidated almost $2.1 billion in pension plans. An investigation by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the U.S. Justice Department revealed that Enron had inflated its earnings by hiding debts and losses in subsidiary partnerships.

DEC. 3

1947: Marlon Brando's famous cry of "STELLA!" first booms across a Broadway stage, electrifying the audience at the Ethel Barrymore Theatre during the first-ever performance of Tennessee Williams' play A Streetcar Named Desire. The 23-year-old Brando played the rough, working-class Polish-American Stanley Kowalski, whose violent clash with Blanche DuBois (played on Broadway by Jessica Tandy), a Southern belle with a dark past, is at the center of Williams' famous drama.

NOCFA to buy new brush truck

■ Board okays up to $123,000 to replace 36-year-old truck

By Sharon Stone

The North Oakland County Fire Authority (NOCFA) has gained approval from the NOCFA Board to purchase a new brush truck. The Board voted 5-0 in favor of the purchase at its meeting Monday, Nov. 21.

NOCFA will begin the ordering process of a 2023 Ford F350 from Signature Ford using MIDeal and Fleet Identification Number (FIN) pricing not to exceed $60,000. The payment is due on receipt of the vehicle.

NOCFA's Assistant Chief Matt Weil presented NOCFA's proposal to the Board. Chief Jeremy Lintz was on vacation and absent from the meeting.

Weil said the fire authority has two brush trucks in its fleet. These are modified commercial pickup trucks for the purpose of fighting fire off-road, typically grass, brush, field and other similar types of fires. The trucks are a 1986 Chevrolet K20 and a 1999 Ford F350.

The 1986 truck was purchased second hand with very low miles on it in the early 1990s. It was modified for the department. It's been rebuilt and modified multiple times. It's over 36 years old, it's showing signs of rust and holes, the engine needs repairs and the tires need to be replaced.

The 1999 truck also has been modified multiple times. It has 21,826 miles on it and is 23 years old.

Weil said NOCFA's proposal is to replace the 1986 truck. The vehicle does not meet any current vehicle standards for apparatus. After research, he said they'd like to replace it with a new Ford F350 4x4 crew cab (four door), short bed pickup truck. He said this is the chosen truck for NOCFA to keep consistency with its utility type vehicles.

Additions to the stock vehicle will be made, including a snow plow, removable skid unit (pump) for brush fires, more aggressive tires, emergency lights, radios, and depending on the plow set up, a winch and winch bumper. All of these additions will facilitate a true multi-vocational vehicle for the department.

Weil said there has been a significant increase in commodities and products. He said they anticipate this project will cost less than $130,000 once it's complete with the additions. More quotes and final numbers are forthcoming for the ancillary equipment and NOCFA will seek approval for those expenses as they move through the process.

Total project scope and estimate is $123,000.

Weil said they reached out to three dealers for quotes. This vehicle will be purchased through a MIDeal approved vendor with the application of NOCFA's FIN and state contracted pricing. The cost of the vehicle is set by Ford.

Funding for this purchase will come from American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funds from Rose and Holly townships, which NOCFA provides fire and EMS service to.

The current NOCFA Board is comprised of George Kullis, the Holly Township supervisor, Karin Winchester, the Holly Township clerk, Paul Gambka, the Rose Township treasurer, Glen Nobel, a Rose Township trustee and Brad Stilwell, the citizen-at-large from Rose Township.

MICHIGAN VOTES

LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITY

— Compiled by Sharon Stone —

MichiganVotes.org is a free, non-partisan website created by the Mackinac Center for Public Policy to provide concise, non-partisan, plain-English descriptions of every bill and vote in the Michigan House and Senate. This report was released Friday, Nov. 19.

The Michigan House and Senate did not meet this week, so instead of votes, this report describes bills that have been introduced to add new or expand existing occupational licensure regimes. Lawmakers are scheduled to convene next on Nov. 29.

House Bill 6438: Impose licensure mandate and regulations on “free-standing birth centers”

Introduced by Rep. Laurie Pothutsky D-Livonia on October 11, to impose a state licensure mandate and an array of regulations on “free-standing birth centers,” defined as a facility that is not already a hospital or surgical outpatient clinic that provides “midwifery care, low-risk deliveries, and newborn care immediately after delivery.” Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

Senate Bill 1113: Revise “natural hair culturist” licensure regime

Introduced by Sen. Roger Victory R-Hudsonville, to revise a detail of the extensive state licensure regime imposed on persons in the hair-cutting and cosmetology industry, so as to allow an individual who has acquired a “natural hair culturist” license to also wash another person’s hair. Acquiring this particular license requires an individual to purchase 500 hours of prescribed instruction and acquire three years of experience. Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

House Bill 6364: Impose licensure, fees on nursing “temp” agencies

Introduced by Rep. Sarah Lightner R-Springport, to impose a new licensure mandate and $2,000 fees on “supplemental nursing services agencies,” which are described in the bill as similar to a short-term employment agency providing “temp” workers for health care facilities. Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

House Bill 6159: Regulate sale of portable electronics insurance

Introduced by Rep. Mike Mueller R-Linden, to impose a comprehensive regulatory and licensure regime on the sale of portable electronics insurance. Related bills authorize $1,000 license fees and penalties for non-compliance. Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

House Bill 5359: Impose licensure mandates on fishing guides

Introduced by Rep. John Cherry D-Flint, to impose licensure and detailed reporting mandates on individuals who act as a commercial “sport fishing guide” on inland waters, with a $150 license fee ($300 for non-residents). Among its many detailed requirements, the bill would specify the contents of first-aid kits a guide would be required to carry. Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

Senate Bill 1010: Impose licensure mandate on Montessori teachers

Introduced by Sen. Lana Theis R-Brighton, to impose a licensure mandate on Montessori teachers. This would require applicants to have a college bachelor’s degree and to get credentials issued by specified Montessori organizations. Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

Senate Bill 990: Impose licensure on “naturopathic physicians”

Introduced by Sen. Jim Runestad R-White Lake, to impose licensure and regulation on “naturopathic physicians,” with license fees, education requirements, and more. The bill defines “naturopathic” medicine as “a system of practice that is based on the natural healing capacity of individuals.” Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

Senate Bill 953 and House Bill 5879: Impose licensure on “music therapists”

Introduced by Sen. Jeff Irwin D-Ann Arbor and Rep. Sarah Anthony D-Lansing, respectively, to impose licensure on individuals wishing to enter the occupation of “music therapy.” The bill would authorize regulations, college degree prerequisites, impose a $148 annual license fee, require individuals get a certificate from a specified private entity in the business of providing (and lobbying for) these certificates, and more. The bill would create a Michigan Music Therapy Board comprised of incumbent providers, who would be empowered to impose additional license requirements. Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

House Bill 5705: Impose registration, regulation on carry-out delivery services

Introduced by Rep. Tommy Brann R-Wyoming, to impose new licensure, regulation and third-party certification mandates on “third-party food delivery platform” businesses and staffers (like “Grubhub,” “DoorDash,” etc.) engaging in the service of online food ordering and delivery from a food service establishment to a consumer. Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

House Bill 5691: Impose licensure mandate on home inspectors

Introduced by Rep. Mark Tisdell R-Rochester Hills, to impose licensure, fees, “apprentice” requirements, government regulations, entrance exams to enter the occupation, and more on home inspection services. The bill would create a Michigan Home Inspectors Board comprised of incumbent providers to establish requirements on new entrants, and would establish regulations on home inspector training, contracts, operations, disclosures, and more. Versions of this restrictive proposal have been introduced over the years and are favored by government regulators and a Michigan Association of Home Inspectors lobbyist group that represents incumbent providers of these services. Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

House Bill 4801: Impose licensure mandate on paid electric vehicle charging services

Introduced by Rep. Andrea Schroeder R-Clarkston, to require the Department of Agriculture and Rural Development to impose a new licensure regime on paid electric vehicle charging services, with a $75 fee per licensee (not per charger). This passed 85 to 18 in the House but has not been taken up by the Senate.

Senate Bill 614: Reimpose licensure mandate on dietitians and nutritionists

Introduced by Sen. Michael MacDonald R-Macomb Township, to reimpose a licensure mandate on dietitians and nutritionists like one that was repealed in 2014. The previous mandate was never enforced because the license bureau was unable to devise acceptable credentialing and education requirements, and due to First Amendment free speech concerns related to individuals giving nutrition advice in public forums. Referred to committee, no further action at this time.

Area GLIAC runners enjoying fine seasons

By David Troppens

One can judge a sport's strength many ways.

One can look at league titles, regional championships and state rankings among the area when wanting to find out about what areas are strong in many sports.

Cross country can use all those and another — how many of their athletes end up competing at the next level, and succeeding.

The Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference recently finished its regular season and DII also completed regional action in pursuit of leading their team to the DII national championship meet being held Dec. 2.

While these meets went on, plenty of past prep tri-county athletes competed for four different GLIAC squads.

No team had more local representation than Saginaw Valley State University. The Cardinals placed second in the men's race and third in the women's race at the GLIAC Championship meet, and three runners competed. For the men, Lake

Holly's Pluta earns another spot in a HOF

By David Troppens

Don Pluta has enjoyed his retirement.

The legendary varsity Holly wrestling coach retired his position in 2019, and it's still a little weird when this time of year comes along

"Time is starting to fly by," Pluta said. "

I haven't coached for four years. It's kind of strange still. I really miss being with the kids. I miss the competition and all the strategy with the lineups. But, I'm sleeping better. I'm not lying late during the night worrying about a kid's weight and getting victories."

But while Pluta has been retired for awhile, something doesn't stop happening. He keeps earning honors.

The most recent honor came when he was named to the Michigan High School Coaches Association Hall of Fame during the fall. The ceremony was held at Central Michigan University along with 13 other coaches that earned the induction.

"This one caught me off guard a little bit," Pluta said.

"The wrestling ones, you know if you accomplish a bit in the sport, you figure you have a chance getting in one of those. But this one caught me off guard. It wasn't even on my radar.

"What's special about this one is it encompasses all of the sports, which makes this one really special. It's not just the people in the wrestling world, but you are recognized by other people in other sports."

Pluta also has been inducted into the Michigan Wrestling Hall of Fame (2019) and the Michigan Chapter of the National Wrestling Hall of Fame (2022). He's also a Indeed it's that time of year, again.

It's the time of year we use the excuse of a holiday to eat whatever we may enjoy, just as long as there's a turkey on the table as well.

It's the time when the fall prep sports season comes to an end, and the winter season is about to begin.

One more thing symbolizes this time of year for the sports staff — our annual top fall prep teams poll.

This season we'll be presenting the top 10 teams of the fall in the tri-county area based on pretty the sports staff's

Defense led 1991 Lions to key win vs. Bears on Thanksgiving

By David Troppens

So frequently in the Super Bowl era, when Lions' fans talk about great Detroit Lions Thanksgiving game victories, they involve great upsets.

One of the greatest upsets in NFL history (pre-Super Bowl era) was a 1962 Lions' victory against the Green Bay Packers.

However, what seemingly rarely happens is the game pits two of the NFL's top teams, creating the intrigue that would make it one of the week's top games even if it wasn't on Thanksgiving. Of course, that's the Lions' fault that it's usually not a top-notch match-up.

However, there have been a few, and 1991's venture against NFC Central Division foe Chicago was one of them.

The Lions were somewhat of a surprise team in 1991. After posting a 6-10 record in 1990, the Lions were a squad entering the season with some known quality players, namely Barry Sanders. There was promise, but, even with that being the case, Vegas placed the Lions over-under for wins at seven. A 45-0 thumping by the Washington Redskins didn't help enthusiasm, but after that the Lions went on a five-game winning streak, and were one of the NFL's best teams.

By the Thanksgiving game and were 8-4, just one game behind the 9-3 Bears. This was a battle between two of the NFC's top teams at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Entering the contest, the Lions' strength was supposed to be the offense. With Sanders in the backfield and second-string quarterback Erik Kramer doing a solid job replacing early-season starter Rodney Peete, who was out with an injury, the Lions had a reasonably potent offensive attack. It was supposed to be the defense, which had allowed at least 30 points in three games to this point, that was the issue.

posed to be the defense, which had allowed at least 30 points in three games to this point, that was the issue.

However, that changed against the Bears. Detroit's defense forced six turnovers en route to a low-scoring 16-6 victory in front of 78,879 Lions' fans.

"That was our best overall defensive performance of the season," Lions' starting linebacker Chris Spielman said. "We had four interceptions, we stopped them on fourth down and we recovered a fumble on the eight-yard line. You can't ask for much more."

Chicago Bears' legendary coach Mike Ditka wasn't as easy with the blessings toward Detroit.

"They had a lot of help from us," Ditka said. "The points were there to be scored. It wasn't like they took them away from us. We took them

Walters and Jesse Grenillo.

"Those three guys put a lot of hard work in," Pluta said. "It was all of us together that helped earn these awards."

Pluta can still be found around the Holly wrestling circles occasionally.

"It's nice having Josh and Jake as coaches. I'm in touch with them all of the time," Pluta said. "They tell me I'm welcome to the room all the time. It's neat to be able to pass the torch to the other generations. They know the history and they are carrying some of the traditions we began, and adding their own touches to the program."

away from ourselves. We had some receivers as open as they'll ever be in the history of the sport."

The Lions didn't do much offensively after the first quarter. Eddie Murray kicked a 21-yard field goal when the Lions were stopped inside the Chicago 5. Later, Kramer hit member of Holly's Hall of Fame. He earned those honors after coaching Holly's wrestling program as it's mentor since 1983. During that time the Bronchos won seven Flint Metro League championships, 11 team district titles and three regional team regional championships. He's coached nine individuals that won state championships, including current Holly wrestling coach Josh Houldsworth, who won two of them. Pluta began his career as a wrestler with the Bronchos' program.

Robert Clark for a nine-yard TD pass. The Lions led 10-0. From there, the defense took over.

The program hit its peak from 2010 to 2013 when Holly won three straight league crowns and the squad went to the team state wrestling meet in 2011 and 2012.

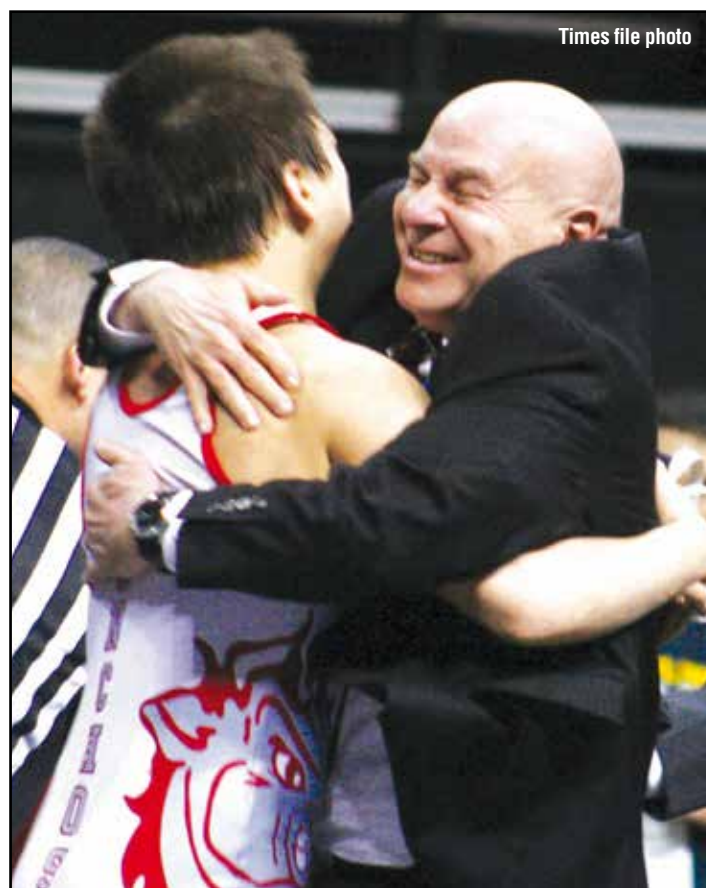

"I think about all of the hard work the kids put in," Pluta said when asked when he reflects back to his coaching days. "It's about them and helping them accomplish something great. It's not only about the state championships, but it's about the kid that maybe didn't have the success and suddenly becomes great and has a competitive record."

Pluta noted two examples. One involved an average wrestler who was thrilled when he placed fifth at the Oakland County tournament. He and the wrestler celebrated as though he won a state title. Another involved one of the Bronchos' current assistant coaches, Jake Hyde.

"Jake had six wins as a freshman and three were voids," Pluta said. "He became a state champion. After he graduated we told stories about Jake. Hard work didn't guarantee a championship, but if you work hard, good things can be accomplished."

Pluta also embraces the work his longtime assistant coaches put in — Mark Mattingly, Joe opinions. Again, just because a team isn't listed here doesn't mean they didn't have a good season. So if you think this list is hogwash, that's okay.

Honorable Mention: The Linden varsity boys soccer team had a solid year, finishing in a tie for second with the Fenton Tigers, but a slow start to the season and the lack of a district title keeps them from anything higher than an honorable mention selection. The Holly varsity boys tennis team tied for second in the Metro League dual portion of the season, going 6-1-1 and placed third in the league tournament, earning a third-place finish. They also placed fourth in regional. We'll give them at nod into our honorable mention squads.

No. 10 - Fenton girls golf: The Fenton varsity girls golf team is a frequent addition to our fall polls, but last year missed our list, and just made it in as an honorable mention squad (last year's list was just a top eight poll). This season, the sports staff thought the talent pool was deep enough to go to a top 10 and the Tigers snuck in at No. 10. They recorded a 9-1 dual record in Metro action and finished second in the Metro meet, with a team score of 355. That earned them second place outright in league play.

Fenton graduate Thomas Hufton finished the 8K race in 24:57.06, earning himself second team All-GLIAC status. Meanwhile, teammate and fellow Lake Fenton grad Eric Niestroy also competed and placed 57th (27:02.91).

The Saginaw Valley women also had representation at the meet. Fenton graduate Alexa Keiser competed and placed

The Linden girls varsity cross country team is No. 8 in our Tri-County top 10 list of the best teams during the fall.

The squad's season ended at the regional meet. The Tigers finished two spots out of a team state trip, placing fifth with a team score of 368, 24 strokes out of a tie for third. Katelyn Burkett did qualify for the state meet, though, so Fenton did have some representation at the meet.

No. 9 - Fenton girls cross country: Here's another team that has spent many seasons in fall poll, placing No. 6 in last year's survey. The Tigers' six-season run of league championships came to an end due to the strength of Godrich's strong team that took seventh at the D2 state meet.

The Tigers took second in each league meet, but gradually went from 11 to 14 to 48 points behind the Martians. The second-place finish was good enough to be the top team among the Stripes Division squads, though.

At regionals, the Tigers were unable to advance to the state meet, which hurt their 13th, earning second-team All-GLIAC honors. She finished her 6K race in 22:03.63.

Wayne State's men also had a strong participant from the tri-county area with Linden graduate Tyler Buchanan. He finished in 19th in 25:28.56, helping Wayne State for a fourth-place team finish. Finally, in women's action, Linden graduate and Ferris State runner Melanea Strauss placed 44th (23:28.98).

The squads competed at the Midwest Regional a week later ranking here. Fenton placed a distant ninth.

No. 8 - Linden girls cross country: The Eagles are another team that's always a pretty good bet to make this poll, but didn't last year either — not even as an honorable mention selection. This year they snuck back in for one big reason — their postseason.

The Eagles were respectable in league action, earning two fourths and a fifth in the three Metro events, finishing in fourth for the season. Not many fourth-place squads find themselves in a list like this in our publication. However, the Eagles are a smaller school than a squad like Fenton, and were able to do some serious postseason damage, because they compete at D2.

The Eagles finished in second place in their D2 regional meet. The D2 state meet didn't go as hoped, as the Eagles finished 27th. That's what kept Linden from finishing higher than eighth.

Saginaw Valley's men's and women's teams earning trips to the national meet. The men placed second at the regional event while the women placed fourth. Three runners competed at the regional meet.

Keiser finished 15th in 21:59.01 for the Cardinals. Meanwhile, Strauss finished 58th in 23:05.69. Hufton was the only male from the area to compete. He took 29th in 31:58.23.

half. The first was a 27-yard field goal by Kevin Butler. The second time came with just seven seconds left in the first half when Butler kicked a 22-yard field goal. The Lions went into halftime leading 10-6.

The Lions' defense was even stronger in the second half. Interceptions by Terry Taylor and George Jamison helped stop two Bears' drives and set up Lions' field goals. Murray kicked a 50-yard field goal in the third quarter and a 37-yard field goal in the fourth for the game's only two scores of the second half.

Maybe Chicago's best chance to score a touchdown came late in the third quarter when they had a first down on the Lions 4. Chicago's Neil Anderson was tackled for a two-yard loss on first down and Bears' starting quarterback Jim Harbaugh threw an incomplete pass on second down. On third down, Harbaugh ran a quarterback draw for six yards. It was fourth-and-goal from Detroit's 1 and the Bears went for it. Harbaugh rolled out, felt some pressure and threw a ball toward Anderson who was standing out of bounds.

"We expected play action or a bootleg," Spielman said.

"I probably should have run looking back at it now," Harbaugh said. "I thought somebody was going to come open if I bought a little time and nobody did."

The Lions' defense had Taylor collect two interceptions and Ray Crockett and Jamison one each. Bennie Blades and Spielman had a fumble recovery each. Harbaugh completed just 27-of-47 passes for 244 yards and four picks.

Detroit did even less on

The 1991 Detroit Lions would defeat the Dallas Cowboys in what is the Lions only play off victory in the NFL's Super Bowl era.

offense. Kramer completed just 9-of-27 passes and was picked off once himself. Sanders had just 62 rushing yards on 19 carries. But it was enough since the Bears turned the ball over six times.

The win put the Lions in a first-place tie in the NFC Central Division with the Bears at 9-4 with just three more regular season games to go.

So what happened afterward?

The 1991 season was, by far, the best the Lions have had in the Super Bowl Era. They finished the season with a 12-4 record, won the NFC Central Division and earned a first-round bye in the NFL playoffs. The Lions opened the playoffs with a crushing 38-6 victory against the Dallas Cowboys at the Pontiac Silverdome, a game this writer actually attended. However, the season ended in the NFC Championship game, as the Lions ended the season the way they began it. They lost to the Washington Redskins 41-10.

Of course, it was the last season the Lions have won a playoff game.

Today is First Sunday of Advent

Christian tradition to prepare for celebration of Jesus' birth on Christmas Day

The First Sunday of Advent, the start of a four-week observation beginning on the fourth Sunday before Christmas, takes place today, Nov. 27. In most Western churches, Advent begins on the Sunday four weeks before Christmas Day, so it may start at the end of November or the beginning of December depending on the calendar.

Derived from the Latin word for arrival — “adventus” — Advent is observed by Christian denominations worldwide to mark the start of the spiritual period of preparation for the celebration of Jesus' birth on Christmas Day, and the beginning of a new Christian year.

The First Sunday of Advent is a reverent day in the Christian community and offers an opportunity for renewal and the beginning of the holy Advent season. The Advent season marks the ushering in of the liturgical year, which is observed as a time of expectant waiting and preparation for the nativity or birth of Christ and his return in the Second Coming.

According to nationaltoday.com, there is no certainty on when the Advent season came to be, however it was certainly in existence from about 480 with the introduction of a novelty that ordered monks to fast every day in December until Christmas. According to Saint Gregory of Tours, the celebration of Advent began in the fifth century when Bishop Perpetuus directed the start of fasting three times a week, from St. Martin's Day on November 11 until Christmas. This is why Advent was sometimes also named Lent of St. Martin, and by the year 581, all of France was abiding by this practice. In fact, more devout followers fasted every day.

The liturgy of Advent remained unchanged until the Second Vatican Council introduced minor changes, differentiating the spirit of Lent from that of Advent, emphasizing Advent as a season of hope for Christ's resurrection.

In the 1950s, Advent traditions spread from Europe to the United States, especially the Advent calendar, which became very popular in the United States after World War II.

Each of the four Sundays preceding Christmas represents the four virtues brought by Christ; hope, love, joy, and peace.

Purple is historically the main color used for Advent because it reflects penitence, fasting, and the color of royalty to welcome the Advent of Jesus Christ.

How to observe the First Sunday of Advent

- Make a wreath. The Advent wreath is a Christian tradition that symbolizes the passage of the four weeks of Advent. Make your own wreath, or buy an already made one and light it with candles. Place your wreath anywhere in your home to serve as a symbol of reverence.

Advent wreaths and the color purple are commonly used to observe Advent, which begins four Sundays prior to Christmas Day.

- Make or buy an Advent calendar. An Advent calendar is a card or poster with 24 small doors, one to be opened

Alice Faye Shepherd 1938 – 2022

Alice Faye Shepherd - dedicated wife, mother of three, and friend of many took her journey to our heavenly father on November 10th, 2022 at the age of 84 in Lake Fenton. A memorial service will be held 1 PM Thursday, December 1, 2022 at Lake Fenton United Methodist Church 2581 N. Long Lake Rd. Fenton, Pastor Vincent Slocum officiating. The family will receive friends from 11 AM - 1 PM Thursday, December 1, 2022 at the church. In lieu of flowers those desiring may make contributions to Arbor Hospice or the Loose Center. Alice was born to Goldie and Ed Johnson on May 8th, 1938 in Flint. In the early 1950's Alice's family relocated to Lake Fenton, where in the 8th grade she met the love of her life Vic Shepherd. Five years later Vic and Alice married and would spend the next 66 years building a beautiful life. Alice and Vic welcomed three children together, Michael in 1956, Victor Jr. in 1958, and Shari in 1968. Through the years Alice enjoyed woodworking and traveling with her husband, cooking and baking for friends and family, and making friends wherever she went. Alice was a stranger to no one and found great purpose sharing in the successes and joys of those around her. Alice was wholeheartedly there for those in her life. Some of Alice's greatest triumphs in life were working with her husband and his brother at the family business Shepherd's Gas Station and Snowmobile Shop, as a bookkeeper along with many other jobs to help further the business. She was also proud of going through beauty school as well as her catering business. Alice was very prominent in her community, volunteering at the Lake Fenton United Methodist church as part of the women's society, being involved in the athletic boosters at Lake Fenton schools and starting the first Project Graduation. She also enjoyed her years working at the Hurley Cancer institute, as she was a cancer survivor.

Although she loved working in her community some of the greatest joys surrounding Alice's life were spending time with her family and grandchildren. Alice was preceded in death by her mother and father, Goldie and Ed Johnson; brother, James Johnson; sister, Maxine "Dimple" Morris; as well as her eldest son, Michael B Shepherd. She is survived by her husband, Vic Shepherd; their children, Shari Gillespie and husband, Mitchell Gillespie; Victor Shepherd Jr and wife, Lynne Shepherd; as well as their grandchildren, Alyssa Gillespie, Braydon Gillespie, Vance Shepherd, and Taryn Shepherd. She is also leaving behind her beloved dog, Sophia; and grand-dogs, Vinny, Jack, and Bella. Her heart of this world may have failed, but her spirit was stubbornly strong: When peace, like a river attendeth my way. When sorrow like sea billows roll; Whatever my lot, Thou has taught me to say, It is well, it is well, with my soul. Arrangements by Sharp Funeral Homes, Fenton Chapel, 1000 W. FUNERAL ETIQUETTE

When you arrive at the funeral home, go to the family, and express your sympathy with an embrace or by offering your hands. Don't feel as though you must avoid talking about the person who has died. Talking can help the grieving process begin. If you were an acquaintance of the deceased but not well-known to the family, immediately introduce yourself. Do not feel uncomfortable if you or the family member becomes emotional or begins to cry. Allowing the family to grieve is a natural healing process. However, if you find yourself becoming extremely upset, it would be kinder to excuse yourself so as not to increase the strain on the family.
